Although the Winnipeg Shamrocks have cancel'ed their Stanley Cup dates it is probable that another Western team will be down after all to play Ottawa. Yesterday President D'Arcy McGee of the Ottawas received a telegram from Jack Winchester, acting manager of the Edmonton club, asking the Ottawas to keep the dates open for them. Mr. McGee wired back that Edmonton could have the Shamrock or Galt dates. The Edmonton club has gathered in some of the Shamrock players, and intends to bring a strong team east.

THE VANCOUVER LACROSSE TEAM

A Likely Looking Line up for the Coast City Twelve

Vancouver, Dec. 24.—From present prospects Vancouver will have a champion lacrosse team here next year. Con Jones is lining up a splendid array of players and he expects to be able to make the Salmon Bellies sit up and take notice. The latest addition to the team is Billy West, Toronto's star centre man, who has made up his mind to make the Terminal City his future home. West is considered a great capture, and, like all good things, was hard to get. Con's persuasive abilities have never yet failed him when it comes to getting eastern players, and no one knows it better than Captain Charlie Querrie, of the Tecumsehs. The guerilla chieftain has been ambushed in his own camp, his best and strongest warriors have fallen into the western dragnet and to-day he stands alone, deserted, pining over his defeat.

Three other eastern top-notchers are reported to have made up their minds to seek pastures new, and may land in this city any day. Lacrosse fans of the effete east are wondering where they are going to get off at next season—and well they may. Already eight of the best have signed with Vancouver for next season, which means we will have a team that will have a team that will excite the admiration and envy of every club in the Dominion. "Newsy" Lalonde has written to his friends here stating that he has fully made up his mind to be on hand for the first practice in the spring and will stay with the team throughout the season.

With this splendid array of lacrosse talent already in sight it looks as if there will be two good teams in Vancouver next year. The Maple Leafs will undoubtedly be in the league along with Victoria and New Westminster. The Leafs have had a splendid aggregation for some seasons past, and it is their intention to strengthen the weak points by the addition of one or two good players. This will place them on an equal footing with the best in the province as the forward line is now well up in the game.

KETCHEL'S BANK ROLL DWINDLES

Stanley Ketchel will leave California for New York at the end of this week. The "Assassin" intends to work a little at his trade, too, while in the East, and already has his friend Wilson Mizner looking over the one night stand field. Ketchel needs the money, as a matter of fact. He has been living at the St. Francis Hotel, in San Francisco, at a cost of $17 a day, and a prince would not turn his nose up at his suite.

Ketchel has thrown his money right and left since the Johnson fight, and if it were not for the share of the moving pictures of that battle he might now be stranded. Ketchel will invade Europe besides, and look up some of the middleweights now wintering there under the guise of "middleweight champions" of America. Ketchel has refused many flattering offers from George Little to join his stable and follow Jack Johnson over the circuit.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

REMEMBRANCE FOR CHOIRMASTER

St. Paul's choir presented its popular and efficient organist and choirmaster, Mr. John Crane, with a set of military brushes, suitably inscribed, as a Christmas gift and a tangible evidence of the good feeling existing between the choir and its leader.

Shot Wife and Self.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 27.—Because his wife had expressed a desire to go to her parents' home to spend Christmas, James B. Blakeley, a railroad foreman, shot her and himself dead at their home in Algiers.

The four-year-old son of the couple called neighbors to the house, told them of the fatal quarrel and showed his parents lying dead on the floor.

Confirms Leopold's Marriage.

Brussels, Dec. 27.—The Twentieth Century, a Government organ, quotes an "authoritative person" confirming the religious marriage of King Leopold on his death bed. It also says that a few days prior to this, Baroness Vaughan received holy communion.

Woman Mail Carrier Fatally Hurt.

Spartansburg, S.C., Dec. 27.—Miss Mura Hicks, the only woman mail carrier in South Carolina, and one of the three women so employed in the United States, was struck by a train yesterday and fatally injured.

Alfonso Departs.

Recent despatches stated that the condition of King Alfonso has created grave anxiety and that another operation is imperative. It was also reported that under the guise of departure on a hunting trip in Andalusia, the King would go to San Lucar where the operation would be performed.

Train Smashed Into Station.

St. Paul, Dec. 27.—A Great Northern freight train got beyond control yesterday morning, ran for two miles on a down grade and into the union station. The locomotive crashed through two brick walls, landing in the basement of the station.

The engineer and fireman jumped, the latter sustaining a broken leg. The train was piled up across three tracks.

Chili Prepares for War.

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 27.—The Chilian Government has ordered from the Krupps in Essen, Germany, 2[illegible] guns, to be delivered within three years.

Shot Man For Rabbit.

Buffalo, Dec. 27.—Leon W. Weatherlow, aged 25, was accidentally shot dead by his brother-in-law, Howard A. Grace, near Springbrook. They were rabbit-hunting. Weatherlow, who had been lying on the ground, sprang up just as Grace fired at a rabbit.

Banker Suicides.

Winterset, Iowa, Dec. 27.—J. H. Winterode, president of the Citizens National Bank, committed suicide Saturday by shooting himself through the right temple. Ill-health is said to be the cause.

Third Tragic Death.

Port Stanley, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Geo. H. Moore died very suddenly last evening. With her son, George, she was going to call on her son, John, a few blocks away. When about half the distance, she was seized with a choking sensation. With difficulty she was helped to her son's house, where she expired immediately.

Her husband, Geo. P. Moore, died in New York a few months ago under similar circumstances, and her sister, Miss Rothwell, was found drowned in the lake here two months ago.

Gives $7,000 For Swimming Pool.

Philadelphia, Dec. 27.—Brynmawr College Saturday announced that a gift of $7,000 had been received from an alumna, Miss Cynthia M. Wesson of Springfield, Mass. Miss Wesson, who was graduated in 1909, was prominent in athletic affairs of the institution, and her gift is to be expended toward the betterment of the college swimming pool. All under-graduate girls are required to qualify as swimmers, and this art is one of the most popular of the college sports.

Squire Nugent Dead.

London, Ont., Dec. 27.—Squire Nugent, for 29 years magistrate of Belmont Village, died yesterday afternoon, aged 68. He was well-known in Middlesex County, and for many years was quartermaster of the 26th Regiment.

Auto Skidded in Snow.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 27.—Frank McGill of Coshocken, while en route in an automobile to Columbus last night, to attend the automobile show, was instantly killed. His machine skidded in the snow and turned turtle.

Satolli Very Low.

Rome, Dec. 27.—The condition of Cardinal Satolli, who is suffering from nephritis, is desperate, the attacks of delirium being now very frequent. Extreme unction has been administered.

CELEBRATED ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Messrs. Naughan, Peters and Ramsay Were Asked for Explanations at Police Court

Wm. Ramsay, was let down easy by the Magistrate this morning when he admitted he was drunk on Christmas eve. William said he came up from Rice Lake to transact a little business. He was discharged with a warning, it being his first appearance in police court.

Billy Naugan, who won fame some years ago by his walking feats, from and to the city, also celebrated on Christmas eve. He didn't think he was very drunk, but as Billy wouldn't tell who gave him the firewater, he was fined $5.00.

Another Indian, named Peters, came all the way from the Rama Reserve to have a time. He, too, refused to give the name of the friend who supplied the necessary, and as a result returned to his cell with a $5 fine unpaid.

MARRIAGE CAUSED HIM TO SUICIDE

New York, Dec. 25.—"I'm married; ain't that enough?" said Paul Abell, when asked the reason why he had tried to kill himself this afternoon in the rooming house at No. 213 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street. Abell's wife will probably be a widow by to-morrow, as the surgeons in Harlem Hospital have little hope of saving his life.

The One Hundred and Twenty-third street rooming house is run by Mrs. Mary Johnson. Abell rented a room from her eight days ago, saying he was a salesman temporarily out of employment but about to get a good job. He paid for the room in advance and kept to himself.

A plumber working in the house heard groans on the top floor this afternoon and traced the sound to the room occupied by Abell. Mrs. Johnson summoned Policeman Ticco, who forced the door and found Abell lying on the floor with a bullet wound in his head and another in his left breast.

He had made two unsuccessful attempts to reach a vital spot, once missing the brain and then missing the heart. Dr. McCoombs, the ambulance surgeon, said the wounded man had been lying on the floor suffering agonies for two or three hours.

THE OLD SCHOOL HOUSE

By J. R. McCrea

Is the old school house still standing where it stood long years ago,
Has it braved the rays of summer days, the winter's storm and snow,
Does the limpid water sparkle still deep in the old school well,
And is the belfry on the roof where hung the old school bell.

Does the same old rope still dangle down and coil there on the floor,
Do willing hands still grasp the strand at nine, twelve, one and four.
Do the maps still hang there on the wall, is the blackboard in its
...
Do they keep the chalk in the wooden box and the brush with the sheepskin face.

Has the master still an old rawhide,
is there blue beech in the land,
Do the boys still wear an old horsehair wound round, and round their hand,
Do they pin their faith to resin still,
do they favor white or black,
Do they rub it on where the rawhide winds clear round to the knuckles back.

Is the knot hole there on the clapboard high way up on the old west side,
'Twas a dandy spot for a rawhide hot to the depths below to glide,
Do they put cayenne on the old box stove, do they loosen the joints of pipe,
Do they cut the wires that bear them up, are the boys for such games ripe.

Do they thaw the ink on a winter morn, does the cork hit the ceiling hard,
Do the boys still play on a rainy day in the shed in the old school yard,
Do they rise at one, stand out at two,
and at three do they march to the fore,
Do they toe the line that the teacher drew with chalk on the old school floor.

Is the red desk there with the dark iron legs, and the chair with the yellow back,
Is the stove around with an iron band band bound to keep in check the crack,
Do they write their names in the old school books as they did in the days of yore,
Do they scribble still on the page left blank "School Section, Number Four."

Do the girls still keep at the head of the class, the girls we couldn't spell down,
The one whose hair was so very fair, and the tresses of black and brown,
Have they kept their place in the class till now, is there change in the faces I see,
No! the boys and girls of the old regime will ever be young to me.

MAY SEE OVER THE TELEPHONE

Londoners Expect to Have Look at Paris Friends Over the Wire

London, Dec. 24.—Talking over the telephone from London to Paris seems sufficiently wonderful, but shall we ever be able to see people in Paris while sitting comfortably in our homes or business houses in London? This point is raised by the recent experiments of Herr Ruhmer, who has succeeded in transmitting likenesses of inanimate objects over a telegraph line.

The problem has been attempted by other scientists besides Ruhmer, with more or less success, among them being an Italian electrical engineer named Sylvelli, and two Frenchmen, Rignoux and Fournier. These inventors have all used means similar to Herr Ruhmer, using the element selenium in their apparatus, which varies in its power of resisting an electric current according to the amount of light which falls upon it. Different parts of the image of a person reflected on the selenium would be, of course, of different brightness, and each part would regulate the resistive power of the selenium cells.

The present apparatus of Herr Ruhmer renders it possible merely to see simple patterns at a distance, and he has actually demonstrated that it is possible to see such patterns by means of telegraphy. His experiments show that with a larger apparatus the process of television could be solved, and the head and shoulders of a human being would be seen over a distance. This would mean that a man wishing to cash a London cheque at a Paris house could be seen in London over the telegraph wires by his English agents and identified.

The apparatus consists of a screen divided into small sections—10,000 in a life-size apparatus—upon which the image to be seen at the other end of the line is projected by means of a special form of camera. Each small section of the screen is provided with a selenium cell that is sensitive to light, and regulates an electric current transmitted through the wires. These electric currents are made to regulate the light falling on corresponding sections of a similar screen at the other end of the line, whereby the image is reconstituted.

THEATRICAL

"The Arrival of Kitty'

The Christmas comedy puddding handed out to unusually large matinee and night audiences at the Grand on Christmas afternoon and evening by "The Arrival of Kitty Co." was liberally studded with seasonable jokes and flavored with the essence of real humor. The holiday audiences were in the most receptive of moods and the cast found spontaneous appreciation of their well-timed efforts. The comedy is considered one of the most entertaining of the current theatrical season and Hal Johnson, Florence Forest, Jennie Farron, William Marion, Jack Morton, Nona Sterling, Jessie Egan and Arthur Rowland, all contributed to the feast of fun and action with equal acceptability in their respective parts.

"Carry, Marry, Harry," "Experience," "I'm Going to Do What I Please," and other infectious song hits were interpolated to excellent advantage.

ONE ACCLAMATION AT NOMINATION PROCEEDINGS

friends and citizens generally would support him in the race. Mr. Morrow had a lead as a result of getting into the field earlier, but he hoped to regain the lost ground. Mr. Mason stated emphatically that he had taken no stand with the hotelmen or the temperance party. He did not believe that a business man should. He had made no donation to one side or the other.

"You have nothing but my word for this," Mr. Mason said, "but nothing stands better than a man's word in Peterborough nowadays." Laughter greeted this remark.

"My record as chairman of the Finance committee is there any I defy anyone to show where money had been wasted, I had a surplus each year I was at the head of the committee."

Mr. Mason spoke a good word for Mr. Morrow, whom he had known from boyhood. He considered it regrettable that Mr. Morrow had not become a benedict and shared the more important duties of citizenship.

Mr. Mason, like Mr. Morrow, was applauded several times during his address.

Ald. Robt. Hicks spoke in support of Mr. Mason for the mayoralty. He said he was not one of those who were instrumental in bringing Mr. Mason out. "I'm a particularly good friend of Mr. Mason's, and I'm not responsible for getting him into this trouble," said Mr. Hicks, amid laughter.

Ald. Hicks then went into a sharp criticism of the present system of financing the city.

There should be a settled policy for financing this city, he said. It was not being done properly at the present time. "I believe in taxing prosperity instead of posterity. I am not in favor of a low rate and then issuing debentures for work that should be paid for out of current account."

Ald. Hicks said the debenture debt of the city had increased 100 per cent. since 1904. Where are we going to? he asked. He charged Ald. Morrow with poor financing. The chairman of the Finance Committee had insisted on a low rate of taxation, but he had not voted to curtail expenditure in the council.

Ald. Morrow replied that if it had been for the unusual drain on the health account this year it would have been possible to pay $2,000 of the overdraft from last year, and still have a surplus.

Ald. Hicks stated it was poor policy not to have an appropriation to cover emergencies during the year.

Ald. Hicks went back to 1907 and referred to the large amount of money spent by the Board of Works without the knowledge of the chairman of the Finance Committee.

Ald. Morrow said the Board of Works had spent the money to provide work for those out of employment and without means of support. There were many in that position in 1907. He was in the west for two months, and the Board of Works had taken the action about spending the extra money when he was away.

The tilt between Ald. Hicks and Ald. Morrow was followed with much interest. Honors were about even.

Riot In a Church.

Washington, Ind., Dec. 27.—In a riot at the General Baptist Church one mile from this city, Friday night Willis Ellis and Edward Herron were cut on the head by bricks and Oliver Chapel was badly cut up, while many women and children who used the windows to escape were injured. The three injured men are not expected to live. Another riot took place at a dance, about forty people receiving minor bruises. Twenty-three arrests were made on account of the two disturbances.

Body Found In Pond.

Brantford, Ont., Dec. 27.—William Schearn, farmer, of Townsend Township, was found in Waterford Pond Christmas Eve, after he had been missing a week.

It was reported that Schearn carried $500 on his person at the time of his death.

The post-modtem examination showed no signs of foul play, but Dr. Goold, Waterford, has ordered an inquest for Wednesday.

The deceased leaves three brothers, and is well known.

MI-O-NA

Relieves Stomach Misery Almost Instantly

If the food you ate at your last meal did not digest, but laid for a long time like lead in your stomach, then you have indigestion and quick action should be taken.

Of course there are many other symptoms of indigestion, such as belching up of sour food, heartburn, dizziness, shortness of breath and sour breath, and if you have any of them, your stomach is out of order and should be corrected.

Mi-o-na tablets have cured thousands of cases of indigestion and stomach trouble. If you have any stomach distress, Mi-o-na will relieve instantly.

But Mi-o-na unlike most so-called dyspepsia remedies, does more than relieve; it permanently cures dyspepsia or any stomach trouble by putting energy and strength into the walls of the stomach, where the gastric juices are produced.

A large box of Mi-o-na tablets costs but 50 cents at Wm. Madill's, the druggists, and are guaranteed to cure or money back. When others fail, Mi-o-na cures. It is a producer of flesh when the body is thin; it cleanses the stomach and bowels; purifies the blood and makes rich red blood.

WHO WILL WIN THESE PRIZES

Best Stove Company Contest is Drawing to a Close

A contest that is about drawing to a close, and which has aroused considerable interest, is that which has been conducted by the Best Stove Company during the past season. The five persons making the largest aggregate purchases from the time the contest was inaugurated to January 1st, 1910, will be awarded five handsome prizes, consisting of a Radiant Home heater, Happy Thought range, Fireless cooker, Washing machine and clothes wringer. As the time for closing draws near, the interest grows greater, and the results are always in doubt. The Best Stove Co. have had one of the best years in their experience in practically every line, particularly in the furnace work and hardware department of their business.

A Plea in Rhyme.

A New York prisoner, accused of drunkenness, who pleaded his case in rhyme before a magistrate, got a sentence of six months on "the island" for, as the judge remarked, his "jag" was bad enough, but his poetry was worse. Over in London a few days ago a "plain drunk" put forth this;

"I've been drinking wine that is drawn from the wood;
No bottle rubbish, but sparkling and good;
But it got in my head, so my friends
all explain
That the wine has gone back to the wood once again."

The effusion and the education cost him only ten shillings.

THE Y. M. C. A. BOYS' CAMPAIGN TO RAISE THE SUM OF $250.00

To-morrow the boys of the Y.M.C.A. open their campaign to raise $250. This money will be used to furnish their own rooms, which at present do not offer the attraction they would be if the walls were decorated, better games provided and more comfortable furniture installed.

The campaign is being conducted entirely by the boys, who feel that they will receive a generous support on account of the nature of their work in the Y.M.C.A., and the fact that this is the first time they have asked any assistance from the citizens. The canvass will continue till Wednesday night.

Any person who is interested in the boys' department might place a subscription directly in the hands of the Boys' Secretary, as the boys may overlook some well disposed friends.

It is worthy of mention that the members themselves are raising $25.00 of the amount required, showing their desire to help themselves as well as solicit assistance.

WEDDING BELLS

PERRY—BUNTIN

A very pleasant event took place on Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Buntin, 569 Albert street, when their daughter Gertrude was united in marriage to Mr. William Joseph Perry, of Lakefield.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Riddiford of Park street Baptist church.

Among those present were, Mrs. A. Abbey and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Abbey of Toronto; Mr. C. H. Mann, of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dixon, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. Buntin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whateley, Maud Collins, Mr. Guy Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. C. Crawford, of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. C. H Fricks, Mr. Chas. Green, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barrie, and Mrs. W. C. Riddiford.

The young couple were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perry will take up their residence in Lakefield.

OBITUARY

CORA ETHEL LIGHTFOOT.

The news of the death of Cora Ethel Lightfoot, second daughter of Mr. and John Lightfoot, 352 Stewart street, will be heard with general regret throughout the city. She had been in poor health for some time and her demise which occurred yesterday, was not entirely unexpected. The late Miss Lightfoot, who was 25 years of age, possessed many estimable qualities and she will be greatly missed by a host of friends and acquaintances. For five years she had held a position on the office staff of the Portland Cement Company at Lakefield, but two years ago she had been transferred to Montreal. Besides her parents she leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Misses Minnie and Jessie at home and two brothers, John at home and Robt., of Great Falls, Montreal.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

Togo—"So I can sit down inside the door and howl till they let me out."

Now is the time likewise when the members of the city council can win a good deal of applause for what they abstain from doing.

The above is the field as the result of the nomination proceedings at the City Council Chamber to-day. Mr. W. H. Moore was elected Water Commissioner by acclamation and Mr. W. G. Morrow and Mr. E. F. Mason are in the field for the mayoralty. Ten have been nominated for the Board of Education, six to be elected. Nineteen names have been proposed for the six vacancies on the aldermanic board for the two year term and four have been nominated for the one year term made vacant by the resignation of Ald. Morrow. All the retiring members of the present Council have been placed in the field again. They are Aldermen McIntyre, Bradburn, Turner, Metheral, and Duffus. Aldermen McIntyre, Bradburn and Duncan have also been proposed for the vacancy created by Ald. Morrow's resignation.

Those nominated who wish to remain in the field must qualify before nine o'clock to-morrow evening.

Nominations for the mayoralty Board of Education and Water Commissioner took place between ten and eleven o'clock and the hour from 11 to 12 was devoted to speeches. Nominations for aldermen took place between twelve and one o'clock.

City Clerk Armstrong acted as chairman, while the speeches were being made and the Council Chamber was crowded with citizens.

MR. W. H. MOORE.

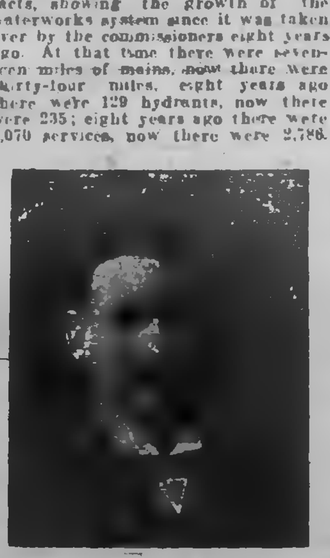
Mr. W. H. Moore was the first speaker. He expressed sincere thanks for the honor conferred upon him in electing him Water Commissioner by acclamation. He had been a member of the Board of Commissioners for six years, and during that time had acquired a good deal of information about the waterworks. Mr. Moore then took up the building of the new dam. It was to cost $120,000, and the Bishop Construction Company was given fifteen months to complete their work. Six months had now passed and the dam is now complete, the pump house is up and some of the machinery is on the ground. Of course it will take some time to have everything completed. Nearly all the machinery is being secured from the Wm. Hamilton Company, and it is considered the best in the world. The old pumps were installed by the same company and not one dollar had to be spent on them for repairs. The new pumps would have a capacity of 10,500,000 gallons. The capacity of the pumps now in use was 2,500,300 gallons.

Mr. Moore then took up the question of surplus power at the new dam. It was estimated that 1,300 horse power would be developed. Of this the commissioners were retaining between 400 and 500 horse power, which would leave a surplus of 900 horse power. The disposal of this surplus power rested with the City Council. Was it going to be raised in an economic sense or was it going to be allowed to float idly down the river?

Mr. Moore spoke of the desire of Peterborough citizens for more industrial concerns here, and in this connection referred to the importance of using this surplus power in an economic manner.

In a sense, Mr. Moore said, the new dam was costing the city nothing. It was to be paid out of the revenue of the waterworks department. It would be sufficient each year to pay the interest and sinking fund, so that the taxes would not be increased from this source. If the city developed the surplus power and sold 250 or 300 horse power at $15 per horse power, enough revenue would be derived to pay all cost of construction of the power house and equipment, and 600 horse power would be left to sell to manufacturing concerns. He considered it could be sold at $15 per horse power.

In closing, Mr. Moore gave a few facts, showing the growth of the waterworks system since it was taken over by the commissioners eight years ago. At that time there were seventeen miles of mains, now there were thirty-four miles, eight years ago there were 129 hydrants, now there were 235; eight years ago there were 1,070 services, now there were 2,786.



MR. W. G. MORROW
Mayoralty Candidate

Mr. Moore's address was received with much applause.

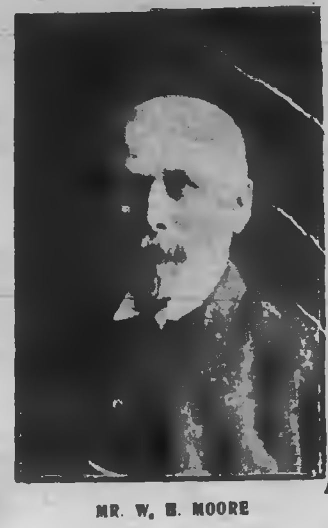
MAYORALTY CANDIDATES

Forty minutes of the hour remained when Mr. Moore was through speaking and Mr. Armstrong announced that the two mayoralty candidates had agreed to divide the time between them.

Mr. W. G. Morrow, who was first called upon, said he had considered very reluctantly to allow his name to go before the people for the mayoralty. He had been a life-long citizen and ratepayer of Peterborough and was interested in many industrial and commercial concerns in the city. He had always done whatever he could to advance the interests of Peterborough and intended to continue that policy. He had been three years in the city council. The first year he was chairman of the Manufacturers' committee and during the last two years had been chairman of the Finance committee. There were several important matters to come before the council for 1910. There was the extension of the sewer system in the southwestern part of the city. Something would have to be done about that. Then there was the question of permanent roadways. He considered it was time that something should be done in this connection in the business section of the city. There was also the power question. Mr. Moore was glad that Mr. Moore had referred to the $15,000 by-law which was submitted to provide for building a power house and sub-structure at the east end of the waterworks dam. The by-law was defeated by a small majority. After it failed to carry Mr. Morrow said he went to the Water Commissioners and they had agreed to provide for the development of the surplus power. Mr. Morrow referred to the financial standing of the city and dealt particularly with the question of debenture debt.

As chairman of the Finance committee, Mr. Morrow said he had followed a policy of economy and did not think that any money had been wasted.

In concluding Mr. Morrow said he was pledged to no party or cause and was prepared to deal with all questions coming up in the council with free, unbiased judgment.



MR. W. H. MOORE
Elected Water Commissioner by acclamation

Mr. Morrow was given a hearty reception by his supporters in the audience.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS

Mr. T. F. Matthews said he was pleased to be present to back up his sentiments in regard to Mr. Morrow as a mayoralty candidate. Of the citizens of Peterborough who were available for the position he considered Mr. Morrow one of the best. He had been a life-long citizen and the speaker had known him since he was a boy. "He is a man of my own age," Mr. Matthews said, "although he looks older."

Mr. Matthews said he had nothing whatever against Mr. Mason, but he considered Mr. Morrow was the better man for mayor for 1910. For this reason he was going to support him.

Mr. Wm. Langford said he had admired Mr. Morrow in the council and believed he would make a good mayor. He had watched Mr. Morrow's work in the council and was of the opinion that he had shown good judgment.

MR. E. F. MASON

Mr. E. F. Mason, mayoralty candidate, said that some time ago he was requested to come out as a candidate for the mayoralty. He did not accede to the request at the time. However, he had been waited upon by many citizens during the past few days and at their earnest solicitation had decided to stand. "Since they have sufficient confidence in me to want me to stand for the mayoralty, I will not imply that their audience has been misplaced by declining the compliment."

In connection with his record in the council, Mr. Mason said that when he was chairman of the Finance committee the rates were lower then than they had been previously and were a great deal lower than they are now and will be next year. He had made a close study of the finances of the city and had looked after the interests of the city with as much care as if it were his own business. If elected Mr. Mason said he would do everything possible to give the city "a clean, careful, businesslike government that would assist in the upbuilding of Peterborough — a city which we all have pride in."

Mr. Mason felt confident that his

MANY ACCLAMATIONS MARK THE MUNICIPAL NOMINATIONS

Belleville, Hamilton, Guelph, Kingston and Ottawa Will Have No Mayoralty Contests This Year—Berlin Has a Lively Meeting.

Municipal nominations were general throughout Ontario yesterday. A feature was the unusually large number of elections of mayors and reeves by acclamation. Belleville, Guelph, Hamilton, Kingston and Ottawa's present chief executives are returned unopposed.

In Kingston, it is more than ten years since there has been no contest for the mayoralty.

At Berlin nomination meeting last night, ex-Mayor Huber was proposed as mayoralty candidate, although he is no longer an elector. In addressing the electors, he made a vicious attack on County Judge Chisholm, who recently dismissed Huber's appeal regarding his assessment. Mayor Hahn in his official capacity refused to allow the speaker to continue his harangue and he was removed from the platform by police officers.

At Woodstock, Water Commissioners Alfred Watts and Whitaker declared a surplus of $10,500 for the year in the municipal plant, and were re-elected by acclamation.

The compromise way of electing the Brockville town council, which has prevailed there for the past six years was cast to the four winds at last night's nomination, and there is a great crop of candidates.

At Trenton there were 18 nominations for the mayoralty. The result of the elections there is of considerable importance on account of the situation as regards the electric power franchise.

At Belleville, in one ward there was only one nomination for alderman, although there are three seats to be filled, while in only one ward is there a contest for the school board.

Kingston elected the school board by acclamation, and in many other places most of the trustees are unopposed.

Galt's public meeting endorsed the Ontario power policy.

Mattawa elected the entire council by acclamation, and the same is true of several township councils, including Scarboro.

A Kemptville despatch says: Nomination day here and in the adjacent Townships of Oxford and South Gower witnessed a complete triumph for the good roads party. Reeve Bennett of South Gower, Reeve Sanderson and Deputy Reeve Kidd of Oxford are re-elected by acclamation.

Following nominations for mayor at Fort William yesterday, when seven were nominated, a nomination meeting was held last night, when for aldermen there were 103 nominees and 17 for the board of education.

The following were elected by acclamation:

Mayors.

Almonte—H. H. Cole.
Aurora—W. J. Baldwin.
Belleville—L. W. Marsh (re-elected).
Bowmanville—John J. Mason (re-elected).
Guelph—George Hastings (re-elected).

Shoots Sweetheart and Self.

Colombus, Ohio, Dec. 28.—Albert Walker, a cabinet-maker, aged 20, shot dead Frieda Ludwig, his sweetheart, aged 20, and then killed himself. The tragedy was enacted in Walker's home in the presence of the family. Walker and Miss Ludwig were to have been married yesterday, but the wedding had been postponed.

35-Mile Ride For a Nickel.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—A 35-mile ride for five cents will be made possible by the $70,000,000 merger of all the surface railway lines of the south side.

BELLEVILLE CO. IN BIG MERGER

Belleville, Dec. 28.—The Belleville Iron & Horseshoe Co. will be included in the big merger to be known as the Canadian Bolt & Nut Co., with a capital of $2,500,000. The other companies are: The Toronto Bolt & Forging Co., The Brantford Screw Co., The Gananoque Bolt Co. Lloyd Harris, M.P., of Brantford, will be president, and T. H. Watson of Toronto, vice-president and general manager.

It is the intention to instal new machinery at the Belleville plant, double the present output and run night and day.

THRILLING RESCUE FROM THE WAVES

New York, Dec. 28.—Capt. Edgar Bigelow, his wife and small child and the four members of the crew of the schooner Eugene Borda, storm-wrecked on Nov. 29, while carrying a cargo of timber from Nova Scotia to Philadelphia, were brought to port yesterday by the Vaderland, which effected their rescue while on its last eastward trip, and which took them on to Antwerp and then brought them back.

The small boat from the Vaderland could get only within twenty feet of the storm-stripped schooner, and from that distance the four-year-old girl was hurled from the deck to the rescuing crew. When the lights of the Vaderland were sighted late at night, Capt. Bigelow with difficulty found a piece of dry material to soak with oil, so that a distress signal could be lighted. The night before they had burned lights made from their underwear when a big liner hove in sight, but the signals were not seen.

LAURIER TO BE INVITED TO SOUTH AFRICA

Ottawa, Dec. 28.—Private information has been received that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will get an invitation to accompany the Prince of Wales to South Africa to attend the opening of Parliament of the United South Africa. It is not at all likely that the Premier will be able to accept. Should the opening occur any time within the next four months he will be busy in Ottawa, and next summer will probably take a trip to the Pacific coast.

QUEBEC IRISH ARE ANGRY

They Think English-Speaking Catholics Should Get More Jobs.

Montreal, Dec. 28.—Political circles are much interested here over the agitation of English-speaking Catholics, headed by M. J. Walsh, M.P.P. for St. Anns, to obtain a better percentage of appointments at Ottawa, at Quebec and at the City Hall.

Mr. Walsh has just returned from Ottawa, where he presented a huge petition signed by several thousand Irish Catholics of Montreal, protesting to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Minister of Justice against the rumored appointment of Hon. W. A. Weir, Provincial Treasurer in the Quebec Cabinet, to the Superior Bench, in place of the late Justice Curran. It is said that the Premier and colleagues told the member for St. Ann's that the petition would be carefully considered, and that their request for the appointment of an English-speaking gentleman would be looked into.

R. Bickerdike, M.P., and the other friends who are favoring Mr. Weir's appointment assert that Judge Curran took the place of a Protestant judge in the person of the late Sir Francis Johnson and that the nomination should now return to a man of that faith and nationality.

Then again, Mr. Walsh has written to the citizens' civic committee asking that the claims of the Irish Catholics be considered when the civic slate is being made up for the mayoralty and the board of control.

WOMAN'S HAIR STOLEN FROM HER

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—Mrs. W. J. Ehlen, 28 years of age, whose five-foot mass of blonde hair has been the envy of St Louis women for years, was knocked unconscious and shorn of her locks by an unidentified man as she was leaving her home for church. Her hair was sawed off close to the scalp with a razor. The attack was the third attempt in two weeks to steal Mrs. Ehlen's hair.

Woman a Physician For 55 Years.

Rochester, N.Y., Dec. 27.—Dr. Sarah Reid Adamson Dolley, the oldest woman physician in point of service in the United States, died yesterday aged 80. She was a practicing physician for 55 years and she was well known in Toronto.

MANY SHIPS ARE WRECKED LARGE SCHOONER IS LOST

In New England States the Property Loss by the Christmas Gales Will Reach Five Million Dollars—Several Vessels are on Rocks Along the Coast.

Boston, Dec. 28.—The probable loss of the big five-masted schooner Davis Palmer and her crew of 12 men off Boston harbor and the wrecking of nine other vessels along the Massachusetts coast may be but part of the toll taken on the sea by the great storm which swept New England Saturday night and Sunday.

The three-masted schooner Nantasket was hurled ashore at Scituate. Volunteer life-savers, using the breeches buoy, rescued her crew of ten men.

The schooner Belle Halliday, after grounding Saturday and being refloated, was again hurled against the shore at Brant Point, Nantucket, where she is still exposed to the fury of the sea. The fate of her crew is unknown, but it is believed that they have been rescued.

On the rocky shores of Matha's Vineyard two schooners are being swept by every sea. They are the A. K. McLean, a British vessel, bound from Perth Amboy to Halifax, and the Stonington, Maine, schooner Maud Seward, Port Reading for Provincetown. Both crews have been taken off.

At Princetown, the sloop Bonito is at the mercy of the waves and in the flats of Plymouth harbor are four small schooners, all of which will probably be refloated with little damage.

Many places in Southeastern Massachusetts have not had a railroad train for two days. New Bedford and Fall River have been cut off from telegraph communication with the outside world since Sunday morning.

The property loss by the storm in New England is estimated at $5,000,000.

Damage In Spain.

San Sebastian, Spain, Dec. 28.—Details of the damage caused by the disastrous floods last week are pouring into this city. Only three houses were left standing in the village of Santa Cristine and at Davicilla, a church was the only building able to withstand the storm. Benavente, a town 34 miles north of Zamoora, with a population of 5,000, was under water for five days. The village of Villabeza has been destroyed.

20,000,000 Loss In Portugal.

Lisbon, Dec. 28.—The damage done by the storm at Oporto, and in the adjacent country is estimated at $20,000,000. Seven hundreds of boats that were at anchor have been swept out to sea, and it is believed that all have been lost.

Eighteen Deaths In New York.

New York, Dec. 28.—Eighteen persons in and near New York perished in the Christmas blizzard or died from accidents caused. Six of this number died from exposure after being caught in snowdrifts. Others were drowned, and a number were killed by trains.

Storm In Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 28.—A terrific storm, which began on Christmas Eve, and was still raging yesterday, has caused great damage in the vicinity of this city. Throughout the colony telegraph and telephone lines are down, and the railroads are impassable with snow. There is a loss of $150,000 in and around the city.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

H. W. Vincent's family at London, Ont., were nearly asphyxiated by coal gas.

The health of Count Leo Tolstoi, the Russian novelist, is again causing anxiety.

Walter Doskeres, C.N.R. car inspector at Winnipeg, was killed in the railway yards.

George Lewis, a brakeman, aged 30, of Havelock, was killed at Belleville Sunday night.

J. W. Birrell, a dining-car conductor on the N. P. Railway, was killed at Seattle. He came from Eastern Canada.

Robert Liddicombe, an employe in the Wabash Railway shops at St. Thomas, was fatally crushed between a car and a post.

Thomas Pinch, news agent at London, Ont., is positive Dr. Fred Cook was at the station there yesterday morning en route to Detroit.

The body of James Friel, aged 14, of Pittsburg, has been found in an empty house with the throat terribly gashed. He had been missing two weeks.

Seven immigrants were injured in a collision between the Intercolonial Maritime Express and a special at a siding near Sainte Anne de la Pocatiere, Que.

Show windows of two down-town Chicago jewelry stores were robbed of watches, silverware and jewels by a man who broke the plate glass windows with a paper-covered brick.

SUFFRAGETTES TO STARTLE CANADA

Ottawa, Dec. 28.—The first gun in an organized campaign for woman suffrage in Canada will, it is stated by The Ottawa Journal, be fired in the coming bye-election in this city, for the Dominion Parliament. The initiation of the campaign depends upon the ability of the leaders to bring their organization to a sufficient state of efficiency.

Plans and preparations have been quietly made during the past few weeks.

Should the organizers find that their oragnization warrants the initiation of a fight for suffrage, it is stated that the campaign will be conducted on the approved lines of English suffragettes. Meetings will be interrupted, speakers "heckled" and meetings for the cause will be held. Interference, they think, will bring out more vigorous measures.

ROBS FATHER TO GET HUSBAND

Chicago, Dec. 28.—At the opening of the trial yesterday of eight Italians, accused of conspiracy with crippled 17-year-old Angeline Schiavone to rob her father, a widely-known Italian banker, the states attorney told the jury that Francisco Schiavone, uncle of Angeline, three years ago told the girl to get all the money she could from her father's bank, bring it to him and he would save it for her and when she had a snug amount she could marry his son, Michael.

The girl was employed in her father's bank, and it is alleged that her thefts aggregated $30,000. She declared that, being crippled, she feared that she would be unable to marry, and so had tried to win a husband with her father's money.

CANADIAN COLONY ARE IN DISTRESS

Ottawa, Dec. 28.—The woes of the Canadian colony at Ocean Beach, Cuba, are further dealt with in a report to the Trade and Commerce Department by E. S. Kirkpatrick, agent at Havana. He states that at the request of the British Minister he visited the colony, and "cannot imagine a picture more desolate or a situation more hopeless." The only ray of hope among the people, he says, is the rumored intention of an American syndicate to buy the whole property. The colony has been swept by three hurricanes in the past few months, and the trees largely destroyed.

UNIONISTS EXPECT TO GAIN SEVERAL SEATS IN LONDON

Liberal Speakers Will Address Meetings in the Metropolis Next Week—Gerald Balfour Has Not Yet Chosen His Seat.

London, Dec. 28.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—As a result of issuing writs on Jan. 10, a great many borough pollings will occur on Saturday, Jan. 15. A fair guess can then be made as to how the elections are going. The Liberals recognize that London is so unsure that the leaders will address meetings there next week.

Gerald Balfour has not yet become a candidate, and there is a rumor that the whip is unable to find a safe seat. Efforts to induce the two Tory candidates for East Marylebone to retire in his favor have been unsuccessful. The Unionists claim that they have good chances in North London, in the southeast, and part of the east end untouched by the influence of Labor members.

The split between the Liberals and Labor members for Bow and Bromley, Shoreditch and North and Central Hackney, give the Tories hope of success. Mile End is also claimed by them. The squabbling between two Conservative candidates at Marylebone, Unionists fear, may lead to disaster.

The short Christmas truce will be broken to-day, and the campaign renewed with the greatest vigor. There will be 10,000 meetings this week alone, 4,500 whereof are Unionist. The Unionists are short of canvassers, and want 100,000.

It will be a great poster campaign, and scores of millions of leaflets have been issued.

Balfour is now convalescent, but Milner is unwell. A modest article in The Morning Post expresses the view that the London home counties are safe, and estimates that the following will be the result of the elections: Unionists 278, Liberals 280, Nationalists 83, Labor 49. The Post editorially thinks that raising the constitutional issue has been a failure, and urges the Unionists to bring tariff reform to the front vigorously on every occasion and victory is then assured.

The News thinks the Liberal prospects in London are much brighter than a month back. A Liberal has withdrawn his candidature in East Manchester, and the Socialist from South Bristol, thus leaving a "straight fight."

Appeal to the Navy League.

London, Dec. 28.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—The reality of the Christmas truce is best illustrated by the following society item: "A small party is staying with the Duke of Marlborough at Blenheim, including the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill and Mrs. Churchill. The duke and Mr. Churchill, though cousins, are keen political opponents, often in a platform conflict with each other. The duke has said more bitter things against Mr. Churchill in recent months than any other Unionist, and will begin again to say them on Thursday.

"Dr. Bourne, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Westminster, in a pastoral letter implores Catholics to vote for the supporters of Catholic schools—that is Unionists. No other question, that is to say even the Irish home rule, should be considered.

"Another fact to be noted is the peremptory call of the Navy League, which is to be placarded through England on posters. It declares: 'Every candidate who refuses to accept two keels to one as the standard and Navy League program is a traitor to the country, and every elector who votes for such a traitor betrays and disgraces the Empire. Drop party for once, and vote for a supreme navy.'"

PERJURY CHARGE HAS BEEN LAID

Hamilton, Dec. 28.—Arthur F. Zimmerman, the Brooklyn man arrested some weeks ago on the charge of bigamy, but afterwards released, was again taken into custody yesterday, this time the charge being perjury. It is alleged that last April, in taking out a license to marry Louise Hahl, he made an affidavit that he had never been married before, while a grand jury found that he had been married before to Emilie Grohman, who was still living. Geo. S. Kerr, K.C., has been retained by the prisoner, who will fight extradition.

MAN KILLED AT SAULT STE MARIE

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 28.—John Gordon was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the Canadian Canal, by falling 30 feet from the top of the sill to the floor of the emptied lock. He was lowering heavy planks when he slipped. Gordon leaves a wife and four children.

Standing on the floor of the canal was John Erickson, and he was struck by falling timbers, his shoulder and arm were broken, and he was badly injured internally. He may die.

BOY WHIPPED TOO HARD BY TEACHER?

Orangeville, Dec. 28.—As a result or complaints made by William Powers against three of the teachers in Orangeville public school, Principal Wilson and Misses Davis and Campbell, assistants, were for three days last week in the Police Court accused of administering the strap too freely to his boy. Magistrate Pattullo reserved judgment.

COOK'S RECORDS APPEAR LOOSE

Copenhagen, Dec. 28.—The special committee of Copenhagen University which investigated Cook's polar records, is considering whether or not it will publish further details. If so it will issue the report about Jan.

A member said yesterday that some of Cook's papers showed that he had used calculations furnished by Capt. Loose.

FIVE TRAINMEN WERE KILLED

Seymour, Ind., Dec. 28.—Five trainmen were killed and two were fatally hurt yesterday in a head-on collision between freights on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railway.

The trains met on a sharp curve because of misunderstanding of orders. The injured suffered terribly in the cold before help reached them.

Cheese Knife Penetrated His Heart

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 28.—George Connors, aged 18, of Cleveland, Ohio, was stabbed to death with a carving knife in the hands of Ernest Defrauth, aged 21, at the Boston lunch room yesterday. The knife penetrated the heart. Defrauth, a chef, maintains that Connors walked into the knife while he was cutting a cheese.

THE LUXURY OF A GOOD CRY

Only women know the priceless luxury of a good cry. To be able to relieve overloaded nerves with a good boo-hoo is worth twice the price of admission to a farce-comedy, or even of a hand-to-hand fight over domestic worries. Nowadays the house—formerly the home—is a partnership in which neither "pa nor ma" has a controlling interest. If "poppa" would presume to give orders "mamma" will soon let him know what's what. Where there is not one voice but two voices, it is not two in one, but rather one in two, which means four. The "concord of sweet sounds" is, therefore, not a matter of training, as in a choir, but of chance. If the husband, as he always is, is to blame, why then he should take care what he's doin' accordingly. At any rate the privilege of crying about it is a woman's, only. A man breaking down in a series of well-directed hysterical sobs with his head covered by a shawl or blanket is preposterous. It is neither fit nor fashionable, and, being neither, cannot be. What does a man do, therefore, under the circumstances? He may cave in rather than have a scene—which is what his wife is driving at—or he may raise Hades himself, in which event the "decorum and order of good living" vanishes to the tune of riotous misconduct and saw-saw-saw-sobs.

FAST AND FURIOUS

In a short time the French-Canadians meet at Ottawa in the persons of their accredited delegates, to take measures for further union and for the advancement of their "rights and privileges." This meeting has been heralded with intense enthusiasm, as marking the hope of years, and a new determination for the future. But close upon the heels of this announcement has come that of the approaching federation of the St. Jean Baptiste societies, in June, of 1910. Concerning this Le Canada, in its editorial, says as follows: "The hour has struck. And, to speak boldly, the fulness of time has come.

"The St. Jean Baptiste Society will unite with the other societies in its love for a common country, a country Catholic and French, in order to assure the triumph of national works, social and economic." Le Canada then proceeds to quote as follows: "An association of men marching together towards a common goal cannot be beaten and cannot be conquered, except by a contrary association . . . . . In the new federation we see the means of grouping the French-Canadians."

The French press is full of the beating of the French-Canadian war-drum. "L'Alliance francaise" meets in January. Les societies de St. Jean Baptiste in June. Both meet as never before, for complete and final union. The federation of the British Empire is set at naught. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has announced in no mistakable terms, in referring to the celebrated resolution for imperial union for imperial defence, at the London conference, the first of its kind in the history of the British race: "If you persist in pushing this resolution I shall vote against it."

The movements of the French correspond with this announcement of Sir Wilfrid's.

There must be no mistake. French-Canadians deny the Empire. They deny any Canada not French. They openly and defiantly say so. The government of the country is in their hands. It remains to be seen how long it will continue so.

A FIGHT FOR FEDERATION

That the next great battle in politics in Canada will be for a united empire is apparent. The Saskatchewan legislature has just voted by reason of its Liberal majority, straight against the principle of union. It plays straight into the hands of Laurier and his chief supporters, the French. Senator Ellis (Lib.) is in favour of a wholly Canadian navy. He ridicules being tied to England. It is plainly therefore a case of those loyal to British connection and those who are trying to break away.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Fighting the battle of life unfairly, like every other form of cruelty and oppression "goes" sooner or later. It is passing in Canadian sport and in Canadian politics also.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Peterboro People

As one weak link weakens a chain so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help."

Booth's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Peterborough cures are the proof.

Mrs. R. Duncan, of 115 McDonnel street, Peterborough, Ont., says:—"Some thirteen months ago I suffered with a severe attack of La Grippe that had up until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this, and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced Bright's disease and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. I was unable to sleep through the night the desire to urinate was so frequent and irregular. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I became so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at Jury & McDermid's Pharmacy, and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used three boxes of Booth's Kidney Pills and have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong, and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

SPLENDID MUSIC AT ST. PETER'S

The music at St. Peter's Cathedral on Christmas Day was beautifully rendered by the choir. At Pontifical High Mass at 10.30 the choir sang Festival Mass in their usual finished style. "All Hail the Morn" was beautifully sung by Miss Hallihan, with violin obligato played with expression and sweetness by Miss E. Doris.

All the solos, both morning and evening, were most acceptably taken by Misses L. Hallihan, G. Clancy, A. Primeau, N. Simons, J. Delaire, and L. Kelly and Messrs. J. Wyer, F. Hickey, E. Koen, F. Pope and J. Mercier.

In the evening at 7 o'clock Mattfield's musical vespers were held. "Adeste Fideles," "O Salutaris," (Wiegand) and Millard's "Tantum Ergo" being sung by the choir. The solo in the latter was taken by Miss L. Hallihan in her usual effective manner, the chorus being sung by the choir.

PULPIT SERMONS ON WOMEN.

Few Things Said by Ancient and Modern Divines on Momentous Subject.

Why Eve was made from the rib of Adam has been explained by a witty sage of old. If she had been created from his mouth, she would have talked too much; if from his feet, she would have gone about too much; if from his ears, she would have listened too readily; but she was made from a rib, which is near the heart, to show that she must always be dear to man.

An English preacher in the seventeenth century spoke in similar fashion when he said, with the text, "To be or not to be," that woman should be like and unlike three things. She should be like a snail, always keep within her own house; but not like a snail, to carry all she had on her back. She should be like an echo, to speak when she was spoken to; but not, like an echo, always to have the last word. She should be like a town clock, always keep time and regularity; but not, like a town clock, to speak so loud that all the town might hear her.

A preacher in the reign of Charles II. was to receive £10 if in his sermon at the funeral of Madam Creswell he said nothing but well of her. She was rather a bad character and herself had dictated the clause in her will. So, after a general address on mortality, he thus concluded: "By the will of a deceased sister it is expected that I should mention her and say nothing but well of her; therefore is this: She was born well, she lived well and she died well; for she was born with the name Creswell, she lived in Clerkenwell and she died in Bridewell."—The Sunday Magazine.

LIGHT ON MEDICAL QUESTION

Scientific Analysis of the Ability of Individuals to Weep "Tears of Blood."

The belief that certain individuals are able to weep tears of blood is of such antiquity that the German equivalent for "bitter tears" is "blutige thranan," "bloody tears." There seems, however, no authentic instance of blood being actually secreted by the lachrymal gland.

Micas has published a very interesting article on real and false tears of blood. It is a clinical study on conjunctival hemorrhage. Some years ago the author was consulted about a boy aged 12 years who, from the slightest cause, such as laughing, or sometimes apparently for no cause whatever, wept tears of blood—an occurrence often repeated several times a day. The lad was pale and enervated from constant hemorrhage.

The source of the bleeding was the tarsal conjunctiva, which was covered with fine papillae, and light cauterization with the galvano-cautery resulted in a cure.

This case led the author to study the literature of the subject. He found that in none of the cases cited is it certain that the blood did not come from the conjunctiva or from the lachrymal passages. He feels that it is unwise to deny the possibility of sanguineous secretion from the gland, but that examples in which other sources cannot be shown to be present must be exceedingly rare.

Borneo Inviting to Naturalists.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo. Here are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift Collocalia Nidifica. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese, and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their glands; no sticks or any other foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. The value of those exported from British North Borneo in 1907 was $35,924. They are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

Asthma Plant of Queensland.

The euphorbias are very numerous in the colony of Queensland, and among them is the euphorbia pilulifera, the "Queensland asthma plant," which has a remarkable reputation for curing this troublesome complaint. Several pharmaceutical preparations of the plant are extensively sold in Australia. Analysis shows that a green plant contained 79 per cent. by weight of water and three per cent. of ash, leaving 18 per cent. of vegetable matter. A dried plant contained an alkaloidal substance equal to about 1 part in 1,000. It contained also a glucosidal substance to the amount of not more than 4 parts in 1,000. Possibly one or both of these was the active principle of the plant.

Schisms That Seem Small.

Two religious sects who hated one another bitterly were found by Sven Hedin in Tibet. Searching for the cause of this aversion he found that one of the sects believed that the prayer wheel should turn to the right, while the other was convinced that the wheel should turn to the left. In the region of the Bramaputra he found a mountain which is so sacred that whoever walks around it 13 times has all his sins forgiven. The result of this belief is that criminals from far and near infest this region. When Sven Hedin started to ride around this mountain on his horse the pilgrims informed him that that would do him no good.

Twenty-seven New York milliners and modistes were indicted on charges of smuggling.

Cheese—Firm; receipts, 584. State, new full cream, special, 17½c to 18c; do., Sept. fancy, 17c; do., October best, 16½c; do., late made best, 16½c; do., common to good, 13c to 16c; skims, full to special, 6c to 14½c.

Eggs—Steady; Receipts, 3677; state, Pennsylvania and nearby hennery, white, 45c to 48c; do., gathered white, 38c to 40c; do., hennery, brown and mixed, fancy, 40c to 42c; do., gathered brown, fair to prime, 33c to 37c; western, extra first, 33c to 34c; first, 31c to 32c; seconds, 28c to 30c; refrigerator, 21c to 25c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—U. S. Markets Generally Stronger.

GLASGOW, Dec. 27.—Edward Watson & Ritchie report 174 cattle on offer. Trade is very slow, there being no prime cattle. Steers, 13c and down to 12c. Bulls are shown in large numbers, and stiff and dragging trade at 9½c to 10c per lb.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Dec. 27.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 8 carloads, consisting of 174 cattle and one calf.

Out of the above number of cattle there were 100 exporters, that were held over for Tuesday's market as usual. The principal buyers of the butchers were Gunn's, Martin's and Alex. Levack. Prices were about the same as at the close of last week.

Whaley & Coughlin sold: 7 butchers, 880 lbs. each, at $5.25 per cwt.; 1 butcher, 1300 lbs., at $5.25; 5 butchers, 874 lbs. each, at $5.20; 1 butcher, 1120 lbs., at $4.90; 3 cows, 1200 lbs. each, at $4.40; 1 cow, 1120 lbs., at $4.40; 2 canners, 900 lbs. each, at $1.80; 1 calf, 220 lbs., at $6 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—(Special.)—At the west end market, receipts of live stock for last week were 1550 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 250 calves. The supply this morning for sale consisted of 650 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 425 hogs and 50 calves. Cattle prices show an advance since last Monday of ¼c per lb. The bulk of stock consisted of northwest ranchers, and the quality above the average. Choice steers sold at 5¾c to 6c; good, at 5¼c to 5½c; fair, at 4¾c to 5c; medium, at 4¼c to 4½c; common, at 3¾c to 4c, and inferior, at 3c to 3½c per lb.

For small meats, receipts were comparatively small and demand good. Lambs sold at 6½c to 7c, and sheep, at 4¼c to 4½c per lb. Calves were scarce and the few offered sold at 4c to 6c per lb.

A much stronger feeling prevailed in the market for hogs and prices show an advance of 15c to 25c, attributed to smaller receipts and increased demand from packers. Prospects are that values will go still higher on account of the very limited supplies obtainable in some of the best raising districts in Ontario. Sales of selected lots from west of Toronto were made at $9, and from east of Toronto at $8.75, weighed off cars.

At the Canadian Pacific live stock market receipts for last week were 2150 cattle, 983 sheep and lambs, 1465 hogs and 473 calves, while offerings this morning amounted to 400 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs and 30 calves. Only 40 cattle were received for export account last week.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 3800 head; fairly active and strong to 25c higher; prime steers, $6.50 to $7; shipping, $6 to $6.50; butchers, $5 to $6.50; heifers, $4.25 to $6.25; cows, $3.50 to $5.50; bulls, $3 to $5; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $5; stock heifers, $3.25 to $3.75; fresh cows and springers, $2 lower, $25 to $65.

Veals—Receipts, 750 head; active and 75c lower, $6 to $10.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,500 head; active and 20c to 40c higher; heavy, $8.80 to $8.90; mixed and yorkers, $8.50 to $8.85; pigs, $8.50 to $8.60; roughs, $8 to $8.25; stags, $6.50 to $7.25; dairies, $8.25 to $8.60.

Sheep—Receipts, 18,000; market, 25c to 50c higher; sheep, $4 to $6; lambs, $6.50 to $8.60; yearlings, $5.25 to $7.25.

Operation to Restore Sanity.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—Patrolman Thomas F. Cuddihee returned to his home yesterday, his sanity restored. He had been for three weeks at the City Hospital, where part of his skull had been removed. Two years ago Cuddihee was struck on the head with a club by a negro. The blow changed him from an officer with a gold medal for bravery, into a man who sought to kill his wife and children.

THE LOCAL OPTION MOVEMENT IN THE CITY

Why Peterborough Should Close the Bar

By Master Marmaduke Pearson.

Any municipality should care for its rising generation. These who are boys now, will, in a short time, hold offices in our city, such as mayors, councillors, etc. Certainly if the barroom remains, it will destroy the future manhood of the boys. It will make their brains move slowly, and they will not be able to deal with the weighty matters, which the city fathers have to consider. Other places are doing it in Canada, why should not we? We are proud to think of ourselves as residents of a city, second to none in our fair Dominion. As Peterborough is a wideawake city, and always ready to adopt any new and worthy idea, why should we not be among the first to profit by this great movement, which like an advancing tide, is sweeping over our country.

The real assets of any community are the people, so that whatever makes the people stronger physically, intellectually and spiritually, socially and morally, will help the city. On the other hand, whatever undermines the strength, health, physical endurance, working capacity, skill, reliability, and sobriety of the people, especially the working men, will ultimately hurt the city. The barroom in all these respects has been proved to be not at all a help, but decidedly an injury to the citizens.

Alcoholic drinks are not a food. Doctors have proved that they make no man stronger and better prepared for his task. They wither, burn and parch the very tissues of his body, and they affect the vital organs.

Now, when we have licenses, the liquor will seek the man, but if we have local option, the man will have to seek the liquor. This makes it possible for a man to escape the clutches of this awful evil. The abominable treating system, which proves ruinous to so many men will be destroyed. The bar-room is a bar to happiness, a bar to good society, a bar to responsible positions, a bar to decency, and greatest of all, a bar to heaven.

Some people say a great deal of the revenue will be cut off, if local option carries; but the records clearly show, that the taxes will not be raised, and the tax-laying power of the citizens will be greatly improved. Men who have spent their money on drink, will spend it in promoting the commercial interests of our city, by buying property and other things which, before they could not purchase, for their money was spent on drink.

Just as the Lift Lock and the Quaker Oats industry are good advertisements for Peterborough, so would local option be. Other towns would look up and say Peterborough did it, why cannot we?

It would save the spending of a lot of money on jails and asylums, for the inmates of these generally reach there through drink. It would decrease crime, which generally starts in the bar-room.

It is a destroyer of the home. Many men found in bar-rooms at night, would, if these places were destroyed, remain at home. Most districts around Peterborough are under local option, and if the bar-room was destroyed, the country people around us could not come to our city and return intoxicated.

Why Peterborough Should Close The Barroom

(By Gertrude Brosseau.)

I think that the closing of the bars in Peterborough would be the uplifting of the town, morally, physically, spiritually and industrially. These important points in life are not known to have ever been benefitted by the bar-room.

To begin with it is reasonable to think that most of the articles manufactured in this or any town, would find their way into the homes of many, if the doors of the bar were closed upon the man who in coming home with his pay, drops in and spends the greater part of it on liquor. Thus his wife, who may be sorely in need of many things, is forced to do without owing to the neglect of her husband. In this way many are prevented employment also. Another important point that there are few manufacturers who care to give the bar-room patron a situation simply because he is not as reliable as the non-frequenter. The treating habit is the bar-room's friend and the working man's enemy. A man may go into the bar with the intention of taking one drink and going on his way, either to work or home, as the occasion may be, but by the time treating process has been completed, the good-intentioned man gets what is commonly called (Brain Storm), then he thinks that the bar-room is the poor man's club, but in my opinion, if there were no bars there would be no poor men.

I have heard it remarked that a large number of farmers would not come to town if the bar-rooms were closed, but I think that no farmer comes to town intending to lodge in a bar-room. He comes to sell his produce then to purchase in the different stores what he needs. If, on the contrary, the farmer enters the bar-room, the merchants suffer for what goes down his throat. He generally spends the amount of his intended purchase over the bar. He then becomes one of the many thousand who say, "I can do without it, although I really need it."

The bar-room draws a certain amount of all classes of men, because after frequenting such places a few times they become acquainted with that class, which, if they just happen to meet on the street, it is up to either of them to say, "Come in and have a little drop." It is indeed a little drop, one which, if kept up, would be easy to detect.

What all Christians hold highest in mind is their spiritual welfare. All believe that when they die they are commencing a new life. I think our bar-room victims of whose deaths we hear daily, and who are said to have died under influence of what they they obtain from the bar, have a poor start in the new life.

REPRESENTATIVE SPEAKERS FOR LOCAL OPTION

Mr. J. C. Miller at Murray St. To-Night—Other Prominent Advocates of the Movement

The Temperance and Moral Reform League has arranged for representative speakers for the closing of their educational campaign for local option.

To-night at Murray street Baptist church, Mr. J. C. Miller, President of the Orillia Tannery Company, will address the business men of the city. It is also expected that Mr. Tudhope of Orillia, will be present.

On Thursday night, Mr. A. E. Irwin, K.C., of Toronto, will address a public meeting in the Park street Baptist church at 8 o'clock. This meeting is specially for all mechanics.

Next Sunday there will be a great array of speakers from various Ontario centres. James Simpson, President of the Trades and Labor Council, will be the most important man at both afternoon and evening meetings in the Grand Opera House. Another interesting figure will be that of Gypsy Hawkins, of England, and supporting these speakers by brief testimonies are expected men like John McQuaker, of Owen Sound; J. Simpson, of Midland; E. T. James, Editor of the Bowmanville Statesman; J. Squires of Norwood, and other representative men.

XMAS TREE AND ENTERTAINMENT

The Christmas tree and childrens entertainment at the Salvation Army Temple on Saturday night was a particularly happy and successful event. An excellent programme was rendered by the children of the Sunday school, at the conclusion of which the presents on the Christmas tree were distributed by Deputy Bandmaster Ford, who acted as Santa Claus.

CAROL SERVICE ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Splendid Rendition of the Christmas Festal Evensong

Nearly fifty voices in St. John's chancel last night gave a magnificent rendering of the Christmas Festal Evenson. From the opening hymn, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," to the recessional, "Our Day of Praise is Done," the service was joyous, but devout and uplifting, the great themes of praise and worship dominating the whole congregation. The music was distinctly Anglican, many lovely choral effects being obtained by grouping of parts, indeed, not a single solo was sung. The employment of soprano and tenor voices in verses with full chorus refrains, was a happy arrangement, but the most striking carol of the series was W. F. Sherwin's setting to the Rev. John Oswood's Christmas hymn, "Hark, What Mean Those Holy Voices." Four tenor voices sing the opening melody, accompanied by four alto voices, moving by thirds in similar motion, and finely blended. The chorus was sung in four part harmony, with the soprano ladies singing the obligato, "Glory in the Highest," concluding with full choir in the last lines. A word should be said of the anthem, "While Shepherds Watched," a descriptive anthem, with plenty of scope for good choral singing, which was easily achieved by the choristers.

"Never heard such Carols in St. John's church during the twenty-seven years I have attended," said a gentleman to some of the choir at the end of the service. "It was splendid."

Considerable work must have been put in at rehearsal by the choir, which goes to show what may be accomplished chorally by a well organized body of singers, who volunterily and unselfishly, gave their services to the church, their reward and joy being in the giving and rendering of their best.

His First Appearance.

Alexander Campbell was very drunk yesterday, but on his promise to get out of the city, he was discharged by the Magistrate this morning. He claimed he was on his way to his home in Ottawa, but was waiting for the necessary cobalt. It was his first appearance in police court here.

Ald. Hopkins will not be a mayoralty candidate in Hamilton.

SURVEY IS FINISHED

Junction of Grain Route With C. P. R. Main Line May be About 2½ Miles West of the City.

There is a probability that the junction of the new C.P.R. grain route with the main line will be just west of Leary's ballast pit, about two and a half miles west of the city of Peterborough. The engineers, who were making a new survey in that section as a result of the protests from Peterborough in connection with the proposed entrance in the western part of the city, have completed their work. The survey made shows that it is possible to get a good grade by joining the main line at the point mentioned above. There is a pretty steep grade between Peterborough and the siding at Kendrey, and this is largely avoided by keeping away from the main line until a point just west of Leary's pit.

As the survey has been completed it is likely that a definite announcement as to the location of the road will be made at an early date.

CONTRACT FOR A LOCAL FIRM

Hull Council Awards Contract for Pump and Turbine Wheel to Wm. Hamilton Co.

The council of the city of Hull met on Thursday night and formally accepted the tender of the William Hamilton Company to manufacture and install the pumping engine and water wheel required for the extension of their waterworks system.

A delegation composed of R. W. Farley, the City Engineer, Ald. J. Caron, Ex-Ald. Burns and T. A. Berthaume, all practical engineers or mechanics, had visited Toronto, Guelph Peterborough, and other places to inspect the different styles of pumps and systems installed in these cities. In Peterborough they saw the two pumps that have supplied this city with water for the last sixteen years, without costing one dollar for repairs. They also saw at the works of the William Hamilton Company, the new set of pumps that have just been completed and are now ready to be put in place as soon as the building is completed. They were thus able to examine in Peterborough pumping engines manufactured by our local firm both in operation and in the course of construction.

Out of seventeen different tenders submitted, the William Hamilton Company, although not by any means the lowest in price, secured the contract. It speaks well for our local firm, when it is considered they had to meet in competition such well-known manufacturers of pumping engines as John Inglis Co., The Canada Foundry, John McDougall, Caledonian Iron Works, and Grenfield & Kennedy, a British firm.

The pumping engine to be manufactured for the city of Hull is known as a triplex double action plunger type. It will have six large cylinders, each of which will weigh over three tons. The plungers will be twenty-one inches in diameter by seven feet in length and will weigh upwards of three tons each also. The engine has a stroke of thirty inches and will pump six million gallons of water every twenty-four hours against a pressure of 130 lbs. to the square inch. The total weight of this large pumping engine will be about seventy-five tons.

The designs and drawings are being made now by the engineering staff, and the work of manufacturing will begin in about two weeks.

XMAS MUSIC AT ST. ANDREW'S

The Christmas services at St. Andrew's church last Sunday were particularly interesting and inspiring. The choir loft and pulpit were decorated with evergreen, and across the choir railing were placed in large letters of evergreen the words "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." The decorations were done by the Young Men's Guild.

The musical services were excellent. At both services the initial number was a bright Christmas carol. The anthems were also appropriate and well rendered. The solo work of Miss Howel in "The Shepherd King" and of Mr. Gordon Wright was of exceptional merit. The choir was assisted by Miss Marjorie Brodie, of Toronto, grand-daughter of Mr. George Edmison, who has been a welcome visitor to Peterborough during the holiday season. Although Miss Brodie has sung in Toronto, this was her first public appearance in Peterborough, and her many friends and admirers will certainly congratulate her on her splendid success yesterday. In the morning she sang "Come Unto Me," and in the evening "Hark! What Mean These Holy Voices." Both were well rendered and showed splendid power in enunciation.

The Lindsay "Warder"

The Lindsay Warder has passed into the hands of Alan Gillies, who has been business manager since the new management took control in April, 1908. Mr. Gillies is a thorough newspaperman, and will continue the policy of progress that has characterized the Warder since the daily edition was started. It is now one of the brightest of the provincial dailies, and apparently it is going to remain so.

THE MUNICIPAL NOMINATIONS

The Nominees in Peterborough County Municipalities—Few Acclamations.

At North Monaghan.

At the nomination meeting held in the Township Hall from 1 to 2 o'clock on Monday, 27th inst., the clerk, Mr. G. W. Bennett, presiding, the following were nominated for reeve and councillors for 1910:—

For Reeve—

John Brown, proposed by J. J. Bennett and seconded by J. McIntosh.

Wm. G. Howden, proposed by J. A. Williams and seconded by J. H. Foster.

R. A. Dobbin, proposed by Ira Goodfellow and seconded by Robt. Sanderson.

For Councillors—

Alex. Laing, proposed by G. Lockie and seconded by J. F. Clark.

R. A. Dobbin, proposed by B. Sanderson and seconded by G. Ward.

J. C. Morrow, proposed by B. Sanderson and seconded by G. Ward.

J. H. Forster, proposed by R. Leffied and seconded by W. J. Byers.

G. H. May, proposed by W. J. Byers and seconded by R. Colin.

Wm. Robson, proposed by A. A. Preston, and seconded by J. F. Clarke.

R. M. Waddel, proposes by J. J. Bennett and seconded by B. Johnston.

W. G. Howden, proposed by J. Coombs and seconded by B. Johnston.

Alf. Sandies, proposed by J. Coombs and seconded by J. A. Williams.

Walter McKee, proposed by John Brown and seconded by W. G. Howden.

Alex. Gordon, proposed by T. M. Hunter and seconder by B. Johnston.

J. F. Clarke, proposed by T. M. Hunter and seconded by R. Colin.

Mr. Brown, who is the present reeve of the township, withdrew, thus leaving a contest for the reeveship for 1910 between Mr. W. G. Howden and Robt. A. Dobbin, both of whom were councillors last year.

Messrs. Howden and Dobbin, who were also nominated for councillors, elected to contest the reeveship, and J. F. Clarke resigned his candidature as councillor. The remaining candidates for councillors having until 9 o'clock on the 28th inst., to decide, it is probable others will withdraw but an election seems to be assured.

At the close of the hour for nominations a public meeting was called. G. W. Bennett was elected chairman and speeches were made by the several candidates. The meeting was perhaps the largest yet held in the township for the purpose of electing a council, there being upwards of one hundred electors present.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the eloquent and instructive address of Mr. Brown, who is retiring from the reeveship, gave an account of the various important transactions and of township affairs during his term of office.

Throughout the meeting while some of the speakers criticized others complimented the old council and altogether there was a strong feeling of good fellowship and many suggestions were made which will be highly beneficial to the incoming council. The leading question of the day seemed to be "good roads, and how to get them." The matter of constructing sidewalks at Byresville was also introduced. By the time the meeting was over it would have seemed to an unlooker that "nothing was too good for North Monaghan," and each ratepayer present seemed determined to get it, and the various candidates also seemed determined that they should, until after election day at any rate.

Acclamation in Smith.

All the members of the County Council were yesterday elected for the year 1910 by acclamation. The nomination proceedings were held in the County Council chambers. Reeve R. N. Scott retired and Mr. Thos. H. Graham was nominated for the office by John Telford and G. W. Mann. The other nominations were as follows:—

Deputy Reeve, J. H. Garbutt. Moved by John Telford and G. W. Mann.

Councillors, Fred McKee. Moved by W. J. Northey and T. E. Mann. Wm. Davis. Moved by G. W. Mann and John Githick. Andrew Jobe. Moved by Noble Kelly and Thos. Mann.

Contest in Chandos.

Chandos, Dec. 28.—There will be a contest for both the reeveship and council in Chandos township. Nomination took place here yesterday, and a good deal of interest was taken in the proceedings. The ballot will be as follows:—

FOR REEVE.

Wm. Heles.

Robert Tannert.

FOR COUNCILLORS.

Thomas Tanner.

Andrew Wilson.

Christopher Jones.

John L. Winters.

Michael Hobbins.

Warm Time at Warsaw.

Special to the Review.

Warsaw, Dec. 28.—The nomination proceedings for Dummer township today were attended by a large number of ratepayers and great interest was taken in the proceedings.

Speeches were made by all the candidates, and a hot fight is ahead for both the reeveship and the council. C. J. Darling, the present reeve, will be opposed by J. L. Kidd, who was defeated last year. All this year's councillors, Wm. Carveth, E. Martin, J. Greystock and R. Ferguson are in the field. There are two more after the honors, Hugh McDonald and J. J. Crowe.

Many at Lakefield

Special to Review.

Lakefield, December 28. — Nominations for reeveship, council and school board took place last evening in the town hall. The ratepayers turned out in large numbers. The nominations were as follows:—

Sir,—Concerning my statement to Alderman W. G. Morrow, at yesterday's nomination, and in view of the fact that some of the newspapers of the city are muzzled, to such an extent, as to leave from their report of the meeting, my statements on the city's financial management, I again challenge Mr. W. G. Morrow to meet me at a public meeting to discuss municipal affairs.

The privilege of speaking on behalf of Alderman Morrow, will be given to the proprietors or other employees of the newspapers so muzzled referred to above.

Conditions to be arranged with me before noon to-morrow.

YOUNG MAN FELL DEAD ON STREET IN TORONTO

And Body Interred in Necropolis Cemetery While Family in Peterborough Anxiously Inquired at Hospitals for Him---William P. Gorman's Photograph Identified at Toronto Morgue.

A bereavement attended with distressingly sad circumstances has visited the home of Mr. Thomas Gorman, 343 Rubidge Street. After inquiring for his missing son, aged 22 for over two months, he made the appaling discovery that the son William P. Gorman, who had been so anxiously sought for, was dead and buried in the Necropolis cemetery, Toronto, having been found lifeless on the streets of that city and taken to the morgue, where the body was kept for the customary eight days, in order that it might be identified and as no one claimed the remains they were interred after the customary manner by the city.

The deceased young man was in the employ of the Cobalt Central Mining Company as engineer and as he was in poor health he wrote to his parents in this city that he would be home to recuperate. He left Cobalt on the evening of October 30th at 5 o'clock, and would reach Toronto at 11.30 o'clock that evening. The facts disclosed by the identification and other means of inquiry have established that the young man had walked about a mile east of the Union Station on his way to a friend of the Gorman family, Mr. Patrick Kenney, 180 George street, and when only a short distance away from Mr. Kenney's house he collapsed and fell dead on the pavement on Jarvis street. The body was picked up on the street by P. C. McKee and the officer had it removed to the morgue.

The identification was established by Gorman's photograph, which was recognized by undertaker Harry R. Ranks, who conducted the funeral, and Chief Coroner Johnston, of Toronto, who saw the remains after they had been taken to the morgue. The picture of Gorman was taken six years ago, when he was sixteen years of age, and in the photo were also two chums, but neither the undertaker nor the coroner had any difficulty in recognizing the likeness of Gorman. The photograph was taken to the morgue by Mr. John Kenney of 17 Ontario street. Mr. John Kenney is a brother of Mr. Patrick Kenney, who is referred to above and his wife is a cousin of the late young man's mother. Mr. J. Kenney's son was visiting at Mr. Gorman's home here a short time ago and suggested that a photo of William Gorman be sent to his father that he might take it to the morgue for the purpose of seeing if the likeness of young Gorman was that of anyone whose body had been unclaimed at the morgue. The inquiry and the photograph resulted in the identification. The photograph was taken into the morgue on Friday last and on bearing the distressing news the father of the young man went up to Toronto on the early morning C. P. R. train on Saturday last. The authorities had the body exhumed yesterday morning and the father had no difficulty in confirming the identification, the body being in a remarkably good state of preservation, considering the length of time it had been buried.

THOUGHT HE WAS AT SOME HOSPITAL.

In the letter he wrote home William Gorman complained that he had symptoms of typhoid fever. For that reason he had concluded to come home and forwarded his money and important papers to his father. He was feeling very ill when he left Cobalt station, it has been ascertained, on the commencement of his trip and saw his physician shortly before he left. His doctor had advised him to go to a hospital as his pulse was 102, but the young man could not obtain admittance, it appears, to the Cobalt hospitals, as they were full at the time. He then went on to Toronto, where he would likely have entered a hospital for treatment if his life had been spared. It was just about half an hour after the train had reached the Union Station that the fatal collapse on Jarvis street occurred and the trip from Cobalt to Toronto had evidently been too exhausting for the deceased in the weak condition he was in. The body was in a limp, sitting posture and the young man had simply sunk down completely overcome. He evidently expired immediately.

It had never occurred to the family, which was in a state of the greatest anxiety, that Harry had died and as his ailment had no indications of resulting in such a sudden fatality. They suspected that he had probably been so ill that he had stopped off at some town between Cobalt and Toronto and entered a hospital there. Queries were made at different places in the province with the object of locating him. North Bay, Orillia, Barrie, Ottawa and other places all along the line being communicated with by telephone. All the hospitals in Toronto also were communicated with in the quest for the missing son. Messages were sent to both Kenney homes in an effort to have him found.

However, as all means of locating the young man had been employed the suggestion to send the photograph to Toronto in order that Mr. Kenney might take it to the morgue was adopted with the result mentioned. The fact that the deceased was 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighed 165 pounds removed all doubt from the minds of the authorities as to whether the man buried was Gorman or not.

FUNERAL HERE TO-MORROW

The Gorman family came to Peterborough from Toronto about ten years ago. Will left here for Cobalt 11 months ago and had worked there since, till his departure on the day of his death. He was a machinist and stationary engineer and learned the machine trade in the Canadian General Electric Works where he was employed for six years, which includes his apprenticeship and was working there up to the time of his departure for Cobalt. He was well known in the city. He was the eldest child of the family.

Surviving are his father and mother and two brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Judd of Rochester and Stanley at home, and the sisters are Marion, Kathleen, Marguerite and Vera, all of whom live at home. The body will be brought from Toronto to-night on the C. P. R. local to Lane and Eano's undertaking rooms and the funeral will be held from the family residence tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will take place in St. Peter's cemetery.

PETERBOROUGH REPORT IN THE LABOR GAZETTE

Mr. A. J. Sharp, Peterborough correspondent, reported as follows in the December issue of the Labor Gazette:—

Labor conditions during November showed little change, very few men being idle. The building trades continued active, the weather during the month being very favourable. At least 125 new residences were either completed or under construction in this city this year, at a cost of over $200,000. The new Roman Catholic church has just been completed; it will have a seating capacity of 1,000. Two new business blocks have also been erected. The past year has shown a falling off in the amount of cheese on the Peterborough Board. —There were 29.214 cheese boarded this year, compared with 41,420 last year. The total receipts for 1909 were $383,983, compared with $418,083 17 in 1908, a decrease in 1909, of $34,009 65. The contract for the erection of a new dam at Burleigh Falls, to cost $60,000, has been awarded to Messrs Bishop and Buchanan. The charitable societies have not been very much taxed this fall, the open weather and the amount of outdoor work available having relieved the situation. The great majority of the labouring classes have had plenty of work.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Agricultural.—Farmers have been very busy ploughing and marketing produce. Potatoes are plentiful at fifty cents per bag last year they brought $1.00 per bag. Hay has been high in price, though there is plenty in the country, nineteen dollars per ton is being asked.

Lumbering.—This industry was extremely active, though some of the camps had got their full complement of men. The wages paid this year are $28 per month; last year $23 per month were paid.

Manufacturing.—Activity was the rule. In several of the factories extra men were engaged and some were working overtime.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

The building and metal trades were busy. Woodworkers had steady work, as had all branches of the printing trades. Garment workers, boot and shoe workers were steadily employed, as were confectioners and bakers. Leather workers were very busy. Railway and street railway employees and other branches of the transportation trades continued active.

DISTRICT NOTES

Port Hope.—The Grand Trunk Railway Company has decided to at once take up the sidings in the yards as desired by the Ideal Company, in order to give room for the new buildings to be erected by that company.

Thanks Expressed

OBITUARY

JOHN JORDAN.

A staunch Conservative and one of the oldest residents of the township of Ops passed away last evening in the person of Mr. John Jordan, father of Second Deputy-Reeve W. W. Jordan, and uncle of Warden G. A. Jordan, of Lindsay. The deceased gentleman, who was over 87 years of age, was born in Ireland, and came to this country in the year 1834, settling in the township of Verulam. Later he moved to Ops township, where he has resided ever since. In religion the deceased was a Methodist. A loving wife and four sons and three daughters are left to mourn the loss of a kind and tender husband and a loving father. They are: W. W. Jordan, Lindsay; F. and N. F., in Ops on the homestead. The daughters are Mrs. D. Sinclair, of Cambray; Mrs. Thos. Webster, East Oakwood; and Mrs. R. F. Whiteside, of Little Britain.

Mrs. J. Porter, of Peterborough, is also a daughter of the deceased gentleman.

The deceased gentleman was respected by Conservative and Liberal alike, and was known as everybody's friend.

The funeral, which will be held on Sunday will probably be one of the largest ever held in the township. Lindsay friends of the deceased and of the members of the family extend their sincere sympathy to the mourning ones.—Lindsay Warder.

CATHERINE CORRIGLE.

Word has been received in the city of the death at Cobourg at the advanced age of 94 years of Miss Catherine Corrigle, who with her two aged sisters, lived in the city some years ago. Canon Davidson and Mayor Rush will go down to the funeral.

The special low prices at the Great Credit Sale at the Knickerbocker Company Store, 422 George Street, will be continued all this week.

THEATRICAL

The Volunteer Organist.

One of the most effective scenes of modern melodrama is the climax of the third act of "The Volunteer Organist" when two boys visiting the place in which the scene of the play is laid take the place of a regular church choir and a tramp, who had in his better days been a church organist, volunteers as organist for the occasion, petty dissension having caused the regular organist and choir to refuse to take part in the services.

The offering was given at the Grand last night to a good-sized audience, which was generous in its applause. The singing of "The Palms," in the church scene, by Willie Hamm and Freddie Gould elicited the warmest appreciation of the audience. Both boys have excellent voices and the choir loft scene was very effective.

Mr. J. J. Howden Declines

Mr. J. J. Howden wishes to thank his mover and seconder for nominating him yesterday for the honorable position of alderman, but his multifarious duties prevent his acceptance of the same.

THE CANDIDATES

It is not necessary to dwell upon the personal merits of the two candidates for the mayoralty, Ald. Morrow and ex-Ald. Mason. Fortunately both are men of character, courage and standing. But it is a question of policy or policies—for Peterborough is not living up to her record. In so far, the last few years have been a reproach to those connected with municipal administration. Ald. Hicks says that our debenture debt is too high. It is exclusive of waterworks, $750,000 being nearly the limit. Few will disagree with him in his conclusions. Proposals to incur further debenture debts on a non-paying basis will hardly find favor with the ratepayers. We have reached the limit of our financial resources and yet are in sore need of further development. This condition does not look right. It does not argue well for the future.

Ald. Morrow and ex-Ald. Mason both ~~profess to give the~~ electors their policies in their addresses, but while Ald. Morrow refers to his intention in that respect, it practically ends there. He refers to "cheap power," but he does not refer to the only offer now before the people, viz., that made by the Hydraulic Co. at $20 per h.p. Is he satisfied that this rate is "cheap" enough? If he is, most people are not. Here is where a most important detail is missing. Both gentlemen make the usual pledges as to economy. The ratepayers have been fed on these agreeable dainties for many years, both here and elsewhere, but what are the facts? Has either of these gentlemen had anything to do with the present unsatisfactory financial condition of the city, a condition which a few years ago was our pride and comfort? If so his present professions are at a serious discount. Ex-Ald. Mason is dead set against over-drafts and it is probable that most people will agree with him. The idea of paving George street is a good one, but not wholly out of the pocket of the general rate-payers. Ald. Morrow's reference to the sewer system extension in the southern part of the city recalls the famous Romaine st. sewer of unhappy memory. Very little of that is required to meet the demands of the ratepayers. That Ald. Mason has declined as prospective Chief Magistrate to "play favorites" is unquestionably right. He goes there as the representative of the city and not as the representative of an opinion, hence his determination to avoid complications is both just and reasonable. But he pledges himself to carry out, so far as the duty lies within his province, the "will of the people." If he does that he will do well. It seems to us that Ald. Morrow is going to have some difficulty in explaining our present financial condition. It is no miracle of statesmanship, that is sure. It will carry no one to victory. It is rather a burden than an omen of promise. Ald. Mason is also in favor of cheap power. Neither of these gentlemen speak of "municipal power." Is that promised check on high prices a thing of the past?

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Ladies' Auxiliary Will Be "At Home" in the Afternoon---Indoor Circus in the Gymnasium at Night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be at home to the members, friends and subscribers on Saturday afternoon, New Year's Day. There will be music and refreshments and an enjoyable afternoon may be expected. In the evening the physical director and the gymnasium classes will put on the ideal circus in the gymnasium. Those taking part in the performance have been practising for some time past, and those who attend are assured of a distinct treat.

Family Re-union

A happy family reunion took place at the home of Mrs. Leo Krant, 444 Mark street, Ashburnham, at which four generations were represented, Mrs. Wm. Gaskins and her children and grandchildren and great grandchildren, altogether making 20 people.

GRIMSBY COLD TO MAYOR

Auto Party Couldn't Find Hotel and Had to Move on to Beamsville.

GRIMSBY, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—A revised version of Old Mother Hubbard would fit the experiences of Mayor Oliver of Toronto and a party who arrived here late last night in two automobiles.

They found the town bare of hotel accommodation, and altho it was nearly midnight, had to re-embark and steer a course for Beamsville.

When Grimsby went "dry" several years ago the hotels went out of business, and the "Village Inn," a finely appointed hotel, run on temperance lines, threw up the sponge after the vote to repeal local option was defeated last January by a slender majority. Consequently there is no provision for the travelling public, as Mayor Oliver found to his cost.

From Toronto World, Oct. 18, 1909

Local option drives trade to the next town, as even scanty hotel accommodation cannot be found for travellers.

Local option, therefore, injures business and depreciates property values.

Local option abolishes the sale of light beers and wines in sanitary hotels under proper license supervision, and substitutes therefor the sale of adulterated whiskey in low dens.

Vote Against Local Option so that your Town may not be given the go-by. 11

SPORTING NEWS

GOTCH FAILED TO MAKE GOOD

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 25.—In a fifteen-minute handicap wrestling match here to-day, Frank Gotch failed to throw Con O'Kelly, of Ireland. Dr. Roller and Raoul de Rouen wrestled fifteen minutes without a throw. The police refused to permit James J. Jeffries to box with Samuel Berger.

SPORTING NOTES

Some hockey enthusiast in Toronto is throwing mud at Rev. Mr. Armstrong, whom he accuses of not arguing fairly.

Yeacer Weidensaul, after playing nine years with the Toronto Eastern League team, is billed to get his release.

At last "Bob" Fitzsimmons admits that he is a back number. His defeat at the hands of Bill Lang, the Australian heavyweight champion, has brought this fact rather forcibly home to the grand old man of the ring.

Meadows and Shrubb race ten miles at Excelsior rink in Toronto on January 5. The winner will take all.

Roger Bressnahan, of the St. Louis Cardinals, claims to have been touched for a diamond pin, valued at $250, while travelling on a train.

O, where, O, where is Fred Simpson and Red Hawk?

HOCKEY

A large number of junior and intermediate players turned out to practice last night, and the workout was a hard and fast one. There will be no lack of material, from which to pick two well-balanced teams.

Pete Weatherston had his left foot rather painfully injured last night, it being gashed by a skate during practice. Dr. Fredericks was called and attended to the wound.

The first senior city league games are scheduled to be played one week from to-morrow night, when Keene and Strathconas come together at 8 o'clock and West Ends and T. A. S. at nine.

The managers of the three local teams have about completed their line-ups and by all reports the class of hockey to be played in the City League this season will be in the fastest yet.

Some of the sports in Lakefield want to know why that town was not represented at the meeting when the schedule was drawn up.

Con. Helpin will again guard the nets for the West End team. With a good point and cover it will be no cinch for the other teams to score on this stellar young goal-tender.

The Auburns held a practice between ten and eleven last night and the weavers expect to be strictly in it this season. Kendry, who was with the north end team when they won the championship of the Mercantile League, was out and will be back again at his old position at rover.

HOCKEY

Port Hope's application to play intermediate hockey in the Whitby-Cobourg-Oshawa group was turned down at a meeting of those clubs. The locals were rather late in organizing, but expected to be allowed to enter that group. Oshawa, Cobourg and Whitby notified Secretary Hewitt of the O.H.A., that they would not stand for it, however, so Port Hope will have to be content with junior hockey.—Port Hope Guide.

All players of the Strathcona Hockey Club are requested to be out in uniform for practice this evening.

The Collegiate Junior O.H.A. players put in a stiff practice yesterday afternoon. A large number were out.

ROY BROWN WANTS MILLER

Mr. F. W. Miller received a telegram yesterday for his son Walter, the former local hockey player, from Roy Brown, manager of the Brantford professional hockey team, who wants "Giddy" back on his lineup for this season. Walter is in Prince Albert at the present time, and will likely figure on the team of that place, unless Manager Brown can induce him to return.

MR. LASTER REVIEWS SOME MATTERS

He Thinks That the Local Option People are not Careful as to Measures and Means

Note.—The communication following, and which appears over the signature of Mr. B. Laster, is offered for publication by him, independent of the wishes and objects of either side in the local option campaign, and without approval or endorsement by either party. The space occupied is paid for by Mr. Laster, and it is on these conditions that the communication appears.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In last Friday's local option literature a supporter of local option claimed that the anti-local option people gave much attention to Owen Sound, and although there are many other towns where there are no licenses, they claim but one failure. So you do acknowledge that Owen Sound is a failure! Well, let me tell you that the failure is all over where local option exists. Just the same, I have proved to you with absolute undeniable facts, with the records of their police, that the statements made by your speakers are wrong. You say 'Why do we argue only about Owen Sound, and not with any other place?' It is because it was your own local option speakers who were giving as an example of purity and high moral improvement, the good that local option had done for Owen Sound, and claimed that we would have the same success if we passed local option here. I have proved to you, and to every citizen of Peterborough, that local option in Owen Sound is a failure. When you brought your great speaker, Ireland, of Owen Sound, who is certainly no credit to their town, and who goes all over stating that their town is the most hideous in the Dominion. How would you like if a Peterborough man should go around advertising Peterborough in the same way? Would you give him much credit? Would you not tell him that he is a traitor to your city, and an outcast? Still, the moral reformers are proud of a man like him, and bring him in places where they preach the gospel of truthfulness and justice, to state absolute falsehoods, when he said that in the last four years he has not seen nor heard of a drunkard, when there is actually double the number of drunkards and law-breakers in Owen Sound than in the three years before local option was passed. Then you come and challenge any one to prove that you are wrong, and when any one comes forward to do so you say it is Sunday and a holy day, and it is not proper to discuss it. Is this not modern hypocrisy? Why, that is your own selected place that you have brought as an example, and now when you cannot get away from the fact that you have made fools of yourselves by bringing Owen Sound to the front, you are trying to say "That is only one of the places where it is a failure." Now, I venture to say, if you will bring forward any other town where local option is in force, that I can prove to you by facts, the same as in Owen Sound, that local option is a failure all over. Then you state that a citizen—who is no one but myself—has challenged you to come on the public platform and discuss the issue involved; and that your answer is that no attention was given to the challenge because I was not a hotel-keeper, nor did I represent a hotel man. I certainly do not represent a hotel man, but myself and hundreds of citizens who are opposing local option. Therefore, we claim the right to discuss the question, as it concerns us as much as the local option people. You did not state at any time in your letters, nor on the platform, that you wanted only hotel men to come and hear you discuss this matter, but everyone was invited. And when you say anyone in opposition to you you did not say hotel men. But you invited men who are opposed to the local option movement in general. You recognize every man who is opposed to local option, and then you try and make an excuse, that you did not give any attention to my challenge because I was a private citizen. There you are disputing your own words in your own letter, and although you say you did not give any attention to my challenge and questions, you state a little further that besides all the points that have been answered repeatedly and fully, not only in these columns, but on the public platform during the meetings. Are you contradicting your own statements? How dare you make such statements, and say that you have answered my questions! I challenge the whole Moral Reform Association if any of you can prove that you have answered any of my questions. But always, under all kinds of excuses, you have evaded them. And, if pressed, you call in the police to protect you, and not to let the people see any one tear your mask off, and show you in your true colors. But it is like you; although charged and proved that you are not telling the truth, you still go ahead and blindfold the people, so that you may have other victims to follow you. But let me tell you, by this time the people, and even those who were supporting you before, see that you are not carrying this campaign on straightforwardly, and are getting disgusted with you.

Then I heard the speaker making statements on Sunday, and I am sure if he knew Peterborough he would never attempt to make such statements. He got his experience with negroes in the South, or in the mining camps; but we are not to be compared with either of them. We are not in such a state as they were. The way in which he put this to the audience is, that we are all drunkards, and that every house is affected with it. He must have had his head full of dust instead of brains, when he stated that there is no family that is not affected with the cursed drunkenness in Peterborough. First, let him go and see some of the homes in Peterborough, and he will be convinced that they are just as good, if not better, than where it is under the local option law. He was making great challenges under the protection of the police; and what were his challenges? "Can any one say, that using too much liquor is not a curse?" Why certainly there is not a man in Peterborough, who will not say that. And you have no right to state to the public such falsehoods; that we are encouraging the poor to drunkenness. Why, we have here a man who has done more for limiting drunkenness, and has succeeded in doing it in peaceful ways, and has done more than you will ever be able to do with local option. To hear you, and all your kind of speakers, one would think that if we did not abolish the bars now that the next generation would all be drunkards and criminals. Why our fathers lived in times when drunkenness was more dangerous than now, and I am in a position to tell that great speaker that we are not all lost to the devil; and I am sure our children are just as safe, providing those moral reformers will leave us alone. Any one to hear him speak must come to the conclusion that he doesn't know the people of Peterborough. Such an address would just suit a certain class of drunkards, or men without brains; or would be very suitable for a House of Correction, where there are only criminals. But we are not in any of those classes. We are intelligent enough to understand, and therefore this is not the place to preach such insults. They are nothing more than absolute rot.

Now some of the former speakers have said that drunkards are to be pitied and helped; and one of them stated, "Look to your ministers. They are your guides." And the last speaker mentioned the ten commandments, where it says that they shall not steal nor perjure themselves; and also stated that we should see that our officials strictly enforced the law. Now let us see how our officials and ministers do their duty. I must acknowledge that some of the ministers are trying to educate their people to the best of their ability. But the ministers are divided in opinion, as to the best way to abolish drunkenness, and save the poor from further misery. The first class of ministers who are going this way, when they see a drunkard, they put him in his bed, and then they visit the man, and talk to him, and use all their authority and power to influence him to abstain from liquor, and does not leave the man until he gets him to take a pledge, that he will not take any more; nor bring hime any liquor, that may is saved; and his children are saved, because they are brought up to be total abstainers. Then we have seen a minister who was forced to give evidence in a certain case, when he made the following statement. That he gave his evidence under protest; because his motto is to relieve distress. And if a man is in trouble to get him out of that trouble, and if he needs help to help him, and advise him, as to the best way to get him out of the trouble; and therefore he was not willing to give evidence, because through his evidence some one might get into trouble; and when forced to give evidence, he would tell the truth. Such a standing and ways as those ministers are taking, in my opinion, cannot get too much praise, and their congregations should be proud of them; because that is what is expected from men of their standing, and therefore everyone cannot help but honor them. And those ministers, as far as I can find out, are opposed to local option. There are also other ministers, and what ways do they adopt to help drunkenness, when they see it? In my opinion it is very sad to say anything wrong about a man who preaches the Holy Gospel; but here we are forced by facts. In their over-zealousness to bring local option here, they are forgetting that they are supposed to save men who are doing wrong, and try and induce them to be good. But they have tried their utmost to bring an innocent man into trouble, that might end in a serious term of imprisonment. They were walking about 11.30 at night a few weeks ago, and that, having a bottle in his hand. Now if that man should actually have been drunk, what was their duty as ministers? Was it not to go and tell him to drop the bottle, and bring him home, and try to use their influence to keep him from breaking the law, because he was to be punished if caught by an officer of the law in an intoxicated state. But those over-zealous men who were looking for an advertisement for their cause, as soon as they saw the man, who was on the blacklist with the bottle in his hand, they did not stop to make sure what was in the bottle, but ran to the license inspector, and stated that they had seen a blacklisted man intoxicated on the street, having a bottle in his hand, and giving liquor to a crowd of boys. But when the license inspector asked them if they were sure it was liquor, and if they were prepared to swear as to what was in the bottle, they went out with contempt. The idea of him not to believe their word, and went straight for a constable, because they were bound to get the man, and have him brought before a magistrate. They even wanted the license inspector to go at twelve o'clock and get the man. What was the result? When the man was brought up before the magistrate, when he told and proved that he had a bottle of lemon sour, purchased from one of the Italian stores, the magistrate would not take the evidence of those ministers. Because if they swore that they saw him drinking whiskey out of the bottle, then they would have to be charged with perjury. Therefore he did not take their evidence, but honorably acquitted the man, on his own evidence.

Now, we have had lately so many manufactured perjury cases, and who were to blame for them? Was it the policeman? Everyone would almost think so, according to the evidence. But I say the policemen were only tools in the hands of some of those moral reformers. Because in one case they stated that on information from some party, that if they went to a certain place, they could see a man in a back room, drunk. Now, whose business would it be, if the man was lying in his own back room drunk? They do not care for the thousands of dollars it cost the community to pay for trying those cases. They did not care for the honor, nor even the existence of those fellowmen. These moral reformers wanted some proof for their case; but they miserably failed in that. Then those men can claim to be trying to save us from misery and crime.

Why, you would be astonished to hear that the Ministerial Association have communicated by memorial with the Judge. And that ministers of some of the churches have resigned from the Ministerial Association when they heard of that last inhuman and unworthy deed. Some prominent members of their churches have resigned on account of the way their ministers have been acting. And now, citizens of Peterborough, I am leaving to you to judge what way to follow. The ways of those churches, which are based on truthfulness and purity, and who act accordingly, as honorable men would. Would you take advice from your own Mayor, who has been with you for fifty years, and knows the best Peterborough, and who is honored by every citizen, and who is held in the highest esteem, even by the moral workers? What does he think of local option? He says local option will not be good, and is not necessary for Peterborough.

Or will you follow those men who do not care for the honor, nor for the very existence of their fellow-men, who can only blindfold the people that their cause is right, and by bringing irresponsible speakers here, who do not know Peterborough, nor do not care about Peterborough, so long as they get paid? They will tell you all kinds of stories, such as Peterborough never knew, and I hope will never know, and by advocating straight arguments they want to induce you. Citizens of Peterborough, think and consider both ways, and judge accordingly.

Yours truly,

B. LASTAR.

Do You Need Shaking?

Like a Stove Choked with Ashes.

You have probably noticed how much more briskly the fire burns when freshly built or shaken. You doubtless remember too, how much more briskly you used to get around when you were in your 'teens or twenties.

The cases are parallel. You are like the fire that is choked with ashes.

The cells which compose the body are constantly dying and being renewed. Then there is the indigestible part of the food to be removed. This cleansing of the body is the duty of the bowels, kidneys and skin. When any of these organs fail to do their work properly, the system becomes clogged and the fire of life burns low.

There is an increasing tendency towards constipation, kidney trouble and poisoned blood as one grows older. In most cases, the need is felt of something to regulate these vital organs.

"Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine does this perfectly. It acts directly on the liver, increasing the flow of bile and causes the bowels to move regularly and naturally. "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest of kidney regulators, overcoming the tendency to congestion of the kidneys and strengthening these organs. "Fruit-a-tives also stimulates the skin to renewed action.

By their combined action on bowels, kidneys and skin, "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the system free of all poisons and renews the vigor of youth.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c—or may be obtained from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HORSES SPRINT

Mr. Wm. Creswell's Team, Figured in Runaway—Driver was Injured about the Face and the Body

Something in the air must be affecting the horses these days, as they show a distinct liking to running away. Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. Wm. Creswell, who resides at 527 Gilmour street, was driving south on Water street, and just below Argyle street his team became frightened at an approaching street car. He attempted to turn them east on Inverlea street, but the animals became uncontrolable. In their mad plunging the cutter was dashed against a pole and the horses broke away and galloped down Water street. When the cutter came in contact with the pole the driver received injuries about the face and body, but they are not serious. He received medical attendance by Dr. Haliday.

The runaway team, as they tore down [illegible], frightened a horse attached to a delivery sleigh, but it was caught near the National hotel. The other two animals were caught on Parnell street.

Another team attached to a cutter ran away at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets yesterday afternoon, as a result of the centre pole breaking. The occupants were not injured, but the cutter was badly damaged. The horses were caught on Gilmour street.

This morning, just before noon, a horse and cutter caused some lively hustling on Charlotte and George streets, as it ran away. No damage was caused.

NO HURRYING IN QUALIFYING

At 2.30 O Clock Only Four Were in the Aldermanic Contest—New Men for Board of Education.

The aldermanic and Board of Education nominees are not in a hurry qualifying. At 2.30 o'clock to-day only four had qualified for the Aldermanic Board. They are Ald. J. J. Turner, Jr., Ald. J. J. Duffus, Ald. G. H. Duncan and Bernard Lastar. No one has qualified yet for the one-year term made vacant by the resignation of W. G. Morrow.

Five have qualified for the Board of Education. They are T. H. Adams, W. H. Hill, Col. J. W. Miller, D. W. Dumble and John Crane. The new men are T. H. Adams and Col. Miller. It is understood that Dr. Burnham will not be a candidate this year. W. S. Robinson will be a candidate, it is said, although he has not qualified yet. Five are to be elected.

Those who are going to stay in the field must qualify before nine o'clock to-night.

WON THREE PRIZES IN A WINDOW COMPETITION

Mr. S. N. Ridley, of the Warne Drug Company, has won the first, second and third prizes in a window dressing competition inaugurated by the Nyal Remedy Company, of Windsor, and has been awarded $25 for his work. Mr. Ridley has received the following letter from the company:

Windsor, Dec. 22, 1909.

Mr. Silas N. Ridley,
Managing Director of the Warne Drg Co., Ltd.,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—In connection with the photo competition inaugurated and carried out by us.

The different windows sent in were submitted independently to the judges, not one of whom had any interest on way or the other in the award. There was some little difference of opinion as to just which window would carry the first prize, but all were unanimous in awarding you first, second and third place for the different windows.

You seem to have caught the spirit of creating a window that not only attracts the passerby, but excites interest and creates sales. If anyone can show us that there is anything more to window dressing than just this, we have got to be convinced.

We had pretty windows sent in by the score, but pretty windows will not often sell the goods. Like the man with the silk hat and the sweater, they may attract attention, but their actual cash value is somewhat doubtful.

It gives us a great deal of satisfaction, under the circumstances, to enclose you herewith at this appropriate season, remittance for $25, as promised in our offer published in connection with the competition.

We wish you a Merry Christmas, and we know that you will have the consciousness of good work well done through the year.

Yours very truly,
THE NYAL REMEDY CO.,
Windsor, Ont.

P. S. INSPECTOR M'DIARMID HAS BEEN COMPELLED TO RESIGN

Special to The Toronto Star.

Alexandria, Ont., Dec. 27.—School Inspector McDiarmid, of Glengarry, whose coming retirement is announced, has not as yet resigned, but his resignation has been requested. He has not yet attained the age limit, if there is any, and is physically quite active. A lively row is expected over the demand from Ontario, as it is believed it resulted from pressure from the outside. A new appointment would also cause a clash between the opposing races in this part of the Province.

Dr. McDiarmid has been inspector of the county now for a great many years, and has rendered valuable services to the cause of education.

He has had to face the troubles of the bi-lingual schools, and of the difficulties which have arisen in school districts which were at one time largely Protestant and where now the population is about evenly divided or where there is a Roman Catholic majority.

It is understood that many of the French-Canadian population of the county desire to have one of their own people appointed to the position of inspector, whilst the English-speaking Public school supporters are equally anxious that one of their race may be appointed.

Many friends of Dr. McDiarmid among English and French-Canadians, are strongly opposed to the retirement, believing that with the mental and physical ability he possesses he is perfectly able to continue to discharge the duties, and it is understood they will lay a petition for his retention before the proper authorities.

Later.—Dr. McDiarmid has resigned.

WEDDING BELLS

BURKE—VALLANCE

At the George St. Parsonage this afternoon at .130 o'clock the marriage took place of Adelia Vallance and Frederick John Burke, of Belleville. They were unattended and the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson.

McGIBBON—BROWN

The marriage of Elsie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Durham street, to Mr. Charles McGibbon, of Peterborough, formerly of this town, was quietly solemnized at the residence of Rev. J. C. McFarlane, pastor of the Baptist church. The bride, who was attended by her cousin, Miss Florence McCrimmon, wore a rich gown of pale blue silk with ecru trimmings. Her travelling suit was pearl grey with hat to match. The groom was attended by Mr. Jack Wright, cousin of the bride. The young couple will reside in Peterborough and their host of friends join with the Guide in wishing them much happ[illegible]—Port Hope Guide.

ABBOTT—BILLI[illegible]

A very interesting event [illegible] last evening at the residence [illegible] George Billings, 20 Lisburn [illegible]et, (Auburn), when his eldest daughter, Violet Travers, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. James Abbott, of Collinsville, Mass. The parlour was prettily decorated with evergreens and Christmas bells, and the bridal party entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Hazel Billings, sister of the bride. Rev. J. G. Potter performed the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father. Miss Lily Porter, of Toronto, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. C. S. Billings, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of cream net over champagne silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. Her going-away costume was an amethyst worsted suit, with hat to match. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in a pale silk mull with black trimmings, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Evelyn Curtis, cousin of the bride, who acted as flower girl, wore a beautiful white silk dress, and carried a basket of roses and carnations.

After the wedding ceremony about forty guests sat down to a dainty repast, after which speeches were made by Rev. J. G. Potter and Mr. G. G. Pratley, expressive of good wishes for the future happiness of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott were the recipient of many beautiful presents and left on the midnight C.P.R. train for the new home in Collinsville, Mass., accompanied by the best wishes of their many friends.

A Plea in Rhyme.

A New York prisoner, accused of drunkenness, who pleaded his case in rhyme before a magistrate, got a sentence of six months on "the island" for, as the judge remarked, his "jag" was bad enough, but his poetry was worse. Over in London a few days ago a "plain drunk" put forth this:

"I've been drinking wine that is drawn from the wood;
No bottle rubbish, but sparkling and good;
But it got in my head, so my friends all explain
That the wine has gone back to the wood once again."

The effusion and the education cost him only ten shillings.

Earl and Countess Grey kept an old-fashioned English Christmas at Rideau Hall.

NEEDS GOOD BREAKFAST.

Healthy Persons Require a Substantial First Meal.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, iconoclast in ordinary to the medical profession, as usual, upsets our previous ideas of bodily health in an article in the Woman's Home Companion. Dr. Hutchinson has a faculty for restoring to us our self respect and assuring us that, left alone, we are not such idiots after all. In this particular article, for instance, he points out that the idea of eating little in the summer time is a fallacy. Of breakfast, for instance, he says:

"It is customary to make the first meal of the day lately the lightest and distinctly the plainest and simplest of the three. If there be any deficiency of the appetite, breakfast is the meal at which this is most likely to show itself. But this lack of appetite is in nine cases out of ten clearly traceable to sleeping in an unventilated room or to late hours in foul air the night before or to insufficient exercise the preceding day and is no indication that the body really requires less food at this time. Perfectly healthy men who sleep with their windows open and go to bed at a reasonable hour will tell you that they enjoy their breakfast as well as any other meal of the day, and many even call it their best meal.

"Another popular delusion in regard to the lightness and unimportance of the breakfast is that widespread subterfuge, the 'continental breakfast,' consisting of a cup of coffee and some fruit or a single roll. This is a very pretty breakfast as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far, and the sole basis of its adoption on the continent is that it is only intended as a temporary tide-over until the real breakfast of meat, eggs, fish, with beer or wine, which is taken at about 10 or 11 o'clock, like a very early luncheon. If you haven't got a good appetite for breakfast, make it your business to go and get one, instead of allowing yourself to be blinded by this morbid state of affairs and deciding that all you really need is a cup of coffee and a roll or an orange or a puff of breakfast bran."

To a Speck of Dust.

Avaunt there! Get thee gone! Knowest not there is not room for thee in this my house?

Begone, I say, and come not here again, for thou'rt not wanted here nor any place.

Who mad'st thee, evil looking as thou art, and what's thy purpose to exist at all?

Is it to harry woman's soul and bring her body to the dust? What, art thou e'en the same as me? Canst be? And so the good book says! Yet feel I no affinity. I'll e'en remove thee gently, place thee here, and, means of fire, I'll thee resolve into things elemental and cast thee to the four wild winds of heaven, where thou'lt be at least invisible to me.

Dies From Starvation In N. Y.

New York, Dec. 28.—A white-bearded man of 80 winters crept appealingly into a lunch-room on Seven avenue yesterday and asked for bread. A plate of hot soup was brought, but the stranger had barely picked up the spoon when he fell backward to the floor, dead from starvation.

TOUCHED HEART OF MARSHAL

New York Server of Eviction Papers Moved by Tragedy of Which He Was Chief.

Thirty little children sat on cheap wooden benches in the second-story room at 11 Suffolk street the other day. Every one of them was ragged. Most looked as though they had not had enough to eat. But they were bright-eyed and alert and not for a moment did their attention stray from the white-bearded old rabbi who was teaching them Jewish prayers, although the smeary little pictures on the walls and the myriad of noises of the roaring East side street must have been a constant temptation. And then the door opened and City Marshal Lazarus stepped in, dispossess warrant in hand, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star. The struggling little congregation of the synagogue hadn't been able to pay the rent. Their few pennies were needed to keep their own roof trees and give their little ones a meager fare. The old teacher stood silent, with bowed head, as the poor furnishings were ripped from the place and stacked in the street below. Tears trickled down his beard. The children carried the tidings through the squalid neighborhood and in a moment the street was choked with shrieking, gesticulating, weeping men and women. They begged the marshal's men for mercy. As each bit of the poor furnishings appeared they redoubled their outcries. The rabbi, no longer erect and venerable, but a poor, old, grief-stricken man, his eyes red with tears, his hands shaking, moved among them, trying to repress their emotion. Marshal Lazarus was moved by the agony of this, perhaps the most poverty-stricken congregation in all New York. He went to the old rabbi and handed him a little money. "That's to keep you going for a few days," he said kindly.

The old man accepted it. "But it is for my people," he said proudly. "Myself, I can starve. But who will watch my little children here?"

WRONG SYSTEM IN PORTUGAL

Land Cut Up Into Portions on Which Comfortable Living Cannot Be Made.

The Portuguese are an extremely conservative people. Every man follows rigidly the methods employed by his father and forefathers. In very many parts of the country the old wooden plows are still used.

When a man dies instead of one of the heirs taking the whole property and paying the remaining heirs for their parts the whole property is divided into as many parts as there are heirs. More than this, each separate part of the property is thus divided.

Thus if a property consisted of ten acres of pasture land, 80 of vineyard and ten of grain land, and there were ten heirs, each heir would receive one acre each of grain and pasture land and eight acres of vineyard. This process has been going on for a very long time, so that now in the most fertile part of Portugal the land is divided into incredibly small portions.

The immediate result of this, according to the United States consular reports, is that the product of the land is barely sufficient at best to sustain its owners. South of the river Tagus, on the other hand, there are enormous tracts of excellent land lying unused, but it has been found impossible to induce the farmers of the north to move into this region and take up large holdings.

For Nose Bleed.

For obstinate and persistent nose bleeding either put an ice pack or a cloth wrung out of ice water at the back of the neck just at the base of the brain, or drop cold water from a sponge held well above the head so that it will strike the crown of the head with considerable force.

The head should be kept well elevated; even in cases of extreme weakness do not allow the patient to lie down, and small wads of absorbent cotton wet with a weak solution of carbolic acid should be used to plug the nostrils.

If the arms are held above the head five or ten minutes the bleeding, if not severe, will usually stop.

His Business Ability.

In the Adirondacks lives a man too lazy to work, but evidently of great business ability. One winter, when he was sitting around smoking, his family came so near starving that some of his neighbors, who could ill afford to help him, took up a collection and bought for the suffering family a barrel of flour, a barrel of pork and a load of wood. They were not considerate enough to cut the wood, but the business man knew how to manage. He hired some of his neighbors, who had not contributed to his donation, to cut the wood, and paid them with half the pork and half the flour.—Lippincott's.

Shingles from a Tree 1,100 Years Old.

A lumber company at Buckley, Wash., recently sent out a number of souvenir shingles that were cut from a tree 1,100 years old.

The tree from which the shingles were cut had 350 rings, which fact denotes that it was 350 years old when it fell. The stump of a tree which grew over it has 750 rings, and as this could not have started to grow [illegible] after the first fell, it is practically certain that the original [illegible] thriving in A. D. [illegible], which [illegible] years before the discovery of America [illegible]

Hamilton's Board of Education had an income in 1909 of $248,406.55 and expended $244,581.25.

THE UNITED STATES IN 2009.

Student's Idea of the Changes That Time and Thought Are to Bring About.

What will be the destiny of the United States?

The answer to this can be supplied immediately by a comparison with the Roman empire. The establishment of Constantinople as the capital of the east, and the eastern empire's separation from Rome, are paralleled in the story of the American revolution. We may look, then, for a progressive decline in the strength of England, in inverse ratio to our own increasing power; Australia, already American in her political organization, will gravitate, with Canada, into the union; finally the English-speaking peoples will be reunited under American auspices. That is as far as we can look forward legitimately.

America will be absorbed in the solution of her social problems. Democracy, which has never really existed, will be coming into its own; and with its advent will disappear the comedy of representative government which, tried out through several centuries in the classical world, and found wanting, is destined to receive its coup de grace upon American soil.

The battle of socialism will be upon us, to be solved, probably, after some considerable bloodshed, by a sudden illumination of common sense. The loose, haphazard productive methods of to-day, and our costly and faulty manner of distribution, will have to be organized to prevent their complete breaking down.

The solution of this tremendous problem, which will be precipitated by the sudden failure of foreign markets when manufacturing and prohibitory tariffs are universal in all countries, will occupy our attention for at least a century to come.

By the year 2009, therefore, no radical changes will have occurred upon the map of the new world.—Henry Paradyne, in Harper's Weekly.

TRUE TO HIS HIGH CALLING.

Act of Gifted Physician Reads Well in These Days of Struggle for Filthy Lucre.

Many anecdotes are told of the kindness, as well as skill, of the late Dr. W. T. Bull, whose loss is not only regretted by New York's "400," who knew his ministrations there and at Newport, but by the poor as well. An acquaintance tells this true story as typical of the man: "Shortly before he was stricken with his fatal illness a young East Side physician called at his office and said that he was attending a poor girl over in his neighborhood who would surely die unless operated on. The family was too poor to pay and the doctor did not feel that he was equal to the operation. Would Dr. Bull give him a little advice as to how to proceed?

"'Well, I guess we had better go and take a look at the patient,' said Dr. Bull, putting on his coat.

"They found the patient in an East Side tenement, and in less time than it takes to tell it Dr. Bull had the room cleared and began the operation. When he was leaving the father of the girl met him in the hall and forced a quarter into his hand. Dr. Bull thanked him and went off feeling as happy—happier than if he had received a $1,000 fee. The girl got well."

English Dislike of Humor.

It is sometimes a matter for wonder that humorists are allowed to live in this country. Deep down in our English character is a conscious dislike of laughter. Laughter is an expression of emotion, and we have a horror of it. It may be that this secret objection to the comic muse is a surviving relic of the sturdy old Puritanism which has done so much for the race in many directions and handicapped it in others. When Disraeli began to be prominent in the house of commons it used to be said of him that, though he was a very amusing fellow and made the house laugh, he could never hope to take rank as a statesman. Lord Randolph Churchill went through exactly the same experience in his early days. Few people would admit that a man who expressed himself humorously had any claim to be taken seriously.—Black and White.

The Second Fiddle.

The second fiddle is, on the whole, the most widely played of all instruments—fortunately, since it is so especially the instrument of harmony.

A great many men have an aptitude for the second fiddle, and where they take it up at once, without too much vain experimenting with more pretentious parts, they find much satisfaction in it. There is plenty of poor work done with the second fiddle, though. Men who are forced to it by marrying or other mischance are very likely to play badly.

A master of the second fiddle is not the least among masters, and he has, besides, the promise of inheriting the earth.—Puck.

Inexperienced Servants.

Some families grudge every penny paid out in wages. They will not give the sums justly demanded by good servants, so content themselves with raw recruits or inferior maids, who cost them pounds and pounds in the year for breakages, general destructiveness, and waste of food through bad cooking, and ignorance of how to utilise scraps, not to mention the endless wear and tear to brain and nerve through the worry and discomfort they cause.

The funeral of Dr. P. S. Cote, the Montreal philanthropist, was without religious ceremony.

THE LEGISLATION THAT CITY OF PETERBOROUGH MAKES APPLICATION FOR

The last issue of the Ontario Gazette contains the following application to parliament from the City of Peterborough;—

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made by the Corporation of the City of Peterborough to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario at its next session, for an Act for the following purposes;—

1. To confirm and declare legal and valid the following by-laws of the said Corporation, namely;—

By-law number 1,482, intituled "A "A by-law to amend the by-law to aid the Colonial Weaving Company, Limited, which said by-law so amended was confirmed by chapter 104 of the Statutes of the Province of Ontario passed in the year 1908; and by-law number 1,491, intituled, "A by-law to fix the assessment of The William Hamilton Company, Limited," by which the assessment of the said Company is fixed at the sum of $10,000 for ten years.

2. To authorize the Council of the Corporation to pass a by-law, intituled, "A By-law, to aid Purity Ware, Limited," which by-law provides for a loan of $50,000, the payment to the cost of land for the said Company, exemption from taxes for ten years, except school taxes and local improvement rates and other matters in said by-law set out, which by-law was submitted to and received the assent of the majority of the freeholders voting thereon, but not of a sufficient number to carry the same and to declare the said by-law when so passed legal and valid.

3. To amend section one of chapter 104 of the Statutes of the Province of Ontario passed in the year 1908, intituled, "An Act respecting the City of Peterborough," for the purpose of making provisions as to the election of Aldermen, filling vacancies in the Council and other matters.

E. H. D. HALL,
Solicitor for Applicants.

Dated at Peterborough, this 18th day of December, A.D., 1909.

BEING A PROTESTANT IS A BAR TO A POSITION ON THE BENCH

Montreal, Dec. 27.—Mr. M. J. Walsh, ex-M.P. for St. Ann's Division of Montreal, has just returned from Ottawa, where he presented a memorial signed by several thousand Irish Catholics, of Montreal, protesting against the filling of the vacancy on the Superior Court bench caused by the death of Judge Curran by an English-speaking Protestant.

It has been rumored that the appointment would be given to Hon. W. A. Weir, the present Provincial Treasurer, Mr. Weir's supporters point out the fact that Judge Curran was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of an English-speaking Protestant, in the person of Sir Francis Johnston.

MARRIED.

MASONIC INSTALLATION

Joint Meeting of Corinthian and Peterborough Lodges A. F. & A. M. on the Festival of St. John the Evangelist

A large number of the fraternity assembled at the Masonic Hall last evening on the occasion of the festival of St. John the Evangelist, when the officers of the craft lodges were installed. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rt. Wor. Bro. H R. H. Kenner, assisted by several of the past masters.

The following are the officers for the ensuing term:—

At the conclusion of the installation ceremony the brethren repaired to the banquet hall, where Bro. T. Hooper had prepared a bounteous repast.

A most enjoyable hour was spent with the following toast list;—

"The King and the Craft," proposed by the chairman, Rt Wor Bro H. R. H. Kenner, and honored by the National Anthem.

"The Grand Master and the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario," was proposed by the chairman and responded to by Rt Wor Bro D Walker.

The toast "Canada," proposed by Wor Bro Mathews, was received by the company singing "The Maple Leaf Forever." This was responded to in a very able manner by Bro. F. D. Kerr.

"The Newly Installed Officers" was proposed by Bro. T. C. Elliott and responded to by Wor Bro R. P. Watt and Wor. Bro. Bro. A P McLean on behalf of their respective lodges.

"The Visiting Brethren," proposed by Bro W. G. R. Higgins, was responded to by Bro. Ben Simpson, of Hamilton, Bro P. C. Might of Toronto, Bro G. C. Wainwright and Wor. Bro. Logan.

"The Absent Brethren," was proposed by Bro. Rev. Bonner, and was honored by the company singing "Auld Lang Syne."

"The Retiring Officers" was proposed by Bro. R. M. Waddell and found responses in Wor. Bros. W G Morrow and W. Hill.

"The Installing Master" was proposed by Bro. S. T. Medd,

Bros. E. A. Honck, of Belleville, and Bro. W. McIlroy rendered several choice selections during the evening.

The Junior Warden's toast brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

PERSONAL

Mr. J. Harry Ford, of Belleville, is in the city to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weir and children, of Toronto, are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox, Rogers street, East City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunnitt, of Toronto, who are visiting Mrs. Gaskins, Auburn, are spending their holidays here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smart, Toronto, who have been spending Christmas with their daughters, Mrs. O. S. Matchett, and Mrs. G. A. Goheen, have returned home.

Mr. John M. Watt, Midland, has returned to that town after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, 263 Rubidge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mantell, of Tilsonburg, and Miss Gertrude Mantell, of New York, were the guests over the Christmas holidays, of their daughter, and sister, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, of 540 Downie street.

Mr. Harry Soanes, of Peterborough, was at his home on Victoria avenue over Christmas.—Miss Florence Corcoran, of Peterborough, was in town visiting friends on Christmas.—Mr. G. J. Johnston, linotype operator with the Peterborough Examiner, spent the holiday in Lindsay.—Mr. Wm. J. Young, of Peterborough, spent Saturday and Sunday in Lindsay.—Mr. Robert Begley, of Peterborough, visited his brother, Mr. John Begley, Russell street, for the holiday.—Lindsay Post.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox, Rogers street, Ashburnham, was the scene of a most happy family re-union on Christmas Day. There were twenty-nine present. In the evening they drove to the home of Mr. Robert Cox, where they had a Christmas tree which was laden with presents for all, and the children were more than surprised when Santa Claus appeared and read the programme for the evening, and afterwards presented the gifts off the tree. Mrs. Cox served refreshments, and the remainder of the evening was spent in games and music.

Fire did $300 damage to the Schultz lantern factory at Hamilton.

WEDDING BELLS

TEDFORD---KIDD

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 22nd, a pretty wedding took place at "Sunny Brae," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kidd, on the 4th concession of Dummer, when their eldest daughter, Sophia Beatrice, was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Tedford, also of Dummer, in the presence of about eighty relatives and guests. At 6 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Barbara R. Kidd, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. W. Curry of Warsaw, under an arch of evergreens, prettily decorated with holly. The bride, who looked very pretty dressed in cream silk trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, was attended by her cousin, Miss Mary B. Kidd, who wore cream lustre trimmed with satin. The groom was supported by Mr. Jas. Hawthorne. After the ceremony the party were invited to the diningroom, which was tastefully and appropriately decorated, where a bountiful wedding supper was provided. After this the evening was pleasantly sepnt with music and dancing. Some excellent gramophone selections were contributed by the kindness of Mr. Jas. White of Westwood. The presents were numerous and costly, bearing ample testimony of the popularity of the bride. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful gold chain and locket.

The guests from a distance were Mrs. Jno Garno, of Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Jno. Griffith, of Wroxeter, Ont., and Mr. Lawrence A. Kidd, of Jersy City, Ohio. Guests were also present from Trent Bridge, Westwood, Young's Point and Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Tedford will reside about two miles south of Warsaw. All unite in wishing them a happy and prosperous future.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

Number of Prizes to be Competed for at Winter Poultry Show in Lang & Maher's Window.

In the north window of Lang & Maher's store are exhibited a number of attractive prizes which will be offered as prizes at the winter show of the Peterborough Poultry Association to be held in the Market Hall, on January 4, 5 and 6. Those exhibited are only a few of the many which have been secured by the officers for competition at the show. Further particulars in regard to these prizes will be given in to-morrow's issue of the Review.

Will Not be Candidate

Mr. Archie Moore announces that he will be unable to run for alderman, and expresses his sincere thanks to the gentlemen who nominated him.

THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the urgent solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers, I am now asking your support for my election to the Mayoralty of the City of Peterborough for the year 1910; and in doing so I am relying upon my record as a ratepayer, as a life-long citizen, as one materially interested in the manufacturing and industrial development of the city, and as one who, as an Alderman, served you for the past three years, first as Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee and secondly as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

It is usual for one aspiring to the Chief Magistracy to attempt to outline some definite policy to be pursued during the term of office. In compliance with that custom I can only say that it will be my one aim to serve the City to the utmost of my ability, to do what I can to promote its commercial, industrial and moral development, to give fair and just consideration to all questions which may come before the Council having regard to neither class nor party, as I am pledged to none.

Our City has made rapid progress in recent years, and the continuation of this progress will depend largely upon the growth and expansion of the City's present industries, and upon the establishment of new ones to which every encouragement and legitimate inducement should be given — the Council should give immediate attention to securing an adequate supply of cheap power; every effort conducing to these ends has my fullest sympathy and support.

The time has also arrived when the Council must take into consideration the question of permanent roadways in the business section, and in general street construction, and of the extension and improvement of the sewer system in the southern parts of the City. To both of these matters, I shall, if elected, give my earliest attention.

I am in favor of carrying out a policy of the strictest economy consistent with proper service in every department of the Municipal business.

As the time between now and Election Day is short it will be impossible for me to personally call upon every ratepayer; I therefore take this means and opportunity of soliciting for myself the honour of your vote and influence.

Wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year,

I am,
Yours sincerely,
W. G. MORROW.

TURKISH CABINET

No Longer on the Job—Grand Vizer Resigns and the Others Follow

Constantinople, Dec. 28.—The whole Turkish Cabinet resigned last evening, following the resignation of Hilmi Pasha, the grand vizier, who withdrew from the Ministry earlier in the day.

It is reported that serious conflicts have occurred at Bagdad, but this is not confirmed officially.

It is believed that the committee of union and progress has decided upon a change in the Ministry, because they have arrived at the conclusion that the accusations against the former grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, which caused his resignation, were unjust. It is understood that the committee favors the appointment of Tewfik Pasha, the present ambassador at London, as grand vizier, but it is not unlikely that Kiamil Pasha will return to power.

Hilmi Pasha was appointed grand vizier by the Sultan, on the resignation of Kiamil Pasha on Feb. 14, 1909, and the new Cabinet was constituted May 5. Soon after its formation the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate with scarcely a dissenting voice voted confidence in the Ministry, after the Government's policy was explained. This policy included the enforcing of economies to meet the financial deficit and the eradication of the causes which led to the Adana outbreak.

The committee of union and press, which was the moving spirit in the overthrow of Sultan Abdul Hamid, has since the chance in administration occurred, retained a firm grip on the Governmental machinery, and there have been rumors since the early part of September that the Cabinet would resign or be forced out of office. More recently the committee demanded the resignation of the Minister of Public Works, and this demand was complied with. There has been much active opposition also in the Chamber to the grand vizier, whose program did not satisfy the wishes of the Young Turks.

WENT BAREFOOT IN THE SNOW

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—While neighbors watched from their windows in astonishment, four-year-old Menelkas Duncan, son of Raymond Duncan, exponent of the art of going bare-legged in all kinds of weather, appeared in the backyard of his home at 13th and Spruce streets, yesterday morning, and with nothing over his ankles helped his father make a snow man.

The youngster did not seem to mind it a bit, and though his toes looked rather blue, he danced merrily about and played in the yard for half an hour.

Raymond Duncan, despite the drifts of snow and biting wind, appeared at tea yesterday at the home of Mrs. Willard Parker, on South 12th street, clad in his accustomed Grecian garb.

SANITARIUMS FOR THE POLICE

Brussels, Dec. 29.—The Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday opposed the civil list of the King, which amounts to 3,300,000 francs ($660,000) and reaffirmed their allegiance to a republic.

M. Royer declared that the royal chateaus should be turned into sanitariums. The appropriations, however, were adopted by a vote of 100 to 20.

The King's civil list is the same as that granted to Leopold, the new sovereign declining the Catholic party's suggestion of an increase.

STOLE SECRETS OF WIRELESS

London, Dec. 29.—The wholesale theft of wireless plans, models and sketches, which in the hands of an expert would reveal all the workings and innermost secrets of the wireless service of the British navy, is charged against Richard Knowlden, who was placed on trial at Portsmouth yesterday.

Knowlden is a draughtsman attached to the torpedo school ship Vernon. In his rooms were found no less than eighty plans of wireless improvements and certain books of the most confidential character which are issued to officers only.

The authorities attach the greatest importance to the arrest of the accused man, as they contend that if the documents abstracted from the Vernon had reach foreign Governments, all the labor of recent years given to the perfection of wireless system for the British navy would have been rendered practically fruitless.

United States Customs.

New York, Dec. 29.—An increase of $41,800,502 in United States customs in 1909 over 1908, is shown in Collector Loeb's annual report, issued yesterday. The total duties collected at the port of New York for 1909 amount to $217,590,897.

Cartoonist Davenport Ill.

San Francisco, Dec. 29.—Homer C. Davenport, cartoonist, is seriously ill at the home of friends in San Francisco. He is suffering from a complete nervous collapse, and his physicians regard his condition as critical.

THE CAUSE OF THE AURORA BOREALIS

Boston, Dec. 29.—Neon, a newly-discovered gas, is the cause of the aurora borealis, according to a statement made yesterday by Dr. W. L. Dudley of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., before the division of physical and inorganic chemists, at yesterday's session of the American Association for the advancement of science.

Dr. Dudley showed what he said was the only sample of neon in this country. It requires over 100 tons of air to get a pint of it. Dr. Dudley has discovered that friction of neon against mercury in a Crooks' tube produces a yellow light, and when held near a wireless coil Hertzian waves illuminate the gas.

Dr. Dudley's conclusions are that at the magnetic poles of the earth, neon, under high pressure because of the cold, is acted upon by magnetic currents, thus producing the aurora borealis, a phenomenon that has always puzzled scientists.

ABOUT FRANCE'S FOREIGN POLICY

Paris, Dec. 29.—Replying in the Chamber of Deputies t oM. De Pressenz, who urged a more active foreign policy, M. Pichon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, declared that the situation in Europe, thanks to the policy of ententes, was better than for years past. He said that France was forced to face stern realities, not ideas. Her object was while strengthening her defences, to preserve peace by all means in her power.

"Our policy in these affairs," said the Minister, "was consistent and logical. It aimed at substituting honorable for bloodthirsty action, and the result has gained the applause of Europe."

BELLEVILLE HAS SHORTAGE OF ALDERMEN

Belleville, Dec. 29.—Municipal affairs in this city are in a bad muddle.

With twenty-one aldermen to be elected, three from each ward, in one ward only one candidate was nominated. This makes it impossible for twenty-one aldermen to be elected. In other wards the full three aldermen have not qualified.

Legal opinion seems to be divided as to whether another nomination shall be held for the wards which have not their full complement of candidates, or whether another nomination for the whole city shall be held.

This is the first election since Belleville returned to the ward system.

NEW ROUTE FOR THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 29.—At a recent conference of western officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Winnipeg, plans were made, subject to the approval of the board of directors, providing for the construction of fifty miles of the Kootenay Central Railway next year. There is every reason to believe that the plans will be ratified.

It is proposed to start work early in March at or near Wardner Station on Crow's Nest Pass Railway. Tenders will likely be called for early in February.

The new line will open up one of the most fertile agricultural and fruit growing districts in the interior, including the famed Windermere Valley. Completed surveys show maximum gradients not to exceed four-tenths of one per cent. C.P.R. own in both valleys land grants aggregating two hundred thousand acres, most of which is available for agricultural or fruit growing purposes.

HAZZARD INQUEST HAS BEEN RESUMED

Whitby, Dec. 29.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Ida May Hazzard, from exposure in traveling from Claremont to Whitby, while sick with scarlet fever last November, was resumed last night, and evidence submitted as to the condition of deceased, when leaving uptown here for her home on Hickory street.

Miss Eptett and Miss Elliott noticed her plight in passing along the station platform after stepping from the train. She was hardly able to walk and took a very long time to go a short distance.

Further adjournment was made for three weeks because the Hazzards are still under quarantine from three cases which developed amongst brothers and sisters of the deceased.

SLEIGH BROKE THROUGH ICE

Prescott, Dec. 29.—A drowning occurred about two miles west of Prescott yesterday, in which two lads of eight and nine years of age lost their lives.

Frank and Harry Eastor, along with their sister, were sleigh riding down the hill on to the St. Lawrence River. When the sleigh had run a short distance on the ice, it broke through and the three children went under.

Their mother, who lives close by, managed to reach them and save the little girl. Unaided she also managed to get the two boys out, although in great danger of losing her own life, but the boys were beyond help.

WINSTON CHURCHILL HAS SENT OUT A VIOLENT MANIFESTO

In Statement Issued in Dundee, He Attacks the House of Lords and Says They Are Gambling With Freedom of the Nation.

London, Dec. 29.—A feature of the campaign yesterday was the issue of a fiery manifesto to the Dundee electors by Winston Churchill. He devotes the larger part to an attack on the House of Lords, and points out that a vote for the Tories will give the Lords the absolute veto, not only in legislation but in finance. What he asks, have the British people who belted the world with free institutions, done to deserve this restraint? On tariff reform as an alternative to the budget, he wants to know, "Is money to be got from taxes on board and meat, and manufacturers or from luxuries, monopolies and superfluities? Behind the tariff grow trusts. The whole vast abuse from millionaire organizers to the top, to the most pitiful investor at the bottom, sits down deliberately to coax, wheedle, bully and bribe new favors from the political caucus with whom it is allied. The forces of reaction are out for a double event. They are gambling with the right of freedom of the nation. They are running a terrible risk to win a tremendous prize. That prize is no less than the complete tying up of democracy both through it politics and its industry."

Churchill after eulogizing the German state insurance against unemployment and sickness, also said it is a system which the Liberals intend to carry even further.

The Unionists held more meetings than their opponents last night. The principle speaker was Lord Rothschild, who addressed a stormy gathering at the east end. He said in regard to the budget, that what he objected to was the system of bureaucracy it introduced. He added he would have nothing to do with tariff reform if it increased the cost of living. The Duke of Westminster at Chester reminded the audience of Lloyd-George's pro-Boer days, and asked, ought a man of his kind to aspire to the position as leader.

Sir Edward Grey, Salisbury, got sarcastic about Tory members to reform the House of Lords if it meant the House was to be changed into a self-elected body of superior persons, it was not reform at all, it was worth nothing.

Many peers made speeches and Liberals have made great preparations for the celebration of the centenary of Gladstone's birth to-day.

PRESIDENT MADRIZ OF NICARAGUA IS ASKING FOR SURRENDER NOW

Washington, D.C., Dec. 29.—Gen. Estrada, the revolutionary leader in Nicaragua, will not accept the extraordinary terms proposed by the new President Madriz as a basis of peace.

A telegram from Bluefields Monday night states that on the 22nd inst. Madriz proposed, in a telegram to Estrada, a suspension of hostilities, pending the arrival of a committee which he was sending to Estrada, to discuss an amicable and equitable settlement of the present strife. Madriz begged the revolutionary leader not to obstruct his efforts for peace.

Estrada in his reply expressed his willingness to meet the Madriz commissioners, but said that the revolutionary party would not recognize the action of the Legislative Assembly in placing power in the hands of Madriz, and stated that he saw in Madriz the usurper of the rights of the Nicaraguan people.

The terms upon which Madriz is willing to make peace, it is believed, are shown in a letter which purports to have been signed by him and addressed to a friend. In it he expressed his desire for peace without further bloodshed, and stated that whatever might happen compatible with his dignity and with the public interests, he was willing to accept. The revolutionists should recognize his Government, and that after such recognition both armies should be disbanded, all arms and ammunition being turned over to him.

He would recognize the debts and contracts of the revolutionists and within six months he would look for the holding of an election, guaranteeing free voting. He adds that he would turn over such power as he had impartially to the person elected President and that he would accept any other proper conditions.

A telegram from Managua to the State Department says that the Madriz party is making preparations to send troops to the eastward to meet Estrada's army.

Accept Dismissal.

New York, Dec. 29.—Pio Bolanos, the [illegible] New York, refuses to take seriously his discharge as consul by the new Madriz Government at Managua. The consul declares that he will not recognise the order from Managua cancelling his letters patent and relieving him of his duties as consul. Yesterday he gave out the text of the following cablegram he had sent to Managua:

Baca, Managua.—"I will not receive any orders from you, being that it is not from a constitutional Government, and I will not receive orders in the future unless it is from a Government which is recognised by the United States. (Signed) Consul Bolanos."

First Report Exaggerated.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Commander Shipley at Bluefields, in a despatch dated Monday, states that the reports hitherto sent out regarding the number of killed and wounded, prisoners taken, etc., at the recent battle at Rama, were much exaggerated, and that the ammunition captured amounted to only about 100,000 rounds, and the killed to not more than 500.

A HOTELKEEPER GOES TO JAIL

Brampton, Dec. 29.—A second conviction for violation of the License Act followed the sale of liquor to two whisky detectives by Robt. Young, a hotelkeeper of Mono Mills. Young appeared before the magistrate yesterday morning and in spit of strenuous denials by himself and two witnesses, was sentenced to four months in jail.

The hotel at Mono Mills has been without a license for some time. Two detectives visited the premises Nov. 30 and both men yesterday swore that they obtained whisky and beer from Young. The defence witnesses swore they got nothing stronger than local option beer and fruit wine, but their statements were contradictory.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Wolves are reported to be plentiful in Parry Sound district.

The cost of refitting the Rainbow at Portsmouth will be $70,000.

There will be 1,200 exhibitors at the Anglo-Japanese exposition to be held at Tokio.

The German freight steamer Capua with her crew of 23 has been given up for lost.

Count Leo Tolstoi, the Russian novelist, is suffering from bronchitis and inflammation of the liver.

A scarcity of milk and dairy farm produce has been caused at Philadelphia because of the Christmas storm.

P. M. Draper, secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress, has retired from the contest for board of control in Ottawa.

Some $20,000 and George A. Capron, cashier of the U. S. Express Co., at the Englewood branch office in Chicago, disappeared Christmas eve.

The bodies of two well-dressed hunters, who had been frozen to death, were discovered lying on the bank of Swayn's Channel, near Wildwood, Nova Scotia.

The Ohio River was gorged with ice at two points below Cincinnati, and unless warmer weather causes a break millions of dollars worth of floating property will be in danger.

Jos. Jubinville, a prominent farmer, was found frozen to death in a bush. The body was in a sitting posture. Jubinville had been missing since Friday night. He was to have been married next month.

George, Northern, Herb Cole and Charles McIvor were canoeing across Kootenay Lake Sunday afternoon, fetching medicine for a sick man, when the canoe upset. Northern and Cole started to swim and drowned. McIvor clung to the canoe and was saved.

SHOOTS TWO AND HIMSELF

Macon, Ga., Dec. 29.—Despondent and in an ugly mood following excessive drinking, Edward B. Alford shot his wife dead, seriously wounded his mother-in-law, Mrs. Martha Exum, and then shot himself. Officer R. L. Thomas would also have fallen a victime except that all five cartridges had been previously fired. As the officer walked up where the three bodies lay beside a fence, Alford, prostrate on the ground, groaning with pain, turned and snapped his revolver in the policeman's face.

C. P. R. PROFITS FOR NOVEMBER

Montreal, Dec. 29.—For November, 1909, the C.P.R. gross earnings were $9,075,964; working expenses, $5,383,626 and net profits, $3,692,338; in November, 1908, net profits were $2,221,079. For the five months ended Nov. 30, 1909, the figures are as follows: Gross earnings, $41,710,753; working expenses, $24,756,300; net profits, $16,954,453. For the five months ended Nov. 30, 1908, there was a net profit of $11,844,426.

The increase in net profits over the same period last year is, therefore, $1,471,259, and for the five months ending Nov. 30, $5,110,027.

Typhoid fever is epidemic in Montreal.

TONG WAR IN CHINATOWN

New York, Dec. 29.—Scores of detectives and uniformed patrolmen were sent into Chinatown yesterday to check, if possible, the outbreak of the Tong war, in which one Chinaman has been killed within a few hours and another mortally wounded.

Police Captain Galvin states that the new assassins, known in the Tong as "gun men," were sent here from Boston, following the recent legal execution there of five Hip Sing Tong members, who were convicted of killing several On Leong Tong men, and that their mission was revenge.

Low Jung, a 75-year-old Celestial, was riddled with bullets late Monday night. He was the treasurer of the Four Brothers' Society, a western Tong, which has taken a part in the war, making it three-sided. The Four Brothers are supposed to have brought a large sum of money to this city for the purpose of employing "gun men" to kill enemies. Low Jung was the custodian and reputed dispenser of the fund.

All Chinamen are being searched for weapons and every strange Celestial is being closely watched.

MAY LOSE AN IMMENSE GIFT

New York, Dec. 29.—Unless the American Bible Society can raise $127,000 between now and next Friday, there is a possibility that a $500,000 endowment gift offered by Mrs. Russell Sage, on condition that the society be able to set aside a similar amount, may be withdrawn. Officials of the society admit there is small likelihood of raising the necessary sum, but hope Mrs. Sage will duplicate that which has already been subscribed.

FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION.

T. H. ADAMS
DR. GEO. BURNHAM
JOHN CRANE
D. W. DUMBLE
W. H. HILL
R. G. KINGAN
J. W. MILLER
W. G. NELSON
W. S. ROBINSON
Five to be elected.

The above is the slate for the election in Peterbrough on Monday. Can you pick the winners?

There are nine candidates for the council (six to be elected) and nine for the Board of Education (five to be elected). The mayoralty candidates are two in number. The names given above are those of the men who had qualified up to nine o'clock last night. Mr. Joseph Batten has been elected by acclamation to fill the one year term made vacant by W. G. Morrow dropping out. Ald. McIntyre, Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Duncan, who were nominated for the one year term, dropped out to run for the two-year positions and Mr. Batten was elected by acclamation. He has had previous experience in the council and is looked upon as a good man for the aldermanic board.

MR. JOS. BATTEN
Elected Alderman for one year by acclamation.

B. Lastar is the only man aspiring for aldermanic honors for the first time. W. J. Johnston and Jas. G. Graham have been in the council before. T. H. Adams, R. J. Kingan and Col. Miller are seeking election to the Board of Education for the first time.

FARMER IS KILLED

Meets Death in Accident—Constable Shoots Himself at Innisfail

Red Deer, Man., Dec. 29.—A grim tragedy was enacted Christmas morning between Penhold and Innisfail, fifteen miles north of here.

A farmer named Johnson, from near Markerville, was driving toward Penhold, where it is stated he was to have been married, when he met a team driven at a furious pace by two men who, it is alleged, were under the influence of liquor. They ran into Johnston's rig, throwing him out and causing him to sustain a fracture of the spinal cord which proved fatal Monday night.

One of the men, H. A. Wilson, a mounted police constable, living at Innisfail, after seeing the result of the accident, committed suicide by shooting himself. The other man has not been located. Johnston was a widower with six small children. Wilson's wife is seriously ill in the hospital and the suicide of her husband is being kept from her. The other man's name was Coffin, and he was driving the team, which belonged to Wilson.

MADISON SQUARE GARDENS SOLD

New York, Dec. 29.—Madison Square Gardens, designed by the late Stanford White, and erected at a cost of $3,000,000, has been sold to a real estate syndicate, and will be replaced by a modern office building. According to a report in realty circles yesterday.

The property has been on the market for some time at $3,000,000. As an investment the garden has not proved profitable. Some months ago there was an agitation that the city should purchase the building.

Nelson, B.C., Dec. 29.—A Nelson Chinaman lost his way walking to the city and became embedded in a snowdrift.

Thomas Binnie saw the Chinaman's head sticking out of the drift, dug out the unconscious and apparently frozen man, took him home and managed to revive him.

Missing Three Days; Dead In Sleigh.

Montreal, Dec. 29.—Harry Dwyer, a cab driver for his father, disappeared three days ago and could not be accounted for. Yesterday he was found sitting in a sleigh in the stableyard, dead. It is supposed he was stricken with heart failure and no one thought to look in the sleigh he had been driving.

HE SOLD LIQUOR IN L. O. DISTRICT

Kingston, Dec. 29.—John Berryman and his wife, who keeps an hotel at Cunningham's Corners, in a local option township, were found guilty of selling liquor. The former was fined $50 and costs and the latter $10 and costs.

Voren Larsen, a Swede, appeared before Judge Price charged with threatening to burn down some buildings at Parham, belonging to a man named Lea.

Skull Fractured In Row.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 29.—Thomas Trainor, 40 years old, a traveling salesman, who arrived here yesterday from Duluth, is in a hospital dying from a fractured skull and other injuries, while James Kelly and his wife are in custody of the police. Trainor is Mrs. Kelly's brother-in-law.

Training the Naval Militia.

Washington, Dec. 29.—To procure a higher degree of proficiency among the naval militia of the various states a four-inch gun, equipped with Morris tubes, will be sent to each of the naval militia armories for training purposes. Twenty-three states are affected.

PETERBOROUGH IS IN THE VAN

In the Matter of Local Organization of Bell Telephone Exchange

A review of the fyles of the Telephone Gazette reveals that a large preponderance of the contributions from the staff on subjects of practical interest have come from Montreal and Peterborough, this being clearly due to the interest gained through the local organizations of the Company's employees. This makes all the more noticeable the entire absence of contributions from other large exchanges where they have no such organizations. To name the latter places might be considered invidious, but the fact is sufficiently obvious. The Telephone Gazette cannot but wonder how long the staff at these exchanges will remain quiescent and apparently obvious of the advantage of a general exchange of ideas, for which this publication provides a medium.—Telephone Gazette.

The Daily Review

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 29, 1909.

WHY IS IT?

Astute Americans are in Britain advising Britons in a quiet and disinterested (sure!) way that her strength lies in Free Trade. She would be mad, they say, to change her policy. U. S. sends her an immense supply of natural and manufactured articles. These would be largely shut out by tariff reform. So the U. S. counsels Gt. Britain to hold to the F. T. road. So with Germany. Germans are reported to have said they would rather have war than lose the value of their immense export trade with Gt. Britain.

Does the Globe learn anything from these facts? Not a thing. Perhaps it is too much to expect. But that reminds us of a pin-head joke of that reputable journal. In a tone of biting sarcasm it remarked that if the foreigner and not the (British) consumer was to pay the duty in the event of tariff reform then the problems of government would all be solved. It would be simply a matter of making outsiders pay the duties. Now who was it that contended for so long that it was the importer or consumer that paid the duty and that therefore tariffs were simply taxes upon home industry not protection of it. And yet here we have the old journalistic jollier calmly telling us in its indirect and devious way that it is not the foreigner who pays the duty but the consumer or British importer and that therefore a duty is no protection. But what is a preference, if the consumer pays the duty? The fact is that all these questions are matters of compromise not principle.

SIDE-TRACKED

London, December 27.—In a few days Sir Robert W. Perks, M.P., a well known Wesleyan layman, and one of the distinct political forces of the country, will abandon all his activities in England and sail for Canada to push the construction of the Georgian Bay Ship Canal to connect the upper Great Lakes by a more direct route with the Atlantic for ocean-going merchantmen.

Sir Robert says the canal will cost between twenty million pounds (100,000,000) and thirty million pounds ($150,000,000) and will occupy 20,000 workmen for ten years.

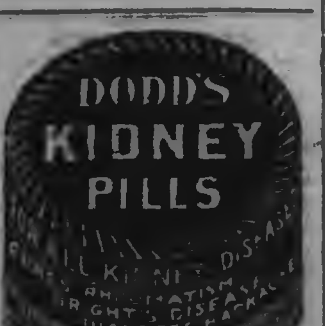
The bottom and walls of the canal will be of concrete, the depth twenty-four feet, and the width sufficient for the largest freighters.

"It is a vast undertaking," said Sir Robert to-day, "but nothing is too vast for the future of the grain-producing Northwest. It will be the shortest and cheapest route for the raw material on the staff of life between the enormous wheat fields of Western Canada to the ports on the St. Lawrence and the Atlantic. The British imagination cannot take in the enterprise. It is like the channel of a big river dug all the way from London to Glasgow. The Manchester Ship Canal was regarded as a gigantic piece of work, but it dwindles to toy-like dimensions compared to this huge cutting, which is designed to afford Canada a better way out to the Atlantic."

Ontario is being side-tracked. The union of the new west and Quebec is about to be completed by a system of bands that comprises the G.T.P. and Georgian Bay Canal, while Ontario, lying to the southward of this system of bands, is paying for its own isolation agriculturally, industrially, socially, financially, politically and nationally.

The French are the masters of Canada. Ontario no longer is a predominant factor. French policy has triumped. The union of the east and the near west has been accomplished over our heads.

The legislature of Saskatchewan passed recently a resolution opposing imperial union. What could have been the reason of such a measure and of such a passing? Agricultural wealth has decreased by 25 per cent in the last few years in Ontario. The Government returns show it. It is undeniable. Don't you feel it and know it? Ontario is not only being side-tracked, she is being ruined. With all our resources, our wealth, our start in life and a good administration, we are going behind. Is this the policy you have been looking for?



MAYOR RUSH ON L. O.

That Mayor Rush should be against Local Option is nothing to us. If it is his honest opinion he is entitled to it. It would be just the same if he were in its favor. But that is not the point. The point is, "why did he put forward as an excuse for his anti-local option remark in the Examiner's public opinion (so-called) column, the assumed recreancy of the authorities to their duty?" Have Messrs. Kendrey, Morrison and LeBrun not shown themselves to be straight, straightforward and sincere? If so, why does Mayor Rush say that Local Option will not be enforced? This is not the old regime. Make no mistake about that. The Whitney administration have said that if the people say, by a three-fifths majority, that is, unmistakeably, what they want, they will get it, and judging by their past performances, Local Option, if carried, will be carried out. Both sides are hostile to blind pigs, but Mayor Rush makes out that blind pigs are, nevertheless, all-powerful in Peterborough! In fact so powerful is this element that all known agencies of law are powerless in face of it, according to him. This position is untenable. We admit that a crooked administration could make Local Option impossible, just as it did with the Scott Act. But it is not so now, and it is this insinuation that we feel bound, in all fairness, to repudiate. What the people will, the present government and its officers are strong enough to carry out. If not, then the whole boasted theory of the supremacy of the people goes to the blind pig. The idea is too weak for our chief magistrate to entertain. We are surprised.

The news columns of The Mail and Empire has the life history of thirteen champion liars. But they are only near-champions in comparison with some of our local giants.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

PRESENTATION TO SCHOOL TEACHER

Beautiful Gold Chain Given to Miss K. O'Donoghue by Her Pupils

An enjoyable gathering took place at S.S. No. 1, Ennismore, on Wednesday afternoon, December 22nd, when Rev. M. F. Fitzpatrick and a number of the ratepayers assembled. The feature of the evening was the presentation to the teacher of a pretty gold chain. An address was read by Master James Harrington and the presentation was made by Miss Marguerite Hickson.

The address was as follows—

Ennismore, Dec. 22, 1909.

To Miss Katie O'Donoghue.

Dear Teacher,—We, the pupils of S. S. No. 1, Ennismore, having heard of your intended departure at the close of the present term, avail ourselves of the opportunity to give expression to the commingled regret, reverence and love which fill our youthful hearts. For the past three years it has been our good fortune to be under your wise and skilful guidance, and during these years we learned, among other things, to appreciate your honest efforts in our behalf. Always kind, courteous, patient and forgiving, you have set an example that each of us may safely follow, animated us with a noble ambition, a lovable desire to acquire a higher education and marked out to us by your own daily life and holy precepts, the path we should aim to tread.

We soon learned to recognize in you the true friend, pointing out to us our many faults and imperfections, showing us at the same time how to do the right and proper thing; sympathising with us in all our childish difficulties and encouraging us in all our work by making our school pleasant and cheerful.

We are indeed, dear teacher, sorry to hear that you are soon to leave us, as in you we recognize the best, the truest and the kindest of teachers. Any success we may have achieved is owing almost entirely to your painstaking and unselfish labor for our advancement, for which we wish to express our sincere thanks. As a further proof of our sincerity we will ask your acceptance of this gold chain, and pray that God may continue to watch over and direct your every effort for good in whatever path of life you may choose to follow.

Signed on behalf of the pupils:

Power Bylaw at Brampton.

Brampton, Dec. 29.—A great deal of interest is being taken in the coming vote on the Hydro-Electric power question here. A public meeting will be held on Thursday night, to be addressed by Hon. Adam Beck, and John R. Barber, ex-M.P. for Halton County. Mr. Barber is ready to take 200 horsepower for his own factories as soon as it can be obtained.

Brampton will doubtless carry the bylaw authorizing the council to enter into a contract with the commission, as it will prove of inestimable advantage to the town.

Can Make Torpedoes Harmless.

Paris, Dec. 29.—The Journal states that Turpin, the inventor of melinite, has discovered a method by which floating mines may automatically be rendered harmless whenever they accidentally break away from their moorings. The idea is applicable to torpedoes which after two hours' immersion would be made incapable of doing any damage.

Didn't Know Ship Was on Fire.

Liverpool, Dec. 29.—Fire was discovered in bales of cotton in the hold of the White Star Liner Celtic last Wednesday, when the vessel was four days out from New York. The liner arrived here safely Monday. The fire was still burning, but its presence was known to none of the 400 passengers.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS ARE CRITICIZED

Note.—The communication following, and which appears over the signature of Mr. B. Laster, is offered for publication by him, independent of the wishes and objects of either side in the local option campaign, and without approval or endorsement by either party. The space occupied is paid for by Mr. Laster, and it is on these conditions that the communication appears.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In reference to the statements I have made, I will prove that some of the speakers for Local Option have made statements that are not correct.

Starting with the speaker who is supposed to be a professor and delegate of the International Association in London. He represented himself as a great mathematician, as he was giving some great figures at the time of the meeting. In his speech he made two statements, that I will deal with.

The first one was that liquor was a curse 4,000 years before Christ. According to his statement, it would have been beneficial if local option had been passed 4,000 years before Christ. Now, after studying the statement, where I can only go by Biblical history, where the creation of the world started with Adam and Eve; and that is 5,670 years since the world has been created. Now we have 1910 years after Christ. So it leaves us 3,760 years to the beginning of the creation of the world. Then we have the first drunkard in Bible history, which was Noah, and this was 1656 years after the creation of the world. So if you will just take up those figures, you will find, that according to the statements made by the speaker, local option should have been passed 240 years before the world was created, or 1896 before the first drunkard was on record. Now would you take this ground, and these statements to pass local option here?

The next statement was; that the population of France has decreased in population in the last fifty years on account of the use of strong liquor. Now let us tell that speaker, and everyone who is supporting him; that everyone who has studied the prosperity of the nations will find that the population of France has decreased in the last fifty years, not from the use of strong drink; but because of the unnatural race suicide. By using every artificial means to prevent increasing the population. And there is at the present time no man in the Government giving any prizes, nor limiting the rate of taxation, for stopping the use of strong liquor. But the most prominent men of France, and the Government itself, are giving special prizes for homes with the largest families, and who will abstain from race suicide. And the Government went so far as to pass a law that those men with the largest families will be given a limited rate of taxation. They have not given any prizes discouraging the use of liquor. So you can see that this statement is absolutely incorrect.

Now, the next speaker; the water-waggon man, certainly amused the audience by cracking some jokes, and telling stories of all kinds, in parts where negroes and miners are. But there was only one question that really interested us in Peterborough; and this was like himself and the speakers, Gibson and Gov. Glenn, have asked; Why do the hotel-men kick about the passing of local option, when they say that more liquors are sold under local option than under the license law. No other business would do the same. The hotel-men are so conscientious that they will not see the people use too much liquor, even when they see that they would have a more prosperous business. Now, this question took up very much of my attention; and by studying it what conclusion did I come to? The hotel men do not want to sell liquor illegally, and although now they are complying with the laws, rules and regulations of their country, and are contributing the necessary fees to conduct their business; then there would be dozens in the same business, and who would not be contributing one cent to the community, and who would be doing the same business without any cost. And by this those hotelmen are ruined and robbed of what they have. No compensation has been given to one of them when their business is taken from them. So that is the reason why the hotelmen are kicking.

Now, the next speaker was a lawyer from Toronto. And what did he say? He proved to you that no other business had such restrictions as the hotel business. He mentioned all kinds of businesses, but he forgot to mention the drug business. Now, no man who is not a reliable and responsible man can conduct a drug store. Why? Because a druggist sells poisons, and mixes medicines that represent poisons, and a man has to be a qualified man to conduct a drug business. Now I would say the same thing in regard to hotels. Do not give any license to men who are not reliable and responsible men, because liquor, when used to excess, is just as poisonous as some of these in the drug store. If you will do with the hotel men the same as you are doing with the druggists, the hotel will be just as safe as the drug store.

Then the next speaker was the Rev. Smith. He said if a man is bound to have his drink, by all means let him have it at home and drink himself to death, and that we would not prevent him from taking liquor home. Well, now, that is a point where I am sure none of you will agree with him, and that is just what I would like to prevent. In the first place we don't want any man to get dead drunk, but by saving him and inducing him to abstain from the use of liquors, and to influence him to take the pledge not to touch liquor nor bring it to his home. In this way we will save the next generation.

The next speaker was the Owen Sound man, Ireland, with whom I have already dealt. He is surely no credit to any place.

Then there was another Toronto lawyer. He said that half of the population of our cities in Canada could not get a drink if they wanted it. That means, as far as I can understand, that half the population are on the black list. Before he made that statement he should have come here and made sure how many men were on the black list. We are certainly not in that class. We have only, from a population of 17,000, sixty-four men on the black list. So, his statement could not be of any value to us. But it is the same with all those speakers. They only come here and tell you irresponsible stories, and some of them very sad, of things and happenings that we never have here.

Therefore, I certainly think when all these speakers would know the real standing of the people of Peterborough they would not advocate any local option by-law for us. And I am surprised at these moral workers who ought to know well the standing of Peterborough, that they should bring those kind of men here, who give addresses suitable only for drunkards and criminals.

I, therefore, people of Peterborough, leave to your own good judgment how far you can take their statements, and I hope you will act accordingly.

Yours truly,
B. LASTAR.

Railway Must Refund.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Holding that a common carrier charged with exacting an unreasonable rate cannot escape liability upon the ground that the shipments could have been transported over a route carrying a lower rate, the Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered reparation of unreasonable charges upon eighteen carloads of newspaper shipped from Grand Mere, Que., to San Francisco.

Masons to Hunt For Child.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 29.—The Kellner family in a last effort to gain some tidings of their little daughter Alma, who mysteriously disappeared from home three weeks ago, yesterday began mailing circular letters to each grand secretary of every grand lodge of Masons in the United States and Canada, requesting that every effort to locate the missing child be exerted.

Insane From Overwork.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—Bernard H. Rall, second vice-president and general freight traffic manager of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co., became violently insane yesterday in his office.

He is considered one of the foremost experts on freight traffic and his breakdown is due to overwork.

Mayor McClellan laid the corner stone of New York's new city hall yesterday.

FREIGHT CAR TRUCK BROKE

Small Accident Near Birdsall's—Auxiliary From Lindsay Had to be Called.

A truck on one of the cars of a freight train broke when near Birdsalls yesterday afternoon and the car collapsed. Fortunately the train was travelling slowly at the time and was soon brought to a stop. No cars left the track. The auxiliary from Lindsay was summoned and a new truck placed under the car after which it was put on a siding.

The Belleville train did not leave the local station until four o'clock and traffic on the main line was blocked for a short time.

Earl Grey's New Aide.

Ottawa, Dec. 29.—The Earl of Lanesborough, who has been appointed military secretary to the Governor General, has arrived in Ottawa. He was formerly A.D.C. to the Duke of Connaught, the King's brother, and his appointment here may account somewhat for the rumor that the Duke of Connaught is to be the next Governor-General.

800 Civil Servants Disqualified.

Ottawa, Dec. 29.—Eight hundred civil servants who have refused to pay the income tax pending the completion of a new agreement between the city and the Government, have been disqualified from voting at the municipal elections next Monday. Seven hundred of these are in one ward.

It is said that two or three members of the Cabinet are in the same boat.

Passed a Derelict.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 29.—Capt. Dunn of the British steamer Reliance from Savannah reported here having passed 85 miles off Cape Henry, Monday afternoon, the derelict three master schooner Nattie Champion, Captain Lloyd of Somers Point, N.J., from Norfolk, Dec. 22, to New York, lumber laden. The crew were missing with their fate unknown.

Found Tramp Killing Husband

East Douglas, Mass., Dec. 29.—Entering her kitchen unexpectedly yesterday, Mrs. Charles Potter found a young wayfarer, who had asked to be allowed to warm himself, in the act of cutting the throat of her 77-year old husband. The assailant fled, but not before he had cut the aged man's windpipe, and it is thought he will die.

Sent Poison by Mail.

Paris, Dec. 29.—The arrest here of a young saleswoman in a department store, has uncovered a poison-by-mail mystery. According to the police chocolates containing arsenic were sent through the mail to a person who failed to partake of them, but an inoffensive guest, a tenor at the opera ate several and died a few hours later.

Boy Accidentally Shot.

St. Catharines, Dec. 28.—Charles Liney, aged 16 years, son of a recently-arrived immigrant, was accidentally shot by his father while setting a trap for a muskrat on the ice at lock 13, Welland Canal, and is in a precarious condition. The elder Liney called to his son to hand him a rifle, which was accidentally discharged, the bullet lodging above the left ear.

Couple Found Murdered.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 28.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Ritte, both aged about 70 years, and wealthy, were found at their home in Elmore Township yesterday under circumstances indicating murder.

A CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF PETERBOROUGH

GENTLEMEN,—After studying and being convinced that local option would not be of any benefit to Peterborough, I have been sitting long hours in the night studying this, and expressing my opinion in letters through the press, in spending sleepless nights and taking abuse in the first part of my campaign from a number of people. I have even lost a certain amount of trade on account of the prejudice of parties who are opposed to my views. I am not looking for any good pay jobs from the city. Then you will say why have I done it? Because it is my nature when I see men insulted and attacked without any real cause, as by statements that have been made that the people of Peterborough have been and the majority of them are drunkards and criminals and affected with misery through drunkenness, that I came out to show that after seven years living in Peterborough, and having to do mostly with the poorer class of working men, I was convinced that they are absolutely wrong and that we have only a few drunkards and criminals. Neither is there misery through drunkenness. I did not care about the abuse, but I stood against all odds and losses, and gave my opinion. And now I have dozens of dozens of letters from citizens who are encouraging me, who are giving me praise for what I done. And, therefore, having seen in my mind that the liquor question can be settled in a peaceful way, without injuring anyone, I came out to stand as a candidate for the Council for the coming year. In the first place, if elected, no matter what the verdict of the people may be, I will be there to see, that without favor or obligations to anyone, the law is obeyed. Then I hope that those men who are opposing me in my views at the present time will give me their assistance, and as a member of the council I will have more influence, and will see that united we will be able to regulate the liquor question once and for all, and that we shall have no necessity for bringing here in the future all kinds of speakers to call us drunkards and criminals.

I will do my utmost to see that Peterborough is to be an example of purity and peace, if supported and elected by you.

3d

Yours respectfully,
B. LASTAR

CONSIDER THESE POINTS

The friends of local option are never done declaring that drink leads to crime. A truer statement of fact is that crime leads to drink—to drown conscience.

Statistics in the large show that there is little connection between crime and drink. Crime is a mere index of good or bad times. When times are good there is small temptation. Consequently there is less crime and more drinking. When times are bad there is greater temptation. Consequently there is more crime and less drinking, because drink is a luxury, and is one of the first things to be cut off when people have no money to spare.

Drink does not fill our penitentiaries. It may cut some figure in petty jail cases, but the big crimes which land men in prison for long terms need cool heads and sober planning.

Drink does not fill our asylums. More people get into the hospitals for the insane through religious mania than through hard drinking. Yet there is no movement to prohibit religion.

Far from filling our asylums, alcohol has given a filip to many a great mind, and helped many a great man to do his work. Look at Daniel Webster, Lord Eldon, Brougham, Thurlow, Mansfield. Look at Sir John Macdonald. Some of these men even used alcohol to excess. What does Macaulay say of Addison? "Wine was the charm that lifted the spell from his fine mind."

What harm has beer done Germany or England? They divide the eye of the world for brains, enterprise, industry.

The "wine-bibbing" races are the conquering races, and civilization owes everything, not to the abstentious Hindoo or Mussulman, but to the wine-tasting Greek, the hard-drinking Roman, and the beer-consuming Teuton. Temperance yes. But prohibition—that is another story.

THEN VOTE AGAINST LOCAL OPTION. 10

The Lindsay "Warder"

The Lindsay Warder has passed into the hands of Allan Gillies, who has been business manager since the new management took control in April, 1908. Mr. Gillies is a thorough newspaperman, and will continue the policy of progress that has characterized the Warder since the daily edition was started. It is now one of the brightest of the provincial dailies, and apparently it is going to remain so.

Watered Oysters
ARE DOOMED

There are two ways in which Oysters are shipped.

One is the open tub way — the other is the SEALSHIPT way.

Open tub oysters have to be re-iced many times in transit. The ice is placed in the tub WITH THE OYSTERS. The melted ice forms the liquor, which washes the flavor out of them and makes them soggy. Demand the Sealshipt kind.

THE CITY'S INTEREST

Amongst the new men "seeking the bubble reputation, even at the cannon's mouth" are Mr. James G. Graham, who, unlike ex-Ald. Johnston, has not been in harness for years. He is a good, reliable man, and will likely be an addition to the strength of the Council of 1910. Ald. Batten, like Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., was elected by acclamation. It is a fitting honour. Mr. Lustar is a candidate, and, as his letters indicate, is a man of parts.

For the Board of Education, Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, R.O.; Messrs. W. Robinson, T. H. Adams and R. G. Kingan are all new men. They are all men of high standing and ability, who would do honour to the position. In fact Peterborough is without exception, fortunate in the interest taken in its affairs, both municipal and educational. The genial Mr. W. H. Hall is probably "insured' against defeat. The "Collegiate Institute year" was a severe test, and all the old members of the board may look for a renewal of the confidence of the people.

THE MAYORALTY.

The race for the Mayor's chair is getting interesting. So far "the betting" slightly favours Mr. Mason. But Ald. Morrow has powerful interests behind him and will "take a lot of beating."

A BATCH OF BY-LAWS

On Monday the ratepayers will vote, among other issues presented for approval, on four by-laws. These have been discussed at greater or less length. But it would be well for each voter, before going to the polls, to give some careful consideration to the several issues. Many will be found arrayed for or against, having already reached some conclusion. Many, there may be, who are still undecided. It is for these to ponder what the vote to be exercised will mean in the ultimate working out of the welfare of the city. All of the measures will affect our municipal growth and prosperity.

The vote on the by-law to raise a sum of money—$19,000.00—to erect an isolation hospital should not be lightly given. As we grow in municipal importance our responsibilities increase. It is the penalty of progress. While we are obliged to spend money for necessities, for improvement, for repairs, the advancing years will entail more and larger calls on our civic resources. Can we maintain the standard of living, can we protect the municipal health without some such provision as is proposed in this isolation hospital? Will it pay, in convenience, security, and protect the public at large? Is it not a sort of insurance against possible spread of disease? Most assuredly so. And as just such a measure it will pay. We are discounting the risks of the future when we provide the facilities with which to check disease in the incipient stage. The proposal should have the endorsement of every ratepayer having the interests of the municipality at heart.

The by-law having for its object to effect a return to the method or custom of electing members of the City Council by the ward system, as it is termed, has a fair support. Those who believe in the efficiency of the ward as sending in its very own to represent its very own interests are its strongest admirers. The opponents claim that the ward system has the only recommendation that it offers a chance for the election of the man who might not be elected if by a vote all over the city. This may be or may not be correct. It was assumed that by the vote of the city at large, better men could and would be elected. Have, so far, the better men came forward? The councils of the past three years have been quite up to the average. Would that average have been lower had they been elected under the ward system? It's hard to say.

The by-law to extend the franchise of the Light and Power Co. granting permission and assurance to the use of the streets for a term of years should be carried. The company is with us and of us. It has given, and will continue to give a good service. That is to its interest, for few public utilities accomplish anything by taking another course.

The company has placed before the ratepayers very fully and clearly its reasons why the franchise should be extended. These reasons are based on sound sense. It does not ask for an exclusive franchise, only for a permission to go ahead and do business. Pretty much as before. It asks the right to use the streets. That has been conceded, for many years. Indeed, no lighting concern, either public or private, could well do otherwise. What we are asked to give will not cost much. It is in the interest of the city that all institutions and businesses conducted, either by individuals or companies, should make money. Such a state of affairs, when known, is the very best among all the advertisements the city can have. It is never to its credit, abroad, to have it known that any of the enterprises carried on within its borders are not prosperous. A positive failure is a perceptible black-eye. A succession of lame enterprises may, and probably will, deter others from coming. If we can, by not putting obstacles in the way, keep, if we can, by making a concession, assist in progress, let us do so. The rights and powers of the city to do what it pleases or wishes to do in the future in the way of municipal lighting are in no way circumscribed. The company asks for right and opportunity to carry on business and trust to have that opportunity granted.

The fourth by-law is that set out briefly in the heading of the roll book as "a by-law to prohibit the sale by retail of liquor." Possibly the more important, to nearly all citizens, of the four. The discussion going on in the papers, from the platform, by personal solicitation and argument, has placed the issue fairly before the people. Witnesses have been heard on both sides. Counsel for the prosecution and defense have summed up. It is for the people, who form the jury, to bring in a verdict. What it will be no one may forecast. The electorate hold the matter in their hands and will vote as inclination, association, sentiment, and conviction dictates.

WEST GATE DAMAGED

Street Car Broke Through Gate at Grand Trunk Railway Crossing on Charlotte St.

The gate on the west side of the Grand Trunk Railway crossing on Charlotte street, was badly damaged last night by the C. G. E. street car about nine o'clock. The gateman on duty had lowered the gates as the nine o'clock train from Lindsay was approaching and instead of the street car being brought to a stop it went through the gate, breaking the castings and other parts.

WEDDING BELLS

FAIRWEATHER—ROGERS

In the presence of a number of guests a pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Anglican Church, Ashburnham, this afternoon at 2.30, when Edna J., eldest daughter of Mr. R. B. Rogers, 174 Hunter street east, was married to Capt. Henry Ivan Fairweather of Peterborough, son of Col. C. H. Fairweather, of Sussex, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lillian Rogers, sister of the bride, and Mr. Herbert White of this city, was groomsman. The bride was charmingly gowned in white Brussels net over tafetta, with trimmings of Duchess satin and lace. She wore a bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid was becomingly dressed in cream cashmere with trimmings of silk and hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Messrs. Barry and George Rogers, brothers of the bride, of Toronto and Frankford, respectively, acted as ushers.

Medelssohn's wedding march was played with fine expression by Miss Charlotte English.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was held at the residence of the bride's father.

The bridal pair left on the 4.38 C. P. R. for a honeymoon trip to points west. The bride's travelling suit was brown with hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather will reside at Nassau.

TO THE ELECTORS

OF THE

City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have been nominated for the third time for Alderman and desire to put before you my views regarding the accepted methods of election of candidates.

I am personally opposed to any canvass being made as it places the elector in an embarassing position. If you know a candidate soliciting support, you do not wish to hurt his feelings by refusing him. You may promise support, but have the impression that he will not make a suitable representative. On election day you will keep your word, against your better judgment, or you do not vote as promised, which position you are forced into by the soliciting of candidates for support.

I have been nominated, and if elected, will give the best of my ability to the work of the city. It is for the electors to say AS I DO NOT INTEND TO CANVASS. If you think I have made an efficient servant during my two years of office, VOTE FOR ME ON MONDAY, JANUARY 3rd.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. TURNER JR.

FOR ALDERMAN

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough,—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—

Having accepted the nomination for re-election as alderman of the city for the year 1910, I respectfully solicit your votes and influence.

If again favored with your confidence and elected, I shall continue to look after your interests, do my best to serve you faithfully and discharge the duties pertaining to the position in a manner that I hope will generally merit the approval of a majority of the electors.

Thanking you for your generous support in the past, and wishing you all a happy and prosperous New Year,

I am Yours Truly

INTERMEDIATES AND JUNIORS

Turn Out to Practice To Night Between Seven and Eight-The Ice is in Good Condition

A practice of the Intermediate and Junior O. H. A. teams is called for to-night at seven o'clock. The ice is in splendid condition and if the local hockeyists expect to accomplish anything the season they must practice consistently and there is no reason why there should no the a good turnout to-night.

For the intermediates the following players are asked to be present in uniform: Derocher, Giroux, Glover, Leck, McMillan, Dusty, Ray, Dobson and Seymour.

For the juniors: Halpin, Patterson, Munroe, Heffernan, Giroux, Mills, Shortt, Pratt and Hall are requested to be on hand.

THE TURF

Messrs George Lipsett and Charles Fife have entered Tom Tariff and Harry Mack for the Ottawa winter meet, the former in the $1,000 stallion stake and the latter in the 2.35 class for a purse of the same proportions.

PORT HOPE FOR THIS DISTRICT

Has Arranged With O. H. A. to Play in This District Says Toronto Star

The Port Hope intermediates have arranged with Group No. 1, O. H. A. and will play in that district with Trenton, Bellevilewe and Peterbor- making a very compact four-club group.—Toronto Star.

Secretary R. M. Glover of the local intermediates said the newspaper references gave the first intimation to him of Port Hope being included in the group and said Trenton and Belleville would have to be communicated with to get their opinions as to the acceptance of the Port Hope club in the district. If Port Hoep is admitted it will necessitate the re-arrangement of the schedule.

All workers or Agents are hereby warned against the use of any promise or threat that will in any way unduly influence any vote.

ORILLIA BUSINESS MAN CONVINCED

That Local Option is to the Best Interests of the Town—Gives Striking Arguments to Bear Out His Contention—Mr. J. C. Miller at Murray Street Baptist Church.

In his address to a large audience at the Murray street Baptist church last night Mr. J. C. Miller, of Orillia, emphatically denied the statements made to the effect that local option was not a success in that town, and during his address stated what he knows to be absolutely true, to make his remarks convincing. The speaker last night is president of the Orillia tannery, president of the company which conducts the Daly House, he has had wide municipal experience during his 36 years residence in Orillia and is an enthusiastic sportsman. He, therefore, should be an authority as to whether local option is for the best interests of his town or not.

Rev. J. R. Webb acted as chairman and after the opening devotional exercises he called upon School Inspector Mowat to present the prizes to the successful winners in the local option essay competition. After the presentation, the chairman made a few complimentary remarks.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Miller dealt briefly on the license law, how it was amended, but had not proved successful. Then local option was carried. The first argument which he discredited was that

PEOPLE WOULD LEAVE TOWN

He admitted that some people did leave Orillia, but they were of that class, that no town glories in calling citizens. Two hotelkeepers left and also a few bartenders. Some who had been opposed to the measure had said that it would create an industry, known as the "hip pocket dispensary." This was attempted, but it did not last longer than one week. "We have got a municipal Council," said the speaker, "who insisted on the police doing their duty." The men were brought up, convicted and fined $100 with costs. They were given time in which to pay the amount, but had gone away and never returned. Nobody else of any account left our town. Not one merchant, business man or workman left.

COMPENSATION.

Mr. Miller said he was in favor of compensation, if it was just. This was not asked for by the hotelkeepers or liquor dealers, but it was agitated by the apologists. But, if there was to be compensation, the widows and children should come in for their share for all the havoc caused to them by the liquor traffic. By all means let there be compensation, but let it be just.

The statement of the liquor men that the law could not be enforced should be taken with a grain of salt. In Orillia, it was enforced possibly because public sentiment was strong enough, or because the police force backed up by the other officials were doing their duty. That is the reason why we don't see any drunken men on the streets. Many people, during the 20 months local option, has been in force have not seen a single drunken man. If you don't believe the law is being enforced come to Orillia and ask the hotelkeepers. You will not find one who will say it can't be done. They found out that local option was part and parcel of the Ontario Government. Offenders were fined the first time and given a term in jail for the second offence. The law is even better enforced now, than when the town was under license. There is not as much liquor sold illegally under local option in one year than there was before in one week. Last Friday we had the largest market day we ever had in Orillia and at the last two show fair days, the attendance was the largest and there was not a sign of a drunken man. Last year, with only five days to prepare, 148 more people signed for re-submission of local option, than had signed two years ago.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION.

The hotel accommodation in Orillia at the present time was better than when the bar was allowed, and other local option towns were even better than Orillia. While the absence of the bar did away with some of the hotelkeepers' profits, their hotels were clean and respectable—not barns. In some instances the rates had been raised. In Orillia the regular 25c. meal could be had. In his hotel, the only change was that some of the fancy trimmings had been done away with. The hotel men are making a living and the stable rates and farmers' rates had not been raised.

To show the absurdity of the statement made that property would depreciate in value and taxes would be greatly raised, he explained first, that in Peterborough, should local option come in force the loss of the revenue from the liquor traffic would only mean 1-2c. per head, each week. In Orillia it amounted to 1-3c. The taxes had been raised a trifle, but he had never heard any person squeal.

Before local option had come in force in the town, municipal improvements were wanted. The by-laws were brought before the Council, but when presented to the people were voted down. They said we can't afford it, our taxes are too high. When local option came the people were not long in petitioning the Council to prepare the by-laws and all carried by large majorities. The sum of $158,000 was voted for improvements and this was by a town one-half the size of Peterborough. In the beginning of the year 1908 he was appointed chairman of the Finance Committee. He found that there was an overdraft of $11,000 from outstanding taxes. The tax collector claimed the taxes could not be collected, as the people did not have the money. In some cases the taxes had not been returned for six years. Local option came in force in May and the money started to come in and now instead of an overdraft of $11,000 it was only $7,000. He had made the statement at a meeting in Orillia on Monday night that the finances of the town were never better than at the present time. Under license 85 per cent. of the taxes were paid. The first year of the closed bar 87 per cent. of the taxes were paid and this year the per centage was 92. Before local option the seven hotels in the town were assessed for $52,900. Last year the valuation was increased by $8,791. Mr. Miller gave other figures which showed that other hotel properties had greatly increased in value. One which had been an eyesore in the town had been converted into a hardware store. It had previously been assessed for $8,400. Now the amount was $10,940.

The proprietor of one of the leading hotels, had appealed against the new assessment of his property to the Court of Revision. When he found that he (the speaker) was chairman he took the matter before a judge and the result was that the assessment was further increased. The total increase in assessment of hotel property in Orillia was $8,795. When local option was being attempted one hotelkeeper sold out, but on its passing had invested $30,000 in building houses, and they were tenanted as fast as they were completed. He told of another case where a meat dealer gave a conditional order amounting to $800. When local option passed, he sent for the traveller and instead of the $800 order it was $1,120, and there was now no more enthusiastic advocate for local option than this butcher.

The farmers did not stop coming to town. It had been said that they were going to Barrie in preference to Orillia, the former being licensed. He had asked two business men of that place if this was so but they both replied that such was not the case. It had been proven that some farmers living half way between the two towns, preferred to go to Orillia.

Two weeks ago a free and easy meeting had been held and every one was given an invitation to attend to express their views on local option. On the platform at that meeting assembled merchants, manufacturers, professional men and others who willingly gave their testimonial for local option. Nobody in that town was afraid of being boycotted by the hotelkeepers. The speaker would not say that there was not some bottled drinking in the town but the treating system had been killed. Some people went over to Atherley and secured liquor, but he had found out that the freight and express on liquor had decreased 35 per cent. under local option

I do not know of one man, said the speaker, who is drinking to-day who was not drinking under license, but there are scores who are not drinking now who were in the days of the bar. Nine hundred people have joined the churches of the town since local option came in.

DEPRESSION IN BUSINESS.

There is no depression in business in Orillia. Every manufacturer with the exception of one is a supporter of local option. That exception is the brewer. These men heartily and enthusiastically endorse it and so do many of the merchants. There has been $380,000 spent in buildings. Of this sum $100,000 was for houses and last year there was only one frame house erected. The working man demands and is able to pay for a better class of house than before. There are no vacant stores. Under license the political party for whom he was working, was always able to secure committee rooms centrally located. Now they had to go on a side street. It was the same with their opponents. Under license the ladies were always able to secure large premises for holding their annual bazaar. The first year under local option, it was held in the Sunday school and last year they asked for the market hall but it was not obtainable. What they had to take was an old room back of the municipal buildings, and the bazaar was the most successful ever held. The proceeds were $1,400 in excess of any other previous year.

The working men had more money to spend to improve their homes. It was not going over the bar.

Mr. Miller illustrated this statement by a true story where a man when the town was under license had learned to drink. As the days passed his appetite for drink increased and he spent all his money over the bar. It was actually known that he had pawned his overcoat to a hotelkeeper for $1 to buy liquor. He sometimes would not go home to his wife and child for several days. He was discharged from a good position and on one Sunday, he (the speaker) had found him in a barroom, drunk. Since local option came in force that man has not had a drink. He has a better position, with the same firm and gets $5 per week more. He is living in a better house and has only lost two weeks. That was when he took his wife for their wedding trip after being married 14 years. Another case was that of an Englishman who boasted of personal liberty. That man would never admit he was under the influence of liquor at any time, but he was repeatedly drunk, his wife went out washing. This was one industry that local option killed—the wash woman industry. He told of another case where a man while the town was under license, had gradually sunk so low that when his wife died he was assisted into the room where she lay in her coffin, by his son and daughter, so drunk that he did not know anything.

Mr. Miller referred to a meeting which was held in Newmarket recently at which he was present. Rev. Father Minnehan, of Toronto, was also on the platform and made a strong appeal for local option.

In his closing remarks the speaker asked all to put forth their best efforts to secure local option for Peterborough.

THE LOCAL OPTION MOVEMENT IN THE CITY

The Matter Appearing in This Department is Furnished by the Peterboroug Temperance and Moral Reform League Which Has Arranged for its Publication.

A NOTE OF WARNING

The President of the Temperance League desires to warn all friends of Local Option against the attempts that are being made by a pious looking old man to keep the lady voters from going to vote on January 3rd. The old codger leaves the impression that he believes in temperance, and seems quite concerned about the convenience of the ladies.

We need every single vote. A very large majority is required to carry the Local Option By-law, and we simply cannot do without your vote. Your vote may mean the vote of victory.

You will do good to the cause if you will secure this man's name and communicate it at once to the President. Tel. 685.

ALCOHOL NEVER A BENEFIT

The statement made on the authority of the Brewers' Association that alcohol is contained in every vegetable substance in nature, is without the semblance of truth. There is not a drop of alcohol in any living substance either vegetable or animal. It is always formed as a by-product in the process of fermentation, which is a process of decay, and in no other way is it ever formed either by science or by nature. These facts can be verified by consulting any standard work on chemistry or biology. The statement is simply a plain lie for the purpose of deceiving those who, of necessity, do not possess scientific knowledge of the true nature of alcohol. It is a good sample of all the statements coming from the same source. From one judge all.

The brewers tell us that alcohol is a power for preventing disease and prolonging life. What are the facts? The table below, compiled from the figures of one of the largest and oldest British Life Insurance Companies, ought to be convincing. Observe that it does not compare total abstainers with drunkards, but with moderate drinkers. The life insurance men are among the most thorough and accurate in dealing with facts of any class in the community. Do you prefer their facts or the brewers' fiction. The figures show the number of deaths per 100,000 between the ages mentioned. It will be seen that beginning with that number in each class, at the age of 20, there would be 18,869 more of the abstainers alive at 70. No one really believes that alcohol prolongs life.

Age	Number of Deaths		Excess Deaths Among Moderate Drinkers
	Total Abstainers	Moderate Drinkers	Number	Per cent.
20-30	4,221	4,677	456	11
30-40	4,201	7,041	2,840	68
40-50	6,256	10,861	4,615	74
50-60	13,056	18,524	5,468	42
60-70	29,078	34,568	5,490	19

The brewers are authority for the assertion that alcohol is a force energizing the brain and quickening the creative faculty. This statement contains just as much truth as others that have come from the same source, and that is none at all. In the local option department in the city papers, on March 30th, there appeared a summary of an article prepared by two of the most distinguished scientists and medical men of America. It showed that long continued and carefully conducted experiments by distinguished scientists of both continents, prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that alcohol taken even in the smallest doses impairs the efficiency of brain, nerve and muscle. No matter what your work is, you will do less and with less accuracy after taking alcohol. Space will not permit a fuller discussion here, but those who still doubt are referred to the article mentioned, or to McClure's Magazine for March in which the original article appeared.

The brewers are really away behind the times and evidently take it for granted that the people of Peterborough will believe any old wornout fable. This is a good example of the way they are re-asserting old discredited falsehoods. From one judge all.

Suppose it were true (which it is not) as the brewers tell us that alcohol can be of some benefit to a man when taken into his physical system, would that be sufficient reason for licensing its sale in our midst?

Suppose a wild beast were at large in our city, and that for days or even weeks he would play with the children, allow the boys to ride on his back and scuffle with him, furnish amusement and sport for the older people, but every now and again, would become enraged and kill, not ones or twos of our dear ones, but scores and hundreds, would we grant him a license to continue?

Suppose a dangerous lunatic were in our midst, who fancied himself a skilled physician, and that he should for months bring joy and entertainment to children and older people by pretending to prescribe for them, things that might even be good, but would some day administer a dose of deadly poison, would we take $5,000 from him and let him go on?

If alcohol ever did any good where used as a beverage, it has done so many million times as much harm, that there is not a particle of excuse for it. But don't be deceived, it never did any good.

SOME LESSONS FROM ALABAMA

We take from a recent issue of the Toronto Mail, the following Review of the situation in Alabama, and which gives a fairly dispassionate view, of the situation in that state. It is interesting taken in connection with the temperance movement throughout the province.

Alabama has just passed through the most spectacular and exciting election campaign in the history of the State, and in very decided terms has declared against prohibition. To most people who have understood Alabama to be a strong anti-saloon State the result was surprising, and seemed to indicate some such revulsion of feeling as was provoked in different counties of Ontario by the Scott Act many years ago. As a matter of fact, Alabama is a "dry" State, and has not voted to become "wet." She has voted against a bill that purposed making a constitutional amendment which would place Alabama in the same category as Maine. Alabama is now prohibition by local option and State enactment, but she has refused to amend the constitution in order to guarantee that no liquor shall be sold or drunk or kept in the State for private use.

The result in Alabama will probably be a useful lesson to temperance reformers in the United States and elsewhere. It should serve as a double warning against the professional politician and the fanatical prohibitionist. Their conjunction can wreck any cause, however good, and while it is to be hoped that no evil consequences will attend the defeat of the prohibition amendment, there is no doubt that it will encourage the liquor interests to renew the struggle for the repeal of the present State law. Had there been no campaign it seems likely that no such attempt would have been made, because there is no doubt that the majority of the voters in Alabama are opposed to the sale of liquor in the State. What they are not in favor of is giving a policeman power to break into their homes to find if they have a bottle of whiskey in the cupboard. They also revolted against a sort of terrorism that the Methodist and Baptist church organisations attempted to establish. The Alabama reformers tried to "work a willing horse to death," and the patient animal kicked.

The politicians' part in the attempt to coerce Alabama into constitutional prohibition had its origin in the ambition of Gov. B. B. Comer to become a United States Senator. Another prominent prohibitionist, Judge Samuel D. Weakley, ex-Chief Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court, and author of the State's drastic prohibition laws, desired to succeed Comer. A hundred other officials were interested in forwarding these ambitions, because they would all get a "step up" on the Alabama political ladder. The inference is that neither Comer nor Weakley was very confident of the result of an appeal to the public on his record, for both came to the conclusion that a political convulsion was necessary to move them where they desired to go. Apparently, there is a dirth of first-class political issues in Alabama, and so it became necessary to manufacture one. Knowing the strength of the anti-saloon sentiment the politicians calculated upon being able to manipulate it for their own ends. The fact that there is already a stringent prohibition law in the State did not abash them.

Looking over the law they found that the storing of liquor in all places but the home of the owner was illegal. Here was a chance for a turn of the screw, and Messrs. Comer and Weakley seized it. They never admitted that the real object of the campaign was to make the possession of a bottle of beer a crime; but there can be little doubt that this charge, brought against them by the "antis," was true. Otherwise a constitutional amendment could give them nothing that they do not now possess. It would, of course, have made it more difficult to repeal the prohibition law. This, however, is a speculation as to the future. As far as the present consumption of liquor is concerned, a constitutional amendment could have only put a tack in the already riveted coffin of the Alabama liquor trade. It is now unlawful for one to give a sick friend a glass of wine or a drink of brandy. The mere possession of liquor in any considerable quantity is an offence.

Another prime mover in the Alabama blunder was Rev. Brooks Lawrence, of Ohio, the general superintendent of the Alabama Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Lawrence went to Alabama two years ago, just when the prohibition movement was reaching a stiff "up grade." He threw remarkable enthusiasm into the work, and was able to show immediate results. One success followed another, until the goal seemed to have been reached in the State prohibition laws. However, success turned Mr. Lawrence's head. The defeat has left the reformers dazed. Even the most optimistic of the "antis" was unprepared for the verdict. It remains to be seen whether the victors will follow up their success by making war on the existing laws. For another full year, at any rate, the present enactment must stand. Before the 1911 Legislature meets the opponents of the saloon may have filled up their broken ranks so that they will be strong enough to hold the ground already gained.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Ladies' Auxiliary Will Be "At Home" in the Afternoon--- Indoor Circus in the Gymnasium at Night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be at home to the members, friends and subscribers on Saturday afternoon, New Year's Day. There will be music and refreshments and an enjoyable afternoon may be expected. In the evening the physical director and the gymnasium classes will put on the ideal circus in the gymnasium. Those taking part in the performance have been practising for some time past and those who attend are assured of a distinct treat.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ad Libitum Writes

To the Editor fo the Review.

Dear Sir,—I did not see in any of the nomination speeches one word about the "Ward System" or "Power By-laws," I looked anxiously for their opinions. The Power By-law unquestionably favors the rich man, the laboring class is not considered. Can the city give a domestic service in case the company becomes extortionate in their charges? I answer No. The poor man who pays the burden of the taxes would have to pay the major portion of the company's revenue as well. Do the citizens of Peterborough think that the company will keep any one of the first five clauses of their agreement? Not unless they are positively compelled to do so. Has the R. Ry. Co. filled in between the tracks on all streets as they agreed to do when they got the franchise some few years ago? No, again! And if they did not keep the old agreement, do you think, Mr. Editor, they will keep the new one? I say no, again. All of these large corporations are the same. Clause 10 is only a blind, and will not be kept, in fact. It would be out of all reason to expect it to be kept. Clause 12 is exorbitant. No man has any right to pay for more than he uses, and why should a man pay for $9.00 worth of light, if he does not use it. It is not good business to do so. Clause 12 (b) $3.00 per year for a 16 c.p. lamp is also exorbitant. The whole by-law tingles with "Let us get possession and then what we have we'll hold,' and come back in 5 or 6 years again for a fresh foothold. Have the company lived up to their agreement, so far. Not in the least, and they won't do so in the future unless the electors say "No" on January 3rd. We will not listen to one word of it. Why was not the matter of the gas mains included in this by-law? Do the company own the streets? You would think so by the way they act. Vote against the by-law and show this aggregation that the citizens of Peterborough own the streets.

Now the "Ward System" by-law. Some will tell you that by going back to the Ward System we are showing ourselves up, and that just as we got the 2-year term passed by the Legislature we are wanting a change again. Who was it that asked for the "two year term" for the councillors? Was it the electors? or was it the "cabinet" in the council? It certainly was not the electors and it never would have gone to the Legislature if the electorate had had their say, and one of the councillors who is coming forward seeking for the franchise of the electors tried hard to put what the parliamentarian calls "the closure" on the electorate this year on the question of the "Ward System." Let him stay at home fellow electors and put the closure on him. And, by the way, he is also going about town asking voters to support him and him only. When you mark your ballots on Monday be sure to leave his space vacant and teach this kind of a candidate a lesson. The Ward System would settle this kind of a candidate in earnest. What right has a man in one ward to vote for a representative of another ward? None whatever, any more than I have a right to vote for all the other representatives for the House of Commons all over Canada.

Vote for the Ward System by-law, workingmen, and get fair representation in the council.

Yours etc.,
"AD LIBITUM."

WHEEZER OR SNEEZER

Have You Heard of Hyomei For Catarrh Asthma and Hay Fever

If you wheeze or sneeze, hawk or spit, snuffle or blow, something is the matter with the membrane of your respiratory tract, and you need Hyomei.

And you need Hyomei because it will cure you of any catarrhal or inflammatory condition that exists.

It isn't a stomach medicine, or spray, or douche, but a very pleasant, healing, antiseptic balsam, from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. You breathe this balsamic air through a small, hard rubber inhaler, and it reaches every nook, corner and crevice of the membrane, and promptly kills the catarrh germs.

Wm. Madill will sell you a complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit for $1.00, on the money-back plan.

"I have been a victim of catarrh for many months, the glands around my eyes and nose being sore and swollen. My head felt dull and stuffy. Pains in the front and back of my head, also across my eyes were frequent and I had trouble in breathing, especially at night when trying to rest. I had doctored but got no relief until after using Hyomei. This relieved me in the first twenty-four hours and in less than two weeks I was practically cured. I cannot give too much praise to Hyomei." Mrs. Mary Philips, 153 McNab St., Hamilton, Ont.

A letter was received from W. D. Scott, Superintendent of Immigration, to the effect that the Government would provide for the passage of Wm. Swan and family to England, if the city would provide the tickets from Peterborough to St. John. On motion it was decided to accept the offer made by Mr. Scott. There was a good deal of discussion over the account from the House of Providence for $648 for maintenance of persons from the city in that institution. The account was sent on to the Charity Board by the Finance Committee. It was decided to pay the amount asked for. In the future the Charity Board will have this matter in its own hands.

Several other minor matters were disposed of.

TO HOLD TEMPERANCE PRAYER MEETING

There will be a general temperance prayer meeting to-night at the Murray street church from 8 to 9 o'clock. Those who are not attending other prayer meetings in the city will be cordially welcomed.

DECLINED HIS PROTECTION

Two belligerent citizens had a small but very much interested audience at the corner of McDonell and George sts. last night and one of the "scrapative" two had a somewhat successfully mutilated optic as a guarantee of the Johnson-like accuracy and effective force of his opponent's right jab. A member of the upstairs department of the Review Office was taken for a police captain instead of a militia captain by the more pummelled contestant of the pair who asked him as an officer of the law to see that he (Tommy Burns) got fair play.

As the captain did not have his gun with him he had neither the inclination nor equipment to warrant any active interest on his part and proceeded to seek his home as a place of ambush.

SUICIDED IN CELL

Edward Shanley Drank Carbolic Acid in Police Cell Early this Morning —Death Came Quickly

Edward "Teddy" Shanley, a homeless Englishman of about fifty years of age or so, and without employment, grew tired of his shiftless existence and drank carbolic acid in a cell at the police station this morning about five minutes after 2 o'clock, with fatal results. He was admitted to the police station as a lodger last night about nine o'clock. P. C.'s Meburry and Meagher being in the station at the time. He was sober at the time of his admittance, and as he was an over-night guest he was not searched by the officers before he was given accommodation in a cell, and would have been free to go at any time, had he desired to leave.

Shanley returned to the city from Cobalt a couple of months ago, and was employed as a cook in one of the mining camps there. Before that he worked as an hotel employee in Peterborough. Nothing definite is known of his antecedents. Mr. T. Cavanagh, of the Cavanagh House, with whom he had been employed before he left the city, said that the deceased has, it appears, a brother and sister in Manchester, England. He also claimed to have been married, and stated his wife, who was on the stage in England, left him.

He used to be employed in the Old Country in erecting the rigging for aerial performers for their acts and was familiar with the technical terms in connection with such work.

Shanley was discovered in his cell by the police in the agonies of the poison throes, and Dr. McPherson was summoned to attend him. The man expired about five minutes after the police visited him, however.

Shanley had a running sore on his right leg, and used the carbolic acid for washing the sore. About a week and a half ago he told Mr. T. Cavanagh that the carbolic acid would be the means of ending his life, but Mr. Cavanagh did not take the remark seriously, and did not have the least idea that Shanley would carry out his threat.

P. C. Meharry went to the drug store which had its label on the bottle but the books showed no trace of the purchase of the carbolic acid, although they were gone over for all the months since last July.

Coroner Dr. Gray, on being notified, decided to hold an inquest, and a jury was empanelled to look into the circumstances surrounding the death. However, as it was learned by the doctor that the deceased was simply a lodger at the police station, and not a prisoner, he had the inquiry dispensed with, and issued a warrant for burial. The remains are at Belleghem's undertaking rooms, Hunter street, where the jury assembled.

The deceased was a Catholic in religion and interment will take place in St. Peter's cemetery.

THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the urgent solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers, I am now asking your support for my election the Mayoralty of the City of Peterborough for the year 1910; and in doing so I am relying upon my record as a ratepayer, as a life-long citizen, as one materially interested in the manufacturing and industrial development of the city, and as one who, as an Alderman, served you for the past three years, first as Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee and secondly as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

It is usual for one aspiring to the Chief Magistracy to attempt to outline some definite policy to be pursued during the term of office. In compliance with that custom I can only say that it will be my one aim to serve the City to the utmost of my ability, to do what I can to promote its commercial, industrial and moral development, to give fair and just consideration to all questions which may come before the Council having regard to neither class nor party, as I am pledged to non.

Our City has made rapid progress in recent years, and the continuation of this progress will depend largely upon the growth and expansion of the City's present industries, and upon the establishment of new ones to which every encouragement and legitimate inducement should be given — the Council should give immediate attention to securing an adequate supply of cheap power; every effort conducing to these ends has my fullest sympathy and support.

The time has also arrived when the Council must take into consideration the question of permanent roadways in the business section, and in general street construction, and of the extension and improvement of the sewer system in the southern parts of the City. To both of these matters, I shall, if elected, give my earliest attention.

I am in favor of carrying out a policy of the strictest economy consistent with proper service in every department of the Municipal business.

As the time between now and Election Day is short it will be impossible for me to personally call upon every ratepayer; I therefore take this means and opportunity of soliciting for myself the honour of your vote and influence.

Wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year,

I am,
Yours sincerely,

W. G. MORROW.

MILNER'S ACCIDENT ROBS THE UNIONISTS OF GOOD SPEAKER

'Fighting Joe's" Letters Have Not the Old Time Sting That They Need Just Now, and the Unionist Papers are Lamenting.

London, Dec. 30.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Unionists maintain that the Liberals have exhausted their budget ammunition and that the attacks on the Lords are falling flat, while, on the contrary, tariff reform is booming, even in Lancashire. Be this as it may, many Unionist hearts have undoubtedly emitted a sigh that, for a fortnight they could have the old-time Chamberlain. Especially is this the case now that Milner is hors-de-combat, as he is the most powerful advocate of tariff reform. Since he is absent from the field, the Unionist campaign is more than ever a "Soldiers' Battle."

Another prominent Tory paper yesterday laments the disparity between the parties in the matter of leaders and bitterly regrets that the Unionist chiefs "failed to follow the sagacious example of their opponents in making available for highest services those whose talents are not with birth and wealth."

Joseph Chamberlain's manifesto to his constituents breathes but little of the fire so dreaded by his opponents a few years back. He says, "I cannot think the budget will secure your support. It taxes unequally men of equal means and throws the whole burden of taxation on our own people, without even attempting to secure any contribution from foreigners. I believe its effect will be to lessen the amount of employment and thereby aggravate the distress already so bitterly felt."

He maintains that the Lords did not go beyond their duty in rejecting the budget and believes the time is ripe for tariff reform, because "we now have the opportunity of securing more largely the trade of our sister states and our colonies, which are willing to meet us if we consent to a reciprocal system equally advantageous to them and to us."

The present Government, in continuing free trade, actuated by prejudice alone. "If we throw away this opportunity," he says, "I do not think any other will come to us. We shall have lost altogether the chance which is now ours."

The great protagonist of a fiscal change also urges the danger of home rule and declares that the naval preparations are insufficient.

The campaign is in full swing. The Unionists endeavored to hold a great demonstration at Carnarvon, Wales, but the Chancellor's supporters reduced it to an uproar.

Walter Long strongly urged tariff reform and preference at Sleaford, while Lord Rothschild, in order to reassure the elderly voters, personally guaranteed all the old age pensions in Buckinghamshire, if the Unionists were returned to power. These pensions are one of the Liberals' strongest cards.

Postmaster-General Buxton and other Cabinet Ministers and lesser stars continued the Government's fight, emphasizing constitutional issue, advocating the budget proposals and ridiculing naval scares.

The writs will be issued that no polling will be possible before Jan. 15.

The Mail thinks the Unionists prospects, are good in the midlands, where the Liberals now hold 44 seats and the Unionists 22.

The Express says that of the present Labor members, 14 held safe seats, 14 are doubtful and 15 will lose.

The Liberal press is pulling the leg of The Times. One paper criticises its Toronto correspondent for saying pretty plainly that the increasing preponderance of foreign population in the Canadian West cannot be kept loyal to the Empire unless it is given a bribe in the shape of a tax on the food of the people of Great Britain. This, it says, is imperial thinking which one may believe has slandered the people of Canada, to characterize it adequately.

Another paper remarks that its mammoth supplement published Tuesday, to the glorification of South America, than which, The Times says, fewer portions of the globe offer richer reward to the capitalists, is a hint to the judicious to accelerate that exodus of British capital which the tariff reformers lament, couple with The Times' undisguised pride in the fact that British capital has had a great deal to do with the development of Latin America. This is all amusedly pointed out.

At Rugby, Lord Salisbury said he thought that it was a pity to have two elected bodies to govern the country. An independent body was wanted with a great sense of responsibility in doing its utmost to interpret the wishes of the country.

PRIVATIONS OF ONE FAMILY

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—A terrible story of distress from the silver country has been brought out by miners who came down Lake Temiskaming on the last boat. On board were three small children named Lamarche, who were being taken to a Montreal orphanage by a Quebec gentleman surveyor, who found them in a shack near a settlement called Fabre. The father had gone in search of work, the mother was insane, and the grandmother in a dying condition. There was no food in the place, and the hut was also devoid of a floor or door. The family was in a half-frozen and starved condition when found.

C. W. MORSE MUST GO TO PRISON

New York, Dec. 30.—Judge Hough of the United States Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon denied the motion for a new trial for Charles W. Morse, who is now in the Tombs under sentence for having violated the national banking laws.

The motion for a new trial was made on the ground that some of Mr. Morse's jurors were not fit to pass upon questions presented.

Morse will now have to begin serving a term of fifteen years' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., unless his counsel can find ground for a further move to postpone execution of sentence.

CLERICAL ORGAN IS MUCH PAINED

Montreal, Dec. 30.—L'Action Sociale, the Quebec clerical organ, is much scandalized at the fact of leading men in this city attending the funeral of Dr. Cote, who has persistently refused to receive a priest at the time of his last illness. L'Action Sociale is not at all surprised to find the names of Free Masons in the funeral cortege, but it refers to the pious Senator David, two professors of the Catholic University at Laval, Judge Lafontaine, H. Gervais, M.P., Judges St. Pierre and Choquette, and also to several journalists.

"Nothing can justify," says L'Action Sociale, "either before God or man, the fact of a Christian voluntarily participating in a public injury organized underhandedly against the Church of God."

OAKVILLE MAN WAS KILLED BY TREE

North Bay, Dec. 30.—At Temagami station on the T. and N.O. Railway, William Anderson, miner and prospector, who owns a mine at Doherty, eight miles from Temagami, had just purchased a ticket for Oakville, where he was going to visit his parents, and made a rush for the train, which was already in motion. He missed the step and fell under the wheels, dying in a short time.

SUIT IS ENTERED AGAINST CANDIDATE

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—Something of a sensation was sprung yesterday by the issuance of a writ against Dr. S. N. Parent, one of the French-Canadian candidates for the board of control, by A. E. Lussier, who, on behalf of Napoleon Gougeon, claims $2,000 damages for neglect of professional services requested.

Gougeon declares that Parent did not respond to a call to the bedside of Gougeon's wife, who died as the result of this alleged neglect of professional duty.

Dr. Parent declares that he was never called, and that the writ is a plan to injure his candidature. He offers to give $5,000 to charity if it can be shown that he refused to attend the dying woman.

YOUNG MAN WAS TOO BASHFUL TO LIVE

Toledo, Dec. 30.—Lonesome, although at home with his parents, and in the midst of a city, because his abnormal bashfulness prevented him from having chums and companions like other young men, Henry Welte, aged 22, a teamster, shot himself yesterday with fatal result.

In a note, begging his parents's forgiveness, he said "I am so bashful I always have to stay in the house I could not stand it any longer."

HAS NO USE FOR MODERN LANGUAGES

Ithaca, N.Y., Dec. 30.—"What is the use of retaining the study of German and French and other modern foreign languages? What are the grounds for maintaining them? If you exclude college and university teachers, probably not one in 500 who have learned the languages will ever use them or could if they were called upon to do so."

President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell University suggested the radical change in college curriculum implied in the above words, in speaking before the convention of the Modern Language Association of America here yesterday.

DIDN'T GET HER; SUIT FOR $10,000

Winnipeg, Dec. 30.—As the result of a practical joke played by Geo. Moore, a well-known Winnipeg man, on August Brandis, a wealthy farmer of Toulin, Man., the latter has instituted a suit against Moore for $10,000 damages. It appears that Moore promised to get Brandis a wife, who he said was a rich widow worth $50,000. Brandis came to Winnipeg, but the widow failed to materialize, hence the suit.

LADY NAYLOR LEYLAND

London, Dec. 30.—Lady Naylor-Leyland, who has arrived at Claridge's Hotel from her place, Nantelwyd Hall, in Denbighshire, on her way to Egypt for a portion of the winter, is the American woman who as Miss Jenny Chamberlain was so celebrated for her blonde beauty in London society all through the decade of 1880-1890, and is still one of the most popular women in society. Besides her beauty, she has always been noted for her brilliancy in conversation and the springliness of her wit. As a sample of her powers in this respect Mr. T. P. O'Connor in this week's M. A. P. recalls a story which he thinks may be forgotten by many of her contemporaries in the days of her girlhood.

"Among the legion of young men who followed in her train was a certain youthful Englishman, who had for several years been seeking his fortune in the Western States, but had failed, a rich uncle making him his heir in the nick of time. When he heard Miss Chamberlain was an American he professed to know all about America and asked what State she came from.

"Wishing to test his great knowledge, which she doubted, she said, 'If I were to describe it to you, do you think you would be able to tell?' 'Rather,' he answered. 'Well, then, it is high in the middle and has nothing at either end.'"

It used to be said that the young man was still at work studying the topography of all the States, but hadn't yet found the solution. Of course, Ohio has nothing at either end, and has "hi" in the middle.

AGED MAN WAS STRUCK BY A STREET CAR

Toronto, Dec. 30.—Concussion of the brain, sustained by being struck by a street car at Bloor street and Rusholme road, at 4.45 yesterday afternoon, will probably result in the death of Arthur Gayser, aged 70, of 242 Havelock street. He also sustained internal injuries and cuts on both temples, which required ten stitches to close.

Mr. Gayser left a car at Bloor and Rusholme and walked behind it. A Bloor and McCaul car was coming from the west and he stepped in front of it. The car struck him, knocking him to one side. Witnesses carried the man into Dr. R. S. Conboy's office and, after he was attended temporarily, from there he was taken to the Western Hospital. His condition is regarded as being critical.

Died From Exposure.

Waterford, Dec. 30—A coroner's jury last night decided that William Schram accidentally wandered into the river while under the impression that he was on the road for home and that he died from exposure and not from drowning.

CARDINAL FRANCIS SATOLLI.

Rome, Dec. 30.—The condition of Cardinal Francis Satolli has grown suddenly worse through the complication of blood poisoning with the nephritis from which he had suffered. Receiving a cablegram from Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Farley the prelate commented:—"My American friends give me my last consolation."

TORONTO INQUEST DEVELOPS SOME ELEMENTS OF MYSTERY

Inquiry Into Death of James Moore, an Irishman, Shows That He Succumbed to Injuries Too Serious to Have Been Accidental.

Toronto, Dec. 30.—Contradictory evidence was given at the continuation of the inquest on James Moore, who was found dead at 144 Peter street, Dec. 22, at the morgue last night.

Mrs. Isabella Slater, proprietor of the rooming-house, said she heard a thud about 3 o'clock in the morning, which sounded as though someone fell downstairs. She thought Moore fell from the top to the bottom without striking any of the intermediate steps. She then heard Moore's voice say: "Oh Lord." Then she thought she heard Hope, the man with whom he roomed, drag him upstairs to his bed. She heard no quarreling, but heard the two men talking for the next two hours.

Dr. Fred Winnett, who made the post mortem examination, said four ribs were fractured and each was broken in two places. The man's liver had been lacerated by the blow. He described it as having been pounded into a pulp. The tearing of the liver caused a hemorrhage. He thought a broad, padded body caused the wound. Why he thought it was padded was because there were no abrasions. He did not think it could have been caused by a fall downstairs. It could have been caused by falling on a banister. A man could have inflicted the wound with his knee. He did not think the man could have lived more than fifteen minutes after receiving the injury. He swore that in his opinion the man could not have lived over half an hour after having been hurt.

Mrs. Slater interjected that she heard Moore groan and say, "Oh, God," every time he moved for the two hours subsequent to the thud.

Charles Haslam, a roomer there, said he heard a thud which sounded like a man falling out of bed. He heard talking and it sounded as though it came from their room.

Wm. Kohr, another roomer, heard a thud which awakened him. He said the sound came from the room occupied by deceased and his friend. The noise sounded as though a man fell from the bed. He heard someone say, "Oh Lord," and then someone said, in a kindly tone of voice, "Come on and get back to bed."

Mrs. Conn, 112 Peter street, said Moore had a wife and three children in Ireland.

Hope, the man who was living with Moore, and who disappeared the morning of the death, has not been heard from since. The police are endeavoring to locate him. The enquiry was adjourned until Jan. 7, to enable them to find Hope.

Dr. John T. Clarke was the coroner and T. L. Monahan appeared for the crown.

SUBMARINE SAVE SAILORS' LIVES

Toulon, Dec. 30.—The submarine Cigogone performed a remarkable life-saving feat during a recent storm. The boat was practically diving in the open sea, when the commander saw a large fishing boat suddenly overwhelmed and sunk.

The submarine immediately dived right under the fishing craft, of which the mast head alone was above water. The valves were operated quickly and the Cigogone rose to the surface, lifting the boat and holding it above water long enough to take off the crew.

GLADSTONE CENTENARY

Special Commemorative Services are Held All Over the World.

London, Dec. 30.—The centenary of the birth of William Ewart Gladstone was commemorated yesterday, not only in the land of his birth, but in countries like Greece, the Balkans and Armenia, whose peoples still cherish the memory of the statesman's exertions in their behalf.

Many foreign delegations joined in services which were held at Westminster. At Hawarden, where Mr. Gladstone died, on May 19, 1898, and at other points throughout the country largely attended memorial meetings were held.

The statue of Gladstone in the Strand was fairly hidden beneath floral offerings that had come from all parts of the world, while his tomb in Westminster Abbey was covered with tributes, including a large solid silver wreath received from the Government of Bulgaria.

At New York.

New York, Dec. 30.—Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador, delivered to a large audience in Carnegie Hall Tuesday night, an address in commemoration of William E. Gladstone. The meeting was arranged by the civic forum. J. P. Morgan, Jacob H. Schiff and Mrs. Russell Sage were present. Former Mayor Seth Low presided.

"Gladstone," wrote President Taft, "has been one of my heroes."

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Ex-President Zelaya of Nicaragua is now in Mexico City.

Montreal coroners have investigated over 800 deaths this year.

The Montreal Herald estimates 4,800 cases of typhoid fever now in that city.

Peary's friends are arranging a big demonstration for him in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, on Feb. 8.

The British Government will establish a wireless telegraph system in Australia, New Zealand and the Figi Islands.

Roy Saunderson, aged 19, escaped from the Mimico Industrial School, is under arrest at London, charged with theft.

Girl shortwaist strikers in New York have issued a newspaper setting forth their grievances and are selling copies on the streets.

William Clenahan of Kingston has been presented with a watch and chain for having not missed Sunday school once in 14 years.

Roy McKinney, aged 23, of Indianapolis, shot and killed Dora Chappell, aged 18, a waitress at Peru, Ind., and then killed himself.

A claim that his wife has negro blood is the base of a suit for annulment of marriage brought by W. S. Horton, a prosperous contracting plumber of New York.

Forty-five hundred motormen and conductors employed on the street car lines controlled by the public service corporation of New Jersey are to receive an increase in salary of a cent an hour.

For twenty minutes Mrs. Mary Johnston of London, Ont., struggled for her life with William Nicholls, a boarder, who came home drunk and had a big six-shooter in his possession. In court he was fined $15.

PROBABILITIES.

Friday southwesterly winds, fair and milder.

WON'T SEND OUT SEALERS

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 30.—In view of the decision of the Canadian Government to adjudicate an international agreement embracing Britain, America, Russia and Japan for the suppression of pelagic sealing, the Victoria Sealing Co., at its annual meeting yesterday, decided to send out none of the vessels of its fleet next season. Upwards of sixty schooners will consequently be idle.

CANADA REALLY INDEPENDENT

New York, Dec. 30.—Before the American Historical and Political Science Association, yesterday, Prof. G. M. Wrong of the University of Toronto, declared that Canada, to all intents and purposes, was a free country, and could break her ties with the Mother Country without a struggle, with the people of Canada hardly knowing a change had been taking place.

Crows Stealing Corn.

Chatham, Dec. 30.—Crows have been eating hundreds of bushels of corn in Harwich, Raleigh, and Dover Townships and the scene is now being visited by C. W. Nash, director of the biological department of the Ontario Legislature.

Aged Couple Die Together.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 30.—At Carlingford, in Carleton County, Richard Everett, aged 80, died in his chair. Within 15 minutes his wife, aged 80, also died in her chair. They had been married 60 years. Their son died a month ago.

HALF OF BUSINESS PART OF THESSALON DESTROYED

Loss to Town Near the Soo Will be in the Neighborhood of a Hundred Thousand Dollars—Galt Bookstore is Badly Wrecked.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 30.—As a result of a disastrous fire at Thessalon, starting at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, about half of the business section is now in ruins.

The fire started in the Wilson Printing Co.'s office from an unknown cause and spread rapidly both ways. Most of the business houses were constructed of wood, and although no wind was blowing the flames met practically no opposition, although the fire brigade, assisted by those of Saginaw and Thessalon Lumber Companys, fought valiantly. The town has but recently installed a water service and yesterday's fire proved that it was a boon to the place, otherwise the entire town would have gone up.

The loss is figured by insurance men last night at $100,000, and may largely exceed this figure. Many Soo insurance men are interested, but no statement of risks carried can be obtained until the ruins have been inspected.

Business houses destroyed are: Wilson Printing Co.; Argue's gents' furnishings; Loonis' candy store; Flesher's tobacco store and poolroom; Bateman's clothing store; Fulton's butcher shop; White's barber shop.

Galt Book Store Burned.

Galt, Dec. 30.—Frank Austen, book, stationery and fancy goods store in the Buchanan block was completely gutted by fire yesterday; loss $8,000.

The fire originated in the basement and made rapid progress after the firemen forced the windows to get access to the fire, which appeared to be located near the hot air furnace among most combustible materials. The contents of the store were valued at $8,000, and are a total loss. They were insured for $6,500, as follows: Economical, $1,000, Anglo-American, $2,000; Montreal Canada, $2,000; Wellington, $1,500. The loss to building, about $300, is covered by insurance. Brown & Tait, hardware merchants and Oak Hall Clothing, the adjoining stores on either side, suffered slightly from smoke.

Barn Burns.

Deseronto, Dec. 30.—A barn, owned by William Brown, and containing two hundred bushels of grain, one hundred bushels of roots and one cow, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Loss estimated at $1,000; insurance $400.

Gas Meter Exploded.

Kingston, Dec. 30.—An overheated furnace in the drygoods house of Crumley & Co. caused the blowing up of a gas meter and a fire, which caused $5,000 damage.

Lincoln Museum Burned.

Danville, Ills., Dec. 30.—The old war museum, where President Lincoln had his office when he was riding the circuit, as an attorney, burned yesterday. The museum contained many valuable relics.

96 Head of Cattle Burned.

Kingston, N.Y., Dec. 30.—The large cattle barns of R. Hume, near Hobart, were burned yesterday, with ninety-six head of cattle.

NEW DENTAL COLLEGE HAS BEEN OPENED

Toronto, Dec. 30.—Lieut.-Governor Gibson formally opened the new building of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons at the corner of Huron and College streets yesterday afternoon in the presence of a distinguished gathering of university professors, members of the dental and medical professions and friends of the college, among whom were quite a number of ladies. His honor referred to the superior class of practitioners of to-day compared to those of the early days of the college.

COL. M. D. DAWSON HAS PASSED AWAY

London, Ont., Dec. 30.—The death took place yesterday afternoon of Col. M. D. Dawson, who from 1884 to 1907 was paymaster and superintendent of military stores in this district. He was born in New Brunswick in 1838, and came to London in 1851, where, except from 1855 to 1861, he resided continuously. He was secretary of St. John's Masonic Lodge for over 40 years, and was also prominent in the Oddfellows and Workmen. He was married in 1859 to Miss Eliza Jane Hannah of St. John, N.B., who died in 1867, leaving two children, Charles and Leilias. Col. Dawson married a second time in 1869, to Miss Rebecca Jane Hearn of Montreal, and of four children, Louis H., Mabel G. and Melville survive.

Watchnight Service at St. Luke's

There will be a watchnight service in St. Luke's church to-morrow night at eleven o'clock. The service will be an interesting one.

"THE MAN THAT BROKE THE BANK"

London, Dec. 30.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A Monte Carlo despatch says: The most sensational play for some time occurred yesterday, when a French Canadian, Grousier, accompanied by an Italian, won $115,000 at roulette, staking the maximum of $4,000 "on the dozens." He then lost $112,000, but recovered it again and the bank was replenished several times.

NEW BRUNSWICK IS PROSPEROUS

Fredericton, N.B., Dec. 30.—The provincial financial statement for the past fiscal year was published yesterday in The Royal Gazette, and shows ordinary expenditures of $1,255,281, as compared with $1,043,196 last year, while receipts show a big increase, and amount to $1,259,886, leaving a balance of about $4,000.

ITALIAN WAS BURIED ALIVE

Hamilton, Dec. 30.—Benimia Rubis, 19 years of age, an Italian, met a horrible death at the steel plant last evening, when he was buried alive by a landslide of iron ore. He was engaged in unloading ore, and was buried under a big heap that gave away. His companions made desperate efforts to release him and just as they had almost succeeded the pile slid again and he was buried a second time. When the ore was removed he was dead.

Peter McCowell, South Garth street, who fell downstairs Sunday evening, is in a critical condition.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Once Millionaire; Dies In Poor House.

Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 30.—Gilbert Noble, once the richest man in Pueblo, with a fortune of $1,000,000, died yesterday at the county poor farm. He was lavish with his money, and at the time of his death had only an interest in a mine which was tied up in litigation.

Will Contest Election.

Montreal, Dec. 30.—The Nationalists held a meeting yesterday and decided to contest the election of Mr. Robillard in St. James, who defeated Mr Laflamme some weeks ago in the election for the Legislature.

Those Who Go to Jail.

Washington, Dec. 30.—There are 683 persons out of every 100,000 of the population arrested and lodged in jail each year, according to census bureau figures just made public.

Morrisburg's Suffragist.

Morrisburg, Dec. 30.—Especial interest attaches to the municipal campaign in Morrisburg, as a woman, Mrs. Wingard, is a candidate for the board of education. She has been brought out by the Women's Institute.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 30.—Eleven Newfoundland schooners and their crews of 60 men, are believed to have been lost in the Christmas blizzard.

Doctors Prolong Patients' Illness.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Charges that some physicians deliberately prolong the period of illness of patients in order to increase their income are made by Dr. Joseph S. Neff, director of the Department of Health and Charities, who offers this reason for the increase in diphtheria for the present year. He says they neglect to use anti-toxin.

A New York Deluge.

New York, Dec. 30.—More than five million gallons of water were used by firemen yesterday in a seven-hour fight with a blaze, which gutted the six storey lift building at 214-218 Sullivan street. At times 13,500 gallons of water a minute deluged the structure from 27 lines of hose under the new high pressure system.

Drama to Boom Suffragism.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—The gospel of "votes for women" will be spread through Illinois by means of the drama. Three companies are on the point of being organized in Chicago for amateur performances of plays dealing with suffrage.

Killed While Walking Track.

Niagara Falls, Dec. 30.—Charles Stewart, a section man, found the frozen body of a man alongside the G.T.R. tracks, four miles west, yesterday afternoon, which was identified as that of Arthur Bell, aged 25, son of Joseph Bell, fruitgrower of St. Davids, who started Tuesday night to walk the track and was presumably hit by some train.

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, DEC. 30, 1909.

A FEW WORDS

Why is it that so many journals in debating Free Trade and protection ignore the fundamental and palpable truth that prices depend on the amount of cash, or credit-backed-by-cash on hand to buy with? Where the medium of exchange is tied up too tight barter again will follow. But where the present medium of exchange is the basis of sale and purchase, goods and services are dear or cheap accordingly as we have plenty of money or the reverse. Price does not depend on the supply of the article itself. It only appears to do so, and it is this fallacy that gets the Globe and other doctrinaire journals into such frightful inconsistencies. The philosophy of trade should follow the Baconian system and substitute facts as a basis for its present theory. The cart is put before the horse by such journals and gives the whole Grit procession the appearance of a general back-up. This is why the Globe sees in protection the frightful, ravening monster which nevertheless, it embraces and profits by.

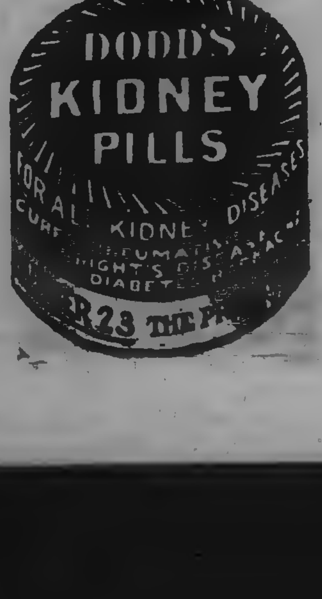
AN ANSWER

Peterborough Review: — "Hurrah! for Whitney! He still adheres to his plan of protecting Canadian industries. A Swedish firm was the lowest tenderer recently for hydro-electric work, but as on a former occasion, Sir James gave it to a Canadian firm."

Why should we hurrah for what is reported to have been done in this case? There is a tariff protection of 27 1-2 and 30 per cent. against imported electrical appliances. If a Swedish firm can overcome this obstacle and still underbid a Canadian Canadian firm on an electrical contract, why should the bid be refused? Why should future users of electrical energy, to be suppplied by the provincial line, be compelled to pay double toll on construction account—first in the form of a Dominion tariff, and secondly in a provincial policy which in effect says "No foreigners need apply!"—The Weekly Sun.

The Sun is a keen observer of events and a candid reasoner. Its present question is a fair one and fairly we shall try to answer it.

To buy of Sweden, caeteris paribus, because it is cheaper, would mean that the electrical industry would go out of Canada to Sweden. To buy where-ever cheapest would mean the same in all things in all countries. To exist as a country or people Canada would have to compete in cheapness. To do so would mean the lowering of wages and the consequent disturbance of satisfactory conditions in Canada. This would mean a change, sacrifice and upsetting on our part that would spell ruin of Canada, her nationality, system of government, social customs, etc. If we do not want that we must be prepared to preserve them. That can be done only by making some sacrifice and that sacrifice is in paying a higher price. But it is worth it. No one ever denied that F. T. is in theory immaculate just as is the case with other forms of freedom. But when war (trade or otherwise) is afoot it is necessary also to cry "Havoc!" and to "let loose the dogs." To do otherwise or in other words to fail to PROTECT is lunacy, not learning or wisdom.



CARDINAL VANNUTELLI

To Canadian Catholics the coming of Cardinal Vannutelli as the Special Envoy Extraordinary of His Holiness the Pope, to preside over the great Eucharistic Congress to be held in Montreal in June, is an affair of the first magnitude. Indeed, it is a visit which will attract widespread attention, not only in Canada, but the world over. Canada has already at Ottawa a papal legate, who ranks equal with the Pope's embassador at Washington.

The coming visit of an especial envoy outranking the legate is next to a visit from the Pope himself. Canada has been lately raised from the no-rank condition of a missionary wilderness by the papal authorities, to that of being a regular member of the papal empire. It has been brought within the sphere of the immediate spiritual control and solicitude of the wearer of the triple crown. The eucharistic congress held within a twelvemonth in London, it will be remembered, aroused intense interest and irritation. It was regarded by the British as an attempt to show that Great Britain at heart favoured the return of the ancient religion. It will be remembered that the hostility of the people became so great as to preclude the carrying out of the programme. Canada, however, has a larger proportion of the faithful than has England, and Montreal is largely Catholic. This will enable the Roman authorities to carry out their magnificent and impressive programme without let or hindrance, and it will emphasize, no doubt, in the minds of the Canadian people the power and prestige of the Roman hierarchy.

The only united body of Christians in Canada is the Roman Catholic Church. Protestants do not regard union as desirable. They allege that all stand united in the eye of God, and that that is enough. Their motto is, strangely enough, identical with that of the papal Zouaves, "Love God and Go Thy Way."

It is not so, however, with the Church of Rome. It claims infallibility with regard to morals (as well as faith) which means the moral, social, political, etc., well-being of mankind, or, in other words, ALL that concerns the faith and the triumph of the faith. It is, therefore, necessary that such a body should be one, and undivided, in order that people should be duly impressed with the power and actual existence of a church which in actual, physical being, arbitrates and decides in all that is (ethically) human, as well as divine. Practically the Church of Rome is, on earth, all in all. Every other branch of human affairs is regarded by it as, of course, secondary and subsidiary. Throughout the body politic, as the state is usually termed, must run, therefore, the nerve-system of the church, in order that it may know what is going on, and what action should be taken by it in regard to "morals." The success of the church depends upon its domination of the affairs of the world. The full fruition of its infallibility in this branch could only be brought about by its success in this regard. If it did not have its infallible way in this respect it would be depriving it of the use of its left arm, for while perfection in the interpretation of the will of God may be taken as its right arm, perfection in the knowledge and direction of the morals and conduct of mankind and obedience to its admonitions may be taken as its left arm. It claims thus a temporal power that is absolute and covers the world. This latter power has received a setback in France, as well as in Italy. But Canada is a new and a more promising field. It remains to be seen if the people of Canada prefer the rule of the church to the rule of the people in human affairs, for this is now the real question in France. The progress of the church in Canada has been, of late years, phenomenal. Romanists differ on every subject but one, the triumph of their faith. They present a united and powerful front in comparison with which the mere numerical superiority of opponents is nothing. It is but the disordered elements of a horde in the face of a well-trained army. The struggle between the Church and its enemies is the struggle for the supreme control of the people. Democracy, as a ruling power, must, according to the tenets of the Church, bow before it and except its orders from it in all important particulars. Since the papal encyclical of a few years ago, the "army of the Lord" has moved out against the hordes of Satan, and a conflict is now impending that will shake the world. The Montreal Star's reference to the Cardinal is of interest:

"For all these functions it was needful to have a diplomatist of the most accomplished kind; they gave Vincenzo Vannutelli ample occasion for proving himself a churchman versed in all these arts of statesmanship for which the Sacred College has ever been noted. To a faculty for conciliating cosmopolitan interests, and for threading his way through the most difficult questions of diplomacy, Cardinal Vannutelli adds the attractions of a singularly commanding presence and prepossessing manner, which has ensured for him great popularity in Rome. There he is a well known and familiar figure, and he is ever ready to impart his blessing to the waiting crowds who throng round his carriage. That he will be a persona gratissima among Canadian Catholics goes without saying."

MONKEY ROBS POLICEMAN

New York—Adam Ward, an attendant at Roche's bathing pavilion, Far Rockaway Beach, was looking in the dressing rooms after the bathers had gone, when he found a monkey dressed in a red bathing suit. Ward took the monkey to the police station.

After the doorman had locked up the monkey, the lieutenant on duty missed a fifty cent piece that he had in his waistcoat pocket. The money was found in the monkey's jacket.

When one is robbed of money, it may be a misfortune; but when one is robbed of health, it is a calamity.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The British Government is evidently trying hard to keep Sir Wilfrid in line with the empire which he repudiates.

"Canada's British preference was adopted primarily for the benefit of Canada, and the Dominion has been the chief beneficiary. Britain's policy will no doubt always be designed primarily in her own interest also."—The Toronto Globe.

This is Globe logic. How on earth can a tax paid by the importer (consumer) as the Globe always contends, be a preference? The thing is absurd or else the Globe is. Take your pick.

Montreal has a movement on for the earlier closing of saloons. This movement is being met by the extraordinary "arguments" that blind pigs, etc., will be the result. If the Blind Pig is going to rule us in this fashion it is high time we looked to it. That it does not do so already, then, must be that it is satisfied with present conditions. A pig is not exactly a worthy standard of civilisation but a blind pig seems to be even less so. However, a poor argument is usually accounted to be better than none.

Berlin, Dec. 28.—Dr. I. Potter, an eminent German physician, has been making some interesting observations regarding the stature of individuals and the relation that exists between height and talent and genius. The doctor finds that not only persons with considerable talent, but the geniuses of the world have all been of medium size or less.

Among statesmen he points out Attila, Cromwell, Frederick II., Napoleon, Gambetta, Thiers—all of whom were of very small stature. Jesus Christ, too, the doctor says, according to the Talmud, was built on small proportions; so was Paul. Among the great artists the short men were Raphael, Michael Angelo, Titian, Leonardo da Vinci and Menzel; among the musicians, Richard Wagner, Handel, Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, Brahms. Nearly all the poets were of small stature, particularly Dante, Horace, Petrarch, Boccacco, Tasso, Victor Hugo and Heine. So were Cervantes and Rousseau.

DANGEROUS DANDRUFF

Will Make Canada a Baldheaded Nation if Not Checked

M. Pasteur, the great French Physician of Paris, once said; "I believe we shall one day rid the world of all diseases caused by germs."

Dandruff is caused by germs, a fact accepted by all physicians.

Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistency worthy of a better cause, there would be no baldness.

Parisian Sage will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back.

Wm. Madill guarantees it. It will stop itching scalp, falling hair and make the hair grow thick and abundant.

It puts life and lustre into the hair and prevents it from turning gray.

It is the hair dressing par excellence, daintily perfumed and free from grease stickness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair.

A large bottle costs only 50 cents at leading druggists everywhere, and in Peterborough by Wm. Madill. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

PETERBORO MAN VISITED BY FIRE

Bookstore in Galt Under Management of R. Wescott, Formerly of This City, Destroyed

Galt, Ont., Dec. 30.—This year's good fire record for Galt, shown in a loss of but a few hundred dollars, was offset at three o'clock this morning, when fire destroyed the Austin bookstore, Main street, entailing a loss of probably $10,000. The owner is C. Austin, and the store was under the management of R. Westcott, late of Peterborough. Thomas Buchanan owns the building, and has already sent in a handsome check to the fire chief in recognition of the work of the brigade.

The insurance of the stock was $6,500. The loss on the building of $1,500 was covered by insurance.

The C. N. R. will build a hotel in Brandon.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Easy—United States Markets Quiet and Steady.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—London cables for cattle are dull, at 12c to 13c per lb. for live cattle, dressed weight; Liverpool depressed, ½c to 1c lower at 11½c to 12c per lb; refrigerator beef dull and lower.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Since the close of navigation from this port, business in export live stock cargoes has been very quiet, as export cattle thruout the country are scarce. Steamship agents are finding it difficult to fill ocean freight space from Portland and St. John, N.B., even at the low rates ruling, while from American ports it is offering at 20s to Liverpool, without meeting with takers. The run of northwest ranch cattle is now about over for this year, and what few lots are coming forward are in most cases being sold on the local market, realizing much better prices than in foreign markets on account of the scarcity of good domestic cattle for home consumption. A recent shipment of northwest ranch cattle of 300 head, which was made to the Liverpool market, lost the exporter $12 per head, altho they only cost on the ranch 4¼c per lb. The tone of the market here is strong and prices are steadily tending towards a higher level on account of the temporary scarcity, but it is stated by exporters that the present high values will no doubt induce farmers to sell their stall-fed stock before they are half finished. In fact, contracts have already been made for them in some districts at 6c per lb. in the stalls.

At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning offerings were 800 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 400 hogs and 100 calves. There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle. Choice steers sold at 5¾c; good, at 5½c to 5¾c, fair, at 4¾c to 5c; medium, at 4¼c to 4½c, and cows and bulls, 3c to 4½c per pound.

In small meats there was an increased strength for hogs and prices scored a further advance of 25c per cwt., attributed to the keen demand from packers and small receipts. An active trade was done at $9.25, weighed off the cars for selected lots, the highest price in 30 years. In sheep and lambs trade was quiet on account of small offerings. Sheep sold at 4½c and lambs at 6¼c per lb. The demand for calves was good at from $3 to $12 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 29.—Cattle unchanged.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2800 head; sheep, active and steady; lambs, slow and 10c to 15c higher; lambs, $5.25 to $8.80; Canada lambs, $8.40 to $8.60.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Beeves—Receipts, 3636; irregular; steers, $4.30 to $7; oxen, $4 to $6.25; bulls, $3.50 to $5.60; cows, $2.45 to $4.75; dressed beef, slow. Exports to-day, 2350 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 1282. Veals, steady; barnyard calves, quiet; westerns, steady; veals, $7.50 to $11.50; culls, $5.50 to $7; barnyard calves, $4 to $4.75; westerns, $4.50 to $4.75; dressed calves, steady to strong; city dressed veals, 11c to 16c; country dressed, 10c to 14½c; dressed barnyard calves, 8c to 10c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 3969; sheep, firm; lambs, steady; medium, slow; sheep, $3.50 to $5; culls, $2.50 to $3; lambs, $7.50 to $9; culls, $6 to $6.50; yearlings, $6 to $6.80.

Hogs—Receipts, 7972; firm at $9.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 12,000; market, steady; steers, $5 to $9; cows, $3.50 to $5; heifers, $3.00 to $6; bulls, $3.40 to $4.75; calves, $3 to $9.75; stockers and feeders, $3.75 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 28,000; market, steady; choice heavy, $8.65 to $8.75; butchers, $8.40 to $8.70; light mixed, $8.20 to $8.40; choice light, $8.20 to $8.40; packing, $8.30 to $8.55; pigs, $7.50 to $8.25; bulk of sales, $8.40 to $8.60.

Should Find Causes of Every Suicide.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 30.—The probing of every suicide, to determine the cause of the act, was advocated by Prof. J. G. Hume, of Toronto University, before the American Philosophical Association at Yale.

Prof. Hume claimed that realistic, sensational press accounts of harrowing details of unfortunate acts exert a morbid influence upon those struggling with the temptation of committing crime.

Paris to Improve.

Paris, Dec. 30.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday voted authorization to the Paris municipality to contract for a loan of 900,000,000 francs ($180,000,000), for an elaborate scheme of improvements, including the demolition of insanitary quarters, the construction of new streets, gardens and schools, and for changes in public works.

SMITH SCHOOL TEACHER HONORED BY HER PUPILS

On Monday evening of last week the many friends of Miss Winifred Purdy gathered at the home of Mr. Thomas Molvor, to express their regret at her departure from their midst and their appreciations f the excellent work work done by her in her office as teacher. After the guests were all assembled Miss Pudry was asked to take the seat of honor and Miss Olga Fowler read the following address. Miss Hazel Achison presented Miss Purdy with a beautiful sunburst of pearls and chain and watch fob.

The address was as follows;

Dear Teacher and Friend,—It is with the deepest sorrow and regret that we learn of your departure from us, and although we are unable to express in words the loss we are about to sustain we feel we cannot let the opportunity pass without uttering a few humble words in appreciation of you and your work.

You came to us but one short year and a half ago and during that time you were not only to us a most energetic, earnest and painstaking teacher, but you were one of our truest friends. By your kind words and actions you planted in our hearts a feeling of love towards you, which we cannot help but express. In our out of school difficulties you were a friend to whom we felt we could ever go for help and sympathy. In our rejoicings you rejoiced with us and in our misfortunes you felt for us. In short you were not only our teacher but you were one of our dearest friends. We feel that many times during your sojourn with us we were unkind and selfish to you, yet in all our unkindness and selfishness you repaid us with deepest love and affection.

Now, Miss Purdy, in behalf of the pupils and friends of School Section No. 1, Smith, we feel that we cannot let you go from among us without sending with you some small token of rememberance, which, although small, we hope will ever remind you of that large space you hold in the hearts and love of the boys and girls of our school. We therefore beg of you to accept this sunburst of pearls and chain watch fob, as a memento from your pupils here.

Signed on behalf of the scholars,

Hazel Ackinson
Alga Fowler.

Owing to circumstances Mr. Fred Oann, on behalf of the trustees, asked Miss Purdy not to reply.

After this games and refreshments were enjoyed and the many guests departed to their homes, after wishing Miss Purdy every success in the future and expressing their hope that she will not forget to visit her many warm friends in Smith.

THE LOCAL OPTION MOVEMENT IN THE CITY

The Matter Appearing in This Department is Furnished by the Peterborough Temperance and Moral Reform League, Which Has Arranged for its Publication.

REV. FATHER MINEHAN VS. THE BAR ROOM

Considers Local Option the Best Method of Fighting the Open Bar—Advises Ratepayers to Support It.

Rev. Father L. Minehan, pastor of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church in Toronto, was one of the speakers in favor of local option at the great Local Option meeting held in the Town Hall at Newmarket two weeks ago. His address was one of the most forcible and convincing ever delivered in that town.

Father Minehan attended the meeting, at great personal inconvenience, on the invitation of Rev. Father Whitney, of Newmarket, who is supporting the Local Option by-law at that point.

In ringing sentences of remarkable power Father Minehan fearlessly denounced the curse of drink, while through all he said ran the expression of tenderest Christian sympathy with all who suffered from the liquor traffic, and of charity towards those who misguidedly carried it on or patronized it. We have pleasure in presenting this great address almost in full. Father Minehan said in part, "Two reasons prevailed on me to accept Father Whitney's invitation to speak here. (1) My personal esteem for him, which has grown during an acquaintance of a quarter of a century. (2) My delight at seeing a confrere in the priesthood taking an active part in a campaign in favor of Local Option.

HELP THE HOTEL MAN

I am going to propose that the electors of Newmarket should say to the men who hold liquor licenses:

If your licenses are cut off, as we hope they shall be next January, we are willing in every way to help you to make a living independently of the most debasing and dangerous way of making a living under God's heaven—the bar-room.

We acknowledge that the bar-room has been associated with the hotel in the past because of upblic sentiment, and on that account we feel a certain amount of responsibility for such a state of affairs. We recognize that the change in public opinion is likely to inflict some hardship on you for the moment. We repudiate all denunciations of you as public enemies. Rather do we sympathize with you as victims of what we regard as a vicious public taste in the past.

And if you loyally accept the verdict of the electors, if you at their behest keep a hotel without a bar-room, or if you turn to some other line of business, we will do our best to make the transition from the old conditions to the new as easy for you as possible. And we can assure you that in ten years' time nobody shall have more reason than you to rejoice over the success of Local Option. You may not have as much money as would pass from the pockets of wage earners into your coffers over the counter of the bar-room, but the money you will have will not be money with the curse of blighted homes and ruined souls upon it; it will not be money which will leave behind it a trail of wastrelism and crime in your descendants.

Ultimately the greatest sufferers from the bar-room are the kith and kin of the proprietor. Woe to the family tree which has its roots in the liquor traffic.

These remarks will show that I have no animosity to the bar-keeper as an individual. I have pointed out that he is in many cases the victim of a vicious public sentiment in the past. Towards his business I have the profoundest antopathy. I have had an opportunity for many years to observe its operations at close range. And that experience has made me a thorough-going advocate of its abolition.

THE ARCH ENEMY OF LAW

Let me confirm what has been said concerning the drink curse as the arch-enemy of every law, divine and human, by the following quotation from the Toronto Globe of October 20th, 1909. There is an extract from the first editorial article of that issue entitled, "Crime and the Liquor Traffic."

Every day's report of Canadian happenings bring home to the public mind the inseparable connection between indulgence in intoxicating liquor and the committing of the most atrocious and revolting crimes. That relationship is seen to be one of cause and effect. Not that every man who drinks is a criminal. That is not true. But it is true that nearly every crime of violence, and very much of the misery and shame of life in connected, directly or indirectly with the liquor habit.

Take that striking record set forth is yesterday's issue of the Globe by Mr. F. S. Spence. He gave five cases reported within one week. The key-phrases in those reports were: (1) Shot and Killed, Drunken Quarrel, Imprisonment for life; (2) Murder—Both drinking freely; (3) Beaten his wife to death—Defence that he was drunk; (4) Murder—Both very drunk; (5) Suicide awaiting trial for murder of his wife when he was intoxicated.

That is a list gathered from one week's court reports. There are days when a list equally appalling could be gathered out of one name. And to the record of murder and crimes of violence there must be added a variety of other offences that also accompany or flow from the traffic in strong drink. The evil is everywhere. Plainly here is a question which will not down. Here is a reform which will not be buried.

ONE TERRIBLE INSTANCE.

To this scathing arraignment of the liquor habit let me add just one more bit of evidence from the columns of the Catholic Register of November 18th, 1909:

Some striking examples of heredity appear in contemporary literature. Russell, in "A Plea for Posterity," refers to the Jurke family. Frau Jurke was a chronic drunkard, who was born in 1740, and died in the year 1800. 709 of her 834 descendants were traced with the following results:—106 were illegitimate, 142 were beggars, 64 were charges of the State, 181 females were prostitutes, 69 were convicted of crime, and, all told, the descendants of this one dissolute and drunken woman cost the State during a period of 75 years a sum estimated at $1,250,000.

THE BAR-ROOM EVIL

For my part I do not believe that it will be necessary to go to the extent of prohibition. I believe that the spinal column of the liquor curse is the bar-room. Practically every drunkard with whom I have been brought in contact received his initiation in the bar-room, and graduated from that seminary of drunkenness.

It may be said that if you close the bar-room a man can bring liquor home and enter upon a debauch in his own home. Yes, he can; but the number of men who will swill at home is, according to my observation, very small, and their number will grow smaller as their nursery, the bar-room, is cut off, for they are mainly bar-room products. Rarely have I ever seen the police van drive up to the door of a home; whenever I see it on its gloomy errand it is generally going towards or coming from some bar-room. When I meet any member of my flock who has been on a spree, I almost invariably hear this confession: "Father, I did not intend to get drunk, but I met a few friends, and they pressed me to have a drink with them. I had to order my treat like the rest, and the moment we had two or three rounds of drink, we were all ready to sing 'We won't go home until morning.' And sure enough some of us did not go home until morning, or until well on to noon, for we found ourselves figuring in the daily parade of drunks that interview the police magistrate."

THE TREATING SYSTEM.

There we have in a nutshell the process of drunkard manufacture. The pernicious association of friendship with the social glass which has come down to us through generations is, notwithstanding the blessed revolution in public sentiment which has taken place in the past forty years, still strong in many quarters. Of all the senseless customs, that of duelling not excepted, which ever held mankind in slavery, the most destructive has been the "treating system."

Eliminate that system and you have practically cut off the power from the drunkard factory. Some little donkey-engine of a drinking dive may still continue to operate, some sots will yet continue to procure their favorite beverage by ways and means worthy of their habits, but the great machine shop with its inviting lights and its retinue of loafers waiting to be treated will be no longer running. With the bar closed the treating system is wiped out, and the main supply wire of the tank of intemperance with its awful output of ruined hearts and brains and homes and souls, will be severed.

MORE DANGEROUS THAN DIVES.

I know no more convincing testimony to the efficiency of the policy of closing the bar-room than the experience just given of Toronto. We are told that if men cannot slake their thirst at the bar-room they will have recourse to illicit dives and degrading expedients for getting liquor. Let me say in reply that I know many homes in Toronto blighted by the drink curse, and it is no to the illicit dives but to the bar-room that saddened wives and mothers attribute their misery. There will be no doubt a certain amount of illicit drinking when the bar-rooms are put out of business. Certain individuals will visit towns where Local Option is not in force and plunge into a prolonged debauch. Were the waters of Lake Superior to be diverted into the Mississippi river, our own St. Lawrence would not run dry immediately. After a disease has been conquered it takes some time to eliminate its poison from the blood. So we cannot expect to do away at once with the effects of centuries of drinking. Let Local Option get a fair trial, and it will convert, as it has in many cases converted, those who were at first its opponents into its warm friends.

PERSONAL LIBERTY.

But we are told that this policy of Local Option is an infringement of personal liberty. Personal liberty is dear to us all. For my part I wish to see personal liberty given the highest possible latitude consistent with the public good. Jealous regard for personal liberty must be conditioned by the public good. The man who wishes to exercise his public liberty to the detriment of his country is ignorant of the elementary principles of true liberty.

In this matter of zeal for personal liberty the advocates of the bar-room show a sense of humor which, if applied to comic opera, would make their fortune. A crazy individual named Coxey led an army of tramps to Washington some years ago, and Coxey's army became the joke of the continent. The music halls and comic operas made capital out of it for months. But just imagine a prosperous saloon-keeper leading an army of bar-room patrons beneath a banner inscribed inscribed with the motto: "We are the friends of personal liberty." As a side-splitting performance Coxey's army fades into insignificance beside this "Personal Liberty," on the lips of men who pander to the vilest slavery! What a joke! Aye, and what a profanation of that glorious word "Liberty" Methinks I see the eye of liberty blaze with indignation as she exclaims: "Do you dare to set up my throne in a bar-room and gather its besotted habitues round me as my supporters! If ever I come to such a place it will be to wipe it out, and try to deliver men from the thraldom of its slavery."

Personal liberty! I have known the personal liberty of a whole neighborhood to be seriously interfered with by one bar-room. Women and children did not want to pass it after dark, sidewalk reeked with expectoration. Young girls were insulted by bar-room roughs. Property all round was depreciated in value. On Saturday nights the eyes and ears of residents of the neighborhood were outraged by what they witnessed. The personal liberty cry in connection with the bar-room is indeed a huge joke or a huger insult.

But we are told that you cannot make men virtuous or sober by Act of Parliament. Neither can we make men prosperous by Act of Parliament, yet wise and progressive legislation has much to do with prosperity. The same is true of morality. By removing incentives to vice, and making the way of the transgressor hard, legislation can be and is a powerful aid to decency. And its value is not so much in the penalties it inflicts as in the educative influence it exercises."

God bless local option, I say. Its object is to do away with the most potent agency earth ever saw for the undoing of the Saviour's work. "Glory to God, peace to men"—did anyone ever hear this anthem issuing from a bar-room? Did anyone ever know a home to be made brighter by a bar-room, or a holy or generous thought to there find its inspiration? Ah, no; its best paid advocate cannot claim for it any affinity with heaven. Its affinities have been all in the other direction. It has tried and is trying to strangle the Babe of Bethlehem in His manger. It has blasphemed His adorable Name; it has shouted from the foot of the Cross, "Away with Him." It has torn from its hands forever innumerable souls whom He died to save.

Let us then, in His name, cast out from our midst His greatest enemy, the bar-room. Let us do it in His spirit. Let us bear in mind that it is in our midst because of a pernicious public opinion in the past. Let us acknowledge that society is responsible for its existence, and that those who conduct it deserve, in many cases, our sympathy, rather than our condemnation. Let this campaign be conducted in a spirit worthy of Him, would would not "break the bruised reed," who had a hard word for the sinner only when he was defiant. And if success crowns our efforts, as I trust and pray that it will, we can rest assured that when another year comes round, Christmas peace and joy shall brighten many hearts and homes to which they have long been strangers.

TO THE PUBLIC

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Some time ago it was stated by Mr. Laster, the writer of many letters in the city papers in opposition to the local option movement, that he did not represent the liquor interests in the city, and that he was paying for the insertion of this matter out of his own pocket. This was corroborated by one of the liquor dealers of this city. There is now information given by Mr. Laster himself, to the possession of the executive of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, to the effect that the cost of the insertion of these letters in excess of $63 is being paid for by the liquor interests. Mr. Laster has made this statement in the presence of witnesses, who are prepared to substantiate this statement.

CITY TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.

A NOTE OF WARNING

The President of the Temperance League desires to warn all friends of Local Option against the attempts that are being made by a pious looking old man to keep the lady voters from going to vote on January 3rd. The old codger leaves the impression that he believes in temperance, and seems quite concerned about the convenience of the ladies.

We need every single vote. A very large majority is required to carry the Local Option By-law, and we simply cannot do without your vote. Your vote may mean the vote of victory.

You will do good to the cause if you will secure this man's name and communicate it at once to the President. Tel. 685.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

SAID GOOD-BYE TO MEMBER WHO WAS DEPARTING

Mr. G. E. Bruce Presented With Signet Ring by B. A. C.—Left for Collingwood

The members of the B.A.C. and a number of friends gathered in the Knights of Pythias hall last night to bid goodbye to Mr. Ernest Bruce, who left to-day for Collingwood where he will be local manager for the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Bruce has been a member of the B.A.C. for two years and was one of the most popular members. As a mark of the esteem in which he is held he was signet ring engraved with the insignia of the order. The presentation was made by Dr. J. F. Middleton, who expressed the regret of the boys at the departure of Mr. Bruce and at the same time wished him success in his work at Collingwood. The departing member made a suitable reply in which he referred to his happy associations in Peterborough and his regret at leaving so many good friends.

Mr. David Moore also spoke a few words expressing regret at the departure of Mr. Bruce and read some original verses appropriate for the occasion.

The evening was spent in progressive euchre. Mr. W. Cochrane won the first prize and Mr. Bruce captured the "booby." The catering was done by Hooper.

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late William Gorman, of Cobalt, took place yesterday to the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Father Meagher officiated and the pall bearers were:—P. Kane, Jos. ALD. MORROW'S RALLY

Ald. Morrow had a row of notables as headliners at his rally last night. The Examiner says that one of his advantages is that he will have Senator Cox at his beck and call. Impliedly or inferentially if Ald. Morrow were defeated Senator Cox would get rusty and set back the city's clock. This sort of talk is "cheap and nasty." Senator Cox is no petty politician. He will not likely break into a passion on any such pretence. Mr. James Kendrey undoubtedly made a point when he charged Ald. Mason with being on the fence re Local Option v. License. But it is only fair to Ald. Mason to say that it should be understood that he believes that a chief magistrate should have no preference but the will of the people. Mr. Kendrey will put his accustomed energy into the "fight," and is not easily "licked." At the same time the betting depends upon the workingman's vote, and it is not certain that it will go to Ald. Morrow. The T.A.S., it is understood, will give him a majority, but that does not daunt the Masonites, whose motto is 'Down with the tax-rate!" Ald. Morrow is a man of keen business ability, and it will take a big vote to beat him. In paraphernalia he seems to have his opponents "going."

THE CHILDREN'S AID

Do not forget the little children, the waifs and wards of the Children's Aid Society, in the collections to be taken up next Sunday in the several churches. The amounts will be duly credited. The work has been heavy and hard this year. The society will need every dollar and every cent.

GREAT INCREASE IN APPLICATIONS

Mr. W. H. Hill has received the following message by wire from the superintendent of agencies of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada.

"W. H. HILL, Peterborough;

Supt. Agencies."

This is said to be the largest amount of applications and business ever transacted by a Canadian Co.

INTERFERED WITH OFFICER

Young Man Said He Did Not Wish to See His Pal Arrested—It Cost Him $5.75

It cost Fred Stevens $5.75 at the police court this morning for interfering with P.C. Newhall, while that officer was endeavoring to take one of his pals, who was intoxicated and sprawling all over the street, to the police station. Stevens and two other men, who had been working all night, had gone into a hotel, and as a result of several treats all round, they became intoxicated. On reaching the corner of Water and Simcoe streets about 9.30, one of the number fell down, and P. C. Newhall, who was looking out of the police station window at the time, went out to arrest the man. Stevens interfered and did not stop until he received a rap on the hand with a baton. Then he went up the street, but was shortly afterwards arrested.

To the magistrate he stated that his reason for so doing was on account of not wishing to see his pal arrested. He denied that he was intoxicated, although he admitted he had had the greater number of drinks. He was taking his friend home, but the sidewalk being slippery, caused him to fall.

This friend was in such a condition that he was not taken from his cell to the court room.

The magistrate gave Stevens ten days in which to pay the fine.

Case in Which Local People Were Concerned Settled at Osgoode

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Dec. 30—James Rose, of Peterborough, sued Mrs. Dunlop, of the same place, in the Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall, to compel her to fulfil a contract to buy a house. Mrs. Dunlop succeeded in showing that the lot was not as described. Rose lost his suit, but Mrs. Dunlop must pay rent for the house and premises for the time she was in possession.

FINAL REHEARSAL AT ST. JOHN'S

For Teachers and Pupils Christmas Party—Fairyland Stage Erected.

The final rehearsal for St. John's Teachers' and Scholars' Sunday School Christmas party took place this afternoon at two p.m.

The scholars are asked to assemble at 7.30 and the teachers at 7.15 p.m., in order to welcome their class members.

A number of children from the Barnardo Home have been invited, and will give a number on the programme. A fairyland stage has been erected and the party will have a right good time. The annual Sunday school concert is on Tuesday next.

Three new C.P.R. lines in the west are now open to traffic.

Important Rehearsal

The Charlotte street choir will hold a rehearsal on Thursday evening of this week, and every member is requested to be present at 7.30 sharp.

An Acknowledgement.

Mrs. P. J. Zettler wishes to thank her many friends for the sympathy extended to her in her sad bereavement, also for the many beautiful floral tributes.

Has Gone to Colborne.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, Rural Dean of Peterborough and Northumberland, left to-day for Colborne to be present at the opening of Trinity Parish House, which takes place this afternoon and evening.

Took Third Place.

In the report of the Collegiate Institute examinations in the Review yesterday Lester Pearson should have been credited with third place and a percentage of seventy-one in form 1D instead of fifth place. The error was made in compiling the results.

Deserved Promotion

Mr. Harry Soanes, formerly of the local branch of the Bell Telephone Co., and now connected with the Peterborough branch, has been promoted to the position of wire chief. Mr. Soanes entered the service of the company when quite young, and his advancement has been rapid. He has held for some time the position of inspector. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. J. Soanes, Victoria ave., and was a scholar of the local schools as well as the Collegiate Institute.—Lindsay Post.

T. A. S. "AT HOME" JANUARY 4TH

First Function of Social Club in the New Year—Progressive Euchre.

In a social sense the Social Club of the T. A. S. will welcome the New Year by an "At Home" at the society's rooms on Tuesday evening, Jan. 4th.

Owing to the large crowd that invariably attends these functions the guests are asked to bear in mind the fact that the "At Home" will be held at 8.15 o'clock.

Excellent prizes for progressive euchre will be given and refreshments will be served. An interesting programme of music will be a pleasant feature of the evening.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. H. CLUXTON

There passed away at her residence, Bobcaygeon, on Monday evening, the wife of W. Henry Cluxton, formerly of Peterborough, of cardiac paralysis following severe attack of pneumonia. The deceased lady was well and most favorably known and the community generally will sympathise with Mr. Cluxton in his extremely sad bereavement.

TO THE ELECTORS

OF THE

City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have been nominated for the third time for Alderman and desire to put before you my views regarding the accepted methods of election of candidates.

I am personally opposed to any canvass being made as it places the elector in an embarassing position. If you know a candidate soliciting support, you do not wish to hurt his feelings by refusing him. You may promise support, but have the impression that he will not make a suitable representative. On election day you will keep your word, against your better judgment, or you do not vote as promised, which position you are forced into by the soliciting of candidates for support.

I have been nominated, and if elected, will give the best of my ability to the work of the city. It is for the electors to say. AS I DO NOT INTEND TO CANVASS. If you think I have made an efficient servant during my two years of office, VOTE FOR ME ON MONDAY, JANUARY 3rd.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. TURNER JR.

FOR ALDERMAN

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough,—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—

Having accepted the nomination for re-election as alderman of the city for the year 1910, I respectfully solicit your votes and influence.

If again favored with your confidence and elected, I shall continue to look after your interests, do my best to serve you faithfully and discharge the duties pertaining to the position in a manner that I hope will generally merit the approval of a majority of the electors.

Thanking you for your generous support in the past, and wishing you all a happy and prosperous New Year,

I am Yours Truly

What SCIENTISTS Say Against Local Option:---

Professor A. B. MacCallum,
Lecturer on Physiology to The University of Toronto

"The results of careful experiments show that alcohol, taken in diluted form in small doses is oxidized within the body and so supplies energy like common articles of food; and that it is incorrect to designate it as a poison."

Professor P. H. Pye-Smith,
Lecturer to Guy's Hospital Medical School, London.

"Most liquors, for a large number of persons (perhaps for most adults) are more good than harm when taken with meals. Temperance [illegible]"

Prof. Lafayette B. Mendel,
Yale University, New Haven.

"Man is by nature a [illegible] respect."

Professor T. J. Clouston,
Lecturer in the University of Edinburgh.

"Alcohol is a food, and in [illegible] diluted form [illegible] valuable adjunct to ordinary foods by exciting appetite and improving digestion, and by stimulating certain nutritive processes, e.g. the laying on of fat."

Local Option does not promote temperance---it does promote the misuse of drink.

"It should not be taught that the drinking of one or two glasses of beer or wine at meals, by a grown-up person, is dangerous; for it is not true."

SPORTING NEWS

KEENE AND WEST ENDS TO-NIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

The first hockey match of the season will be played in the Auditorium rink to-night, when the fast City League team from Keene will meet the West Ends. Both clubs will be represented by the same players which will work for them in the race for the City League championship, and the contest should be interesting. Manager Hurtubise has a splendid sheet of ice available, and comfortable accommodation for spectators. The rink is well lighted and those who have been patiently waiting for the opportunity to witness an exhibition of the winter game should be on hand to help the boys out to-night. The game will start at eight o'clock. The following players will figure on the West End line-up:—Halpin, Goal; C. Dobson, Point; Jack Seymour, Cover; Ken Crane, Rover; Gus Rose, Centre; Cyril Giroux, Left Wing; Bill Shortt, Right Wing. The admission is 15 cents.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS

To-morrow night the fun will begin and the men taking part in the circus are showing up for practice regularly, and to-night they are to have a dress rehearsal. Those that have been there to see them practice say that they are all right and will be Johnnie on the spot with their friend, too.

Their comedy acts are the best ever and they can almost make a horse laugh, and if they can do that they can also make you laugh.

The Return of Peary and Cook. The first aid to the injured. Comical creations. Guess! These are all comical enough to make any one laugh.

Class work, such as drills, apparatus work, pyramids, and all sort of gymnastic cleverness.

Hand balancing and acrobatic performances that would make the professional man sit up and take notice, and even do them out of a job if they wanted to, but they don't want to. This act is executed by the Mack Bros., who are new to Peterborough, and yet they are well known to the citizens of the town.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is being fitted up to represent a circus ring. It is decorated and there is everything to make one believe that he or she is at Ringling Bros.' circus, but you are not. You are at the Y. M. C. A., and you will not see the Ringling Bros.' circus, but you will see some things that are equal and some things that will make you laugh just as hard and just as long as you would if you were at this big affair.

A fancy roller skater who is the best that you will see in a good long time. They have got a whole lot more and if you want to enjoy a good evening buy your ticket at the office of the Y. M. C. A. or else at the door Friday or Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Show starts at 8.15 p.m.

TAYLOR JUMPS OTTAWA CLUB

Ottawa, Dec.—Fred Taylor, the great cover-point of the Ottawa Hockey team, is going to play with Renfrew in the National Hockey league this winter. Taylor leaves for Renfrew this afternoon at five o'clock, and will report for practice there this evening. It is said that he will receive the largest salary ever received by a hockey player.

It appears that the Ottawas were unable to secure a promotion which Taylor had been promised, even after a special examination had been arranged. Taylor went to the Renfrew officers this morning and announced that he would fulfil the contract which he signed with them two weeks ago.

It has been announced so often that Taylor would play with Renfrew and then denied, that hundreds will still be inclined to believe that Taylor will stay here. It is all off this time, however, and Ottawa must get another cover point.

It is also said that both Kerr and Walsh of the Ottawa team will follow in Taylor's footsteps. Kerr said yesterday that he was going, but the officers of both clubs can neither affirm nor deny the report. The Ottawa officers refuse to discuss Taylor's latest move.

SPORTING TALK

A Galt despatch says: Bob Mercer, the clever and popular goalkeeper of the local pro. hockey team, underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday afternoon at the hospital, and passed through it successfully. The news has been a shock to the hockey public of Galt, as Bob is a great favorite and a first-class goalkeeper, and his illness will cripple the local team. Bob will in all probability be out of the game for the winter, and it will be a heavy loss to the Galt team. Manager Servise is busy trying to fill the vacant place.

"I will either be a rich man or dead broke after my fight with Jim Jeffries," said Jack Johnson. The big colored champion says he is going to wager every penny on his chances. He figures out that he will be able to get $200,000 if he wins.

HOCKEY

The junior and intermediate players were out in full force last night and the workout was a hard one. It was quite noticeable that many were not in the best of shape. This is all the more reason that there should be as many practices as possible, but what is most needed is a good man to handle the players while on the ice and after practice.

Dutch Mills is showing up well this season and should make a valuable man for the juniors.

The first league game in the Mercantile League will be played one week from to-night, between the Quakers and Canoe Builders.

McDougall, who will likely play on the intermediate team, will be on the line-up for Keene to-night in their game with the West Ends at the Auditorium Rink.

Brantford has signed Ken Randall, formerly of Lindsay.

Toronto World—T. C. C. had Moore of Peterborough at point. Moore and Hyland showed up well on the defence, although both were inclined to roam from their positions.

THE RING

"Pitz" Wallace, the local boxing boy, who has been dabbling extensively in the realm of fistiana in western Canada is out with a wide open challenge to all 120 pound scrappers in Peterborough or this district. Any seekers for money or experience may address challenges to the sporting editor of the Review and immediate negotiations will be opened with the featherweight top notcher of all Saskatchewan.

Artie Edmunds, the Toronto wrestler, and Billy Ryan, of Syracuse, are to be matched for a ten-round bout before the Syracuse Athletic Club in January.

THE HOOK

Mason for Mayor; Morrow for Mayor. Both make good campaign slogans.

TABLET IS UNVEILED AT NORWOOD

Norwood, Dec. 28. — The beautiful tablet recently erected by the Presbyterian Sabbath School in memorial to the late Frances N. Pettigrew was unveiled last Sunday, Dec. 19th. This tablet is in recognition of the faithful services of Miss Pettigrew as teacher for several years, and a devoted life interest in the school rendered with cheerfulness and efficiency. The ceremony was conducted by the superintendent and school, assisted very materially by Rev. J. Craw, of Bracebridge; it was most impressive and will doubtless leave a lasting impression on every member of the school. The tablet, which is of white marble with gold lettering, is placed on the rear wall of the Sabbath school at the right of the main entrance and the inscription is as follows:

> In loving memory of > Frances N. Pettigrew, > died Sept. 22nd, 1909, > aged 33 years, and > in recognition of her > faithful services to the > Sabbath School this > tablet is erected.

MR. LASTER EXPLAINS HIS POSITION

Note.—The communication following, and which appears over the signature of Mr. B. Laster, is offered for publication by him, independent of the wishes and objects of either side in the local option campaign, and without approval or endorsement by either party. The space occupied is paid for by Mr. Laster, and it is on these conditions that the communication appears.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In connection with the local option fight, I have seen that some of the moral reformers are trying to make capital of a statement made by me. Now, if those moral reformers cannot get any better facts to prove their cause than to make material from my statement, then they are lost, for sure. Because that is what and where I wanted you in order that you should not have any excuse. What was my statement, in the early part of the campaign: That I was paying for the printing of my own letters, and that I did not represent any liquor men; and I do not represent any of the liquor men at the present time. So that you have stated that you will not answer any questions to any private man, but to parties who represented the liquor men. I was bound to get you answer my questions, so, therefore, I ask the liquor men for support. But when I had sent to me from unknown sympathisers with my views $13, and contributed $50 of my own money for this cause, I think I made good the fact that I was paying my own expenses. In order to go on with the fight I had to write more letters than I had expected, and as I could not contribute any more money than I had already done, surely there was nothing to be ashamed of, in going and asking some of the men who were mostly concerned, if they would be kind enough to assist me in my fight; and they generously promised me their support. Now, let me tell you, that I am not ashamed of taking contributions from any of these parties for this cause, as I am not a millionaire. But that does not make the moral reformer's cause any better. Have any of them spent any of their own money? I guess not. They are rather getting paid for their work from the collections made at their meetings. So surely they have no right to kick, if I am supported in my fight by liquor men, or no liquor men.

Then, furthermore, I was bound to force you to come on the open platform to discuss this question before the public; and as you would not recognize any one, except one who represented the liquor interests, that was one of the reasons why I asked for their support. That you would have no reason nor excuse for not answering my questions in public.

And now, I challenge you again, to come at any time before the public, as you see I have the support of the liquor men, and answer the questions laid before you, and show you in your real colors.

Yours truly,
B. LASTAR.

A CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF PETERBOROUGH

GENTLEMEN,—After studying and being convinced that local option would not be of any benefit to Peterborough, I have been sitting long hours in the night studying this, and expressing my opinion in letters through the press, in spending sleepless nights and taking abuse in the first part of my campaign from a number of people. I have even lost a certain amount of trade on account of the prejudice of parties who are opposed to my views. I am not looking for any good pay jobs from the city. Then you will say why have I done it? Because it is my nature when I see men insulted and attacked without any real cause, as by statements that have been made that the people of Peterborough have been and the majority of them are drunkards and criminals, and affected with misery through drunkenness, that I came out to show that after seven years living in Peterborough, and having to do mostly with the poorer class of working men, I was convinced that they are absolutely wrong and that we have only a few drunkards and criminals. Neither is there misery through drunkenness. I did not care about the abuse, but I stood against all odds and losses, and gave my opinion. And now I have dozens of dozens of letters from citizens who are encouraging me, who are giving me praise for what I done. And, therefore, having seen in my mind that the liquor question can be settled in a peaceful way, without injuring anyone, I came out to stand as a candidate for the Council for the coming year. In the first place, if elected, no matter what the verdict of the people may be, I will be there to see, that without favor or obligations to anyone, the law is obeyed. Then I hope that those men who are opposing me in my views at the present time will give me their assistance, and as a member of the council I will have more influence, and will see that united we will be able to regulate the liquor question once and for all, and that we shall have no necessity for bringing here in the future all kinds of speakers to call us drunkards and criminals.

I will do my utmost to see that Peterborough is to be an example of purity and peace, if supported and elected by you.

Yours respectfully,
B. LASTAR

A Most Useful Book

This issue of The Canadian Almanac, which forms the sixty-third of the series, is unusually valuable, and indispensable to every office and library in the Dominion. Many of the lists given are not found elsewhere, and in no other volume can so much information about Canada be found in so small a space. The Canadian Almanac has been published continuously since 1848, and is indispensable to every Canadian engaged in professional or business life. Almost every pertinent fact connected with municipal, governmental and business life is found in its pages. It might well be made a text book in the schools, on the basis of its value as a magazine of condensed information.

HOW THEY DO IT IN BRITAIN; NO PERSONAL BRIBERY, BUT LARGE EXPENDITURES ON ROUTINE WORK

London, Dec. 30.—The general election of 1910 will be fought out from end to end of the United Kingdom after the most modern and up-to-date methods. The old times, when the candidate relied upon oratory, free beer, surreptitious bribery and personal charm have long since passed away. It is now of little avail to kiss the babies and be gallant to the daughters of the electors. Gramophones, bioscope displays, costly posters, an army of paid agents sent in by divers leagues and associations, and a knee-deep distribution of posters and leaflets in every house, do the work.

Electioneering has become an exact science, managed by men who devote their lives to nothing else, and carried forward from step to step after the manner of a campaign of a great general. The political agent has arisen and men have found a new and profitable profession.

The law of England provides that a parliamentary candidate shall not be allowed to spend more than a very small amount in canvassing the electors. His personal expenses must not exceed £100 from the day the writ is issued to the day the election is over, and the whole expenses of his organization are limited to, usually, from £900 to £500. Much of this must be paid away for election officers' fees for the rent of halls for meetings, and for postage. When these items are met very little is left. It has long been known, however, that one can always drive a coach and pair through an act of Parliament, and the clauses limiting the outlay of candidates have been very effectively riddled. Charitable expenses are not included, and the ambitious budding statesman can spend £1,000 or £10,000 a year for years before the election if he wishes, in subscriptions to football clubs, soup kitchens, blanket societies, churches, party clubs and so on.

A few days since I met a boisterous political friend from a provincial borough, who laughingly assured me that his party had obtained an ideal candidate there. "Our man is a lem. He has at once taken the biggest house in the town. He is furnishing it in first-class style and his wife is buying all her presents from the local tradesmen."

Bribery! Dear me, no! Merely the necessary expenses of the private life of a wealthy citizen.

But with all this, the activity of the candidate is limited. Outside organizations, however, can do much as fromM r. Kenney's house he collapsed they please. Accordingly, several leagues and unions have arisen, with central offices in London. These work to support their favorite candidates by the most lavish expenditure of money, not in personal bribery, but in creating machinery for influencing opinion. These cover the walls with placards and send paid canvassers sometimes by the score and by the hundred into a borough immediately before the election. It is their gramophones that can be heard at the street corners, and their paid orators who stand at every open air stand.

Both parties profess to be

at this side of political life. Both of them hold up their hands with holy horror at this palpable political degeneration. But both of them do it! One famous London daily, for example, the strictest guardian of the straightest Liberalism and the organ of Nonconformity, had a leading article a few days since mourning over the evil ways of its adversaries, who dared to act thus.

It wound up by advising its own side to do the same. And they do!

The poster has developed into an important political weapon. In olden times the walls were placarded with notices: "Vote for Bloggs and the British Empire," or "Wilkins is the Workingman's Friend."

To-day monster cartoons, printed in many colors, are designed by prominent artists, and are used all over the country. The power of the pictorial poster was first fully realized in the London County Council election of 1907. The municipal reformers then published a gigantic picture of a bleary-eyed reprobate pointing a greedy finger at the spectator. This stood for the progressive party, and underneath it was the stinging motto, "It is your money we want." The cartoon bluntly suggested corruption, greed and sensuality. It was hideously unfair, for whatever may have been the faults of the Progressives on the County Council, no one could charge either them or their opponents with personal corruption. But the poster did the trick. It won votes by the thousand. Since then both sides have carried the art of poster dilpay still further.

A GOOD 'UN FOR UNIONISTS

The most effective of all these wall pictures at present is one designed by Tom Browne and issued by the Unionists, showing a hungry British workman, with hands outstretched, with ragged clothes, and with poignant despair written plainly on his face. He is called "A Free Trade Victim."

"It is work we want," he cries.

Day by day the Liberal papers denounce this poster, but it is at least a fair fighting weapon.

The Liberals, on their side, have tried the comic poster, and have pictured the duke, with coronet and eyeglass, in every despicable attitude they could. But they have done nothing so good as that.

The various leagues and the regular party organizations, such as the National Liberal Federation, and National Union of Conservative and Constitutional Associations, are reputed to be over-flowing with wealth, the gifts of generous partisans who hope for titles or other rewards when their party come to power. One wealthy Liberal recently raised to the Peerage, is said by those in the know to have presented his party organization with £100,000.

The head of a borough organization asked me a few days since if I knew of any suitable candidate for his district, as the man they had relied upon had failed them. "We want a bright, clever young man (who can put up a good fight and make a good show on the platform," he said. I hinted that the young men whom I knew to answer these requirements had not the money to stand the racket. "Money!" he replied with contempt. "You don't suppose we are going to lose that seat for lack of money? Find the right man and the money will be forthcoming." I have a shrewd idea that he wanted me to be a candidate myself. But while thinking myself young, I am not quite sure about the brightness and cleverness, so I passed his request on to someone else. But the fact remains that any suitable and ambitious young man who to-day can win the good-will of the party organizations and secure a requisition from a borough need not stand back for want of money.

The Tariff Reform League, one of the ablest of all the organizations, has for some time adopted an ingenious method of promoting public opinion. Agents of the League, dressed as working men, go about, not holding meetings, but mixing with the workers, bring the conversation round to politics, and advocating Tariff Reform. It is understood that the League, particularly during bye-elections, sends any number of these agents into the borough to talk politics.

The gramaphone is increasingly popular. Leading statesmen make ten-minute speeches into the 'phone, and these are reported all over the country. We have not yet come to the stage, so far as I have seen, where a great statesman has consented to have himself cinematographed while he is speaking, but that is no doubt only a matter of time.

Another, to my mind far more legitimate method of influencing opinion is the public rally. Here the politicians have adopted one method from the clever organization of General Booth. When the Salvation Army want to encourage themselves and impress London, they summon together their supporters from five hundred outposts to a great hall. The man fighting poverty and sin in the slums of Rotherhithe or in the wilderness of Battersea realizes in the great hall packed with his fellows that he is one of a crowd. The go, the enthusiasm and the fervor

GRAND PRIZE AT WINTER POULTRY SHOW IN JANUARY

What promises to be the most successful of its kind ever held in this city, will be the Winter Poultry Show in the Market Hall, on January 4, 5 and 6, under the auspices of the Peterborough Poultry Association. For a considerable length of time, the officers and directors have been at work perfecting every detail in connection with the holding of the show and they are grateful for the assistance and encouragement given by the citizens generally. The prizes to be offered for competition are many and valuable. The prize of $10.00 for dressed turkeys, has caused considerable interest among the farmers and there is every indication that there will be a large number of competitors. Exhibits of fancy birds will be shown by poultry men from all parts of Ontario, and the Association has gone to the expense of securing 1,200 coops. This means something in the line of a treat for those who attend. The prize list also calls for exhibits in poultry, fowl and eggs, so that every farmer will have the opportunity to exhibit. A feature of the prize list will be the Grand Prize, the nature of which will be announced later and every person who attends will have a chance of winning it. The one who guesses correctly the most popular exhibit will win this prize. There will be a lecture by an expert on one or more of the days and a capable superintendent will be in charge to see that every attention is given to the exhibitors in regard to the receiving and reshipment of the birds or fowl as the case may be.

From a standpoint of education alone the show is worthy of every support and the members of the Association feel confident that the citizens and the farmers will not fail them.

AN OLD LANDMARK RAZED TO THE GROUND BY FIRE

One of the old landmarks of Peterborough was swept away by fire last night, when the rough-cast dwelling on Water street north, owned by Miss Mary Jane Martin, of this city, was destroyed. The alarm was received at the fire station at 7.45, and was telephoned in from the residence of Mr. W. R. G. Higgins, which is close to the scene of the fire. It did not take the flames very long to get a disastrous start, however, and when the brigade had completed its run of a mile and a half the building was beyond salvation. The place was occupied by "Dr." Taggart, a well-known local "herb physician."

A large number of valuable books were saved, but very little else. Practically all the furniture was destroyed. The loss is estimated at between $1,200 and $1,300.

Mrs. Taggart was in the kitchen of the house when the fire was discovered and was alone in the residence, her husband and two sons being out. She opened the door leading to the sitting room and a cloud of smoke blew out. There was a coal stove in the sitting room and it was owing to defective pipes, it is thought, that the blaze had its origin. Mrs. Taggart immediately ran to the residence of Mr. Higgins to have the alarm sent in.

MIX-UP IN THE HAVELOCK MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

A curious mix-up not unknown, however, to the law, has arisen in the Havelock election for reeve. Mr. Joyce is a school trustee and it is objected that he cannot qualify for nomination for the reeveship since he did not resign his position as trustee.

The Review was informed that a local lawyer had been seen for advice but when he was approached by the Review, he refused to discuss the situation one way or the other.

"CITIZEN" REPLIES TO EXAMINER

Contrasts Sale of Debentures Under Ald. Mason and Ald. Morrow -- Workingmen Not Afraid Nowadays

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Ald. Morrow's friends and the Examiner are putting forth the claim that because he is associated with Senator Cox and other capitalists, he should be elected Mayor of Peterborough. They claim that if Mr. Morrow is elected these men will use their influence for Peterborough.

Now Mr. Editor, it just depends on how those influential capitalists intend to use their influence. If they expect to continue the same course they have pursued the past two years with Mr. Morrow as chairman of the Finance Committee, viz., to sell Peterborough debentures at 4 1-4 and 4 1-2 per cent., then Peterborough will be much better off without them.

The years that Mr. Mason was chairman of the Finance Committee, the city's debentures were sold for 3 1-2 per cent., thus the city was saved many thousands of dollars in interest.

So far as Senator Cox is concerned he is not running for mayor, and he cannot do the city any harm, no matter who is elected, for fear, that his rents for George street and the many houses in the city will be forced down. It is up to Senator Cox to assist Peterborough, no matter who is mayor.

I do not mind anyone supporting Mr. Morrow, but the Examiner is conducting its usual campaign of rot and unfairness. The people no longer fear the threats of the autocrats. The laboring man does not fear dismissal. The times have changed. There is other capital besides what the Examiner talks about. There are other jobs for the laboring man and the mechanic. Fight a fair fight.

Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

WEDDING BELLS

FARTHING—CALDER

The marriage took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, of Miss Lila Elizabeth Calder and Mr. O. P. R. Farthing, both of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Trumpour, rector of All Saints.

Mr. and Mrs. Farthing will reside on Chambers street.

MERRITT—WILMOT

Last Thursday at All Saints' church the wedding took place of Miss Bessie Wilmot and Mr. Frank Merritt, both of Peterborough. Miss Viola Booth was bridesmaid, and Mr. Albert Merritt, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Rev. H. R. Trumpour was the officiating clergyman.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt have taken up their residence on Westcott street.

BELOOR—REDICK

Belleville Intelligencer.—A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Redick, Chatterton, when their eldest daughter, Miss Ettie, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Belcor, of Stirling. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Irwin, Plymouth Brethren pastor, of Belleville, in the presence of many friends and relatives in the neighboring district. The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in a cream cashmere gown, and was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Reddick, and the groom was attended by Mr. John Reid, of Springbrook. After the ceremony the party, consisting of about 60 in number, sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. The happy couple left on the 6.45 pm. train from Stirling, to visit the groom's friends in Peterborough, for a week, after which they will reside in Sidney. The correspondent and the Intelligencer joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs Belcor a long and happy wedded life.

HOLT—EDWARDS

Yesterday afternoon, at All Saints' church, the wedding took place of Miss Gertrude Mae Edwards, daughter of Mr. Wesley Edwards, of Peterborough, to Chauncey E. Holt, of Hamilton, Rev. H R. Trumpour officiating. Mr J. N. Hagerman, of Hamilton, was groomsman, and Mrs. Wm. Wheeler assisted the bride.

Wedding luncheon was held after the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Holt left on the 4.38 C.P.R. for Hamilton, where they will reside.

ROEBUCK—BRAND

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Monday, December 27th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Brand, Port Hope, when their eldest daughter, Maude Valerie, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter [illegible] Peterborough, by the Rev. H. E. Abraham, of St. Paul's church. Mr. and Mrs. Roebuck left for a trip in the east and on their return will reside in Peterborough. Their large circle of friends in Port Hope wish them much joy.—Port Hope Guide.

A Watchnight at All Saints'

There will be no weeknight service to-night at All Saints'. A watchnight service will be held to-morrow night at 11.30.

MR. MORROW'S COMMITTEE ROOMS CROWDED AT THE RALLY HELD LAST NIGHT

There was a large attendance at the rally in the committee rooms of Mr. W. G. Morrow, mayoralty candidate, last night. There was a representative lot of speakers and confidence was expressed in Mr. Morrow's ability to carry the day.

Ald. Gillespie was elected chairman and he made a short speech in support of Mr. Morrow. After two years with Mr. Morrow in the council he was pleased to give him his support for the mayoralty.

T. F. MATTHEWS.

Mr. Matthews thought that a man should possess certain qualities to make an excellent mayor. He should be honest and of a good character. He should be loyal to the city and a man with something at stake. Mr. Morrow had large interests in Peterborough, and its welfare would be foremost in his mind. The mayor should have a broad vision. He must look ahead. Mr. Morrow was connected with large concerns and a man who has great influence. Mr. Mason was always a friend of the speaker, and he hoped he always would be. He felt he would be amiss in his duty if he did not come forward and speak for Mr. Morrow.

In regard to the remarks of Ald. Hicks the other day, he said that he considered him a gentleman who always knocked but never boosted. Mr. Matthews recalled the pamphlet issued by him when the City Council were asked for $12,000 for the development of power, when Mr. Hicks claimed they would not have the power they said they would. He hoped soon to be able to provide what they had promised. This was an instance of Ald. Hick's bad judgment. The most economical man was not always the best. It was necessary to construct a fine city with good roads and sewer connections. He believed he was supporting Mr. Morrow for good, sound reasons.

Mr. Andrew McFarlane said he was supporting Mr. Morrow because he considered he was the best man for the position of Mayor. He would work for the city's interests.

ALD. PHELAN.

Ald. Phelan said that three years in the Council with Mr. Morrow had convinced him that he would be a good man for the Mayor's chair. Speaking about the overdraft in 1908 which Ald. Hicks had placed against Mr. Morrow, Ald. Phelan stated that he wished to explain the situation as he knew it. The appropriations had been met, but during that year there were a great number of men out of employment. Mechanics who had been receiving good wages were idle, and many of them asked for work from the city. A special meeting of the Council was called and the question was carefully considered. It was unanimously decided to provide as much work as possible and face the overdraft. All the members of the council had to accept the responsibility of this step, and it was unfair that the overdraft should have been brought against Mr. Morrow, as it was on the Council's decision that the action had been taken.

Mr. J. J. Hartley made a strong speech in support of Mr. Morrow. He considered Mr. Morrow an excellent financier.

He also has the advantage of a splendid backing which will undoubtedly lead to new industries coming this way, and a financial influence that will mean a great deal for the welfare of the city. For the welfare of Peterborough and its prosperity Mr. Hartley hoped to see Mr. Morrow returned at the coming elections on Monday.

Ald. Gillespie stated that there was no such a thing as a clique in the council as far as he knew and there never had been any pre-arranged business. A few had put forth the supposition that there was a cabinet among the aldermen but nothing had been done to strengthen or support this idea, and there was no reason for the statements in that regard.

WM. SCOTT

Mr. Wm. Scott, East City, was pleased to support Mr. Morrow. He had nothing against Mr. Mason. He was a good alderman, but had been out of the council too long. Mr. Morrow had the better experience with present civic affairs.

JAMES KENDRY

Mr. James Kendry was also glad to support Mr. Morrow. The city needed such men as him. He was honest and a man of good influence. Mr. Morrow had the city's interests at heart, and as a manufacturer, the speaker was anxious to see the city go ahead. He had been eighteen years in the council himself and he knew that the aldermen were often unjustly criticized. He remembered what Ald. Phelan referred to, as to the conditions in 1908 when so many men were out of work. He believed the council did what was right when they supplied work for the unemployed. He did not think all the blame should be attached to the chairman of the Finance committee. Extra expenditure had been incurred during the past year by a smallpox epidemic. No one could help that.

He was not going to support Mr. Mason. A man, he said, who stated he wouldn't take a stand either on the liquor side or on the temperance side because he was a business man, was not the one for mayor. A business man, the speaker believed, should speak out and should stick to it. The chief magistrate should have opinions of his own and should lead the council. Mr. Morrow would, he was sure, be the right man.

THE CANDIDATE.

Mr. Morrow, who was warmly received on arising to speak, thanked the speakers for the confidence they had shown in him, and for the support they promised, and which he felt they would carry out to the letter. He had visited many of the factories and talked with the working men who had assured him that they would support him. Mr. Morrow referred to what Ald. Hicks had stated at the nominations regarding the increased taxation. In the year 1904, '05 and '06 the rates had been respectively 18 1-2, 18 and 17 1-2 mills, and in 1907, '08 and '09 they had been 17 1-2, 17 and 19 1-2 mills. The totals for these groups were the same. The increased demand from the Board of Education for $20,000 was equal to 2 1-2 mills on the dollar, and the City Trust Commissioners had increased their demands, thus increasing the rate. Mr. Morrow stated that in a growing city like Peterborough local improvements have to be extended. Schools have to be properly equipped and maintained, and when the attendance demands they must be enlarged or new buildings erected. Other improvements necessitate expenditures. Mr. Morrow also dealt with the question of securing power and stated that the council will have to deal with it during the coming year. The city should secure all the power possible for delivery here if new industries are to be located in Peterborough.

Other speakers who came out strongly for Mr. Morrow were Messrs. R. J. Soden, W. H. Meldrum, Robert McNeill, Mayor Rush, Ald. Butler, F. D. Kerr, Robert Fair and Wm. and Robert Harstone.

Mayor Rush stated that during the last three months he had repeatedly urged Ald. Morrow to come out for the mayoralty. He felt that the best interests in the city would be served in his election. Mr. Mason was a good man, but he was sorry he was opposing Mr. Morrow.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the King and Mr. Morrow.

THE DUTY OF OUR CITIZENS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—As a citizen for nearly forty years, and as a large ratepayer, it is a matter of gratification to me to learn that Mr. W. G. Morrow had decided to allow his name to stand for election as mayor of this city for 1910.

I have known Mr. Morrow personally since his very young days, and was also connected with him for nearly fifteen years in connection with the Board of Education of this city, as well as in many other spheres of activity, and have always found him to be in all transactions an honorable upright, careful and economical citizen. Reflections have been made as to Mr. Morrow's ability, but from my own personal knowledge of him, I am of the opinion that these are more fancied than real.

A man of Mr. Morrow's standing, training, and business ability, may be depended upon to conduct the city affairs with the same scrupulous care and efficiency as he could, and would, in his own personal activities, and any reflection cast upon him cannot be borne out by facts, in my humble judgment.

It is high time that the citizens and ratepayers of this good city realised the duty devolving upon them, and to endeavor to place at the head of affairs the best and most efficient men obtainable, who have proven themselves by years of experience, to be able to cope with the many important problems of civic affairs, and men who can spare the time and give the many matters of importance the attention required, in order to show a record which is not open to criticism.

This feature is very apparent in the city of Vancouver, B.C., where it was my privilege to reside for a considerable time this year. There the citizens carefully consider the selection of capable and worthy men for municipal honors as of first importance, and this is borne out by the unparalleled progressiveness of that great and important growing city of the west at the present time.

Peterborough must, if it will continue to grow, get new industries. Other places of less importance appear to be fortunate in this respect, and an earnest effort is absolutely necessary to secure, and point out the advantages and benefits of locating here. With a man like Mr. Morrow at the head of our municipal affairs, backed up by a good council, we may be sure from the very considerable vested interests represented by him, that he will not leave a stone unturned to obtain good results, and build up the city in this respect. With these and many other matters in view affecting the best welfare of this fair city, and as it is very important at this time that the citizens, ratepayers and property owners should have a good, careful, progressive and economical city council, in my opinion we will make no mistake in electing Mr. W. G. Morrow mayor of the city of Peterborough for 1910.

FELL IN WITH SOME FRIENDS

Daniel Marshall, with the accent of a native of the land of the heather, acknowledged at the Police Court this morning that he was drunk last night. He explained that he met a number of his friends and took a little too much.

On his being able to show that he had sufficient money to take him to Toronto on the first train, he was discharged.

A Mass Meeting for the Working Men of the South End

A most interesting meeting has been arranged for Tonight in the new and beautiful auditorium of Park Street Baptist Church at 8 o'clock. H. E. Irwin, K.C., of Toronto, will be the speaker. Mrs. Irwin, who is also a Temperance worker and speaker will take part. Everybody welcome. Bring doubtful voters.

RESULTS FROM A SMALL WANT AD.

Thirteen Applicants for a Position Were Quick to Respond.

One insertion of a want ad. in the evening papers of the city for a man to fill a position at Dr. F. L. Robinson's livery brought thirteen applicants to the proprietor before seven o'clock that same evening. Others called, but the thirteen presented themselves personally to Dr. Robinson and he had no trouble in securing a capable man.

THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the urgent solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers, I am now asking your support for my election the Mayoralty of the City of Peterborough for the year 1910; and in doing so I am relying upon my record as a ratepayer, as a life-long citizen, as one materially interested in the manufacturing and industrial development of the city, and as one who, as an Alderman, served you for the past three years, first as Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee and secondly as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

It is usual for one aspiring to the Chief Magistracy to attempt to outline some definite policy to be pursued during the term of office. In compliance with that custom I can only say that it will be my one aim to serve the City to the utmost of my ability, to do what I can to promote its commercial, industrial and moral development, to give fair and just consideration to all questions which may come before the Council having regard to neither class nor party, as I am pledged to none.

Our City has made rapid progress in recent years, and the continuation of this progress will depend largely upon the growth and expansion of the City's present industries, and upon the establishment of new ones to which every encouragement and legitimate inducement should be given — the Council should give immediate attention to securing an adequate supply of cheap power; every effort conducing to these ends has my fullest sympathy and support.

The time has also arrived when the Council must take into consideration the question of permanent roadways in the business section, and in general street construction, and of the extension and improvement of the sewer system in the southern parts of the City. To both of these matters, I shall, if elected, give my earliest attention.

I am in favor of carrying out a policy of the strictest economy consistent with proper service in every department of the Municipal business.

As the time between now and Election Day is short it will be impossible for me to personally call upon every ratepayer; I therefore take this means and opportunity of soliciting for myself the honour of your vote and influence.

Wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year,

I am,
Yours sincerely,
W. G. MORROW.

It Saves You Waiting

On Saturday we have so many persons who drive long distances or come by train, that we are unable to promise appointments for that day, but we wait upon persons in turn. Many persons call, write or phone for appointment. We reserve time for such and it saves them waiting as the time so given is kept open for them. We make such appointments for any day or evening other than Saturday.

Evening is quite as good as daytime for eye examination, but it is necessary to arrange for this a day or two in advance.

GOVERNMENT WINS OUT IN SUIT OVER POWER MATTERS

Chief Justice Falconbridge in Decision Against Mrs. Folker of Gainsboro Township, Lincoln County, Removes Another Barrier From Path of the Government's Scheme.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—The right of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission to enter upon private land for the stringing of power transmission wires was vindicated by the judgment handed down yesterday by Chief Justice Falconbridge. The decision arose out of the suit instituted by Mrs. Louisa Jane Folker of Gainsboro Township, Lincoln County, to restrain the F. H. McGuigan Construction Co. and the Ontario & Niagara Power Co. from sinking poles and stringing power wires across her land. The case was dismissed with costs against the plaintiff and the temporary injunction secured some time ago restraining the commission was dissolved.

The case was one which involved the honor of the Hydro-Electric Commission to have right of way over private lands for the erection of towers for their transmission lines, and has really been counted as a test case. John Moss, K.C., acting for the plaintiff, gave notice of appeal when the judgment was rendered, and although his lordship granted a stay to the Court of Appeal, he refused to let the injunction stand, saying:

"I do not think they ought to be tied up in this work any longer."

The action was to have been tried at Welland last August, but owing to illness of the chief justice, had been traversed until yesterday, to be heard in Toronto. The circumstances which led up to the action were as follows:

The effects of the judgment, as pointed out by Mr. Lobb, are not only upsetting the contention of the plaintiff, but that the contractors had been lawfully put in possession. Furthermore, it will curb the policy of the corporate interests, which has been to prevent the commission taking an easement only.

"They urged," said Mr. Lobb, "that the commission be compelled to become owners of the right of way, of course, at a much greater cost, and if the right of way cost more the price for power would be so much greater."

It was also pointed out that, unlike any corporate body with right of way privileges through legislation the Hydro-Electric Commission did not attempt to ride over the farmers by an immediate enforcement of their rights, but waited for the action to be brought forward by the plaintiff.

PROF. FERNOW AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Dec. 31.—Professors of forestry, representing practically all the forestry schools in the United States, met here yesterday with Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, for a discussion of plans to further education along forestry lines.

The speakers yesterday were Dr. Bernard E. Fernow of the University of Toronto; Prof. Henry S. Graves of Yale; Dr. Filibert Roth of the University of Michigan, and Dr. Richard T. Fisher of Harvard.

STRIKING MINERS ARE PUNISHED

Sydney, N.S.W., Dec. 31.—Fourteen men, delegates of the board of the Miners' Federation, have been sentenced to pay $500 each, or undergo two months' imprisonment, for inciting coal miners to strike.

It is eight weeks since the men struck, and the struggle continues with disastrous results. Three hundred steamships are idle.

Gas at one time gave out in a large section of the city. Only the timely return of western miners saved Sydney from utter darkness.

The sentence just passed are among the first under the new law, making strike leaders and employers who instigate or aid a strike or lockout liable to one year's imprisonment.

HIS FAMILY SAVES HIM

Guelph, Dec. 31.—The fact that Wm. Strode has a wife and family of small children in hard circumstances was all that saved him from a long term of imprisonment, when, before Judge Chadwick, yesterday morning, he pleaded guilty to shooting with intent to do bodily harm to Mrs. Harris.

It was about a week ago that Strode shot at Mrs. Harris in a small theatre full of people, causing much excitement.

He was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

JAMES BRYCE ON CHRISTIANITY

Rochester, N.Y., Dec. 31.—British Ambassador James Bryce was the chief speaker at the night session of the convention of the student's missionary volunteer meeting in Convention Hall. Bishop Hartzell of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose field is in Africa, also spoke.

Ambassador Bryce characterized the present time as a critical and also auspicious one for Christianity. There had been such progress in recent years, he said, that to-day nine-tenths of the habitable earth was under the control of the so-called Christian powers, "and though vast multitudes remain non-Christian, there is scarcely a spot in which the influence of the white race is not felt, and in which the uncivilized and semi-civilized native peoples are not being penetrated by the ideas and habits of those more advanced nations."

SENATOR DAVID LEFT FUNERAL

Montreal, Dec. 31.—The Archbishop of Montreal, speaking to the boys of Mount St. Louis College, stated that he hoped they would never again see such a spectacle as that of the civil funeral of Sunday afternoon of Dr Cote.

Senator L. O. David also writes that he was deceived; that he was telephoned to attend the funeral, and that when he found that there was no cross on the hearse and that they were going to a Protestant cemetery, he left and went home.

THE DEATH OF EARL PERCY

Paris, Dec. 31.—Earl Percy (Henry Algernon George) of London, a member of the British Parliament, and formerly British Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, died here yesterday from acute pleurisy.

Death occurred at a second-class hotel situated opposite the railway station and the fact that the Earl had occupied these humble lodgings, created the impression that there was something mysterious in connection with his illness.

It was rumored that he had been shot while engaged in a duel outside of Paris a few days ago.

These stories were emphatically denied yesterday by the attending physician and by the British embassy.

The demise of Earl Percy leaves the Conservatives without a candidate for South Kensington, which he had represented since 1895.

His election address was in the hands of a printer and the earl had planned to open the campaign in his district next week.

MIXED UP IN A DIVORCE CASE NOW

Detroit, Dec. 31.—Peter Shea, who shot a man who dogged him over to the Windsor rink for the purpose of picking a quarrel with him, and who was acquitted, is named in the suit brought by Harry H. Lamkin of Detroit against his wife, Irene, for divorce.

The testimony of John Harmon, governor of the Sandwich Jail, was taken by a commission, and he declared a photo shown him to be that of the woman who visited Shea a number of times when he was locked up there. Shea was visited by a great many women while in jail.

BRANCH LINES BEING LEASED

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—The Government has secured full information respecting the physical conditions of branch lines of railways in the lower provinces, proposed to be leased as feeders to the Intercolonial, and the commission of management will consider the matter early in the year.

If any lines are leased it will be only those in fairly good condition, and likely to be productive. The act of this session makes that stipulation.

Considerable pressure is being exercised for taking over certain of the lines where the service is much complained of.

SEVERAL DEATHS FROM EXPOSURE

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 31.—With the thermometer registering from zero to seven degrees below, western Pennsylvania last night was in the grip of a bitterly cold blizzard accompanied by snow flurries and high winds.

The mountain districts reports deaths and suffering due to exposure.

In Greater Pittsburg alone, several deaths have occurred.

Judgment Suspended.

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—Chief Justice Fitzpatrick, in the Supreme Court yesterday granted a stay of execution of the judgment disqualifying the members of the civic finance committee of Montreal, who are appealing to the Privy Council.

This allows the committee to continue to transact civic business.

To Dissolve Live Stock Association.

Kansas City, Dec. 31.—Judge L. C. True of the district court, Kansas City, Kas., yesterday declared the Traders' Live Stock Association dissolved.

The association operates at the Kansas City stockyards. An appeal will be taken.

NEW PROVOST OF ETON COLLEGE

Dr. Edmond Warre, who has recently been made provost of Eton, was educated in that famous institution and became an assistant master there in 1860. He was appointed head master in 1884. In his new office as provost he controls the whole educational institution. Dr. Warre was born in 1837.

RAILWAYS OPPOSE THE CARNIVAL

Montreal, Dec. 31.—At a conference yesterday between the winter carnival committee and the railway companies, it was pointed out by the latter that at the present, when all kinds of arguments are being put forth against American immigration to Canada, it was most unwise that a carnival of ice and snow should be held. The carnival people declare, however, that they are going to invite tenders for the building of the ice palace.

Ex-Banker Sentenced.

Canton, Ohio, Dec. 31.—Wm. L. Davis, former vice-president of the Canton State Bank, was sentenced yesterday to five years in the penitentiary.

After the failure of the state bank, Davis was convicted of abstracting 350 shares of the bank stock of the institution. He is 60 years old.

WANT TO BRING IN THEIR WIVES

B. C. Hindus Believe They Can Bring in Their Better Halves

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 31.—The Hindu menace in British Columbia grows doubly serious by the disclosure of a meeting of Sikhs at their temple yesterday morning. In the usual way one of the members of the sect mentioned a fact to a reporter which will startle the British Foreign Office, as well as that of the United States.

It is that Hindus have made arrangements to bring women folk to this continent, no matter what Indian and British authorities say. They have taken legal advice on the subject and decided that they cannot be stopped.

Tetja Singh, who was one of the leaders of the Indians at the time of the last trouble, is now in London, and it is reported that a cable was received from him to the effect that advice he had taken from high legal authorities showed that the bringing of women was legal, and that action would be taken in accordance.

A priest is said to have left on the steamer Monteagle to gather up the wives of men now here, and a choice of women for those who desire them.

Yesterday morning every sawmill that employed Hindus was practically idle and there must have been 600 turbaned followers of Guru Nanak at the meeting.

POLICYHOLDERS SAVE BIG SUM

Guelph, Dec. 31.—On account of the splendid pressure now available for fire protection purposes through the new water works system, and the establishment of a paid fire department, and taking into consideration the stone building, wide streets and exceptionally clean record the city has for fires, the Canadian underwriters have decided to make a 10 per cent. reduction in the present 50 cent rate, with its discount of 20 per cent. for mercantile insurance in Guelph.

This represents a saving to policyholders affected of about $10,000 a year, which is more than it costs to maintain the fire department.

REPUTATION IS RESENTED BY FRANCE

Paris, Dec. 31.—The Matin yesterday declares that the findings of the U. S. immigration commission, which placed France first among the nations as an exporter of so-called white slave recruits, constitute a national disgrace, and appeals to the Government to commence immediately pour parlers with Washington for the effective suppression of the traffic.

The paper insists that France in reality is the most decent country on the globe, and one where home life and virtue are most beautifully exemplified; yet abroad and especially in America, scandalous French literature is circulated and the extent of the monstrous white slave traffic has given her the reputation of being the centre of depravity.

Paris, The Matin says, is pictured as the modern Babylon, and adds: "The Government must intervene. It is a question of humanity and national honor."

COMPENSATION FOR WORKMEN

Montreal, Dec. 31.—The new insurance rates brought about by the enforcement of the Workmen's Compensation Act, which becomes effective on January 1, have been announced.

There is an increase in rates anywhere from 40 to 400 per cent., according to the employment of the man insured. Iron workers are only increased four per cent., while textile workers will have to pay 400 per cent. more than they did formerly.

GALT DOG HAD RABIES

Galt, Dec. 31.—The authorities have received a telegram from Dr. J. G. Rutherford, veterinary inspector-general for Ottawa, stating that rabbits which had been innoculated from the head of the dog which ran amuck in Galt, biting several persons, two weeks ago, had died of rabies.

This justifies the steps taken by the town for the treatment of those bitten. So far as those under treatment in New York are concerned, danger is now over, but there is serious danger that some dogs bitten, may yet develop this disease. To avoid the chance of this, Mayor Patterson has given instruction to shoot on sight any dog found running at large without a muzzle.

JAPAN HAS A DEPRESSION

Tokio, Dec. 31.—The economic situation in Japan at present is not encouraging, and it's looked for revival has not arrived. As a result depression in manufacturing is great and agricultural sections throughout the island is gloomy. This is primarily due to the low price of rice following a bounteous harvest.

The weaving industry is particularly hard hit by this depression, a limit is being put upon production by agreement among the weavers.

TO BUST TRUSTS

U. S. National League is Formed to Fight Them by Boycott.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Plans for a national boycott of those combinations that increase the cost of living were laid here last night when the National Anti-Trust League was launched.

Members of Congress are interested in the new movement and immediate steps will be taken toward perfecting state organizations.

Then, when the prices soar, the league members, by stopping the use of such articles or commodities as have gone above the legal level, will put them back again by refusing to furnish a market.

The plan is one that was tried in Germany a few years ago and which, according to a report, broke a combine in coffee that had raised the price of the bean to almost prohibitive prices.

Among the speakers last night were several members of the House of Representatives.

One matter was settled last night, however. The women of the United States will be taken into membership on equal terms with the men and have equal voice in the campaign. The women, being the housekeepers of the country, the pioneers of the plan recognized at once that their assistance was vital to success.

"We furnish the purses," said one of the speakers, "but our wives and sisters and mothers have the disbursement from them. We've got to have the women with us."

Accordingly, when Congress meets, the league will work through its representatives and in some cases through Senators, with a view to having them interest themselves in the organization of state branches.

A nominal fee will be charged each member, probably not exceeding 25c a year, to cover the cost of mailing proclamations against certain articles of food that have been pushed too high in the market.

A national charter will be also sought and the head offices likely will be in Washington.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Fire did $75,000 damage at the Darahy Packing Plant, Buffalo.

The business section of Edinboro, Pa., was destroyed yesterday.

At Galveston, Texas, 2,300 bales of cotton were burned; loss $50,000.

Fifty thousand dollars' damage was done to the business centre of Cherry Creek, N.Y.

A slight earthquake shock was felt at Portland, Ore., at 4.23 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Charles C. Dickinson has resigned the presidency of the Carnegie Trust Co., New York, because of poor health.

An explosion in a 30,000 barrel oil storage tank at Williamsburg, N.Y., endangered the $20,000,000 plant of the Standard Oil Co.

Present indications in Alberta are against Hon. Mr. Cushing surrendering the Department of Government Telephones in favor of Hon. Mr Buchanan.

A Vienna special says that twenty three Croatian peasants, including seventeen young women, were drowned in a boating accident near Karlowitz, in Austria-Hungary on Christmas Day.

The St. John, N.B., Board of Trade has organized a strong advertising committee, on which are representatives of the daily papers, to plan a vigorous "booster" campaign for a "bigger, better and busier city."

Three deaths, due directly to the cold wave that held New York in its grasp, were reported yesterday. Two were unfortunately homeless men. They were found frozen, crouching in doorways where they had sought shelter from the icy blasts.

PROBABILITIES.

Saturday, south and southeast winds, moderately cold; light snow falls.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS WILL WEIGH COAL

Ottawa, Dec. 31.—An order has been issued by the Railway Commission amending that previously sent out respecting the weighing of coal at the frontier points of Ontario.

The dealers previously had to accept the shippers' weights, and there was much complaint of loss in transit.

It is now ordered that weighing at frontier points shall be done by officials of the customs department.

The order applies only to Ontario, as the application for it came from there alone.

Local dealers, however, purpose to move to make it apply to a point on the Quebec boundary, through which Ottawa's coal supply comes by rail.

Famous "Cow Girl" Killed.

Inca City, Okla., Dec. 31.—Mrs. E. J. Milhan, known throughout the country in wild west shows as the "Cow Girl," died here yesterday from injuries received late Wednesday.

She was riding for a moving picture concern when her horse fell upon her. Mrs. Milhan lived in New York and was 28 years old.

BALFOUR SAYS HE'S LOOKING FOR MAJORITY OF SIXTY

Joseph Chamberlain, However, Declares That the Prospect is For a Hundred Tories to the Good—Boy Scouts' Movement is Declared Menace to the Nation.

London, Dec. 31.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Canadian Associated Press is informed that Mr. Balfour is looking forward to a majority in the Commons of 60, while Mr. Chamberlain hopes for 100.

Sir Gilbert Parker, at Aylesbury, said that "since Canada gave us a preference England has doubled its shipping with her, and last year the English workmen got nine millions in wages out of the purchases of Canada."

Rt. Hon. C. E. H. Hobhouse, at East Bristol, said it was the experience of all nations that had tried protection that the consumer and not the foreigner had to pay the duty. The Liberal alternative was the budget. The Liberals hoped by the free trade policy to attract to the country as much capital as possible. When it was in full work they would take from it toll according to the wealth it produced, and the convenience it afforded to the public.

Sir W. Robson, at South Shields, said what the Government had done was before the country. They had attempted a good deal more than they had done. The failure of their attempts, however, was due to the power exerted by the hereditary chamber, which he hoped would receive a clipping at this election. The Tories said that if they taxed bread the foreigner would pay it. That was a serious charge, but he was going to suggest that the promise that the foreigner would pay their taxes was made by men who knew in substance that the inducement they were holding out to the British working class was false.

Contending that the enslavement of the English masses is the ultimate object of the Conservative party's militarist policy. Liberal campaigners are now making a vigorous attack on their opponents' conscription proposals in general, and upon the widespread "boy scout" craze in particular. The "boy scout" movement organized by Gen. Sir R. S. S. Baden-Powell, about eighteen months ago, has enjoyed immense popularity, a large share of the country's juvenile population having been enrolled in its ranks, uniformed and drilled regularly.

"Do not allow yourself to be mystified by the opposition to the budget engineered by wealthy manufacturers and land holders," warns one of the Liberal campaign proclamations. "The object of all this turmoil is industrial enslavement and its methods may be summed up in two words—conscription and protection.

"Conscription is to provide the force necessary to keep the workers under, and protection is to rifle their pockets when down. This is the inner meaning of the boy scout craze. It is designed to secure for the Tories, who are running it, the support and sympathy of the rising generation, and to inoculate our youth with the spirit of militarism and false patriotism.

"That is what lies behind Lord Roberts' rifle clubs and his scheme of a 'nation in arms.' That is the reason for all the shoddy Imperialism which forms the staple fare of the Primrose league and other high Tory organizations. This is the sole reason for the incoherent disingenuous vaporings about the budget."

No single issue can be said to dominate the campaign as yet. Joseph Chamberlain's manifesto is striking because it brushes aside the constitutional question as non-existent and concentrates on tariff reform. Here it is recognized that Chamberlain displays his old-time capacity for going to the root of things.

A year back tariff reform would have been the great issue of the result, judging by all the signs available, would not have been doubtful. The astute Ministers who produced the budget scotched fiscal change for a time. It now remains for the Unionists to follow the great leader and endeavor to again make every other issue of secondary importance.

Liberals laugh at Chamberlain's "attempt to revive the colonial aspect of tariff reform." They maintain that what was started as a great imperial movement has become purely a domestic campaign in favor of protection, and they demand particulars of the tariff reform scheme, which is to prevent the dukes paying out.

They also profess to be grateful to those peers who are defending the rejection of the budget for helping to keep the constitutional issue to the fore, and jestingly declare that the Government has postponed polling for two days to allow at least one more speech from Lord Curzon.

Mr. Balfour, speaking at Haddington yesterday, said the Unionist party were confident in their cause. It represented the maintenance of institutions which must be preserved, and stood for the security of enterprise and the maintenance of the fleet. While refusing to draw the colonies closer, the Government had re-introduced home rule, which would be utterly subversive to Britain's position among the nations of the world.

The Unionists also stood for fiscal reform. He would not say the whole difficulty of employment would be solved by tariff reform, but it would diminish the really serious part—the unemployment of competent workmen.

Old Corps to Be Revived.

London, Dec 31.—The Canadian Associated Press learns it is probable the Imperial Goernment at an early date will announce its approval of the revival, suggested by the Dominion Government, of three old Canadian regiments of infantry.

This probably means that, in connection with the Imperial defence movement, three regiments of Canadian militiamen might be exchanged for duty with imperial units.

THE BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS ON MONDAY

Present Municipal Fight is Hot in All Departments—Both Sides Working Hard on Local Option Question—What the Electors Will Vote On.

Monday will witness the battle of the ballots. The present municipal contest is one of the warmest in the history of the city and there will be an immense vote polled. The local option contest has added interest to the fight. Both sides are confident of victory and are putting forth their strongest efforts in the closing stages of the campaign.

There is a warm contest for the mayoralty and the aldermanic candidates are all working hard.

Below is a list of what the electors of Peterborough will vote on on Monday;

FOR MAYOR.

E. F. MASON.
W. G. MORROW

FOR ALDERMEN.

W. H. BRADBURN
J. J. DUFFUS
GEO. H. DUNCAN
JAS. G. GRAHAM

W. G. NELSON
W. S. ROBINSON
Five to be elected.

FOUR BY-LAWS

To raise $19,000 for the building and equipment of an isolation hospital for the city of Peterborough.

To return to the ward system of electing aldermen.

To enter into an agreement for thirty years with the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

To prohibit the sale by retail of liquor in Peterborough.

WHO CAN VOTE

Everybody on the voters' list is entitled to vote for mayor, aldermen, Board of Education and on the by-law to return to the ward system, on the by-law to enter into an agreement with the Light and Power Company and on the local option by-law. In connection with the by-law to raise $19,000 for an isolation hospital only freeholders have a right to vote. They have a vote in each ward in which they are qualified.

Recovers Her Kidnapped Child.

New York, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Elizabeth McClusky will not know her daughter when she sees her. Little Mary was kidnapped when three months' old, and only last night, after sixteen months' search was found by the police living with strangers under a different name.

Dyson Murder Trial.

North Bay, Dec. 31.—Morin and Corish, held on a charge of murdering Telegraph Operator Dyson at Redwater, came up for preliminary trial before Magistrate Weegar yesterday morning. As the crown was not ready the prisoners were remanded until January 7.

$5,000 For Girl's Ransom.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 31.—A letter was received yesterday from some town in Ohio, promising the return of little Alma Keller to her parents on payment of $5,000 ransom. The girl disappeared Dec. 6.

Found Dead In Stable.

Belleville, Dec. 31.—John Nolan, a man 45 years of age, was found dead in the stable of the Stirling House at Stirling Village. An inquest will be opened to-day by Coroner Dr. Bissonette.

We take this opportunity to thank our numerous patrons, and trust that our endeavors to serve you well have met with your approval and will merit a continuance of your patronage

THE LOCAL OPTION MOVEMENT IN THE CITY

The Matter Appearing in This Department is Furnished by the Peterboroug Temperance and Moral Reform League Which Has Arranged for its Publication.

THE BREWERY CANNOT SELL UNDER LOCAL OPTION

The local option law is so stringent that it prevents absolutely the sale by a brewery of spirituous liquors in a local option district. Mr. E. Saunders, head of the Provincial License Department, Toronto, has given direct assurance on this point in a letter in which he states. "No brewer operating his brewery in a local option municipality is permitted to sell his beer to persons residing within the municipality no matter whether the order is received at the brewery or not. He can sell only to persons living outside the local option municipality. This shows that it will be impossible for the brewery now operating in Peterborough to sell its goods in Peterborough after we have voted out the open bar. Vote for local option.

THE LOCAL OPTION LAW NOT LIKE OTHER LAWS

There is no truth in the statements that the local option law is like the Scott Act or Duncan Act. It is utterly and completely different from both. It provides for the proper enforcement by government officials of the law. It gives local municipalities power to enforce their own laws with government help. It provides that hotel keepers who break the law shall be sent to jail without the option of a fine upon a second offence.

All the weak points in the old Duncan and Scott Acts have disappeared from the local option law and many new and better provisions have been included in it. This explains why 131 municipalities in Ontario after they had local option for three years have continued it in force although they might have repealed it had they so desired. Vote for local option.

NO NEW CLUB LICENSES UNDER LOCAL OPTION

The Ontario Government has given definite assurance that when local option carries in Peterborough no new club licenses will be granted. The license commissioners in Peterborough have power to cancel the license of the present club and there is a possibility that this action will be followed.

Members of the Peterborough Club have already discussed the advisability of throwing up their present license. In this connection it has been pointed out that a considerable number of leading citizens who now refuse to identify themselves with the club while it has a license would do so were the license abandoned. There need be no fear that the Peterborough club license will cause any trouble and we know that no new licenses the same kind will be issued.

THE OPEN BAR CAUSES CRIME

The Ontario Brewers' Association has published statements in the Peterborough papers during the past few days claiming that the liquor traffic does not cause crime. Of course no proof of their statements was furnished. According to the Dominion year book for 1908 issued by the Canadian Government there were 70,000 summary convictions in the Dominion during 1907. Of these 33,300, of 47 1-2 per cent., were for drunkenness and offences against the liquor acts.

These figures, however, do not include the long and dreary list of other crimes which follow from the liquor traffic, such as, 4235 assaults, 5079 cases of vagrancy, 3692 convictions for being idle and disorderly, 1336 breaches of peace, etc. The great majority of these thousands of crimes were caused by the liquor traffic. For example, sober men seldom commit assaults or breaches of the peace, nor are they vagrants or idle.

The year book for 1908 shows that out of 9110 persons convicted for indictable offences in 1907, 7033, of 77 per cent. were addicted to the use of liquor. Wherever local option carries and the bars are closed the police court record shows that crime decreases.

HINTS FOR WORKERS

Monday is the day when we vote the open bar out of Peterborough. Vote early and get others to do the same.

The headquarters of the Temperance League will be in the Y.M.C.A.

If you want to know where to vote or where any of your friends should vote, call up 'phone 260.

If you need a rig or want to have a rig sent for any voter send word as soon as you can to the Y.M.C.A. or call 'phone 260.

If you hear of any cases of bribery or of unlawful proceedings of any kind, report them immediately to the headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. or 'phone 260.

Vote the first thing in the morning and then turn in and help get others out to vote.

Help make the majority as much greater than the three-fifths required, as possible. Roll up a big vote.

VOTE FOR LOCAL OPTION.

$100 REWARD $100

The Temperance League of this city offers ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD for information that will lead to the conviction of any person guilty of bribery at the approaching Local Option vote.

It is reported that such methods have been attempted at other places.

The Temperance and Moral Reform League will not be responsible for debts contracted in its name for any work or duties performed in connection with the vote for Local Option, with or without the signature of any of its officers.

All workers or Agents are hereby warned against the use of any promise or threat that will in any way unduly influence any vote.

Fifteen Years of Agony

"Fruit-a-tives" Promptly Cured Him After Doctors Had Failed To Give Relief.

CHARLES BARRETT, Esq.

Harbor au Bouche, Antigonish Co., N.S., March 24, 1909.

"I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the great benefit I received from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I suffered from Biliousness and Dyspepsia for fifteen years and I consulted physicians and took many kinds of ordinary medicine, but got no relief. I was in miserable health all the time and nothing did me any good. I read the testimonial of Archibald McKechnie, of Ottawa, and I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives." I have taken a number of boxes of "Fruit-a-tives," but before I had taken one box I felt better and now am entirely well.

"I am thankful to be well after fifteen years suffering, and I am willing to have this statement published for the sake of other sufferers, and to them I strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives."

WOMEN'S WOES

Peterborough Women are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. John Wallace, of 325 Water street Peterborough, Ont., says;—"I had suffered with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble for over two years, and could find nothing that would benefit my condition. My back was weak, and a dull, heavy pain settled across the small of it, extending into my sides and shoulders. I could not sleep at night as the kidney secretions were so frequent and irregular that I would have to leave my bed a number of times. I was dizzy and weak and would usually awake with a dull headache. Booth's Kidney Pills, procured at McDermid & Jury's Drug Store, cured me when all else failed. I am stronger, and feel better generally. I can conscientiously recommend Booth's Kidney Pills and would not be without a box in the house."

ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Garside Celebrated 25th Anniversary of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James Garside celebrated the 25th anniversary of their golden wedding last night at their residence, 199 Reid street. Dinner was served to a number of friends and an enjoyable vening was spent in music and games.

A number of beautiful presents were received, among them a purse of gold, which was given to Mrs. Garside by her son, Mr. Charles Garside, Calgary, Alta.

BANNER YEAR FOR LAUDER

Mr. W. J. Robson, who is now in the city on business in connection with the local appearance of "The Prince Chap." has been handling the Harry Lauder tour and states that the famous comedian of the heatherland has been favored with a particularly remunerative season.

Lauder's new songs were enthusiastically received and his old numbers still retain the popularity which they have acquired ever since he first sang them.

LOCAL OPTION AS VIEWED BY A CIVIC OFFICIAL

A prominent civic official in Peterborough who has had ample opportunity to watch the results of the open bar in this city has given the following as his views on the question of local option.

It is the duty of the State to prohibit anything the continuance of which will work lasting ill to its people.

On this principle it prohibits and regulates the sale of poisons, the keeping of vicious animals, etc. Because the use of intoxicating liquors works injury the state regulates the traffic and wholly prohibits the sale to persons addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants. Conceding the right of the state to regulate, and, in certain cases to wholly prohibit the individual from buying or procuring, one must admit the right to forbid absolutely the sale of intoxicating liquor.

All the Christian world denounces Great Britain, a Christian nation, because it forced China to admit opium in commerce. To-day the Christian world beholds China blotting out the entire opium trade. Which is the more civilised, China or Britain? If you cannot answer that question satisfactorily—then I ask which nation is pursuing the higher and wiser policy—leaving religion wholly out of the question?

One half of the United States, a nation claimed to be the most enlightened has "gone dry"—is this political economy in the United States? If so would it be bad political economy in Canada? One hundred citizens of Peterborough—victims of drink, have been put on the black list by those who suffered from the drinking habit of the loved ones. Does the tree that produces such fruit deserve to be cherished and preserved?

The Cash value of all the wheat raised in our great western provinces is about $70,000,000—that is said to be the cost of Canada's liquor consumption. In this computation no account is taken of the wasted lives, wrecked homes, broken hearts, wronged wives and children, increased cost of asylums, prisons and criminal administration. Instead of reckoning the gains to come from prohibition, stop a while and enumerate the blessings that have come to the state from the liquor traffic, just begin and count them, put them down one by one and look at them. I will begin,—

Hapy homes? No.

Happy wives, mothers, children? No.

Children properly educated? No

Large savings bank accounts? No.

Do the boys and girls in drunkard's homes get a fair chance? No.

Are the teachers, ministers, doctors, who drink helped and helpful? No.

Does the trade keep the shopkeeper, merchant, mechanic? No.

Does it add to the efficiency of the mechanic, laborer, engine driver, train despatcher, doctor? No.

Does it lessen the demand on the charity fund of the town for food, wood, clothing. No.

Does the money spent for drink help to build homes for those who need them? No.

Does the business empty the gaols and the asylum? No.

Pray then, tell me what the trade is good for. Oh you say that it puts into the Coffers of the city $5,000 per year, just 30 cents per head of the population, $1.50 for each family of five. How many days labor have been lost this year through drink. How many homes wrecked, premature deaths? How much money paid in the police court? How many has it lodged in the gaol? How many women and girls sent to the street? How much money wiped off the merchant's account? If men used liquor temperately the temperance question would be wiped off the slate, but because they don't and cannot, because slaves and wrecks destroy themselves and all depending on them, this question—Prohibition—is the most important question of the day.

I leave out the religious and moral question nor do I contend that a man who takes a glass of grog will go to perdition, I treat it simply as an economic question and I say that there is only one side to it—Prohibition is in the interest of the people. I have always voted for it I always will for I have seen so much of the evil fruits of the liquor traffic that I sink my own desires in the interest of the people, many of whom cannot maintain a wise discretion against so insidious an enemy.

Any money the city gets from the traffic will be re-couped ten times over if the traffic is blotted out. This is proved by every place that has given Prohibition a fair trial. The men who contend against prohibition and resort to all kinds of mean schemes to defeat the law of the land, the will of the people, are not those whom the people should select to guide them either in moral or economic questions. If the people try prohibition and uphold the law as they would any other law, they will never go back to the bar room.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrah, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circularsm free.

"Blind Pig" or Decent Bar?

Under license, men drink moderately, and are restricted to good behavior. No Ontario licensed bartender dare sell to a drunken man, nor to a minor —his very living depends upon the decency of his bar. Under local option, men drink by stealth and to excess because there is no restraint. Local option substitutes the "blind pig" for the decent bar, and the seller welcomes minors.

Local option hurts the community that tries it. Owen Sound proves that.

In every community where local option has been tried, drunkenness has increased. In one Ontario town arrests for drunkenness have increased 80 per cent. under local option.

Naturally. For when men drink by stealth, hidden from the eyes of their community, they drink far more than they would (or would be allowed to) under license. Their self-respect, and the law, keeps them straight. Local option hides and increases intemperance - never checks it.

WEST ENDS WENT DOWN BEFORE KEENE'S FAST TEAM

Visitors Had Weight and Were Fast Skaters —Halpin's Work in Goal for the Losers, a Feature of the Game at Auditorium Rink—Score Was 7-3.

The hockey season opened last night at the Auditorium rink, when the team that will represent Keene in the Peterborough City Hockey League met and defeated the West End Athletic Club seven in a game which, while not classy, was interesting, by the score of 7 to 3. From the time the puck was dropped to the ice at the start of the exhibition by referee Len Dobson, until the finish, the players on both teams let loose, and practically no combination was attempted. They were too eager to get after the rubber. Then again, the checking was hard, and only on very few occasions could any of the players get away with any effective stick handling.

The visitors are a husky bunch and are all fast skaters. Just how good the team is, and what kind of a showing it will make in the race for the championship, will not be determined until the players are seen in action on Brock street rink, with its larger ice area. If they can work up a good combination the team that beats them will know they have been through a hockey game with seven good men as their opponents.

On the defence, Dinsdale in goal, Smith at point and McDougall at cover are steady and effective. Smith and McDougall can rush nicely and shoot well, the latter having a long shot that is accurate. On the line Weir at centre is particularly fast. His work last night stamped him as a coming star. Bill Shortt at rover was always in the limelight, and McCarthy and McIntyre at right and left wing respectively proved a big proposition for their checks.

Con. Halpin, between the nets for the West Ends, was the most conspicuous player on the ice. Time and time again he blocked shots which looked like sure counters against his team. Munroe and Dobson performed creditably, and gave him good support. In the centre position Cyril Giroux showed up well, as did Rose at rover. Seymour shot well and Richardson played a hard game in the first half. He was unable, through an injury received, to take the ice in the second half, and the West Ends worked with six men to the visitors' seven. The score at half time was 5—1 for Keene.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the game.

The teams were:—

XMAS PARTY IN ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

A Delightful Entertainment---A Very Pretty and Effective Stage Dressing

Aladdin visited St. John's school yesterday afternoon and transformed the stage into a fairy scene of principally white and blue coloring with up-to-date electrical effects in lighting. The Sunday school teachers and scholars met for their annual Christmas party, and spent a perfectly happy time. Part one consisted of Carols; part two of a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in a splendid sketch illustrating different trades of a boys' club. The girls were prominent in two character numbers, "The Typewriter's Song" and "Hats and Gowns." The junior girls in nightdresses and carrying dolls sang a pretty lullaby, "Hush, my dear," and received prolonged applause. Harold Devey and Lorne Conway as "travelling tinkers," created lots of fun. Mr. Roy, Mr. Fred Roy and Mr. Common, very kindly provided splendid lantern slides. The senior girls from the Barnardo Home were present and gave a fine Christmas hymn, "Joy to the World." Two splendid scenes were put on, "The Shepherds and the Star" and "All Nations at the Cross." The dresses and grouping of these scenes were very fine, and Mrs. R. J. Devey, with the band of ladies who assisted her, deserves high praise. A bountiful lunch, tea, cakes and ice cream was served, then a few seasonable words from the Rev. Canon Davidson and singing of the National Anthem concluded the evening.

All the direction of the party was in the hands of the superintendent, Mr. R. J. Devey, ably assisted by committees of teachers and scholars, and their combined work produced one of the prettiest entertainments in the school annals.

AN ADDRESS ON PUBLIC MATTERS

Mr. Richard McBride, the Rice Lake diplomat and phrenologist, was in the city to-day and paid a call on the finance editor. Mr. McBride vigorously and fearlessly discussed important public questions and also discoursed on local option with the same resourcefulness he exhibited in his consideration of other matters of weight.

Mr. McBride also addressed the sanctum at length on Provincial and Dominion politics.

PROVINCIAL CONVENTION IS POSTPONED

Special to The Review.

Toronto, Dec. 31— The Provincial Convention of Conservatives for reorganizing the party, which was to have been held on January 11th, has been postponed until next fall, probably during Toronto Exhibition. It was felt that it would be better to postpone it until after the Dominion convention next summer in order that the party's policy as decided upon then may come before the Provincial convention.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—With reference to the charge laid against me for disturbing the meeting at the Opera House, the case was dismissed on their own evidence, without it being necessary for me to produce my evidence in defence. To prove to the people of Peterborough that those moral reformers had been trying to blindfold them, I was ready to produce all kinds of evidence. To show the people that I subphoenaed the leaders of the campaign to give evidence, and only by the way the magistrate took, in not hearing the evidence for the defence, he saved the moral reformers from bringing the whole affair before the people, and showing the people of Peterborough that they have been misled.

They offered to answer any questions, and then when asked, made all kinds of excuses, and tried to avoid discussion before the public. But just sneaked around and tried to do things in their own way. Now the magistrate himself stated on their own evidence that it was the wrong thing for them to do, and that I had the fullest right as a British subject in a free country, to ask any honest questions. That it was their duty to help their cause to answer them, and that they had injured their own cause by not answering them.

Now, citizens of Peterborough, see for yourself what the magistrate says, whatever his views in this local option campaign might be, that they had no right to expel me from their meeting, and by so doing they had proved that they could not uphold their cause before the public. I, therefore, say, every voter, before you vote, bear this in mind, that your own mayor does not favor local option, and that influential people of the city, and the magistrate say that expelling me from the Opera House was not right, under British law. I, therefore, say, with all due respect to the clergymen, that some of the moral reform workers ought to be ashamed to use such ways and means to induce the people to come to their views in this cause. Ways that are not lawful in this country.

Again wishing you a happy New Year, I remain,

Yours truly,
B. LASTAR.

A CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF PETERBOROUGH

GENTLEMEN,—After studying and being convinced that local option would not be of any benefit to Peterborough, I have been sitting long hours in the night studying this, and expressing my opinion in letters through the press, in spending sleepless nights and taking abuse in the first part of my campaign from a number of people. I have even lost a certain amount of trade on account of the prejudice of parties who are opposed to my views. I am not looking for any good pay jobs from the city. Then you will say why have I done it? Because it is my nature when I see men insulted and attacked without any real cause, as by statements that have been made that the people of Peterborough have been and the majority of them are drunkards and criminals, and affected with misery through drunkenness, that I came out to show that after seven years living in Peterborough, and having to do mostly with the poorer class of working men, I was convinced that they are absolutely wrong and that we have only a few drunkards and criminals. Neither is there misery through drunkenness. I did not care about the abuse, but I stood against all odds and losses, and gave my opinion. And now I have dozens of dozens of letters from citizens who are encouraging me, who are giving me praise for what I done. And, therefore, having seen in my mind that the liquor question can be settled in a peaceful way, without injuring anyone, I came out to stand as a candidate for the Council for the coming year. In the first place, if elected, no matter what the verdict of the people may be, I will be there to see, that without favor or obligations to anyone, the law is obeyed. Then I hope that those men who are opposing me in my views at the present time will give me their assistance, and as a member of the council I will have more influence, and will see that united we will be able to regulate the liquor question once and for all, and that we shall have no necessity for bringing here in the future all kinds of speakers to call us drunkards and criminals.

I will do my utmost to see that Peterborough is to be an example of purity and peace, if supported and elected by you.

3d Yours respectfully,
B. LASTAR

ARGUMENTS WERE WELL ADVANCED

On the Municipal Question of Greatest Moment, Local Option.

The Direct Responsibility of the Voters—Address by H. E. Irwin, K.C. at Park Street.

On the eve of the election the address given at the Park street Baptist church last night by Mr. E H. Irwin, K.C, of Toronto, is of considerable interest and significance. Mr Irwin is a logical, lucid speaker, and his attitude is fair and reasonable, although he is most assuredly convinced that local option is an advanced stepping stone to prohibition, and a measure that is the embodiment of timely and common sense legislation aside from its most important aspect as a moral question in its effect in diminishing the amount of strong drink used, and the consequent lessening of the many evils of which intemperance is directly or indirectly the cause. He presented his views as a series of rational arguments rather than as impassioned, sentimental appeal, and for that reason scored what appeared to be many strong and convincing points.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford, pastor of Park street church, presided at the meeting in his usual happy manner, and before Mr. Irwin opened his address, called upon Mr. Potter to give the history of what led to the local option movement in this community and of the rapid development of the movement.

Rev. Mr Potter spoke briefly, outlining the origin and growth of the local option movement.

The late Father Keilty, while a parish priest in Ennismore, started the great temperance agitation, which, while it was not strictly for local option, led first to the banishment of the bar in Ennismore and Douro, and by degrees the other townships fell in line. It was Peterborough's duty to follow their example. Mr. Potter stated in an interesting review of the development of the anti-license movement, which is the most important issue in municipal politics at the present time.

Mr Irwin was then introduced and commenced his address.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE BY-LAW.

He referred to the dispatch in a Toronto paper, which stated that in Mayor Rush's opinion local option could not be enforced here. The speaker, on his former visit, had been greatly impressed with the apparent abidance with the law by the citizens. He had seen no disorder here, and was at a loss to know why the local option law could not be enforced as well as any other. The mayor of the city should know whereof he spoke, but the speaker looking at it from the standpoint of an ordinary observer, did not know why the law could not be enforced. He was sorry to read the opinion of the Mayor of Peterborough spread broadcast to the world, but if the local authorities found it difficult to enforce the law, then an appeal could be made to the Lieutenant-Governor, and, if necessary, the militia forces of the province could be called to see that the law was enforced. He intimated that this would only have to be resorted to, however, as an extreme measure, and there was no reason why local option could not be enforced here by the civic authorities with the same outstanding success it was in other places.

HOTELKEEPING RESPECTABLE

The speaker said that he was not fighting against men. He was fighting against evil. And yet some people might say that he was fighting against men when he was trying to take away a man's business. Hotelkeeping was honorable business, and the hotelman had great opportunities for doing good in providing accommodation and comfort for the man away from the cheerfulness of his home and away from home influence.

But an incidental part of the business was the bar, the part that was allowed to exist through license. And the fight for prohibition had progressed till it was more than three-quarters won.

The question of personal liberty, Mr. Irwin said, had not been even heard of at all until it was advanced by the liquor interests, when the millions of capital they had invested was endangered. The only question was: "Is the liquor traffic a good thing for Peterborough and the citizens of Peterborough? That is the only thing you have to decide, and the responsibility comes right home to you."

FOOD ARGUMENT EXPLODED.

The people should not be mislead by paid articles and advertisements against local option published in the papers, but should simply decide whether or not the traffic was desirable for this city.

Personal reasons were given by the speaker why he was in favor of local option and these were most interesting and appeared consistent and well-timed.

Mr. Irwin regretted very much that papers for mercenary considerations would publish advertisements to the effect that alcohol was a food and that there were men dishonest enough to furnish the lies for these statements. He gave proof to show the fallacy of the argument that intoxicants were a food as was proven conclusively by scientific research and actual scientific tests and experiments.

WHAT THE RESULT WILL SHOW.

Local option was the next logical step to be taken in the warfare against the liquor traffic.

In an impressive admonition for the voters to use their franchise for the abolition of the bar in Peterborough it was stated in no ambiguous terms that it would depend on how the voters marked their ballot whether they expressed their condemnation or approval of the traffic that was undermining and destroying the best and highest in our national life.

A SOURCE OF ENLIGHTENMENT.

Referring to a well-known anti-local option writer in the Peterborough press, the speaker said it was not a privilege universally shared when a community had a gentleman from Russia, who told an Anglo-Saxon people what their liberties and rights were.

The "licensed to sell" signs of the barrooms did not have the names of the grantors of the licenses. why? Because the signs were not large enough to contain the names of the voters of Peterborough, but in the sight of God the names were on those signs.

A point advanced was that the process of evolution in connection with the hotel business by reason of the removal of the bar was not out of keeping with natural evolution which took place in every business. What business or business system had been run for years without some modification or improvement?

OWEN SOUND INDIGNANT.

In a public mass meeting in Owen Sound a short time ago the citizens stated that they were shocked and indignant that the liquor interests should publish such unfounded lies about the non-enforcement of the local option by-law in Owen Sound, and the Provincial Secretary's department had aroused itself to see if steps could not be taken to punish those responsible for such lying slanders.

The liquor men have said that the law will be broken. Who will break it? They will break it themselves if it is broken, and who was it that dared say to an Anglo-Saxon community that the law would be broken when the law had been made by the people with all the resources of law administration to see that it was kept?

AN OPTIMISTIC PREDICTION

Greater prosperity was strikingly in evidence in the communities where prohibition was enforced.

"I venture to say,' said the speaker, "that if local option carries there will be $500,000 more in the banks of Peterborough on May 1st, 1911 than on May 1st, 1910.'

WOULD BEFRIEND TO HOTELMEN

Mr. Irwin said the people who voted for local option would be the hotelman's best friend if they carried local option here and took away the liquor selling from the honorable end of the hotel business.

It was the duty of the people to carry local option in the interests of the hotelkeepers and their families and of the barkeepers and their families. The bartender's business was such that no insurance company would take a risk on his life for the protection of his wife and little ones, and we were under an obligation to remove him from such an occupation.

A Strange Coincidence

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Permit me to say that on passing Mr. Morrow's committee rooms on Simcoe street, I was surprised to see Robert Leary, Walter Davidson, Arthur McClellan in charge. Looks like old lot of immortal memory, don't it? None of it for me.

CITIZEN.

The "Dirty Story Man"

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—When we get the smell of whiskey and stale beer off the public breath I hope we will get some of our people to begin an agitation against the "dirty-story" man. Church members as a rule excel in this respect, or, rather, what I mean is that the dirtiest stories are usually told by those high up in church circles. This is no slander. This is a fact. It's a queer mind that won't work both ways, don't you know? But I suppose you can't make a silk purse, &c., even in a church. Let's turn over a new leaf for de luv o' goodness.

Yours,
OBSERVER.

Two Things for Monday

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—1. Hon George A. Cox is a good man and draws one hundred thousand dollars in rents per annum from Peterborough. It is a big sum. Ald. Morrow will represent him. That's what he is a candidate for. If you want that, vote for Ald. Morrow. Ald Mason is nobody's nominee but the people, whose interests alone he will serve. If so, why not vote for him? Should the School Board appoint the Mayor? Who profits by factories anyhow? The landlords who own real estate in the centre of the town. The merchants will have increased competition and INCREASED RENTS.

2. Local Option simply abolishes the bar. The bar is the father and mother of the black list. Do you vote to continue the black list factory or will you run a chance of better things and see how it comes out? Is the bar our only hope? Why use moral suasion and its opposite at the same time? The T.A.S. requires a pledge. Local Option says to the barkeep, "If you will join our community, take the pledge." Same thing.

Yours,
MERCHANT.

ADAM'S 15 DAYS GREAT FORCED SACRIFICE SALE

The beginning of the year is patiently awaited by many far-seeing shoppers as a prolific season for bargains in the stores. After the holiday trade is over merchants take advantage of the early weeks of January to "run off" or "reduce" or "unload" their remaining stocks, in order to convert them into cash as rapidly as possible. As a general rule it is the "overloaded" merchant who usually seeks to catch the eye of the bargain-waiter, but frequently merchants find that their business has outgrown their premises, or some other evidence of prosperity has arisen that forces upon them the necessity for altering or remodelling their premises at this season. It is for this latter reason that the full page advertisement of Mr. Harry Adams, the ladies' furnisher, of 393 George street, appears in to-day's issue of the Review. Mr. Adams has been forced by the gratifying growth of his business to provide increased accommodation for his increasing trade and the handling of larger stocks. Frequently during the past season crowds of customers could not be waited upon, and he very wisely concluded that if a big crowd is turned away without being served more than likely the small crowd go with it. With the object of overcoming this difficulty, he has decided on a sweeping sacrifice sale of his entire $15,000 stock of ladies', misses' and children's ready-to-wear garments, fancy goods, etc. This sale is to begin on Tuesday, Jan. 4th, and will be continued for fifteen days. The full particulars will be found in his page advertisement, and ladies who know the reputation of "Adams' Store for Women" for good goods and honest methods will take early advantage of the great bargains offered.

THE BY-LAW

A close inspection of the by-law to enable the Hydraulic Co. usually known as a subsidiary company of the Quaker Oats Co., to expand its business, shows that it is simply asking for permission to use the streets for 30 years, and the reason for asking is plain. It is desired to sell bonds in the financial market. No monopoly or exclusive franchise of any kind whatever attaches to or is concealed in its folds. To turn it down would, in our humble opinion, be a piece of carelessness amounting to unwisdom. It is not a by-law conclusive or irredeemable or a once-for-all sacrifice in any sense. It will mean, however, a large expansion of the business and affairs of the Company. There is really no valid objection to it.

SALVATION ARMY YOUNG PEOPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

A very interesting ceremony took place in the Salvation Army Temple last night, when two young members of the Salvation Army were united in marriage by Staff Captain Walton. The contracting parties were Miss Maud Naish, youngest daughter of Mr. H. Naish, of this city, and Mr. W. Ford, deputy band master of the Salvation Army Band. The bride was attired in a blue costume, with a white sash, and was assisted by Miss Lily Leaman. The groom wore the regulation band uniform, and was supported by Mr. W. Northcotte. The bride was given away by her father.

At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony Mr. Naish, in a neat speech, referred to the fact that the bride of the evening was the fourth daughter which he had given away to Salvation Army bandsmen, and all were workers in the Salvation Army of the city.

The staff captain also made a few congratulatory remarks, and these were followed by a choice selection by the members of the band, led by the groom. Afterwards the newly-wedded couple, with the members of their families and a few intimate friends, adjourned to the basement, where an enjoyable repast had been prepared by Coleman Bros. Mr. C. Coleman, in a song and a comic speech, delighted those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford will reside on Murray street, and have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy married life.

MAGISTRATE HELD THAT CHARGE WAS NOT PROVEN

Against Mr. B. Lastar of Having Caused a Disturbance in Grand Opera House on the Night of Dec. 22 —Temperance People Had Nothing to Do With Laying of Charge.

At the police court this morning, Mr. B. Lastar was acquitted of the charge laid against him, of having on the evening of December 22, disturbed a public meeting at the Grand Opera House.

The substance of Magistrate Dumble's summing up of the evidence in giving judgment was to the effect that while Mr. Lastar had shown himself to be erratic, nervous and persistent and an anti-local optionist, he did not think that he (Lastar) had gone to the meeting with a deliberate intention to cause a disturbance. It was not doing any harm to send up questions to be answered. It was a public meeting for the purpose of giving information. Mr. Lastar might have been guilty of a little injudicious conduct and I think said His Worship a worse thing could not have been done than to put the man out of the house and not answer the questions. We are trying him for his deliberate intention to interrupt the meeting and I don't find that the charge is proven.

Mr. G. N. Gordon conducted the case in the interests of the defendant.

The first witness was Chief Roszel. He told of the meeting being held on December 22, in the interests of Local Option and Moral Reform. There had been a complaint made that Mr. Lastar had interrupted the meeting. Witness wanted to go back to other meetings to show what lead up to the complaint being made, but the magistrate would not take it. Witness said Mr. Turner had come to him with complaints about the conduct of Mr. Lastar and he had tried his best to keep Mr Lastar from appearing in court.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., next called, told of Mr. Lastar's conduct on the night of Dec. 22. At the conclusion of Hon. Seaborn Wright's address he jumped up and said he demanded an explanation to his questions. A number of persons shouted "sit down," but he did not. A policeman walked over to him and asked him to leave. He did, and as he left his seat he said something about making somebody pay for this. He had interrupted at two other meetings.

To Mr. Gordon—"I did not hear Lastar say, 'Will you please answer my questions or not.'

Rev. H. G. Keith said that Rev. J. R. Webb was speaking as he arose and walked towards the front of the platform, when Mr. Lastar arose and demanded an explanation to his questions. He had sent up questions at a previous meeting, but witness did not understand that they were the ones to be answered. He did not know of any regulation that had been made, prohibiting the answering of questions. Rev. J. G. Potter had intimated that no questions should be sent up during the evening as it interrupted the meeting.

Mr. Wm. Yelland said he was sitting up near the front and heard a voice which he understood to be that of Mr. Lastar.

Rev. J. R. Webb was called. He asked permission to make a statement and it was that "the temperance people had absolutely nothing to do with the bringing of Mr. Lastar to court. I was speaking before Lastar uttered a word,' said the witness. Mr. Lastar began to speak and I said, "Please sit down Mr. Lastar. I have the floor. He continued to speak, with his hands outstretched. The people were rising to their feet and I feared a panic.

To Mr. Gordon—He so interrupted the meeting that I had to say, "Ladies and gentlemen, please keep your seats.

Did you know that an intimation had been sent to the public that the Hon. Seaborn Wright would answer questions, asked Mr. Gordon.

I never heard of it replied the witness.

The matter of Mr. Lastar writing letters to the press came up and Rev. Mr. Webb said that he felt they advanced the cause of local option, and Mr. Lastar could write as many as he wished.

No witnesses for the defence were called, the magistrate stating that he did not wish to hear any more evidence.

To-morrow night the fun will begin and the men taking part in the circus are showing up for practice regularly, and to-night they are to have a dress rehearsal. Those that have been there to see them practice say that they are all right and will be Johnnie on the spot with their friend, too.

Their comedy acts are the best ever and they can almost make a horse laugh, and if they can do that they can also make you laugh.

The Return of Peary and Cook. The first aid to the injured. Comical creations. Guess! These are all comical enough to make any one laugh.

Class work, such as drills, apparatus work, pyramids, and all sort of gymnastic cleverness.

Hand balancing and acrobatic performances that would make the professional man sit up and take notice, and even do them out of a job if they wanted to, but they don't want to. This act is executed by the Mack Bros., who are new to Peterborough, and yet they are well known to the citizens of the town.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is being fitted up to represent a circus ring. It is decorated and there is everything to make one believe that he or she is at Ringling Bros.' circus, but you are not. You are at the Y. M. C. THE ELECTRIC POWER AND LIGHTING RATES

Mr. W. H. Denham Discusses the Question of Power and Light—Important Facts Set Out.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I have noticed several articles lately which touched on the question of the price of power for commercial purposes, and also house lighting, in connection with the Peterborough Light & Power Company's By-law, to be voted on on January 3rd, 1910, and feeling that the situation is not understood by some of the voters, the following information may be of interest to help to decide in favor of the By-law.

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission's report was compiled by eminent engineers, thoroughly acquainted with their work and competent in every way to deal with such a subject. Their report deals with the cost of power delivered at sub-stations. In their report they also state that the distribution of this power to the consumer costs from $3.00 to $7.00. Taking $5.00 as a fair average for distribution, we arrive at the following figures;—

	Per h.p.
Hamilton	$20.36
Toronto	21.53
Brampton	26.23
St. Thomas	26.89
London	24.51
Tilsonburg	29.30
Guelph	23.39
Galt	22.35
Brantford	21.87
Chatham	29.62
Sarnia	34.28
Kingston	26.43
Belleville	21.65
Oshawa	26.52
Port Hope	24.49
Cobourg	23.30

The above figures represent bringing down a maximum quantity of h.p., which means that where the maximum cannot be used that the rate would be still higher, because that rate must take care of all fixed charges, whether it be 1,000 h.p., 10,000 h.p., or more. These figures may be verified by reference to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission's report. The above list does not include all of the cities reported on by the Commission, but in no case is there any power which can be delivered at less than the lowest figures above stated.

You can readily see from this list that Peterborough is fortunate in being able to obtain her power for $20.00, and therefore, the offer of the Light & Power Company is not only reasonable, but it is extremely low, compared with what power can be obtained for at other points.

If you will refer to the report, you will also find that Peterborough is very well taken care of as regards house lighting, as the following table will show;—

	Net per K.W. hour
Peterborough	7 1-2c
(In the new by-law it will be 7c net per K.W. hour.)
Lindsay	12 1-2
Whitby (Mun. plant)	10
Cobourg	18.2
Trenton	8.
Belleville	8
Kingston	12 1-2
Hamilton	10
St. Thomas	10
Guelph	10
Brantford	8.1

You can also readily see from the above that Peterborough's rate is low in comparison. These are the cities which are dealt with by the Commission for the Trent District and Niagara District, and are the points which are of interest to Peterborough.

Some arguments have also been advanced as regards the cost of lighting on the basis of meter, which are misleading and unreasonable. In the first place suppositions have been made that a consumer burning eight lights for twelve hours each, paying by meter, will be paying an extortionate price for his light, the fact is that if consumers having eight lamps burned all their lights for twelve hours, a flat rate of $1.50 could not be given. The business of lighting works on the law of average the same as Life Insurance, to a certain extent, that is to say, experience has shown the light companies that though a great many houses may have eight lights, that all the houses are not using their lights, and those that are using their lights, are not burning all of them, and in fact the average light burned per night is very low, so low that the $1.50 flat rate is only a trifle cheaper than meter rate.

In talking with the manager of the Light & Power Company, he states that the flat rate is low, and it was put low intentionally, with a measure of generosity to the workingman.

Such arguments as have been advanced, as regards burning a total number of lights for twelve or even twenty-four hours should not be considered for the reason that these conditions do not exist. As a meter user, I am free to say that I have forty lights in my house, besides an electric iron, and that while reasonable care is used so that light is not wasted, there is no limit as to what amount of light may be used, in fact lights are burned all over the house wherever needed, and I dare say my house would be considered as well lighted. My light bill is not over $4.50 per month at the present time, and still lower during the summer months. Any one can readily see that it is a cheaper proposition in my case especially, to be on the meter, as against the flat rate.

An example such as the above, which if borne out by facts, is worth considerably more than suppositions, which do not deal with the regular conditions. I have no hesitancy in saying that my experience is the same as the great majority of meter users. Some will get along with considerable less light than I do, depending of course on the number of lamps in use.

In dealing with this question, it is only right that we should deal with actual conditions, and not with suppositions, and if we consider the by-law in this light, there is no reason why it should not be supported.

Another point is that almost every-one knows that the Light & Power Company has been supported by the Quaker Oats Company, and occasionally articles have appeared in the paper giving a quiet rap at the Quaker Oats Company. Why this should be is beyond my understanding. It is a Company which came to Peterborough, and it is true got some concessions in the way of fixed assessment, for locating an industry in Peterborough.

The Quaker Oats Company not only has established in Peterborough the largest industry of its kind in Canada, employing five hundred of Peterborough's citizens, but it was also through it that the street railway was re-established, and light and power brought up to a high standard of efficiency.

It also is distributing annually among the people of Peterborough approximately $150,000 in wages alone, besides thousands of dollars for material and supplies purchased in Peterborough, in addition to several millions of dollars expended for grain, purchased elsewhere in Canada.

Has the company not lived up to every promise that it has made, which has been in its power to carry out? Are not all of its obligations paid promptly?

Now, Mr. Editor, the Light & Power Company is not asking for anything but the privilege to do business, and to extend its present capacity. It is not asking for exclusive franchise. It is not asking for bonuses. It is simply asking for the moral support of the people in the business it has carried on, and the business it wants to carry on for thirty years to come. It is simply asking the people to guarantee it the right to use the streets for a period of thirty years, so that its policy may be settled for that period of time, and that the Light & Power Co. may carry on its business independently of the Quaker Oats Company, in a position to float its own bonds, without making it necessary for the Quaker Oats Company to guarantee them or to under-write them. That is all its asks, and to obtain this privilege it is granting a great number of concessions and is willing to grant them and to live up to them.

A great deal more may be said on this subject, but in order to put it properly before the minds of some people, who do not thoroughly understand the question, this letter is written, feeling that it may aid those to decide.

Yours truly,
W. H. DENHAM.

THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the urgent solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers, I am now asking your support for my election the Mayoralty of the City of Peterborough for the year 1910; and in doing so I am relying upon my record as a ratepayer, as a life-long citizen, as one materially interested in the manufacturing and industrial development of the city, and as one who, as an Alderman, served you for the past three years, first as Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee and secondly as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

It is usual for one aspiring to the Chief Magistracy to attempt to outline some definite policy to be pursued during the term of office. In compliance with that custom I can only say that it will be my one aim to serve the City to the utmost of my ability, to do what I can to promote its commercial, industrial an moral development, to give fair and just consideration to all questions which may come before the Council having regard to neither class nor party, as I am pledged to non.

Our City has made rapid progress in recent years, and the continuation of this progress will depend largely upon the growth and expansion of the City's present industries, and upon the establishment of new ones to which every encouragement and legitimate inducement should be given — the Council should give immediate attention to securing an adequate supply of cheap power; every effort conducing to these ends has my fullest sympathy and support.

The time has also arrived when the Council must take into consideration the question of permanent roadways in the business section, and in general street construction, and of the extension and improvement of the sewer system in the southern parts of the City. To both of these matters, I shall, if elected, give my earliest attention.

I am in favor of carrying out a policy of the strictest economy consistent with proper service in every department of the Municipal business.

As the time between now and Election Day is short it will be impossible for me to personally call upon every ratepayer; I therefore take this means and opportunity of soliciting for myself the honour of your vote and influence.

Wishing you all a very happy and prosperous New Year,

I am,
Yours sincerely,

W. G. MORROW.

What SCIENTISTS Say Against Local Option:—

Professor A. B. MacCallum,
Lecturer on Physiology to The University of Toronto:
"The results of careful experiments show that alcohol, taken in diluted form in small doses is oxidized within the body and so supplies energy like common articles of food; and that it is incorrect to designate it as a poison."

Professor P. H. Pye-Smith,
Lecturer to Guy's Hospital Medical School, London:
"Malt liquors, for a large number of people (perhaps for most adults), do more good than harm when taken with meals. Temperance is much better than abstinence."

Prof. Lafayette B. Mendel,
Yale University, New Haven:
"Man is by nature a temperate animal and it is only by distinguishing between temperance and intemperance (i.e. use and abuse) that the evils of alcoholism can be combated. Present methods fail in this respect."

Professor T. J. Clouston,
Lecturer to the University of Scotland, Edinburgh:
"Alcohol is a food, and may in a diluted form (as in beer) be a very valuable adjunct to ordinary foods, by exciting appetite, by improving digestion, and by stimulating certain nutritive processes, e.g., the laying on of fat."

Local Option does not promote temperance—it does promote the misuse of drink.

"It should not be taught that the drinking of one or two glasses of beer or wine at meals, by a grown-up person, is dangerous; for it is not true."

GRIMSBY COLD TO MAYOR

Auto Party Couldn't Find Hotel and Had to Move on to Beamsville.

GRIMSBY, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—A revised version of Old Mother Hubbard would fit the experiences of Mayor Oliver of Toronto and a party who arrived here late last night in two automobiles.

They found the town bare of hotel accommodation, and altho it was nearly midnight, had to re-embark and steer a course for Beamsville.

When Grimsby went "dry" several years ago the hotels went out of business, and the 'Village Inn,' a finely appointed hotel run on temperance lines, threw up the sponge after the vote to repeal local option was defeated last January by a slender majority. Consequently there is no provision for the travelling public, as Mayor Oliver found to his cost.

From Toronto World, Oct. 18, 1909

Local option drives trade to the next town, as even scanty hotel accommodation cannot be found for travellers.

Local option, therefore, injures business and depreciates property values.

Local option abolishes the sale of light beers and wines in sanitary hotels under proper license supervision, and substitutes therefor the sale of adulterated whiskey in low dens.

Vote Against Local Option so that your Town may not be given the go-by.

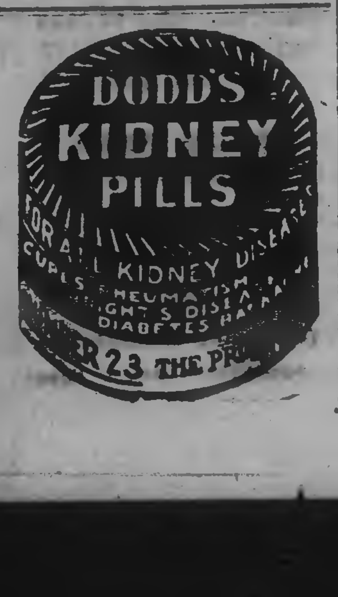
PUNK FOR THE PEOPLE

Free trade means more than free trade in products. It means free trade in labour. It means free trade in people. Great Britain is to-day in the hands of the rich. Her lands and property are held by the few. Free trade is the life of privilege, that privilege which arises from lapse of time and the natural rise of the greedy and successful. Protection implies more than tariff. It means the improvement of the conditions of the people. In Germany it has meant the rise of the small holding, and in France the same. The "individual" in Germany and France is in an incomparably freer and finer condition than in Britain, where the free-trade or let-alone policy has oppressed, and at last roused the people. Privilege may not yet be ripe for overthrow. Free trade may triumph again at the polls. The employers do not need it and do not want it. Perhaps the employees do not yet know enough to ask for it. However, Great Britain, with her "free" trade is a hundred years behind Germany and France in their care of their people. Free trade is all that the greedy ones want. For example, President Taft will seek to forbid stock and grain gambling. This is protection, protection of the best interests of the people. Free trade cries: "Let it alone. Do not interfere. You cannot help trade by legislation. There is no royal road to development of trade. Let the people alone, etc." All of which means to "give the robbers a chance."

These crazy old ideas die hard, but by them, and yet pretends to stand icily aloof.

THE DEVIL

The devil of the present day is said to excel in qualities of unmanliness.



Unlike Milton's Satan, there is nothing heroic about him. He goes about getting what he wants with all the brass and mean-spiritedness of a common perjurer. He cares for nothing but gratification. He believes in "getting" without scruple, for scruple, except as a pretext, is to him only highfalutin' folly. But he retains all his old cunning. He is not always disguised as a politician or professional grafter, either. He sometimes wears even the preacher's garb, for innocence is never so like the devil as when it sees and knows and profits by, and yet pretends to stand icily aloof.

A plea is being put forth for the old John L. Sullivan, smashing style of devil, drunken and swashbucklering. If you like, but not too mean or cowardly to fight in the open, for John L. would have licked the man promptly who suggested a "buy-off" or fake. The she-devil, however, retains all her old pre-eminence. There are no complaints about her degeneracy.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If there is no necessity of manning an imperial fleet, what on earth is the excuse for putting us to the expense of a Canadian Navy?

Australia is roused over the problem of young girls wandering the streets at night. It is called "Australia's peril."

It is Canada's peril.

What will the poor Globe do? The French have just carried measures for High Protection by an overwhelming majority. What crazy folk the French are, and yet France is the richest country in the world!

The Sentinel seems to have the idea that Sam Hughes is a power in the Conservative party. That is a mistake. He is not "big" enough or unselfish enough to be in any such commanding position. It's 'Hughes's party' that he is a power in where he is number one, and all the rest also. See Turpin

The blind pig will get you if you don't watch out.

"I believe in moral suasion, and moral suasion depends on the bar. So how can I, as a moral man vote agin the bar? The bar is the breath of the nostrils of moral suasion. It is the one thing which the suasionist and the drunkard both depend on. The bar's necessary to our suasion."

HALL'S BRIDGE

Special to the Review.

Hall's Bridge, Dec. 27.—Well, Christmas is as far away as ever again.

A large number of friends and relatives spent Christmas day at the home of D. W. Blewett.

Mr H. J. Crowe left Buckhorn on Friday for his home at Hall's Glen Miss E Huffman, of Buckhorn, and Miss C Adams, of Lakehurst, left last Friday for their homes in Peterborough.

Miss R Freeburn and Miss Zetta were to Lakefield last week on business.

Mr. McLeish, of Queen's College, Kingston, spent a few days last week renewing old acquaintances in Buckhorn and Lakehurst.

Everybody reports a fine time at the concert and Xmas tree at Buckhorn on December 23, Mr. McLeish making an excellent chairman, and Mr. W. N. Blewett giving a number of selections on his phonograph.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Nichols spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Crapp, Lakehurst.

A number of Buckhorn people attended the wedding reception of Miss Etta Windover and Mr. G. Henderson, at Rockcroft, on December 22nd.

Miss Sadie and Mr. J. Gillespie spent Sunday, the guests of Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Miss Georgie H[illegible] has given up her school and has returned to her home in Norwood.

Mr. Harry Hampton and his brother spent Sunday in Buckhorn.

A LAST BLAST FROM MR. LASTER

The Final Word From a Voluble and Vociferous Contributor —Says Local Option is a Crime

Note.—The communication following, and which appears over the signature of Mr. B. Laster, is offered for publication by him, independent of the wishes and objects of either side in the local option campaign, and without approval or endorsement by either party. The space occupied is paid for by Mr. Laster, and it is on these conditions that the communication appears.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—This is my last letter that I am giving in this local option campaign and I hope that my letters will bring the result that I have expected and that I have not made any mistake in the intelligence and good sense of the majority of the population of Peterborough.

I can conscientiously say that I have not expected to get any money nor have I been getting any money for my work. It costs me money, time and a lot of sleepless nights and on the top of it I have had, in the first part of the campaign a lot of abuse from parties who differed from me in my views, but I am more than gratified at the way some ardent supporters for local option before are now encouraging me to finish my work and have congratulated me on the stand I have taken, and have freely donated some money to cover the expense of these letters. I have received letters of encouragement from private citizens, from clergymen and officers in high standing of the city and all are agreeing with my views and they all think now that the drinking question can only be successfully regulated by educating the people in straight forward ways.

I have proved in my work that, the the men who are leading the work of the local option campaign are irresponsible and I may say even misguided. Men who would rob a fellow man from his freedom, men that do not care for the welfare of our city, men who make an expenditure to the city of thousands of dollars that the ratepayers have to pay for. And what for? Only because they wanted under all circumstances to produce proof to the public that local option would be beneficial to the public of Peterborough and then tell us by using their stations and positions of truth and justice to blindfold the people, that they will save our children from the devil by putting their fathers in jails. Citizens of Peterborough, I do not care if you are the most ardent supporters of local option, think of those facts. Judge the ways of the men under the mask of moral reform who have taken to prove to you their cause and make you believe them. Surely you cannot follow in the steps of such men.

That was not enough. They have brought you here men from all over who do not know nor care for you as long as they get their pay, and told you that you are drunkards; that the majority of you are criminals if you do not support their cause; that you and your children are lost if you would not listen to them, and compared you to the niggers of this earth where local option is necessary. Think of strangers coming to your city and abusing and insulting you in such a way. Surely we are not that kind of bad people that we should take all this abuse, and why did we have to take all that abuse? Because a few fanatical moral reformers want us to do just as they like.

Well, citizens, it is up to you to say. By passing local option you will acknowledge that they were right in abusing us, that we are really so bad, or to vote it down and show that we are respectable, and we can manage ourselves without the necessity of bring in local option here.

Now, le tus see. They are making such a noise about our drunkards. How many have we here in town anyway? Let us say we have here a hundred drunkards, if there be so many. Surely they must be noticed very much on the streets, such a number. Still you see only one occasionally. Out of those hundred drunkards who are affected by the open bar, sixty-four are on the black-list, so they cannot be affected any more by the open bar. They have to get it on the sly if they want a drink, so, if local option will pass those thirty-six men will be able to get liquor at the blind pigs anyway, because that's what all the speakers from the late meetings have acknowledged that liquor is sold to a certain class in all local option places. Then on the other hand, if we should work properly, as the T.A.S. has done they should try to use their influence on those drunkards. Surely seventeen ministers will be able to reform twenty of them, so it will only leave sixteen men unmanageable. Surely our authorities could manage those sixteen men. Now, let us see the other side. If you close the hotels for the sake of those sixteen men you have here. We were told by many speakers that we only have five thousand dollars a year from the hotels. Let us see what we have in reality. That is what I want to impress upon the minds of all the ratepayers and working men. We have here nineteen hotels, one brewery and four retail and one wholesale liquor stores, and they contribute to the city nineteen thousand, one hundred and eight dollars and forty-four cents in taxes and license fees. They employ 230 persons and 280 women and children are dependent on them. They pay $142,032 in salaries. These properties and businesses will be closed, the taxes will fall on the other properties of the town, and who will have to pay the taxes? The moral reformers? Not a bit of it. The majority of them do not bring in five cents to the community, except that they are a burden to the community. Who will have to pay it all? It is you, citizens, big and small property owners, and the more property one has the more he will have to pay. I want you to see and consider those facts. Those are not bluff, I'm not blindfolding you. Well, some of you will say we will gladly pay a little more as long as we can save our children from the drinking evil as you were told and were put in your minds. Let me tell you, think everyone, especially those who think. It is only your minds were disturbed by those moral reformers and therefore some of you may think so by supporting local option you will save your children, you cannot save yourself. But if you think properly that your fathers were more tempted and had more to contend with all kinds of taverns in their times and they were able to bring you up as honest men and women, as we are here in Peterborough. Surely by this improved times, where the laws are more strict and young men are more guarded and taken care of than at any time in the last century, surely we are not in danger that our children will be drunkards and criminals. So take these fears out of your heads. So the only result you will have by passing local option here is paying more taxes. No benefit to yourself nor to your children but you will tempt many of your fellow-citizens to the temptation of breaking the law. You will help them to make themselves perjurers, you will indirectly help some of your citizens to incriminate themselves against you when they will sell liquor to all kinds of men on the quiet, and above all you will take away the opportunity of 230 men and women from making an honest living. And what will have to do but go and look for other jobs, the jobs that you are working at and you will indirectly help to take your own jobs away from you in some instances. Where you are getting now good pay you are in danger then that others who are not skilled men in their work will do the work for half of the price what you are getting now because they will be forced to get something to get a living, or do you like to see again men standing on the corners looking for work as we had two years ago.

These are facts that every voter has to think of before he makes up his mind to vote for local option. This is not only my own opinion but the opinion of prominent men of the city even as our present mayor who knows you and the city best. If you only think right and leave all the influence of your moral reformers to one side and consider all ways in their real light you cannot come to any other conclusion that local option to pass in Peterborough at the present time is only not beneficial but a crime.

And now I wish you all a Happy New Year,

Yours truly,
B. LASTAR.

THE OPEN BAR IS NOT NEEDED IN PETERBORO==VOTE IT OUT

WHAT GOOD HAS IT EVER DONE YOU ?

inal Thoughts on Local Option for Peterborough Ratepayers.

tock Arguments Answered---Reasons Why You Should Vote For the By-Law.

On Monday, if you are a ratepayer, u will have a chance to vote for or ainst local option in Peterborough. ow are you going to vote? If you e still in doubt as to how to cast our ballot, then we would ask you consider the facts that are set rth on this page.

During the present campaign, which e lasted practically all year, those o advocate that the open bar should continued in Peterborough, have ot held a public meeting of any kind. They have been unable to induce y prominent man, either a resident the city or otherwise, to appear the platform on their behalf.

With the exception of Owen Sound, they have not attempted to name a single city, town, or village in Canada or the United States where local option has been a failure.

Their claim that local option has proved a failure in Owen Sound has been pronounced by a leading government official and by the citizens of Owen Sound to be absolutely false.

With the exception of only one private individual no person has cared to come out for the liquor interests and discuss the local option question in the public press.

Does this not all prove that the claim that the open bar should be continued in Peterborough will not stand investigation!

The Temperance Side.

The temperance workers have held ublic meeting after public meeting. They have brought in speaker after peaker from not only nearby towns nd cities in Ontario, including Owen ound, Midland, Orillia and Toronto Junction, but from the United States s well. These speakers have included ublic men with international reputations, including two ex-governors of States. These men have shown that ocal option is proving a success wherever tried all over the continent.

The temperance advocates have discussed local option week after week in the Peterborough papers. They have described the conditions in scores of cities, towns and villages, and proved local option to have been a success. They have invited public discussion.

In case, however, that there may be a few ratepayers who are still in doubt on some points, we hereby give a brief resume of some of the principal arguments against local option and answers to them.

LOCAL OPTION WILL NOT INCREASE TAXATION

When we carry local option on Monday we need have no fear that our taxes will be increased in consequence. The liquor interests may try to scare us by claiming that local option will increase taxation, but facts prove that this will not be the case.

Of the hundreds of municipalities in Ontario, and the thousands of places elsewhere, in which local option has been carried, we have yet to hear of one in which taxation has been increased. On the contrary, through the increase that takes place in the value of property when there is no open saloon, taxation shows a tendency to decrease.

The taxable property in Peterborough is worth approximately $8,600,000. The money paid to the city by the liquor interests for license fees is $5,200. This is equal to only five-eighths of a mill on the dollar. Thus, at the very worst, taxes in Peterborough, after local option carries, would not be increased over three-fifths of a mill. But they will not be increased at all. The city pays out each year, on charity account, some $3,000. The City Treasurer says that practically all of this is needed to relieve poverty caused directly by liquor. After local option carries this money will be saved.

The city is under heavy expense each year arresting and prosecuting drunken men and dealing with crime due directly to liquor. Most, if not all of this waste of money will be saved under local option.

The city is under heavy expense, also, for its share of the cost of maintaining prisoners in the gaol and insane people in the asylum who are there through indulgence in strong drink. Local option will reduce this expense materially.

Under local option, property, even hotel property, will increase in value. In Orillia, for example, the buildings used for hotels increased $8,795 in value within a year after the passing of local option. This increased value of property keeps down the rate of taxation. For these reasons there is no possibility of the tax rate being advanced after local option carries. Do not be alarmed, therefore, over any statements that the liquor interests may make to the contrary. These statements would have been made long ago if they would have stood investigation.

THE LOCAL OPTION LAW WILL BE ENFORCED.

After local option carries we can rest assured that the law will be rigidly enforced. The Ontario Government has pledged itself to see that the law is carried out. Should we have any reason to suspect that the law is being broken a complaint to the License Department, Toronto, will endure the department sending provincial inspectors here to detect and prosecute the offenders. These provincial detectives are doing excellent work all over the province. They have sent scores of hotel-keepers to gaol for several months at a time for violations of the liquor law. In Owen Sound alone six hotel-keepers have been sent to gaol for breaking the local option law, but the government has stated that License Inspector Stewart will be retained in office to see that the provisions of the local option law are rigidly carried out. When a hotel-keeper breaks the local option law twice he is sent to gaol without the option of a fine. There is no fun in this, so they prefer to observe the law.

Local option is being enforced successfully in over 300 municipalities in Ontario. It will be enforced equally well in Peterborough.

People who tell us, as some have in Peterborough, that even after we carry the local option law by a three-fifths majority we will be unable to enforce it, practically tell us that we are unfit to govern ourselves. If the liquor interests in Peterborough are so defiant of the laws of this country that they can refuse to obey them it is time that we recognize them as dangerous rebels and deal with them accordingly. Do not be apprehensive, however. We can and will enforce the local option law and the government has promised to help us, if necessary.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PROPRIETORS OF THE OPEN BARS IN PETERBOROUGH

Gentlemen,—Now that the Local Option campaign is drawing to a close, and before the final vote is taken on Monday next, the supporters of the City Temperance League desire to assure you, as individuals, of their hearty good-will. We recognise that, as citizens of Peterborough, we have granted you the licenses to conduct your bar-rooms, we are jointly responsible with you for the presence of the open bar in Peterborough. We have come to the conclusion, however, that the open bar is productive of much injury to the community and now desire to be relieved of the responsibility of its continuance in Peterborough and therefore have thought it well to bring on this vote. In the action we have taken we feel that you, gentlemen, a few months after local option has carried, will thank us for the stand that we have taken.

We are sure that you must be aware of the wide-spread and rapidly growing feeling on the part of the public against anything connected with the sale of spirituous liquors. Necessarily, more or less of this feeling is directed towards those individuals who are connected with the open bar. This feeling is so strong that the supreme head of the Catholic church, the Pope, has upheld the decision of those Catholic societies which have passed rules forbidding any person who is connected with the sale of liquor from becoming members. All the Protestant churches openly denounce the traffic with which you are connected. A large proportion of the fraternal societies of the continent refuse to allow persons identified with the liquor trade to become members.

The laws of our country prevent you from holding any civic office. You are not allowed to conduct your business within specified distances of schools or churches. You are forbidden to sell your wares to children, to Indians, and not at all except during certain strictly defined hours. The government deems it necessary to appoint officers whose special duty it is to see that you keep the law. Thus you are under surveillance all the time for the privilege of conducting your business. You are also taxed heavily.

All these restrictions are such that they must lead you to feel that the positions you occupy are at the best uncomfortable. The members of your families must feel the public resentment against the trade in which you are engaged.

When Local Option carries in Peterborough we will be glad to do everything in our power to assist you in any line of business in which you may engage, should any such assistance be desired by you. We trust that after Local Option carries you will seen see that we have acted for your own benefit and that you will thank us for what has been accomplished.

Wishing you a Happy and Prosperous New Year, believe us,

Sincerely yours,

The City Temperance League.

THE DIFFERENCE

1	Licence protects the liquor trade	1	Local Option outlaws the traffic
2	Licence proclaims alcohol as a proper beverage	2	Local Option says alcohol is not a fit beverage and confines it to the druggist's shelf, where it ought to be
3	Licence encourages the treating system	3	Local Option practically puts an end to the treating system
4	Under licence drunks are not punished unless they are troublesome. Drunkenness is accepted as a natural result of the law	4	Under Local Option drunks are arrested at sight. There is no excuse for a man being drunk under Local Option
5	Under licence a man drinks by your permission You allow men to be tempted "for a consideration"	5	Under Local Option if a man drinks he does it without your consent

LOCAL OPTION WILL NOT AFFECT THE HOTELS

After local option carries we will have just as good hotels as there are at present. Already over three-quarters of the sum of money that is anticipated will be required to conduct a high-class temperance hotel in Peterborough has been subscribed by private citizens. The balance required will be available immediately the need for such an hotel becomes apparent.

In many of the local option districts in Ontario the temperance people have done what the temperance people of Peterborough are prepared to do, that is, erected up-to-date hotels. These hotels, in many instances, are better than the hotels that existed under the license system. Do not be afraid, therefore, that when we vote out the open bar the hotel accommodation in Peterborough will not be equal to its present high standard. Vote for local option.

LOCAL OPTION A SUCCESS IN OWEN SOUND

During the past few weeks the Ontario Brewers' Association has endeavored to show that local option has not been a success in Owen Sound and that crime in that city has increased and the value of property decreased since local option was adopted. The statements that have been issued in this way by the Brewers' Association have been denounced by Mr. E. Saunders, the chief of the Provincial License Department, as absolutely false.

Citizens of Owen Sound are indignant over the misleading and untruthful statements that have been circulated in the public press by the liquor interests that they held a largely attended public meeting a few days ago and passed resolutions denouncing these statements. The advisability of prosecuting the papers that have given publicity to these statements was considered.

The City Temperance League in Peterborough has received a telegram from Mr. T. W. Millhouse, of Owen Sound, to the following effect: "The statements headed 'Owen Sound's awful record,' that are being circulated by the liquor interests, are an infamous slander. It states that there were 236 convictions for six months of this year, whereas the correct record is only 157 convictions. The record of convictions in Owen Sound for the past eleven months is a magnificent one for a lake-port town with a population of over 12,000.

The fact that the people of Owen Sound raised $1,700 to re-carry the local option by-law last January, and that they did so by a substantial majority proves that the people of Owen Sound, after trying local option for several years are well satisfied with the local option law.

Vote for Local Option.

COUNT THE LOSS.

Count all the newly-made graves of the year,
Count all the shame and the sorrow
and tears,
Count all the homes that are wretched and sad,
Count all the men who have gone to the bad.

Count all the staggering steps that you meet,
Count all the oaths that you hear on the street,
Count all the stricken ones, tempted and tossed,
Count all the hopes that are blighted and lost.

Count all the children sent hungry to bed,
Because there's no money with which to buy bread,
Count all the hardships the innocent bear,
That a few may get rich and have money to spare.

Count all these things—the result of strong drink,
Enough to make one seriously think,
And then, in your hearts, can you honestly say,
"I'll vote that the bar-rooms in Peterborough shall stay."

What a horrible sum little addition does make,
When you count things up and a view of them take,
And how shall we stop this increase of woe,
Unless, 'tis by voting, the bar-rooms must go!

And this we will do, by God's helpful grace;
No longer shall Peterborough remain in disgrace,
Our purpose is settled, the decree has gone forth,
To vote out the bar-rooms on Monday, the 3rd.

REV. D O. CROSSLEY.

BUSINESS MEN, READ THIS

I recently met the finished article of the liquor trade. He was lying in the gutter. He had no hat; the hat trade was suffering. His coat was full of holes; the tailoring trade was suffering. He had no shirt; the haberdashery trade was suffering. He had no stockings; the hosiery trade was suffering. He was dirty; the soap trade was suffering. Indeed, I can hardly mention an industry that was not affected by that man's insobriery.—LEIF JONES, M.P., England

WHEN THE BAR-ROOMS ARE VOTED OUT

The $300,000 a year that now goes over the open bars in Peterboro will go to our merchants and

Grocers will have more business, because money now going for liquor will go for food.

Butchers will sell more sirloin steak and roast beef, and have fewer bad debts.

Physicians will have few unsettled accounts, and less charity cases.

Dry Goods men will have a boom in business because the women will have more money to spend.

Shoe Dealers will sell their wares to cover the feet of ill-shod or barefoot children, and will have a call for better goods with large profits.

Laundry Men will lose nothing but doing up the coats and aprons of bar-tenders, and will have more collar and shirt business.

Furniture Merchants will find it much to their own interest to boost the "booze" out of Peterborough, for people will soon have better furnished homes.

Coal and Lumber People will be benefited, for families will keep warmer and live in better houses.

Real Estate and Banking will profit by rents being paid more promptly and deposits constantly growing larger.

VOTE FOR LOCAL OPTION

Local Option Will Carry on Monday

Because a careful canvass of the ratepayers has shown that a large majority have decided to vote for it

Because it will do away with the open bar which is the cause of drunkenness, crime and poverty

Because Local Option has proved a success wherever it has been tried, both in Canada and the United States. It has stood the test in hundreds of municipalities

Because Peterborough business men now realize that the open bar draws away money that would otherwise go to them

Because the laboring man recognizes liquor as his worst enemy and has pronounced against it through his local, provincial, national and international labororganizations.

Because all Church organizations recognize the open bar as an enemy of the home, and a foe to all that is good and holy

Because the intelligent citizens of Peterborough say that the open bar must go

The Door to Your Freedom is

LOCAL OPTION

On Monday next you will have an opportunity to decide whether you are going to make yourself a partner in the crime which follows the Liquor Traffic or whether you will r tain your freedom from guilt.

If You Vote for Retaining the Bars you make yourself a party to the crime following the Trade. The drunkard in the mire; the crimes committed under the influence of drink; the homes destroyed; the boys ruined, all these are now part of your work. Your vote helped to make it possible. Your influence encouraged it. You are responsible.

If You Vote for Local Option and it fails to carry, and the Bars remain with all their CRIME, you are free. You voted against it; you infliuence opposed it. No man can lay their crimes at your door. You are free.

If you Vote for Local Option and it carries, the drunkenness and crime which may follow through violation of the cannot in any sense be laid against you. The responsibility in this case lies at the door of one of three parties. The man who sells in violation of the law, the official who fails to enforce the law, or the legislator who may not have given us adequate laws. But you are free.

To vote for Local Option is the only opportunity you have to free yourself from partnership in those terrible crimes which go forth hand-in-hand with an Open Bar.

Vote Local Option and be free from partnership in the Traffic.

BY A. T. ASHMORE.

AUTUMN and early winter fashions are now being displayed, and the question of what is or is not to be worn is once again absorbing the interest of all sensible women who realize the importance of being well gowned. There is much that is perplexing about the styles now displayed, but while there are many radical changes from last year there is not the same appalling revolution in dress such as occurred twelve or eighteen months since and which struck terror to the heart of every woman.

To begin with there is more latitude allowed and there are no infallible, unalterable rules that must be followed, with no leeway for individual taste, or appearance, for that matter. The truth is there are so very many different models, each and every one of which is declared fashionable, that it would seem as though no one especially distinctive gown stands out as representative.

The sheath skirts with insufficient amount of material are no longer considered smart, but unfortunately among the newest and so far most popular styles are to be seen skirts that, while made with more width around the hips, are so narrow around the ankles that the act of walking is almost an impossibility. Around the waist there is much more fulness in most of the skirts. Some are gathered just a little at the sides, almost all are gathered or laid in several side pleats at the back, and there are few, if any, made quite plain. Overskirts and draped skirts, ruffled and flounced skirts, and skirts with wide bias bands of some contrasting material are all to be noted among the latest models. The prevailing length, or rather the fashionable length, of the new skirts is singularly ugly—so long that it touches everywhere—and even the train is hardly longer than the sides and front, the round train it is called, and street, morning, afternoon and even evening gowns are made in this style.

ECCENTRICITY is the most marked characteristic of the new skirts, and so eccentric and intricate are most of the new designs that it is not wise to attempt to copy them unless some really clever dressmaker undertakes the problem. As has been said before, this is a season when a woman can afford to be independent and wear her last year's gown rather than undertake without sufficient and clever aid to be up to date and copy one of the elaborate and markedly original styles of the moment. There are also included in the very latest designs a few that are delightfully simple and which have lines charmingly graceful, the skirt fitting as close as ever at the sides and in front, but made long enough for the upper part of the skirt to be draped up onto the waist; at the back a box plait or a plaited inch breadth hangs straight to the hem of the skirt. This is a compromise between the draped princess and the high waisted skirt.

All waists look larger, whether or not there are more inches added to its size. The fact that hips must be smaller than ever under the full skirts and that the belt has gone back to its normal position on the waist may have something to do with the extra number of inches that apparently have been gained. Then the broad satin belt that is so much a feature of almost every gown adds to the effect of width, for it is not worn perfectly flat and tight to the figure, but is in soft, draped folds, and is not at exactly the normal waist line, but a little distance above, adding to the rather thick and short waisted effect. As may easily be understood, this is a style not becoming to every figure, and, in truth, is almost always found to be unbecoming unless when worn by a tall, slender figure, but the clever dressmaker, she who is an artist and understands lines, can work wonders with this same belt. By some utterly inexplicable method she raises or lowers the belt until she transforms it from a thick, clumsy bandage into a most charming finish to a waist or skirt.

THE double skirt is one of the season's novelties and the underskirt of one material and the overskirt of some thin transparent fabric recall the days that have gone by when all scarfs and draped effects were fashionable and when ladies were taught how to wear scarfs and shawls. A white satin gown completely hidden under a transparent heliotrope or mauve voile shows [illegible] to perfection. The satin is plain, most carefully hung and fitted. From the belt to which it is gathered, with only a little fulness in front and at the sides, but with considerable at the back, hang the breadths of the voile, which are caught up and turned over and then again the end is caught up under the belt at the side. It would look thick and ungraceful were not the material light and transparent—as it is, it is both charmingly graceful and becoming. Half the skirt of one material and half of another is one of the new fashions. Dark blue serge and black satin are so combined, while singularly effective is another gown with the lower part of the skirt of imitation sealskin or velvet and the upper part of hand embroidered chiffon in the same color. The [illegible] always matches the upper part of the skirt, so as to give as long and unbroken a line as possible, for this combining of two materials has a tendency to cut the figure unbecomingly. Perhaps less trying to the figure is the line that has a decided bias effect, one side of the skirt in cloth or velvet and the other silk; but this is not so new as the straight around style, which for the moment is receiving much attention, if little admiration.

The flounced skirts for the evening gowns have not as yet received unqualified approval, but every day sees more of them exhibited, and the costumes of 1860 are evidently determined to gain a place for themselves. These wide, full skirts suggest crinoline, and the materials and trimmings are most suggestive of the fashions of the time after the American civil war. Pleated and gathered skirts of tulle or mousseline, with narrow ruffles or flounces headed with pipings of satin and bands of tiny artificial flowers, with knots of ribbon, are certainly copies of the costumes in old family portraits. A more elaborate rendering of the same fashion is also to be noted in the superb brocaded silks, with flounces edged with narrow fringe. Fortunately fashion does not insist that these are the only gowns to be worn, and again there are the most beautiful of materials, gold and silver brocade made in the simplest and most graceful of lines, the front opening to show an underskirt of chiffon a net with a band of gold embroidery, the back falling in unbroken lines from the waist line. The waist, with draped fichu of lace and bodice of the brocade, is extremely graceful, and the ends of the fichu at the back are so finished that they do not interfere with the pleat of brocade that gives such a long line to the skirt.

BANDS of fur and bands of embroidery are also fashionable as trimming on the new skirts. Two, three and four narrow bands of sable on a white chiffon or tulle evening gown are certainly effective, but fur trimmings never meet with unqualified enthusiasm in America, and the evening gown so trimmed is generally chosen only by the woman who buys anything she sees that suits her taste at the moment. The one wide band of fur around the hem of a satin or brocade evening gown, or of any gown, seems to be more popular than the several narrower bands, but, again, this style must not be counted as universally accepted. One of the newest models for a street costume is of rough serge, the jacket of medium length and the skirt also trimmed with a broad band of bear fur. The collar and sleeves are finished with the same fur. It is a smart model and the lines are simple and becoming to slender figures, so that it may become a favorite design later on in the season.

The rough serge, cheviot and zibeline costumes so fashionable now are shown with an unusual variety of skirts. There is the skirt with double box pleats front and back and plain bias sides; there is the pleated effect again, but differently carried out from the popular pleated skirt, for the pleats are at the sides, and in front and back is a wide flat box pleat. A yoke effect, round or curved, is extremely popular, and folds or bias tucks at the side are to be noted. All walking skirts are wider, measure more around the bottom, but are as close fitting as ever around the hips. When pleated all material under the pleats is cut away at the upper part of the skirt.

Buttons and braid are no longer recklessly used in trimming skirts, and when there is braid it is never conspicuous in its design, pleats, folds and tucks of the material being oftener relied upon to give whatever trimming is required. The high belted skirt is no longer fashionable, but there is still the effect given of the material of the skirt starting from the top of a moderately wide inside belt, and the waist is always worn inside the skirt. This rule applies to the skirt worn with coat to match and with separate waist or blouse. The gown with skirt, waist and coat to match is a different fashion altogether and is finished with a waistband correctly placed at the normal waist line.

The most eccentric models in the new skirts are shown in evening gowns. One model has a skirt so narrow that a long step would be impossible. This is quite short and round, not touching the ground. From the shoulder and entirely separate from the other skirt falls a long, square train on the order of a court train. It is supposed to give the effect of being in one piece with the short round underskirt, but at any quick turn the two fall apart and the effect is certainly unique.

Fashion Details Every Woman Should Know

STRIKINGLY effective is the fall street costume shown in Fig. 1, with its trimming of bold ornamentation in heavy braid and the very deep fringe used on the skirt. The costume is of green cloth trimmed with black braid and black silk fringe.

This is a two piece costume, the under garment being a princess so trimmed as to look like a gown with an overskirt. The band of trimming around the skirt, however, and the fringe are merely set on; the skirt beneath is all in one piece. A deep U shaped yoke is formed on the bodice with the braid ornamentation. The gown has a high cloth collar trimmed with straight rows of braid.

On the coat the arrangement of trimming is such that it exactly follows the trimming on the skirt. The cutaway effect with the long tails sloping at the back toward a deep point is not becoming to every figure, but when it is becoming it is strikingly so.

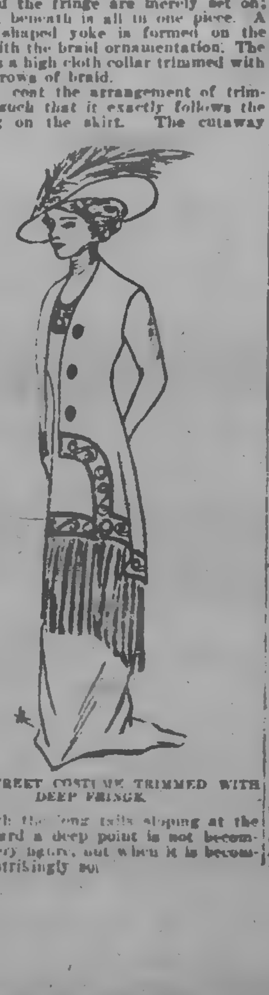

FIG. 1—STREET COSTUME TRIMMED WITH DEEP FRINGE.

CHARMINGLY graceful is the design for an evening gown of crêpe and net shown in Fig. 2. Any tall or medium tall figure would find this design becoming, its only menace being for the short and dumpy, who seem, in fact, never to be considered by the fashion designers.

It is the simplicity of this gown which makes it so charming, for it is a simplicity without a suggestion of bareness or hardness. The skirt and part of the bodice are of crêpe de Chine, soft satin or some equally graceful material in pale pink. The drapery is of large meshed gold net. To fill in the bodice a straight piece of handsome lace is used and the same lace forms the long points, which are the only sleeves. Jewelled ornaments clasp the two ends of the gold embroidery together over the shoulders, and a band of jewelled embroidery is used to make a finish for the top of the skirt on the sides.

"Local Option is a failure in Owen Sound"

"The Pioneer," which is the leading Prohibition organ of Ontario, rests the whole case for Local Option upon these words: "Owen Sound is the largest town under Local Option in Ontario. If Local Option leads to business depression, to increased drinking to increased law violation, as the liquor interests declare it will, those results would have been felt in Owen Sound." In other words—if Local Option is a success anywhere, if Local Option ever had a fair test, it is in Owen Sound. Here is the TRUTH about what Local Option has actually done for Owen Sound:

It has Hurt Trade

Local Option has NOT lessened drunkenness, has NOT improved business nor the financial position of the people generally. Neither has it improved the moral tone of the citizens as a whole, but, on the contrary Local Option HAS INJURED LOCAL TRADE and lowered the moral well-being of very many.

Matthew Kennedy,
Ex-Mayor of Owen Sound.

It Has Multiplied Failures

In Owen Sound there have been more failures in the 19 months under Local Option than there were in seven years previous to Local Option. Property has depreciated in value from 20 to 25 per cent. Illegal selling of liquor is now carried on in over 100 places in town. Under the license system boys would not touch liquor,—under Local Option they are now carrying bottles.

J. P. Raven,
Banker.

It Has Created Drunkards

Local Option has been detrimental to the interests of Owen Sound, commercially and morally. It has been the means of young men drinking whiskey who used to be satisfied with a glass of lager beer. I am of the firm opinion that a strictly enforced license system is far better in controlling the liquor trade.

Samuel Lloyd
Of Lloyd & Scully, Wholesale Dealers in Farm Produce.

It Has Banished Prosperity

The Division Court Returns show that the citizens of Owen Sound have been less prosperous under Local Option because of hampered trade, and consequently less able to pay their debts. In 1905, the year before Local Option went into force, 584 suits were entered for trial. In 1906 there were 661 suits entered. In 1907 there were 836. In 1908 there were 733, and in 1909, up to Nov. 30th there were 628 suits arising from debts.

It Creates Discord

"I consider Local Option detrimental to the best interests of the town from a business point of view, as it has created discord and set up one portion of the town against the other. From a moral or temperance standpoint, I consider it the worst blow the temperance cause ever had in the town.. I believe it will take a great many years before the sympathy of the people as a whole can again be secured through temperance movements, such as we had before Local Option was carried.

It has created more drinking among young men than there ever was in the town under a good license system. The arguments advanced when Local Option was advocated that the working classes would have more money to spend in foodstuffs have been proven to be absolutely wrong, as it has not been the case at all."

J. R. Brown,
Secretary Board of Trade, Owen Sound.

"We, the undersigned, citizens of the town of Owen Sound, beg to state that Local Option has not resulted in the lessening of drunkenness or the use of intoxicating liquors since it came into force in this town. We believe that, as compared with the working of the Ontario Liquor License Act, Local Option is a failure. Despite the diligent efforts of a most capable Government License Liquor Inspector, drunkenness is unquestionably far more prevalent amongst young men and boys, and far more open, especially on Sundays, than under the Ontario License Act."

Here are represented the important industries of Owen Sound—concerns employing nearly 1500 men—a prominent banker, a leading firm of barristers, well-known men in the fruit and produce trades—the business backbone of the community. They KNOW that Local Option is a FAILURE. They KNOW it increases drunkenness, increases debt, demoralizes the young, promotes lawlessness, retards progress. In the face of their positive statements, can you believe Local Option would work any differently where YOU live?

If YOU vote for Local Option you help debauch YOUR town

MEETING OF THOSE INTERESTED IN GAS AND OIL LEASES

All the farmers who so kindly gave Mr. R. H. Leary leases for gas and oil are requested to meet at the city council chamber a week from Saturday. If the farmers will grant one year's extension Mr. Dettman will test this country thoroughly during that year.

The object of the meeting is to get an expression of opinion on Mr. Dettman's proposal in this regard.

Mr. Leary has sent post cards notifying all the farmers immediately interested, of the meeting, but in case the cards are not received by all they are requested to attend in any event. All others who are likely to be concerned in the matter are also asked to attend.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS IN BEAUTIFUL MUDDLE IN BELLEVILLE CITY

Belleville Intelligencer.

Municipal matters in this city are in a beautiful muddle, which, as the old song goes, "Nobody can deny." Never, since Belleville was a police village, has such a state of things been seen, and this, too, on the eve of a year pregnant with great possibilities for Belleville. With the city needing, as it hardly ever before needed, a strong council of representative men, what do we find? Many of the wards practically unrepresented, and our civic rulers, we are told, confess that they can find no law covering the case.

And this all comes from the sweet habit some Belleville people have of doing up packages of trouble for other people to carry. It was easy enough to sign a petition to return to the ward system, thus throwing a slur on the men and the councils who for ten years had governed the city wisely and well under the at large system. But it was one thing for the dissatisfied ones to bring about a change and another thing to to put the change in operation. It seems to be the old way—the kickers are not the workers.

And we see a strange state of affairs: The very wards which voted strongest for a return to the ward system, claiming that they had not been receiving fair play, owing to lack of representation in the Council, fail, when the chance comes, to place one resident of their ward in nomination. Foster ward, which was one of the loudest complainers against Murney ward, gets two of its candidates from Murney ward. The situation would be ludicrous in the extreme were it not for the fact that much expense must of necessity be involved before this beautiful muddle can be straightened out. And this city, worse luck, is not in a position to throw money away to humor the whims of those who, just for the sake of change, voted to do away with a system which had worked well and to bring in a system which had been condemned in other places and which has never been known to make for anything but hole and corner methods of municipal politics.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Ladies' Auxiliary Will Be "At Home" in the Afternoon—Indoor Circus in the Gymnasium at Night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be at home to the members, friends and subscribers on Saturday afternoon, New Year's Day. There will be music and refreshments and an enjoyable afternoon may be expected. In the evening the physical director and the gymnasium classes will put on the ideal circus in the gymnasium. Those taking part in the performance have been practising for some time past and those who attend are assured of a distinct treat.

HER MOMENT OF COMPLETE JOY.

When Grandmother Reads First Letter from Her Grandchild.

You may talk about great state papers, of presidents' messages, of royal exchanges of salutations, and all that sort of thing, but when you want to strike a chord that beats in harmony with the human heart, just see that grandmother reading that first letter from her grandchild. All time and space, and things created and uncreated, are concreted into the bliss of the moment, when the dear woman drinks in the meaning of those awkward, hesitating, incongruous lines, which with all their crudities, still seem stately and dignified under the emotion of a first great effort.

There is nothing like it. Shakespeare never matched it. Dante reads like an almanac by the side of it. It is a revelation that makes St. John's seem insipid and pale. The good woman reads it over and over, and thinks away back when she was a little girl, and when the child's mother was a little girl, and then of this little boy, just starting to open a path into the mystery of life; and she reads another passage of the sweet, blundering letter, which closes with the very formality of affection—"Your loving friend"—and then her thoughts rush out of the window into the gray skies, but after a while they come back, bringing her the assurance from somewhere, that of all the blessings of life, one of the sweetest has come to her—that of getting the first epistle from her first grandchild.—Columbus (O.) State Journal.

FIRST AND LAST APPEARANCE.

Only Occasion on Which Casey Was Admitted to Parlor.

An old Irishman named Casey made a lot of money as a contractor and built a fine house for his children.

The sons and daughters were much ashamed of the plebeian father, and Casey was always kept in the rear of the house when they had a party or a reception. One day Casey died, and there was a great to-do about it. The children had a fine coffin, with plenty of flowers, and Casey was laid in state in the parlor.

That evening an old Irish woman, who had known Casey when he was a laborer, came and asked to see the face of her dead friend. They conducted her to the parlor.

She walked up to the coffin, took a long look, and said;

"Faith, Casey, an' they've let ye into th' parlor at lasht."

Grizzlies Eat Violets.

In one locality the grizzly of the Rockies is found eating the fresh sprig of the dog-tooth violet and the green leaves of the spring beauties, says Fur News, while a few hundred miles further on, to the north or south as the case may be, the grizzly doesn't touch them.

Instead he may be discovered munching at the young shoots of the shooting star, down in the Bitter Root mountain country, for instance, among the towering peaks of the higher Rockies. Upon this question of locality which is often overlooked or even ignored by nature writers, lies the solution of many warmly disputed points between those who tell the public at large all about nature and its animals.

First Freedman in the Army.

The first muster of freedmen into the United States army occurred on November 7, 1862, at Gen. Saxton's headquarters in Beaufort, S. C. It was on the first anniversary of the capture of Port Royal and at the time of the organization of the department of the south.

Capt. James had his men drawn up in line and as he read their names from the roll each man answered "Here." Then with uncovered heads and right hands raised the men took the usual oath of allegiance, which was administered by Gen. Saxton. This simple ceremony over, the newly made soldiers marched back to their camp.—Southern Workman.

When Lent Commenced.

Lent is said to have been instituted by Pope Telesphorus. In early days Lent commenced on Sunday, now known as the first Sunday in Lent, but in 487 the four days preceding were added by Pope Felix III. (483-492), thus increasing the number of fast days to 40. It was first observed in England in 640. Previous to 1543 the use of meat was prohibited during this season, but in that year Henry VII. (1509-1547) of England issued a proclamation permitting the use of white meat. The use of meat was wholly forbidden by James I. and again by Charles I.

Making a Record.

"I remember one time I was drivin' a particular good lookin' hoss that appeared ter be somewhat of a trotter, and a bystander who'd been a watchin' his movements finally stepped up ter me, and seemin' ter know who I was, sez 'Jim, jest 'bout how fast kin that hoss trot?'

"'Oh, I dunno,' sez I. 'I take 'im out and drive 'im like hell fer 'bout three minutes and call it a mile.'"—"Old Jim Case of South Hollow."

Dangerous Literature.

"Let me leave you some of our booklets," said the steamship agent; "they give illustrated descriptions of a number of our trips to the most desirable parts of the world."

"Take them away," said the bank cashier fearfully; "if the directors saw 'em on my desk they would have the books overhauled sure."

GREAT FORCED SACRIFICE SALE

Don't Let Anything Keep You Away

THE ENTIRE $15,000 STOCK

Of Ladies', Children's and Misses' Ready-to-wear Garments, Fancy Goods, etc., belonging to

HARRY ADAMS, 393 GEORGE STREET "Known as the Store For Women"

TO BE PLACED ON SALE FOR FIFTEEN DAYS

COMMENCING

TUESDAY, JANUARY 4TH, 1910

The gratifying growth in this business and the necessity of being prepared to handle further increases of trade, has forced upon us the need for an entire re arrangement and re-modelling of our store premises in order to provide ample accommodation for new customers and more merchandise. During the past season this has be forced upon us frequently when crowds of customers could not be properly served, and it is evident that if we turn away a big crowd the small crowds go with it. Our entire stock is therefore being re-marked and reduced in price.

THIS STORE WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY, JANUARY 3rd, and will re-open TUESDAY, JANUARY 4th, AT 9 O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING when everything in the store will be placed on sale for FIFTEEN DAYS ONLY.

ST. CATHARINES MAN KILLED AS RESULT OF ROW IN CAR

George Bulman is Jostled on Trolley and Starts to Abuse William Bradley, a Merritton Carpenter—Bradley Tries to Prevent Fight, But Later When Attacked, Knocks Bulman Down

St. Catharines, Jan. 3.—William Bradley of Merritton was Saturday night remanded to jail till Friday next to appear before Magistrate Campbell on a charge of murdering George Bulman of Thorold.

Bulman lost his life Saturday evening as the result of a fracas with Bradley. Shortly after leaving the local line of the trolley on the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway, following the Martin ten mile road race the railroad company sent three special cars to Thorold to carry the people of Merritton and Thorold to their homes. Bradley and Bulman were passengers on the centre car, which was so crowded that they had to stand on the rear platform. They were total strangers to each other.

In the course of the journey to Merritton Bulman was crowded over against Bradley, who pushed him away. This caused a slight altercation, in which Bulman called Bradley some ugly names. As a consequence a scrimmage took place on the car, but Conductor Francis and some passengers separated the men. Words followed, but those who were on the car declare that Bradley was much quieter than Bulman, and took considerable verbal abuse. Some say Bulman was drunk, others declare that he was not, though he had been drinking to some extent, Bradley had also had a number of drinks during the afternoon.

Finally Bulman asked Bradley if he were going to Thorold, to which he replied that he lived in Merritton and was going to get off the car near his home.

"That's all right," Bulman said, "I'll get off at Merritton just to lick you."

Bradley cautioned him against it, but when the car stopped near Lock 9 on the Welland Canal, a few doors from Bradley's dwelling, both men left the car. Bradley was first. As he turned around, Bulman made a lunge at him with his fist. Warding it off, Bradley struck him in the jaw, knocking him down. Bulman was in the act of getting to his feet when Bradley struck him a second time. This time Bulman fell back striking his head on the stone kerbing of the crossing. He did not attempt to arise. Bradley continued to his home. Passengers on the car who had witnessed the affair, went to Bulman's assistance. High Constable R. E. Boyle of Lincoln County and Constable Moffat of Merritton had been spectators at the road race and were on the other special cars, and were among the first to render assistance. Bulman, who was carried to the power house of the Willson Carbide Co., a few yards away, and there Dr. Vanderburg of Merritton attended him. Bulman was bleeding profusely from the ears. In ten minutes he was dead. The constables went to Bradley's house and placed him under arrest, and the body of Bulman was brought here.

There are only two wounds, one a bruise on the back of the head, the other a lump in the neck, evidently where he was struck.

Bulman came to this city from Nottinghill, West England, on April 28th, 1908. Several weeks later he went to Thorold where he obtained employment in the Montrose Paper Mill. Friends say that he was peaceable and industrious. He is survived by a widow and a year-old boy. In his pocket was found a package of endearing letters written to him by his wife previous to their marriage two years ago, and a due book for the Canadian Foresters, which he had taken out a $1,000 policy in September last.

Bradley comes from a fine family in Merritton, and is a son of A. B. Bradley. He has always borne a good reputation. He is a carpenter by trade. Only Friday night he concluded a job at Niagara Falls on which he had been engaged for some months. He has a young wife and one little daughter, who last May lost one leg and two toes on the other leg as the result of being struck by a trolley.

When arrested Bradley was about to offer himself to the officers. No evidence was taken, but in the presence of Crown Attorney Brennan and A. C. Kingstone, who has been engaged to defend him, he was remanded. Coroner Jory will hold an inquest.

MORSE IS INDIGNANT

Says Fifteen-Year Sentence is Piece of Brutality — Makes Attack on Government

New York, Jan. 3.—With a supreme effort to be cheerful, but with emotion occasionally getting the better of him, Charles W. Morse left New York yesterday to serve 15 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for violation of the national banking laws.

Before leaving the Tombs, where he has been confined for the greater part of the last year, Morse received his wife and two sons, and then the newspapermen. He was too affected to say anything, but he handed out a carefully prepared statement of comment on his case.

"I am going to Atlanta to begin penal servitude under the most brutal sentence ever pronounced against a citizen in a civilised country," he began.

"I have hoped," the statement continues, "with that hope which comes from a consciousness of my innocence that I will not have to close out forever the light and liberty of this world under such an inhuman sentence. I had felt that the fact that I have paid a fine of $7,000,000 and served a year in prison would satisfy the cry for a victim, and I have steadily believed that the courts would be compelled to give me a new trial.

"It seems, however, that the courts intend to establish the practices which make rum-drinking a part of jury services, and private detectives as the custodians of a jury, a permanent institution. By this sentence and judgment I may be brought to ruin; But the damage done to me is not half as important as the injury to the administration of justice. I am now up in years and must with the passing of time, pass also; but the record of my conviction and the way it was brought about will remain a lasting and dangerous example of a Government gone mad in search of a victim."

PRINCETON HAS PROFESSOR OF ATHLETICS

Princeton, N.J., Jan. 3.—The adherents of Princeton are rejoicing in a reorganization of the university's athletic conditions. Following the disastrous result of last season's football campaign the athletic sharps at Princeton have come to the conclusion that the graduate system of committee coaching which was tried during the last season was a failure and that the employment of a head coach for the season only was merely a little better. It is now proposed to create the position of director of athletics, which will carry with it a full professorship in the faculty and a salary of $5,000 per annum. The duties of this office will be the general supervision and direction of all branches of sport at Princeton.

TRIED TO BLOW UP A BRIDGE

Baltimore, Jan. 3.—Following an attempt Friday evening to blow up the Gay street bridge of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, three men, William B. Shipley, Hamilton W. Lightner and Wm. H. Zimmerman, all machinists, were arrested on a charge of conspiring to dynamite the bridge and also the Mount Claire machine shops of the railroad company.

Detective Capt. Humphrey is of the opinion that the men are connected with a committee of striking Baltimore and Ohio Railroad machinists, formed for the purpose of injuring the railroad property.

AUTOISTS FIGHT THE GOVERNMENT

Florence, Jan. 3.—An automobile strike against the Government went into effect Saturday. Every owner of an automobile in Italy refused to take out a new license. Thousands of chauffeurs, as well as employes of the F.I.A.T. manufactory, are thrown out of work. The Government if it persists in its course will deprive itself of $1,000,000 revenue.

The objections of automobile owners arise from a new regulation which, besides increasing the tax, imposes a fine of 50 lire for a first offence against the speed regulations.

THE DEATH OF AGED WOMEN

Owen Sound, Jan. 3.—The death occurred Friday evening of Mrs. Agnes Kennedy, one of the pioneer residents of Owen Sound, and widow of William Kennedy, the founder of the iron works, which bear his name here. Deceased was in her ninetieth year, and is survived by six sons: John Kennedy, C.E., and William Kennedy, C.E., of Montreal; ex-Mayor Matthew Kennedy of Owen Sound; James C. Kennedy, C.E., of Vancouver; and Robert F. and George Kennedy of this town.

SUFFRAGETTE THROWS ACID

London, Jan. 3.—A woman believed to be a suffragette, attempted to destroy with acid Saturday a quantity of campaign literature at the political headquarters of John Burns at Battersea.

The clerk in charge was seriously burned about the face and hands by the fluid before he could prevent her design.

The woman gained an entrance to the headquarters on the pretence of assisting in addressing envelopes.

Thomas F. Palmer, M.C.R. conductor, was killed between cars at Montrose, Ont.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

Brussels, Jan. 3.—Albert I., King of the Belgians, with his Queen, Elizabeth, made a state entry into the capital from Lacken. Cannon boomed forth a royal salute, church bells rang out merrily and hundreds of thousands of subjects lined the route, crying "Long Live Albert!" and "Long live Elizabeth!"

When the procession arrived at the Chamber, where the oath of ascension was to be taken, the successor of Leopold II. was given a notable reception by the assembled Senators and Deputies. A feeble attempt of the socialists to make a republican demonstration failed miserably.

ALBERT I KING OF THE BELGIANS

TUBES ARE POPULAR

Toronto Likes Hocken's Plan But Elects Geary.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—The citizens of Toronto on Saturday expressed in unmistakable fashion their dissatisfaction with the present street railway conditions, and at the same time discounted their verdict by electing a mayor and board of control from whom little is to be expected in the way of relief. By an overwhelming majority they gave the City Council power to approach the Legislature for authority to construct a tube system, and by over 4,000 votes they defeated the man who had offered a solution of the problem and who was prepared to carry it into effect.

Politically, the new council stands 14 Conservatives and 11 Liberals. Last year there were 13 Liberals and 11 Conservatives, so that the tables have been turned.

The line-up is:

Conservatives—Mayor Geary, Controllers Church and Foster, Ald. Hilton, Rowland, Hambly, McBride, Weston, Dunn, R. H. Graham, May, McCausland, Spence and Baird.

Liberals—Controllers Spence and Ward, Ald. Chisholm, Phelan, O'Neill, Maguire, Heyd, Welch, McMurrich, McCarthy and Anderson.

Beattie Mayor of London.

London, Jan. 3.—In one of the most interesting and peculiar elections in the history of the city, Ald. J. H. A. Beattie, nephew of Major Beattie, M.P., was Saturday elected mayor by a large majority.

His opponent, Ald. Ferguson, was considered a sure winner. It was the first election in which politics were dropped entirely, none of the newspapers taking the issue for any candidate.

Some months ago an agitation was started amongst the citizens for cleaner and more economical government. Ald. Ferguson went on a jaunt that cost the city in the neighborhood of $300, and this helped his defeat.

Beattie came out in favor of hydro-electric power after his lack of enthusiasm in the matter he threatened to cause a split in the party ranks.

The mayoralty figures were: Beattie, 9,824; Ferguson, 8,321.

Aldermen: Eckert, Tancock, Ashplant, Richter, Pocock, Jeffries, Underwood, Morgan, Stevenson, Saunders, Fitzgerald, Rose.

School trustees: Weeks, Hunt, Balfour, Tindall.

Utility commissioners: McMahon, Pocock, Wyatt.

The defeated bylaws were: For an underground conduit system, majority against 2,380; for storm sewers, majority against 1,571; for a scavenger system, majority against 1,307; for a board of control, majority against 915.

Weather conditions were good, and a heavy vote was polled.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

MYSTERY IS CLEARED UP BY CONFESSION OF CLERK

A Few Minutes After New Year Bells Cease Dobson Finishes His Confession and is Taken to Jail Along With Two Others.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 3.—The clearing away of the mystery of the bold express robbery of Nov. 4 is proving as great a sensation as the hold-up itself.

Cashier Dobson, who was first suspected of having some knowledge of the hold-up, had withstood the onslaught of a score of the best detectives of two detective agencies, and as many more express and police officers.

For the last attack the cleverest Thiel Agency detectives were employed. Their men were placed in the express office to work with Dobson and dog his every move. Another was employed at the Carborundum Works at Niagara Falls, N.Y., where Paul S. Whistler, an employe of the United Express Co., and known to be a companion of Dobson, was working. The latter was a frequent visitor at the home of the former prior to the robbery, but had not been there since.

The detective set on Whistler's track was only 18 years of age. He made a companion of Whistler and accompanied him to all his haunts of pastime, one being Charles J. Flynn's saloon at 1,913 Main street, on the U. S. side, where pool tables are run, also a room in the rear where games of chance are said to be carried on. The detective made himself a good "all-rounder" and soon gathered sufficient to place a third detective playing the role of saloon "hanger-on," looking for occasional free drinks.

The detective in the express office learned that a set of furs had been received for a certain address and returned to Toronto, and a set valued at $125 cent. These furs were taken care of by Dobson just before Christmas. The following Sunday a detective shadowed Dobson and his sweetheart to church and sat immediately behind them and noted the value of the furs. Dobson was taken up for questioning about where he got the money to purchase such furs. This was the first sign of his guilt.

Last Thursday the chief of the Thiel detectives brought Dobson to the Hotel Savoy and behind closed doors, cross-questioned him for three hours, and, having then some evidence of Whistler's connection in the case, caused Dobson to break down and make a full confession, implicating Whistler and Flynn and two other unknown men.

The whole plot was conceived in the minds of Whistler and Flynn, and Dobson being approached, consented. This was as far back as last August. Once or twice previous to Nov. 4, attempts were made to pull off the job, but something would intervene to prevent it. On the afternoon of the robbery, Dobson called up the Imperial Bank and asked them to be sure and have their money package over early. It is stated he wrote a letter a week ago, informing Flynn that he had lost his job with the express company, and for Flynn to hand over $1,500, as he had to get out of town, and go to Florida. This letter got into the hands of the detectives.

It has been learned that Flynn engaged two unknown thugs to pull off the job, Whistler driving the pair over to the Canadian side, skirting the streets up to the corner of Welland avenue and Bridge street, about two blocks west of the depot. The two thugs got out of the rig at this point, leaving Whistler in charge of it. They walked down to opposite the little express office and waited the signal from Dobson, which was to an uplifted right hand alongside of the cheek. This given, the two men walked into the office, entering the door next the station. Dobson handed the package over to one of the men, who covered it with black cloth and quietly walked out and up Bridge street to the waiting room. The other man said, "Turn round, Dobson, and let me hit you on the back of the head." Dobson turned around and received the blow that felled him to the floor unconscious. This man walked out and leisurely crossed the lower arch bridge.

The man with the money package entered the rig with Whistler and drove up to Bender avenue, where he got out.

The two men hired by Flynn received $2,800 each for the job. All the money that Whistler has received has been $300, and Dobson $125, given to them, it is said, in dribs of $25 or $30 at a time.

As soon as the detectives knew of Whistler's and Dobson's guilt, the American police cast out their dragnets and soon had Whistler and Flynn under arrest. Late Friday night, Whistler voluntarily returned to the Canadian side, while Flynn was arraigned before Police Justice Piper at Niagara Falls, N.Y., charged with conspiracy to commit theft of $14,169 from the Canadian Express Co. He pleaded not guilty. Waving a hearing he was remanded to Lockport for hearing to-day. Dobson and Whistler were arraigned before Magistrate Fraser Saturday evening and remanded to Welland Jail until next Friday, Jan. 7, when they will have a hearing.

Dobson, who is 23 years old, came to Niagara Falls, Ont., from Hamilton, a little over a year ago. He had been connected with the express company in Hamilton, and because of his good work had been promoted to the position of cashier across the river. He was Scotch-born and has been in Canada only four years. His father lives in Hamilton. He had made the acquaintance of Whistler when that youth was a United States Express Co. messenger, running on the Lehigh Valley. Daily they had made transfers of currency.

Whistler is said to have often frequented Flynn's place, playing pool there. Several times he had brought Dobson there. Flynn is much older than the others, a man of 41 years.

Whistler is 25 years old. Flynn came here several years ago from New York, where he was a bartender. He has had his present saloon for two years.

Dr. John McGarry, who was called to attend Dobson at the time of the robbery, said that the young man had been hit hard.

IS CZARINA A MENTAL WRECK?

Lividia, Jan. 3.—Upon high authority it can be stated that the Tsarina has suffered another complete mental breakdown. Her condition is serious and at one time Saturday she was thought to be dying. Each of these attacks leaves her weaker than perviously, and a frequent recurrence of them could only have a fatal termination.

Specialists who understand the Tsarina's constitution have been hastily summoned from St. Petersburg and Her Majesty is never left night or day.

All hope of a permanent cure of the Tsarina has been abandoned. She seldom has lucid moments or a clear brain and in these moments she is so concerned over the Tsar and her children that a nervous spell completely prostrates her and beclouds her mind.

TORIES ONLY HOPING WHILE LIBERALS EXPECT THE BEST

Lloyd-George Makes Merry Over the German War Scare—Keen Discussion is Going on Regarding the Authorship of the Chamberlain Letters.

London, Jan. 3.—The situation in a nutshell is thus described: The Conservatives are hoping for the best and the Liberals are expecting it.

Sir Charles Dilke says the Liberals may lose a few seats in London, which will have a slight effect in the country, but that victory is assured.

Lloyd-George, in addressing an enthusiastic meeting of 6,000 at Reading says he found everywhere the same determination on the part of the people to win. Their opponents were constantly quoting colonial opinion and they said "Hear our kinsman; why don't you take them by the hand. They are asking you to pay 2s. for wheat. Why don't you do that?"

Their colonial brethren had been watching the budget fight with great interest and were expressing opinions very freely about it. They were thoroughly ashamed of their lordship friends over the way they had declined to pay up like men. He thought tariff reformers were rather glad their colonists were kinsmen across the seas and not in England to take a part in the election.

The Chancellor proceeded to chaff the scaremakers "who mistook the rattling of the milkman's can in the mornings for the jingle and spurs of German hussars. In men and material we were three to one on the sea compared to Germany. Did their opponents—those great imperial souls—imagine that one German would eat three Britishers as if they were Frankfort sausages.

He then dealt with the provision made in the budget for social reform. He of all was for the security of capital, but he wanted security for the daily bread of men who never knew the sting of poverty so closely, and flung out the humane provision for the sick, the wounded and the unemployed—soldiers of industry. He emphasized that the budget raised £1,400,000 for social reform. "We mean to drive hunger forever from the hearts. Our opponents' contribution to the problem is a 2s. tax on bread." (Cheers.)

Meetings were interrupted by suffragettes who, begrimed and bedraggled emerged beneath the platform and were summarily ejected.

The Marquis of Salisbury had a trying time at St. Albans where cheers were given for the Liberal candidate. Several other peers spoke at various places and stated the Conservative leaders had revised the list of campaigning lords.

There is one feature of the election campaign which was resumed with renewed vigor after the Christmas holidays true to politics, which presents several curious anomalies, even if it does not conceal, as some people claim, one of the most astounding deceptions ever practiced in English history.

Joseph Chamberlain is a candidate for the West Birmingham seat with which he was connected over twenty years and will be returned unopposed. Much of the support which the "fair trade" doctrine is receiving in England is due to the personality of Chamberlain. All the world remembers the blow which was struck at him a few years ago and which, it was generally supposed would forever preclude his return to active political life.

He has never since appeared in public, and it is admitted even by his supporters that, on his being returned to Parliament at the coming election, he will be unable to take his seat at Westminster.

This week he issued an address to the electors of West Birmingham which was featured by the Unionist press as the most important pronouncement in the campaign, nor is this the limit of his activities. From his retreat at Highbury there have been spread broadcast letters and messages which denote a surprising recrudescence of energy on the part of a man who physical powers had been believed to be irretrievably impaired.

By his friends it is declared his mental powers are as vigorous as in the days before his paralytic seizure. It is even, declared he, although admittedly a cripple, suffers only from gout and shows no trace of the other and more serious ailment.

On the other hand, strange stories are current suggesting that Chamberlain's name has been used without his assent, but in a way for which the entire responsibility cannot legitimately be assigned to him. Attention has been directed to the curious similarity in the language of one letter which appeared in one Unionist organ above the signature Joseph Chamberlain and another published in a different paper over the signature of Austen Chamberlain.

It is stated to be a curious circumstance that all those who have had an opportunity of personally visiting Joe Chamberlain speak of his keen interest in the progress of the campaign, but are vague and evasive in the details they give.

Ate Frozen Bananas, Died.

Bladon, Neb., Jan. 3.—After eating sixteen bananas, John Claussen, 11 years old, became ill and died at his home here Saturday. With a number of companions, Claussen entered a restaurant. For a cash payment of five cents the proprietor offered the boys all the bananas they could eat. It is said the fruit had been frozen.

Capt. Warr Promoted.

London, Jan. 3.—Capt. Warr of the Cunard steamer Campania, who is temporarily in command of the Umbria, has been made commodore of the line, in succession to Capt. Pritchard retired. He will again take command of the Campania as soon as the overhauling of that steamer is completed.

EARL GREY'S LAST LEVEE

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Earl Grey held his last levee Saturday as Governor-General of Canada. Seven hundred and fifty gentlemen paid their respects to His Excellency. The reception took place at the Governor-General's offices, and he was accompanied by the Earl of Lansborough, Lord Lascelles and others from Government House. The guests included the judges of the various court, Cabinet Ministers, the consuls from foreign countries, Government officials and leading citizens of Ottawa.

IS DR. COOK IN DETROIT?

Detroit, Jan. 3.—It was rumored on Saturday that Mrs. Cook, wife of Dr. Fred A. Cook, was here. The report had its origin in Windsor, where it is said a thickly-veiled woman called for mail addressed to "Mrs. Dr. Fred. A. Cook." After receiving her mail, she hastened to Detroit.

Postal authorities at Windsor say the woman first appeared about the time Dr. Cook was reported to be in London, Ont.

FOOD NOT FIT FOR ANIMAL

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 3.—John W. Todd, former overseer at the city prison or stockade, was the principal witness heard by the counsel investigating committee Saturday. In addition to corroborating the stories of cruelty to prisoners and of unsanitary conditions as told by other witnesses, he testified that the food served the prisoners was unfit even for the lowest kind of animals.

Merger In Cotton Oil.

New York, Jan. 3.—Prominent cottonseed oil men of New York on Friday completed an organization to be known as the Oil Trade Association of the New York Produce Exchange, with a charter membership of 100. Its object is to further the cottonseed oil industry in all parts of the world. J. G. Cash of the American Cottonseed Oil Co., was elected president.

Sales of cottonseed oil on the New York Produce Exchange last year aggregated 2,303,488 barrels.

NEW YEAR'S FESTIVITIES

New York, Jan. 3.—The celebrative propensities of New Yorkers, exhausted by the prolonged demonstration of New Year's Eve, were slow in showing evidences of recuperation Saturday. New Year's Day, ideal in point of weather conditions, opened quietly and, aside from the ceremonial attending the inauguration of a new mayor, not an annual, but a quadrennial, New Year event, there were few set affairs to mark the day.

Friday night's noisy celebration is believed to have been productive of at least one fatality. William Williams, a 20-year-old resident of East 52nd street, died Saturday in the hospital as the result of a bullet wound in the neck. The missile is believed to have come from the revolver of a careless and so far unidentified celebrant.

THE U. S. HAS NOT RECOGNIZED HIM

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Jan. 3.—Hope that the war would be brought to an end through the recognition of the Provincial Government by the United States has been abandoned. Many believe that two more battle must be fought; one in the State of Chontales and the other near Managua.

There is some disappointment that the United States has not formally recognized the Government of Estrada.

If another battle is fought it is likely that no less than 12,000 men will be engaged.

BARBER CAUSES MAN TO SUICIDE

Paterson, N.J., Jan. 3.—By complaining that his beard was so strong that it hurt to have the county jail barber shave him, Julius Mortleg induced the barber to hand the razor over to him yesterday.

The prisoner, who was in custody for shooting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Morgan, promptly cut his throat. He died at the hospital.

Mr. Forget's Prediction.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Rodolphe Forget, M.P., the king of the Montreal Stock Exchange, is of the opinion that 1910 will be the greatest year financially and commercially the Dominion has ever seen, and he also believes that this unprecedented prosperity will extend all over the continent.

THE TOW THISTLE

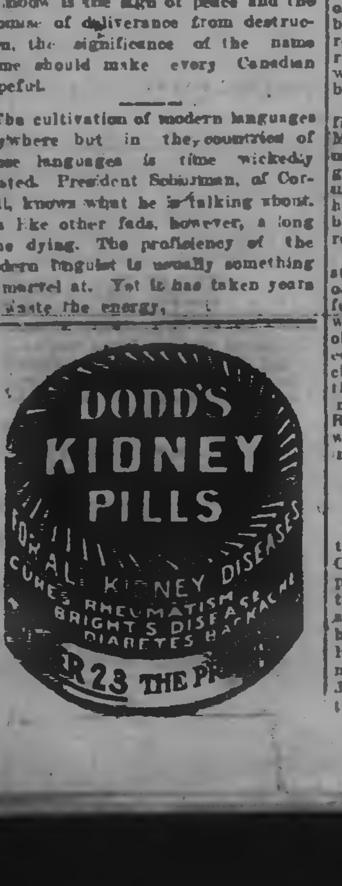
Mr Joshua Smithson, of Otonabee, gives it as his opinion that the sow thistle will spell ruin for the farmers, if it is not stamped out soon. The sow thistle was unheard of twenty years ago, but to-day it is everywhere. Its ubiquity is due to its carrying-power. One thistle on a badly kept farm twenty miles away will infect a whole district. The wind bloweth it where it listeth, and there's no way of avoiding it. Mr. Dawson Kennedy agrees with Mr. Smithson that the government should appoint an inspector who will order it to be cut down wherever and whenever found. It grows in three years to have a root like a door-mat, and it kills all it comes in contact with. Its "down" will float thirty miles. It carries ruin, desolation and terror wherever it goes. It is worse than the weevil, the Jose scale and the potato bug all rolled into one. Farm values are going down anyhow, thanks to the G. T. P., and the Sow thistle is a good second. Are these to be the reward of a lifetime of toil?

EDITORIAL NOTES

Galt Reformer.

The Rainbow is the name of Canada's first warship. Seeing that the Rainbow is the sign of peace and the promise of deliverance from destruction, the significance of the name should make every Canadian hopeful.

The cultivation of modern languages anywhere but in the countries of these languages is time wickedly wasted. President Schurman, of Cornell, knows what he is talking about. It's like other fads, however, a long time dying. The proficiency of the modern linguist is usually something to marvel at. Yet it has taken years to waste the energy.



SPORTING NEWS

LINDSAY JUNIORS KICK THE BUCKET

Lindsay Post—Lindsay will drop out of the junior O.H.A., but as the youngsters fall back, the intermediates come forward. "We will have an intermediate team this year to enter with District No. 1," stated Mr. Jos. Parkin to the Evening Post this morning. The team will be for a while lost without the old fast, reliable "Ken" Randall, but "Bill" Stoddard and Cote brothers are still available, on the forward line, and will no doubt assist in turning out a fast septette.

The team will be chosen from Leo and Frank Cote, Capt. Stoddard, "Peg" Bloomfield, Dougan, Lane, Cain, "Goosie" Taylor, Beatty, Gamble, R. Green and Killen.

Captain Stoddard will again manage the team and will appear with Manager Parkin at Peterborough next week in forming the schedule.

TAME BANTIES CROWING AGAIN

After laying low, ever since they defeated Bill Shaw's Auburn shoddy Hustlers last season, the Tame Banties, are out again with a defi to any of the hockey teams, in the city, the Canal Rats included. The Tame Banties don't pretend to have done anything in the past to crow about, but this season they intend to show the railbirds at Brock street rink that they are a game bunch and not a lot of old hens as the team was dubbed last year. Each of the members of the Tame Banties is a prize winner, and will be on exhibit on at the winter show of the Peterborough Poultry Association, to be held in the market hall, January 4th. 5th and 6th, and this isn't going to be a tame affair by any means.

THE TURF

Dr. Johnson may enter Queen's Baron and Harry Direct in the class races at the Ottawa winter meeting.

CHAMPIONS OF THE PAST YEAR

With champions crowned in each of the various branches of sport and athletics the task of singling out the foremost figures of 1909 simmers down to almost a frolic. The customary army of claimants for the honors continues to set up the old-time hue and cry, but in most cases the title bearers hold undisputed right to their laurels.

In wrestling Frank Gotch easily proved the master of all his opponents. Foreign grapplers of formidable appearance, crossed the Atlantic to wrest the title from the Humboldt strong man. The old, old story followed Gotch emerging from all his tussles without a blemish, as it were.

Jack Johnson figured in a solitary battle for the heavy-weight championship of the ring, and his opponent, Stanley Ketchel, outweighed, outpunched and beaten into a state of helplessness down to defeat in jig time. Most of the time the negro giant devoted to cruising around the country, picking up easy money on the theatrical circuits.

In Calvin Demarest Chicago furnished the billiard world with one of the most spectacular players ever known to the game. Turning to the professional ranks when scarcely out of his teens, Demarest invaded the big tournaments, and by playing in remarkable form, easily asserted the right to hold the championship of the world at the 18.2 balk-line style of billiards.

Johnny McGovern, quarterback and field general for the University of Minnesota foot-ball team, played the most phenomenal game the western gridiron followers have seen in many moons until cut down by an injury to his collar bone during the memorable battle between the Gophers and Maroons at Minneapolis.

"Babe" Adams, an unknown youngster pitching a bewildering assortment of curves, led Pittsburg in its fight for the base-ball championship of the world. John Flanagan, that grand old man of the athletic world, retained his laurels as the greatest weight chucker of them all. Eddie Dugan set the turf world afire by his hair-raising rides on the speedy bangtails, and Robert A. Gardner electrified the golf world, setting some high-water marks in championship play.

A handsome large photograph of the world's champions taken at the Oakland, Cal., Athletic Club has been presented to the Oriental by Mr. Walter Phelen of Pittsburg. In the group are Jeffries and Frank Gotch, the heavyweight wrestling champion, Dr. Roller, the well known heavyweight mat artist, Owen Zeigler, the boxer, Jack McCormack and others are in the group.

EDMONTON AFTER WALTER MILLER

Former Peterborough Player Wanted by Cup Challengers

Walter Miller, one of the members of the Prince Albert hockey team, has received an offer of a position on the Edmonton hockey team during their trip to Montreal and Ottawa.

At first, owing to the difficulty of getting the dates early, Edmonton threw up the idea of an eastern trip, but now having re-considered the matter, they are busy throwing out their lines for good men.

Miller, however, has decided to stay, as he has already given his promise to the Prince Albert club to play here for the season.—Prince Albert News.

REDDY McMILLIAN FOR OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Vice-President L. N. Bate to-night confirmed the rumor that "Reddy" McMillan, of Cornwall, was coming here for a trial. It's a long drop from Fred Taylor to McMillan, but he will be given a trial. Mallen will be used at cover-point in the Galt games, Wednesday and Friday, unless McMillan shows surprising form. The Ottawas will not make any objections to Galt's handpicked team. The Edmonton Club has finally notified the Ottawas that they will be here on Jan. 18th and 20th, for their Cup matches.

HOCKEY

The intermediates had a good workout Saturday morning. McDougall, of the Keene City League team, was out and Jakey Moore, who was a visitor in the city over the holiday. The other players were: Derocher, Giroux, Dusty, Ray, Weatherstone, McMillan, Seymour and Dobson.

From all accounts, the T.A.S. City League seven will take a lot of beating. Here is the reported line-up: Goal, ———; point, M. Sabitino; cover, M. Quigley; rover, Coughlin; centre, T. Sabitino; right wing, Moran, left wing, Heffernan.

A meeting of the interested in the senior Church Hockey League is called for to-night in the Y.M.C.A. at eight o'clock.

The intermediates and juniors will practice this evening between seven and eight.

Galt, Dec. 30.—"Bob" Mercer, the clever goalkeeper of the local (professional) hockey team, underwent an operation yesterday afternoon at the hospital at 4.30, and passed through it very successfully. The news of his sudden illness has been a shock to the hockey public of Galt, as Bob was a great favorite and a first-class goalkeeper, and his illness will cripple the local team.

He had played a brilliant game on Christmas afternoon against Waterloo, and was in the best of health, and in the evening he was skating at the rink with Pete Charlton and Jimmy Mallie, and made no complaints. After ten o'clock he was taken suddenly ill at the Grand Hotel and Dr. Hawke was summoned in and pronounced the illness to be appendicitis.

Bob will, in all probability, be out of the game for the winter, and it will be a heavy loss to the Galt team. Manager Servis is already busy in endeavoring to get a man to fill the vacant position.

The City Hockey League season will open Wednesday night, with a double header at Brock street rink. Keene and Strathconas will meet in the first game at eight o'clock, and West Ends and T.A.S. will come together in the second contest at nine. With only the four teams in the race for the championship this season, the managers have had a larger field to choose from, and the result is that each team will be stronger that at any previous year.

Fred Taylor's popularity in the Department of the Interior from which he has resigned was shown on Saturday, when the employees of the railway lands branch to a member waited on him and presented the great cover-point with a handsome traveling case.

Dubbie Kerr, the brilliant left wing of the Ottawa hockey team, who has been very much in the public eye through the efforts of the Renfrew Club to steal him from the cup holders, is out of the game. Kerr is laid up at his boarding-house threatened with appendicitis.

Cleveland, Jan. 1.—The Yale hockey team defeated Cornell here to-night by a score of 5 to 3 in the first of a series of three games. The other two games will be played Monday and Tuesday.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE RING

Attell Beat up Kelly Badly--Jack Johnson's Troubles in Terre Haute

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan 2.—"Nothing doing on those terms," said Johnson, when the offer of a fight with Tommy Burns was shown to the colored champion. The offer was made to Hugh McIntosh and proposed that the winner take all the receipts. "Thirty-five thousand win, lose or draw, are the only terms on which I would meet Burns," added Johnson. "If he agrees I will fight him next November at any place."

It will be remembered that Burns demanded and got $30,000 win, lose or draw, in his fight with the champion at Rushcutter's Bay, Australia.

ATTELL TOOK NO CHANCES.

Savannah, Ga., Jan 1.—Abe Attell, featherweight champion, gave Eddie Kelley, of Buffalo, a terrible beating in eight minutes of fighting here to-night. The police stopped the fight.

MADE JACK JOHNSON QUIT.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan 2.—Jack Johnson refused to fulfil his contract to appear at a Terre Haute theatre to-day, and the manager attached his trunks as he was about to board a train for Columbus, Ohio. Johnson said the theatre was too cold. When a constable served the writ Johnson mounted his baggage and said he would "hit the first man who touched it." The constable called the police and the fighter backed down when Captain Armstrong brought enough men to take Johnson to gaol. Johnson later tried to engage a special train, but failed. When he saw his belongings dumped on a dray he told his manager he would stay in Terre Haute till to-morrow and contest the case.

WOLGAST-NELSON BOUT OFF.

San Francisco, Jan. 2—According to an announcement last night by Sid Hester there will be no fight between Battling Nelson and Ad. Wolgast, but there are now chances for another match between Wolgast and Lew Powell. Tom Jones, Wolgast's manager, left to-night for Los Angeles, finally refusing Hester's offer for $3,750, or of any sum under $4,500 for the fight. Wolgast won from Powell in twenty rounds on November 29.

POLISH CHAMPION BEAT BEEL.

Buffalo, Jan. 1—Zybsco, the Polish champion, defeated Fred Beel, of Milwaukee, Wis., in two straight falls here to-night. The time was 1 minute 15 seconds and 51 minutes.

THE RING

Al Kaufman and Jack O'Brien will box six rounds at the National A. C. of Philadelphia, January 19. They will meet at catch weights and will divide 70 per cent. of the receipts.

Stanley Ketchel, who is spending the holidays with his folks at Grand Rapids, Mich., will come east early in January and may take on a few short-distance bouts before starting on a world tour at the end of which he is to meet Tommy Burns in Australia.

Tommy Burns and Stanley Ketchel are to meet before the National Sporting Club, of London, in February or March, according to Ketchel. "If I beat Burns," Stanley declares, "I will probably give Sam Langford a match in London and then run down to Australia and go up against Bill Squires and Bill Lang."

There is a strong belief on the coast that Jeffries and Johnson will meet in San Francisco, despite Tex Rickard's statement that the battle will be held in Salt Lake City. Jimmy Coffroth is declared to be in on the deal, denials to the contrary notwithstanding. Other battles in the lighter classes are planned as preliminaries to the Jeffries-Johnson go. Coffroth's mission in Europe is thought to be to sign up Jem Driscoll to go against Abe Attell at this time and Owen Moran or Freddy Welch to be pitted against Battling Nelson. From present indications there will be considerable doing on the coast in the neighborhood of July 4.

HEAR WHY WE SPEAK FOR Zam-Buk

THE GREAT HERBAL BALM

INJURED FOOT CURED.

"I speak for Zam Buk because it cured me of a terribly bad foot," says Mrs. Alice Berryman of 190 John St. North, Hamilton. She adds: "The injury was caused by a wagon wheel, and the sore was on my right foot. It became very inflamed and swollen and so painful that I fainted away. In spite of treatment, the wound got no better and the foot became more and more swollen until it was several times its usual size. The flesh was terribly bruised and blackened and it was quite impossible for me to walk. My husband's mother at last brought me a box of Zam-Buk. This was applied to the foot and it was surprising how soon I found relief from the severe pain. A further supply of Zam-Buk was obtained and I persevered in using this balm alone. In a couple of days the swelling had gone down considerably, the discoloration was less distinct and the pain was banished. In four days I could go about as usual; the bruised and injured foot had been thoroughly cured by the timely use of Zam-Buk."

Did you ever ask yourself: "How is it that Zam-Buk is so popular?" It is because it is superior and different to other salves. Contrast them! Most salves are nine-tenths animal oil or fat. Zam-Buk hasn't a trace of animal fat in it. Most salves contain mineral coloring matter. Zam-Buk is absolutely without! Many salves contain poisonous astringents. Zam-Buk doesn't.

Zam-Buk is actually more powerfully antiseptic than crude carbolic acid. Yet it stops instead of causing pain and smarting when put on a wound.

It heals more quickly than any known substance, abscesses, ulcers, eczema, blood poisoning, cuts, scalp sores, chaps and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c stamp for trial box.

POISONED FINGER HEALED.

Mrs. Frank St. Denis of 305 Thompson St., Winnipeg, speaks for Zam Buk because it cured her of a poisoned finger, which had caused her days of agony. Hear her experience. She says:

"One morning, while washing, I felt a slight pain in the end of my finger. This gradually got more acute until by the evening of the next day the end of the finger had become swollen and hard and so blue I became alarmed.

"The pain from it was almost too much to bear. It made me turn quite sick! Poultices of first one kind and then another were applied, but seemed to give me no relief. My daughter-in-law, who had had some previous experience with Zam-Buk obtained a box for me. I anointed the sore place liberally with this balm, and in a few hours, the throbbing aching pains were subdued."

Further applications of Zam-Buk gave me more ease, so that I could get a little sleep. In a few days the nail came off, but after that Zam-Buk seemed to reduce the inflammation quickly. I continued its use until in the end it had brought about a complete cure.

ABOUT WRECKING TRAINS

It takes just about five minutes for the New York Central wrecking crew at Utica, N.Y. to get under way when a wreck happens somewhere east of Korkville or west of Albany, which is the usual territory covered by this crew, a distance of thirty-eight miles to the westward, and eighty-seven miles to the eastward. Five minutes is the time required if the wreck happens in the daytime. If the accident happens at night the use of the telephone gets every member of the crew out of bed, in which case it required about fifteen minutes to get the crew together and the engine hitched to the seven car train. The wrecking aggregation located at Utica is typical of the wrecking outfits of the Central railroad.

When two trains run into each other and mess things up and hurt somebody the wrecking crew's first business is to care for the wounded. In Utica the New York Central has the names of four physicians on its list, and when the wrecking crew hears that some one is hurt one of these doctors is notified. If the wreck is a large one, not only are all four doctors taken along, but also all others who can be obtained. The wrecking train is also supplied with with first aid to the injured outfits.

The wrecking train consists of several cars, the steam crane, the idler, over which the boom hangs, with a cabin on the other end, in which ride the crane engineer and the rigger; a dining car and sleeping car combined, in which the crew eats and sleeps; a tool car, a blocking car, which carries the blocks used in blocking up cars, and two cars loaded with trucks which may be placed under cars when wheels or axles have been twisted.

An ordinary wrecking crew consists of the wrecking master, a crane engineer, a rigger and eight wreckers. The assistant train master accompanies the crew to learn how the wreck happened and to attend to other matters. When the wreck is large the size of the crew is increased.

The steam crane constantly keeps steam up ready for business and the fire is never drawn without the permission of the superintendent. When the wrecking crew learns of a wreck the first available engine is hooked to the seven cars, and no time is wasted in arriving at the scene of action.

The first thing the steam crane does is to hoist the debris off the track. Just as soon as one of the tracks has been opened the wrecking master reports to the superintendent and gives him an estimate of the length of time it will require to open the other tracks.

The wrecking master is in full command at the wreck. One of the wreckers acts as a clerk and takes note of every bit of damage done, for it will be his business to make a detailed report of what happened in the mixup. If the nature of the wreck indicates the cause, he will report that also.

The crane has a lift rating of sixty tons, which is sufficient to hoist a freight car bodily upon a track. When it tackles a passenger car it can lift one end at a time. Whenever the crew goes to the electrified West Shore Railroad the members wear rubber boots and rubber gloves as extra precautions, although the current is supposed to be turned off from the third rail after a wreck has happened.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MAKES HAIR GROW

Wm. Madill Has an Invigorator That Makes Hair Grow in Abundantly or Money Back

If your hair is thinning out gradually it won't be long before the bald spot appears.

The time to take care of the hair is when you have hair to take care of.

For thin falling hair the best remedy known to mankind is Parisian Sage. It is compounded on scientific principles and furnishes to the hair root a nourishment that acts quickly and promptly and causes the hair to grow.

But remember this: It kills the dandruff germ, the pest that appropriates all the natural nourishment that should go to the hair root.

Parisian Sage is sold by Wm. Madill under a positive guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It gives to women's hair a lustre and radiance that is most fascinating and causes it to grow abundantly.

Parisian Sage is now sold in every first-class town in Canada. A large, generous bottle costs 50 cents, and the girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle.

ANOTHER FARMERS' CLUB BEEN FORMED

Smith, Dec. 27.—A very interesting meeting in the organization of a Farmers' Club was held in the Zion school house, about 35 farmers being present.

After Mr. J. H. Garbutt, President of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, and others, had discussed the objects and benefits of such societies in a very interesting manner it was decided to form a club as this neighborhood is an ideal spot, it being so centerally located.

The officers elected were as follows:—

President—Henry Stubbs.
Vice-Pres.—J. H. Garbutt.
Secretary Treasurer—G. Noble Milburn.
Directors—C. Graham and G. Mann.
Auditors—A. B. Mann and B. Allan.

During the evening a couple of songs were rendered and were much appreciated. The next meeting will be held on January 20th, when Mr. Duff of Norwood will be present and a profitable evening is expected; other local speakers will also take part.

The club has a membership of 25 on the charter.

GAYNOR'S NEW YEAR RESOLVE

New York, Dec. 31.—Death to the politicians is Mayor Gaynor's New Year's resolve. In a letter written to-night to Thomas J. Higgins, a member of the Board of Education, the Mayor says:

"I propose to appoint you commissioner of parks for the Bronx tomorrow and I trust you will accept, for a thorough reform of that office is needed. Among other things I find that everyone appointed to work in the parks there is required to join a political club and pay its dues and assessments levied for political purposes.

"Let all of that be stopped immediately. No political interference or influence whatever shall hereafter be suffered in any department of the City of New York."

THE NEW YEAR

Lord Alfred Tennyson.

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor,
Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out the want, the care, the sin,
The faithless coldness of the times;
Ring out, ring out my mournful rhymes,
But ring the fuller minstrel in.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

RAFFLES WAS CAPTURED IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Jan. 1.—R. A. Gay, the slick young man from the States, whose career in this city as a promoter of the "Mysterious Mr. Raffles" scheme was short but eventful, is again in the toils, this time at Fargo, N.D. Just after Gay was tried before Judge Dawson here, and succeeded in making the court believe that there was nothing criminal in his operations, by which he made several young men part with sums ranging from $15 to $50, he left for Fort William. A local druggist then complained to the police that Gay had got him to cash two cheques for $25, which had proved worthless, and a warrant for his arrest was issued, but Gay could not be located. Sheriff Murphy, of Fargo, was in the city a few days ago looking for Gay, who was wanted there on a similar charge, and by the merest coincidence a telegram to Chief McRae the same day told of Gay's arrest at Butte, Montana. Sheriff Murphy immediately set out for Butte, where he had Gay extraditedd Gargo.

RICH RED BLOOD

You Will Never Have it as Long as You Have Dyspepsia

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. It cures sea and car sickness and vomiting of pregnancy almost immediately. Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees to cure or money back.

A HIT FROM THE SHOULDER AGAINST STAGE LEWDNESS

Rev. Byron E. Stauffer's Outspoken Disgust—Not Against All Dramatic Entertaiments However — The Gallery's Morbid Approbation.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Some dramatic criticism of a very outspoken sort was given by Rev. Byron E. Stauffer in his sermon at the Bond St. Congregational church last night. He was speaking of the importance of the tendency of a man's life and how a man was often carried thereby much further than he had any idea he would go. A man to be right, he said, had not only to cleave to that which was good, but also to abhor that which was evil. The theatrical profession, he continued, often mistook public sentiment. He was of that division of the church which did not believe that dramatic entertainments should be altogether denounced, but the theatres made it hard for a man in the pulpit, who wanted to be liberal and broadminded, to keep from denouncing.

"Did you go to hear Harry Lauder?" Mr. Stauffer asked his congregation. "Were you shocked in the first part of the entertainment? If you were not, there is something wrong with you."

Then, mentioning no names, Mr. Stauffer discoursed of a "singer of southern songs," of "her suggestive dress," of "her suggestive leer," of "her side glances to the gallery as if she expected to find a liaison there." It was all, he said, "reeking of suggestiveness." It was a shame that they had to go through all that slime to hear the greatest Scottish entertainer of the present generation. He had been no better or no worse than the others there. He had allowed his desire to hear Lauder overcome his resolution to get up and go out whenever he heard that sort of thing. What worried him was the applause from the gallery that brought the woman back twice. It came from young men who were forgetful of what they would like their sisters to be.

VOTE TO-DAY WILL BEAT ALL RECORDS IN CITY'S HISTORY

Chief Interest Centres in the Local Option Fight—Nearly Two Hundred Vehicles in Service — Big Vote Polled at Noon.

Voting is going merrily on to-day. Chief interest centers in the local option fight, with the mayoralty contest a close second. Both sides are working hard on the local option issue and it is apparent that a record vote will be polled. About two hundred vehicles are in commission carrying voters to the booths and confidence is expressed by both factions. The result to-night will be awaited with more interest than there has been in any municipal question for years. A large vote had been polled at noon, but it is feared that there will be a forush at the polls between six and seven o'clock.

So vote early is the motto on all sides.

Three of the nine aldermanic candidates will be left at home and four of the nine aspirants for seats at the Board of Education. A good deal of interest is being taken in the by-laws and what their fate will be is difficult to predict.

It looks as if to-day's contest will go down in Peterborough history as a memorable one.

PROVINCIAL INSPECTOR'S REPORT ON ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL IS SATISFACTORY

It will be gratifying to the patrons and friends of St. Joseph's Hospital to know that the official report of this institution forwarded by Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith to the Department of Hospitals and Charities is most satisfactory as the following extracts will show:

Conditions and adequacy of the wards, beds, bedding and furnishings;—All in excellent order, showing proper care and attention.

Condition and adequacy of the operating room and its equipment;—Highly satisfactory.

Dietary.—The dietary is very satisfactory. The food supplies are the best, and proper care and attention are taken to serve the dietary.

Special features observed at inspection—the maternity is an excellent addition to the equipment of the hospital.

All parts of the hospital were inspected and found in satisfactory condition. The management is excellent.

The only word of censure in the entire report has reference to the neglect on the part of the city to contribute towards the support of its indigent sick. Having called the attention of the provincial authorities to the fact that one hundred and thirty-one patients (of whom one hundred and thirty are citizens of Peterborough) were treated in this hospital during the past year, who were unable to make any remuneration therefor, the inspector says;—Attention must be drawn to the failure on the part of the City of Peterborough to pay for its poor, requiring hospital care. This is fortunately the only instance in Ontario where a city does not give a large annual grant for this purpose.

ASSAULT CHARGE

Douro Man Arrested—Said to Have Brutally Attacked Wife

David Condon, a well known resident of Douro, is in the county gaol on the charge of assaulting his wife on the night of Friday, December 31st. The information against the prisoner was laid by his son, John Condon, who claims that his father in a fit of temper when quarrelling with his mother, knocked her down and brutally kicked her and acted in such a manner that the family left the house, fearing that the father might do someone serious injury in his uncontrolable rage.

Condon was arrested by County Constable Archie Moore on Saturday and brought before County P. M. Edmison, who remanded him until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

WEDDING BELLS

GRIMINSON—FOWLER

A pretty house wedding took place at six o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fowler, 688 Concession street, Ashburnham, when their daughter, Heletia, was united in marriage to Mr. John F. Griminson, son of Mr. Thos. Griminson of this city, in the presence of about thirty-five friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. B. C. Coon, pastor of Mark street Methodist church, officiated, and Miss Gladys Preston, of Midland, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father. The decorations were of palms and ariciaras. After the ceremony, all present sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast, which had been prepared by Mr. T. H. Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Griminson will reside at 688 Sherbrooke street, and their many friends will extend to them heartiest congratulations and best wishes for the future.

THEATRICAL

"The Prince Chap"

It is a fact now generally well known that Miss Helen Pullman, who will be seen here with the Cook players as Claudia, in "The Prince Chap" at the Grand on Thursday, January 6th, is accounted the most accomplished child actress on the American stage to-day. She plays with a naturalness, a grace and an intelligence that might be well copied by some of her elders who aspire to more pretentious parts. She is a remarkably beautiful as well as talented child, and the future contains a large amount of success for her. Aside from her appearance in "The Prince Chap," Helen Pullman has supported Ezra Kendall in "Weather Beaten Benson" was with Ethel Barrymore in "A Doll's House," and has played various other stage children.

Her sister Beryl, who also plays Claudia in the first act of "The Prince Chap" is another charming little girl and actress. These children monopolize to a large extent the interest and complaints of the large audiences that have been witnessing this production while on tour, and rightly too, for they are little artists of exalted rank. Although the children are young in years, they are old in stage experience. Beryl was with the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company playing "Trouble" in the production of "Mme. Butterfly." She also played the same role with Henry W. Savage's English production of Puccini's famous opera of Japan. She has supported Ethel Barrymore in "A Doll's House," played Bessie in "Cape Cod Folks" and Egil in "The Viking at Helgeland." In the role of Claudia in the first act of "The Prince Chap," she has achieved her greatest distinction.

SENSATIONAL CLYDE FITCH FARCE COMING

Mabel Barrison, the favorite Canadian comedienne, Harry Conor and the Original Lyric Theatre, New York, cast will appear in "The Blue Mouse," the famous and sensational Clyde Fitch farce at the Grand Opera House, Tuesday, Jan. 11th.

"The Blue Mouse" is an adaptation from the German and held the record for last season's business in New York, having appeared there for more than one whole year.

The play tells the story of a young man who engages a Salome dancer to impersonate his wife, flirt with his employer and endeavor to secure for her pretended husband a much coveted promotion. It is in three acts, all of which are extremely funny. The play was staged by the author.

STAGE GOSSIP

"The Goddess of Liberty," a new musical play, by Howard, Hough and Adams, authors of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," etc., had its first presentation at Weber's Theatre, New York, on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd The show is pronounced an excellent one, both in story and music, and a brilliant cast is headed by Edward Abeles, who gained such prominence in the leading part in "Brewster's Millions." The New York critics predict the production will have a long life on Broadway.

Among the musical numbers are several of a very tuneful quality, the most popular ones being "I Don't Want a Million Dollars," "If All Moons Were Honeymoons," "Something," "The Land of Used to Be," "Here's to the Last Girl," and "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," originally in the score of "The Prince of To-Night," by the same authors.

"The Man Who Owns Broadway," with Raymond Hitchcock in the name part, has commenced its fourth month at the New York Theatre. Scott Welsh and Frances Gordon, formerly of "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," are meeting with much success in two of the principal parts.

"Under the North Star," drew two good houses at the Grand on New Year's Day. George H Summers was a small copy of Tom Marks in the Irish comedy role of "Harrigan," and at times was fairly funny. There was a diversion of opinion as to the worth of the play, but it was not up to the excellent standard of offerings Mr. Small has provided Peterborough with this season at varying prices, and is not likely to cause a stampede anywhere.

What should prove one of the superior attractions of the season will be the local appearance of "The Blue Mouse" on January 11th. The farce was adapted from the French by Clyde Fitch. The original metropolitan company headed by Mabel Barrison will be seen here.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

Young Man Claimed That He Was Drunk, But This Excuse Did Not Go With the Magistrate

For displaying an unwarranted desire to fight last Tuesday night, a young man was assessed $10.55 at the Police Court this morning. The amount was ordered to be paid forthwith.

According to the story of the complainant, he was asked to stop while walking north on George street, near Central Park, by the defendant, who mistook him for another person, and who became abusive in his language. The defendant forced matters, and finally both got into a fight.

The defendant admitted being guilty of assault, his only excuse being that he was drunk at the time.

PRESENTED WITH SILVER FERN JAR

Pupils of S. S. No. 16 Otonabee, Honored Their Teacher Miss Lizzie McGregor

The pupils of S.S. No. 16, Otonabee, presented their teacher, Miss Lizzie McGregor, with a beautiful silver fern jar, accompanied with an address at the closing of the school for the Christmas holidays on Dec. 22nd.

As teacher at the school Miss McGregor has endeared herself to all her scholars, and they took the opportunity to express to her their regret at her intending departure. The address was as follows:—

S.S. No. 16, Otonabee,
Dec., 1909

Dear Miss McGregor,—The tie which has bound us together for the last few years, is about to be broken. We feel that we should not say goodbye without thanking you for the kind interest which you have shown in teaching and guiding us. You have made the days pleasant as well as profitable for us, and we hope in the future to prove that your efforts to make us wiser and better have not been in vain.

We ask you to accept this small gift as a token of our love, and respect. When you use it we hope you will remember your pupils at S.S. No. 16, Otonabee.

Signed on behalf of the school.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT?

From La Patrie:—"In asking Canada to pledge herself in blank for her to build fleets, is Great Britain working all unconsciously towards a rupture of the colonial tie?"

The French say "yes." It is their wish and their determination.

Who are masters of this country, anyhow, the French or the loyal British?

ARE WE A MATCH FOR IT?

A Review representative has just returned from Ottawa, into whose great cosmopolitan hopper pours all the news, good and bad, true and false, of the Dominion of Canada, and of the British Emp— No! we must not speak of the "empire" any more. French Canada will not tolerate it. There was a time when the empire was so far from being anything that it did not matter. Now, however, when Great Britain has expressed a formal desire that we join her in defence of the empire, we find that there is really no empire—that is, with Canada in it. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has said so. His ever memorable words at the great London Conference were: "If you press this resolution I must vote against it." The resolution was brought forward to put for the first time formally on paper, before going on to speak of fleets and fleet-units, the basic principle that it is desirable that the different parts of the empire should combine for purposes of defence. But, no! Canada stood in the way. In order not to precipitate a crisis, and in order not to drive Sir Wilfrid to the statement that there could be no union for defence with Canada in it, Sir Wilfrid and his merry accomplices were allowed to go their way untrammelled by any bonds of empire. They said that Canada should have a navy of her own, and that if the Parliament of thought the war just, at night, if it liked, join in. These were the terms. A slap in the face to Great Britain and the others. A most infamous thing for Sir Wilfrid Laurier or any other man representing Canada to presume to do. But French-Canada rules in British North America just now, and its people and its journals reek with the craze of an independent Canada and an independent French Canada. It would have spoiled all these plans if there were to be a union of empire on any pretence whatever. So all pretences were rejected. And some of Sir Wilfrid's English-speaking allies are of the same mind. To them the empire means nothing, "old times" mean nothing, British connection means nothing. What they want is money, and they would sell their mother for money, and this is an instance. But Canada is British. She is pro-British, and for the empire, and she rejoices that in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and wherever the British flag floats there is a determination to preserve the empire. If the question is not fought out in Parliament this month it will be fought out somewhere else, but it will be settled, and settled in favour of, not against the expressed wish of the Mother Country.

Meanwhile, the daily yelping from Quebec and Acadia continues. "Marcel" in Le Nationaliste, says: "Upon the question of naval defence, colonization, public instruction, etc." you (editor of Le Nationaliste) have offered words of wisdom," and "Sir Wilfrid Laurier is at once the beginning and the perfection of sagacity." And thus it is, always "the French race" and "the cunning of Sir Wilfrid." Are we a match for it?

ROSS CRAIG GETS A GOLD WATCH

Dundas, Dec. 31.—The Dundas Rugby team, intermediate champions of Canada, "got theirs" last night. The townspeople gave them a public reception, and presented them with gold watches. Mayor Lawrason made the presentations, and each player was cheered to the echo as he came forward. In addition to the players, H. N. Lee, W. M. Smith, W. J. Ryoroft, G. M. Quackenbush, C. E. Quackenbush, Geo. Norton, W. L. Laing, J. E. Mason, A. B. Wilson, A. T. Martin, William Mallett, James Ross Binkley (sub-captain), Ross Craig (captain), Victor Fleming, R. F. Marin, and S. D. Nelson, who got watches. Peter Brady, a Dundas boy, who started out with the team and finished with Parkdale Canoe Club, senior O. R. F. U. champions, received a timepiece, and Ralph Ripley was given a beautiful solid mahogany chair and a silver cup with a commemorative inscription engraved upon it. It was presented to Mr. Ripley for his first-born child, Annie J. Ripley, who was born on the day of the winning of the championship.

All the men on the team, except Ross Craig, who is a Peterborough boy, were born in this town and vicinity.

THEIR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Merry Time at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall—"Old England" Toasted

There was a merry gathering at the home of Mr. Walter Hall, Braidwood Ave., on Friday evening. It was the twelfth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hall and a large number of their friends, principally employees of the Brinton Carpet Company, gathered to spend a social evening and to wish the host and hostess many happy returns of the occasion. About forty were in attendance, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Madley, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Bellemy, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert, Mr. Giles, Mr. Cooper, Mr. Forest and Mr. Mason. Mr. Fred Hall, nephew of the host, presided at the piano during the evening and furnished excellent music. The evening was spent in songs, speeches, recitations and dancing and an excellent repast was also served. An appropriate song, "The Wedding Party," was sung by Mr. Madley. Mrs. Hall sang "The Ivy" and Mr. Giles sang a comic song, "We've all Being Doing a Bit." Two little girls, Edith Hall and Helen Barnes, step danced in a clever manner and received much applause. Mr. Fred Hall made a hit with a vocal solo as also did Mr. Cooper who sang "Glorious Beef." Miss Edith Hall recited and Mr. Herbert sang "Bridget Mulloy" in finished style. Mr. Fred Barnes delighted the gathering with several selections on the clarionet and afterwards dancing was indulged in. The health of the host and hostess was drunk and several speeches of a congratulatory nature were made. "Old England" was also toasted with enthusiasm. Among those who made speeches were Messrs. Madley, Giles and Hyrons.

It was six o'clock when the gathering broke up.

SALVATION ARMY WINS AGAINST THE DUFFIN FACTION

New York, Jan. 1.—The Salvation Army—the Gen. Booth organization—won a decisive victory in the Appellate Division to-day, when a new trial was ordered of its case against the James W. Duffin following, which used the name of the "American Salvation Army."

The action, which was begun in 1907, sought to restrain Duffin and his supporters representing that it is the plaintiff either for purposes of securing credit or subscription of money, donations of real or personal property for use by it in violation of the plaintiffs' rights."

Gen. William Booth and his son, Bramwell, came from England to testify in the suit. Justice O'Gorman dismissed the case and ordered them to pay $289 costs. From this decision they appealed.

PRACTICAL RELIGION

Rev. Canon Davidion Points Out What is Really Meant by the Term Special Sermons

Rev. Canon Davidson began yesterday, in St. John's a course of Sunday evening sermons on the general subject, "Some spheres and services of Practical Religion," which will deal with various sides of every-day life. Last night the subject was introduced by a consideration of what was really ment by the phrase "practical religion." Its three leading factors were indicated in the Sermon on the Mount to be personal contact with Christ, discipleship or the personal study of Christ's teachings and the application of these to daily life. In dealing with the first factor the chief object of church-going was pointed out to be a practical acknowledgement of Jesus Christ as God, while we gave respect to lofty and distinguished men we were impelled to give reverence and worship God if we really recognized Him as such. Church worship was not everything, of course, but it was one constituent part of practical religion. In speaking of the application of the principles of religion to daily life Canon Davidson said that this came more easily when a man caught a glimpse of how deeply interesting these principles were and how great advantages their application brought to every one who had the enterprise to steadily investigate and use their religious opportunities. After all, the art of true living was the greatest and most important art in the world, and this was only another term for practical religion, which was rightly drawing our own lives with the least possible friction and waste, and doing our duty to God and to man.

LICENSE IS CANCELLED

No Intoxicating Liquors Can be Sold at Cavanagh House—Third Conviction Did It

The liquor license of the Cavanagh House was cancelled by the License Commissioners on Saturday night, the order going into effect at seven o'clock. The action was brought about as a result of a third conviction inside of two years for a breach of the Liquor License Act. According to the provincial statute a third conviction makes a license null and void.

INDOOR CIRCUS A BIG SUCCESS

Large Audience Present at Each of the Two Performances at Y.M.C.A. Will be Repeated in March

Two large audiences greeted the two performances of the Indoor Circus at the Y.M.C.A., on Friday and Saturday evenings, put on by the physical director and the members of the classes, and the affair was in every way a decided success. From the start to the finish, the clever work of the performers was heartily applauded by the spectators and much credit is due the physical director, for the thorough manner in which every detail of the affair was carried out. The gymnasium, where the circus was held, was elaborately decorated, and the floor effectively fitted up to represent a ring. There were nearly fifty performers and each performance consisted of comedy acts, apparatus work, balancing and acrobatic feats. The Mack brothers, who proved to be no others than Mr. McLaughlin and Bruce Lees, and their work was a feature of the circus, which will be put on again, at the Grand Opera House the latter part of March.

Prince Rupert

One of the most comprehensive, unbiased articles on Prince Rupert by a writer on the spot, is an article by Mary Markwell, famous for her writings on Alpine climbing. She pictures and pains so that you see the thing through her description. To quote;—

"We landed at Prince Rupert at 6 o'clock a.m. and the unloading merchandise will go on until 2.00 p.m. The army of dockers were disemboweling the boat's hold as I walked over the gangway, and the draymen, numberless, were carrying stuff up the steep hill to the "town."

"I expected to find the morning showery, to see nothing but shacks and ankle deep in slush, for it had been snowing all night. But the reputation of Prince Rupert has been sadly maligned. Some of the private residences stand on fine stone foundations, that cost upwards of $5,000.00, and it surprised me to learn that building lumber was sold at Vancouver prices.

"Real estate is dancing jigs in and around Prince Rupert. One purchaser of two lots paid $115.00 apiece, and sold the same at $2,200 each. But this is fever heat prices and speculation only. Another man bought a double corner lot, paying $6,800.00, and resold within a few weeks for $15,000.00, and the first payment had only been made. One has to judge for one's self as to the common sense of buying at fever heat prices; but there's certainly limited acres to this hill-side town which has sprung into existence from a forest of firs.

"To the north of Prince Rupert lies the Queen Charlotte group of Islands with a fabulous wealth of farm lands, timber and rich placer mines. Coal in abundance in there inexhaustible, while the fisheries are already being developed by eager capitalists, largely Americans, I understand.

"North again big mining camps already in active operations; mills, concentrators, trams, with assay valuations beyond belief. It is a new empire, drained by the Skeena and the great Naas rivers, whose output in fish alone reaches the figure of 1,250,000 annually.

"I would hesitate," the writer adds, "to advise working men and women to invest in Prince Rupert real estate at the present hour, but the possibilities for wage-earners are large."

BULLETINS AT REVIEW

Returns Will Be Given Promply To-Night-Everybody Invited to Come

The results of the municipal election will be bulletined at the Review office to-night. As many as can be accommodated are invited to come inside. Those who cannot get in can see the outside bulletins that will be placed in the windows. They will be large and plain.

The polls close at seven o'clock and the results will start to come in about seven-thirty o'clock. The Review will endeavor to give the results promptly.

Art and Railway

One of the greatest living English painters has completed a series of friezes for the Grand Trunk Railway offices in London, England. Mr Frank Brangwyn, A.R.A., is perhaps the greatest figure-painter in the world, as well as one of the few great masters of colour. His commission from the Grand Trunk Railway system is one more evidence of the fact that genius is hand in hand with commerce in an industrial age

Of the work of Mr. Brangwyn, the Canadian Courier says;—"No bigger work has perhaps ever been done in England than Brangwyn's friezes for the new Grand Trunk office built by Sir Aston Webb, the most distinguished British architect. The frezes are superb historic groups representative of the conquest of Canada by commerce and the Railway. They will be seen by more people than as though they had been done for an art galllery, by perhaps as many people as have seen the frescoes of Raphael in the churches of Italy. A railway company which does things of such magnitude is doing a great work in the esthetic development of the people. Such work costs a great deal of money, but it is counted a good investment by a corporation which has to deal so intimately with the public as a great railway.

GIPSY HAWKINS OPENED EVANGELISTIC COMPAIGN

Special Two Weeks Course of Revival Addresses — From Gipsy Caravan to Widely Known Evangelist—Last Night's Discourse.

Like his brother in evangelism, Gipsy Smith, Gipsy Hawkins rose from a humble follower of a gipsy caravan to an evangelist of distinction. Gipsy Hawkins realizes the importance of his message over all other interests of mankind and his ardor and directness of address command the attention of the listener.

Yesterday morning at the Park St. Baptist church he opened his two weeks revival campaign there, and spoke in the afternoon at the Opera House in favor of the local option cause and continued the special services last night at Park Street. He will speak there every night for the next two weeks with the exception of next Saturday evening. To-night a song service will be held at 7.45 o'clock and the meeting proper will be held at 8 o'clock. On the other nights of the campaign prayer service will be held at 7.15, except Sunday night, when the hour for the prayer service will be 6.30.

It was announced last night at Park Street, that special arrangements had been made to get the results of the local option campaign this evening, and they will be announced to-night at the church.

An enthusiastic song service was held last night prior to the opening of the regular service, the Tory-Alexander revival hymns being used, and these rousing songs of praise will be employed throughout the campaign.

The unconventional methods of Gipsy Hawkins make him more interesting than if he adopted the orthodox form of conveying the gospel message. He does employ the accepted manner in the main, but every now and then explains passages in order that all their meaning may be grasped, and not infrequently lends color to some section of scripture or a hymn by telling how vivid their truth was when applied to incidents in the upbuilding of his own career in the service of the Master. Every night should see large attendances at these meetings, but on Friday a subject of special interest and incalculable importance will be dealt with when the evangelist will speak on "The Future Resurrection: What it Will be and How it Will Take Place."

This subject, like all others on the religion of Christ, has received special study by the speaker, ever since conversion.

"God saved me when a little boy twelve years of age," said Gipsy Hawkins last night, "and thank God for that."

He stated that he had sought deeply for the marvelous truths of the scripture and if he had read any other books besides the Bible, and he had read hundreds, it was because of their bearing on God's word.

THE SERMON.

In taking his text for last night's sermon the evangelist announced that it was an old and familiar one. It was from St. Luke 19:10 "For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

The preacher suggested that he might take it for granted that the congregation was not only familiar with the text, but with its surroundings also. He drew a picture of Christ preaching to the multitude, and of the inability of the little man Zacheus to see the Master on account of the multitude which surrounded our Lord. But Zacheus, who was a resourceful man, ran on ahead and got on the bough of a sycamore tree and watched the approach of the Master and the multitude. When the Lord drew near He told Zacheus He was going to stay at his house that day and admonished the householder to come down from the tree. The latter, in respect to the Saviour's wishes, made haste, came down and received the Saviour joyfully. On the first Sunday of the glad New Year, the preacher would have every one to whom he spoke follow the example of Zacheus to come down, make haste and receive Jesus.

If we were to receive Him at all it was imperative that we should make haste. In the second place Zacheus came down, and we all had to come down before God could save us. It mattered little on what bough we sat before coming down. We might be sitting on the bow of skepticism, of rationalism, of ceremonialism or of shame through strong drink and sin. In the third place Zacheus received Jesus as a living person. He didn't receive theology or a church. These, in their place, were very important, but we might have them and yet not receive Jesus. To receive Him we had to accept a personal Saviour.

Zacheus received the Saviour joyfully. "Did you ever see anyone who received Jesus who didn't receive Him joyfully?" The speaker wanted to know if any of the congregation had ever seen anyone who received Jesus sadly. He never had in the whole of his experience.

There was a time when Gipsy Hawkins thought the religion of Jesus was a thing of long sermons, long prayers and long faces. But he realized now it was, on the contrary, a thing of great joy. There was no such joy in the world as the joy of the redeemed soul when the crushing burden of its sins rolled away.

If there was one word in the English language that grated on the speaker's ears it was the word "lost." His listeners might never have been lost and could not comprehend the meaning of the word, but he did. He knew it from bitter personal experience, and "lost" applied to every soul outside of Christ's kingdom.

There were many in this world wide awake in the world's business and the commercial activities of every day life, but when it came to the affairs of the soul's salvation and everlasting life and eternity, they were fast asleep.

THE CONCLUDING ADDRESSES GIVEN

Were Given in the City by Prominent Speakers Yesterday

The final note of the local option campaign, in the matter of discourses in its favor, was sounded in the city yesterday. Addresses were delivered were delivered on the local option question by Gypsy Hawkins, the evangelist; Mr. George W. Morrow, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League; Mr. James Simpson, Toronto, President of the Trades and Labor Council, and Mr. T. C. James, editor of the Bowmanville Statesman.

DO YOU THINK IT WILL CARRY ?

"Do you think it will carry?"

"I think it will."

"I'm not so sure about that."

"I think it will be a good thing for the town."

"I don't. You take the other places where it has been tried."

"Well, its been successful there."

"I can't agree with you, for I heard a prominent man say it wasn't a good thing in———"

"Well, now, on the other hand," and so on for about six hours.

SUGGESTIONS AS TO COUNTING OF THE BALLOTS

It is understood that no instructions have been given regarding the order in which ballots should be counted at the polls to-night. In this connection it has been suggested to the Review that the Mayoralty ballots should be counted first, then the local option, Aldermen, Board of Education and the other by-laws in this order.

Yesterday's municipal elections will go down in the history of Peterborough as the most warmly contested in the last twenty-five years. Old timers say they do not remember a time when the interest was as keen and there have been many hard fought elections in this city. The polls were open two hours longer than in former years and the remark was frequently heard that it was a good thing the time had been extended. The vote was so large that it is doubtful if everybody would have had an opportunity to vote if the polls had been closed at five o'clock.

The weather on the whole was favorable for getting out the vote. A blustery snow storm raged between five and seven o'clock but it did not daunt the workers and they kept rushing voters to the polls right up to the closing hour. A feature of the election was the large number of ladies who marked the ballots. The large turnout of the "suffragettes" was due to the local option contest. The majority of the ladies voted in favor of the measure.

The total vote polled was in the vicinity of 3,500 which establishes a record in the history of the city. About seven hundred more votes were registered than in the election in 1908 when Mr. Rush defeated Mr. McWilliams for the mayoralty. The vote at that time was considered unusually large.

There were a good many surprises when the returns came in and there were several cases of the expected not happening. Was there ever a municipal election when something of this kind did not happen?

ON LOCAL OPTION

Fight Was a Close and Issue Was in Doubt Till Near The End

The fate of the local option by-law hung in the balance till the last two polls were heard from. No. 7 (Matthews' store) was the last to come in and gave a majority of a hundred for the by-law. The second last to be heard from was No. 14 (Swanston's, Ashburnham) and there the majority for local option was thirty-five.

When the returns started to come in about eight o'clock it looked as if the by-law was going to carry. The outlook was bright for the local optionists till the returns came in from polling sub-division No. 5 (Jay's). The vote there was 79 for local option and 140 against. The only other poll that gave a majority against the by-law was No. 13 (Ashburnham Town Hall) where the poll stood 94 for and 104 against.

The total vote polled was 3,507 as the figures in the tabulated statement published to-day will show. The majority for local option on a straight vote was slightly over 500. The by-law failed to carry on the three-fifths vote by about ninety-five. If forty-seven votes had been turned from the "anti" to the local option side the by-law would have carried.

It was a hard fight all day on the local option issue. They did not spare themselves and the horses were not spared either. There was a great crush at the polls between six and seven o'clock, many of the working men not voting till their day's work was done.

The local option committee had their headquarters at the Y.M.C.A. and the "antis" directed their campaign from the rooms in the building next the post office on Hunter street. A large number of men came in from the country to assist in taking voters to the polls. They worked hard all day.

Refreshments were served to the local option workers in several of the churches, the ladies of the congregations looking after this department.

RETURN TO THE WARD SYSTEM

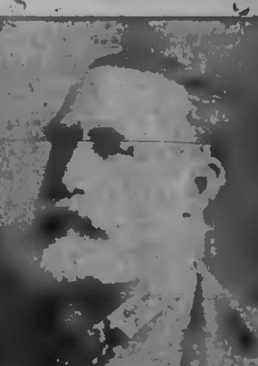
By-Law Carried—$19,000 Too Much For Hospital—Light & Power By-Law Carried.

The Light and Power By-law carried by a substantial majority, about 550, but the Isolation Hospital By-law fell by the wayside.

The by-law to return to the ward system of electing aldermen found favor and carried by a substantial majority over 550.

The general opinion of the ratepayers is that $19,000 is too much money to spend for an isolation hospital. This is the sum provided for in the by-law that was defeated.

COL. J. W. MILLER
New Member of the Board of Education.



MR. D. W. DUMBLE
Who Was Defeated in Board of Education Fight.

MR. MORROW HAD LARGE MAJORITY

No Doubt as to the Result From Time Returns Started to Come in

The result of the mayoralty contest was awaited with great interest throughout the city. Mr. Morrow had a majority at nearly every poll, and it was apparent from the first that he was going to be mayor for 1910. His majority was over 750, his total vote being approximately 2,150, while Mr. Mason's was about 1,395.

Mr. Morrow had a splendid organization and had the advantage of being in the field earlier than his opponent. Both candidates conducted their campaign in a praiseworthy manner, and both are as good friends now as when the contest started. Mr. Mason was among the first to congratulate the victor.

ALD. G. H. DUNCAN HEADED THE POLL

Led the Aldermanic Field With Ald. J. J. Turner Second—Three Left Behind

The Aldermanic contest furnished some surprises. Few expected Mr. Duncan to head the poll, although it was generally predicted that he would be elected. Mr. McIntyre was the only member of the council of 1909 to go down to defeat, and Mr. J. G. Graham is the new man to take a seat at the board. Mr. Laster made a much better run than many expected, although he did come at the foot of the list. Ex-Alderman W. J. Johnston was second from the end.

It was a small field, only three having the privilege to stay out in the cold.

Mr. Duncan, who led the poll, had nearly 1,900 votes, and Mr. Laster, who was at the bottom, had a few more than 800.

"PLUMPERS"

In one polling booth yesterday there were over forty ballots marked for Laster and Turner only. Amongst other humors of the campaign were rumors of deadly doings on both sides and amongst various factions.

HOW MINISTERS VIEW THE DEFEAT OF LOCAL OPTION

Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of George street Methodist church, said:—

"No citizen of Peterborough can say that local option was defeated yesterday. Everybody knows that 510 majority spells victory. It was a famous victory in spite of many great difficulties, and I believe our worst foes were those of our own household. I wish we could have made it harder for the boys and young men of Peterborough to go wrong the next three years and I am proud to think that the church I represent can look upon the ravages of the liquor traffic for the next three years and feel that it has done all it could to prevent them. The sweeping victory throughout the province, especially in Brantford and Peterborough, means that the day for the abolition of the bar in Ontario is at hand. The members of the Provincial Legislature will now do the hardest thinking they have yet done on both sides. Again let me say it was a famous victory."

In answer to a question of a correspondent of the Review, a legal authority, says that a reduction of licenses in any municipality may be brought about by a by-law passed by a municipal council before the first day of March in any year, to come into operation on May 1st. The basis of reduction is to be the population as returned by the assessors on the last return of their roll.

Rev. Mr. Keith said that the citizens of Peterborough did good work yesterday and are deserving of credit. The result is full of bright promise for the city. Local option apparently fell a victim to a few petty side issues that aided the strenuous opposition. Even as it is, no press, no opposition, and no authority dare consider lightly the overwhelming majority in its favor. It is a victory that should be recognized everywhere.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford thought the vote in favor of local option was a most creditable one.

The result of yesterday's vote is in no sense a defeat. Peterborough is the largest place that has pronounced upon the question, and we send up a majority of five hundred and ten votes against the bar room. The handicap is too great. The Ontario Government will be forced before long to revise their conclusions in this regard. The map is getting too white to be disregarded any longer.

Again—if forty-seven who voted against this measure in our city had voted for it, the three-fifths would have been secured. The responsibility for the bar during the next three years rests upon the leaders in the Christian Church, who made no attemp to aid in securing this forty-seven. No amount of professed penitence can undo what has been done during the past ten days in our city. Let no Macbeth rise to say: "Thou can'st not say I did it, Shake not thy gory locks at me."

Peterborough will not wait three years, or even two, for such a radical change as will awaken some people. As it was, the technical defeat is largely due, despite the injustice of the three-fifths clause to the help given by those who were supposed to aid in the carrying out of such measures, but who, as a matter of fact, proved the best friends of its opponents.

Rev. Mr. Pogue says: "The result of yesterday's vote was a great triumph for the forces of righteousness in our city. I regard the verdict as splendid. That a majority of 510 of the best citizens of Peterborough should declare by their vote that the bar-room must go is cause for deep gratitude on the part of every lover of "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report." The bar-room is the enemy of all these, and the people of our city said so yesterday with an emphasis that no one can mistake. In no sense must the friends of temperance regard the vote as a defeat. The traffic is doomed. The death sentence has only been postponed for three years longer. The Son of God was manifested that He might destroy the works of the devil. If He had only had an army yesterday that was prepared to do his bidding the rout of the liquor traffic would have been complete. But we must always count on some in the supreme moment of testing to prove Him false. I suppose there were Christian men on the side of our opponents yesterday, but I have no hesitation in saying that when they cast their vote for the liquor traffic they did an unchristian act. I can have nothing but contempt for Christian men who, when a great moral issue is before the peolpe, are found fraternising with the enemies of righteousness and casting their vote for a traffic that is always and only evil.

Our failure to carry a three-fifths majority has only led us to buckle on our armour all the more firmly for the fight during the coming days. One of the first things which we intend to do is to have removed from our statute books the iniquitous law which demands a threefifths majority on such a measure as the liquor traffic. Surely if discrimination is to be made anywhere it ought to be against a traffic whose influence is so hurtful as the liquor traffic; and before any body of men is granted the privilege of making money at the expense of ruined lives and ruined homes, it ought only to be on at least a three-fifths or four-fifths vote of the population. That would be nearer to justice than the present law."

The Rev. J. G. Potter, President of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, takes a most hopeful view of the situation in the Province, and sees Provincial Prohibition in sight at the next election, and pledges his support and strength to bring it to pass. Mr. Potter says:—We have everything to be proud of in the magnificent majority scored at the polls. The decision of the electorate of Peterborough is that the bar must go. In ever polling subdivision outside of Nos. 5, 6 and 13, in which are situated all the hotels, the wholesale liquor house of Alex. Elliott and the Calcutt Brewery, the majorities were such as to ensure the carrying of the by-law.

Two thousand and four, representing over half of the population of the city, have determined to relieve their consciences of any connection with a business that blights their fellow citizens.

Fourteen hundred and ninety-six voters have assumed the responsibility for the continuance and support of the saloon, and will no doubt supply the material.

The campaign on behalf of local option has been conducted along educational lines, and all through the year strong appeals have been made to the conscience and heart of our people for a better citizenship, and a progressive civic life. While for the present we suffer the indignity in a British province of the 1,496 supporters of the liquor traffic being equal to 2,004 supporters of a city without the bar, we know that a great work has been accomplished, and that the result will be altogether for the triumph of prohibition in the Province of Ontario. No self-respecting constituency can afford to tolerate the three-fifths requirement any longer. The whole thing is iniquitous and unjust, and the Provincial Government must at once remove this barrier to an honest vote, or the moral forces of the province will unite in some measure of relief from another quarter.

Among the many influences that kept the vote from being larger were:

1. The lethargy of some of the clergy of the city.
2. The influence that came from the interest that was held in hotels here and elsewhere by prominent ecclesiastics.
3. The strong influence upon the minds of the ignorant and penurious by the letter from ex-Mayor Rush, whose writing was so unjust, unfair and personally ungracious when demitting an office in which he had been supported for two years.
4. By a very erroneous impression circulated last Thursday that the Temperance League had some intention of voting against Ald. Duffus, on the ground of his connection with his mother church.
5. By the successful attempt on the part of the liquor men to get in votes of persons not resident in the city.
6. By the attempt at at least one polling booth to question the women how they were going to vote on this matter "wet or dry."
7. By the rejection of a large number of ballots.
8. By the misrepresentation of conditions in other local option centres, which were altogether false, and yet tended to alarm the weak-kneed and the feeble-kneed.

However, we are glad that no bitterness or discord has been engendered throughout the year. Differences of opinion have been freely expressed. So far as the temperance people of this

WHEREVER ONE GOES

Wherever one goes there is a feeling that the expected is in this case, in a fair way of happening. It is useless to attempt to conceal the fact any longer that French Canada will make a desperate effort to checkmate all attempts at uniting the empire for purposes of defence, or for any other purposes. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as Prime Minister of Canada, was asked, so the despatches say, and the statement has not been denied, to accompany the Prince of Wales to South Africa, whither he goes to open the first Parliament of the African federation in June. It is now said that Sir Wilfrid has declined the invitation. The reason given is that he is too busy. Of course such a reason as that is absurd. There is no session on in mid-summer. The real fact is, of course, that it might look as if he were on an imperial visit to South Africa, and that is the last sort of a visit he intends to affront French Canada with.

This fact, taken in conjunction with the government's proposed naval policy, and with the now wholly undisguised hostility of French-Canadians to any unity of empire, shows how completely at the mercy of the French Canada is at the present time. The development of British North America as a French country is proceeding apace. All things have of late years contributed to that end. With the English-speaking portion of Canada who do not object to this outcome, so long as it and its party retains power at Ottawa, the number supporting the Laurier policy is possibly in the majority in Canada. The Irish, however, are not desirous of playing into the hands of the French, and thus may, to a certain extent, tend to check the new and dangerous movement. It is high time for Ontario people to look into this whole business. The refusal of Sir Wilfrid to accede to Great Britain's request for a united defence as the only possible system for a "united" empire, has unlocked the secret that has so long remained, at least partially, concealed.

Wherever one goes the present crisis is the one topic of conversation. It overshadows all others.

HIS WINDING-SHEET

To say that Canada's fleet shall go to war only when Canada says so shows that Canada (so far from uniting in a previous understanding, is not even in the position of a friend and ally (in whose case there is at least a tacit agreement. The proposed Canadian naval policy is an insult to the Mother Country and a piratical misappropriation of Canadian funds and Canadian feelings. What we suspected in the old days of reciprocity has now come to pass. His naval policy will yet be Sir Wilfrid Laurier's winding-sheet.

Before boarding the Lusitania for Liverpool the Chinese Ambassador uttered these farewell truths:

"You Americans eat too much. You rush too hard, you work too hard, you play too hard, you are too much concerned with the almighty dollar, you are wearing yourselves out. Learn to live slower, and I will see you alive when I return in fifty years. Pure air, pure food, pure thought, is what your country needs. Good-bye, good-bye. I'll come back and reform you in fifty years."

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 30.—The Hindoo menace in British Columbia grows doubly serious by the disclosure of the result of a meeting of the Sikhs at their temple this morning. In a casual way one of the members of the sect mentioned a fact to a reporter which will startle the British foreign office as well as that of the United States. It is that the Hindoos have made arrangements to bring their women folk to this continent, no matter what the Indian and British authorities say.

They have taken high legal advice on the subject and have decided that they cannot be stopped. Tetja Singh, who was one of the leaders of the Indians at the time of the last trouble, is now in London, and it is reported that a cable was received from him to the effect that he had been instrumental in discovering that the bringing in of women was legitimate and that action would be taken. A priest is said to have left the steamer Monteagle to gather up the wives of the men now here, and to choose women for those who desire them.

This morning every sawmill that employs Hindoos was practically idle and there must have been 800 turbaned followers of Guru Nanak at the meeting.

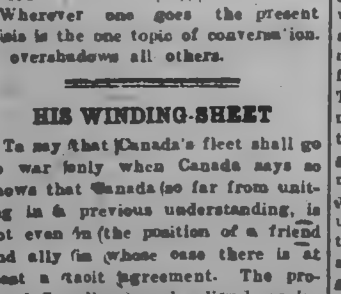
The press of the United States is a unit in expressing regret at the recall of Mr. Wu Ting Fang, Chinese Ambassador. His peculiarity with all classes has become proverbial. He has the credit of carrying the arts of diplomacy to a perfection unknown in the west. His admirers say his diplomacy is the quintessence of far-away Orientalism, which bewilders, delights and captures by some mystical quality of personality, unfailing good humor, infinite tact, scintillating wit, and profundity of wisdom beyond anything the astute American mind can hope to acquire. He is described as a Diogenes and a Socrates rolled into one. With an air that is childlike and bland, he asks more questions in ten minutes than the diplomatic corps, the civil service, college professors, railway magnates and special correspondents could answer in a year. But what wins for him the love and admiration of even the most prejudiced, is his imperturbable kindly good humor. Everybody keeps on wondering what he is driving at, while all the while he inquires about every subject with a shrewd and incisive directness. Journalists accustomed to pumping statesmen and getting at the heart of every mystery can make nothing of Mr. Wu, though he is always ready and apparently pleased to be interviewed. What he really thinks of the reporters he showed in most gentlemanly and cutting fashion when his enjoyment of a very private and formal dinner was invaded by mauraders, who there throttled him for his opinion of the war of the Tongs. "These things," he said, "make me ashamed of my people. The questions you gentlemen ask me make me glad I am going home." Still, the newspapers never tire of writing pleasantly about him and have voted unanimously that he is worthy of all the peacock feathers, yellow jackets and cap buttons in the power of a government to bestow. After all, may not the secret of the mystery of him be a perfectly sincere simplicity, joined to a desire to learn. Men of that sort are always great and incomprehensible to clever people.—(Lit. Digest.)



STEWART'S OTONABEE

(Special to Review.

Stewart, Otonabee, Jan. 1.—Mr. Herbert Cardwell returned from Syracuse on Thursday, where he visited his sister, Mrs. Cowden.

Mr. Frank Savigny has purchased a fine colt from E. Barnard.

Miss Maysie Armstrong, of Peterborough, was the guest of Miss Maud Stewart last week.

Mr. Rolland Deyell spent Sunday the guest of his aunt, Mrs. John Savigny.

A number from our neighborhood attended the New Year's tea at Fraserville.

Miss Elsie Deyell was the guest of her cousin, Miss Luella Deyell on Sunday last.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Two murderers were electrocuted at Sing Sing prison, New York, yesterday.

Harry Bissell, said to be of Toronto, is under arrest in Chicago for an alleged hold-up.

The Hotel Fitchfield, at Pt Ontario, one of the finest hotels in the west, has been destroyed by fire.

Eddie Cass of Guelph, while out hunting, fell in the snow and his shotgun discharged into his body. He may live.

Volunteer workers in Montreal have fitted up a vacant building offered by the Bell Telephone Co., as a temporary hospital for typhoid fever patients.

The Greek Minister of the Interior has resigned. The military league has demanded the abolition of all Greek legations abroad except that at Constantinople.

The Archbishop of Mechlin has issued a charge, inviting prayers for the late King Leopold, who, says the archbishop, "by his religious marriage and eminently Christian death, merits the prayers of all good Belgians and Catholics."

Serious news from Barcelona has caused Gen. Weyler, captain-general of Catalonia, to leave immediately for his post. The anarchists threaten a general strike unless amnesty is granted those who took part in the recent disorders.

At Detroit, Wm. Keller was shot dead in a struggle with an unknown assailant, who, with a companion, had followed Keller's wife and her sister-in-law home from a theatre. Keller and his brother ran from the house and engaged the men.

This year's Arctic cruise by Capt. Bernier will start from Quebec probably in July. It is intended to take along a larger number of scientific men than on previous trips, and the ship may go through the northwest passage to the Pacific. Bernier may even head for the Pole.

Peanut Shells In Breakfast Food?

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The Chicago Federation of Labor has adopted resolutions calling upon the National Pure Food Commission to investigate if peanut shells constitute the basic element in the manufacture of breakfast foods.

"In a recent freight train wreck, it was discovered that several cars consigned to breakfast food concerns were loaded with peanut shells from the peanut butter factories in the south," said President John Fitzpatrick.

Manitoba Elections This Year.

Winnipeg, Jan. 4.—The next provincial elections will be in Manitoba. Both sides are already busy organizing, and many candidates are in the field. The general expectation is that the elections will come some time in the spring, or in the early summer. The Legislature will not meet until the middle of February.

The last elections were held March 7, 1907. The Liberals are in good shape for a contest.

Policeman's Cold Swim.

New York, Jan. 4.—James J. Scanlan, one of the several champion athletes on the New York police force, swam half way across the Hudson River yesterday and back again, his only difficulty being in dodging large cakes of ice.

Scanlan had a wager with another policeman for a swim across the river, but his challenger failed to appear.

Very Cold In West.

Winnipeg, Jan. 4.—A bitter cold wave closed down over Manitoba and Saskatchewan Sunday, being severest in the north, 44 degrees below zero being recorded at Prince Albert.

Further west in the ranching country it was milder.

Twenty-eight below was Sunday night's record here and probs are for more of it.

A Serious Charge.

Kingston, Jan. 4.—Alexander Ayers, aged 22, is under arrest on a charge of drunkenness, but a more serious charge is to be pressed by Pearl Lapointe, who claims Ayers took her out for a drive, made improper proposals to her, and when she objected beat her. A young man driving past came to her rescue.

New Food Standards.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—It is probable that the new food standards which are in contemplation, will not come into effect until June 1. Meanwhile the different trades will be consulted. The commission consists of A. McGill, chief Dominion analyst; Prof. Ellis of Toronto, and Dr. Donald of Montreal.

Gave $1,600.

Kingston, Jan. 4.—One who does not desire that his name shall be known, has given through Donald M. McIntyre, the sum of $1,600 for the Sir Oliver Mowat Memorial Hospital, a home for consumptives to be erected in this city. The gift raises the subscriptions to over $15,000.

Ended Their Own Lives.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Dr. W. A. Monish, aged 48, committed suicide with chloroform Sunday night. Some months ago his wife ended her life at Atlanta, Ga., where she had been convicted of sending obscene matter through the mails in connection with her private hospital.

From Palace to Poorhouse.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 4.—From a palace where she presided as first lady of the land, to an almshouse refuge—such is the fate which has overtaken Senora Alagera Barrios, wife of a former President of Guatemala.

Bernier's Arctic Coal.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—Several tests have been made by the Government of the coal samples brought back from the north by Capt. Bernier. They have been found to be of good quality.

Col. Campbell New.

London, Jan. 4.—Maj. Campbell has been promoted to the colonelcy of the Seventh Regiment, to succeed Col. Frank Reid, who resigned some time ago.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Easy—United States Markets Generally Firmer.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Liverpool and London cables quote live cattle lower at 11½c to 12¾c, dressed weight; refrigerator beef demoralised and selling at 9¼c to 9⅝c per pound.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 32 carloads, consisting of 640 cattle, 9 hogs, 214 sheep and lambs and 5 calves.

Exporters.

There were about ten carloads of exporters, which were held for Tuesday's market. Export bulls sold at from $4.75 to $5 per cwt., Dunn & Levack having sold one choice quality bull at the latter figure.

Butchers.

Prime quality butchers' cattle sold at $5.75 per cwt.; good loads at $5.25 to $5.50; medium, $4.80 to $5.15; common, $4.25 to $4.75; cows, $3 to $4.50.

Veal Calves.

Prices for veal calves were firm, at $3 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $4.75; culls and rams at $3 to $3.50; lambs at $6.25 to $6.90 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market receipts of live stock last week were 2401 cattle, 450 sheep and lambs, 1650 hogs and 250 calves, while offerings this morning were 1350 cattle, 325 sheep and lambs, 1300 hogs and 150 calves. The undertone for cattle was somewhat easier, with increased supply. The quality was above the average, especially from Ontario points. On the whole a fairly active trade was done, and sales of choice steers were made at 5¾c; good at 5¼c to 5½c; fair at 4¾c to 5c; medium at 4c to 4½c; common at 3½c to 3¾c, and inferior at 2¾c to 3¼c per lb. A firm feeling prevails for sheep and lambs on account of continued limited supply. Sheep sold at 4¼c to 4½c; and lambs at 6¾c to 7c per lb. The offerings of calves were small, with prices at 4c to 6c per lb.

Hog receipts were much larger to-day, and sales of selected lots from west of Toronto were made at $9, and from east of Toronto at $8.85, weighed off cars.

At the Canadian Pacific live stock market receipts for last week were 1300 cattle, 356 sheep and lambs, 1434 hogs and 471 calves. The supply this morning consisted of 400 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 654 hogs and 25 calves.

Czar Risks Pneumonia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—In a rain and snowstorm yesterday Emperor Nicholas followed on foot the body of his grand uncle, Grand Duke Michael Nicholaivith, as it was borne three miles from the railway station to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. The route of march was lined by a wall of troops. The Czar was drenched to the skin.

RESULTS OF MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN ONTARIO

Hydro-Electric Policy of the Whitney Government is Issue in Brampton and Dundas and is Supported by Electors.

Toronto, Jan. 4.—Voting on sundry bylaws for municipal improvements was a feature of yesterday's municipal elections throughout the province.

The Government's hydro-electric power policy was concerned in three places. Brampton carried bylaws to enter into an agreement for hydro-electric power, but at Ingersoll the $30,000 bylaw for the establishment of an independent plant for the distribution of Niagara power was defeated. The vote was For 274, against 297.

At Dundas the hydro-power bylaw was carried by 310 majority, and a public library bylaw carried by 179 majority.

At Belleville a bylaw to grant the Trenton Electric & Water Power Co. a five-year franchise was carried by 186, and a bylaw to provide a board of commissioners for the perpetual maintenance of the Corby Public Library carried by 264.

St. Catharines refused to vote $15,000 toward a new hospital.

Fergus and Teeswater will have public libraries.

Kingston carried bylaws to purchase a fire engine and extend streets.

At Ottawa, four bylaws carried. One is to create a publicity department, another to provide a garbage incinerator; a third to improve the city hall, and a fourth to give the Metropolitan Power Co. the right to sell power in the city. This is the old company whose franchise is being renewed for sale of power only.

At Owen Sound the public library bylaw to build a new library, a bylaw to build a new wing to the general hospital and the bylaw to put the parks under commissioners, were carried, while the bylaw to spend $700 on the old town hall was defeated.

At Peterboro a bylaw to grant a franchise to the Peterboro Light & Power Co., carried.

Hamilton.

Hamilton, Jan. 4.—The results of the municipal elections yesterday place two hydro men out of four on the board of control, and eight straight hydro aldermen out of 21. Politically the council is divided into 15 Conservatives and 11 Liberals. Had it not been for the license reduction agitation and the great number of hydro candidates, amongst whom the vote was split up, the hydro would have made a clean sweep. This is the order in which the board of control candidates ran: Bailey 4,238, Cooper 4,148, Gardner 3,956, Allan 3,624.

The following is the result of the aldermanic contests:

Ward 1—Ald. Milne 683, Ald. Morris 656, W. J. Brigger 596.

Ward 2—Ald. Crerar 753, Ald. Farmer 565, ex-Ald. Wallace 516.

Ward 4—Ald. Clark 875, Ald. Ellis 822, D. Evans 732.

Ward 5—Ex-Ald. Birrell 747, George Hill 709, Rodgers 602.

Ward 6—Ald. Ryan 856, Howard 723, Kingdon 702.

Ward 7—Ald. Robson 1,491, Anderson 1,434, Plunkett 1,093.

Kingston.

Kingston, Jan. 4.—As Mayor Daniel Cooper was re-elected by acclamation, and there being contests in only five wards, the other two being by acclamation, the election passed off very quietly. In Sydenham ward, Ald. Dr. Hanley defeated D. Richardson; Ontario ward, T. W. Harrison defeated W. J. Fair; St. Lawrence ward, Ald. D. A. Givens defeated Oliver Chown; Rideau ward, R. G. Armstrong defeated George Smith; Victoria ward, S. P. Bailey defeated J. W. Litton. The Social and Reform League, recently organized, had three candidates, Chown, Litton and Armstrong, and Armstrong was elected. The league is fighting for a reduction of licenses, but last year's council turned down the request for a referendum. Aldermen elected by acclamation are Ald. F. J. Hoag, Frontenac ward, and Dr. McCarthy, Cataraqui ward.

St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, Jan. 4.—Five new faces will be seen in next year's city council, namely J. D. Chaplin, St. Andrew's ward; W. A. Sherwood, St. George's; Robert Black, George E. Jones and James A. Wiley, St. Patricks. Aldermen James Maitland McBride and James T. Petrie retired to contest the mayoralty, the former being elected by 24 votes. Others elected are: Water commissioners, C. G. McGhie, H. K. Woodruff, Jas. Prior, George Peterson, C. B. Hare, E. Gardiner, public school trustees: St. Andrew's ward, Freeman Moyer, St. George's, George Gordon; St. Patrick's, A. H. Trapnell.

Alderman, J. N. Chaplin, W. H. Merritt, T. Nihan, Dr. Jory, E. Davis, W. A. Sherwood, R. J. Black, G. Jones, W. Jones, J. A. Wiley.

Woodstock.

Woodstock, Jan. 4.—There was a contest between Ald. Clifford Kemp and ex-Mayor James S. Scarff for the mayoralty, without a local issue, and Scarff was elected by 54. The following were elected aldermen: John G. McBeith 848, Dr. Walford 803, Dr. Reville 718, W. D. Hodson 708, T. Broome 838, C. E. Rapson 572, M. Davies 565, S. M. Dunlop 554.

Brockville.

Brockville, Jan. 4.—A citizens ticket had opposition for mayor and councillors in every ward and the result was almost a complete sweep of the independents, who captured only the west ward. Ald. A. M. Patterson defeated W. H. Mowat for mayor by 84 majority. Councillors elected are: C. E. Johnston, C. C. McClean, G. G. Grothier, W. H. Osborne, J. A. MacKenzie, A. T. Wilgress, Dr. Gowan, W. C. MacLaren.

Chatham.

Chatham, Jan. 4.—Mayor, Charles Austin; aldermen, William nAderson, F. E. Baxter, W. H. Carswellm' A. J. Dunn, J. McCorvie, T. L. McRitchie, M. D. Potter, James Pritchard, R. J. Winter. Water commissioner, W. H. Westman.

St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, Jan. 4.—Mayor, Fred. Guest, M.D.; aldermen, R. N. Price, M. B. Johnson, John R. Martin, Wm. Trott, E. C. Sanders, J. Meehan, R. McCully, F. Brinkman, S. Chant, W. Sanderson, W. McDonald.

Berlin.

Berlin, Ont., Jan. 4.—Only a third of the vote was polled, owing to the mayoralty and three reeveships going by acclamation. The aldermanic contest resulted in these being elected: F. G. Gardiner, E. W. Clement, W. D. Euler, W. V. Uttley, J. H. Schnarr, W. R. Wilkinson, G. Rohleder, Jos. Winterhalt, F. Bornhold. Sewer commission, E. Kraft and M. Dunham.

A plebiscite on whether Berlin's street railway system should be managed by commission or a committee of the council resulted in an overwhelming majority in favor of the former.

Stratford.

Stratford, Jan. 4.—Mayor, W. S. Dingman, acclamation; aldermen, C. N. Greenwood, J. H. Roberts, Ben Williams, R. S. Frame, F. J. Corrie, James Trow, John Stevens, Charles Carter, A. Knechtel, John Keyes.

Guelph.

Guelph, Jan. 4.—Elections at Guelph yesterday are as follows: Mayor, Geo. Hastings, acclamation; chairman light and heat, S. Carter, acclamation; water commissioner, R. L. Torrance, acclamation. All the school trustees were elected by acclamation. For aldermen: D. E. Rudd, G. J. Thorp, J. E. Carter, H. Mahoney, W. E. Taylor, P. J. Pequegnat, C. W. Kelly, R. McMillan, S. Rundle, M. Cheever, S. Penfold.

Belleville.

Belleville, Jan. 4.—The only contest for aldermen and school trustees was in Murney ward, John Canning, A. G. Vermilyea, William Woodly and Joshua Lang for aldermen, three to be elected, and Lang was defeated. For school trustee, J. L. Tickell beat A. L. Green by 33 votes.

Windsor.

Windsor, Jan. 4.—J. W. Hanna, lawyer, was elected by about 200 majority. Banwell headed the polls for aldermanic honors. The aldermen are: J. W. Banwell, D. H. Bedford, N. J. Clinton, A. H. Dalziel, T. J. Elnsor, F. L. Howell, P. M. Keogh, H. J. McKay, J. H. Sheppard, H. Trumble, J. J. Jones, Thomas Porter, John Martin. Water commissioner, J. F. Smyth.

Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—A feature of the municipal elections here yesterday was the disqualification of hundreds of politicians and civil servants who have refused to pay their income taxes pending the completion of the arrangement between the Government and the city whereby civil servants will be immune from income tax on payment by the Government to the city of a lump sum.

No less persons than Hon. Wm. Pugsley and Hon. L. P. Brodeur were denied the privilege of voting in Victoria ward in which the Parliament buildings are situated. They had not paid their income taxes, and the officials at the polling booth refused to recognize them as voters. Mr. Brodeur had a property vote in another ward, but Mr. Pugsley lives in apartments.

Mayor Charles Hopewell was re-elected by acclamation. Four controllers were elected as follows: Controller Hastey, 4,861; Ald. Hinchey, 4,472; Controller Davidson, 4,184; Controller Champagne, 3,824. Unsuccessful candidates were: McGrath, 3,507; Little, 3,097; Parent, 2,337; Kilt, 981; Roberts, 635.

The aldermen are: Julien, Pinard, Cunningham, Caron, Forward, Boisevert, Carnochan, Nelson, Bower, Campbell, McDonald, Slinn, Stanley, Brown, Boucher, Black, Desjardins Bexter.

Twelve Drown In Collision.

London, Jan. 4.—The British steamers Ayershire for Durban and the Arcadian, for Glasgow, collided in a fog Sunday morning in the Irish channel. The Arcadian sank in five minutes. All her crew scrambled aboard the Ayershire, but twelve Lascars returned to get their money and were drowned. The Ayershire had 200 passengers aboard. She was badly damaged.

Younger Captains For Big Liners.

New York, Jan. 4.—The racking anxiety of speeding its big express steamers across the Atlantic will be met by the Cunard line in future upon men younger in the service. The older men will be given the slower ships, and their pay will be increased.

Famous Solicitor Retires.

London, Jan. 4.—Sir George Henry Lewis, the most famous solicitor of the present generation, who has been engaged in all the greatest legal cases in the past half century, has retired from practice with the new year.

A Cold Fire.

Prince Albert, Sask., Jan. 4.—When the thermometer was 52 below zero at three o'clock yesterday morning, Immigration Agent Robert Stanley and family were forced from their home by fire. Loss, $1,000.

U.S. Negro Population.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Predicting that the coming count will show approximately 10,000,000 negroes in the United States, Census Director Durand yesterday issued general instructions to supervisors.

RESULTS IN THE PROVINCE FAVOR TEMPERANCE CAUSE

Collingwood and Galt Go Prohibition After Hard Fight and Brantford Defeats It in an Exciting Contest—Over Sixty Municipalities Vote to Abolish the Bars.

Toronto, Jan. 4.—Local option made serious inroads on the liquor traffic throughout Ontario yesterday, as the accompanying schedule will show. At the same time the handicap of the required 60 per cent. majority to carry the bylaw was responsible for a number of places continuing "wet."

"The result of the local option campaign has been terribly disappointing," said Ben. H. Spense, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, yesterday evening, when speaking regarding the result of the contest.

Brantford, Peterboro, Cobourg and Port Hope defeated bylaws, while Galt and Strathroy are among the large places that have carried it. Kenora declared overwhelmingly in favor of licenses.

A large number of returns are still to come in, the storm of last night preventing many returns from being received.

Temperance sentiment showed headway in other directions yesterday.

St. Catharines carried a license reduction bylaw. Hastings council adds three temperance sympathizers, and may lead to a license reduction vote.

At Brockville the ratepayers adopted the bylaw to reduce the number of tavern licenses from nine to six by 340 majority, and also carried the bylaw to increase the tavern fees by 230.

At Brantford the vote was: For 2,709, against 1,900.

Three years ago the local option bylaw in Mono township was quashed by the courts, but yesterday it was carried again by a good majority. With the carrying of local option in Shelburne, Mono and Orangeville the whole county of Dufferin will be dry with the exception of the village of Grand Valley, twelve miles west of Orangeville, where it was repealed a few years ago.

Local option was carried in the township of Caledon, Peel County, by a majority of six over the three-fifths, and in Albion by a majority of 17.

In the seven municipalities of the County of Peel five have adopted local option charters.

Alliston carries the bylaw by a majority of 3. Three years ago, on an even vote it was defeated by 35.

Collingwood defeated it by 34 over the 60 per cent.

The bylaw was defeated at Peterboro on a close vote. The vote for the bylaw was 2,013 and against it 1,494. It lacked 91 votes of the required three-fifths majority.

At Port Hope the bylaw was defeated by 28 on an even vote.

After one of the most memorable campaigns ever conducted in this city, political or municipal, local option failed to carry in Brantford yesterday by 56 votes. A popular majority of 810 was given the measure, but the required three-fifths vote was not secured. The vote was the heaviest ever polled in Brantford.

MANY MEETINGS MARK CAMPAIGN IN BRITAIN

During the Coming Week the Peers Will be Especially Busy and To-day Twenty-Four Will be on the Hustings—Hard Fight Expected.

London, Jan. 4.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The election battle is entering on its final and fiercest stage. Over a thousand political meetings daily will be held in Britain during this week. Millions of election addresses will be issued. Nobody can compute the number of leaflets that will be distributed or the area of wall space that will be covered by posters.

All the party leaders will be actively engaged. Mr. Balfour speaks at Hanley to-day, and Mr. Asquith last night in Mr. Haldane's division. Lloyd-George is making a round of the metropolis, with a flying visit to Plymouth. Winston Churchill is visiting Dundee.

Many meetings to be addressed this week by peers and candidates for the Commons have been arranged by the Conservative central office. To-day twenty-four, and Thursday twenty-five, will speak.

The editor of The Cork Accent, a new daily, stating the mission of the journal, says: "It is only the knave who will make, or who will believe, the assertion that home rule is to be passed when the Lords' veto was abolished."

The election at York promises to be a keen contest. The result is difficult to predict. There are five hundred military voters, the 17th Lancers being stationed there. The Unionists hope for their support.

Winston Churchill, writing of Hamar Greenwood, says: "As a Canadian, well known and well liked throughout Canada, he has a special responsibility at this juncture."

The statements of free lances on each side are growing more reckless. In reading Radical papers to-day, one would really imagine that the Germans, in their dire poverty, have no other food than horseflesh, dog sausages and bitter black bread, to which smart Unionists speakers reply: "Germans who eat horseflesh and rye bread do so because they prefer it. The German people generally do not live on either. They live on the deluded British workman."

The West Wants Dreadnoughts.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—George H. Bradbury, M.P., has returned to Ottawa, after spending the Christmas holidays in his constituency of Selkirk.

He is deeply impressed with the strength of public feeling on the issue of naval defence. Feeling, as he found it, was overwhelmingly in favor of immediate and effective aid to Great Britain, to take the form of an offer of at least two Dreadnoughts, to be owned by Canada. Opinion also would favor the unconditional compliance with the Admiralty's request for a "fleet unit," to which Canadian delegates refused to accede.

Mr. Bradbury said this feeling was shared by a very large number of Liberals whom he met.

Bank Clerks Worked on Sunday.

Winnipeg, Jan. 4.—A deputation understood to represent the Lord's Day Alliance visited eight of the principal city banks on Sunday and secured the names of officials whom they found balancing monthly and yearly accounts on the Lord's Day.

Kidney Troubles Attack Peterboro Men and Women Old and Young

Kidney ills seize young and old,
Come quickly with little warning.
Children suffer in their early years—
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Men have lame and aching backs.
The cure for man, woman or child.
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—
Cure all forms of kidney suffering.
Peterborough testimony proves it.

Mrs. A. Graham, of 547 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., says: "My back was so weak and tender that I could not turn in bed. A heavy, dull pain had settled across the small of it and caused me almost constant suffering. I became weak and languid. I was run down generally and had little ambition to move around. Headaches were frequent and often accompanied by spells of dizziness. Spots would dazzle before my eyes and I would be unable to see. I had tried numerous remedies without getting results. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at McDermid & Jury's Pharmacy, which I tried and soon found relief. The kidneys were quickly regulated and each and every symptom of kidney trouble was quickly cured. I am glad to recommend Booth's Kidney Pills as I believe them to be the best and most reliable of all kidney remedies."

DEFEAT OF MR. DUMBLE WAS A SURPRISE

Mr. T. H. Adams and Col. J. W. Miller New Men on Board of Education — Mr. Crane Headed the Poll.

The defeat of Mr. D. W. Dumble was the surprise of the contest for the Board of Education. He has been a member of the Board of Education for many years and has been a faithful servant of the people. The new men on the Board are T. H. Adams, who resides in the fifth ward, and Col. J. W. Miller. Mr. John Crane headed the poll with Mr. W. H. Hill second and Dr. George Burnham third. Harry Adams was fourth and Col. Miller fifth. Mr. W. F. Nelson, who was a member of the Board last year, went down to defeat as also did Mr. W. S. Robinson, who was a member of the Board in 1908. Mr. R. G. Kingan was a new aspirant for the Board.

The men elected hold office for two years. Mr. Crane, Mr. Hill and Dr Burnham were members of the Board last year.

BOTH CANDIDATES ARE GRATIFIED

That the Mayoralty Campaign Was Conducted Without Ill-Feeling and With Absolute Fairness—Mayor Morrow's Thanks—"A Fair Fight," Says Mr. E. F. Mason.

Mr. W. G. Morrow, Peterborough's new Mayor, when approached by a Review representative this morning, had little to say concerning the campaign, outside of expressing his unqualified gratitude to the voters and his appreciation of the splendid support given him. The fact that he obtained a majority in ever polling division, without exception, was most encouraging to the newly elected Chief Magistrate.

Mayor Morrow had nothing but kind words to say of his opponent, and was glad that there was no ill-feeling whatever on the part of either candidate.

"I wish to particularly thank the workingmen, who have always supported me, for the very cordial support they gave me in this campaign."

When asked as to his policy, Mr. Morrow intimated that he did not care to outline any very definite platform at such an early time, other than the general one that he would endeavor to discharge the duties of his responsible office in the best interests of the city of Peterborough.

"A FAIR FIGHT," SAYS MR. MASON.

Mr. E. F. Mason, the defeated Mayoralty candidate, is not at all chagrined over the outcome of the campaign.

"I have been beaten by fair means," he said to the Review this morning, "and am glad to say that the campaign was conducted without any mud slinging on the part of either side."

Mr. Mason said that he had known Mr. Morrow for several years, and had no opinion to express against him or his friends. Mr. Mason stated he was brought out by a class of citizens who desired he should represent them, and after much consideration, had somewhat reluctantly accepted the nomination.

He was of the opinion that the contest for Mayor had been the means of bringing together, in so far as the immediate civic affairs were concerned, the two opposite factions politically as represented by Messrs. Jas. Kendrey and J. R. Stratton, M.P. Two more antagonistic followings in a political sense could not be found, and he hoped the city's affairs would be run very harmoniously as the result of the stand for the new mayor of both Mr. Kendrey and Mr. Stratton.

Mr. Mason was interrogated as to whether he thought the greater activity in the matter of organization had not had much to do with his opponent's success. He replied that he had no doubt it had a significant bearing on the outcome of the campaign.

Mr. Morrow's influential backing was also a serious proposition to contend with. Mr. Mason appealed to the electors on the strength alone of his personal record in the administration of the city's affairs, and it was the only grounds on which he sought the voters' commendation and support.

"If I couldn't go in on my past record alone," he said. "I didn't want to go in at all."

LICENSE HOLDERS MUCH PLEASED

With the Result of the Campaign Especially in View of the Organized Efforts of Local Option Supporters—Some Expressions of Opinion on the Outcome of the Contest.

The license holders of Peterborough are naturally pleased with the result of the local option campaign. They realize that there has been great activity on the part of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, which has for many months been working very hard in the interests of a successful issue, from their standpoint, of the campaign.

In view of the large number of advocates of the by-law brought here to address mass meetings on its behalf, the license holders consider the victory an important one, as they themselves presented no opinions at any public gathering, but were confident that the by-law would not carry.

Although a majority was registered in favor of local option, the license holders think the anti-local option sentiment was a strong one, in view of the fact that a large number of voters only heard one side of the question.

There is no vindictiveness on the part of the men whose business interests would have been directly affected had local option carried. They appreciate the support of the voters who are in favor of a strictly regulated license law, and at the same time cherish no ill-feeling toward the voters who saw fit to use their franchise in favor of the by-law.

The opinions which are given below do not by any means include the individual sentiments on the matter discussed of all the license-holders of the city as the limited list will indicate. However, the general expression of opinion may safely be taken as representative.

SOME OPINIONS.

Mr. C. G. Graham, manager of the Oriental, did not care to discuss the result of the campaign at any length. He said it was a matter of mutual congratulation that the fight on both sides had been a clean one.

Mr. Donald Fraser, proprietor of the Snowden House, said he never feared at any time that the by-law would get the required three-fifths. He figured that in view of the organized efforts of those in favor o the by-law it might have a majority of about two hundred, but in doing so calculated on a total vote of 2,800 or so.

Mr. Gus. White, proprietor of the White House, said the license-holders on their part had decided to conduct a clean and fair campaign and had done so. He had no criticism whatever against the methods employed in the organized support of local option.

Other license-holders also expressed their satisfaction, but had nothing further to say than what is given above.

AN EXCELLENT AUDIENCE GREETED GIPSY HAWKINS

A splendid audience greeted Gipsy Hawkins last night at the Park St. Baptist church in spite of the inclement weather and election excitement.

If Local Option did not carry, Gipsy Hawkins by his sweet, simple presentation of gospel truth carried his message right into the hearts of his hearers.

Taking his text from Isaiah 55:1, he spoke of God's universal invitation to the world at large end the individual to come and treat their sinful soul on Him. Gipsy Hawkins will sing To-night.

On Saturday evening next he will help the Salvation Army, as also will the pastor of Park St. church, Rev. W. E. Biddiford.

Sunday afternoon next at 3 o'clock Gipsy Hawkins will deliver a special address to men only in the Park St. church

The meetings are growing in interest. A number have already decided for Christ. Come and enjoy the meetings every night at 8 o'clock. Prayer meeting at seven fifteen.

ONE THOUSAND ENTRIES AT ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW

The second annual winter show of the Peterborough Poultry Association opened this morning at the Market Hall with an entry list of one thousand, shown in eighty classes. The exhibits are from all parts of Ontario and the competition will be decidedly keen. The arrangements for displaying the entries are thorough in every respect, and if the broad smile on the faces of those in charge can be taken as any indication, the show will be a big success. There are some fine exhibits for the dresses poultry prize and the show is worthy of every support that can be given it by the citizens of Peterborough. It will be continued for the next two days. The president, Mr. George Paxman, is superintending all arrangements.

Made Quick Profits In Fake Scheme.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 4.—A scheme by which its promoters made $4,000 in one month without any working capital, though claiming a paid-in capital stock of $150,000 is charged in indictments returned yesterday against Joseph A. McNulty, James Richmond, alias Robert S. Braman, and Henry Vanvleet, all of Buffalo, N.Y., for operating "the civil service institute."

The men are alleged to have used the mails to defraud. "The institute," advertised for representatives, but required of them a $500 subscription to the capital stock of the company.

THEATRICAL

The Prince Chap

It is always a delight to see little people act. Their work is so artless, so sincere, and so sincerely done. Among the few really clever stage children, none are more prominent, artistic or talented than the little Misses Helen and Beryl Pullman, who will be seen in the role of "Claudia" in Charles Emerson Cook's production of "The Prince Chap" at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, January 6. Having been members of the original production they are thoroughly at home in their respective roles.

The play is from the talented pen of Edward Peple, and is a singularly fine piece of dramatic writing. It is a big theme and a noble one—one of the welcome type that will go a long way toward solving that complex problem, the elevation of the drama.

It is the story of a manly art student, plodding along amid the discouragements of student life, buoyed up by the deep and abiding love for a girl he has left behind in America, whom he believe to be devoted to him as he is to her. Suddenly there is thrust into his protecting care a child whose dying mother, reading him aright, for the honest, tender and loving fellow that he is, confiden to him her little "Claudia." How the child grows into his life and shapes his career and fortunes, forms a story of deep interest.

Manager Chas. Emerson Cook, who for many years has been general representative for David Belasco, is presenting this piece true to his high Belasco standards. He has a notable cast including Allan Dinehart, Helen and Beryl Pullman, Elvia Bates, Mabel Acker, Bert Walter, Evelyn Ferguson and Charles W. Johnson and others.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN AT END OF YEAR?

The aldermen elected yesterday were elected for a two-year term. However, the electors voted to return to the ward system and a lot of people are wondering what is going to happen when the ward system is introduced next year. What will happen the two year men who have just been elected? Will they have to retire at the end of the present year? Is the city going to have a muddle like the one, Belleville is now enjoying?

The law provides that the two-year men become one-year men.

THE NEW MAYOR

The new mayor, His Worship W. G. Morrow, will, beyond doubt, in the intent and meaning of his card of thanks, give a strong and upright administration of his office for the coming year. Now that the battle is over everybody will wish him well and will lend a hand towards the peace, prosperity and good government of the city. Mayor Morrow is not a joiner or time-server, but has the largeness of view and the strength of character and persistence of purpose of a builder and maker, and with these facts in view, the public may confidently look forward to a wise and progressive year of municipal administration.

THE GLOBE'S IDEA OF EMPIRE

"It is to be feared that the great majority of the people of Canada will insist that the organization which is brought into being and sustained by their taxes shall both in peace and war be under their absolute control."—The Globe.

THE ELECTIONS.

The defeat of the local option by-law was so close to being a victory that no wise man engaged in the liquor business will disregard the fact that the people of this municipality are in earnest when they demand a careful and circumspect handling of the liquor business. The practice of allowing men already "under the influence" to get more and then wander aimlessly about the streets is not a good advertisement for any business, or for the city itself. That there has been too much of that sort of thing few will deny. It is true that the blame does not rest with the whole body of liquor men or for that matter on many occasions with other than the "drunks" themselves who have got a bottle and proceeded to gratify their appetites, but nevertheless the fact remains that these same men coming out of licensed places give those places and the whole business a bad name and this is to be avoided. It is not to be denied that many of the "unfortunates" are their own worst enemies and it is doubtless this fact that has prevented a more pronounced opinion on the part of the majority. A great many of the overloaded are the victims of their own excess and a strong and vigilant Public Opinion is the only thing that will have any effect upon them. That Public Opinion is more temperately inclined than it used to be is obvious. The young man who is cultivating the "habit" is a marked one, while the older one is regarded as a wreck. The need for greater "efficiency" and greater self-control and regard for other people's feelings has become the demand of the day. Had the liquor business deserved all the blame the result would have been different yesterday. But the fact remains that the eye of the public is on the bar and the hotel men will have to keep hotel even more strictly in future than in the past. That the temperance people and those not usually classed as such have not seen fit to carry the by-law here means nevertheless that a closer and stricter tab will in all probability be kept on all within the people's ken rather than that a set back has been administered to those who prefer law and order. The contest of yesterday and leading up to yesterday may help to unite those in favor of a better Peterborough and if it does the time has not been lost.

Death From Scalding

A sad accident, resulting in the death of the youngest son of Mr. John J. Junkin, of Verulam, occurred on Saturday, December 11th. One of the other children, in putting a stick of wood in the stove, upset a pot of hot water, which was spilled on the little fellow, who was standing close by. He was terribly scalded on the head, shoulders and arm, and died on Sunday morning last. Needless to say, his parents have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.—Lindsay Post.

Local Option Goes Into Force in Sixty-Five Municipalities—Latest Figures.

Special to Review

Toronto, Jan. 4.—Additional returns from local option contests received today bring the total number of municipalities in which it was carried by a three-fifths majority to sixty-five. In forty-eight a majority was received but not three-fifths. In seventeen others the by-law was defeated.

The Result in Orillia

Special to the Review.

Orillia, Jan. 4.—The vote here on local option yesterday was 717 for and 440 against, being 23 more than the 60 per cent. of the vote polled. It was a strenuous campaign and there is general rejoicing.

WEDDING BELLS

KENT—HUTCHINSON

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized on Dec. 29th, 1909, when Miss Edythe E., daughter of Thos. G. Hutchinson, Hickory Grove Farm, near Port Hope, was united in marriage to Mr. G. E. Kent of Otonabee. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Clark of Port Hope, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and congratulations a dainty luncheon was served after which the happy happy couple took the 2.55 train for Detroit and points west. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Kent will reside at Riverview Farm, Otonabee, where they will be followed by the best wishes of many friends for a happy and prosperous future.

Mrs. Kent will be at home to her friends after Jan. 20th.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Condon.

RUNAWAY TEAM WENT OVER SLEIGH

A team of horses belonging to the Jones livery, and used in canvassing operations yesterday, ran away on George street, and, coming in contact with Goodfellow's milk delivery near the Grand Hotel, jumped over the sleigh, and in the collision between the two outfits the dashboard and seat of the former were damaged. The runaway team was caught a short distance from the scene of the collision.

STAYED OUT LATE TO GET RETURNS

Many Gathered at the Review Office—Busy Night for Everybody

A big crowd gathered at the Review office last night to hear the returns from the polls. They stayed from 7.30 o'clock to eleven, by which time the results were pretty well known. It was a busy night at the newspaper offices, and at the city clerk's office, where the returns were received. The telephones were in use all the time, hundreds of people calling up to find out the state of the poll. The telephone girls were remarkably patient and earned a good deal of praise for themselves for their courteous treatment of those making use of the telephones. The Machine telephones were also used to a large extent.

CARD OF THANKS

I desire to most cordially and gratefully thank the electors of Peterborough, who so generously endorsed my candidature, and secured my return as Mayor. I fully appreciate the very liberal support that was given me, and regard it as a most flattering compliment, and at the same time, as placing me under a heavy responsibility. This responsibility I shall give my best endeavors and most unremitting diligence to deserve in the largest way. With the co-operation of my colleagues on the Council Board, I shall strive to give Peterborough, my native city, and the home of all my interests, such an administration as will justify the wish which I very heartily extend to every elector of the city, A Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Yours very faithfully,

Card from Mr. Mason

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough;

I desire to thank all those who favored me with their support and those who personally exerted themselves on my behalf. Several reasons may be assigned for the result of the elections some being the most unfair misrepresentations on the part of those who had no public object to serve. Personally I still retain the best of good feeling towards Mr. Morrow, who with the assistance of the new Board of Aldermen, will guide the destiny of the city during the year 1910.

Yours respectfully,

E. F. MASON

CARD

To the Electors of the City of Peterborough,—

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE OPENS TO-MORROW NIGHT

The big event for which everyone in the city who is interested in Canada's winter game has been eagerly awaiting, is billed to take place to-morrow night at Brock street rink, when the first games in the Peterborough City Hockey League will be played. Strathconas and Keene will come together in the first game, and West Ends and T. A. S. in the second. While the teams have been practicing consistently ever since the ice arrived, it is because of the intense rivalry existing amongst the teams that the two contests will be specially interesting, and when the line-ups of the teams are announced to-morrow night it will be readily seen that fast hockey will be played. It will not be a case of asking the support of the local fans on the strength of the past reputation for classy hockey. The big crowd which is expected to be present may be assured of witnessing two good exhibitions for the small fee of 15 cents.

The Keene team in the two games against the West Ends showed that they can deliver the goods, and the indications are that the other teams will be impressed with this fact before many games are played.

The Strathconas, with Leo Derocher in goal, are looking forward to give a good account of themselves, as they have endeavored to do in the past. Their defeat of last year has not been without results. The West Ends will be fifty per cent. stronger this season, and are in the race with the feeling that they have a great chance to land the cup. On the T.A.S. team will be found the stars of last year's champion Lakefield seven, and that is a sufficient guarantee that the Abstainers will be strictly in it.

SKETCH OF JAMES C. RICE THE ABLE ROWING COACH

James C. Rice, now rowing coach of Columbia University oarsmen, is well known here. The New York Sun prints the following interesting story of the man, giving a full account of his life, his connection with the Argonaut Rowing Club and his friendship with that prince of scullers, Ned Hanlan.

When a man has fifteen uncles, not to mention a father, who followed the sea, it isn't at all unnatural that he should have a bent toward the water, and it isn't an odd thing either that although all fifteen uncles came to be drowned while they were sailormen their nephew should still stick to the water, even if he did heed his mother's request not to go to sea.

Rice never has been a sailorman in the strict sense of the word. He is keen on ice yachting. He thinks sailing an ice boat is his strongest point, although there are folks, particularly at Columbia, who fancy that he does not do anything else as well as he does teaching the art of pulling an oar. When Rice was coaching the Detroit Rowing Club several years ago he had a lot of amusement in the winter time sailing boats in the races around there.

When Rice first came to Columbia, or rather when he was first engaged by the crew there, many persons spoke of "young Jimmy Rice," and the casual impression was that he was a new comer in the rowing game who was getting his start with a college crew. As a matter of fact, Rice is 39 years old. Furthermore, he isn't a Canadian, as many persons believe. He was born in Dundee, Scotland. His mother was Scotch and his father Irish. "And I guess I'm an American citizen, all right," says Rice. "My father fought under Commander Stringham in the old Minnesota."

MOVED TO TORONTO.

When Rice was really young Jimmy the family came to this country to live. For a time the Rices were in Philadelphia and then moved to Toronto. There they lived at Hanlan's Point, a place named for the great sculler. All the early years of his life Rice was very friendly with the renowned oarsman and the record shows that in 1896 Rice pulled two races against Old Ned. "I had him in the second race, sailed at Sault Ste. Marie, that year," says Rice, "because Ned had a big heavy boat and I had a light shell that Wallace Ross owned. But I couldn't afford to beat him, because I'd have lost my job training the old fellow if I had. So we bluffed an exciting race and Ned won."

The very air of Toronto was full of rowing in those days, and Hanlan was the great man in the times when Rice was a very small boy. "I remember we once sold an old fellow a towel for $1 that we said Hanlan rubbed down with," says Rice. "Whenever a boat got broken up we took the timbers, broke them up small and sold them for souvenirs to the folks who wanted to get them, as if they were pieces of Hanlan's shell."

It was the most natural thing in the world that a boy reared in that atmosphere should be keen on rowing. The very sight of the great turnout of folks to welcome Hanlan whenever he returned to his town would be enough to make any boy resolve to become a great sculler himself.

So Rice knew very well this man whom he followed by not many years as coach at Columbia. There was another man whom he saw in those days. It was on one occasion when Rice was a very young lad that he was going across the ferry at Toronto in company with his father and they saw a sculler coming down the water in a shell.

SEES CHARLES COURTNEY.

"He was a big, handsome man," says Rice. "He wore a white rowing suit with a large blue star on his chest, and he had a white skull cap with a blue tassel. I remember now how he looked, a powerful, great man, with black, curling whiskers. He reached away out for the water and caught it hard and swung through with power and grace. A splendid looking man he was in a boat. I asked my father who it was. 'That's Charlie Courtney,' he told me."

That was Rice's first view of the man whose chief rival as a rowing coach he is to-day. Some folks, Columbia folks of course, may be suspected of prejudice in the matter when they say they think Rice is Courtney's equal as a coach.

When Jimmy grew up and was just in his teens he got into the rowing game. He rowed a number of races, in particular one with Ralston at Orillia in 1888, which he won. In 1889, when the Canadian Rowing Association held a meeting at Hamilton, they threw Rice out of the amateur ranks, saying he was a fisherman, and immediately he went into the professional game with spirit.

Even when so young, Rice turned to the coaching game, so that his record as a coach goes back twenty years. It seems odd that the lad, not yet of age, should have been coaching such men as Hanlan, Durnan, O'Connor and others, as well as rowing in races with them. He was with Ryan and Durnan in 1892. In 1894 he and Jake Gaudaur competed in the greatest race of Rice's career. This pair beat Ras Rogers and Eddie Durnan. Rice was in a four that rowed in Texas in 1894, Hosmer being bow, Rice 2, Teemer 3, and Gaudaur stroke. The English crew beat them.

He rowed around a great deal and in a great many places, fifty races altogether, his last race being in 1898 at Halifax, N.S., where he and his partner were beaten by the Lynch brothers.

HOCKEY

Charlies Squires and Dick Butler, who have been running the junior hockey team, intimated to-day that they had given it up. They had made arrangements for the rink with Mr. Gilmour and Mr Parkin did not care to abide by these arrangements, they said, and so they considered it too great a handicap to the running of a team. Mr Parkin stated that he had no arrangements made, and, in fact, did not know there was a team though a bunch calling themselves juniors had been practising on the rink for the past two nights. Messrs. Squires and Butler will relinquish the management of the team to anyone wishing to carry it on.—Lin Warder.

WRESTLING

Joe Bueck, the Bohemian Bull, is big special wrestling feature at the Star Theatre, Toronto, this week, and he will wrestle anyone who will appear against him. If he stays over 15 minutes he will receive $1 a minute for the time that he stays. Yesterday he wrestled Hassen, the Terrible Turk, and was beaten by a foul. To-morrow he will match Charlie Conkle, of Hamilton, and will forfeit $25 if he does not throw him in less than fifteen minutes.

INDOOR BASEBALL

A meeting of the Bugle Band of the 57th Regiment will be held to-night at the armories to make arrangements for the indoor baseball season. On Tuesday night of next week a game will be played between the Bugle Band and a team from the Battery.

They Keep The Brakes Set

And So Can Never Do Their Best

Many men, and more women, go through life like a train with the engine tugging, but the brakes hard on. They never get anywhere near top speed, because they are never really well.

Probably they do not own even to themselves that they are sick, but they scarcely known what it is to really "feel good". Always there is Headache, or that "dragged out feeling" which makes good work, either mental or physical, utterly impossible.

The most common trouble with all these people is that they have Constipation. Their systems are poisoned with the waste matter, which stays in the blood, instead of being promptly removed by the bowels. Harsh purgatives are worse than no treatment at all, because they weaken and irritate the bowels, instead of curing the trouble.

The natural and permanent cure for Constipation, is "Fruit-a-tives".

"Fruit-a-tives" combines the well-known laxative principles of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. So perfect is the combination, that "Fruit-a-tives" acts like the fresh fruit, by stimulating the sluggish liver to supply the proper amount of bile to move the bowels regularly.

The most stubborn cases of Constipation promptly yield to the curative and corrective effects of "Fruit-a-tives".

  All Saints' vs George Street.

Y.M.C.A. DOINGS

The circus proved a wonderful success, and for the benefit of those who failed to be at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on the nights that the circus was given will have the opportunity to see another circus that will be held in the latter part of the season. On New Year's night the gymnasium was so crowded that it was necessary to close the doors.

To-morrow night the City Basketball League will start again, and there will be two games played on Wednesday night and Saturday night. In order that the games may end promptly, the captains of the different teams are asked to have their players together at the schedule time.

Wednesday, Jan. 5—Collegiate Institute vs Y.M.C.A., 8 p.m.; Canadian General Electric Co. vs Normal School, 9 p.m.

Saturday, Jan. 8—Y.M.C.A. vs Normal School, 8 p.m.; George St. Methodist Church vs Business College, 9 p.m.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BELMONT

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 3.—In the township of Belmont Reeve Roswel was returned by a substantial majority over Joseph Johnston. The council will consist of Wm. Griffith, T. McConnel and A. Wilde, of the old council, and it is between Jas. Kitchen and Robert McCutcheon for fourth place. Up to ten o'clock to-night Kitchen has a majority of 15, with Oak Lake, McCutcheon's stronghold, to hear from.

DUMMER

The municipal campaign in Dummer this year was a keen one in the matter of public interest, and the vote polled was a big one. In the contest for reeve C. J. Darling was elected by the very large majority of 94 over his opponent, Mr. John Kidd.

The voters are apparently satisfied with the work of the councillors, as they re-elected the whole council board in the following order: Rourke Ferguson, James Greystock, William Carveth, — Martin.

The defeated candidates were Messrs Crowe and McDonald.

DOURO

Reeve—Frank Moher elected Reeve over Dennis Moloney by a majority of 64.

The Councillors elected were;—
W. J. Charlton,
P. Fahey,
H. Leahy,
M. Moloney.

The defeated candidates were;—
W. J. Bullock.
M. Walsh

LAKEFIELD.

After an interesting battle at the polls the result of the elections in Lakefield was that E. A. Tanner was elected Reeve by a majority of 14 over his opponent, J. M. Hygott, and the following Councillors;—
J. E. Richardson,
Robert Watson,
A. Robson.

An equal vote was polled for F. J. Burgess and H. Moore, so that the returning officer will be called upon to give the casting vote in favor of either one to settle the question of the fourth Councillor.

The Siemon Co. bonus by-law was carried, only 15 votes being polled against it.

OTONABEE

Reeve—W. H. Porter, acclamation.

Deputy Reeve—W. Stewart, acclamation.

Councillors—Anderson, 360; Miller, 320; Nelson, 270.

The men defeated were Humphries, 260, and Leary, 252.

ENNISMORE

Mr. John Young was elected reeve of Ennismore over Mr. D. M. Kennedy by a majority of about sixty. The councillors elected were: William Harrington, Timothy Crough, William Cavanagh and W. H. Crough.

Tennessee's law prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicants is now in force.

HOW CITIZENS VIEW THE DEFEAT

city are concerned they rejoice in the magnificent vote of the people, and it is a demand on all lovers of humanity and justice to go immediately forward and secure as soon as possible:

1. A reduction in the licensed houses in the city.
2. A strenuous campaign to secure prohibition for the Province of Ontario.

The three-fifths handicap in no way affects the real triumph of the temperance cause in this city. Instead of struggling along for a few years of experimenting on the local option conditions we will secure prohibition at the next Provincial elections.

RECEIVED HABIT OF SISTERHOOD

Interesting Ceremony at Mount St. Joseph This Morning.

A ceremony of unusual significance was celebrated at Mount St. Joseph this morning when seven young women received the holy habit of the Sisterhood of St. Joseph and thereupon began the two years' probation which decides their final choice. At the end of that time if they have found that they are called to that life they take their final vows. The young women who took the habit this morning were:

Miss Teresa Campbell, Beaverton, in religion, Sister Mary Augustine.

Miss Hannah LeHane, Lindsay, in religion, Sister Mary Camilla.

Miss Cecilia Gainer, Mount St. Patrick, in religion, Sister Mary Casimer.

Miss Grace Plunkett, Cobourg, in religion Sr. Mary Jane Frances.

Miss Mary Charlotte Casey, Eganville, in religion Sr. Mary Immaculate.

Miss Anastasia Nolan, Killaloe, in religion Sr. Mary Alexius.

Miss Anna Whittaker, Montreal, in religion, Sr. Mary Felicitas.

The ceremony was performed in the chapel during Pontifical High Mass, sung by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and was witnessed by a large number of friends of the young ladies and other members of the parish. Bishop O'Connor was assisted by Rev. P. Ryan, of Renfrew, and Rev. I. French, of Killaloe; Rev. Father Kelly of the Cathedral staff, was Master of Ceremonies. Among the clergy present were Rev. Father George, assistant Master of Ceremonies. Rev. P. S. Dowdall, of Eganville, Rev. J. Hayes, Beaverton, Rev. P. J. McGuire, of Downeyville, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Lindsay, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. W. P. Meagher, Rev. D. A. Casey, St. Michael's College.

At the close of the ceremony, the Rev. P. S. Dowdall, of Eganville, preached a beautiful and impressive sermon, full of encouragement to the newly received religious, and to their relatives and friends.

Chas. W. Morse, the former U.S. ice king, was taken to Atlanta to serve term of 15 years.

Because he forgot his speech at a banquet Judge John C. Bowes, of Georgetown, Ky., took his life.

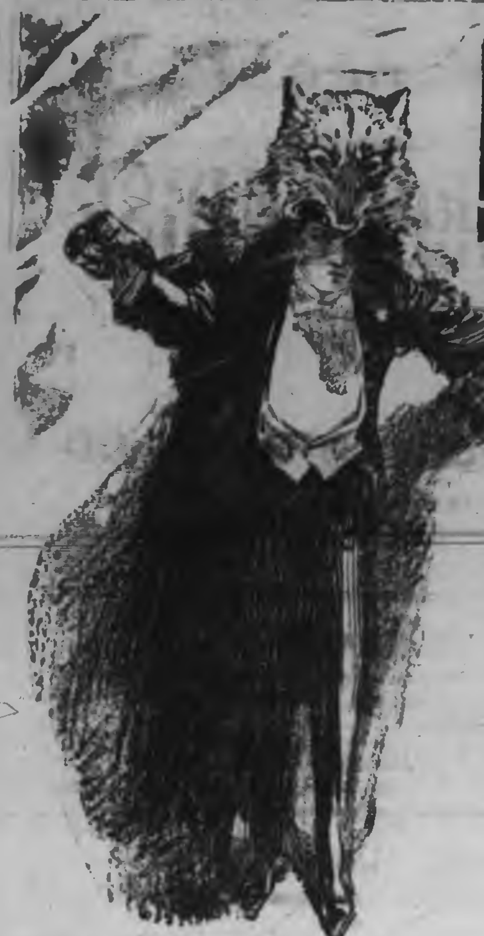
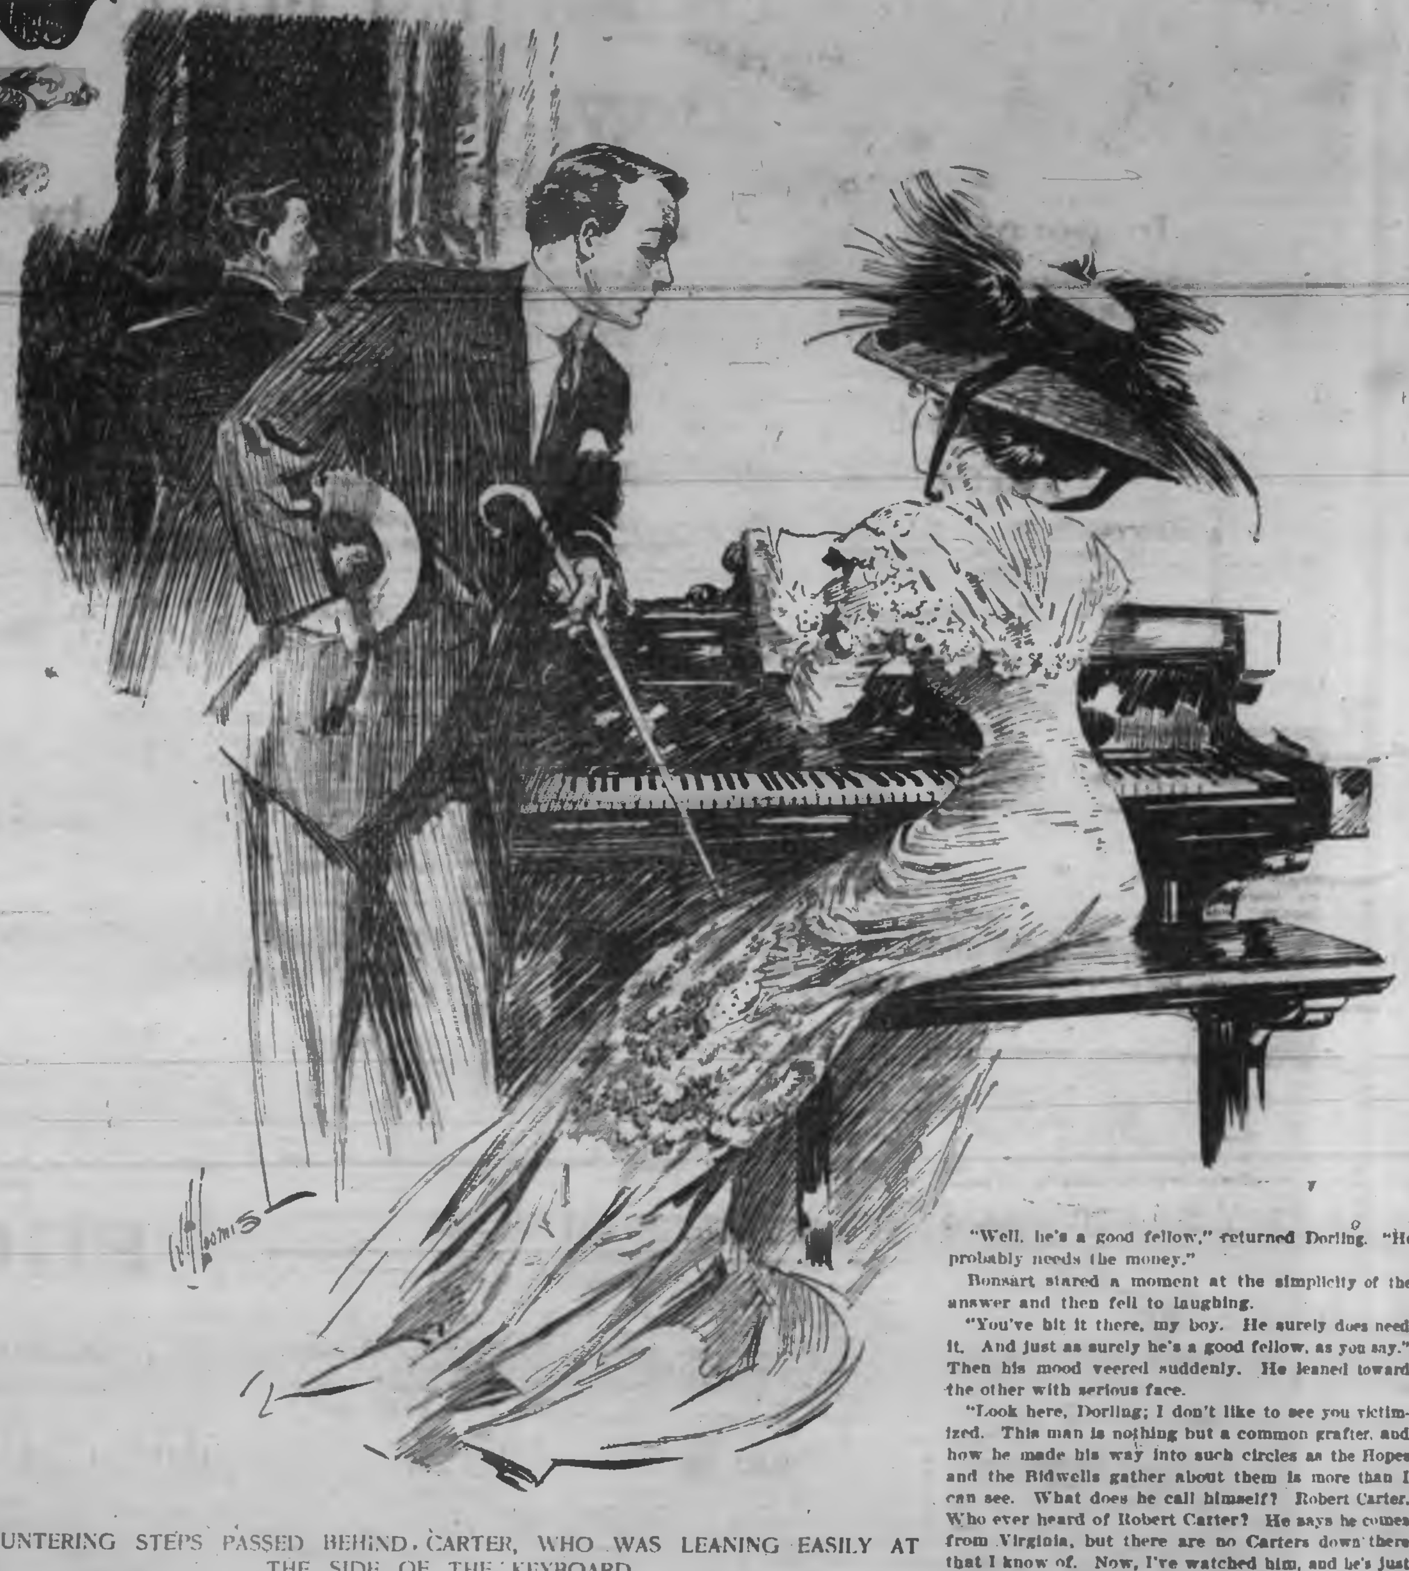
THE SOCIETY WOLF

A SUFFIXED VICTORY





SAUNTERING STEPS PASSED BEHIND CARTER, WHO WAS LEANING EASILY AT THE SIDE OF THE KEYBOARD.

BY LUKE THRICE.

(Copyright, 1909, by the New York Herald Co. All Rights Reserved.)

THE first intimation of trouble with Bonsart came while those who were to make up the cast of Mrs. "Jimmy" Hope's charity play were gathered in the ballroom of the Hope home. Carter, picked for one of the lesser parts, was chatting with the hostess where she sat at the piano, running her fingers lightly over the keys. The director, an important, chubby little man, was bustling about with chairs and couches, arranging his setting, a bundle of manuscript serving in lieu of baton as he gave orders to the young men who were aiding him.

Sauntering steps passed behind Carter, who was leaning easily at the side of the keyboard. Across the casual converse which the Virginian was holding with the charming young woman there drifted two phrases:—

"Who is this fellow Carter? It seems to me you're taking a lot about him on faith."

Carter's gaze was on Mrs. Hope's face. She returned his look with a calm smile, rippling idly into the treble. He waited until the steps had echoed down the room, then shot a quick glance over his shoulder. The man who had spoken was Neville Bonsart, whom he remembered for a chilly stare and the monocle habit. The one to whom he was speaking was Stilbert, one of the youngest of the set in which he moved. Carter knew that the voice could not have been Stilbert's. He turned back to Mrs. Hope with an unspoken question.

Of all the persons with whom he had come in contact during his slow struggle toward the social citadel he felt that this woman, scarcely more than a girl, the central figure in his first Fifth avenue adventure, had the truest knowledge of his purpose and character. Perhaps it was this fact that had led him to avoid using her deliberately in any of his subsequent plans. Not that he feared her; rather he respected her intelligence and the insight that weighed him correctly while according him his due. It was the greater source of satisfaction to him that she frequently gave him a foothold in his ascent unasked and unsought, as in the present case of the society play. He awaited her comment now with mute appeal to their common understanding.

"You must have been prepared for something of this kind," she said.

"Yes," he answered, slowly; "if you mean in my general consciousness. I have known all along that there would be interference at some stage, possibly at several stages."

"It was inevitable," she nodded. "What are you going to do about it?"

"I hardly see my way yet. He is too powerful a factor to be overlooked. I wonder how long this has been going on."

"To my knowledge for a week at least. Since he was introduced to you at the Bidwells' last bridge party."

"He has standing."

"And a sharp tongue."

"What does he want?"

Estimate of a Character.

"You do Neville an injustice," she smiled again. "He wants nothing from any man or woman except recognition of his own essential superiority and the conduct of their affairs according to his own personal ideas. To be happy he must occupy the censor's office, free to pass judgment upon all things. He is tiresome, but he is listened to."

"What has he been saying?"

"He has discovered that you have no visible claim upon the section of society which he has taken under his own wing. He is unable to see that you are entitled to a place."

"If he were really in earnest he could do for me in short order," said Carter thoughtfully.

"No; hardly as bad as that. You have gone too far, I think. But he could make himself very dangerous."

"Is he brilliant?"

"Rather stupid, I should say. A remarkable person for fixed ideas. Even something of a fanatic in his way."

"Is he wealthy?"

"Abominably. He gives the most exquisite dinners in his ancient family stronghold. The Bonsarts are original New Yorkers, you know. They say that to be included in his circle of epicures is better than a patent of nobility. Absurd, isn't it?"

"A cad?"

"Far from it. I have seen him do generous things. He is susceptible to good qualities in others, particularly if they fall in with his own peculiar notion of manners. 'Knightly' is a pet word with him. Do you perceive the significance of it?"

Carter reflected. He began to have some conception of the temper of this expected, yet unexpected, antagonist.

"Then if I could win him he might perhaps repair what damage he has done me?"

"With interest, probably."

"First scene, ladies and gentlemen! We will now begin the rehearsal of the first scene." The director was waving his manuscript at them with lofty gesture.

They left the piano together and walked toward the buzzing group. Bonsart noted their approach. He turned an injuring and insolent gaze upon the young Virginian. Carter ignored it, but felt it. Decidedly the problem grew serious.

During the rehearsal he carefully avoided Bonsart and refrained from unnecessary words with any one, guarding his every action with the most scrupulous care. He could afford no mistake with a captious enemy present. Until it was time to tame this opponent, as he must if he would proceed toward success, it should be his to avoid the shadow of offence. Meanwhile he kept a watchful eye upon the other. As a result he came to the conclusion that Bonsart's enmity was not yet malignant. As far as he might judge, he was not the object of any further secret attack that afternoon.

The Campaign Is On.

The Virginian mapped his tactics with keen attention to details. Heretofore every ruse in his campaign had been conducted against passively resisting obstacles, tradition, accepted conventions, pride of wealth and rank, exclusiveness, the hedged in circles of the purple clad. His advance had been made by mines, countermines, ambuscades, surprises, manoeuvres, upon which he need not embark if he would not. Now, suddenly he was thrown upon the defensive. Here was definite, well directed opposition. An active adversary was in the field to dispute his further passage, even to hurl him back from what he had gained. Precision and caution must be his watchwords.

He noticed that at the close of each rehearsal Bonsart and one or two of the other young men usually walked down to the Waldorf for a drink. He considered these companions of the ill disposed aristocrat. He could count upon none of them as a sure friend, although he knew all of them fairly well. Going over the list he finally selected Ivan Dorling as the one best suited to his purpose. Dorling was the only son of an immensely wealthy mining man. His own acceptance in New York was not of ancient date. Carter had cultivated him to some extent and had remarked the freedom with which he dispensed large sums of money. It was his own cynical guess that this characteristic of Dorling's had recommended him more than any other for social recognition. For the rest he knew him as an easy, friendly boy, good natured to a fault and well disposed toward himself.

The charity play was nearly ready for its first performance when Carter found the setting right for his own private histrionic effort. Bonsart and Dorling were walking down Fifth avenue from the Hopes' one pleasant afternoon. The Virginian followed them unobserved. Entering the Thirty-third street entrance to the Waldorf he came around into the café a few moments later to find the two seated at a table over their glasses. As Carter had been sure he would, Dorling hailed and invited him to join. Bonsart was cold and distant and the conversation was carried on by the other two. The Virginian found ample matter for comment in the approaching play and Dorling joined him readily in the discussion. The time passed smoothly in spite of Bonsart's frigidity. Carter glanced at his watch presently.

"Half-past three," he exclaimed. "Now, that's annoying. Past banking hours. I am in a mess."

"What's wrong, old chap?" asked Dorling, with ready sympathy.

"Why, I can't imagine how it came to slip my mind. I had a very important transaction on this afternoon that depended upon a cash loan, and now I've missed my broker."

"Come, that's too bad! Can't it be remedied?" asked Dorling. The Virginian caught the curl on Bonsart's lip as he listened.

"Why, yes. It could be," said Carter, with an embarrassed smile. "Are you in a position to lend me $5,000 as a very especial favor?"

Dorling's checkbook and fountain pen came to light promptly. Carter was conscious of a little twinge of regret that he was not in a position to profit by this complacent generosity. But he was after larger game.

Gentleman Adventurer!

"Five thousand, you said?"

"That will do, yes. Thanks awfully."

The check was filled and signed. Carter folded it and tucked it in his pocket.

"This is a great favor, Dorling. Now if you'll excuse me for a moment I'll make my arrangements by telephone."

Carter never knew exactly what passed in his absence until some time afterward, though he counted confidently from his knowledge of the two men upon a scene almost identical with the one that actually occurred. The Virginian had scarcely passed into the corridor when Bonsart was upon Dorling hammer and tongs.

"So this gentleman adventurer has strung you up like all the rest, has he?" he demanded, scornfully. "Oh, he's a clever young manipulator; there's not a doubt of it."

"Why, what's wrong with him?" asked Dorling in surprise.

"Nothing, absolutely nothing. Only you can say goodby to your five thousand. He's simply played you in first class style. I wondered where the chap got his capital and his assurance. It's clear as day now."

"Well, why shouldn't I lend him the money?" asked Dorling, uneasily. Bonsart held up both hands.

"Why, indeed, good youth; why, indeed," he mocked. "Unless one cares to consider the fact that you will never see it again there is no reason under the sun why you shouldn't lend it to him."

"Well, he's a good fellow," returned Dorling. "He probably needs the money."

Bonsart stared a moment at the simplicity of the answer and then fell to laughing.

"You've hit it there, my boy. He surely does need it. And just as surely he's a good fellow, as you say." Then his mood veered suddenly. He leaned toward the other with serious face.

"Look here, Dorling; I don't like to see you victimized. This man is nothing but a common grafter, and how he made his way into such circles as the Hopes and the Bidwells gather about them is more than I can see. What does he call himself? Robert Carter. Who ever heard of Robert Carter? He says he comes from Virginia, but there are no Carters down there that I know of. Now, I've watched him, and he's just shown me his game, cards up. I'm going to uproot him. It's a shame and a scandal that we are open to the devices of low adventurers of which he is the type. Some one must keep an eye open for such people, and now that I have proof I'm going after him."

"Oh, come," returned Dorling. "You're prejudiced. He's an awfully decent chap. I don't grudge him the money."

"You make me tired. Are you fond of playing the easy fool to such a man? At least follow my advice; it can do no harm. When he returns ask him when you can expect repayment or how long he will need the money, or some such question. It is perfectly proper, even supposing that the loan was asked in good faith."

"I hate to," said Dorling, squirming.

"Now, do as I say. I want to show you the fellow as he is. You'll catch him off his guard and we can use the incident as a club to beat loose his hold."

"Well," returned Dorling, reluctantly, "if you think it will be all right."

"All right? Of course it will. You'll see him on tenterhooks."

"When Do I Get It?"

Carter was absent about fifteen minutes. He could not count upon the success of the stratagem he had planned, but he was reasonably sure that Bonsart would induce Dorling to arrange some test of his good faith. As he read the young man of the monocle he must inevitably take a hand in an affair that did not concern him in the least and seek to manage it to his own satisfaction. Hostility to the Virginian would do the rest.

"It's all right," said Carter cheerfully, re-entering the café. "I'm immensely obliged to you, Dorling. Let's have a drink," and he called the waiter. After the orders had been given he glanced at the two men. They had not spoken yet. Something was in the air.

"By the way," said Dorling suddenly, in a voice that he strove to make matter of fact and off hand, "I've become rather methodical lately in business matters. Gone in for bookkeeping and all that sort of thing, don't you know. When can I expect repayment, if you don't mind, Carter?" With flushed face he drew a notebook from his pocket and poised a pencil.

The Virginian took a breath for inward satisfaction. This was positively too simple. It gave him the whip hand without an effort. Meanwhile his face went stern under Dorling's words. He looked at the young man intently a moment and then whipped out the check.

"Right now, my dear fellow," he answered quietly, and pushed the slip across the table toward Dorling. There was not the slightest hint of pique in his gesture or expression. His attitude was merely that of a superior mind subjected to misunderstanding. Bonsart was watching him closely. Dorling's embarrassment was painful.

"Oh, really, Carter, old chap, I didn't mean it that way. I was just making a feeble effort to be exact, you know. The governor's been after me time and again about such things."

"It's all right, my dear boy, all right. I'm not offended, not in the least. You're quite right," said Carter, soothingly. The tone, such a one as he might have used with a blundering child, completed Dorling's confusion.

"Carter, you must take it. I insist. Really, I shall have to regard it as a personal reflection if you refuse. I ask you as a favor, old chap. Do take it back, there's a good fellow."

Carter smiled upon him calmly.

"Oh, very well, if you insist." He took the check from Dorling's offering hand, sensing rather than seeing the triumphant flash in Bonsart's eye. "Let's say no more about it," he continued, and with the words he tore the check across, tore it again and reduced it to tiny fragments, which he dropped to the floor. The gesture was absolutely free from a trace of the theatric. It was merely casual.

"As you were saying, Dorling," he said, closing the incident with the firm, sure grip of one who is used to setting people at their ease in any situation, "the director has managed the little play excellently. Unless I quite forget everything he has taught me I positively feel I shall be a credit to him with my little three lines."

Dorling recovered awkwardly. Carter had rattled on for some minutes before he was able to respond. The Virginian was wholly unconscious, at his ease, the man of the world who cannot be placed at a loss or in the wrong.

Dorling Is Won.

Subtly he emphasized the absence of sulkiness or resentment from his manner. Delicately he conveyed the impression that his one idea was to relieve Dorling courteously from all embarrassment proceeding from an ill considered act. The audience he was playing to was Bonsart. He could read Dorling with one glance. The boy was his creature from that moment if he so wished.

Bonsart's face was a study. Schooled to reserve and self-command though he was, he could not keep some trace of his surprise and change of feeling from showing. Watch as he might, there was no false note in the Virginian. Word and act were those of the truest gentleman. As Carter had figured from the outline picture of the man's character supplied by Mrs. Hope, the affair had an irresistible appeal for him. He could not argue against his convictions. Affecting precise notions of conduct, he found Carter perfect, conforming to his own ideals. Slowly he readjusted his ideas about this stranger.

But Carter was minded to force home his advantage. For some time he had contemplated a certain incidental move in his scheme of advance and he saw now the way in which it could be made of service, immediate and future. He checked his flow of small talk with another glance at his watch.

"I say, isn't it about time for Mrs. Pulsain to be found in the tea room? Let's wander in there and look for her. This is rather dull."

The others assented readily and they passed down the corridor. They found Mrs. Pulsain as the Virginian had suggested. She was with Mrs. Gatz-Brown and the young men joined them at their table. The chatter of the hour engaged them and Carter's sparkling wit kept him continually, though not obtrusively, forward.

By deft management he then gradually led the conversation to a point where he had Mrs. Pulsain for vis-a-vis and the other three formed a second group, one of those divisions that fall naturally when four or more persons are together. His immediate purpose was to tune the talk to the personal note, a matter which could not be naturally or gracefully adjusted in the general flow of comment. Since the incident at the Gatz-Brown summer home the Virginian had been conscious of Mrs. Pulsain's interest in him. He could understand her feeling. He had shown himself polished and clever, yet withal a somewhat mysterious figure in the world of which he appeared to be a part. He had meant to clear that mystery before her October reception and there was no time so propitious as the present.

"I hear you highly commended for your work in Mrs. Hope's play," said Mrs. Pulsain. "It is even intimated, at the risk of causing trouble, that you should have been cast for a more important part."

Carter laughed the compliment aside.

"I'm afraid my friend the director has been doing me this unfriendly office," he said. "I suppose he detected some superficial indications that I had trod the boards before."

"Oh ho, you have performed for the groundlings then?"

"Merely as an amateur, in Virginia."

"Wonders on wonders! First a yachtsman, now a thespian! How did you happen to transfer your talents to New York, Mr. Carter?"

"Would you like to hear a dull but brief account of that operation, Mrs. Pulsain? I warn you that it will include a revelation of deceit and perfidy."

Carter or Carteret.

"Two things that I particularly adore," she returned. "Let us have the story, by all means."

"I have never told this before, but to whom should I confess if not to my mentor and guide?" he said, recalling their previous understanding with a smile. "My qualifications must have been examined at some time, and I can think of no more kindly eye than your own to scan them."

He could see that the others were lending ear to what he said while continuing their own chatter perfunctorily.

"Family reverses before my father's death left me a paternal estate the visible assets of which were a crop of mortgages, three chests full of papers in inconceivable confusion and the promise of lengthy litigation," he went on. "I did not care for the prospect. I determined to come to New York. Meanwhile I had no friends in the North. On impulse I decided to leave my name out of the situation, since if I bore it I might be led to expect aid from it and suffer accordingly."

Bonsart's glance was turned toward him expectantly.

"So I came here as plain Robert Carter, incognito, as it were, to see what I could see."

"Well," said Mrs. Pulsain, "this is thrilling. What next?"

"That's all, dear madam. Am I to be forgiven?"

"But if you're not Robert Carter who are you?"

"My own name is Robert Pendleton Carteret," he answered.

"Dear me. How romantic. Oh, folks people," she called to the others, though there was no need, for all had heard. "I have an acquaintance here that I would like to present to you. Mrs. Gatz-Brown, Mr. Dorling, Mr. Bonsart, allow me to introduce Mr. R. Pendleton Carteret, late of Virginia."

Carter arose and bowed, a trifle ceremoniously, yet with an air of gayety that relieved the situation. The affair was explained with laughing questions and quick replies.

"Quite a sensation, I declare," said Mrs. Gatz-Brown. "Are we authorized to give this out, Mr. Carteret?"

"You will assist me if you will allow me to bear my patronymic hereafter," responded the Virginian lightly.

Bonsart was quite vanquished. The flavor of old world adventure in Carter's concealment of name, the old world suggestion in the name itself, the explanation of the handsome young man's presence in New York, coming pat upon the affair of the check, completely won his admiration. He extended his hand impulsively and shook that of the Virginian, murmuring congratulations upon his having resumed his proper colors. As the party were leaving the hotel to enter Mrs. Pulsain's automobile a few moments later he dropped back with Carter.

"I say, Carteret, have dinner with me to-night, won't you, old fellow?"

SAYS CHILDREN CALLED HER NAMES

But as Children Were not Present at Court This Morning the Case Was Enlarged

There was trouble in the air at the police court this morning, all on account of four women getting together. It was hardly a square deal as three of the number were against the other, who had only her hubby to fall back on, and he didn't give her much support.

She was the complainant, and alleged that the children of two of the other women called her names and otherwise disturbed her.

The children had not been brought to court by their mothers, as they claimed to His Worship, it was too cold to bring them out. They are quite young.

The complainant was of the opinion, that as the case had been called, it should be proceeded with, but the Magistrate ordered that all parties appear in court to-morrow morning.

Then the black looks and hot shots followed.

BERNIER MAY MAKE DASH FOR POLE

Arctic Being Recaulked and Will Leave Quebec in July Next

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—This year's cruise by Capt. Bernier will start from Quebec probably in July, and the Arctic is now being recaulked and otherwise repaired. It is intended to take along a larger number of scientific men than on previous trips and the ship may go through the Northwest Passage to the Pacific. No definite plans have yet been made, but in view of the Cook fiasco and the uncertainty as to the Polar discovery it is not improbable that Capt. Bernier will be authorized to make a dash for the Pole, which has so long been his ambition.

EMPLOYEES WERE THE GUESTS OF THEIR EMPLOYERS

That the G. W. Green Co., Ltd., is a flourishing manufacturing concern and that there is a spirit of loyalty existing between employer and employees was demonstrated last night, when about forty employees and the officers of the Company gathered round the festive board at Hooper's and spent one of those pleasant evenings that is not soon forgotten. That the spirit of loyalty is shared by both employee and employer was evidenced by the speeches at the gathering, and that the business of the company is increasing year by year was shown when the President, Mr. G. Walter Green, gave some interesting figures, during his speech, when he responded to the toast of the employers. Those present included employees who had been identified with Mr. Green when he first started business in Peterborough, and these with others who have found employment, as the Company progressed had nothing but fitting words to say for the fair manner in which they had been treated.

After the gathering had done full justice to the splendid repast prepared for them the following toast list was carried out. Mr. G. W. Green acted in the capacity of toastmaster;—

The first toast to the King was honored by the singing of the National Anthem.

"The Employees" was responded to by Messrs. John Hardie and J. L. Maude, who remarked on the good feeling which had always existed between the employer and employees.

The toast to "The Employers" was proposed by Mr. George Woods and was honored by the president, and the secretary-treasurer, Mr. T. O Donaldson.

In his speech, Mr. Green said that it gave him no small amount of pleasure to meet all. While there was a large number present, there were still others who were unavoidably absent, but he felt that the gathering was a representative one of the company, and one that any employer might feel proud of. "We feel," said the speaker, "that we have as loyal a body of men as ever got down to work, and if we have met with some success, I want the employees to fully understand that as head of the company, and my colleagues realize that there could have been no success unless the men were behind us. It has been said that the men are secondary. It is not so, with our men. They are all equal, and when I look over the faces which are before me to-night, it gives me considerable pleasure to see some of the men I started business in Peterborough with. Mr. Green spoke of the difficulties he had met with during the early part of his operations in Peterborough, but his statement that in the past year the pay roll was larger than at any other time, was heartily applauded. The business for 1909 showed an increase of 11 per cent. over the previous year, and from 1904 it had increased by 86 per cent. From 1898 to 1909 the increase was 135 per cent. It was in 1890 that business was begun in the old foundry, and at the present time the company was well equipped to carry on the work. The facilities were better and everything was quite satisfactory. This success had not been brought about by those in the company alone by any means, but because of the loyal men behind them.

Mr. Donaldson, in a short speech, spoke of the good feeling shown, and emphasized the fact that the employees acted honestly with the company.

The toast to "The Ladies" was proposed by Mr. G. L. Hamilton, and responded to by Messrs. Donaldson and Andrews.

The toast to "The Press" was proposed by Mr. Hamilton, and responded to by representatives.

Short speeches were made by many of the employees, and vocal numbers by Mr. John Kennedy and several selections on the mouth-organ by Mr. "Teddy" Andrews were well received.

The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and cheers for Mr. Green brought the affair to a fitting close.

ST. JOHN'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT

EVIDENCE AT ST. CATHARINES INQUEST IS AGAINST BRADLEY

Witnesses Say That in Addition to Striking His Man After Getting off Car Bradley Kicked Him in the Head When He Was Lying on the Ground

St. Catharines, Ont., Jan. 5.—The inquest regarding the death of Bulman on Saturday last, was continued before a coroner's jury last night, a number of witnesses being examined by Crown Attorney Brennan. William Bradley, who is held on a charge of murder, was present, being represented by A. C. Kingstone.

All the witnesses agreed that, after leaving the trolley, Bulman had been struck by Bradley in the face, and several declared that while deceased was lying on his back, close to the rear of the car, Bradley deliberately kicked him in the face or head.

George Gass, a mere lad from Thorold, and Thomas Hastings, a resident of Merritton, had not been on the rear car platform, where the dispute and fight first arose, but looking through the glass at the back of the car, were able to tell a better story than those standing within touching distance of the two men.

Young Gass saw the two men in a tussle. As the car stopped, Bulman was on the step of the car, one foot being already on the ground. Bradley had alighted first, and struck Bulman in the neck, knocking him backward in the direction of the sidewalk; then going up to him, leaned down and hit him a light blow, which he followed by two or three kicks in the face. Hastings saw no blows struck, but did see, he swore, Bradley grab deceased and give him a jerk to pull him from the car.

Drs. Vanderburg, Merritton, and McCoy, St. Catharines, said death was due to a severe knock on the skull just behind the ear. A blow or kick would have produced death. No mark was in evidence on the outer part of the skull, but within a severe mark was plainly evident.

Other witnesses were Conductor Francis, Wm. O'Donnell, Percy McCumber and Herbert Hogan, who had been on the rear of the car. All agreed that the dispute arose when Bulman, who was somewhat drunk, was jolted over against Bradley on the car. Bradley asked him to keep to himself, when Bulman replied with vile words, which were repeated at intervals till the fatal ending. Some declared that only Bulman had talked of fighting. It was agreed that, when a short distance from home, Bradley had pulled off both his under and overcoats, threw them to one of the passengers and grabbed Bulman by the throat, but was soon separated. Some declare again that Bradley grabbed Bulman by the throat.

These witnesses did not exactly agree as to how Bulman got off the car, but most of them assert that he was first seen on the floor of the rear platform, from which he was shoved to the roadway. All admitted that Bradley had both hit and kicked deceased while he was lying on the road, but no one offered the slightest resistance to Bradley or assistance to Bulman.

The enquiry was adjourned till Thursday night.

NEARLY 200 BARS WILL BE CLOSED AS RESULT OF VOTE

Total Up to Date is 193 With Places to Hear From — Prohibitionists Are Dissappointed That There Were so Many Municipalities Where the Liquor Element Was Defeated on a Straight Vote.

Toronto, Jan. 5.—From the 141 places heard from up to last night, the Dominion Alliance has polled a majority in favor of local option in 124 towns and townships, while the license forces won 17.

But of those won by the Alliance, 54 are lost owing to the three-fifths vote clause. Twenty of the towns and townships which were voting on the question are yet to be heard from, but it is hope by the Alliance, that at least half will result favorably.

In the seventeen places held by the antes, by a straight majority there are 83 licenses, while in the 54 towns and districts won by the Alliance, but which are lost by the three-fifths clause, there are 238 bars. In the places which gave more than the majority called for by the Legislature, there are 193 bars. The people of Ontario, therefore, voted to close 431 bars, but 321 of these will remain open.

Even then the gain is a substantial one, and on May 1 there will be fewer bars open in Ontario than ever before in its history, not excepting the period when the Scott Act was in force in the greater part of the province.

"Yes, we are gratified at the results of the local option campaign," said Ben. H. Spence, secretary of the Alliance. "We most certainy beat the liquor men a great deal worse than last year, and if it had not been for the three-fifths' clause we would have had almost a complete victory. One thing I know, that the liquor men are shouting for joy at being able to protect themselves by this means. A clause like this makes it almost impossible to make any headway. We give our whole time to the work, and all we receive is the news that many townships would like to do away with the traffic, but can't get the 60 per cent. vote.

"Never in the history of the temperance movement has the unjustice of this restriction been shown to such a great extent as this year. The larger towns and cities are practically shut out from the benefits of local option."

"There is no doubt but what the people of Ontario are in favor of local option," said President Joseph Gibson. "I believe that I can see the day when we will practically sweep Ontario with our policy. This last campaign has been a big success, and we are not a bit discouraged. I am sure that the next campaign will show even a greater success."

Essex defeated it by three votes less than the necessary three-fifths.

Orangeville carried the bylaw by a majority of 280 votes. Stayner carried it by seven and Alliston by three.

Danwich Township carried it by seven, and Leeds Township by 15. Blyth Village defeated it by three. Chapleau by three, and Keewatin by five on straight majority votes, while Bath defeated it by three due to the necessary three-fifths vote, Burlington by three, Dutton by three, Elora by two, Hespeler by six and Vienna by four.

Amherstburg voted to increase the cost of licenses to $600.

PETERBOROUGH PROTESTANT HOME WILL LOSE ITS GOVERNMENT GRANT

According to the report of Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector, the Peterborough Protestant Home is to lose its government grant on account of the building being unsuitable for the purpose for which it is used.

The report of the inspector is as follows:

An official visit of inspection was paid to the Protestant Home, Peterborough, December 16th, 1909, when there were 7 males, 8 females, a total of 15 inmates in residence.

This Home has for many years been conducted in an old stone building quite unsuitable for the purpose. At each recent visit of inspection I have reported against the accommodation provided. No action has been taken to provide another Home for these old people and the present premises are so unsuitable and the accommodation so poor that the equipment cannot be regarded as sufficiently satisfactory to entitle the Home to receive a Government grant. A certain standard of equipment must be provided. At this Home there are no fire escapes, and the Home lacks the accommodation which the Department requires in institutions receiving Government aid.

The city of Peterborough contributes less than any other place the same size in Ontario towards charity, and in addition to the 15 old people found in residence at this Home on the occasion of my visit, there were a large number of indigent and infirm old people confined in the county gaol. The Grand Jury at the general sessions this month reported as follows in regard to Peterborough gaol: "We cannot but deplore the appearance in the gaol of different persons whose only crime, if such it may be called, is that of poverty. The county possesses a House of Refuge for its indigent poor, but the city has made no provision for such persons. This is a standing reproach to this wealthy community, and its representatives cannot be too strongly urged to take a step, either in the direction of themselves providing for this class of persons or making some arrangement with the county for their being provided for at the County Building."

In view of the fact that at the Protestant Home the accommodation is so poor and the premises so unsuited, I have this day recommended that the Government grant be withdrawn until a proper building with satisfactory equipment is provided.

NECK BROKEN AND HE DIDN'T KNOW IT

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 5.—Ralph Owens of Memphis, 24 years old, walked the streets of St. Louis for ten days with a broken neck and did not know it until he went to Mullany Hospital yesterday to get treatment for rheumatism. He fell ten days ago and since that time his head had been drawn back, but he did not suffer much pain. He may recover.

COPENHAGEN COMMITTEE WHO DECIDED AGAINST DR. COOK.

PRINCE CHRISTIAN
PRESIDENT OF THE GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

DR. A. STROMGREN,
PROFESSOR OF ASTRONOMY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF COPENHAGEN

PROF. C. F. PECHULE, OF THE OBSERVATORY OF COPENHAGEN

CAPT. G. F. HOLM,
DIRECTOR OF NAVAL DEPOTS

THE UNIVERSITY OF COPENHAGEN

MR. LONSDALE WITH THE BOX OF RECORDS LEAVING THE BOAT AT COPENHAGEN

CAPT. C. H. RYDER,
DIRECTOR OF THE METEOROLOGICAL INSTITUTE

CAPT. I. A. D. JENSEN,
DIRECTOR OF NAVIGATION

The accompanying pictures represent the Copenhagen committee who decided adversely to Dr. Cook on the evidence he submitted on his claim to having located the North Pole. They found that his data was insufficient to establish his claim as the pole finder. His documents, they claim, are lacking in astronomical observations. In the centre is shown the University of Copenhagen wherein the investigation of the records was made.

ENGLAND AND UNITED STATES JOIN HANDS

Washington, Jan. 5.—Secretary Knox, British Ambassador Bryce and Baron Do Rio Branca, Brazil's Foreign Minister, will have a conference soon in regard to Central and South America.

The including of Great Britain in this conference, which will involve solely American affairs in which by articles of Monroe and Drago doctrines no European power can directly participate, marks, in the opinion of some well-informed officials, a new order of things.

The conference will be specially notable because it's expected that certain developments relating to th Panama Canal and adjacent zone will be fully gone into from international standpoint.

As far as could be learned England's interest will be confined to certain naval rights, which both the U. S. and Brazil may agree upon. By probable terms of this conference England may become exponent of the Monroe Doctrine in the fullest sense of the word.

CONVENTION OF CONSERVATIVES

Preliminary Committee Will Meet in Ottawa on January 24

Saskatchewan—R. S. Lake, M.P., and three others from the province.

FATAL WRECK NEAR CARBERRY

Carberry, Man., Jan. 5.—In a wreck Monday night on the Canadian Northern four miles south of here, Conductor J. W. Bulger of Winnipeg was killed. He was in charge of a special cleaning up a previous wreck, and sitting in the caboose when it backed into another engine which was not seen owing to steam. The caboose was smashed to kindling, and the two brakemen sleeping in it had marvelous escapes, both being thrown through the splintered walls. One was seriously injured.

Ban Lifted From A.O.H.

Dublin, Jan. 5.—Much interest is created in the announcement of the removal of the ban against the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Scotland. Hitherto Catholics in Scotland were forbidden to join the order. Now, however, Cardinal Rampolla writes that in view of the revision of the rules, the order may be tolerated.

BALFOUR SAYS ONLY PEACE IN EUROPE IS ARMED ONE

Leader of the Unionists Says His Blood Boils When He Hears Germans Says They Will Not Permit Tariff Reform.

London, Jan. 5.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Mr. Balfour, speaking at Hanley last night, said he would confine himself to the navy, Socialists and tariff reform. He hoped and believed that Germany and England would not come into conflict, but said the diplomats and lesser powers did not share this view. He insisted that Britain was now in a position as regards the navy, which she would not be in within the near future. Continuing, he said:

"I don't believe there is going to be war between this country and any great foreign power. Heaven knows I don't desire it. I don't believe it will come, but please remember that absolutely the only way in which you can secure the peace which you all desire is that you shall be sure of victory if war takes place." (Cheers.)

The Empire existed only on sufferance. If the navy was not supreme he was not content to exist on sufferance.

Mr. Balfour, continuing, alleged that Germans unconnected with the Government, but men of position and character, when they heard tariff reform mentioned, actually had the audacity to say, "Do you suppose we should ever allow Britain to adopt tariff reform?" Without wishing to press private conversations excessively, this made his blood boil. It was nearly as necessary to organize our productive capacity as to make adequate our organization of defence.

Socialism, and the budget was avowedly Socialistic, destroyed that confidence without which private enterprise was an absolute impossibility. In every country where a tariff had been applied, there had been increases both in home and foreign trade.

"That is why I say with such confidence that tariff reform, reasonably carried out, will greatly increase the employment for the working class, while the principles underlying the budget will greatly decrease the welfare of those same classes," he asserted.

If the people neglected the chance which the courage and patriotism of the House of Lords had given them, they would bring on themselves deserved misfortune.

"I believe in tariff reform from the viewpoint of the inhabitants of Great Britain, as the best way of raising revenue. It will give needed security to our producers. I also look for its effect beyond the seas. Our fellow-citizens overseas have given us a preference freely, the value whereof is unquestioned. They have given us the lead. Are you going to refuse to follow?"

He refused to associate himself with the party which, when invited by those who were their children to take this plain step for closer unity, had repudiated with scorn the invitation.

Wars Due to the Wealthy.

London, Jan. 5.—Maurice Hewlett, the novelist, has entered the election fight with a two-column manifesto addressed to "Workingmen of England," in which, describing himself as "one of yourselves," he reminds the workers that they form the overwhelming majority of the electorate, and can gain everything they want by two strokes of the pencil in the polling booth.

Mr. Hewlett declares that he intends to vote for a Liberal or a Laborite, because "the House of Lords is a preposterous assembly, which must be abolished in favor of an elected body."

He denounces protectionism as the capitalists' policy, because it enables the creation of rings, corners and trusts, "as they have in the United States, and God keep us from such mischief as that."

Mr. Hewlett declares that the monstrous expenditure for armaments has been maintained solely in the interests of the wealthier classes, "but for whom," he adds, "wars would cease."

ANOTHER DOG SCARE AT GALT

Galt, Jan. 5.—An Irish setter, owner unknown, bit two small girls, and was killed with a club and guns. The head has been sent to Ottawa. The supposition is that the animal was suffering from rabies. The Board of Health will take more stringent measures to suppress the dog nuisance, empowering the police to shoot stray dogs on sight. The whole town is much agitated.

George Bernhardt, president of the License Victuallers' Association, stated yesterday that a recount will be asked for on the local option vote. A loss of nine votes for the bylaw would defeat it. The total number entitled to vote on local option is 2,650—and the total vote polled Monday—2,215—is the largest vote ever polled in Galt.

The first rural mail delivery system in this vicinity will be in operation in the course of a week between Galt and Sheffield.

Detroit's Street Peril.

Detroit, Jan. 5.—As the result of the murder of a little girl a few weeks ago, the kiling of Wm. Keller Sunday night for resenting an insult offered to his wife, and numerous attempted assaults on girls and women, Police Commissioner Croul ordered 150 plainclothes policemen to patrol the city nightly.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The Chilean Cabinet have withdrawn their resignations, tendered Dec. 20.

Dr. Cook's polar data is on its way to Washington to be examined by the National Geographic Society.

Three thousand steamfitters and helpers have gone on strike in Brooklyn and Manhattan for an increase of wages from $5 to $5.50 a day.

In the special message on conservation which President Taft will send to Congress on Monday a loan of thirty million to complete the existing reclamation projects will be suggested.

At Baltimore, Mr. Wm. O. Carter, 35, shot and killed Mrs. Belle Warner, 40, at her home, and then committed suicide. Carter was a married man and was infatuated with the woman.

More than a thousand men have been sent from Chicago to the northwest to take the places of striking switchmen since negotiations for a settlement of the difficulties were closed last Wednesday in St. Paul.

At Smithville, Tenn., Haskell Johnson, a merchant, was shot and killed by J. A. Crowley, an attorney. Johnson had been sued for breach of promise by Crowley's daughter and was under indictment on a serious charge.

Morris Lustig, proprietor of a night watchman service and private detective bureau at New York, was arrested Monday in connection with the death of his wife, who was buried about Nov. 1 at her old home at Milroy, Pa. It is alleged she was poisoned.

PROBABILITIES.

Milder to-day with snow or rain. Thursday colder again and mostly fair.

SIR WILFRID PAYS VISIT TO TORONTO

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived in Toronto this morning by the C.P.R. train from Ottawa.

He left his car at 8.30, when he was met by the reception committee of the Ontario Club and escorted to the King Edward Hotel, where he is the guest of the club during his stay in town.

This evening he will formally open the Ontario Club at a banquet in the handsome home on Bay street of the newest addition to Toronto's social organizations.

No public engagements are on the tapis for Thursday.

COAL STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OFF

Montreal, Jan. 5.—It is said here that the Nova Scotia coal strikes which have been on for the past five months will be declared off by the U.M.W.A. shortly after their annual convention at Indianapolis on the 18th inst.

At Springhill, where there are one thousand men out, the company will not be able to take back more than three or four hundred miners, as business has been as good as destroyed, and will be a year at least before the Cumberland Coal & Railway Co. will be able to employ the number of men now idle around the mines.

PERISH IN FIRE

Conflagation at Fort William Results in Four Deaths—Other Tragedies

Fort William, Jan. 5.—Four persons were burned to death in a fire which broke out early yesterday morning in F. H. Babcock's boarding-house, 603 McKellar street. Five others were more or less seriously injured by jumping from windows, and the eleven remaining occupants escaped in their night clothes, emerging into an atmosphere of 20 below zero.

The dead are: Hepson, an oiler in the Ogilvie mills; Anders Sorenson, a railway laborer; Mina Clysolie, a kitchen girl; and a Chinese cook, name unknown.

The injured are: Mrs. Littlejohn, an invalid (probably fatally), J. McKay, J. Macdonald, George Fulesay, and Mr. Littlejohn. All these people were hurt by jumping.

The fire started at 4.15 from a defective furnace.

Saw Her Child Burned to Death.

Westwood, Mich., Jan. 5.—Unable to rescue her seven-year-old daughter from their burning home, Mrs. F. Halsen was compelled Monday night to stand by the house and see her child burn to death. It is feared she will lose her mind.

Infant Cremated.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—The four months' infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Woods, near Dalmeny, Osgoode Township, was burned to death yesterday. There were five children in the house when the parents were away, but four escaped. It was burned to the ground. It is understood the father was away voting.

New Babe In Peril.

Windsor, Jan. 5.—When fire broke out in the home of Dennis Butler on Monday night, Butler was away from home and his wife, who was confined to her bed, had not the strength to leave the burning house with her two small children and a babe only six days old. Neighbors carried Mrs. Butler and two children out, but the babe was still there when the fire department arrived. Fire Chief Murray rescued it.

FORGETS SPEECH; KILLS HIMSELF

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 5.—Because he could not remember part of his address, which he was to deliver at a banquet Monday evening, Judge John C. Vovis, 32 years old, committed suicide by shooting himself through the brain with a revolver.

Judge Vovis, who was a conspicuous member of the Kentucky Bar and well-known as an after-dinner speaker, was one of the orators at a New Year's celebration here. When he arose to address the audience, his memory failed him, and after several attempts to continue, he abruptly left the room.

Monday evening the janitor of the building in which Judge Vovis' chambers were located, stumbled over the corpse of the jurist, when he went to clean up the judge's office.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN CRIMINAL COURT

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 5.—A dramatic spectacle was furnished in the Criminal Court here yesterday, when Mrs. W. F. Jackson, the violinist, told the story of assault at the hands of George Reynolds and John Williams, negroes, on the night of Dec. 23, last.

Barely able to tell her story in low tones to the jury, Mrs. Jackson had literally to be held upright in her chair till she could finish her testimony.

Pointing her finger at the two prisoners, she fairly screamed: "Those are the men; those are the men."

Later she fell fainting from her chair.

NOTED AERONAUT KILLED BY FALL

Bordeau, Jan. 5.—Leon de la Grange, the noted French aeronaut, was killed while making a flight here yesterday.

He fell with his machine from a height of about 65 feet and was crushed under the weight of the wreckage. He had been flying in a wind that was gusty, and which frequently blew at the rate of 20 miles an hour. As he was turning at high speed against the wind the left wing of the monoplane broke and the other wing collapsed.

De la Grange ranked among the first of the aviators of the world. On Dec. 30 last, at Juvisy, he broke all speed records in an attempt to win the Michelin Cup. He failed to beat Farman's record for distance, but established a new distance record for monoplanes and a new world's speed record, covering 124 miles in 2 hours and 32 minutes, and maintaining an average speed of approximately 40 miles an hour. De la Grange had been a well-known automobilist and was one of the first men in Europe to take up aviation.

In Tennessee at the close of the old year 41 distilleries and 5 large breweries.

All of the 150 men who worked on the collapsed McKinley Bridge at St. Louis escaped.

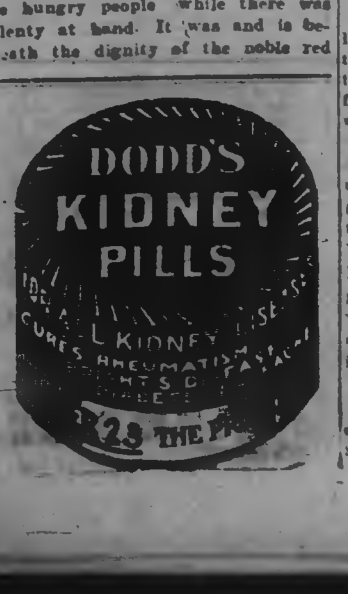
THE NAVAL POLICY

Winnipeg Telegram (Con.): It all gets back to this, that the present is no time for Canada to consider her permanent naval policy. It is an emergency situation that we have to meet; it is an emergency naval policy that we ought to devise. The consideration of our permanent naval policy can wait till we are in calmer weather. Five years, in all human probability, will see the Anglo-German naval rivalry settled one way or the other. Surely the money or the ships which we might supply direct to Great Britain in that short period of time cannot lessen the respect we owe and concede ourselves as a self-governing State; it cannot surely bring into form and substance any of the phantom direction which looms so large in the middle of the advocates of a local navy.

HUNGER

Lloyd-George says that the Liberals will keep up the compaign in Britain until hunger is banished from the land. Good! This is a very praiseworthy idea. But Great Britain has Free Trade now and yet never had so many hungry and unemployed people before, at least not in modern times. It cannot therefore be by means of Free Trade that the Liberals propose to banish hunger. That would be too grim a joke. It cannot be, also, by means of taxation, for taxation direct or indirect cannot feed the hungry. In a proper sense, the only way to feed the hungry is by giving them employment and if Canada threw down her tariff-walls today one-half of out industries would pass to the U. S. or Gt. Britain and perhaps Germany. Nor is it by bringing the landlords' idle land into agricultural use that it can be done since there is much idle land in Britain now, actually going to waste. If it is by providing employment that Lloyd-George proposes to feed the people he will put on a measure of tariff-reform. The manufacturing of British goods done in Germany for the British market alone would feed all Britain's unemployed. But no matter what is done there will be the unfed whether large or small in number.

Amongst the Red Indians it was accounted a disgrace, as it is amongst the Eskimo to-day, that there should be hungry people while there was plenty at hand. It was and is beneath the dignity of the noble red man to make money or his pile out of the sufferings of others. Unlike less enlightened people he allowed his humanitarian feelings to overcome his greed and by a noble sympathy did that which even dogs will on occasion do for each other. To such base uses have we come that it is necessary according to Lloyd-George to exalt the feeding of the poor or unfortunate to be a measure of state. It is quite evident that the fault lies primarily with ourselves. The rapacity and stolid cunning of to-day has succeeded the humble and simple virtues of a finer age. Let us take stock and return to them. They exist amongst the poor already. It is the rich who need instruction in the elementary principles of human conduct.



MISSIONARY GIVING

(Literary Digest.)

The fact that John S. Kennedy, of New York, left more than $15,000,000 to Presbyterian Missions and other Protestant religious work gives the Roman Catholic missionary journal Extension (Chicago) an opportunity of contrasting in a noticeable editorial the liberality of Protestants with Roman Catholic indifference on the subject of foreign missions. It notes that this is not the first time Protestants have made princely gifts to the work of foreign evangelization, while the contrary is the case with Roman Catholics. To quote this writer's words:—

"Though this news was considered worthy of special note by all papers, yet it is not so very extraordinary to hear of wealthy Protestants getting rid of their fortunes, when they no longer need them, in such a manner. The interest aroused in Mr Kennedy's donations was only because of their magnificent proportions. The fact itself seems to concern Catholics very little. But both the fact and the details indirectly concern us greatly, for it forces us into considering what we do not do. Then, too, a little thought brings out some most extraordinary bits of information For example, do you ever realise that there has never been, in all the history of the Catholic Church in North America, an even ordinarily notable legacy from a wealthy Catholic to the cause of Catholic missions! There have been a few legacies which caused a slight lifting of the eyebrows—because they were unexpected—but we can not now recall a single legacy for Catholic missions, home or foreign, which amounted even to $100,000. Yet, such legacies as these to Protestant missions are quite ordinary. It takes a magnificent gift like John S. Kennedy's to cause any special enthusiasm whatever among Protestant missionary organizations."

The Roman Catholics of the United States, we are told, is a mere parishman. It is a parochialism which is stopping the flow of funds toward the foreign field, declares Extension. Nor is is true that there are no Roman Catholics wealthy enough to do as Protestants do. To quote further;—

"Of course, it will be said that Catholics are not wealthy and that, therefore, great gifts to our works must of necessity be rare. We are not talking about the rarity of them, however, the point is, that there are none whatever. We have seen a list of American and Canadian Catholics who are worth over a million dollars each. The length of it would surprise you. So it is not strictly true to say that Catholics are not wealthy enough to make large donations and leave notable legacies to the cause of missions. The list shows that there is plenty of wealth in the Church of the United States and Canada. Catholics simply have not thought about missions, have not had the lesson of missions placed before them properly; in other words, they do not consider the general needs of the Church and do not find encouragement to consider them. They are parishmen entirely. Consequently when they feel that local church interests are taken care of; when they feel that it is better to divide among all the responsibility for that local work; when they feel that their gifts have the effect of injuring religion by depriving others of a chance to merit by giving; when they feel that our hospitals, orphan asylums, and protectories are often materially assisted by the State, as in New York; then they conclude that there is no reason for leaving money to anything but the enrichment of their relatives, or, now and then, to works of a public nature.

"Having trained all our people as parishmen, rather than churchmen, we can scarcely complain when they treat the University at Washington as only a part of the diocese of Baltimore, the societies for foreign missions as works of the Church in France, and the Catholic Church Extension Societies as Chicago and Toronto institutions. We have made this condition ourselves and, wonderful to say, we seem not overanxious to change it. But, as a consequence of this condition, a most interesting situation presents itself. At the present rate of assisting Catholic missions in the United States and Canada, it will take us about thirty-five years, with all our societies working together at their present capacity, to even equal the death donation of this one man—John S. Kennedy—to a single Protestant sect."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Some people think that the best religion is the easiest and comfort themselves accordingly. A man is apt to set up his own mere physical preference as his creed. It's a queer world.

The Ottawa Free Press in descanting upon the virtues of the Ottawa-Georgian Bay Canal, points to the good the G.T.P. has done Peterborough. Yes, the Shovel Works have failed. Next! As to its remarks on racial prejudices the Review's articles are written to texts furnished by and quoted from French journals. There is where all the "honor" reclines.

"Our new warship, the Rainbow, is a second-class cruiser of 3,600 tons. She has been on the China station, and has served in other parts of the world, and was recently ordered to be 'scrapped,' or sold for the old iron that is in her. To the Royal navy she is of no use. But no doubt she will be good enough for us, seeing that she is to take part in no British war."—The Mail and Empire.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—"A fortnightly service between Naples and Montreal will be initiated next spring.

"Some years ago the Italian Government was undecided whether to encourage or check emigration. It was feared that the country was being depopulated, but evidently the fact that the emigrants send $80,000,000 yearly to Italy was considered sufficient proof that emigration was beneficial to the country. Consequently it is now openly encouraged.

It is pointed out that the danger of depopulation does not exist, since a large proportion of the emigrants return to their native towns after making enough money to enable them to lead an independent life."

This is a "curious" way of populating and enriching a country. It shows how absurd statistics may become.

A SECRET OF THE PAST

Revived for Use of Modern Men

For twenty centuries the secret of the wonderful balms with which the gladiators and charioteers of Ancient Greece and Rome healed their wounds lay undiscovered. Zam-Buk is the modern counterpart of these balms, and owes its great success to the same root cause—it is purely vegetable. Since its discovery Zam-Buk has been welcomed in mansion and cottage.

The reasons for this triumph of science are simple and few. Taking a lesson from the Ancients, the proprietors of Zam-Buk first of all wisely decided that the ideal balm must be purely herbal and contain not the slightest trace and rancid animal fats or poisonous minerals. Thus Zam-Buk is made solely from the rich and pure essences obtained from certain rare medicinal herbs. These juices and extracts are prepared and refined by ingenious scientific processes and then so skilfully blended that a unique, effective, and yet perfectly natural skin healer is secured.

Zam-Buk has an affinity for the human skin such as no ordinary ointment or liniment can possibly possess. Besides soothing pain and allaying irritation, it possesses high antiseptic qualities, and solves the problem of always having handy at home or at one's work an ever-ready and reliable first-aid for cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, lacerations, scratches, etc. Zam-Buk is without equal for eczema, ulcers, piles, bad leg, ringworm, scalp sores, festering sores, sprains, stiffness, poisoned wounds of all kinds, face sores, frost bites, sore feet, diseased ankles, and all itching, irritation and inflammation.

Zam-Buk is a daily need in every household, and is sold by all druggists and stores at fifty cents a box. Refuse harmful and dangerous substitutes sometimes "pushed" as being "just as good." They are not!

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Must Resign Before He Runs.

Montreal, Jan. 5.—The Socialists have decided to put a candidate in the field, but made the condition that he write his resignation immediately undated and that if he did not suit the men who chose him, they could date the resignation and send it in. The choice fell on Albert St. Martin, court stenographer, who has run for municipal and provincial honors and once lost his deposit.

Ptomaine Poisoning Kills Four.

Sawtell, Col., Jan. 5.—Four persons are dead here and six are critically ill of ptomaine poisoning caused by eating canned pears on Sunday at the home of Mrs. B. G. Valdez. The dead are Mrs. A. Fernandez and her two-year-old daughter; Mrs. B. G. Valdez, mother of Mrs. Fernandez, and Frank Garcie, eight years old, grandson of Mrs. Valdes. The police are investigating.

Saved Family First.

Montreal, Jan. 5.—Arthur F. Craig, 54 Selby street, saved the lives of his wife and six-year-old boy from the flames yesterday morning, then notified the people in the next house and called the firemen. He had lit the heater in the hall at 7.30 and it set fire to the floor.

SPORTING NEWS

TWO FAST GAMES BILLED FOR TO-NIGHT

Strathconas and Keene Meet in First Game of the City Hockey League. West Ends and T. A. S. Clash in the Second.

With Bill Rose as referee and four fast teams as contestants and the interest at fever height, the City Hockey League will open the hockey season at Brock street rink to-night and from all indications the crowd on hand to witness the double header will be a bumper one.

The fast and clever team from Keene will meet the Strathconas in the first game at eight o'clock, and the struggle for honors promises to be a hard one. The visitors have a great defence and their wing line is composed of players who are both fast skaters and fancy stick handlers. McDougall, who will play with the Peterborough intermediate team, will work at cover and the local fans will have an opportunity to judge for themselves as to his merits as a hockey player.

The Strathconas will place their best team on the ice and are confident of winning. The players had a good workout last night and are in good shape.

The line-up of the two teams follows:

Keene		Strathconas
	Goal
Dinsdale		Derocher
	Point.
Dickson		Dennison
	Cover.
McDougall		Dusty
	Rover
Smith		Ray
	Centre
Weir		Burritt
	Right Wing
McIntyre		McMillan
	Left Wing.
McCarthy		Weatherston

In the second contest the West Ends will meet the T. A. S. seven. For the former team, Manager Oldham has gathered together players whose work has been too well known in the past to need any further comment. The team is a well balanced one and are looking for a victory. The Abstainers will be there with the goods labelled O.K. The stars of last year's Lakefield champion team will be on the line-up and all are showing better form than in any previous season. McNichol of Norwood will perform at left wing and Len Giroux, who has been wanted by every team in the league, will guard the nets.

The following is the line-up of the teams:

West Ends		T. A. S.
	Goal
Halpin		L. Giroux
	Point
Monroe		M. Sabitino
	Cover
Seymour		Quigley
	Rover
Crane		Coughlin
	Centre
Dobson		L. Sabitino
	Right wing
Shortt		Moran
	Left wing
C. Giroux		McNichol

For admission to both games, gentlemen will be admitted for 15 cents, ladies 10 cents and children 10 cents.

SHOOTING AT ARMOURIES

Competition to Decide the Winner of "Best Shot Badge" to be Concluded To-night

The following members of the 57th Regiment are required to parade at the shooting gallery in the armories to-night at 8 p.m. for the purpose of shooting off a tie to decide the winner of the "Best Shot Badge" for 1909: Corp. Shaughnessy and Pte. Simmons, of B Company; Sergts. Mitchell and Wylie, of D Company; Ptes. Elliott and Brown, of G Company, and Corp. Brightman of the Signallers.

Y.M.C.A. DOINGS

All members of any team are requested to be at the gymnasium to-night at 8 p.m. and ready to play their game off so that they will not interfere with the game to follow. The Y.M.C.A. team will play the Normal School at 9 p.m.

Hereafter there will be two games played every Wednesday and Saturday nights. Members kindly make note and remember.

There will be a meeting of the gymnasium leaders on Saturday night to decide as to whether there will be a return engagement of the circus. The circus proved a wonderful success and if the Leaders can find time to put it on at the closing of the season, they will do so.

The Junior Basketball League will start next Thursday and practice will start immediately.

All gymnasium classes are now in normal condition.

If there is any one that would care for any individual instruction in the gymnasium, the physical director is at liberty and would be only to glad to do anything that he can.

GALT VS OTTAWA

First Game for the Stanley Cup to be Played To-night—Fred Doherty Will Play for Galt

The Galt professional hockey team plays its first game with Ottawa tonight for the Stanley Cup.

Manager Buck Irving, of the Galt team, claims it will be a case of players without reputations playing against players with reputations who are not a bit better.

It is not expected that the crowd at to-night's game will be large, as compared with other Stanley Cup games.

The lineup will be:—

Galt—Lehman, Charlton, Murphy, Manson, Wallen, Dusome and Doherty.

Ottawa—Lesueur, Lake, Ken Mallen, Stuart, Walsh, Ridpath and Shore.

Russell Bowie and Duncan Campbell will act as referees.

On Friday night Galt will substitute McDonald, Serves and Cochrane.

NEWSY NOTES FROM THE VILLAGE OF NORWOOD

Norwood, Jan. 3.—The nominations in the Town Hall last Monday evening before D. R. O. Jas. Calder resulted in the 1909 council and old members of the school board being returned by acclamation.

The nominations were as follows:

For Reeve—

A. Breault, by Chas. O. Reilly and J. Robb.

For Councillors—

H. Fry, by C. W. Waters and J. F. Pearce.

C. J. Blake, by J. G. Keeper and J. Alf. Finlay.

J. A. Robb, by H. J. Moore and Chas. O'Reilly.

A. B. Greenbank, by AA. Breault and J. Doherty.

For School Trustees—

F. Anderson, by C. W. Waters and A. Kempt.

E. P. Cuffe, by C. O'Reilly and T. Watson.

J. F. Elliott, by W. T. Buck and M. Brown.

After the nominations were closed the members elect were given an opportunity of addressing the meeting. Only a few embraced the opportunity, while the others beat a hasty retreat.

Reeve Breault in a neat little speech outlined the work of the council for the past year. He thought the village had acted wisely in issuing the cement walks debentures. He quoted figures to prove that the cost of streets and sidewalks was considerably lessened since the issuing of the debentures.

Mr. Richard Garven, of Norwood, was the victim of a very painful accident last Friday, when he sustained a compound fracture of the leg. Mr. Garven was driving a team of horses attached to a wood sleigh into the woods for a load when one of the whiffletrees caught on the end of a sapling or pole lying by the roadway and bent it to such an extent that when it was released by the horses moving along flew back with such force that the leg was broken like a pipe stem. The injuries were attended to as well as possible after which Mr. Garven was driven to Norwood where Dr. Ford attended to his injuries. The doctor pronounced it a very bad break as the bones were considerably splintered but the injured man is doing well under the skilful care of Dr. Ford.

Mr. Jas. L. Johnson and Mr. W. B. Liverotte have suddenly sprung into prominence in the sporting world by the capture of a fox on New Year's day. In the early morning the nimrods sallied forth with plenty of dogs, guns and ammunition, but guns and ammunition were only a hindrance as they were only the means of making Mr. Fox run the harder. Had it not been for the staying qualities of the dogs the story would have been different but they stayed hot on the trail until near night when the poor fox was glad to take shelter in a hollow log. But it was only a forlorn hope, the faithful and persevering hunters were at hand in short order and the rest of the story can easily be imagined. The fox was carried home in triumph and a couple of desperately tired men were more than delighted with their day's sport.

Mr. Arthur Copp, of the C.N.R., Sask., is home on a visit.

Misses Ethel and Nellie McAllister, of West Toronto, were the guests of Miss Stella Armstrong, on Saturday and Sunday.

Watchnight service was held in St. John's church on New Year's eve at midnight.

Mr. S. Wright has opened the Strathcona rink at the west end with a sheet of ice 60 x 100 feet in size.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Joseph Frost opened his rink at the corner of George and Quebec streets.

Mrs. Wm. Arnold, of Chicago, a niece of Mrs. Isaac Barlow, of town, died on Tuesday last.

Miss Elsie Tandy, of Kingston, formerly of town, was married on Christmas day to Dr. Samuel Samuel McCallum, of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mr. John J. Buchanan, of Toronto, has moved to town, and is residing in Mr. C. W. Coon's dwelling on Victoria street.

The opening of the Amity Club took place on Friday evening last, when a large number were present, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The first part of the evening was spent at progressive euchre, and afterwards enjoyed themselves at dancing.

Miss Fry, of Norwood, was the guest of Miss Armstrong on Friday last.

The following is taken from the "Moon," Milford, Sask.:—

"A very pretty, but quiet wedding, was solemnized at Beatty Methodist church on Wednesday, Dec. 15th when Mr. Wm. H. Menzie was married to Miss Laura May Lobb.

At 3.30 the bridal party took their place at the altar, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Tuffe Lobb, sister of the bride.

The bride was charmingly attired in white satin de chene, and wore a veil, which was daintily arranged with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss S. Lobb, sister of the bride, was prettily dressed in white. Mr. Arthur Turner acted as groomsman, and Rev. D. B. Kennedy pronounced the ceremony.

At the conclusion of the ceremony congratulations were extended, after which an elegant supper was served at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas E. Lobb.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring and a gold chain; to the bridesmaid, a gold brooch; the organist was the recipient of a signet ring, and the groom of a pair of gold cuff links.

The bride's travelling suit was Scotch tougue cloth and she wore a cream satin hat, trimmed with chiffon and plumes.

The happy couple left amid showers of rice on the evening train for Havelock, Ont., the former home of the groom."

The report of the election received from Oak Lake and Lasswade gives Mr. Jas. Kitchen, of Belmont, fourth place in the council by a majority of five over Mr. Robert McCutcheon. The council will, therefore, consist of W. Griffith, Thomas McConnel, A. Wilde and Jas. Kitchen, with Mr. James Russel as Reeve.

In Havelock the Council will consist of Reeve Knox, and Councillors Weese, Young, Philips and Toman. Mr. S. S. Joyce, the defeated candidate for Reeve, who was defeated by 20 votes, has stated that he will apply to the Judge for a re-count in sub-division No. 4.

WALTER MILLER JUMPS CONTRACT

Prince Albert, Sask., Jan. 4.—Walter Miller, who was engaged here by the local hockey club to play this season, was to-day summoned to appear in police court to-morrow morning. Miller was on the train leaving for Edmonton when Chief McDermott handed him the summons. The Edmonton team were anxious to get Miller to play for the Stanley Cup, but the local club refused to let him go. Miller had transportation from here to Edmonton and Ottawa sent him by the Edmonton team. His case will come up to-morrow.

THE RING

Dick Baren has been Jim Jeffries' private secretary ever since Jim swam half a mile out to sea at Allenhurst—Jim was training then for the Corbett fight—and rescued Dick from drowning.

Dick came to New York last night on a flying trip. He left Jeffries in St. Louis and will rejoin him in Chicago at the end of the week. Dick has been with Jeffries for eleven years and has seen all of his training for big fights since he won the world's championship.

"I won't say that Jeffries is ready to fight to-day," said Baren, "but he's in as fine shape as I ever saw him at the beginning of a training season, and when he fights Johnson he'll surely be better than even before in his life. Jim never did train more than six weeks for a fight. This time he is going to train for six months. He's working hard now every day—much harder than Gotch, who is travelling about with the show.

"The Blue Mouse"

The announcement of the engagement of "The Blue Mouse" at the Grand Theatre, Tuesday, Dec. 11, with Mabel Barrison, the popular Canadian girl, and Harry Conor, the well-known comedian, at the head of the original Lyric Theatre, New York cast, and production is one of great interest to theatre-goers.

"The Blue Mouse" has never been seen in Canada, and it is only by chance that the local playgoers will have an opportunity to see the original company. Mabel Barrison asked the Shuberts as a special favor, to permit her to play her native city, Toronto, during New Year's week at the head of her own company. This request was granted, and through a change of bookings it was made possible for the company to play several other Canadian cities at the end of the Toronto engagement, before going back into the States for a prolonged tour among the principal cities.

The play is said to be extremely funny and is by Clyde Fitch, the author of "Girls." It tells the story of a young man who engages a Salome dancer to impersonate his wife, flirt with his employer, and endeavor to secure for him a much coveted promotion.

NEW SECRETARY TREASURER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. G. H. Thompson Appointed to the Position Lef Vacant by the Resignation of Mr. W. G. Morrow—He Has Had Thorough Instruction in the Work.

At last night's meeting of the Board of Education Mr. G. H. Thompson, who holds a responsible position with the Toronto Savings and Loan Company was appointed secretary-secretary-treasurer of the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. W. G. Morrow.

The resignation was as follows:

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

Gentlemen,—I hereby tender my resignation as secretary-treasurer of your Board, and in doing so I wish to thank every member of the Board for the kindness and consideration which I have at all times received at their hands.

I have held the office for nearly a quarter of a century, and my associations with the members of the Board will be amongst the most pleasant of my recollections, and it is with great regret that I sever my connections with you.

Yours faithfully,
W. G. MORROW.

In moving that the resignation be accepted Dr. Burnham and Mr. Robt. Fair expressed their regret at the resignation of Mr. Morrow. He had always put forth his best efforts on behalf of the Board of Education while in the discharge of his duties, and their associations, as well as those of the other members, with him, had always been of the most pleasant.

Messrs. John Crane and W. H. Hill also made a few remarks, in which they expressed their regrets and congratulated Mr. Morrow on being elevated to the honorable position of Mayor of the city of Peterborough.

Mayor-elect W. G. Morrow expressed his thanks to the Board for the flattering remarks made to him. He said that it was a source of great regret for him to sever his connection with the Board. He had always thoroughly enjoyed the work and his associations with the members. When he was appointed secretary there were only 22 teachers on the staff, while to-day there are 80. The demand of the Board was $14,000, while last year it was $55,000. The monthly pay roll is now $5,200. He again thanked the Board for their many courtesies.

Following Mr. Morrow's reply, the chairman read a communication from Mr. G. H. Thompson, who applied for the position of secretary-treasurer, and on motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. B. F. Ackerman, he was appointed.

Mr. D. W. Dumble also was much in favor of the appointment of Mr. Thompson. He had officiated in the absence of Mr. Morrow on different occasions, and in this, as well as in smaller details of the work, he had shown himself to be thoroughly competent.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE GETS CHAIR VACATED BY MR. E. F. MASON

Board of Education With Full Power to Act Unanimously Elected Him in Recognition of His Long and Faithful Services—Is One of the Oldest Members.

Mr. D. W. Dumble will be a member of the Board of Education for the year 1910. He was elected unanimously last night to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. E. F. Mason. While Mr. Dumble was defeated at the polls, the Board realize that he should receive some recognition of his faithful services, and while it is an honor to Mr. Dumble, the Board of Education benefits, as the step taken by that body indicates that he is a valued colleague. It was the last meeting of the Board of Education for 1909; and Mr. Dumble fills a position vacated by one of its members.

Mr. W. H. Hill brought up the matter after Mr. Dumble had been asked to retire for a short time. He explained the situation to the other members of the Board, and read the following letter which he had received from Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr.:

W. H. Hill, Esq., Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your inquiry we beg to state that the vacancy on the Board of Education, caused by the resignation of Mr. E. F. Mason, should be filled by the remaining members of the Board at their first meeting. The matter is governed by section seven of the Board of Education Act (1909) which enacts that: "Where the office of an elected member becomes vacant from any cause before the expiration of the term for which he was elected, the remaining members of the Board shall, at the first meeting after the vacancy occurs, elect some duly qualified person to fill the vacancy, and the person so elected shall hold office for the remainder of the term for which his predecessor was elected.

Yours truly,
Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. W. H. Hill, seconded by Dr. Burnham, and carried:

Whereas Mr. Ernest F. Mason's resignation as member of this Board was accepted by the Board on the 27th day of December last, and it is necessary that some other duly qualified person should be elected by this Board in the place.

Therefore, be it resolved that Mr. D. W. Dumble be hereby elected a member of this Board in place of the said E. Mason, and to hold office for the remainder of the term for which the said E. F. Mason was elected.

Mr. Dumble said that this was really a surprise to him. He had thought that he would retire and he had allowed his name to go on to the electors, but they saw fit to give him not enough votes to elect him. He came to the Board when there was some little excitement over several big questions. These have been overcome, and to-day Peterborough schools and teachers are in the front ranks. He had always enjoyed his associations with the members of the Board and in face of that fact he would accept the election. This was received with applause.

REV. J. R. WEBB GAVE OPINION

The following statement in last night's Review was contributed by Rev. J. R. Webb and not by Rev. W. C. Riddiford;

"The result of yesterday's vote is in no sense a defeat. Peterborough is the largest place that has pronounced upon the question, and we send up a majority of five hundred and ten votes against the bar room. The handicap is too great. The Ontario Government will be forced before long to revise their conclusions in this regard. The map is getting too white to be disregarded any longer.

Again—if forty-seven who voted against this measure in our city had voted for it, the three-fifths would have been secured. The responsibility for the bar during the next three years rests upon the leaders in the Christian Church, who made no attemp to aid in securing this forty-seven. No amount of professed penitence can undo what has been done during the past ten days in our city. Let no Macbeth rise to say:

"Thou can'st not say I did it,
Shake not thy gory locks at me."

Peterborough will not wait three years, or even two, for such a radical change as will awaken some people. As it was, the technical defeat is largely due, despite the injustice of the three-fifths clause to the help given by those who were supposed to aid in the carrying out of such measures, bu who, as a matter of fact, proved the best friends of its opponents."

PAST YEAR WAS SATISFACTORY

Annual Meeting of Charlotte St. Ladies Aid—Thank Offering Was Large

Most satisfactory reports were presented at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Charlotte st. Methodist church yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of the members and much interest was taken in the proceedings. The thank-offering of the Society this year amounted to $124.45.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. W. Stocker.
Vice-President—Mrs. Morley Lyle.
Secretary—Mrs. Wm. Galbraith.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. H. McClennan.
Treasurer—Mrs. Lyle, by acclamation.
[illegible]

LICENSE REDUCTION

The optionists having failed to persuade the required number of the electors that Local Option is the best way of imposing restrictions upon the retail liquor trade, have about decided to ask for further license reduction. This will mean that the City Council will be asked to say if the present number of licenses in the city cannot reasonably be reduced. License-reduction is the method most commended by a large number of citizens who voted against Local Option on the ground that bars are preferable to blind pigs. The point to be debated then will be how far reduction may ensue without bringing into being the "blind pig."

LOCAL OPTION VOTE

(The Toronto News)

As yet the returns are incomplete, but it is already clear that, as a result of yesterday's voting, one-half of Ontario will be dry. To be more exact, fifty per cent. of the eight hundred and sixty municipalities which comprise the Province will be altogether free of the bar-room. Already three hundred and thirty-four are in the no-license column, and yesterday's victories, when they are all known, should bring the total well over four hundred.

It is particularly noteworthy that, in spite of the trouble experienced in enforcing the law in Owen Sound, several other large towns have voted out the bar. Among these are Collingwood, Orillia, Uxbridge, Strathroy, Orangeville, Newmarket, Galt and Brampton. The fact that the three-fifths clause prevented local option successes in about fifty other places—notably in Brantford—will stir up fresh opposition to that feature of Provincial legislation, but it is by no means certain that the clause will not yet prove a rock of defence against repeal in many communities—especially in case of a temporary ebb in that prohibition tide which at present is at the flood. It is a point worth noting that only ten attempts at repeal were made this year, and of these only two succeeded. Hensall and Grimsby abolished the bars under the old bare majority vote, and now they get back on the same terms. In Grimsby special local conditions exerted a powerful influence.

ONLY SHOUTED TO "THE KIDS"

Young Children in Court Denies Having Called Any Names—Were Discharged With a Warning

All parties interested in the case called at the police court yesterday morning, but was not proceeded with, on account of the absence of the defendants, were present this morning, and after hearing the evidence, the Magistrate warned the young offenders and allowed them to go.

The complainant stated that she and her husband had been called names by the children on the street, and she wished to have the practice stopped. The two children in court were the chief offenders.

The two children denied having called any names, but admitted thay had been in the habit of shouting while on the street at play. This was to warn "the kids" to get out of the way while they were coasting. The larger of the witnesses said that the complainant had called her "a black little brat."

There was some amusement caused during the proceedings by the mother of one of the defendants "butting in," and the Magistrate had to advise her to keep quiet, or suffer the indignity of being put out of the court room.

HAS TAKEN OVER THE BUSINESS

Mr. W. H. Gould New Proprietea of Majestic Billiard Parlor and Bowling Alleys

Mr. W. H. Gould has taken over the popular establishment, the Majestic billiard parlors and bowling alleys, 368 Water street, which have been successfully conducted for the past three years by Mr. J. T. Smythe.

The premises are attractive and up-to-date and Mr. Gould, who is well-known in the city, should be favored with an excellent patronage. He will be pleased to welcome any of his old friends at his newly acquired place of business.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM DAVIDSON

The death occurred at her home in Otonabee on Sunday of Mrs. William Davidson. She was thirty-nine years of age and had only been ill a short time. Her demise will be heard of with deep regret by a wide circle of friends. She is survived by her husband and three sons, the oldest of whom is eight years of age. Two brothers and two sisters also survive. The brothers are Robert Williamson, of Toronto, and David Williamson of New Liskeard, and the sisters are Mrs. A. Cunningham, of Moosejaw, Sask., and Miss Agnes Williamson of the same place. The late Mrs. Davidson was born at Fowler's Corners.

The funeral took place to Keene cemetery Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. MacDonald, pastor of the Keene Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a member.

EDGAR BARKEY.

Edgar, the nine-months old son of Mr. John Barkey, of this city, died at Lindsay on Tuesday, at the residence of Mr. Crail Frost, where Mr. and Mrs. Barkey were on a visit. The body will be brought to Peterborough on the G.T.R. noon train from Lindsay, and the funeral will take place from the station to the Little Lake cemetery to-morrow.

Family Injured by Snow Plough Near Woodstock--Two Not Expected to Live

Special to the Review.

Woodstock, Jan. 5.—Ernest, Harry and Marion Zuselt, children of a farmer living near Beachville, who came here a few months ago from near Peterborough, were struck by a C.P.R. snow plow when crossing the track in a cutter last evening. Harry escaped injury, but the other two were picked up unconscious with fractured skulls. They were brought to hospital here. The boy's skull was trephined, but there is little hope of recovery.

Nearly all the trawlers and lighters off Oporto have been swept out to sea.

Because he forgot his speech at a banquet Judge John C. Bowes, of Georgetown, Ky., took his life.

LETTER FROM FATHER TO SON

The Rev. J. G. Potter, president of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, this morning received the following letter from his father, James S. Potter, Sailors' Missionary, who has been for the last forty years a strong temperance worker along practical lines:

Upper Canada Tract Society,
Toronto, Jan. 4th, 1910.

Dear Son.—Do not be discouraged. I was sorry when I read the papers this morning to find there were not sufficient good and true men in Peterborough to stand by you, and your co-workers.

The one redeeming feature in the matter is that over 500 of a majority were for the abolition of the bar, which to hotelkeepers means a great deal. I believe these defeats will ultimately defeat the government. Nevertheless, you have fought a good fight and now with a conscience void of offence towards God and man you can pursue your work with a head high and lifted up, and any Christian men who either did not vote at all, or voted against the by-law have a conscience that must smite them as they read daily of the results of the business they are co-partners in.

Love to all,
Your loving father,
J. S. POTTER.

It is true that the consciences of many are smiting them already. One young man who was put on the lists in June last, with a companion by a local hotelkeeper, and who voted on Monday as a resident where he lives in the township has found his conscience troubling him and has confessed.

But what of the awful results already. Yesterday at 5 p.m. a prominent professional man helped to his home a blacklist man hopelessly drunk who was carrying a flask of whiskey in his pocket. The names of the men who procured it were secured. Last night the man escaped from his home and was landed in the hospital late last night.

At 8 p.m. another member of the League picked a man up who was lying helplessly drunk across the railway tracks. He was dressed as a shantyman, and would have been frozen stiff had not succor been given at that time.

Yesterday in daylight the son of one who had publicly denounced the propaganda of the temperance people was taken to his home in a drunken condition. These are sad things to relate, but how can it be otherwise?

What home is going to pay the toll next?

It is a certainty now that the men who want the bar are in the minority.

Yours sincerely,
J. G. POTTER.

Note—While the Review gives place to the above communication, in order that it may not be said that it closes its columns to further discussion relative to the temperance movement and the late campaign, is it not in the minds of many that, for a time at least, the friction and excitement of the weeks just closed be allowed to settle? While the friends of the movement for local option may think that they should keep up the agitation, is it not true that a spirit of opposition may be kept alive that will intensify? The spirit of British fair play is always before us. The battle has been fought, and the best thing to do is to close up the ranks, build more Dreadnoughts and take thought for the future. This is so far as the late contest is concerned. The purposes and objects and goal for which both sides are working remain the same.

BUILDING WILL BE REMODELLED

Having purchased the property comprising the premises occupied by themselves, the office of Mr. A. P. Poussette, the public library and fifteen feet to the south, with right to build, Messrs. Bennett and Goodwill will remodel the building, which is one of the best situated for the purpose in which it is now used, in the city. This, of course, cannot be done until the new public library is opened and the present premises vacated. The purchase was made from Mr. J. R. Stratton. This property was the first home of the Ontario Bank, and the manager at that time, Mr. G. E. Shaw, and his family resided in the second storey.

When asked to-day if any change would be made in the firm, Mr. Bennett stated there was nothing contemplated at present.

BASEBALL AT THE ARMOURIES

The first indoor baseball game was played at the armouries last night between two picked teams of the regiment. No. 1 and No. 8 companies were scheduled to play a league game, but the former team did not show up. Only seven innings were played, but during that time the players got away with some classy stunts and showed a considerable knowledge of the game. The score was 28 to 31, but the many long and short hits were due to the fact that the pitchers did not care to "let out" in an exhibition game. Home runs by Staunton, Sharpe and Smith, and a fast double play by McWilliams, who after grabbing a hot one from Staunton, retired the side in the play to first base, were features of the contest. The next game will be played on Thursday night between No. 2 and No. 1. The teams were;

Winners—McPherson, c.; Staunton, p and s; Poole, p and 3b; O'Brien, 1b; Clarke, 2b; Hunter, r.s; Biggs, l.f; Smith, r.f.

Losers—Sharpe, c; McWilliams, p; Butcher, 1b; H. Clarke, 2b; Drysdale, 3b; Portsmouth, s; Ray, r.f; Sargison, l.f.

Umpire—S. Sharpe.

MARRIED.

LEWIS—HODGSON

In the city of Yonkers, N. Y., on Saturday, December 11th, 1909, by Rev. Chas. Ashmead at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Miss Hilda A. Hodgson was married to Mr. Fred K. Lewis, both of Yonkers City. The many friends of Miss Hodgson, the popular nurse, in Peterborough extend their hearty congratulations and will wish them a long and prosperous wedded life.

ALL THE CHAIRMAN BUT ONE - ARE STILL IN THE COUNCIL

The first meeting of the new city council will be held on Monday next. A meeting will be held in the morning to appoint a committee to appoint the standing committees, and another session will be held in the evening, at which the committee will report.

Who will be the chairmen for 1910? This is a much discussed question. In 1909 Ald. Phelan was chairman of the Board of Works, Ald. Bradburn chairman of the Property Committee, Ald. Buller was chairman of the Fire, Water and Light. Ald. Turner had the Legal and Reception Committee and Ald. McIntyre was chairman of the Special Power Committee. Ald. Morrow was chairman of Finance. All are still in the council, with the exception of Ald. McIntyre. Where, then, will the changes be? Some of the aldermen say they are going to shake things up. Monday next will be the commencement of the fireworks.

FOUR SILVER CUPS WON BY LOCAL POULTRY BREEDERS

ber, Mr. George Robertson, of Ottawa, will give a talk on breeding and rearing chickens. He will speak under the auspices of the Peterborough Poultry Association, who are at present holding their second annual winter show in the Market Hall. The subject is an interesting one and should prove valuable to those who attend. This evening and to-morrow all those who attend the show, will, on entering, be given a slip of paper to be used for the purpose of determining which is To-night, in the City Council cham- the most popular bird in the show. Each person is requested to write on the paper the class, section and entry number of the bird which they think is the best exhibit, and return it to the official at the door on leaving. The bird which draws the largest number of votes will bring the exhibitor a handsome money prize. The judging is being proceeded with, and up to the present time local poultry breeders have captured four silver cups.

AN UNINTRODUCED MASHER SUCCESSFULLY SCARED AWAY

On Monday night, on Scott street, a man whose identity is not known, introduced himself in most informal fashion to a young lady employed on George street, who was returning to her home in the western part of the city. She was walking on the street when she was approached by an unknown "gentleman," who threw his arms about her, much to the lady's surprise and terror.

Adopting the usual feminine tactics she screamed after the approved fashion of the high register of a circus caliope, and ran on to a verandah of a nearby residence.

The imprudent accoster became alarmed and vanished into the night with great alacrity, and made good his disappearance in remarkably short order.

LAST YEAR IN PRESENT EDIFICE

The rector and congregation of All Saints' will celebrate next Sunday the seventh and last anniversary of their occupancy of the present edifice. Next year they will be safely housed in the handsome new stone edifice alongside. Rev. L. E. Skey, of Toronto, will preach at both services. Mr. Skey is the rector of St. Anne's, Toronto, corner Dundas and Dufferin streets, and has the largest Anglican congregation in Canada. Rev. Mr. Trumpour, rector of All Saints', will assist.

On motion of Messrs. John Crane and W. F. Nelson, the secretary-treasurer, was instructed to charge to the account of the Collegiate Institute amounts specified in connection with the teaching of Domestic Science and manual training to the students in the old collegiate.

A communication was received from Albert E. Elkins, engineer, giving a report on the recent inspection of the Central school boilers.

A vote of thanks was extended the Toronto Loan and Savings Company for the use of the room used by the Board in holding their meetings throughout the year.

OBJECTIONS TO LONG HOURS

Some of the polling-place officials are kicking at the seven o'clock closing hour as too long for a day's work with the subsequent counting. The extra hours do not seem to have been appreciated by the public. Very few votes came in after five o'clock. In some instances not more than two, in others five. There seems to be a general desire to return to the old hour.

ACTION TO RECOVER WAGES WAS DISMISSED

Shantyman Hired in the City to Work in Wm. Creswell's Camp at Wages From $26 to $28 Per Month Was Paid off at Rate of $20 a Month— An Interesting Case.

An interesting case was disposed of at the police court this morning by Magistrate Dumble. Isaac Moher, a Shantyman, took action against Wm. Creswell, a lumberman, to recover the sum of $16.66, which he alleged was due him for work done in the woods. After hearing much evidence his Worship decided that the complainant had not proven his case, as was necessary, and he dismissed the action.

Mr. G. N. Gordon acted in the interests of the defendant.

Moher was first called. He said he had been hired by Mr. T. Cavanagh to work for Mr. Creswell at terms of from $26 to $28 per month. He was not engaged for any particular line of work. He left the camp on the Thursday before Christmas, as he was sick. The cheque he received was for $7.88 for thirteen and a half days. On the trip out, after being engaged, the party had stopped at Cochrane for the night, but he had been told by Cavanagh that the party would be taken right through to the camp. There had been nothing said about the wages being $20 per month, and the only one he knew of who received this wage was a boy.

The time slip made up at the office in favor of Moher was produced. It read thirteen and a half days at $20 per month, less $3.50 for camp expenses. Witness said he did not read it, and as he was a poor scholar, a companion, named McConnell, had signed it for him.

McConnel was next called. He said he had been hired by Cavanagh, who used the words "get the same as the other two men." Witness had previously found out that the wages were from $26 to $28. He came out of the camp with Moher, and his cheque was not at the rate of $26 a month. Cavanagh had promised to take him right to the camp. It was his first year in the woods.

For the defence, Wm. Creswell, the defendant, was called. His instructions to Mr. Cavanagh were to offer from $20 to $26 to the men, and at the camp it was determined by the foreman what amount they were worth. Some of his men received as high as $28 per month, but they were the best workmen, who had gone into camp at the first of the season. Mr. Cavanagh had no authority to fix any definite amount. The custom of camps was that men who did not remain the whole season were charged for transportation. The amount of $2.50 charged against Moher was $1 less than what it ought to be.

Timothy Cavanagh stated that Mr. Creswell's orders were to hire at wages from $20 to $26. He did not hire any men at $26 per month, flat. Moher and McConnell had been told that they would get the highest wages if they were capable of doing the work.

H. Clacry, foreman at the camp, said that he determined the wages of the men sent to him, and they were given a reasonable time to show what they could do. Moher had not shown himself to be worth $26 per month. He was too slow. He had been tried at different work and finally had been set at cutting trails, at which he was also slow. A reasonable wage for that work was $20. The custom was to charge the men up with transportation if they left on their own account. Two-thirds of the men in the camp were receiving $20.

Jos. Graham, road boss, wouldn't say Moher was a first-class man, and $20 was all he was worth.

The complainant, recalled, stated that nothing had been said to him about the manner in which he did his work. In rebuttal, Witnesses Clacry and Graham both said that they had told Moher that he was not working fast enough. Graham had told him half a dozen times.

The magistrate dealt for some time on the evidence, and gave judgment as noted above.

A SUBSTANTIAL APPRECIATION OF PRESIDENT'S EFFORTS

Mr. R. H. Leary Given Complimentary Banquet and Presented With Address and Armchair—Time That City Purchased Grounds for Annual Fall Exhibition Was Opinion of Speakers.

Honors both sentimental and material were heaped on the president of the Peterborough Industrial Fair, Mr. R. H. Leary, at the Hotel National last night when he was tendered a complimentary banquet by the board of directors of the society and presented with an address and handsome leather and oak mission arm chair in recognition of Mr. Leary's indefatigable efforts in the interests of Peterborough's growing annual exhibition, for the increasing success of which he has faithfully and effectively worked. The function at which such a warm and general expression of appreciation was evidenced was an entire surprise to Mr. Leary who was met at the C. P. R. train from Toronto last evening when he was given the first intimation of the banquet.

The spread was an excellent one and was a credit to the host, Mr. D. B. Dennison, proprietor of the National. Vice-president Garbutt of the fair society, was in the chair and a large assemblage of the directorate and guests was in attendance. Letters of regret at their inability to be present were read from ex-Mayor Rush and Mr. J. R. Stratton.

At the conclusion of the dinner the toast to the King was honored after which the following address was read by the secretary, Mr. F. J. A. Hall, and the presentation made by Mr Garbutt:—

To R. H. Leary, Esq., President of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

Dear Sir,—We, the Directors of this Exhibition, in appreciation of your services as President of the Board for the last three years, who through your untiring efforts to make the fair a success by all means in your power—we believe it has been the greatest factor to that success—the interest and lead taken by you in the multitude of duties that fall to the lot of a President, and we have found it to be a pleasure to follow that lead, and we assure you that it has ever been a pleasure to work with one who has always been confident that our efforts would bring success. Your hearing and treatment of us as fellow workers has always been of the most cordial kind, and we take this opportunity of expressing our best wishes to you for your many kindnesses extended to us all. Wishing you all the compliments of the season and as a slight recognition of our regard for you we would ask you to accept this chair as a token of our esteem—not for its intrinsic value but to be a reminder of our happy associations as the years go by. Hoping you may be long spared to sit in that chair and remember your old colleagues and well wishers,

Signed on behalf of the Directors,
F. J. A. HALL,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. Leary in responding thanked the fellow officers and directors of the society for their extreme kindness and thoughtfulness. He spoke of the excellent finances of the fair as shown by the treasury department and referred to the importance of the fair among the fall exhibitions of the cities of the province. He said if the city would secure suitable grounds the directors would erect suitable buildings at an expense of $5,000.00 and the buildings would be a credit to both the society and the city. He thought such a move on the city's part would be most timely and the present grounds or new grounds should be purchased by the city.

Speeches in which eulogistic remarks were made concerning the guest of the evening and in which the growth of the fair and immediate necessity of improved facilities were enlarged upon were made by Warden Scott, W. B. Stewart, deputy reeve of Otonabee, R. Fair, J. H. Larmonth; the newly elected reeve of Ennismore, John Young, Ald. Buller, Ald. Gillespie, County Treasurer Ed. M. Elliott, and the following members of the fair directorate, Messrs. Dawson Kennedy, Jas. Baptie, Wm. Collins, J. J. Turner, sr., and Geo. E. Elliott.

A point of interest spoken of by Mr. Larmonth was concerning the purchase by the city of the grounds on which the Ottawa Fair is held and the erection of the buildings by the city. The city borrowed the money for the project and issued debentures. The fair society pays the interest and sinking fund. The city guarantees the debentures, and in case of the failure of the society, have the grounds and buildings as security. Mr. Larmonth suggested that the city of Peterborough might very well follow Ottawa's example in this respect.

Those in attendance at the banquet other than the gentlemen mentioned were S. F. Redmond, S. Deyell, John Brown, James R. Bell, J. O'Shea, G. A. Gillespie, W. E. Conway, S. A. Oke, Dr. King, J. A. Storey, John Cox, D. Cruikshanks, C. Moore, B. D. Dennison, S. Millburn.

ASTHMA VANISHES

So Does Catarrh, Croup, Hay Fever and Bronchitis

Hyomei is a confidence creator. The first time you breathe in this powerful yet soothing, antiseptic air, you will know that it has marvelous curative virtues. There is nothing disagreeable about Hyomei. It is a very pleasant and prompt remedy for catarrh, colds, asthma, croup, bronchitis, etc.

If your head is so stuffed with mucous that you cannot breathe a particle of air through your nostrils, Hyomei will open them up and give relief in five minutes.

Why will sensible people suffer longer, why will they wheeze and hawk and spit and smother, when Wm. Madill will guarantee Hyomei to cure or money back. $1.000 is all Wm. Madill asks for a complete outfit.

"We know Hyomei to be a fine and effective remedy for croup and asthma. Our nine-year-old boy has been greatly troubled with asthmatic croup and we found no relief for it until we used Hyomei. This remedy does fully all that is claimed for it, and we give same our hearty endorsement and have often recommended it."—Mrs. Isaac Prout, 725 Radbourn St., Woodstock, Ont.

FOLLOWING THE USUAL PRACTICE

The Board of School Trustees followed the usual practice in appointing the next highest in order of defeated candidates, Mr. Dumble, to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Mason's resignation. Such is the statement of a prominent trustee. While the appointment is not obligatory in the case of a school board, it is required by statute in case of an alderman, and it is to this practice that the board deferred.

GAVE CHAIR TO REV. MR. KEITH

Adult Bible Class for Men at Knox Church Show Appreciation

The Adult Bible Class for men of Knox church last night presented Rev. H. G. Keith with a handsome chair and an address. Mr. Keith is the teacher of the class and is held in high esteem by the members. The address was read by Mr. Lormer and the presentation was made by Mr. McKenzie and Mr. McCannan. The address was as follows;

Peterborough, Jan. 4, 1910.

To Rev. Mr. Keith;

The members of the men's Bible Class of Knox church feel that they cannot let this joyous season of the year pass without some expression of their love and esteem for you which has grown and strengthened during the year which has just passed. We appreciate your untiring efforts, zeal and energy in promoting the welfare of our ever increasing band of Christ's followers. In tendering you this slight memento of our appreciation We trust that throughout the new year upon which we have just entered your path may be strewn with flowers of hope, prosperity and happiness and that our Christian life may grow and expand to even a greater degree. May heaven send you many many happy days.

Signed on behalf of the class;
Joseph Trussler,
Robert Dixon,
A. McKenzie,
H. J. McCannan.

The presentation came as a complete surprise to Mr. Keith, but he managed to express his thanks for the gift and the kind sentiments of the address.

It may be mentioned that the Adult Bible Class for Men was organized at Knox church two years ago. It meets every Sunday afternoon and discusses the lesson. The membership has grown steadily and great things are expected when the class has its own rooms when the new church is completed.

HALF THE LICENSES

Will Have to be Cut Off Here Says Member of Ontario Government.

Exclusive Wire to Review.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—In reply to a question a member of the Whitney Government said that where the local option vote had been as large as in Peterborough and Brantford it would be necessary for the authorities to cut down licenses by half.

SILVER IS RECOVERED

Laurier's Stolen Plate Found at Bottom of Ottawa River.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Two years ago the residence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was burglarized and some valuable silverware stolen.

Every effort to trace it was unavailing, until yesterday Benoit Rouleau, the veteran city diver, brought several of the articles back to earth from the deep bed of the Ottawa River. He was compelled to leave beneath the cold waters watches, spoons and other tiny salvage, as, with the weather ten degrees below zero, and a foot or so of ice covering the river he had to wear such heavy gloves that he could not grasp so small a thing as a dinner fork.

Rouleau recovered a silver tea pot, a sugar bowl, salt cellars and other tableware. He will go down later for the rest.

Some of the loot is believed to have come from Montreal, but the Premier's initials were on several of the articles recovered.

It is thought the goods had been in some kind of a canvas bag, as the torn reins of one were noticed at the bottom, but whether the silverware was thrown in, bag and all, or dumped into the water and then the bag thrown in after, can only be guessed.

The police are looking for a jeweler who formerly resided here, and who is believed to have crossed the border.

CANNOT SUPPLY ENOUGH GAS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 6.—With the mercury five above zero and the supply of natural gas nearly shut off, Niagara Falls people spent a chilly time yesterday. The Cyanide Company and other factories were forced to close down. The Provincial Gas Co. say they are supplying to their limit, and they can promise no relief until March. They advise customers to take gas out of the furnaces and use coal.

EASTERN ONTARIO DAIRYMEN MEET

Belleville, Jan. 6.—The 33rd annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association opened in the Carman Opera House yesterday, with President John R. Dargavel, M.P.P., in the chair. There was a large attendance.

In his address Mr. Dargavel said the normal quantity of cheese had been made this season, but less butter had been made. He spoke of his experience as member of the Ontario Milk Commission, and said the Ontario Government might enact some drastic legislation in regard to milk at its next session.

FIGHT PICTURES GOT THE CROWDS

St. John, N.B., Jan. 6.—Four churches united to hold a week of prayer service in Calvin Church Tuesday night. The night was intensely cold and only eight persons attended, but just across the street hundreds struggled to get into a nickel theatre to witness the moving pictures of the Johnson-Ketchel prizefight.

Death Sentences for Assault.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 6.—George Reynolds and John Williams were found guilty of assaulting Mrs. Wm. Jackson and sentenced to death. The jury were out only five minutes. Only two days were occupied in selecting a jury, hearing the evidence and returning a verdict.

FIRED WHILE AFTER PRISONER

Montreal, Jan. 6.—Police circles are stirred over the dismissal of Detective Gorman, now in England under orders to bring a prisoner back. The reason given is that Gorman was requested to see Chief Campeau before leaving, and did not. It is not apparently known whether Gorman received the message. It is alleged, however, that the dismissal is part of a plot to weed out the department men who have made themselves obnoxious to the clique in power.

RETURN OF BALFOUR IS CHEERING UP UNIONISTS

His Statement That Germany Will Not Permit Tariff Reform in Britain is a Vote-Catcher, Says the Tories—"Perilous Stuff" is What the Liberals Call It.

London, Jan. 6.—Conservatives claim that Mr. Balfour's statement that Germany is not prepared to allow Britain to adopt protection, and his reference to naval weakness are worth many votes to the party which, in fact, has been greatly heartened by the re-appearance of its leader and his speech at Henley.

The Liberals, on the other hand, deprecate a man of Mr. Balfour's position and responsibility, dealing with "such perilous stuff," for, as they allege, platform purposes.

"Infinitely more impressive to Germany than any valiant assertion is what we are going to do in the future," says one of the more responsible Liberal organs. "It is a solid fact that our landed classes and our rich men are on strike against the expenditure of the present moment."

Just as Britain is watching Germany for evidence that the money strain is beginning to tell, so Germany is similarly watching Britain and drawing encouraging inferences therefrom.

As to the rejection of the budget by the people, Liberals declare they are refusing to be stampeded by an invasion snare.

The majority believe Premier Asquith when he said that the navy was unassailably supreme.

Lord Lansdowne, addressing a great meeting at Liverpool, responded to a demand for an explanation of a scheme to reform the Lords by adopting that of the Rosebery commission as opposed to an elected chamber, because it would demand equal powers with the Commons. There, however, must be a check upon a raw Commons and a raw Cabinet in order that the will of the people may prevail. Both parties should join for reform. The Lords opposed the budget on its own account, also because they did not want the country to be switched off tariff reform and switched on to another policy be believed would be suicidal.

Lancashire, he admitted, looked with some hesitation on tariff reform, as she had enormous interests at stake, but Lancashire had nothing to lose from a system which would make foreigners pay for the use of our markets. Even supposing prices were to rise a little, they could not rise much, because nobody talked about anything except a moderate scale of duties. The country would not have such a bad bargain, as the duties would have the effect of giving much needed revenue.

There were four thousand meetings last night, the majority being Unionist. Seven Cabinet Ministers, including the Premier, the Chancellor and several of the front opposition bench, including Mr. Balfour as well as 23 peers, were amongst the orators.

"Never since the days of Simon de Montfort," said Mr. Asquith at Brighton, "have so many peers addressed the people."

The Chancellor, in London, caused great laughter by describing his budget as simply a revised and enlarged edition of Kipling's ballad, "Cooks Sons, Dukes' Sons, Sons of the Belted Earl," with its refrain "Pay, Pay, Pay."

Sixteen London and fifty provincial constituencies will vote on Saturday, the 15th. The forecasts of the Unionists claim seven Liberal seats, even though in some cases the Liberals at the last election had a majority of 1,500.

The Marquis of Londonderry, at Belfast, declared that the Unionist would rather occupy the Opposition position till the crack of doom than hold office five minutes dependent upon the Irish vote.

Walter Long, at Belfast, said home rule meant the destruction of the prosperity and happiness of the people of Ireland. He recalled the words of Randolph Churchill, "Ulster will fight Ulster." Those were awful words, and it might be the future had for them a choice as terrible as civil war.

PANAMA CANAL BILL PASSED

Washington, D.C., Jan. 6.—The Mann bill, providing for the administration of the Panama Canal zone, passed the House late yesterday by a vote of 119 to 12.

The measure abolishes the Isthmian Canal Commission and invests the legislative and judicial power on the Isthmus in the United States.

Train Marooned in Desert.

Salt Lake City, Jan. 6.—Train No. 4 on the San Pedro, Salt Lake and Los Angeles Railroad, with 150 passengers, due here from Los Angeles Jan. 1, is marooned in the desert, five miles from Caliente, Nev., the track on both sides having been torn out by the flood of last week. Plenty of provisions are on hand.

GAVE LIFE FOR CHILD

Montreal, Jan. 6.—The report of a terrible fatality comes from Shawinigan Falls, in the Three Rivers district.

At an early hour yesterday morning a house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Regis Plante and their young child, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tessier, with their children took fire from a kitchen stove. Mrs. Plante and her six months' old child perished.

The mother could have saved herself, but she returned to save the baby, and both went down to death.

The others in the house were horribly burned.

Mrs. Tessier and her young son Teddy are now in the Notre Dame Hospital here.

JAPAN PREPARING FOR ANOTHER WAR

Imperial Councillor Recommends That Russia Endeavors to Get China as An Ally—Anticipated Renewal of Hostilities in 1911—Europe's Attitude.

Special to the Review.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Japan is making preparations for war with Russia in 1911, according to Imperial Councillor Glesmer, who recently returned from a tour of China and Japan. In an official statement to the government to-day the Imperial Councillor recommended that Russia do everything possible to win China's friendship as the greatest available asset in the coming war between Russia and Japan. There is little likelihood of an European country helping Russia in war, declares Glesmer. He predicts that Germany and Austria will go to Japan's aid unless Britain first offers assistance to the Mikado.

NEW YORK LEGISLATION

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 6.—The State Legislature opened yesterday. G. W. Hughes in his message recommends an extension of the jurisdiction of the public service commissions to include telegraph and telephone companies; protection of streams from pollution and a substantial automobile license tax.

He also recommends that the law be amended so as to penalize the practice of oral race track betting, even though there be no recording.

Senator Hill of Buffalo introduced a proposed amendment to the constitution giving women the right to vote.

Forget on U. S. Steel Board.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—Although there may be nothing in the story, some say that Rudolphe Forget, who was a large purchaser of Scotia Steel yesterday, will replace Senator Melville Jones of Toronto on the board at an early date.

Horse's Kick Proves Fatal.

Elmira, Jan. 5.—N. Hedrich was accidentally kicked by a horse on the head, fracturing his skull last Sunday morning, and died Tuesday night. He was born in Renim, Hessen, Germany, in 1866. He leaves a wife and seven children.

SEVERAL FROZEN TO DEATH

Terrible Blizzard Raged in the Northwest—Famine is Threatened

Special to Review.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—A large number were frozen to death throughout northwest in last Friday's blizzard. One man died while driving a load of hay near Regina. A despatch from Minneapolis says that a famine is threatened as the result of the blizzard which has been raging thirty-six hours. A large number are dead, and others injured.

Thousands of cattle were destroyed.

Women Victims of Pellagra.

Peoria, Ills., Jan. 6.—Suffering from pellagrous mania, Mrs. Valentine Horman, a patient at the state asylum, escaped early yesterday in her night dress and died later of exposure. Mrs. Anna Klingenmeyer, 65, at one time one of the wealthiest women in Illinois, died yesterday at Peoria Asylum of pellagra.

LEONARD GROCE
LEROY CANNON

Manague, Nicaragua, Jan. 5. — An eye witness of the execution of Leonard Groce and Leroy Cannon furnished a graphic description of how the men were convicted and shot.

Groce and Cannon were subjected to barbarous cruelties before their execution. They were condemned to death at half-past ten o'clock on the night of November 14 and shot on the morning of November 16 at El Castillo, a small town on the San Juan River, fifty miles from Greytown. The court-martial was composed of seven officers, including Colonels Toribio and Ruis.

The prisoners were taken out of their cell after their conviction and shown the graves where their bodies would be buried. The execution took place at El Castillo Cemetery.

Captain Annibal Chaves was ordered to conduct the execution, but he refused and was imprisoned and threatened with death. One hundred and fifty soldiers assembled in a circle, preparatory to carrying out the execution. When the prisoners were taken out of their cell the soldiers stood at attention while the death warrant was read for the last time.

In a drizzling rain the prisoners, with hands and feet tied, were made to sit on a three foot bench to be shot on the brink of the graves. Cannon objected to blindfolding, but both were blindfolded.

Cannon asked to be shot first. Groce manifested extraordinary courage, and led the way to the place of execution smoking a cigar, throwing it away when he was blindfolded. The firing squad of four men shot both the victims at a distance of six feet. Groce was killed instantly. Canon died five minutes afterward.

Both were buried in their wet clothing and boots, without coffins.

PROBABILITIES.

Strong winds, much colder, local snow falls. Friday decidedly cold.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

One of the three men reported killed in the explosion at Buffalo turned up alive yesterday.

The council of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Scientists, have dropped Dr. Cook's name from the membership.

Ten box-cars were demolished in rear end collision at Loon Lake, a small C.P.R. station, fifteen miles east of Port Arthur.

Ships arriving at New York from Mediterranean and other trans-Atlantic ports report gales of hurricane violence and several nights of violent thunder storms.

Petitions addressed to President Taft asking for the absolute pardon of Charles W. Morse who on Monday began his sentence of 15 years in the Federal Prison at Atlanta, Ga., are in circulation at Portland, Me.

Frank Jackson, a negro, was electrocuted at Clinton Prison, N.Y. He spent the greater part of the previous night singing hymns. He was convicted of cutting his wife's throat after accusing her of infidelity.

Mrs. Russell Sage has given a second extension of time to the American Bible Society, which now requires $42,612 to equal the sum of $500,000 offered by Mrs. Sage conditional on an equal amount being raised.

While it was generally thought that the late Timothy P. (Little) Tim Sullivan of New York, Tammany leader, had died a millionaire, it is understood that only $2,000 on deposit in a bank is all the cash available for his widow and son.

WATERY GRAVES OF FORTY FISHERMEN

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 6.—Over forty fishermen, the breadwinners and sole support of practically the population of the villages of Whitehead and Dover, were either drowned or frozen to death in their boats during a blizzard which swept the Nova Scotia coast during the past thirty-six hours.

Twenty-five fishing boats, containing over one hundred men, left Dover and Whitehead before daylight Tuesday morning, and up to a late hour last night only sixteen boats, containing sixty men, have reached their home ports.

Eight boats, containing over forty men, are lost and have either foundered or been driven far out to sea, as no trace of them could be found by steamers that patrolled the fishing grounds and vicinity yesterday.

SIR WILFRID DINED BY THE ONTARIO CLUB AT TORONTO

Ontario Club Should Keep its Doors Open to all the Grits That Come Along, is Sir Wilfrid's Advice—Puts in a Word For Imperial Unity.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—"Do not be too particular in the line of orthodoxy. Open your doors wide. Take in all the Grits when they come, and ask admission. Remember, the Liberal party is the party of liberty of conscience, and the one thing we should have at heart is the common good of our common country."

This was the shrewd advice tendered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in closing his speech at the formal and official opening of the Ontario Club, 76 Bay street, last night, when 150 or so were present at the banquet given in honor of the Prime Minister of the Dominion.

Sir Wilfrid was not in the best voice, but his sunny smile was unsubdued, and his happy sallies aroused much enthusiasm.

He spoke for 46 minutes, but confined himself to echoes and reflections of former speeches. He rallied Toronto on its incorrigible Toryism, and declared that like the King of ancient story, he inured himself to poison by taking some every day.

"I breakfast on The News, and dine on The Mail, and my health never was so good." (Loud laughter.)

It was thirteen years since they took office and turned a new page in Canadian history replete with advancement. Their opponents attributed it to luck, and he was content to receive it at the hands of Providence. The taste of an application of the words of Jesus over Jerusalem may be questioned in some quarters.

His references to the question of defence included Esquimalt and Halifax, with the declaration that it was the Government's intention to assume more and more of the burdens of empire. The time would come when they would organize a Canadian navy of their own. This was cheered. He recognized that the supremacy of Great Britain meant her safety and the peace of the world. The branch of the Conservative party in Quebec held that Canada was not bound to do anything but repel invasion, but the best way to repel it was to sink the invader before he could reach them.

He combatted the idea that there was danger to Britain from Germany, quoting the latest tonnage of the respective navies, and believing the old word that blood was thicker than water, could not think the German Emperor would quarrel with his own kin. But Canada must prepare for emergencies. This was the position taken, and he thought it would be appreciated by the people of Canada. Though prudent, they must be bold, economical, but generous.

Dr. J. A. Macdonald was eloquent and impressive in proposing the toast of the evening.

W. J. Haney occupied the chair, and at the guest table were seated among others with Sir Wilfrid, Senator Kerr, P. C. Larkin, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Senator Jaffray, Dr. Macdonald, Senator Campbell, H. M. Mowat, K.C., W. K. George.

The menu represented Sir Wilfrid dressed as a pioneer guide. American beauty roses and evergreen garlands decorated the room.

Chairman Haney announced the occasion as the formal and official opening of the Ontario Club. There was a force of Liberals in Toronto, which, if put into action, should give equal support to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ottawa as the Conservatives gave the Opposition. A determination to do something to hold together a nucleus around which might gather a force to make a stronger fight at the next opportunity than in the last campaign. The Ontario Club was launched as the result. There were at present 490 resident members out of the 500 to which the club was restricted. He introduced Dr. J. A. Macdonald to give the toast of the evening.

Sir Wilfrid at noon received a deputation from the South African Veterans' Association, who asked that the time for making entries under the South African Land Bounty Act, which expires on Dec. 31, 1910, be extended for two years. The Premier promised to give the matter careful consideration. The deputation, which was introduced by H. H. Dewart, K.C., consisted of Sir Henry Pellatt, Col. W. Hamilton Merritt, Major J. C. Mason, Major Rogers, Major Barber, Capt. Warren, Capt. I. Hunter, Lieut. Kennedy and Mr. Holmes.

At 2.30 a deputation from the Ontario Society of Architects called on the Premier to urge the adoption of their plans for the new buildings at Ottawa. Sir Wilfrid was non-committal.

Sir Wilfrid, who was accompanied by Hon. Geo. Graham, Alex. Smith and E. J. Lemaire, arrived in Toronto yesterday morning. He went straight to the King Edward, where quarters had been reserved for the party by the Ontario Club, whose guest the Premier is during his stay in the city.

To-day's program includes luncheon at the home of P. C. Larkin, tea with H. M. Mowat, K.C., and dinner at Government House.

WAS KILLED ON RAILWAY TRACK

Hagersville, Jan. 6.—George Mann of Hamilton, about fifty years old, was instantly killed about two o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Michigan Central tracks, about a quarter of a mile east of Hagersville.

He was a fireman, working for the Bradley Lumber Co. of Hamilton, cutting timber on Robert Reid's farm in Oneida.

He had been in Hagersville, receiving instructions as to his work, had dinner, and soon after started down the track towards the place where his men were.

The track is double, with several switches. As he stepped off one track out of the way of train No. 23, westbound, he was struck by a fast express running on the other main track, which he did not see until it was upon him.

Coroner McDonald decided an inquest unnecessary.

DR. COOK IS NOW NERVOUS WRECK

New York, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Josephine Dudley, a sister of Mrs. Frederick W. Cook, last night declared that Dr. Cook is a nervous wreck, unable to think consecutively, and that the reason that he remains in hiding is that he could not stand the strain of further inquiry.

"We are praying," says Mrs. Dudley, "that he will soon recover so that he may come forward and defend himself. Mrs. Cook is at her husband's side. She loves him and trusts him. There has been no quarrel; there was never any trouble between them about money."

Mrs. Dudley received a message yesterday from Walter Lonsdale, Dr. Cook's secretary, dated Copenhagen and reading: "Cable Fred's address at once. All important; must see him now."

Mrs. Dudley has not answered, because she fears it may be a trap. The doctor has had a disheartening relapse, she said, and it is important that his seclusion shall not be disturbed. She will not specify whether he is in this country or abroad.

QUARREL OVER THE DIAGNOSIS

Montreal, Jan. 6.—The group at the City Hall represented by Mayor Payette and Dr. Dagenais continue to assert that the so-called typhoid is nothing more than intestinal grip, while the doctors and the energetic men and women adhere to their first diagnosis that the malady is typhus, sure enough.

Patients are being brought into the emergency hospital quite rapidly.

BRUTAL WIFE DESERTION

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Deserted by her husband on Christmas morning, without even enough money to pay postage on a letter to her home, in Iowa, and with a sick infant of six months to care for, Mrs. Gordon Robinson, aged twenty years, found herself alone and destitute in this city, where she is an absolute stranger.

Her husband brought her here from Rockridge, Iowa, where they had lived for two years. They came here, it is given out, for information concerning some land in the west.

On Dec. 16, they registered at the Windsor, and on Dec. 25, the husband disappeared, and has not since been heard of.

Transportation as far as Chicago has been furnished Mrs. Robinson.

ELEVEN DEAD FROM POISON

Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 6.—Two additional members of the Marquise family, victims of ptomaine poisoning, contracted at a New Year's dinner at the home of Mrs. D. C. Valdes, in Sawtelle, on Sunday, died yesterday.

Eleven of the twelve persons who partook of the tainted pears served by Mrs. Valdez now have died, and the one survivor is not expected to recover.

Alberta Oats for Philippines.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 6.—Three thousand tons of Alberta oats have been contracted for shipment to the Philippine Islands via Vancouver and Seattle, and the movement of this grain westward to this port has already commenced.

Vancouver Death Rate.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 6.—One person out of 92 of the city's population died in 1909. Ten of these deaths was tuberculosis.

Dancers Driven Out by Fire.

Rochester, N.Y., Jan. 6.—One hundred guests at a dance at the home of Charles W. Bingham, a Mount Morris, N.Y., banker, had to flee for their lives when the house was discovered to be on fire early yesterday. Loss $30,000, house and contents being entirely destroyed.

Ottawa's Death Rate.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The death rate of Ottawa during 1909 was 15.7 per thousand, or a total of 1,307, the lowest on record.

In 1908 the rate was 17.5 per thousand.

The population of Ottawa is now 83,300.

GETTING HOTTER

Political Fight in England Marked by Deeds of Violence.

Special to the Review.

London, Eng., Jan. 6.—The political fight is becoming so hot that few prominent peers or unionists in strong radical districts will appear on the streets at night, except when attended by a body guard.

Right Hon. John Burns was assaulted last night by an unknown man as he was entering his automobile but is not seriously injured.

THEY BOUGHT MUCH LAUDANUM

Port Hope Druggist Says Padens Were Regular Purchasers

Port Hope, Jan. 6.—The inquest into the cause of death of the illegitimate child of Florence Paden will resume again Jan. 12.

The autopsy declares the infant died from narcotic poisoning, suffocation or convulsions. Druggist John Breen swears that he sold Paden the girl's father, on Dec. 4, a day or so before the child was born, laudanum and strychnine, and showed Paden's signature, but Paden denied the purchase, the signature and any knowledge of the book. He said he got poison Nov. 27, but Breen swore he did not. Breen said either Paden, Ginsburg, the boarder, Mrs. Paden or Miss Paden all bought laudanum every day for two years, sometimes twice a day.

All denied these facts, and said once in two weeks laudanum was got for the children's earache. Both Mrs. Paden and Florence said Ginsburg never got the drug at any time, and that no adult in the house used laudanum. The infant never was given any kind of drug, they said, and all differed as to the alleged purchase of the strychnine and laudanum on the date of Nov. 27.

Miss Paden swore Ginsburg was not the parent of the infant.

Col. Ward, K.C., acted for the Paden family, and Crown Attorney Kerr of Cobourg appeared for the crown. Coroner McKinley was in charge.

CAPTAIN AND MATE ARE SUSPENDED

Buffalo, Jan. 6.—Blame for the foundering of the steamer W. C. Richardson in Lake Erie on Dec. 8, when five were drowned, has been placed upon the captain and first mate by the local steamboat inspectors. The license of Captain Enos J. Burke is revoked and Chief Mate Leander Robinson is suspended for one year.

Sir George Drummond's Illness.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—The condition of Sir George Drummond, president of the Bank of Montreal, is now such that members of his family have been summoned. One son is returning from Colorado and another from England. Sir George, who is eighty years old, has been in failing health for some months.

ESCAPED WHILE GUARD SLEPT

Kingston, Jan. 6.—Guito Carato, an Italian serving a term in the penitentiary for theft and being taken to the Canadian Soo for deportation by Peter Devlin, immigration agent of this city, made his escape from the train at Chalk River and caught a freight going the other way.

Devlin got busy on the wires and the man was captured by Chief Butler of Pembroke.

It is said Devlin dozed off for a few moments and his charge made a bolt.

MAJORITY IN BRANTFORD 111

Brantford, Jan. 6.—Chances of a scrutiny of the local option ballots were greatly lessened yesterday when the discovery was made that the difference in the vote was 111, on the three-fifths basis, and not 55, as reported.

Out of a total vote of 4,611, the antis polled 1,900, or 56 more than the two-fifths, and the local optionists polled 2,711, or 55 less than the three-fifths, a difference of 111 altogether.

License reduction is sure to follow, however, and it is only a question of how many with several of the aldermen-elect.

FLYNN HANDS OVER $9,000

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Jan. 6.—C. J. Flynn, arrested for complicity in the express robbery on the Ontario side, is at liberty, after having confessed and turning over $9,000, all that remained of the $14,000 stolen.

The district attorney stated that the Canadian authorities refused to allow Whistler and Dobson to cross the border to testify against Flynn.

AN ICE PALACE

Why can't we imitate Montreal and have an ice-palace? The storming of an ice-palace on Armour's hill by the 57th Regiment and the artillery would be a spectacle worth looking at, and besides it would be a practical form of drill. We advocated a winter fair for Peterborough, until Lindsay beat us out and got it. But there is nothing to prevent our having an ice-palace and the influx of an immense number of visitors. Why not do something to bring in a little extra cash during the dull season? Peterborough is now a centre, both in population and interest. It behooves it to look lively or Lindsay will attract all the attention, and by a succession of side-lights, throw us completely into the shade. The duty of the City Council does not stop at making appropriations and at spending money. It is incumbent upon it to devise ways and means for the accumulation of it, and there is hardly any better way or any better form of advertisement than a spectacle such as we suggest. The Board of Trade might well take this matter up and, being backed by the council and citizens generally, it could inaugurate a winter-carnival of large and remunerative proportions. The supply of ice is close at hand, and the labor involved would give many a deserving man the wherewithal for increased comfort for his family during the cold season. Electric light and a gleaming fortress in full flame and in process of capture, would be worth going some distance to see. Other attractions could be made to harmonize with respect to dates and, speaking generally, we see no just cause or impediment for declining to entertain such a proposal.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Temperance is the order of the day. It dominates all other questions."—La Presse.

The Weekly Sun asks if the Mail and Empire and the Globe are in favour of High Protection. The name is a misnomer. "Adequate protection" is what is required, not H. P.

The immigration commissioner at Prince Albert, Sask., and his family were "fired" out of their home at 2 a.m., with the thermometer at 50 degrees below. Will he tell this to the foreigner?

"There is one thing in all this business that has struck me forcibly, and that is that, although those of German blood represent the largest percentage of our population here, namely, about 32 per cent., almost no Germans apply for office. For that reason alone I should not forget them."—Mayor Gaynor, New York City.

There can be no doubt that there is a well-developed scheme on foot in the U. S. to wean us from our political allegiance to Gt. Britain. There seem to be some people in this country anxious to complete the arrangement. There are individuals who have so little sentiment about them that they would sell their children if the law didn't step in.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BRAKEMEN ON TOP OF CARS

Railway Board at Ottawa Decides to Make No Change

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Representatives of all the big railway corporations before the Railway Commission to-day opposed the proposition of the board to do away with brakemen on top of freight cars, thus reducing the necessity of high bridges and lessening the cost of grade separations. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk, Great Northern, Canadian Northern, Michigan Central and Boston & Maine were represented. It was urged that brakemen on top of cars are needed. The present system, it was argued, is a guarantee against brakemen going to sleep, they give certain signals to the engineer and on grades must operate the pressure retaining valve to make the air brakes effective. The present headway is 22 feet 6 inches, and some of the companies said this might possibly be reduced somewhat. After hearing the argument the board decided to let things stay as they are, maintaining the existing headway and allowing brakemen on top of cars.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL CENTRE

Of Astronomical Society to be Held on Jan. 11—Interesting Address to be Given

The annual meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Peterborough Centre, will be held in the chemical room of the Collegiate Institute on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 11th. After the installation of officers, the President, Rev. Dr. Marsh, will give an illustrated lecture on "Stellar Evolution," and will endeavor to show, as far as science has been able to [illegible] the manner of the origin of the heavenly bodies. The lecture will be shorn of technical terms and put in such form that the public will be able to follow it intelligently. It is expected that there will be a large audience.

ZAM-BUK QUICKLY CURES

Chaps, Cold Sores and Rough Red Skin.

Icy winds often make ladies' faces rough, red and blotchy. Apply a little Zam-Buk, and this will smoothen the skin and end the soreness. It also takes away that coarse, red, rough look and "feel," which are so unpleasant. For more serious cases of chaps and cold sores apply Zam-Buk at night liberally.

Miss Hattie Bertrand, Galesburg, says; "I am troubled every year with cracked, chapped hands and arms, and nothing ever seemed able to prevent this until I found Zam-Buk. It healed the chaps and cracks, and occasional applications keep my hands and arms perfectly smooth."

Zam-Buk is not only a healer, but it is a skin food. Frequent use of it develops that soft, velvety skin which is so pleasant to see, and which is the expression of perfect skin health. Remember Zam-Buk is unique in containing no animal fat! For a balm this is peculiar; but just there lies Zam-Buk's superiority. Made purely of herbal extracts and juices. 50c a box. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Don't take any substitutes.

FAKIRS PEDDLING PORCUPINE CLAIMS

Gold Brick Artists Are Approching Capital With Glittery Samples

Cobalt, Jan. 5.—Men who have been in western mining camps will appreciate this. Some very prominent mining men and capitalists have been approached within the past few days by people who have a very wonderful secret regarding the Porcupine country to make known to the man or men who can put up the necessary money to take advantage of this glorious opportunity.

The tale these men relate is that they have secured the friendship of some of the old men among the Indians of that district, and that these aged Indians have known for years where the real big bodies of gold are located, have because of their friendship for their white brothers revealed the hiding place of the gold.

They have a magnificent rich sample taken from the supposed resting place of the great mother lode of the gold deposits, this sample being simply plastered with the most spectacular gold. One can imagine how the eyes of the beholder stick out when they are privileged to see this rich specimen

Then comes the tale of the Indians holding as a tradition in their tribes the secret of the gold deposits. Of course for a sufficient price the exact spot where the Indians have located the gold will be made known. The entire story is surrounded by all the little fine details which make it so attractive that it would be almost impossible for the uninitiated to fail to grab the bait, hook, sinker, line and all.

But when a shrewd, experienced mining man is approached it is laughable, indeed, as one or two have been picked out for victims during the past few days. Every old mining man on the continent has heard similar stories so often that when one is approached he resents it as rather an insult to his intelligence.

Some tenderfoot might take up this wonderful opportunity, and even despite the wide publicity that has hundreds of times been given these tales, it may be that the new Porcupine country will have its rainbow chasers eager to exploit the great secret of the old Indians.

"THREE WEEKS" AT WINNIPEG

Play Immoral, But no Immoral Conduct, Says Magistrate

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—The case against the Grand Opera Company for the production of an alleged immoral play entitled "The Three Weeks," was dismissed by Magistrate Daly.

In giving his decision, the magistrate declared the play was decidedly immoral, but while the prosecution had established this, they had not been able, he said, to prove that there was any lewd and lascivious conduct, as stipulated by the by-law on the subject. "The charge in this case," he declared, "does not use the word 'lewd' and it is therefore useless for me to convict. Had the charge been brought under the Criminal Code it would have been a different matter, but under the by-law I have no option but to dismiss the case."

SOCIETY WOMEN'S HAIR

A Simple Treatment That Will Make it Truly—Fascinating Wm. Madill Guarantees It

Nowadays every up-to-date woman has radiant hair.

What a foolish creature a woman would be if she lost the opportunity to add to her attractions.

Yet in Canada to-day there are hundreds of thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair who do not make any attempt to improve it.

In Paris most women have beautiful hair, and in Canada all women who use Parisian Sage have lustrous and luxuriant hair.

And any woman reader of the Review can have attractive and lustrous hair in a few days' time by using this great hair rejuvenator, Parisian Sage.

Wm. Madill sells a large bottle for 50 cents and he guarantees it to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is an ideal hair tonic, not sticky or greasy.

Stopped the Paper

Our old friend, Mr. Thos. Connolly came in this morning and cancelled his subscription to the Post because of our stand on the local option bylaw. Mr. Connolly has been a reader of this paper for forty years and we regret that he cannot see eye to eye with us on the question of temperance. Shortly after he left the business office six citizens who approved of the stand we have taken subscribed for this paper.—Lindsay paper.

Strathconas and West Ends Carried Off First Honors of City League--Len Giroux's Great Work in Nets for the T.A.S. a Feature.

The big race for the championship of the City Hockey League is on and the start made at Brock street rink last night was a pretty one. The Strathconas, Keene, West Ends, T.A.S. are the contestants, the two first named have a slight lead as a result of their win last night. The crowd on hand to witness the two exhibitions was a large one and all appeared to be highly pleased with the work of the players of the four teams, and the indications are that this season will be the most successful in the history of the league. The first game between the Strathconas and Keene was won by the red and white seven by the score of 10—6, and the second between the West Ends and T.A.S. by the former by a 7—3 score.

Bill Rose refereed both games with satisfaction to all teams.

FIRST GAME.

While each of the players on the Strathcona lineup put up a great game, the work of Hugh Burritt at centre ice, was the most conspicuous. He showed speed and played his position like a veteran. He secured six of the ten goals and while it was expected that he would perform in a creditable manner, it was not thought owing to the fact that it was his first game in senior company, that he would shine as he did. Ray at rover, was the same old reliable player and McMillan never dished up a better exhibition. Weatherston's aggressive work was always in evidence. He was checking a good man and had to handle many wide passes. In the nets Derocher, although not feeling just up to the mark on account of a bad cold, blocked numerous shots and he received good support from Dennison and Dusty at point and cover respectively. Dennison, who is a graduate of the P. C. T. team, rushed nicely and effectively and checked well. Three and four man combination play was a feature of the game put up by the Strathconas and it proved too big a proposition for their opponents.

Smith and Weir were the bright lights on the Keene team, although the latter had a bad habit of loafing. Weir was all over the ice and was a hard worker. What combination the team attempted was nipped in the bud by the hard checking of the Strathconas. They could not break away and individual rushes failed to work. Dinsdale in goal had a busy night and H. Dickson and McDougall succumbed to the style of play with which they had to contend. The players worked better together in the second half and outscored the Strathconas four goals to three, but the early lead against them had the team beaten. The half-time score was 6—2 in favor of the Strathconas. The teams lined up as follows:

Keene		Strathconas
	Goal
Dinsdale		Derocher
	Point
Dickson		Dennison
	Cover
McDougall		Dusty
	Rover
McCarthy		Ray
	Centre
Weir		Burritt
	Right Wing
McIntyre		McMillan
	Left Wing
Smith		Weatherston

Time-keepers—Dr. McWilliams, of Keene; S. Wade, Strathconas.

Penalty time-keepers—E. Carr and E. Brown.

SECOND GAME.

The second contest was hotly contested, but there was not the open play which marked the first. The players were too anxious to get on the puck and the result was the two forward lines were bunched. The score at half-time was 3—2 in favor of the Abstainers and was a pretty good indication of the play.

Better hockey was played in the second half and while the T.A.S. started off like winners it was not to be, for after tieing the score, Manager Oldham's team, with Ken Crane setting the pace, began a bombardment on the T.A.S. and kept it up until the gong sounded for full time. During this period they put four goals past Giroux, making the score read 7—3 in their favor.

For the winners all the players on the line put up a hard game, with Crane and Giroux, always conspicuous. After the team got started in the second half, Len Dobson showed up to better form and his work had much to do with the win. Bill Shortt was checked hard, but he got away with some particularly fine shooting. Seymour and Munroe rushed well and broke up many dangerous assaults on the part of the T.A.S. and Halpin showed up to good advantage between the nets.

Len Giroux starred for the losers at his position between the flags. When the West End line was playing at its best and frequently tore down the ice he stopped shots repeatedly from close range and in doing so put up an exhibition of goal tending that was pretty to watch. M. Sabitino and Quigley were effective, the latter doing some fine rushing.

The forward line showed up well at times, but they could not get working together, and in the latter part of the game, showed lack of condition.

The following is the line-up of the teams:

West Ends		T. A. S.
	Goal
Halpin		L. Giroux
	Point
Munro		M. Sabitino
	Cover
Seymour		Quigley
	Rover
Crane		Coughlin
	Centre
Dobson		T. Sabitino
	Right wing
Shortt		Moran
	Left wing
C. Giroux		McNichol

LOVE MEDDLES IN LACROSSE

Champion Alex Turnbull Falls to Cupid's Pranks — To be Married Soon

Vancouver News-Advertiser.—Of all the antics that Dan Cupid is capable of, and the peculiarities he indulges in to gain his point, the latest prank is about the limit.

Cupid disguised himself as a sun-kissed lacrosse player on the Vancouver team. Without the least suspicion that the said player was acting the role so well, the little trick was worked off like a charm and now two more hearts have been transfixed by one of Cupid's darts. It all happened this way:—

Early last spring, when the local lacrosse team played their first league match with the world's champions and present holders of the Minto Cup, a player called "Alex" was unfortunate—or, perhaps, fortunate—enough to have several of his ribs fractured by being thrown heavily to the ground during the play. This necessitated his removal to a hospital, where he remained in the care of a nurse for several weeks. This part of the story is a matter of course. But wait until the rest is told.

During the weeks in the hospital Cupid was busy weaving his net about two inmates—the patient and the nurse—and so well did he accomplish his task that in a few short days the said nurse will change her name to Turnbull—Mrs. Alexander Turnbull, as will appear under the wedding notices.

The nuptial game will be played on January 10th at New Westminster, and it is safe to say that the veteran who has had the signal honor of playing on two world's championship teams in the same season, will, after all, think his injury was a blessing in disguise.

BOB FITZ, JR. VOWS VENGEANCE

On Bill Lang the Man Who Chopped Father — A Little Hot Air From Youngster

New York, Jan. 5.—"Take five years off Pop and he would lick any man in the world. This big stiff, Bill Lang, won on a fluke, and if I had the five years that I would like to see taken from my old Dad, I'd go out to Australia and knock the bloomin' head off'n that cheap skate."

These views were expressed by Robert Fitzsimmons, jr., at the comfortable old farm-house of the Fitzsimmonses on the outskirts of Dunellen, near Plainfield, NJ. Young Bob, although only fifteen (but "goin on sixteen," as he proudly boasted), is a husky youngster.

"Newspapers said this morning that Martin and I cried when we got the paper in the Dunellen post office the other day and saw that Dad had been knocked out by Bill Lang. That's a lie. What we did was to beat it home and read that paper carefully, then we swore that if it took a hundred years, we'd get square with that mutt, Lang. You see, this fight meant a whole lot to us. If Pop had won he intended to retire from the ring. He would have had enough money to come back home and settle down, and that's what he has been looking forward to for a long time. Everybody knows that he was the gamest and best fighter that ever put on a glove. Some people think he likes to fight, but that ain't true; he hated it. He wanted to be a farmer, and he wants us to be farmers. I expect to own a farm of my own some day, but that kid sitting over there (indicating Martin) has got the fighting bee in his bonnet, and he is scrapping all the time. He can go some, too, I can tell you, but I have to jump in and trim him once in a while, or else he would get so cocky there would be no living with him.

"I never expect to be a professional fighter, but some of these days you newspaper guys will be writing a story about how I met up with this piker Lang and gave him the beating of his life. That goes, too; don't you think I am kidding, for I mean every word of it."

Here Bob was interrupted by Martin, who remarked, "Well, if you don't, kiddo, I will."

Even little Rose, the sister, joined in the chorus by saying, "I wish I could pinch him just once."

Asked if he thought prize fighters made good fathers, Young Bob said;—

"I don't know many fighters, and I don't know a whole lot of fathers, but if any of them has anything on my old dad I want to see him. He's the best in the world, and anybody in Dunellen will tell you so, and you bet your life he sees that we get what we want before he blows a nickel in on himself or his friends. Everybody around here will tell you what kind of a man he is. There ain't a dog in the country that wouldn't leave its master for pop, any old time, and there ain't a horse or a cow on the place that doesn't follow him around like a dog."

THE TURF

George Powell, the veteran horseman, was on hand with three winners in the Belleville ice races. Powell lives in Belleville, now and has been training his horses there for some time past. Togo, with Powell up, won the 2.30 class. Togo is a bay gelding and has raced here before now. Powell also drove Hal Patriot to victory in the 2.50 class and up behind the bay mare City Queen, won three straight heats from Walter G., in the 2.14 race. The fastest time for the latter race was 2.23 1-4.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Prince Albert, Jan. 5.—W. Miller, crack hockey player, who is wanted by Edmonton to complete their line for the Stanley Cup matches and who was arrested at the instance of the local club last evening as he was boarding a train for the western city, on a charge of jumping his contract, was released to-day on Edmonton paying the club $75 as expenses for his engagement here. He will now go east with the challengers.

Marmora, Jan. 5.—At a special meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League, held at Madoc, the following schedule of games was adopted;

Jan. 12.—Madoc at Marmora.
Jan. 19.—Marmora at Madoc.
Jan. 26—Madoc at Marmora.
Feb. 2—Marmora at Madoc.

In case each team wins two games, home and home games will be played, majority of goals to decide the championship. It was also decidedd that the visiting team should bring along a referee, while the home team is to provide a judge of play, who will watch for fouls and roughness.

Despite big inducements from Roy Brown, of the Brantford professional hockey team, Ben Dusty has definitely decided to remain in this city for the season. Brown has been trying to land the local for the past week.

Bill Rose handled both City League games last night with a firmness that is commendable and all teams were treated impartially.

Watch this Keene team in the remainder of the games. Last night was their first game this season on a large sheet of ice.

Globe.—"Chuck" Tyner was in town last night and stated that he had secured Ben Dusty, "the bear in Peterborough," as he expressed it, for his Brantford team. Randall, the Lindsay-Oshawa player, is to report in Brantford to-day.

Oshawa Reformer.—Cobourg has the biggest defence playing O.H.A. Turpin, point, weighs 230; while Crossen, cover, is in the neighborhood of 212. What a pair of little pink tea darlings!

HOCKEY

The members of the proposed intermediate hockey club had a work out last night at the rink. The ice was in good shape and the boys indulged in a good practice. Frank Cote was out and he pleased the fans by his work. Capt. Stoddard showed his old time form, and Bloomfield and Dougan were also conspicuous by their splendid skating and stick handling. Byron Green was also out and he promises to make good on the line-up. A number of other candidates for positions on the team were in uniform, and the indications are that Lindsay can place a good team in the intermediate class.—Lindsay Post.

ALF. SHRUBB HAD TO QUIT

A little over five miles was as far as Alf. Shrubb could go in his race against Meadows at the Excelsior rink last night. The Guelph boy came to town accompanied by a lot of supporters and ready, as he said, to run the best race of his life. He finished out his ten miles in 53.31, very fast time without any pace for the last five miles, if the track measurements were correct.

There was a big crowd in the rink when the race was started. The contest was exciting enough until Shrubb was forced to withdraw. Meadows led in the first mile and Shrubb in the second and third. The Guelphite took command again in the fourth and Shrubb in the fifth. Meadows was leading by about one lap when the Englishman retired. Following is the time by miles:—

1—Meadows	4.51 1-5
2—Shrubb	9.47
3—Shrubb	14.50
4—Meadows	20.58
5—Shrubb	25.19
6—Meadows	30.39
7—Meadows	36.07
8—Meadows	41.50
9—Meadows	47.30
10—Meadows	53.31, 3-5

MARTY WALSH GOT SEVEN GOALS

Galt Defeated in First Stanley Cup Game by 13 to 3---Challengers Were Outclassed

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—In the first of the Stanley Cup matches to-night the Ottawa team overwhelmed the Galt professionals by 12 goals to 3. The half-time score was 7 to 2 for the Ottawas.

In the first five minutes of the match the Galt team looked good enough to give Ottawa some kind of an argument, but they faded quickly and the balance of the match was a procession of goals for the Ottawas. The game developed farcical towards the close. Stuart, Ridpath and others of the Ottawa team deliberately shooting wide after shaking the Galt defence. After the match Manager Irving announced that they would, notwithstanding their overwhelming defeat, stay over and play the second game of the series on Friday. They have no earthly chance of overcoming the Ottawa lead, but they will bring Servis, Young, Dumart and McNamara down and hope to give Ottawa a much harder fight.

The Galt players claim that the big rink bewildered them and that the hard ice was another handicap. The crowd was also a disappointment, about 2,500 being present. Taylor's desertion to Renfrew and recent hockey developments seem to have placed the club in disfavor, but there was little interest in the game, everybody seeming to take it for granted that Ottawa would win hands down. Lehman in the Galt goal and old Pete Charlton at point were the best of the Cup chasers. Lehman made some wonderful saves and Charlton proved by far the fastest man. The others were very weak. They had neither combination or speed, and their shooting was weird. The Ottawas, on the other hand, showed up surprisingly well. Mallen, who replaced Taylor at cover, made an immense hit, and Bruce Ridpath signalized his debut into Stanley Cup company by playing a brilliant game. The Galt men watched Ridpath closely, but he was in the thick of it throughout. Walsh scored seven goals, five of which he got in succession. Lesueur, Lake, Shore and Stuart were also conspicuous. It was not by any means a true test, however, as Galt were not in a class with the champions. Taylor and Kerr were both missed for their spectacular work, but it is hard to tell what the locals would have been had they been in the game. Play was clean. Each team suffered nine minutes on penalties.

The teams were—

Ottawa — Lesueur, goal; Lake, point; Mallen, cover; Stuart, rover; Walsh, centre; Ridpath, left wing; Shore, right wing.

Galt — Lehman, goal; Charlton, point; Murphy, cover; Manson, rover; Jimmie Mallen, centre; Domerty, left wing; Dunsons, right wing.

Referee—Russell Bowie, Montreal. Judge of play—Duncan Campbell, of Montreal.

OBITUARY

MRS. THOMAS LITTLE.

At Nicholls hospital this morning, the death occurred of Harriet Elizabeth Little, wife of Mr. Thomas Little, 39 Jackson avenue, Ashburnham. The deceased had only been removed to the hospital yesterday, having been taken suddenly ill. The late Mrs. Little was born on the Isle of Wight, England, 24 years ago, and her parents and the members of the family reside there. She was a member of St. John's Anglican church. To mourn her loss, she leaves her husband and two small children, Clarence, aged two and a half years and Bertha, seven months.

JAMES REX.

The death occurred last night of William James Martin Rex, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rex, 452 Mark street, Ashburnham, after a lingering illness. The deceased was in his twenty-first year and was well known throughout the city. Sincere sympathy will be extended to the bereaved parents and the members of the family. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

"THE PRINCE CHAP"

A Charming Play That is Sure to Please Everyone—Of the Same Style as "The Music Master" and Mrs. Wiggs.

Plays which portray life in its simplicity are the plays which really may be called great. In the past six years three such works have been written by American authors and have achieved extraordinary popularity and success. These are "The Music Master," "The Prince Chap" and "Mrs. Wiggs," and the reason they have won such overwhelming favor is that their characters are true to life, their incidents natural, their interest true and of the heart, and their comedy wholesome and clean.

"The Prince Chap," with a remarkable record of a year in New York, another in London and a whole season in Australia has been aptly termed a masterpiece by the critics and is unquestionably the finest type of drama now before the great play-going public. It abounds in sweet sentiment, in clean and wholesome in every word and situation, and the tense and more emotional scenes are happily relieved by irresistible comedy scenes, that chase away the tears with welcome laughter.

"The Prince Chap" is first and last a play of the heart. Its one theme is love. Mother-love, child-love, and the love of friend for friend, and finally that strange, irresistible something which persuades the young American artist in London, around whom the story revolves, to adopt the little five-year-old waif who is brought to his studio. When through the years that intervene, as she advances to girlhood and then to young womanhood, she grows also deep into his heart and he into hers, until at length that love is theirs which passes all understanding.

And right here is a factor of such daring and originality as to make "The Prince Chap" not only one of the most remarkable plays ever penned, but one which only a most liberal and resourceful manager would take the pains to interpret properly. It is obvious that, in portraying the part of Claudia, the waif who grows up to be, in time, the artist's affianced wife, no one actress could successfully represent herself as five years old in the first act, eight years in the second and eighteen in the third.

Consequently three different persons must be engaged to play this one part, not alone this, they must be so alike in feature, coloring, speech and personality as to make the illusion complete and the play convincing. This managerial miracle has been performed in Manager Cook's notable company. The two child Claudias are played by two remarkable little girls, Helen and Beryl Pullman sisters; the grown up Claudia is marvellously reproduced in Miss Elvia Bates, a young artist of uncommon charm and ability. So alike are there three it requires no stretch of the imagination to believe that when little Helen and Beryl grow to womanhood they will look, act and speak precisely as Elvia Bates does now. "The Prince Chap" will be given this evening at the Grand Opera House.

MERE REFERENCE IN LETTER PROVED BOON TO KANSAS CITY'S POOR CHILDREN

The Christmas tree and dinner held at the Peterborough fire hall on December had a wider agency for good than was anticipated by its supporters at its inception. In a most incidental way it gave rise to a suggestion that a Christmas tree festival along the same lines would be a good thing for Kansas City, Mo. The conventional "man from Missouri" is spoken of as a confirmed doubter, but this apparently doesn't apply to the little men from Kansas City who attended the function at Convention Hall in thousands, quite evidently convinced beforehand that the Christmas tree had many gladsome offerings for them. Judging from a column account of the affair, in the Kansas City Journal of December 24th, their fondest expectations were thoroughly confirmed under most gratifying auspices, both from the standpoint of the donors and the army of happy juvenile guests. Mayor Crittenden was the organizer and zealous head executive of the event, and Fire Chief Howard, of Peterborough, was the incidental inaugurator of the function.

Last month Chief Howard, who is secretary of the Canadian Fire Chiefs' Association, was doing some corresponding, relative to matters of international interest, with Fire Chief John C. Egner, of the Kansas City fire department, and casually mentioned the Christmas tree that was being held here for the direct benefit of the firemen of this city and the poor children in the vicinity of the fire hall. At the time the Kansas City chief received the letter Mayor Crittenden was in his office and the chief showed the communication to the mayor. The latter was immediately impressed with the idea, and in conjunction with the fire chief and other citizens of influence, made arrangements and effected organization in connection with the Christmas tree for Kansas City.

The paper referring to the affair with a letter speaking of its origin has been received from Fire Chief Egner by Chief Howard.

So it will be seen that many important happenings have their beginnings from most unlooked for sources.

ATTAINED WONDERFUL POPULARITY

Phenomenal Success of "The Blue Mouse" Which Appears Here Tuesday Evening

In the recent history of theatricals no piece of lighter nature at least, has attained the popularity of "The Blue Mouse." Sam S. and Lee Shubert, Inc., who own the American rights of this German farce, first brought it out at the Lyric Theatre, New York, last September a year ago. The success of the play was so apparent that they at once sent on tour three road companies, and it is a noteworthy fact that all three of these companies have been playing continually, not only during the winter months, but the summer months as well. The Lyric Theatre cast, at the conclusion of the twelve months engaged, was moved to the Maxine Elliott Theatre, where, after two additional months, it was sent to Chicago. It is this cast, with Mabel Barrison and Harry Conor, that the Shuberts will send to the Grand for next Tuesday, and with the original production.

Rev. J. L. Campbell, Presbyterian pastor at St. David's, Ont., has resigned.

COBOURG MAN WAS TOO ACTIVE

Fined $20.00 for Buying Whiskey in Local Option Place

Mr. George Plunkett, of Cobourg, took quite an active part in the local option campaign there on behalf of the antis. To make things strong he went to Colborne, a local option village, and purchased two bottles of whiskey. Returning to Cobourg he made this fact known and asked the question, "if a stranger could go into Colborne and purchase two bottles of whiskey how much easier it would be for a resident of the village to secure a supply." He pointed out that if local option carried in Cobourg the same state of affairs would likely exist.

This story, however, reached the ears of the License Inspector and he laid information against Mr. Plunkett for purchasing liquor in a local option village. It cost him $20 and costs and now the Provincial Inspector is looking for the druggist.

A HORSE IN A LAUNDRY

New York.—A horse, attached to a laundry wagon, became frightened and made a wild dash up Broadway. Spying a sign with a shirt on it, the horse plunged into the laundry, and, ridding itself of the wagon, landed with all four feet upon the lingerie and shirts that a dozen laundresses were sorting.

When the horse went through the door, the laundresses went out the windows amid a shower of hot irons, starch and bluing bottles. When the excitement was over, the horse was found calmly munching a bundle of laundry tickets.

Mrs. Cox's Reception

Hundreds of people wended their way to Hon. George A. Cox's stately residence in Sherbourne street when Mrs. Cox (formerly Miss Amy Sterling), held her first reception. The bride was wearing a Paris gown of white satin charmeuse with tunic of white silk embroidered with crystals and necklace of diamonds and pearls and diamond ornaments. Mrs. H. C. Cox, Mrs. Edward W. Cox, Mrs. Irving Ardagh, Mrs. Fred Murray, Mrs. Alfred Doherty, and Miss Sterling assisted in the drawing-room, which was fragrant with quantities of American Beauty roses. Deep red Richmond roses were used on the tea table in the diningroom, over which was suspended a graceful bouquet of the same flowers tied with crimson ribbon. Mrs. Aaron Cox and Mrs. Geo. Morrow poured tea and coffee, assisted by a bevy of girls wearing dainty favors of lilies of the valley, and including Miss Ethel Ames, Miss Glenn Wakens, Miss Cornelia Heintzman, Miss Muriel Sterling, Miss Julie Morrow, Miss Gertrude Oliver, Miss Ethel Baily, Miss Lillian Cox.

POULTRY BREEDING

And Rearing—Practical Address by Mr. George Robertson of Ottawa.

An interesting and practical talk on the breeding and rearing of chickens was given at the City Council chamber last night by Mr. George Robertson, an experienced and enthusiastic poultry man of Ottawa. Mr. Robertson's topic was "The Breeding and Rearing of Chickens." He was introduced by Mr. R. H. Leary, who acted as chairman.

Mr. Robertson said he would not give an address, but a talk, and he invited discussion on the different points. He stated that he would deal with the hatching of chickens for show purposes. There is a big difference in hatching chicks for show and for market. If the latter is wanted, he said, use the incubator and brooder at once. But for show purposes there was no comparison with the hen. The first thing was to use a box sufficiently large to allow the hens lots of room. Put in shovel full of loam in the bottom and a handful of straw on top. Then put the hen on the nest at night and get her used to the nest before giving her the eggs. For February hatching he advised using less than 13 eggs, but in June 13 was all right. There should be a dust bath for the hens. Then he advised using hens of the lighter breeds because she has a hotter body and would produce better results. A big hen will make a better brooder because she can cover more chicks.

It is well to leave the chicks in the nest as long as possible after they are hatched. The first feed is chick grit mixed with chopped grains. Keep the chicks in a warm place for a few days until they get sufficient strength, then they can go out in the coops. He showed a sketch of the coop he uses and which always proved satisfactory. After putting the chicks out he first feeds them dry bread and milk, and he finds it to be the best of all. He feeds five times a day and very little at a time. There is always the chopped grain around where they can scratch for it at all times. After the chicks are a week old he lets the hens out with them and they gather grubs and worms. He also leaves hoppers full of grain in many parts of the field. He usually keeps them in the orchard or corn field.

An important feature is, once a chick is culled the sooner it is killed the better. The others will grow very much faster. In reference to culling he said that a man, to a very large extent, had to get accustomed to his breed. In culling black chicks look for one that shows purple and cull it at once, but never cull a black chick because he shows white feathers. The buff chicks are the easiest to cull for color as the first feathers will show pretty well what it will be.

As soon as chicks begin to roost then take the hen away from them as they will get along very well alone. Chicks in a small yard will mature faster physically than those having a free range, but the chicks that run at large will be larger in the end.

After Mr. Robertson had finished there was considerable discussion. Many questions were asked and answered, and the evening proved very profitable.

MANY TO HEAR GIPSY HAWKINS

Large Audience and Fine Address at Park Street Church

A large congregation greeted Gipsy Hawkins last night at the Park St. Baptist church. The meeting was a most interesting one, and the address was a fine exposition of John 3:16.

Mr. Hawkins laid special emphasis upon the two words 'perish' and 'saved,' and the audience was held in rapt attention at his eloquent remarks.

There will be a meeting to-night at 8 o'clock.

Friday night Gipsy Hawkins will give a special address upon a special subject, viz., "The Future Resurrection; What It Is, When It Takes Place." Mr. Hawkins has made this subject a special study and all should come and hear it.

Mr. Hawkins will assist the Salvation Army next Saturday evening and and also give a special address to men next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Come to the meeting to-night.

EXERCISES OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

At Springville — Presentations to Melville Whitfield

The closing exercises in connection with the Springville Presbyterian Sunday school were held last week. The year has been a very successful one.

The prizes were distributed by Santa Claus, and a good programme was given.

One of the features of the evening were the presentations to Melville Whitfield, who had recited accurately the shorter catechism, and for which he received a diploma from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and 600 verses of scripture, for which he received another diploma, with gold seal attached. The Session of the church presented him with a Bible.

BIBLE CLASS HONORS TEACHER

Annual Meeting Otonabee Agricultural Society on Friday January 21st.

Keene, Jan. 5.—Mr. Howard Humphries, Montrose, Colorado, spent a couple of days last week with his parents an Long.

Mr. Harry Smith, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, is holidaying in the village.

Mrs. William Plunkett, Havelock, is visiting relatives in Otonabee.

The Keene Hockey Club held their annual ball in the town hall Friday evening, December 31st. There was a good sized crowd and a good time. A number of young people were present.

Mr. Louis Wedlock had the misfortune to be thrown out of a sleigh and have a rib broken by a runaway accident, when returning home from the skating rink New Year's night.

On Monday evening the members of the Bible Class of the Presbyterian Sunday school met at the home of their teacher, Mr. Andrew Shearer, and presented him with a handsome Morris chair and footstool. Miss Susie Weir read the following address:

Dear Teacher,—It becomes our pleasant duty as members of your class assembled here to-night to remind you that your untiring interest in our behalf is not forgotten. We might say for years we have known you as a citizen, a friend and a teacher, and in all these varied walks you have striven to do your duty.

Recollecting the many pleasant and profitable hours spent with you in your class we present this chair as a slight tangible expression of our esteem and regard.

We trust it may adorn your home and ever remind you of our good will and that our relation as teacher and class may long continue and that this joyful Christmas tide may bring to your household and yourself God's richest blessings.

Signed on behalf of the class;—Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. P. Drummond.

The annual meeting of the Otonabee Agricultural Society will be held in the town hall, Keene, Friday, January 21st, at one o'clock p.m., for the purpose of receiving and disposing of the report of the Board of Directors, the election of officers for the ensuing year, the revision of the by-laws and for any other business.

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Davidson, whose death occurred Saturday, Jan. 1st, was held from the late residence of the deceased on Tuesday afternoon and interment took place at Keene cemetery. The funeral funeral was largely attended, Rev. D. D. McDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Keene, conducted the funeral services. Besides her husband the deceased leaves three children, two boys of eight and ten and an infant a couple of weeks old.

Mr. John Bennett, of Somerbury, Saskatchewan, but formerly a resident of this village, is back renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. James Runnings, Owen Sound, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Plunkett last week.

Mr. F. M. Dean, of the Bank of Toronto, Wallaceburg, formerly of Keene spent New Year's day in the village. Mr. Dean had the misfortune on his return to travel on the train that was wrecked in Western Ontario, Sunday night, but escaped with only a few scratches.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls, Madoc, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Plunkett, Sunday.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN LANG.

An old resident of Ashburnham passed away last evening, in the person of Margaret Fawcett, wife of Mr. John Lang, 656 Rogers street. She had been ailing for one week with an attack of bronchial pneumonia, but owing to her advanced age of 65 years was unable to stand the shock to her system.

The late Mrs. Lang was born in the County of Donegal, Ireland, and had resided here for the past 42 years. She was a lady who held the respect and esteem of all with whom she came in contact, and her many friends will regret to learn of her demise. Surviving her, besides her besides her husband, are one son, Mr. R. J. Lang, of Providence, R.I., and one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Sterr, of this city.

The funeral will take place from the late residence, on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery.

WOMEN FOR AN ADAMLESS EDEN

Settlement to be in Australia and on Large Scale—Fourteen Chartered Members

New York, Jan. 5.—Australians in New York are much interested at stories that have been circulated among them from the great island continent in the Pacific. These have to do with the movement among women of the hustling commonwealth to take themselves apart from the rule of man.

The edict against man has been spoken in the voice of the English Woman's Householders' League.

The league has secured from the western state government of Australia a tract of land that is to be all its own, all and solely woman's way. The land is an immense tract of Wilson's inlet, and is to be used for the establishment of a farm colony on a large scale. The leaders and founders of the movement, which it is declared is now in active working order, are Mrs. Crooks, principal of the Woman's Agricultural College, in Worcestershire, England, Mrs. Emily Crawford and Miss Hetty Sawyer, M.D.

"No prohibition state," say the proud Australian women, "was ever so rigidly guarded from its archenemy as this settlement will be from the machinations of the thing that is known as man."

An Australian newspaper says that each woman buyer is obliged to sign a clause in her title deed of ownership so phrased as to prevent any future selling of the land to any male. No man is to be permitted to own stock, or at any time, directly or indirectly, to hold office in this great agricultural enterprise of emancipated women.

The stories say that all the capital required has been subscribed, and that fourteen homesteads are already occupied.

THIS GUEST WAS UNWELCOME ONE

Hamilton Wife Found Rival Sitting at the Table

Hamilton, Jan. 6.—There was a lively time on Main street east on Sunday afternoon, in which two women and one man were concerned. The house in which the fracas took place is the home of one of the women, who is the wife of the man in the case. They, however, have not been living together for some time. The wife takes in washing and supports her four small children.

The husband, according to a story his wife tells, has been living with another woman for some time.

The Sunday afternoon the wife left the house for a walk, taking a couple of her children with her, leaving the other two at home in care of her husband's mother, with whom she lives.

She returned at tea time and the sight she saw when she entered her house completely dumbfounded her.

There, sitting at the table and eating the food that she had provided, was her husband, and, sitting beside him, was the woman who had taken her place in his affections.

The wife was angry, and, packing her trunk, left the house and went to live with some relatives.

Yesterday she received a call from her hubby, who asked her to go back and care for the children, saying that he would not bother her any more, and, to that, she finally consented. She said last evening that she appealed to Magistrate Jelfs a short time ago because her husband came into her house and struck her. The magistrate told her that he could do nothing on account of the conditions under which she lived in the house.

Both the wife and husband are young people, and are well known, particularly the husband, who at one time figured in a couple of road races in the city.

FIELD SECRETARY OF TRAINING COLLEGE

Mr. E. S. Conklin, field secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Training College at Springfield, Mass., is in the city in his official capacity, and will meet the members of the local Association at a supper to be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at six o'clock. There promises to be a large attendance. Mr. Conklin's work is to interest young men in the work of the Association, and have them enroll as students at the Training College, if it is found advisable.

Hit by Puck

A small boy by the name of Galvin, who was in the press box at the rink last night, was struck in the face by the puck during the West Ends—T.A.S. game. A bad cut was inflicted under [illegible] eye and the little fellow had to carried out of the rink.

Lonesome in Lonesomeville

In a local paper yesterday sympathetic reference was made to "a lonesome crane being found at Riverside Park and taken into the brewery." The opinion is ventured that it's no wonder the bird was lonesome if it had to live in Ashburnham for any length of time.

Port Dover carried a by-law to grant $10,000 and a free site to the Widespread Implement Company.

NOTICE to CREDITORS

In the Matter of JOSEPH GRAY of the City of Peterborough in the County of Peterborough, Insolvent.

NOTICE is hereby given that JOSEPH GRAY of the City of Peterborough in the County of Peterborough, carrying on business as a Contractor and Builder at the said City of Peterborough has made an Assignment under R. BETHEL EMILY

Bethel, Emily, Jan. 5.—A layman from Lindsay Presbyterian church will be here next Sunday evening and will deliver an address on Missions from a layman's point of view. A good service is anticipated, and we hope to see a large crowd in attendance.

Miss Anna Mills, of Rochester, spent the holidays at her home here.

Miss Florence Mitchell, of Toronto, was the guest of her brother, Mr. E. Mitchell, during the holidays.

Miss Emma McCague, of Toronto, was the guest of her brother, Mr. G. McCague, over Christmas.

An event of interest to the people here was celebrated in Toronto last Wednesday, Dec. 29th, when Miss Irons of that city was united in marriage to Mr. John C. Lowes of this vicinity. The groom's many friends here join in wishing him and his bride many years of future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Lowes have taken up their residence on their farm at Frank Hill.

Miss Annie Doube and Mr. Thos. Doube are at present visiting their aunt, Mrs. Murphy, of St. Mary's.

Rev. W. Morgan, of China, will conduct the missionary service here on Sunday, Jan. 16th. We hope a large congregation will be present. Also he shall deliver an address on the following Monday evening at the Epworth League here. The league will meet on Monday evening that week in place of Thursday evening, which is the regular E. L. meeting night.

Miss Bryans is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Mitchell.

Miss Ida Jackson, of Peterborough, is at present visiting friends here.

FUNERAL NOTICE

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thos. Little will leave the family residence on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and interment will take place at the Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house will be conducted at two o'clock.

MR. POTTER'S ZEAL AND WORK COMMENDED

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Any one reading the editor's note appended to Rev. Mr. Potter's communication in yesterday's Review can make no mistake as to your intention that there shall be no further discussion of the recent Local Option campaign in your columns, except, I presume, it be at advertising rates. From your point of view this may be wisdom, and personally I have no disposition to continue discussion, or rather to begin discussion, for, in the press of the city there has been no such thing, in the sense that other matters of civic interest are usually discussed.

But, sir, I would like to say, as a personal friend of Mr. Potter's, and one who regards the self-sacrificing, unremitting toil of that gentleman in connection with the Local Option struggle with the utmost of admiration, that the curt manner in which you dismissed him and his theme, excites in me a considerable spirit of resentment.

One would naturally have looked for some word of appreciation of Mr. Potter, after the commendable devotion displayed by him in the interests of the city's well-being, rather than that which, looked at in the most charitable way, smacks of contempt.

I am sorry Mr. Editor, that I cannot admire your attitude.

I am yours very truly,

CHAS. H. COON.

FAMILY HAS BEEN DEPORTED

Wm. Swan, His Wife and Two Children Sent Back to England To-day at Noon.

William Swan, his wife and two children started on a trip back to England to-day. The family have been in destitute circumstances since coming to this country and the matter of their deportation has been in the hands of Relief Officer Miller for some time. The family has been here too long to be deported in the regular manner so it was necessary to make special arrangements. These have been completed and the city pays the expenses as far as St. John and the government the cost of the remainder of the trip.

BASKET BALL AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Normal School's Solitary Point in Game With C.G.E. Team

Canadian General Electric 31.
Normal School, 1.

Last night was a hard game for the Normal School. They played hard, but showed lack of practice. They returned to their school on Tuesday and then attempted to play basketball without any practice whatever. Last night's game showed it.

When the referee's whistle sounded, one could see that it wasn't going to be any fun for the Normal School, and they will likely agree with the spectators that it wasn't very much fun. Both sides played rough at times, but the Normal School didn't play as they should.

The Normal School thought that they were not being treated right, but they didn't stop to consider that one of their own men had put a deep gash in one of the Canadian General Electric Co.'s best men, who is very much needed at the office, and only plays basketball as a side sport.

There is very little need of putting the line-up in this issue, for it would not be a credit to either side.

The Normal School has been advised by the physical director that what they need is practice, and not points on as to how they should play rugby.

Let us hope that the next game will be just a little bit milder than last night's.

WALKING

STARL CRONLEY. TOLEDO, OHIO.

New York, Jan. 4.—Having walked 12,823 miles around the borders of the United States in two years and nineteen days, Starl Cronley, of Toledo, feels well warmed up to the work of seeking the promoters who sped him on his way from Ohio on October 25th, 1907, with promises of fame and a fortune. Cronley is not so sure of the latter, but he does not balk at a jog of a few thousand more miles if he can meet his old friends.

Cronley, who is on the youthful side of thirty, has had enough experience to make a literary account of his career bristle like Bowery melodrama. As a native of Illinois, he enlisted for Philippine service in 1900, and was discharged from the army because of epileptic attacks.

A seven hundred mile walk being suggested to him for treatment, he plodded through it so briskly and beneficially that he planned with confidence for his around the border jaunt. He is now sure that he can do it, having, like the fellow who wagered that he could drink a gallon of beer without taking his lips from the pail, tried it first.

"Walking is real exercise under the conditions I confronted," said Conley. "I left Toledo with one cent and a twelve dollar rifle. I had the same cent when I returned and a late model revolver."

RUNNING

CHALLENGES HOLMER.

Sol Mintz and Longboat are out after Hans Holmer, the Bluenose, who, since his victory in the bay race a year ago last fall has been meeting with all kinds of success in the pro. ranks. Mintz is ready to match Longboat against the Nova Scotia lad for a ten-mile race at any time or in any place, and for a side bet of from $500 to $1,000. Sol prefers to have the race held here, even though other towns might draw bigger crowds, but as he is eager for the bet more than a big gate, the Indian's manager prefers his home town. Holmwer is at present located in New York, where he is pretty busy with his pro. engagements, and a formal challenge was forwarded to him yesterday afternoon. In and around New York, Sparrow Robertson and the rest of the New York and Irish American contingents think Holmer is the best long distance man in the professional game at the present time, and they think so well of him that it is said he can secure unlimited backing for any race. This is just what Mintz and Longboat desire, and Sol will make a special effort to get the Bluenose into a race.—Hamilton Spectator.

CRICKET

Johannesburg, S. A., (Jan 4.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The international cricket match between the Marleybone C. C. eleven and South Africa was left a draw after three days play, the margin at the finish favoring the colonials.

Resuming the wicket to-day the South Africans raised their score for the second innings to the splendid total of 345. This left England just 244 to make to win and they not only fell an even hundred short, but the Johannesburg bowling at one stage threatened to give South Africa a memorable victory. When time was up England had only made 144 runs for seven wickets.

Score; South Africa, 208 and 345; England, 310 and 144 for 7.

The Englishmen begin a three-days match next Saturday at Durham against Natal.

Jeffries's Sermon

Vancouver Sunset.

Jim Jeffries was continuing, with a group of Minneapolis reporters, his thoughtful talks on the morals of muscularity.

"Muscular morality," said the pugilist, "requires self-control. The temper must never be lost. Ah, think, gentlemen, how much happier the world would be if no one ever lost his temper."

The pugilist lighted a cigar and chuckled.

"Lost temper does great harm," he said. "I once knew a man who held thirteen trumps at whist, and on account of his partner's temper he only took one trick with that ideal hand."

"Impossible!" sneered a reporter who conducted a weekly bridge column.

"Impossible? Not at all," was the pugilist's reply. "You see, as soon as this man trumped his partner's ace on the first play, his partner, in a rage, jumped up and kicked him out of the room!"

ADDS A BRAND NEW FIXTURE

That Peterborough merchants are not only quick to take advantage of new and approved methods of doing business, but are bound to warrant the confidence of their customers to the fullest extent, is shown by the recent purchase of Mr. Clayton Chowen.

He has just received the most modern weighing machine, which almost thinks for itself. It not only weighs, but computes the cost, showing the exact amount of the purchase in dollars and cents without any hand or mental operation whatever. You just place the commodity on the platform and the scale does the rest.

Customers always like to see just what they are getting; and, on this scale the amount is plainly indicated on the customers' side of the device.

The subject of scales has occupied a great deal of the time and attention of city officials and city sellers in all parts of the country. Many scales have been found unreliable and condemned. The spring scales especially have been found to be inaccurate, for, as we all know, a spring will not "spring" the same after it has been used for some time. Springs are also affected by heat and cold, and scales that contain springs cannot be relied upon.

This scale is springless and cannot wear or change. It has been found to be absolutely accurate and is recommended by officials everywhere.

This fixture will make a handsome furnishing for Mr. C. Chowen's store, and he is to be commended for his enterprise and for the open above-board weighing, which allows his customers to "see the wheels go round" for themselves. This fine piece of equipment is from the Toledo Computing Scale Co., Toledo, Ohio, makers of the finest and most approved scales now in use.

MANY PEERS AND UNIONISTS GO ABOUT PROTECTED BY GUARDS

John Burns is Attacked by Unknown Man While Leaving a Meeting—To Gain a Hearing Liberal Has to Get Unionist Chairman and Vice-Versa.

London, Jan. 7.—John Burns, President of the Local Government Board and Labor leader in the House of Commons, had a smart mix-up with an unidentified man as he was leaving a political meeting Wednesday night. The Minister was about to enter his motor car when the other sprang upon him from behind and threw him to the ground. There was a lively struggle and exchange of blows until the police pulled the assailant away.

The fight is becoming so hot that no prominent peer or Unionist campaign orator, against whom the wrath of the people seems particularly stirred will appear upon the street at night except when attended by a bodyguard.

Serious disturbances again marked many meetings last night. The Earl of Donoughmere and Lord Chylesmore, attempting to address a Conservative meeting at Coventry, found that the hall had been captured beforehand by the Radicals, who howled all the speakers down. The meeting broke up in disorder.

A similar fate overtook Lord Rothschild at Wolverton, where a crowd of rough hooligans rushed the door.

Sir William Bull, member of the House of Commons for Hammersmith, while speaking before the electors of that constituency was rudely heckled by a man in the crowd. He threatened to punch the man's head.

"Come on," shouted the man. Sir William forthwith descended, and the crowd formed a ring. A stand-up fight ensued until the police separated the combatants.

Sir William speaking of the affair, said he was none the worse for the encounter. "There has been a deal of unfair Radical rowdyism lately," he said, "this affair may clear the air, as Englishmen like a fair fight and no fouling."

Chancellor Lloyd-George, at London, last night, took the unusual course of prematurely announcing the trade returns for December, when exports had increased by 4,388,000 pounds over December, 1908, and by 1,000,000 pounds over 1907, which stood as the record year. With imports and exports together the increase was 5,000,000 pounds, and he prophesied 1910 would be another record year in trade.

Taking both exports and imports, it was better by $25,000,000. Furthermore, the increase in imports was not in manufactured goods but raw material for food.

It looked as though the coming year would be the best British trade ever experienced.

Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-George, John Burns and other members of the Government, occupied last night in denouncing A. J. Balfour's alarmist references to Germany, and repeating his accusation of the unpreparedness of the navy.

Mr. Lloyd-George, speaking at Peckham, made some strong remarks anent Mr. Balfour's Hanley speech, which he described as the last resort of a desperate man who saw his cause lost." Balfour, the Chancellor said, has now become a tail-twister, a discredited game played in America by the lowest type of politician. It was a dangerous game for the peace of Europe, discreditable to the leader of a great party and disgraceful to British politics.

Lord Desborough was unable to obtain a hearing at Camberwell, and to secure a hearing for Arn[illegible] Lupton, the Liberal candidate, at Sleaford, Captain Weigell, Unionist, had to preside. Similarly the Liberal vicar of Cottonham presided for Captain Morrison Bell, the Unionist. The Right Hon. A. Lyttleton was vigorously heckled even in exclusive Hanover Square. Many other meetings of both parties showed the heat engendered among the electors.

The Belfast Orange Grand Lodge last night issued a manifesto declaring that any candidate who opposes a properly selected Unionist candidate and calls himself a Unionist, acts the part Lundy acted in the siege of Derry, and every man who votes for such records his vote for home rule.

Swift McNeil, M.P., speaking to a representative of the C.A.P., said it was too late to rouse religious bigotry. Lord Randolph Churchill was up to his neck in the Parnell and Tory combination of 1885, but finding the Tories could not succeed in giving home rule he told Justin McCarthy: "I have done all I can for you now, and must do all I can against you."

He later declared: "Ulster will fight and Ulster will be right," but no fight is left. Rev. Fireaway Flanagan threatened to kick the crown into the Boyne if the church were disestablished, but the crown is still safe on King Edward.

The peers having done so much to advance the popular cause by their exhibitions during the last few days, it is not surprising that peers' sisters are now appearing on the scene to show how much better they can manage things.

They are turning their attention to the elementary schools, and, as will be seen from the narratives which we publish below, two of them—one in East Herts and another in Cheltenham—addressed the scholars and told them that their fathers must vote for the Tory candidates. In the East Herts schools, "Vote for Rolleston," the Tory candidate, was actually chalked up on the blackboard in order to impress the message on the minds of the children. The other morning Lady Faudel Phillips, wife of Sir George Faudel Phillips of Balle Park, Hertford, visited the All Saints Elementary School, East Herts, and introduced Lady Rolleston, wife of the Tory candidate, Sir John Rolleston, to the scholars.

After some conversation Lady Faudel Phillips told the scholars to ask their fathers to vote for Sir John Rolleston and not for Mr. E. B. Barnard, M.P., the Liberal candidate. To make the thing more sure she caused the teacher to write the name on the blackboard, and "Vote for Rolleston" consequently appeared thereon.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST AS RESULT OF COLD WEATHER

Two Homesteaders in Saskatchewan Perish in the Blizzard—Three Children Caught in Storm and Little Boy Dies.

Regina, Sask., Jan. 7.—News of toll exacted by last Friday's storm in death and suffering on the prairies continues to come to hand.

A homesteader froze to death on New Year's day, south of Rouleau, and a man named Clark of Lang, perished while driving a load of hay from his farm, eight miles south of town.

Three little children living south of Yellow Grass, going from their father's place to the home of their grandparents, two miles distant, were also caught in the blizzard, and when found by a search party, the boy was dead with his two sisters huddled in the snow beside him.

Fear is also entertained with regard to the safety of Sheriff A. V. Whitehead of Weyburn, who left to drive in the south country on New Year's day, and has not since been heard from.

Lawrence Trombley, 16, while choring on a farm near Estevan, went to hunt for the horses on Friday evening and perished.

Manitoban Succumbed.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—The frozen body of Andrew Coleman was found near Darwin, Man., Wednesday. On Sunday he and a man named Bailey started to walk to town. On Tuesday Bailey was found badly frozen.

Reports say cattle on the western American ranges from the gulf northward through Nebraska, the Dakotas and Canada are dying in hundreds.

Frozen In Snow Drift.

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 7.—In the face of the blizzard Wednesday, Michael Murphy, 65, with his wife and two grandchildren, started to drive from Manlius to his home in Pompey. The sleigh broke down and Murphy wrapping up his wife and the children, started for home for another sleigh. Becoming impatient over her husband's long absence, Mrs. Murphy and the children walked home, where they found the horses, but no traces of Murphy. Yesterday his body was found frozen in a snowdrift a short distance from his home.

Fugitive Probably a Victim.

Kingston, Jan. 7.—It is feared that Frank Lessard of Flinton, who broke away from his place of confinement following his arrest for an assault upon his brother's wife, is likely frozen to death. He broke his shackles and fled out into the night with but slight clothing. Constables traced him for miles, but gave up the chase owing to the intensely bitter weather.

WITNESSES ARE RELUCTANT IN INQUEST AT ST. CATHERINES

Bystanders Who Saw the Fight Between Bradley and the Dead Man at Merriton Seem to be Withholding Part of the Facts.

St. Catharines, Ont., Jan. 7.—With the court room crowded to the doors, the inquest into the death of George Bulman, of Thorold, who met his death in Merritton on New Year's day, was continued before Coroner Jory yesterday evening.

Evidence was conflicting, but almost every witness swore to having seen Bradley, the accused, kick or punch the deceased. Although a number were standing within a few feet of Bulman, no one could tell how he slid from the car to the road.

John Boucock of Thorold, stated that deceased fell on the platform, and that Bradley hit him with his foot, Bulman sliding out from the car and striking the ground. Prisoner then kicked Bulman twice about the head or face.

Matthew Walsh of Merritton testified to having loosened Bradley's grip on Bulman's neck while on the car. He had seen Bradley's hand within three inches of Bulman's face, but did not see the latter struck.

Byron Cain of Thorold swore he had seen Bulman standing on the lower step with his hand on the railing, but did not know how he reached the ground. Cain said Bradley struck at deceased and a second later made a move with his foot to kick him. He did not think there would be room for deceased to lie on the platform, as Walsh had stated. Nor did George Sinnett think deceased could lie on the platform, as there were 15 others standing there. George Ekins corroborated other witnesses.

This concluded the evidence, and Crown Attorney Brennan said more would be secured if desired. He was anxious to find out how Bulman had reached the ground from the car, and if anybody had shoved him off.

Foreman Hodgins was of the opinion that some of the witnesses knew more than they wished to tell, and Coroner Jory stated that those who were in the vestibule of the car would regret all their lives that they had not stopped the quarrel and saved Bulman's life. He censured Conductor Francis for not interfering. From evidence deceased came to his death from a blow administered by Bradley. The foreman, however, desired more evidence, as he considered the prisoner would hardly be receiving fair play otherwise, and the inquest was adjourned until next Monday. A large number of Bradley's friends shook hands with the accused.

MUNICIPAL SUCCESS AT BROCKVILLE

Brockville, Jan. 7.—For seventeen years this municipality has operated its waterwork system with returns, the past year being the best in its history. The gross revenue, $33,822, is an increase of $2,000 over the preceding year, or $15,200 better than the first year the town assumed control. The gross gain for the year was $7,800. Out of that amount was paid debentures and sinking funds, leaving a profit of $716.

In seventeen years the department has applied out of its revenue on the bonded debt $79,321. The bad debts in that period reached $1,837, and the total consumers have jumped from 722 to 2,113.

UNITED STATES RILES ECUADOR

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Jan. 7—A storm of protest has been raised here following the receipt by Foreign Minister Aguine of a note presented by the U. S. Minister Fox, which denounces as unsatisfactory the sanitary condition prevailing in Guayaquil. The note contains a threat to quarantine the canal zone against Guayaquil unless the most active measures are taken by the local Board of Health.

The press is unanimous in censuring the terms of the communication from the United States Government, asserting that the note constitutes a serious menace to South American autonomy and adding that the time has come for these nations to form an alliance against American imperialism and closing their doors to America, look to European capitals for immigrants.

VENGEANCE OF BLACK HAND

New York, Jan. 7.—Bound hand and foot in her chair, Mrs. Josephine Genzardi sat and watched the flames of her burning house creep nearer and nearer last night, until, just before they reached her, the firemen burst down the door. She had refused to pay $500 demanded from her in a Black Hand letter last August.

The two men, who said they were plumbers, knocked at her door Wednesday night, with permission from the landlord, they first said, to repair the plumbing.

Mrs. Genzardi fainted from fright. When she recovered, she was bound to a kitchen chair, with the room on fire.

NEGRO SHOOTS A TIME KEEPER

Reading, Pa., Jan. 7.—In a dispute over wages, Fred. S. Neudorfer, timekeeper for the Toledo Construction Co., which is doing some local contract work, was shot and killed here yesterday by W. H. Brooks, a negro employe.

Brooks ran down five flights of stair and was quickly pursued by a crowd. Four blacks away, just as the foremost of the pursuers had about reached him, he drew a revolver from his pocket and shot himself through the head.

BERNARD SHAW HELPS STRIKERS

New York, Jan. 7.—George Bernard Shaw, at the request of two of the leaders of the striking shirtwaist makers, has replied to the decision given by Justice Olmstead against a strikebreaker. The judge had said: "You are on strike against God and nature, whose prime law it is that man shall earn his bread in the sweat of his brow. You are on strike against God."

Mr. Shaw's reply is: "Delightful mediaeval America. Always in the intimate personal confidence of the Almighty."

SECOND ONLY TO COBALT

F. J. Whitson Sees Great Wealth in Porcupine District.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—J. F. Whitson, assistant chief of the surveys branch of the Ontario Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, returned to Toronto yesterday after a ten days' tour of the new Porcupine gold fields.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the Porcupine district is, with the exception of Cobalt, far more promising than any other section of Ontario I has seen," said Mr. Whitson.

"Is it being taken up?"

"Why, there are 2,000 claims staked out. The whole of the Township of Whitney and the whole of the Township of Tisdale, with the exception, of course, of the lots reserved for veterans, have been staked. Two-thirds of the Township of Shaw, which lies south of Whitney, and two-thirds of the unnamed township lying to the south of Tisdale, have also been staked out.

"To show you how things are going, there are at the present time several hundreds of prospectors in the woods doing development work on claims staked within the last two months.

"There are about 50 people starting to build stores and stopping places at the northeast end of Porcupine Lake. Then you must remember that there are ten stopping-places already finished on the road in from 222. These will accommodate quite a number, so you see, it is only a question of a week or two before everybody will be provided for in the matter of accommodation. I haven't heard of anyone having to sleep out in the open.

"People are coming in to Porcupine at the rate, probably, of 50 a day. They are coming in from both directions, from mile-post 222 and from Matheson, but the bulk of them are coming in from 222."

To Wait on Government.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—It has been decided by the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association to send a delegation to Ottawa during the last week in January to urge upon the Government the necessity of taking over and operating the terminal elevators.

The Alberta, Saskatchewan, Dominion Grange and Dominion Millers' Associations will be invited to send delegates.

DETECTIVE TOOK ROLE OF A PRISONER

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 7.—The incarceration of a New York detective in the Albany county jail for the purpose of securing evidence against Dominick Ferrer, charged with murder in the first degree, was brought to light yesterday at the trial of Ferrer.

The detective, Michael Bernable, was arrested on his arrival on Albany on Dec. 2, in accordance with the plan arranged by the district attorney and sheriff of Albany county, arraigned before the magistrate and committed to jail until Dec. 22.

Bernable was given a berth with Ferrer and Vincent Leonardo, who are accused of having killed George E. Phelps a few months ago.

Bernable testified yesterday that Ferrer admitted to him that he was a member of a branch of a Black Hand society, known as the "the family of the dead bodies," and that Phelps was murdered under orders from the society.

MADE DUPE OF TRUSTING WOMAN

London, Jan. 7.—[illegible] Titlow was sentenced yesterday to eight months' imprisonment at hard labor for defrauding Miss Clara S. Libbey, of New Haven, Conn., of various sums of money.

Titlow, who is a chauffeur met Miss Libbey at New Haven where he is alleged to have represented himself as Sir Claud Campbell of the British diplomatic service. He returned to England, and was later joined here by Miss Libbey who had expected to marry him. After he had secured all of her money through various pretences, the woman caused her fiance's arrest.

BROKE NECK IN FIRE STATION

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Timothy D'Arcy, 25, who came west with the harvest excursions last fall from Lucan, Ont., while visiting a friend in No. 2 fire hall here, and attempting to get a better view of a picture on the wall, stepped into the opening where the firemen's sliding pole stands and fell to the main floor, breaking his neck instantly.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The Canadian Forestry Association convention wil be held in Fredericton, N.B., Feb. 23.

Bell Telephone operators at Ottawa will hereafter decline to answer queries as to the score in sporting events.

Roy Sanderson, aged 17, who escaped from the Mimico Reformatory and was arrested at London for burglary, was sentenced there to one year.

At Cannes, France, an Englishman named Meal, who was operating an aeroplane of the Bleriot type, fell with his machine from a height of 30 feet and was seriously injured.

The works of Dr. Fred A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, instead of being removed from the Boston Public Library, may be placed in the category with literary fakers of all ages.

Ida Beach Stuart of Long Island, who was housekeeper for the late Stephen Mots Wright, has received a legacy of $158,000 as a reward of her many years of faithful services.

At Deadwood, South Dakota, former Congressman Freeman Knowles, editor of a Socialist weekly newspaper, was publicly horsewhipped at a meeting of the board of county commissioners by Chamber Kellar of Lead, an attorney.

PERJURY CHARGE FOLLOWS ELECTION

St. Catharines, Jan. 7.—Howard Lowrey has been served with notice to appear before James Aikens, J.P., at Niagara-on-the-Lake, next week on a charge of perjury.

The Lowreys of Niagara Township are strong temperance men, Frank H., uncle of accused having been elected reeve of municipality on that ticket at Monday's elections. The young man, whose name appeared on the voter's list as a farmer's son, is said by anti-local optionists to have left the municipality and taken up his residence at Niagara Falls. On election day, so the antis claim, he appeared at a polling booth for a ballot, taking the oath of residence. It is on this that the charge is made.

WILL SHAKE UP CONSULAR SYSTEM

London, Jan. 7.—Stirred to action by reports of the indignities forced by German authorities upon G. S. Scott of Toronto, Ont., and the uselessness of appeals to the nearest British consul in his behalf, leaders in England's commercial life assert that the question of Great Britain's consular service in Germany will have a thorough ventilation at the next general meeting of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom.

THIN ICE IS EXPENSIVE TO CONTRACTORS

Port Arthur, Jan. 7.—The mild weather has had the effect of keeping the ice on Sturgeon and Nipigon Lakes very thin, and the contractors of the G.T.P., who have been figuring on toting supplies across the ice, are much inconvenienced. As snow now covers the ice, it will need an extra amount of cold to make it thicken, and as mild weather is predicted, the contractors stand to lose considerable. Several horses have been drowned in Sturgeon Lake in endeavoring to cross.

PROBABILITIES.

To-day and on Saturday, fresh wind local snow, fair and cold.

MEDICINE TABLETS WERE POISONED

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 7.—The body of the four-year-old daughter of John Edwards, who, with his wife is engaged in a lumber camp back of Searchmont, is expected in the Soo today. A few days ago Edwards came to town to do some shopping, and among his purchases was a box of a widely-advertised patent medicine. These were sent to the camp for his wife, but fell into the hands of the little girl, who ate the box full of them, with fatal results, dying shortly after in a convulsion.

An inquest will likely be held.

PARRY SOUND HAS BAD FIRE

Parry Sound, Jan. 7.—At about 5.30 yesterday morning a fire broke out in the tailoring store of S. A. Sine, East Ward, and the entire building was gutted. By the falling of part of the front of the store three firemen had a narrow escape, the burning timbers passing just over the heads of the men who were working on a ladder.

The loss will be nearly $20,000, with only a few thousand dollars insurance.

LORD STRATHCONA SENDS ASSISTANCE

Montreal, Jan. 7.—Sir Hugh Graham received a cable yesterday afternoon from Lord Strathcona, in London, stating that he was cabling him $25,000 for the emergency hospital which has been opened in connection with the typhoid fever outbreak here, and that he was prepared to subscribe $100,000 towards the eradication of the causes, should a citizens' fund be started.

The emergency hospital has so far received forty cases, and others are being brought in hourly.

Local subscriptions so far amount to about $25,000.

MANY WOLVES IN NORTHERN ONTARIO

Port Arthur, Jan. 7.—John Scott came in from Keewanee, on the Canadian Northern, yesterday with ten wolf skins, collecting a bounty on each of $15. He poisoned them all. A short time before he shot three, so the bounty collected in the last month is about $200.

Trappers report a large increase in the number of coyotes in the wooded districts of Northern Ontario, coming off the plains of Manitoba and Minnesota, driven out by the increase of population there.

ERNEST ZUSELT IS DEAD AT WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Jan. 7.—Ernest Zuselt, aged 25, died yesterday from injuries sustained at Beachville level crossing, when a cutter containing himself, a brother and a sister was struck by a snowplow.

A tramp named Ferguson from St. Paul, aged 60, was struck by a train while walking the tracks. He clung to the engine pilot until the train reached the depot. He has a bad scalp wound.

Twenty Cents a Day For Fighters.

New Orleans, Jan. 7.—Gen. Estrada, leader of the revolutionary forces in Nicaragua, has adopted what is termed a "level rate" of payment on his soldiers. A general receives no more pay than a private. Twenty cents, gold, a day, it is stated, is the individual stipend, regardless of rank.

FROM LE CANADA

The following editorial, with double-heading, from Le Canada is instructive:

THE NAVY OF 1910

The Great Project of the Federal Session

At the resumption of the session at the first sitting in 1910, it is expected that Hon. M. Brodeur will introduce his bill creating a Canadian navy.

This Bill—one of the most important in the whole range of the parliamentary history of Canada—will then be debated at length and one may safely say that it will take up the whole session.

It will give to the year 1910 an especial distinction in our history.

The question of a Canadian navy has been so persistently and assiduously argued for several months that the press has, so to speak, dropped the discussion since the adjournment to resume it again when the bill comes up.

* * * *

The year 1910 will bring up the question and settle it.

We have abundantly demonstrated how the creation of a navy responds at once to the requirements of our loyalty and of our autonomy as it emanates logically from our condition of colony-nation, desirous at once of showing its attachment to the metropolis and the entire preservation of its national privileges acquired gradually and at a great price.

And we continue to believe that therein lies the just, reasonable and effective solution which represents the opinion of the vast majority, which lies between the extremes of the jingoes and the abstentionists, between those who cry for rebellion and those who demand our subjection.

We salute, then, with confidence, the Canadian navy of 1910."

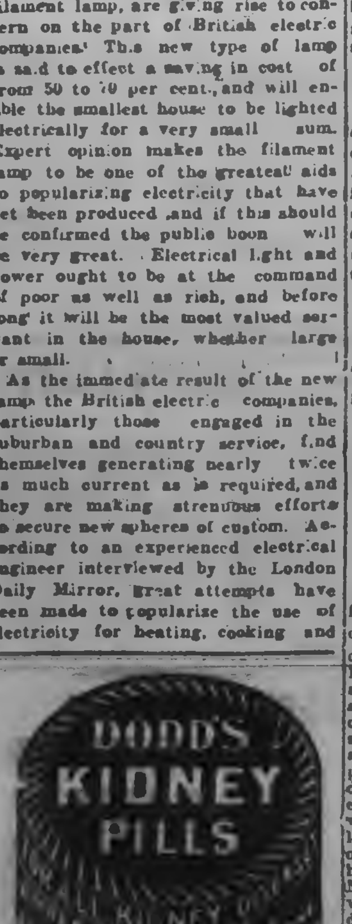
WHY IT PAYS TO HAVE POWER

(Toronto World.)

Recent electrical inventions, particularly the introduction of the metal filament lamp, are giving rise to concern on the part of British electric companies. This new type of lamp is said to effect a saving in cost of from 50 to 70 per cent., and will enable the smallest house to be lighted electrically for a very small sum. Expert opinion makes the filament lamp to be one of the greatest aids to popularizing electricity that have yet been produced and if this should be confirmed the public boon will be very great. Electrical light and power ought to be at the command of poor as well as rich, and before long it will be the most valued servant in the house, whether large or small.

As the immediate result of the new lamp the British electric companies, particularly those engaged in the suburban and country service, find themselves generating nearly twice as much current as is required, and they are making strenuous efforts to secure new spheres of custom. According to an experienced electrical engineer interviewed by the London Daily Mirror, great attempts have been made to popularize the use of electricity for heating, cooking and househol labor-saving appliances. By means of a new water-heater a cistern large enough to give two ordinary baths full, can be kept boiling for $6.25 a quarter.

In due time the municipalities that have supported the hydro-electric commission scheme will find themselves in the best of positions to take advantage of new developments in electric science. They can afford to do so, and to give the people the benefit, because no diversity of interests can exist. Electricity at a price sufficient to cover working expenses and the proper charges relative to the real cost of the enterprise is all the municipalities have to consider. The future will see the Whitney-Beck power policy amply justified.



THE FINANCIAL REVIEW

The Monetary Times has an excellent review of the financial and business condition of the country for 1909. It has just been published and comprises 120 pages of well-written matter. It is quite evident that Canada is going heavily into debt both nationally and municipally. The craze for borrowing money is a dangerous one. It is precisely like the case of the farmer who borrows a heap of money and thinks he is rich. His bank deposit has increased and generally he is prosperous or appears to be so. No doubt his borrowings will in many cases be of use to him in expanding and developing his business, but it is a matter for serious consideration rather than reckless doing. Last year Canada floated 200 millions of dollars in loans old and new on the financial market and the addition to her national debt is some 60 millions. To offset this the government cries out that the debt per head is not increased. True, but it is the increase in population of a character to justify this manner of reassuring us? Do the immigrants, the Italians who return to Italy every winter and take 80 millions of dollars in cash with them, the orientals of the Pacific coast, etc., constitute such an increase in population as ought to be legitimately considered as reducing our liabilities by so much per head? Certainly not. It is a specious plea. The rich, moneyed men are getting richer every day. Why? Because they induce us to borrow and they make us pay all we possibly can in interest and dividends to them. When the country is productive they say that we are acting wisely in spending vast sums of borrowed money but when as in 1908 they think we are going a little too fast they check us and we suffer accordingly. As the old saying has it, we are working for a dead horse most of the time. For us to borrow abroad and pay an enormous yearly toll in cash going out of the country is poor business, not good business. Is it any wonder that the average citizen is no better off than he was years ago when less borrowed money made life cheaper and less burdened with liabilities? Canada is accordingly becoming a most expensive country to live in for the average citizen whose profits go to pay an enormous national debt and the yearly toll of the financier.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A certain section of the Canadian press appears to believe that the Unionists do not include land reform in their programme. The fact is that Unionists are prepared to go further in the creation of small holdings than the Liberals—and that upon an equitable basis. They propose to give the small holder actual ownership of his land, whereas Mr. Lloyd-George's plan is to force the land away from the present owners into the possession of the State, and then to let it to small farmers.—Toronto News.

The question is often asked if a child born in this country of naturalized foreign-born parents is a full-fledged Canadian. The answer is, of course, that the child is a full-fledged Canadian. The same question crops up frequently in United States, and the New York World has the following:—

YES.

OPENING OF AMITY CLUB AT HAVELOCK

The Amity Club opened its doors formally on New Year's Eve, about one hundred people being present, including guests from Toronto, Lindsay, Peterborough, Norwood, Belleville and many other places. Mr. Jas. Thompson, M.P.P., and Mr. Jos. Knox, reeve of the village, gave brief addresses, speaking in high terms of the club and its aims, which were fittingly replied to by Mr. Jos. Hoffman, president of the club. The progressive euchre resulted in Miss Lancaster winning the ladies' prize, a beautiful leather purse, and Mr. Jos. Lonergan, of Peterborough, the gentlemen's, a handsome leather cigar case, while Mr. Albert Armstrong was the lucky winner of the booby, a small china doll. After refreshments had been served, dancing was indulged in until an early hour.—Havelock Standard.

Wm. Dalfsleigh, of Hamilton, was sentenced to four months for non-support of his wife.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—East Buffalo Market Generally Higher.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Liverpool and London cables quote live cattle higher, at 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight; refrigerator beef at 9¼c to 9¾c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—The railways reported 142 carloads of live stock at the City Yards, for Wednesday and Thursday, consisting of 1788 cattle, 3485 hogs, 1956 sheep and lambs, 133 calves and 2 horses.

Exporters.

No export steers were reported as being sold as such. Bulls sold at $4 to $4.75 per cwt.

Butchers

Geo. Rowntree bought 370 butchers' cattle for the Harris Abattoir Co. as follows: Steers and heifers, $4.00 to $5.50; cows, $2.25 to $4.60; bulls, $2.00 to $4.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Harry Murby reports very little doing in these classes, but that a few good, 800 to 900 lbs. steers would sell at prices ranging from $3.75 to $4.25; light stockers are worth from $3 to $3.50. Mr. Murby bought two loads of butchers and stockers at $3.75 to $5 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers.

The demand for milkers and springers is fairly good, but prices are not nearly as high as some few weeks ago. The main reason for this is that there is little or no demand from Montreal at present. There was a moderate supply during the week, which sold from $30 to $90, but only one at the latter price. See the many sales reported below.

Veal Calves.

About 140 veal calves sold at $3 to $7 per cwt., with a very few choice new milk fed veals at $7.25 to $7.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Wesley Dunn, the largest buyer of sheep and lambs, reports prices as follows: Exports ewes, $4.50 to $4.75; culls and rams, $3 to $3.50; lambs, $5.75 to $6.30. See the many sales given by the different commission firms, and in them it will be seen that a few selected lots brought a little higher quotations, but the bulk of sales were made at the above average prices.

Hogs.

Selected hogs, fed and watered at the market, sold at $8.50, and $8.25 f.o.b. cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 6.—Cattle—Receipts 100 head; steady; prime steers, $6.50 to $7.50.

THEATRICAL

It's a pleasure to give a sincere appreciation of a play like "The Prince Chap," which greatly interested a good sized audience at the Grand last night. The story is a tender and human one and all the characters are naturally and effectively suggested by the author and played with an intelligent comprehension of their possibilities by a company of ability. The tone of the play is subdued, but the pathos is relieved by exquisite and spontaneous humor.

The child actresses, Beryl and Helen Pullman, who took the part of Claudia the "Prince Chap's" adopted daughter in the first and second acts respectively, are distinctly clever juveniles and were given the unqualified approval of the audience.

Allen Dinehart was excellent as William Peyton, an American sculptor (the Prince Chap) and the character comedy parts of Marcus Runion, the butler, and Phoebe Puckers, maid of all work, were capably drawn by Evelyn Ferguson and Bert Walter.

The Opera House orchestra played a splendid programme last night at "The Prince Chap." The interesting score of "The Country Girl" was excellently given, and Mr. Devey and his musicians gave an exceedingly fine rendition of the selection from "Carmen," a pretentious effort for even an able orchestra of many pieces.

PRINCIPAL OF OMEMEE HIGH SCHOOL RESIGNS

Omemee, Jan. 6.—Mr. J. A. Tully, of Peterborough, an organizer of the I.O.O.F., spent a day in town canvassing for the order, and met with so much encouragement that he hopes to send a man along to complete his work and organize a lodge of Oddfellows.

On Wednesday afternoon, in the Anglican church, by the Rev. H. Earl, the wedding of Miss D. McQuade and Mr. George Newman was solemnized. The young benedicts are very popular and will reside adjacent to Omemee. May their happiness and prosperity supersede their superlative anticipations.

Mr. H. Beatty was out of town on business last week.

The Public Library Board met on Wednesday evening and selected a number of new books which will soon be placed in circulation. There were some proposed changes of letting out books discussed, and we may hear of something different in this part of the work.

Our rink is in full swing and receives a good patronage. The hockey enthusiasts have not yet organised.

Principal Jardine, of the High school, has tendered his resignation, which will take place at once. Although the Board regretted the departure of Mr. Jardine, when all phases of the situation were considered, they did not feel like offering any objection to his wish to better his position. He assumes the principalship of Newcastle High school on Tuesday. Universal regret is felt over the departure of Principal Jardine, who has labored faithfully to promote the educational business, social and religious interests of our town for the past twelve years.

On Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Hanna will hold a meeting in the Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Lord's Day Alliance. All are invited to listen to the work of the Alliance.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

POULTRY SHOW CAME TO A CLOSE LAST NIGHT

Many Local Poultry Breeders Won Prizes and List of Winners Will be Announced To-morrow—The Report of the Judge on the Exhibits.

The second annual winter show of the Peterborough Poultry Association came to a close last night, and it is learned that local poultry breeders have been highly successful in securing many of the coveted prizes. While the attendance was not as large as it should have been, considering the splendid show, the directors and officers feel that it has not been without considerable benefit to the farmers and others interested in poultry and prize birds. The list of names and prize-winners will be given in tomorrow's issue. The judge, Mr. Joseph Bennett, of Toronto, reports on the exhibits as follows:

SOME RADICAL CHANGES IN DIVISION COURTS' BOUNDARIES EFFECTED

The following are the minutes of a meeting of the county judge of the county of Peterborough, the sheriff and warden of the said county and the division court inspector held at the Court House in the city of Peterborough, on Thursday, the 6th day of January, 1910, pursuant to proclamation to alter the number and limits of the divisional courts of the said county.

Those present were: His Honor Judge Huycke, presiding; Jas. A. Hall, sheriff; Robert N. Scott, warden; Bruce Macdonald, division court inspector.

The chairman explained the petition of the municipalities of the village of Havelock and the townships of Belmont and Methuen, asking to be set apart as a separate division, also the proclamation made at the sittings of the General Sessions of the Peace for the county of Peterborough, held on the 14th December, 1909.

Mr. Joseph Knox, reeve of the village of Havelock, and Mr. C. A. Ghent presented arguments in favor of granting the prayer of the petition, and Mr. Squire, clerk of the second Division Court, against granting the petition.

Mr. Skinner and Mr. Read, of Keene, asked to have the Division Court at Keene re-established, after which the following resolutions were passed:

Moved by the sheriff and seconded by the warden, that the municipalities of the village of Havelock and the townships of Belmont and Methuen be detached from the second division of the said county, and established as a new division, to be Division Court No. 5 for the said county of Peterborough.

Moved by the warden and seconded by the sheriff, that that part of Otonabee lying east of the fifth concession be detached from the second division of the said county, and that part of Otonabee composed of the 5th, and 6th, 7th and 8th concessions, and all that part of the said township lying west of the eighth concession and south of lots numbered 22, be detached from the [illegible] division of the county and [illegible] to be Division Court No. 6 for said county.

Moved by the Sheriff, and seconded by the Warden, that that part of the Township of Dummer lying east of the 5th concession and north of lots numbered 10 be detached from Division No. 4, and that that part of the said township of Dummer lying west of the 6th concession and south of lots numbered 11, be detached from Division No. 4 and both attached to Division No. 2.

With these al[illegible] it is declared that the Division Courts for the Count[illegible] borough shall comprise the [illegible] Division [illegible] the City of [illegible] of Nort[illegible] all the [illegible] of the 7th concession, all that part of the township of Otonabee lying west of the 8th concession and north of lots numbered 21, and all that part of the township of Douro lying south of lots numbered 11. Court to be held at the Court House, in the city of Peterborough.

Division No. 2 shall comprise the village of Norwood, the township of Asphodel and all that part of the township of Dummer lying east of the 5th concession, and that part of the said township of Dummer lying west of the 6th concession and south of lots numbered 11. Court to be held in the Town Hall in the village of Norwood.

Division No. 3 shall comprise that part of the township of Smith lying north of the 6th concession, all that part of the township of Douro lying north of lots numbered 10, that part of the township of Dummer lying west of the 8th concession and north of lots numbered 10, the township of Galway, the township of Harvey and the village of Lakefield. Court to be held in the Town Hall in the village of Lakefield.

Division No. 4 shall comprise the townships of Anstruther, Burleigh, Cavendish and Chandos. Court to be held in the Town Hall at Apsley.

Division No. 5 shall comprise the townships of Belmont and Methuen and the village of Havelock. Court to be held in the Town Hall in the village of Havelock.

Division No. 6 shall comprise the township of Otonabee, except that part thereof lying west of the 8th concession and north of lots numbered 21. Court to be held in the Town Hall at Keene in said township.

PLEADED GUILTY TO THE CHARGES

Dobson and Whistler Will be Sentenced at Niagara Falls To-morrow

Special to Review.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 7.—William Dobson, the agent, and Purl Whistler, pleaded guilty to the charges of conspiracy and robbing the Canadian Express Company here of fourteen thousand dollars. They will receive sentence to-morrow. Whistler broke down and wept for a quarter of an hour.

MR. ROUTLEY BEREAVED BY THE DEATH OF SISTER

Mr. T. D. Routley received word this morning of the death of his youngest sister, Miss M. Routley, who passed away at Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Routley left at once for that city.

WINNIPEG WANTS CLEAN PLAYS

At a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Winnipeg the following resolution was unanimously passed on motion by Rev. Dr. DuVal, seconded by Rev. J. A. McClung: "That the Winnipeg Ministerial Association recognizing the fact that the preservation of good morals is fundamental to the well-being of the people, therefore a proper subject of police inspection and control;

"And as some theatres show an increasing tendency to expose themes and scenes suggestive of immorality, tending to excite lascivious passions, and so poisoning life in the very springs of thought and feeling; therefore the association extends to Mr. Frank Kerr, license inspector, all honor for his vigilance and his attempts to correct this evil, and trusts that all our citizens, as well as the police authorities, will give due diligence to prevent the introduction of this most insidious vice."

WERE GUESTS OF ST. MARTIN'S T.A.S.

Members of St. Peters' T. A. S. Entertained at Ennismore.

About forty members of St. Peter's T.A.S. were guests of St. Martin's T.A.S. last night at the Ennismore town hall, when a most pleasant social evening was spent.

Forty-fives were played, and there were some happy impromptu speeches made, and a bright musical programme was given, Father Fitzpatrick acting as chairman. The ladies of St. Martin's provided an appetizing luncheon.

DESERVED SENTENCE GIVEN HIM

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—William Cooledge, a middle aged man, was sent to Central Prison this morning by Col. Denison for three months, for striking his wife and causing the death of an unborn child. The woman in her evidence said that owing to her husband's brutality her first child was born with a mark of a hand across his forehead.

ASSISTED IN CONCERT HELD AT LAKEFIELD

Lakefield, Jan. 7.—The annual entertainment of the Presbyterian Sabbath school was held in the town hall on New Year's night, and was a very successful affair. A good and appreciative audience greeted the performances and the programme was a most enjoyable one. The services of Miss Howell and Mr. Wright, vocalists, and Mrs. Agnes Paterson-Mowry, elocutionist, all of Peterborough, had been secured for the occasion. Miss Howell has a sweet soprano voice and an unaffected pleasing manner. Mr. Wright has a powerful voice, well controlled. Both singers pleased the audience with their selections. Mrs. Mowry, as an elocutionist, delighted those present and left a good impression. Her selections were chaste and her personality bright and pleasing. She seems to enter fully into the spirit of her work and forgetful of her surroundings. She pictures in words the very incidents she endeavors to relate. The selections given by the scholars of the school were also greatly appreciated by the audience.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Short Route to Gowganda

Commencing January 3rd, through service has been inaugurated to the Gowganda country, via the Canadian Pacific Railway to Sudbury, thence Canadian Northern Railway and Stage Line, which eclipses all former means of transportation to this country.

Passengers may now leave Toronto 10.10 p.m. by Canadian Pacific Railway, arriving at Sudbury 6.05 a.m. following morning; Canadian Northern train leaves that point 7.00 a.m. arriving Gowganda Junction 10.15 a.m. where connection is made with the Gowganda Transport Company, and passengers leave there at 11.00 a.m., arriving Gowganda 7.00 p.m. Stops are made at Phoenix for lunch and Elkhorn for dinner. The one way rate from Toronto to Gowganda Junction is $9.70, and round trip rate $16.25. This rate includes transfer in Sudbury from Canadian Pacific to Canadian Northern. One-way rate from Gowganda Junction by the Stage Line, to Phoenix is $2.00; to Elkhorn $4.00, and Gowganda $6.00. Round trip rates are $4.00 to Phoenix; $8.00 to Elkhorn, and $10.00 to Gowganda.

The above provides the shortest, most direct and cheapest route from Toronto and Ontario points. Sudbury sleeper is carried on the Canadian Pacific train leaving Toronto each evening, and the Canadian Northern train from Sudbury to Gowganda Junction, carries dining car in which breakfast is served.

A SUBJECT OF GREAT IMPORT

Gipsy Hawkins Will Speak on Topic of Vital Human Interest

The subject for to-night's meeting at the Gipsy Hawkins mission, which is being held at Park street Baptist church, will be "The future resurrection, what it is, and when it takes place."

This subject has been a lifelong study with Mr. Hawkins, and the presentation of such a vital and important doctrine should be of interest to all. Come and hear it. Gipsy Hawkins will assist the Salvation Army Saturday evening. He will also address a meeting for men only in the Park street Baptist church next Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. All men are invited.

Accepted Another Position

Mr. W. R. Campbell, chief clerk in the C.P.R. freight offices, and one of the most valuable freight men in this district, has severed his connection with the C.P.R., and has accepted a position with the Canadian General Electric Works where he will have charge of the freight business of that firm. The post is an important one but Mr. Campbell is fully qualified to fill it. The C.P.R. regretted very much to lose him and they will have considerable difficulty to fill his position.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

To Mr. George Long Proprieter of the American House—Was Widely Known Throughout the City and Country

A sudden and widely regretted death occurred last evening about eight o'clock, when Mr. George Long, proprietor of the American House, Hunter street, passed away after having been ill only a few moments. He had apparently been in the best of health during the day, and had attended to his duties as usual. On Tuesday, while returning from a visit to friends in Ashburnham, he was stricken with a fainting spell, but recovered. Last evening, however, the summons came, despite medical assistance, which was hurriedly called. The cause of his demise was heart failure.

The late Mr. Long was a man who earned the respect and esteem of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Being of kindly and jovial disposition, his death comes as a shock to his numerous friends throughout the city and country. He was a faithful member of St. Luke's Anglican church

The deceased was born in the county of Donegal, Ireland, 53 years ago, and came to this country with his parents when only ten years of age. Prior to taking over the American House three years ago, he had been identified with the Peterborough Lumber Company, as foreman, for twenty-five years.

Of his own family, his widowed mother and four brothers and four sisters survive. The brothers are: Fred, of Park Rapids, Minn.; Robert, of Montana; Alexander, with a lumbering firm of Sudbury, and Samuel, of Ashburnham. The sisters are: Mrs. Henry Lindsay, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. T. Byshe, Toronto; Mrs. Jack White, Norwood; and Mrs. Rourke, of Fessenden, Ont.

To mourn the loss of a kind husband and father are his wife and nine children. They are: Robert, of Ashburnham; Samuel and Fred, of this city; Mrs. W. Peace, Hamilton; Mrs. A. Bartley, Ashburnham; Mrs. H. Hopkins, Toronto; and Misses Fannie, Georgia and Prudence, of this city.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, to St. Luke's church, and interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery. A private service for the family will be held at ten o'clock in the morning.

OBITUARY

JOHN VARCOE

After a lingering illness, the last six months of which he spent in bed, Mr. John Varcoe, one of Alnwick's first settlers, passed away on Tuesday last, at the good old age of 84 years, at the home of his son, Ora E. Varcoe. Mr. Varcoe came to Alnwick from England when only nine years of age, with the family of Mr. Solomon, Alnwick's second settler, and has resided in the township ever since, being over sixty years on the farm. He is about the last of the pioneers. Mr. Varcoe is survived by his wife, who was Ursula Richardson, of Haldimond township; two sons, W. J. and Ora E., of Alnwick, and four daughters, Mrs. George Clarke, of Alnwick; Mrs. Wm. Heal, of Peterborough; Mrs. Wm. Varcoe, of Owosso, Michigan, and Mrs. Osborne Ball, of Ayr. The funeral was held last Thursday at 1 p.m., to the Merrills Methodist cemetery, Rev. R. L. Edwards conducing the services.—Hastings Star.

THE COMING OF "THE BLUE MOUSE"

An Engagement of Great Importance to Theatre-Goers

The engagemnet of "The Blue Mouse," the sensational Clyde Fitch farce, is announced for next Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, at the Grand, with the original Lyric Theatre, New York, cast headed by Mabel Barrison, the well known Canadian actress, and Harry Conor, the popular exponent of farce comedy. The piece is under the direction and the adaptation was done, as everyone knows, by Clyde Fitch.

The scenes of the play are laid in New York. Augustus Rollett, who loves his wife, wants to be promoted from the position as secretary to the president of the Inter-State Railroad to a division superintendency. Now his superior, Mr. Lewellyn, has a human failing for pretty faces. Rollett seizes upon this weakness, engaged Paulette Divine, a "Vawderville" Salome dancer, to impersonate his real wife, flirt with the president of the railroad. No time is lost in starting the fun. The dancer begins her clever onslaught, which given Mrs. Lewellyn, a termigent, a "scent." Also that real Mrs. Rollett is taken for "The Blue Mouse," the Salome dancer, and Lewellyn flirts with her, much to her disgust. Then Rollett's father-in-law an odd character from Cohoes, drops in unexpectedly and meets Paulette, who is posing as his daughter. In the second act, which shows the "inner-apartments" of "The Blue Mouse" complications come so quickly as to simply convulse the audience. It requires three acts in all to straighten the matter out.

Paulette Divine, a new character on the stage, is not wholly bad, and before the play has ended she has won the complete sympathy of the audience. Miss Barrison is said to give the part a gracious candor and innocence which robs what otherwise might have been the sickening spectacle of a consc'enceless woman. The author, who stages and produced the farce, has likewise carefully eliminated all features which so often characterize French and German farces as "Naughty."

The plan opens to-morrow morning at the box office.

THIRD ANNUAL

Blue Pencil Sale

This Sale was inaugurated two years ago for the purpose of clearing out all odds and ends after the Christmas rush and for preparing the stocks for the annual stock-taking. This is an event that is one of the most important of the year to us. It is imperative that we attain our object and it becomes necessary not only to reduce prices but to sacrifice on even the original cost to us. Every stock must be clean and all ends must leave their equivalent in the cash book by Saturday, Jan. 15th. The sale commenced Friday, Jan. 7th. Eight days of unequalled offering. Price is no object, the exit of the goods is the main point in view. Take advantage of this sale for it comes but once a year. Shop to-morrow, shop every day next week. Fresh leaders every day in every department. Come and see the havoc that the Blue Pencil Man makes in prices. Watch the Windows daily.

One Hundred Tons of Black Diamonds Required Annually to Heat Old Collegiate Building

That the heating system at present in use at the old Collegiate building consumes one hundred tons of coal annually, was the statement made at the last meeting of last year's Board of Education, and it came out again at the first meeting of this year's Board last night. The building is an old one, and the system is correspondingly ancient, but needless to say, the matter will be looked into thoroughly, and remedied as soon as possible.

CONCERNING CRITICISM

An esteemed correspondent, in yesterday's issue of this paper, censures the Review for, as he assumes, closing its columns to further discussion of the local option issue, now that the campaign is finished. Our correspondent is quite right to send us his remonstrance, and it found place in our columns with real willingness. The paper is quite as ready to print criticism of itself—either hot or cold mild or fervent—as it is to give place to arguments for or against any given proposition. The real trouble is newspapers do not receive enough criticism of themselves. Hence our correspondent has done the right thing.

Our correspondent deplores that he has found no discussion of local option among all he has seen in print. Surely the friends of the cause have presented their case. Over two thousand qualified voters of the city say that such has been done. If the other party did not bring their view they neglected an opportunity, but probably were aware of what they were not doing. It does not lay at the hands of a newspaper to go out and dig up an opposition for the sake of argument.

The trouble with our respected correspondent is that his view of newspaper conduct is too narrow. He looked at what was printed, but knows nothing whatever of that which was kept out. He reproves the newspaper for not lining up on the side of moral reform.

So far as the Review was concerned it was determined that the contest should end with as little bitterness, rancour, jealousy and hard feeling as possible. Had it printed one-quarter of the communications offered, the city would have been shouting for the police to maintain order. Such as was not discussion at all, did not bring forward a fact or argument, but reviled men, motives, methods and principles. Does our correspondent blame the Review for not printing what was offered?

When the local papers agreed to print only that which would be paid for, it was for the very purpose of shutting out extraneous discussion, with which the papers would be flooded. Our business is to print the news. The paper desires to be on the side of right in all moral objects, and has never failed so to be. But it is not the organ of any movement, proposition or crusade. The friends of local option arranged for space in the paper—in all local papers, for that matter—at a given price. The columns were open to the opposition, under a similar arrangement.

Naturally, the friends of local option are disappointed. They made a good fight, they finished the course, the work of the campaign is done. Let it rest. The temperance movement—one wholly good and deserving of every support—will go on. It is in every way commendable that so large and earnest a body of citizens should give freely of their time and means for the ultimate public good, for each man reclaimed from liquor is good, and each saved from the habit better. It may be that local option failed, not because the object sought to be attained—the cutting down of the liquor traffic—was not good, but that the means to that end was not wholly acceptable, for nearly one and a half thousand votes say it was not.

Our correspondent's reference to the work done by Rev. Mr. Potter was a recognition well deserved. In the eyes of his friends he accomplished a great deal, and their esteem and approval must be his reward. That reward of praise would have been none the less grateful to Rev. Mr. Potter, and none the less endorsed by his many friends had the reverend gentleman omitted from his list of references "that the son of one who had publicly denounced the propaganda of the temperance people was taken to his home in a drunken condition." In the eyes of all men, and at this juncture that was a blow distinctly below the belt. Probably no one regrets the reference, now, so much as Rev. Mr. Potter.

CUTTING OFF LICENCES

As expressed in the Review's despatch of yesterday, the Government expects that the City Council of Peterborough will now reduce the number of licenses by resolution, as it is empowered by statute to do. No government wishes to interfere where a power already lies with a municipality. But as the power also lies with the government and the responsibility also, it will be necessary for the government through its commissioners to do the reducing if the City Council will not do it. The number the Government expects the City Council to reduce the licences by is TEN OR ELEVEN AT LEAST. That was the language used by one in authority. Public opinion must not be ignored, by one side more than another. The government will always defer to public opinion, for in this province at least, clearly expressed public opinion will govern so long as Sir James Whitney and his administration are in power. The Council will no doubt see this matter in the same light. The autonomy of a municipality should be jealously guarded and Parliament wisely hesitates to interfere. Overriding public opinion as expressed at the polls is not the less odious in one case than another. The wisdom of such a course is quite plain and the duty therefore, also. No municipality can be ruled by a minority. The license fee will necessarily be increased.

St. Luke's Christmas Tree

The annual Christmas tree and distribution of prizes of St. Luke's Sunday school will be held to-night at eight o'clock.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Previous Prices Now Deeply Reduced to Clear all Departments of Winter Goods.

WHILE the weather-wise predict that winter will linger in the lap of Spring we plan to positively prevent our Winter Stocks overlapping the arrival of Spring Goods. Their complete clearance is the purpose of the deeply reduced prices now named throughout the store.

Clearance as we plan permits no consideration of costs—Goods get going-out prices that mean splendid economies to all purchasers.

The sale is held in accord with our policy of carrying no goods over what we buy to sell this season. Thus every article of winter merchandise now in this store is marked down to a point where its speedy sale is assured.

Immediate investigation is invited and will be richly rewarded.

This unmatched January Clearance Sale begins to-morrow (Saturday) at 9 a.m.

CHAMPION QUAKERS WON FROM THE CANOE BUILDERS

In First Game in Mercantile League by 3-2 Score—Good Hockey in Spots, but Players Were too Handy With the "Gad".

The champion Quakers won out from the Canoe Builders in the first game in the Mercantile League at Brock street rink last night by the score of 3—2. Some good hockey was played at times by both teams, but there were many long lifts and much slashing, which might just as well have been eliminated. Combination plays were numerous on the part of the winners, and they had a shade the better of the argument. The canoe builders had very little system in their play. The team got away with some individual work, but it was not effective, owing to the hard checking of their opponents.

On the Quaker line-up, Callaghan in goal, stopped a number of shots which looked like sure counters. Heaslip and Moore made a formidable defence and both rushed well. Each of the forwards performed creditably, the work of Pratt and Rightmeyer being conspicuous.

Hayes, between the nets for the Canoe Builders, had a busy night, but gave a good account of himself. Richardson and O'Dette gave him good support, and Loomis was the pick of the line.

Leo Derocher refereed and gave good satisfaction.

THE SCORING.

At the start the Quakers forced matters, and Heffernan missed the nets by a close margin three times in succession. The puck travelled up to the Quakers' territory, but Moore secured it and took a jaunt down the boards. He passed to Heffernan, who shot wild. Johnston was chased for a minute. Hayes was kept busy dodging some wild ones, and the first score came in 8 minutes, when Pratt passed to Heffernan, the latter beating Hayes. Quakers 1, Canoe Builders 0.

O'Dette took a one minute's rest. Loomis missed a fine chance to even the score. Johnston was given another minute for tripping. Both teams worked hard for a score, but the checking was too close. Finally Loomis and O'Dette combined, the latter putting one past Hayes in 10 minutes. Quakers 1, Canoe Builders 1. No more scoring was done in the first half.

SECOND HALF.

From a mix-up in front of the Canoeists' goal, after ten minutes of strenuous playing, Rightmyer counted. Quakers 2, Canoe Builders 1.

Moore went off for tripping and Loomis made the score a tie in three minutes. Quakers 2, Canoe Builders 2.

Rightmyer turned spectator for one minute. The game was rough at this point, but the referee was lenient. Heffernan tore off a nice rush, but his shot went wide. Callaghan blocked a close shot from Loomis, and time was called with the Quakers on the defensive.

The teams were;—

QUAKERS.

Callaghan.
Heaslip.
Moore.
Pratt.
Rightmyer.

Hayes.	Heffernan.
Ferguson.	Gillespie.

Johnston.
Loomis.
O'Dette.

THE EDMONTON PLAYERS

Edmonton, Jan. 6.—The following are sketches of the players whom the Edmonton team will take east on their trip to lift the Stanley Cup from the Ottawas:—

JACK WINCHESTER.

Jack Winchester, goal; weight, 155. Born in Toronto, Ont., and learned the game in that city. In 1901-2 played with Belleville in intermediate O.H.A.; 1903, played with Lindsay; 1904-5-6, played goal on Hod Stuart's Pittsburg team in International League; 1907-8, with Winnipeg Maple Leafs; 1908, came to Edmonton after cup trip and played against Moosejaw, Nelson and Winnipeg Shamrocks; 1909, Edmonton.

BILLY FIELD.

Billy Field, point; weight, 170. Played on the old Winnipegs as forward; 1907, Winnipeg Maple Leafs; 1908, Winnipeg Shamrocks. Played for Edmonton as point in the Fit Reform series against Maple Leafs and showed that was his proper position. As a point man he is just about in the Taylor class.

HUGO ROSS.

Hugo Ross, cover point; weight, 180. Started playing with Smith's Falls in 1901-2-3; Portage la Prairie, 1904-5-6-7-8; went east with Edmonton in 1908 and played in Stanley Cup games and Fit Reform games. In 1909 captain of Moosejaw team, but will accompany team to Ottawa.

FRED WHITCROFT.

Fred Whitcroft, rover; weight 165. Learned game in Peterborough, Ont.; 1901, played on Peterborough Colts, runners up in Jr. O.H.A., and 1902 the same team, winning the championship; 1903, Peterborough Intermediates, O.H.A. champions; 1904, Peterborough, runners up; 1905, Midland, champions of Northern Ontario; 1906, Peterborough for beginning of season and later jumped into professional ranks with Kenora in Stanley Cup series in that city; 1907, with Edmonton, champions Western Interprovincial League; 1908, managed and captained Edmonton in Stanley Cup and Fit Reform series; 1909, rover Edmonton.

HAROLD DEETON.

Harold Deeton, centre, weight, 155. Home is in Galt, where he played until 1902. Came west 1903, to Brandon, and was spare man with Lester Patrick's team in trip east after cup. Has played amateur and later professional with Edmonton for last five years. Played for Edmonton last year against Montreal Wanderers.

BERT BOULTON.

Bert Boulton, left forward; weight 155. Comes from Winnipeg. First sprang into prominence in the memorable rough game between Winnipeg and Maple Leafs in 1907. Was brought to Edmonton by Whitcroft in 1907 and has played here ever since.

HAY MILLER.

Hay Miller, right forward; weight 180. Was born in Keene, Ont., and at sixteen years of age was on the forward line of the team of that village. Later he went to Norwood and played with that town 1900-1 in the Trent Valley League and 1902-3 with Midland. In 1904 came west and went into ranching, being out of the game for three years; 1907-8-9 with Edmonton.

WALTER MILLER.

Walter Miller, spare man; weight, 160. Born in Peterborough. Has had professional experience with Capt. Macdonald's Brantford crew.

WOLGAST AND NELSON MATCHED

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—Battling Nelson, lightweight champion, and A. D. Wolgast were matched to-day by Sid Hester of the Mission Athletic Club to fight 45 rounds on February 22, at a new arena to be built in San Mateo County, just south of San Francisco. Wolgast accepted by telegraph Hester's offer of $3,700; and the articles were mailed to him to-day. Nelson's share will be $12,000.

WRESTLING

Joe Rusek, the Bohemian wrestler, and Hassan Abdallah, the well-known smoker of Turkish dope sticks, are tumbling around on the mat at the Star Theatre, Toronto, and the people's applause and money. Rusek is putting on one of those "dollar-a-minute-stay-the-limit" stunts. The Turk apparently prefers that hippodroming to whistling peanuts in Montreal. Don't let him turn you, Hassan!

HOCKEY

The T.A.S. hockey team will go to Keene to-night to play an exhibition game with the team of that place. The sleigh will leave the T.A.S. rooms at 6 o'clock.

CURLING

The schedule games at the curling rink last night resulted as follows;—

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

The following is the draw for to-night;—

Adam Hall vs. R. G. Sturgeon
D. Davidson vs. J. H. Connal.
H. F. Foote vs. W. D. Campbell
C. N. Brown vs. D. Fraser.
W. G. Ferguson vs. J. H. Ferguson
R. Neill vs. W. J. Thompson.

DISTRICT CUP.

Section A. of District No. 2 will play for the district cup in Peterborough, on Tuesday, Jan. 25th. The clubs will be Peterborough, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Beaverton, Keene, and, maybe one or two others. Each club has two rinks. Section B. of District No. 2, will play at Kingston on the same day, and the winners will play off for the championship in a few days thereafter.

CAMPBELLFORD IN LINE AGAIN.

Campbellford, Jan. 6.—Mr. F. J. Smith, president of the curling club, is to be congratulated upon the turnout of curlers at the new curling rink, which was opened on New Year's eve and New Year's day.

The new rink is a credit to the promoter and the stockholders of the Campbellford Curling and Bowling Association.

The curling club had their meeting for re-organization on New Year's day in their new building and it was attended by about fifty curlers. It is proposed to organize a lawn bowling club in the spring, as the company has sufficient land for four bowling greens. The new building is one of the best and up-to-date rinks in Ontario. Provision has been made for a ladies' curling club and the ladies' club room is very complete. The club is now a member of the Peterborough section of the Ontario Curling Association, after an absence of six years, owing to their having no rink.

The names of the officers will appear in our next issue.

The president v. vice-president match was played on New Year's day resulting in a win for the president by one.

The secretary has been informed that section A of District No. 2 will play at Peterborough on the 25th inst. and section B at Kingston on the same date and the winners will play off for the championship of the district a few days later.

TANKARD PRIMARIES.

Lindsay, Jan. 6.—The Ontario Tankard primaries for district No. 2 will be played in Lindsay on January 18, commencing at nine o'clock in the morning. Lindsay, Peterborough, Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Cannington, Beaverton, Port Hope comprise the clubs in the district. On paper the Lindsay rinks should win their district, but curling is a slippery game.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Knox Church League hockey team will practice to-morrow evening between six and seven o'clock at the Auditorium rink. The following players are asked to turn out;—Crowe, Hillier, Gainey, Thompson, Elliott, Reed, Henderson, Barclay, Rodman, McGill, Simmons, Stewart, Dickson and Lang.

The Auburn Mercantile League team and the Tame Hanties will workout at Brock street rink to-morrow, evening at six o'clock.

The following is the schedule for the Junior O.H.A., district, No. 13, which is composed of the Peterborough teams. It was drawn up yesterday afternoon;—

Monday, Jan. 10th, Collegiates vs. Peterborough Colts.

Monday, Jan. 17th, Colts vs Collegiates.

Monday, Jan. 24th, Collegiates vs. Colts.

Monday, Jan. 31st, Colts vs. Collegiates.

The Intermediates and Colts are requested to turn out for practice this evening at seven o'clock sharp.

The O.H.A. has decided to deal summarily with players who persist in foul play.

The Brantford professional team is reported to be complete with the exception of a cover-point.

Trenton and Picton opened the Junior O.H.A. season at the latter place last night, before a well filled rink. Trenton ran a special train, but their supporters were called upon to witness the defeat of their team by a 9—4 score.

The first home game of the juniors was played at Whitby last night with Oshawa securing the honors by 3—1.

RUNNERS SUE MILLIONAIRE

John D. Marsh, the Winnipeg runner, and Henri St. Yves, the Frenchman, have started an action against Robert Guggenheim, millionaire, for money alleged to be owing to them as prizes in the Marathon race held in Spokane, November 7. Papers have been served on Mr. Guggenheim by Victor M. Place, a Seattle attorney, who is acting for the runners. They are for the recovery of $1,850.

Marsh claims that he was guaranteed $100 for his appearance in the race, but that he never received the amount, although he ran the race according to contract. Owing to a heavy downpour of rain, Guggenheim wished to have the race postponed, but was unwilling to modify the contracts between Marsh and St. Yves so that they might hold the event at a later date. Rather than be done out of the entire amount they ran the race. Only $500 was taken in at the gate, but this amount mysteriously disappeared, and neither runner or their managers have been able to get a line on it.

The contract with St. Yves calls for a payment of $1,250, upon his showing up and running the race. But, like Marsh, St. Yves is also minus the above amount, and claims that he was not paid a red cent for his services.

Guggenheim claims that he had agreed to pay McGrath $2,500 to carry on the Spokane contract if McGrath lived up to certain conditions. These were not complied with, according to Guggenheim, and consequently no money was paid the promoter on behalf of the runners.

Word received in the city from Marsh is that his plans are unsettled. It is his present intention to run in the big Marathon event to be staged in San Francisco in February, when St. Yves, Dorando Pietri, Hayes and Fitzgerald will compete. Something like $10,000 is being posted as an inducement.

St. Yves is now in Vancouver, where he will remain for several days. It is also his intention to head for the sunny south, but he has not fully decided when he will leave.

MUST HAVE A GOOD DEFENCE

Fighters do Not Last as Long as Boxers Ring Statastics Show

Turning over a few leaves in the sporting blue book, one finds that the Last Brothers are the glovemen, who are there with the fancy steps and the concrete guard. With few exceptions, the Fighting Larrys and the Walloping Mikes, whose only plan of battle is to have their chins demolished in order to get in a punch, do not figure long on the sporting pages.

It's the fellows who finish a bout with their anatomy intact that drop into town and chirp, "Well, here I am again."

CASE OF ABE ATTELL

Abe Attell, the king of featherweights, is not in the ring to-day because of uncommon stamina and endurance. He is fighting now because he has never been repeatedly hurt in the large number of bouts he has fought.

There is possibly no featherweight in the world to-day who has battled as often as shadowy Abe, and yet he scarcely carries a mark to show for nine years of activity in the ring.

Jack Johnson has been called slow and unaggressive by his detractors, yet the minstrel moke has a little thing called the world's championship among his effects. If the sunburnt fighter had started in to trade punches the chances are that he would not be matched with Jeffries to-day. But Johnson, a wisenheimer in black, knew that he would add years to his career by avoiding punishment.

To-day he has the best defense of any heavyweight in the country, and although he has whipped every fighter of importance before the public, no part of his countenance is missing.

It is no credit to a fighter if he does not rush in splashing at his opponent. It is rather a tribute to his intelligence. Defense in boxing counts as much as offense, if not more. There are many men in the ring to-day who have little hitting ability, but they are getting the money. The out-punch brigade doesn't last long unless it has defense along with it. It is a combination of the two that makes the real champion.

JOE GANS STAYED

There's Joe Gans. This darkey first worshipped at the shrine of Queensberry in 1891, and was the world's champion as late as 1907. If Joe had endured the tortures of the Spanish inquisition, he would not have lasted more than five years. But Joe started on sound principles and survived two or three schools of lightweight champions.

PAPKE'S SHORT CAREER

Look at the skyrocket career of Bill Papke and Stanley Ketchel. They blossomed forth into fistiana at about the same time. Neither had anything except aggressiveness, courage and punching ability. "Isn't that enough?" some may say.

Yet there is no chance for either man to be rated as a remarkable fighter, because both have taken ten-second siestas in the ring. Papke started out whipping everybody in sight. Yet in every fight he received the best his opponent had in store. He was able to weather these beatings and eventually defeat his rival, but at cost to himself.

Fighters may boast to-day that nobody can hurt them. They may not be hurt this week or this month, but the wallops they absorb to-day are going to hurt them in three or four years.

KETCHEL'S RING HISTORY

Ketchel's history is virtually the same, gameness and courage in absorbing blows and coming back for more. He won many bouts in this manner, and he was applauded for his grit and stamnia. In his first bout with Jack O'Brien the bell saved the Philadelphian in the tenth round. For six rounds O'Brien gave Ketchel one of the worst beatings in his career, but subsequently the pace told on him and he slowed up.

Ketchel won this fight, but he probably will never forget the walloping he received for a time from O'Brien. Maybe it was these beatings that made Ketchel easy for Johnson when they met on the coast in October. Possibly some of the blows that his victim landed on him commenced to tell on his physique when he was in the ring with the black giant.

The one exception to-day to the point raised is Battling Nelson. He is still a world's champion, although he has been punched from one part of the country to the other. Nelson, however, is not the wide-open fighter that many imagine. He crouches low and rushes his rival, but had a way of covering up that staves off many a stiff wallop.

Still, he is an exception, and the man who lasts in the ring is the chap who learns defense and places his hopes on it in every fight in which he is engaged.

DOUBLE HOLIDAYS ECLIPSES, COMETS

Four Eclipses of the Sun and Two of the Moon in 1910

Quite a number of novel and interesting things are promised for 1910. To begin with, we are to have Halley's comet with us again. No use looking for it immediately, as it won't be much in evidence till April 20, when it will be 94,000,000 miles away, and coming our way at the rate of 138,888 miles an hour. It will be at its brightest between May 10 and May 18, when it will be only a small matter of 12,500,000 miles away.

The first solar one schedules is May 9, but it will require a trip to Australia to see it. Canada will hold one on November 1, but the front row seats will be up in Alaska.

The lunar eclipse will be a perfectly good display on May 23 and 24. It will start at 10.46 p.m., and will be fully eclipsed about 12 o'clock. Should anyone happen to miss this one, make a note of November 16. The performance will be repeated on that date.

1910 is to be a year of double holidays, most of the festivals coming on Sunday or Monday. Next Christmas and New Years, for instance, come on Sunday.

Labor Day and Easter both come on Monday, and as there is nothing to prevent anyone starting the holiday on Sunday, there is a double measure. Best of all, there is an extra Saturday in the year, which means that for many people there will be fifty-three pay envelopes instead of fifty-two.

THE MOVEMENTS OF FALSE HEIR

From Cabin to Castle and Back Again—Is a Polish Case of Considerable Interest

Berlin, Jan. 6.—The sensational Kwilecka, which six years ago kept all the female world of Europe in suspense, had to-day a not less sensational epilog. In 1903, Countess Isabella Kwilecka was acquitted by a jury on a charge of child substitution, fraud, and perjury, which had arisen as follows;—

Count Ignatius Kwilecka, the head of a famous Polish noble family, had no male children so that after his death his estates were to go over to the possession of Count Hector Kwilecka. Quite unexpectedly, however, Countess Isabella, who was fifty-two years of age, gave birth to a boy, who thus became the direct heir. Count Hector then charged his cousin with having bought the mediation of a midwife, from an Austrian railway lineman, of Cracow, named Meyer. The sensational trial lasted five days, ending in the acquittal of the countess. Frau Meyer appeared as a witness for the prosecution, but her evidence was not accepted as valid.

Count Hector, however, did not give up hope, as the acquittal of the countess, according to the German penal code, did not prevent him from resuming the case before a civil court. Countess Kwilecka, meantime, died in the spring of this year, and Count Hector induced Frau Meyer again to claim young Count Joseph, who is not ten years old, as her son. The court at Posen dealt with the case today, and gave its judgment for the plaintiff.

The official father of the young boy, Count Ignatius, at once gave notice of appeal to the supreme court. Should the sentence be confirmed, however, young Joseph will have to leave the proud castle in which he was brought up and return to the cabin of his poor mother, whom he only saw once in his life, viz., during the trial of 1903.

The verdict of the Posen court was chiefly based upon the evidence of a landed proprietor, a neighbor of a landed proprietor, a neighbor of Count Kwilecka, who stated that some years ago the late countess had told him in private conversation that Joseph was not her own son. It is considered strange that the court should have attached such importance to this evidence, given after the death of the countess, who alone would have been in a position to either confirm or contradict its correctness. It is also remarked that this same neighbor was a witness at the trial of 1903, and did not say a word about this supposed confession at that time.

WRECK MADE HIM SANE MAN

Blow on Head Resulted in Restoration of Reason

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—While being deported from the United States because of insanity, J. E. Bailey, 72 years old, a retired Manitoba farmer, was restored to reason by a blow received in the wreck of the Great Northern's Winnipeg Flyer. Now, in order that he may spend the rest of his life with his married daughter, Mrs. James Butterfield, of Trempleau county, Wisconsin, his son, Webb Bailey, of Winnipeg, is in Chicago, conferring with the government immigration officials there to have the ban of exile removed.

Bailey, already exhausted mentally, went to visit his daughter in Wisconsin last summer. He was taken to several physicians in Wilwaukee and Chicago, all of whom pronounced his trouble due to paresis and said that his cure was hopeless. The immigration officials ordered his deportation. The unfortunate father, in care of his son-in-law, Butterfield, boarded the Great Northern Winnipeg Flyer at St. Paul the night of December 18, and fifty miles out of St. Paul the engine and five coaches, among them the smoker in which Butterfield and the Manitoban were seated, went off a broken rail into the ditch. The old man was thrown forward and his head jammed between two seats, from which he extricated himself with his normal reasoning faculties restored.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Peterboro People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment.

Passages are frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is constant day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Peterborough evidence proves this statement.

Mrs. Geo. Hawes, of 857 Water St., Peterborough, Ont., says:

"I suffered for some time with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble, and although I had tried many remedies and doctors, found little or no relief. My back was weak and a dull, bearing down pain had settled across the small of it and extended into my shoulders and around my sides. I was weak and languid, and the least exertion would tire me out. Dizzy spells were frequent and often I would awake with a severe headache. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement at Mr. W. Madill's pharmach and soon found them to benefit me. I continued their use, and in a comparatively short time I was as well and strong as ever, and without a symptom of the painful and longstanding disease.'

Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., sole Canadian agents.

WHEN TIME LAGS

Working beside a clock is the most tiresome kind of work. This holds good, however charming the task may be at other times or however engaging the work would be if no clock were in the room, and is the general consensus of opinion of timekeepers, ushers and other employees whose work keeps them near the front door, of the office. "I work with a clock right beside me all day," said a timekeeper in a factory, recently, "and the day is so long that a hundred times an hour, more or less, I threaten to quit my job—in my mind, of course. The minutes seem like hours and the whole day drags along at a snail's pace. Before I got this place I was upstairs in another department, where there was no clock nearer than the front office, and the day fairly flew along to a close. If you want to pass an extremely tiresome and stupid quarter of an hour, just try to watch the hands of a clock for that length of time, and I'll warrant that before you are through—well, you'll wish you had never started." Another timekeeper declared that the constant ticking "got on his nerves" and kept him from doing his work properly. "I finally had to request permission to do my "checking up' work on the time sheet in another room," he said, "rather than work beside that clock. It nearly drove me crazy."—Chicago News.

KILLED IN FIGHT WITH ROBBERS

Special to Review.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Jan. 7.—Baggagemaster Henry Miner of the Michigan Central station here is dead and Telegraph Operator Morgan Emmett is in the Detroit Sanitarium, fatally wounded, as the result of a battle with two men who attempted to break into the station early to-day. One of the robbers is under arrest and a posse is after the other. The battle was the climax of a night of terror in which the desperadoes broke into a number of stores.

MR. MATTHEWS IS CHAIRMAN

Will Preside Over Water Commission for Another Year

At a meeting of the Water Commissioners yesterday afternoon Mr. T. F. Matthews was re-elected chairman for the year 1910. Some other business was also transacted. Mr. Matthews has been chairman of the Commission ever since it was organized and his re-election once more is a tribute to the excellent way in which he has precided over that body.

LAST MEETING OF WEEK OF PRAYER

Meeting of Moral Reform League Will Also be Held This Evening.

The last meeting in connection with the week of prayer will be held in St. Paul's church to-night. It will be a union service and it is expected that there will be a large attendance. At the conclusion of the prayer service a meeting of the Moral Reform League will be held in the Guild room. Some important developments may be the result of the latter.

A SMALL FIRE THIS AFTERNOON

Shortly after one o'clock this afternoon fire broke out in a shed at the rear of the residence of Mr. George Fitzgerald, 430 Sheridan street. Hot ashes were the cause of the blaze and the damage was very slight. The brigade responded to a call.

ANNUAL FAIR MEETING JAN. 20

Will be Held in City Council Chamber--Election of Officers

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Fair Society will be held on Thursday, January 20th, at the City Council Chamber. The yearly reports will be presented and new officers elected.

A full attendance is looked for.

Y.M.C.A. DOINGS

Last evening several members of the Young Men's Christian Association gathered at a tea given in the Association rooms in honor of Mr. E. L. Conklin, M.A., who is touring Canada recruiting students for the International Young Men's Christian Association Training School of Springfield, Mass.

In his address Mr. Conklin dealt particularly with Association methods in adapting itself to the particular needs of any locality by providing means of physical development, special educational advantages for equipping men with efficiency in any special business, wholesome amusements, and environments, and how all these activities were used to encourage higher ideals of living and eventually had the men to become Christians.

The speaker also referred to the vast magnitude of the Young Men's Christian Association, its many local associations, the great amount of money invested in the buildings, its varied nature such as navy, army, railroad, Panama Canal, and other features.

Concluding, Mr. Conklin appealed to all members to support their own branch as it was their opportunity to best help the Association fulfil its mission in winning men to the fullest Christian life.

PERSONAL

Lakefield News—Mr. R. G. Clifford, of Peterborough, passed through the village on Monday on his way to Apsley....Misses Rose and Cora Montgomery, of Peterborough, and Miss Beatrice Montgomery, of Toronto, spent the holiday in the village, the guests of Mrs. Thos. Junkin.

A Successful "At Home"

The T.A.S. "At Home" on Tuesday night was a highly successful event, a very large crowd being present. Progressive euchre was played and the evening in a social way was a delightful one.

Messenger Service

A messenger service agency has been opened in Peterborough by Messrs. A. W. Spenceley and F. D. Pillsworth. The office will be located at 147 Hunter street, and will be known as the Peterborough Messenger Service. A large staff of boys will be employed and a 'phone message will at once secure a messenger.

SPORTING

WORLD CALLS HACK'S BLUFF

About His Long Pursuit of Frank Gotch and Inability to Land Him.

Robert Edgren says in the New York World:—

Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion, is in Australia. Hack is adding to the list of funny things said by professional athletes when far from home. He is telling the Australians he is awfully afraid that Frank Gotch will continue to run away from him. He tells how he has pursued Gotch ever since losing the match in Chicago—funny that the pursuit has taken Hack to the opposite side of the world—and how Gotch eluded him in England.

Hackenschmidt fears that Gotch will sidestep the proposition of going to Australia to meet him on the mat. Also he fears that even if Gotch does go there, Gotch will refuse to wrestle Hackenschmidt for a $25,000 side bet, which is the one thing Hackenschmidt will insist upon. He thinks the craven Gotch will refuse to make any side bet at all, but will want a purse, and insist upon having that split arbitrarily without a winner's and a loser's end.

Now, isn't that funny! Jim Corbett in his monologue never got off anything better. It's a scream. Gotch, you know, followed Hackenschmidt to England when the latter went home and told the English about the awful treatment he received in Chicago. Gotch trailed Hack down in London and put up a forfeit to bind a match with him right at home in England, to a finish.

When Frank arrived he found that Hackenschmidt had posted a sum of money with a London paper as a forfeit for a match with Gotch. But no sooner had Gotch appeared on the scene than the Russian Lion suddenly thought of an engagement in Germany, pulled down his money, bought a one-way ticket and skipped. Gotch, who had gone to England especially to get Hackenschmidt, refused to meet other grapplers there, and returned to America. Since that time Gotch has been working like a beaver. He has earned a fortune on the mat, has easily defeated all visiting European and local wrestlers, and has developed into a wonderfully strong and tricky grappler. No doubt to-day he'd have much less trouble in beating Hackenschmidt, who has gone back, than he did in Chicago.

HOCKEY

The team to represent the Peterborough Colts in the first game in this district, to be played on Monday night, will be picked to-night.

INDOOR BASEBALL

Companies B and G played an interesting league game of indoor baseball at the armories last night, the former winning by the score of 54 to 37. Fast plays were numerous and the hard batting of the winners was a feature.

The teams were—

B Co.—Halpin, Watt, Staunton, Simmons, Scales, Sharpe and Guerin.

G Co.—Thompson, Coughlin, Patterson, Higgins, Peters, Myland and Ranger.

Batteries—B Co., Staunton and Guerin; G Co., Coughlin and Thompson.

Umpire—Lieut. W. Higgins.

The next league game will be played on Tuesday night.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL CENTRE

The annual meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Peterborough Centre, will be held in the chemical room of the Collegiate Institute on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 11th. After the installation of officers, the President, Rev. Dr. Marsh, will give an illustrated lecture on "Stellar Evolution," and will endeavor to show, as far as science has been able to outline, the manner of the origin of the heavenly bodies. The lecture will be shorn of technical terms and put in such form that the public will be able to follow it intelligently. It is expected that there will be a large audience.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove iron rust, wet the spots with salt and lemon juice, hold the material over the steam of a teakettle, and then put out in the sun.

Individual tarts are much served nowadays with fruit or pumpkin filling and with ice cream or whipped cream on top; with them serve coffee.

Never boil a silk handkerchief, or rub soap on it. Wash in suds made of fine white soap, squeeze out, half dry in the sun and iron while damp.

When frying anything in deep fat have the flour sifter full of flour handy. If the fat catches fire, sprinkle thickly with flour and save disaster.

For lemon cake filling, beat one egg, and a cupful of sugar and the juice and rind of one lemon. Cook in an enamelled pan until rather thick. When cool, spread.

Marble washstands that have become discolored may be scoured first with wet salt, and if this does not remove the stains then with salt and lemon juice.

The nicest duster for dusting out a house is a duck or goose wing, which on account of its feathery softness, will not scratch the furniture as some dusters do.

For fried squash, take the small green and yellow variety, peel and cut into half-inch slices. Dip in eggs and flour or crumbs and fry in plenty of fat until brown.

A paste of olive oil and salt smeared on spots on furniture and allowed to remain a few minutes and then rubbed off with a soft cloth will often remove the spots.

THE HEATER QUESTION

Can be most satisfactorily settled by letting us explain the working of the different new styles. They include:—

"Marvel" Hot Blast
With or without feeder.
Oak Heaters
in several makes and sizes.
Quebec Heaters
Base Burners
Laundry Stoves

A few second-hand Heaters and Ranges on the floor to be sacrificed.

Smashed Church Windows.

Chatham, Jan. 7.—Geo. Clive, extradited from the U. S., and found guilty of breaking the windows in the Lindsay road Methodist Church, was dismissed by Judge Dowling on suspended sentence.

Clive agreed to pay the $120 damages claimed by the church, and the costs of the case.

Runaway Youth's Misfortunes.

Detroit, Jan. 7.—Ernest Sawyer, 20 years old, who says his parents are prominent in Toronto, is at St. Mary's Hospital, suffering from having both feet frozen so badly that he could not walk. He traveled from Chicago in a box car. Sawyer says he ran away from home six months ago to see the world.

Royal Jewels Out of Hock.

Paris, Jan. 7.—The jewels which Abdul Aziz, the former Sultan of Morocco, pawned here for $300,000, have been redeemed by the Moroccan Government.

Resignation of Dr. Robertson.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—Rumors of friction attend the resignation of Dr. W. J. Robertson as principal of Macdonald College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que. His service at this industrial institution has made Dr. Robertson's name a household word among agriculturists throughout Canada, but his views of administration, it is said, differed widely from those of Sir William Macdonald, founder and chief supporter of the college. Dr. Robertson will not pursue agricultural research work abroad.

This One Shot to Death.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Failing to comply with a demand for $5,000 contained in letters signed "the Black Hand," which he received through the mails some time ago, B. Sinene, 60 years old, an Italian merchant was shot and instantly killed by three men yesterday morning while he lay asleep in the rear of his store.

$100,000 For South Pole Quest.

London, Jan. 7.—The Scott expedition in search of the South Pole is now assured, the Government having promised yesterday $100,000 towards the $200,000, which is the estimated expense.

Public subscriptions have raised a total only of $60,000. The expedition will set forth in July.

To Be Hanged, Will Be Baptized.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 7.—George Burge, who is to be hanged on Friday for the murder of his wife, will be taken from the death cell to-night to a church and be baptized by immersion at his request. The governor, who has reprieved Burge three times, approved the arrangements.

Mangled by Circular Saw.

Welland, Jan. 7.—Efferson Lambert was killed yesterday afternoon at his saw mill at Lowbanks, by being mangled by a circular saw. He leaves a wife and one child.

Death In Slippery Pavements.

New York, Jan. 7.—Three deaths and injuries to more than 300 persons were reported yesterday as the result of falls during the night and early morning on the slippery walks and pavements coated from building line to building line with ice an even quarter of an inch thick.

Rabies Around Chatham.

Chatham, Jan. 5.—Dr. Tenant, Government inspector of meats and foods, is expected to arrive in the city this week to investigate the outbreak of rabies in Chatham and townships.

Already six head of cattle, seven pigs and one dog have died in Dover from the dire disease. Dr. Joseph Kine, veterinary, has shot and quarantined all suspected animals, and a determined effort will be made to stamp out the epidemic.

Accused of Shooting His Mother.

New York, Jan. 5.—Because his hands were powder marked, Francisco LaCusta was arrested yesterday charged with the murder of his mother, Antonia LaCusta, a widow, who was shot dead while at work over the washtub in her flat, where she kept house for Francisco and his wife. The son insists that he was asleep when he heard a shot and that "it must have been robbers."

THREE MONTHS AT HARD LABOR AND A FINE OF $3.75

Frank Hamilton was sent to the hill this morning by Magistrate Dumble for three months at hard labor, and as His Worship intimated, he will have ample opportunity to decide as to whether he will continue to be a loafer or become a respectable citizen, after his term expires.

Hamilton was first charged with assaulting Walter Mahaffey last night and for this offence he was assessed $3.75. He pleaded not guilty but the magistrate decided that the complainant told the truth, when he said that Hamilton had kicked and abused him after he had been invited to go for a cutter ride. Mahaffey stated that he hired the outfit at a livery, and meeting Hamilton had asked him to jump in. Shortly afterward Hamilton asked him to get out and on his refusing he was assaulted by the defendant, who was not sober.

A charge of vagrancy was preferred. The prisoner admitted that he had not worked for the past two months and had been walking around during that time. He lived with his mother and father.

Chief Roszel had a little information to give on conclusion with the case and it was sufficient to prove Hamilton guilty.

"It was only yesterday, Your Worship," said the chief, "that his sister complained that he had not worked for two or three months, and yesterday morning he had stolen some money from his mother.

LAST YEAR'S CHAIRMAN RE-ELECTED FOR SECOND TERM

At First Meeting of Board of Education for 1910—Committees Appointed and the Chairman for Each Elected.

A meeting for the purpose of appointing committees and electing the chairman for each, and the Chairman of the Board of Education was held last night. The new Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. G. Thompson, before the business of the evening was proceeded with, thanked the Board for the appointment, and said that he would give his best services at all times.

Mr. Louis M. Hayes was re-elected Chairman of the Board of Education for the year of 1910, by an unanimous vote. In reply, Mr. Hayes thanked the Board for the confidence they had shown in him by again bestowing upon him the honor of Chairman of the Board for a second term. He congratulated the Board upon the very harmonious and successful way in which the business had been carried on last year, and be congratulated the teaching staff upon the efficiency of its work. The chairmen of the various committees were also commended for the splendid manner in which they had brought in their reports during the year. Mr. Hayes extended congratulations to the new members, Col. Miller and Mr. H. Adams, and welcomed them to the board.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

A committee was then appointed to strike the standing committees and a few minutes later they reported as follows ;—

Property Committee — R. Fair, Messrs. Adams, Ackerman, Miller, Dumble.

Supervision—Messrs. Crane, Morrison, Hill. Burnham.

Finance—Messrs. Dumble, Ackerman, Crane and Fair

Committee on Appointments — The Committee of the Whole Board.

On a vote by ballot, the first named of the Property, Supervision and Finance Committees was elected chairman. Mr. W. H. Hill was elected chairman of the Committee on Appointments.

A communication was received from Mr. H. C. Duff, of Norwood, stating that under the auspices of the Agricultural Department it was proposed to hold a three-day course in agriculture on Jan. 24, 25 and 26, on Tuesday, January 25. President Creelman, of Guelph, intended giving an address, and they wanted the use of the Collegiate Assembly Hall for that occasion.

The matter was referred to the Supervision Committee, with power to act.

Fire did $500 damage to Lott's Woollen Mills at Belleville.

LAST NIGHT OF WEEK OF PRAYER

Three meetings were held last night in connection with the week of prayer; one in Charlotte St. Methodist, one in Bethany Tabernacle, and one in St. James' Methodist. The meeting in Charlotte St. was well attended and the interest was deep. The Rev. Mr. Trompour was the speaker, his subject being Sacrifice. He said in part; The natural universe is built on sacrifice. The grain of wheat must die to produce the harvest. Animal life lives on vegetable life. Christ's life to be in harmony with the universe He created must be a life of sacrifice; so too the Christian finds his highest source of joy. All spiritual life has its basis in sacrifice. The Old Testament dispensation ordained sacrifices as the atmosphere of approach to God, acceptable if accompanied by the spiritual element of faith. So to-day by the Sacrifice of Calvary the Christian looks through the cloud of sin into the love of God, provided by faith in Christ and union with Him, he shares the sacrifice he pleads. Practical spheres of sacrifice as a return to God are found in Christian giving, public worship and consecration of self.

Likewise the social world should be pervaded with sacrifice. The example of the Father's unwearied love for men, the debt we owe to the generations who have gone before, call us to a life of sacrifice. Grenfel's work in Labrador was an example of this. Practical spheres could be found today in the support of foreign missions, and in living the "Christ life" in the midst of the growing worldliness and un-faith.

Joy is the attendant fruit of sacrifice—not a reward for sacrifice—even as the joy for which Christ endured the cross was not merely the crown which followed the sacrifice but the joy inheritant in self-sacrifice.

The closing meeting will be held to-night in St. Paul's church.

REEVE OF CAVAN KICKED BY COLT

Nose Broken and Face Badly Battered—Narrow Escape From Death

Millbrook, Jan. 6.—Reeve Kelly, of Cavan, met with a distressing accident on Friday night last, being kicked in the face by a colt that he had gone to the bush to drive home. Two colts had got out and Mr. Kelly and his hired man went after them, and as one colt was passing the other Mr. Kelly, being close by, the heels were let fly, striking Mr. Kelly in the face with one foot and the hand with the other. His nose was broken and face badly battered and one finger severely injured. The wonder is he was not killed.

The Suffragettes

A number of ladies were discussing the recent election, when one said she thought sure local option would pass, because when she marked her ballot she put a few lines of scripture in the space underneath. Another lady voter, who was present, said: "Oh, you should not do that. I've been voting for years, and all I ever do is to put the cross on the ballot and write my name underneath."

SCORES NOW GOING OVER TRAIL INTO PORCUPINE

Matheson is Becoming the Distributing Point for Ontario's Gold Fields and Yesterday Ninety-Three Persons Took Breakfast at the Hotel There.

Matheson, Ont., Jan. 8.—Reilly and a party of 32 prospectors came up on Thursday night's train from Haileybury, outfitted here and drove out to Porcupine yesterday morning.

Ninety-three persons took breakfast at the Hotel Matheson yesterday morning, and the rush to the gold country continues unabated.

The roads have been much improved by a recent snowfall, and a regular stage line will begin on Monday. Matheson is destined to be the distributing point for supplies, and the stores are fully equipped with all the necessaries for camp life. All freight will, for the future, be billed to Matheson only. Station agents have received instructions not to bill freight to stations where there is no agent.

A mail stage will run from Matheson at a uniform rate of $3 each way. A telephone line will be put in in a few days with a central station at Revellon Bros.

Revellon Bros., established in 1723, with over 200 stores in Canada, and stores in Russia, Japan, China, France, Italy, England, Germany and the United States, sent out men to Porcupine yesterday to erect a large outpost similar to the outposts at Abitibi and Cochrane. They carry a $20,000 stock in Matheson, and supply everything which the prospector needs.

They built the large store, now the postoffice store, before there was a street in the town, and this is now altogether too small for the immense business they are doing. Thursday the store was crowded all day.

This, and other stores in Matheson, carry the things best adapted to the country and as a general rule most of the outfitting is done from this place.

Englehart Amazed.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—"I thought I knew all the goldfields, the Lake of the Woods, and the rest of them," said Chairman Englehart, of the T. & N. O. commission, yesterday, "but I saw some specimens from Porcupine last night that were simply amazing. If it is proved at depth, it will turn out to be the greatest gold camp in America."

Mr. Englehart still favored the Matheson route to the new gold fields for winter travel, on account of its superior comfort in the matter of accommodation at the starting point. "There are hotels, stores and everything a man could want at Matheson," he remarked. For summer travel, however, he thought that mile-post 222, or, better still, mile-post 226, presented distinctive advantages on account of being nearer to the water routes. From the latter it is only a short distance to a couple of streams which flow into the Frederick House River, offering a splendid continuous canoe route by that river, Frederick House and Night Hawk Lakes and Porcupine River to the heart of the district.

Regarding the possibility of a branch of the railroad into Porcupine Lake, Mr. Englehart observed that the T. & N. O. commission had their engineers and surveyors examining all the possibilities.

Telephone Extension.

Matheson, Jan. 8.—R. Hedley of the Gowganda telephone line is here to run a line into Porcupine Lake gold fields.

GOVERNOR'S "COWBOY" DAUGHTER CHRISTENED BIG SIX-MASTER WYOMING

MISS LENA BROOKS MISS BROOKS, AT FATHERS RANCH ON A BRONCHO SHE TAMED

Miss Lena Brooks, daughter of Governor Bryant B. Brooks, of Wyoming, recently christened the six-masted schooner Wyoming in the yards at Bath, Me.

Miss Brooks is a student at Dana Hall, the preparatory school at Wellesley. Her sister, Miss Abby Brooks, is at Wellesley, and both sisters are enjoying a visit from their mother, who went to Bath with Miss Lena to witness the christening ceremonies.

While the Brooks family now resides in the executive mansion at Cheyenne, Wyoming, without exception the heart of each member is at the beautiful home ranch at Casper. Although only eighteen years old, Miss Lena is so intimately acquainted with every detail of its management that she is in technical charge of the ranch while the family is there for the summer. The foreman consults her as to the handling of the sheep and cattle "outfits," and no problem comes up during her father's absence which she is not able to solve.

Last summer Miss Lena wished to have some money for a special purpose, so she "hired out" to her father as sheepherder. Early every morning she would mount her cow pony, release the animals from the corral, and then ride away to the hills for the day. Furthermore, she has broken two wild bronchos, and always trains the horses which her sisters ride. She gathers the ponies in from the herd, pets and tames them in the corral for days, and by the time she is ready to saddle and mount both horse and rider are so thoroughly attuned that the "brono" yields readily without the customary protest of "bucking."

Nearly every summer the pleasure of life on the ranch is enhanced by a week or so spent in camp by the Brooks family. On one occasion the resourceful young daughters of the Governor turned their attention to private theatricals. Together they wrote a play and produced it. It was necessary for one of the actors to have a man's white duck suit. Such a thing was not in camp and the youthful Thespians were puzzled as to how to meet the emergency.

"I have it, girls!" said Miss Lena. "Pajamas!"

And pajama sit was, although few in that al fresco audience ever knew what a deception had been practised upon them in the name of art.

Last June Miss Lena was graduated from the Cheyenne High School. It was discovered that she has a very beautiful soprano voice and she is now specialising in music at Dana Hall.

FIRST DEATH OCCURS IN BRITISH ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Railing Around London Hall Gives Way, and a Score of Persons Fall Into Area—One is Killed and Ten Are Hurt.

London, Jan. 8.—The first serious disaster of the campaign, which entailed a death and injuries to many persons, occurred in the eastern section of London last night. The Irish League had called a meeting in the town hall in Cable street. A great crowd was besieging the hall, and with the arrival of the procession of the members of the Irish League, escorting the Liberal candidate, Mr. Benn, who was to address the meeting, the congestion became so great that the railing around the hall collapsed and a score of persons fell into the area, which was several feet deep. One man was killed in the fall and ten were more or less seriously injured. The meeting was abandoned.

Among the first to be re-elected to the new Parliament will be Arthur J. Balfour, for the city of London, and Joseph Chamberlain for Birmingham West, neither of whom will be opposed.

As an indication of the small field as yet cultivated by the Labor party, only 90 Labor and Socialist candidates are now before the electors, while there are 67 countries in England, Wales and Scotland where no Labor or Socialist candidate is standing.

There are many signs of dissension in the Nationalist ranks, as a result of which the number of Irish contests threatens to be much larger than usual. The official candidates are being opposed in many places by independents chosen by local conventions.

Polling will begin on Saturday week, and present indications point to a majority for the Liberals, but the Irish may hold the balance of power. Considering the long warning given of the contest, much unpreparedness exists.

Agitation for fiscal reform overshadows the constitutional question of the peers' interference with finance. The budget and land taxes are momentarily forgotten. Free traders are working the bogey of "dear bread and horse sausages," but the working classes look more at the employment problem. Meantime the masses appear favorable to the party that gave them old-age pensions and labor exchanges.

Candidates with colonial connections are receiving attention from headquarters of both sides. Winston Churchill has written Hamar Greenwood, Liberal candidate at York, urging imperial solidarity, and says: "You, as a Canadian, well known and well liked throughout Canada, have a special responsibility at this juncture."

Joseph Chamberlain recommends John Henniker Heaton to Canterbury, because of the desirability of colonial preference.

Social reform is very generally subordinated to the paramount importance of imperial defence and commercial interdependence.

It is a kaleidoscopic contest, of which none can yet confidently predict the result, and popular excitement is growing. The City of London and certain universities have not yet been challenged by Liberal candidates. Liberals, labormen, and Unionists will have triangular duels for about fifty seats.

Non-conformist objectors to the budget threaten extensive abstentions from voting. Lord Rosebery, whose intervention during the budget debates, was so fateful, has again made a pronouncement condemning the budget as socialistic, opposing home rule and recommending reform of the second chamber.

Large numbers, especially of the propertied classes, who have hitherto supported Liberalism, are openly promising adhesion to Unionism. Churchmen also are receiving categorical advice from bishops to prevent the nearer approach of disestablishment.

Dread of home rule is losing many votes for Liberalism, and reports from the constituencies generally indicate that the Unionists are improving their position and making headway.

Colonial questions have received consideration from Lord Lansdowne, who has urged the importance of the earliest possible arrangement with Canada as to imperial preference. Lord Milner, dealing with similar points, has recommended the imposition on colonial grain of half the duty to be levied on foreign imports, though recognizing that to advocate entire exemption would be more popular.

SIR WILFRID IS HONORED

Premier's Portrait is Unveiled by National Club at Toronto.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Nationality was the inspiring note that prevailed throughout the proceedings at the splendid banquet in the National Club last night, when Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, K.C.M.G., P.C., was the honored guest. It was as a party leader that he was feasted on Tuesday, but last night it was the Prime Minister of Canada who received the enthusiastic and at times tumultuous and overwhelming plaudits of an audience representing every phase of Toronto public life.

The National Club was founded for the cultivation of national and patriotic spirit and the feeling showed how magnificently the seed had come to harvest. In addition to his reception as guest, the special honor was done Sir Wilfrid of unveiling his portrait which hangs not far from that of his old-time political opponent and friend, Sir John A. Macdonald. The unveiling was done by W. K. McNaught, M.P.P., as a past president of the club and a prominent Conservative, after a happy speech of discriminating laudation.

Sir Wilfrid was charmingly eloquent about matters on which there could be no disagreement, and his special tribute to the oratorical abilities of the late B. B. Osler and Hon. Edward Blake, whose forensic eloquence he declared, had it belonged to sons of Quebec would be treasured in every library in Lower Canada.

NORTH BAY IS VISITED BY A BAD BLAZE

North Bay, Jan. 8.—Fire which broke out in J. J. Owen & Co.'s barber shop early yesterday morning, destroyed several frame buildings on Oak street. An explosion of gas in G. P. Angus' tobacco store, wrecked the place, and young Robert Angus was rescued unconscious from the debris by two bank clerks, Henry and Reaume. Mr. Owen is in a state of nervous collapse.

Losses and insurance: G. P. Angus & Co., stock $3,000, insurance $500, almost a total loss; N. J. McCubbin, stock, $7,000, insurance, $5,000; a partial loss; H. Adams, stock $4,000, insurance $1,800, considerable stock saved; Frank Phili, loss $500, partly insured; A. Jackman, loss $3,000, insurance, $1,550; Benard, loss $600, insurance $500; Young, loss $800, insuranme $800; Blanchett, loss $1,000, insurance $2,500; Owen & Co., loss $1,500, Campbell & McDiarmid, clothing merchants, suffered damage by removal of stock.

FOUR YEARS IN PEN. FOR YOUTH

Chatham, Jan. 8.—Charles Coleman, aged 18, a youthful leader of a gang of burglars arrested a week ago, for perpetrating six recent burglaries in Chatham, was yesterday morning sentenced to four years in penitentiary. Two of his pals, Judson and Johnston, were remanded for a week, and another Arthur Ray allowed to go on suspended sentence.

ALLEGED BURGLARS ARRESTED

Ypsilanti, Mich., Jan. 8.—Suspected of a jewelry store burglary that occurred here late Thursday night, two men, taken into custody by the baggage men and ticket clerk at the Michigan Central depot early yesterday, drew revolvers and fought a desperate battle for their liberty.

Henry C. Minor, the baggageman, was killed, Clerk Morgan Emmett was probably fatally wounded, and one of the suspects was shot in the leg.

Three men are under arrest. Their names were given as Robert McCormick of Detroit, formerly of Ypsilanti, 22 years old; "Winkie," a Detroit character, about 26 years old, whose real name could not be learned, who is shot in the leg, and Carl Billings, 20 years old, of Detroit, who is said to have accompanied the other two to Ypsilanti but parted company with them before the burglary.

The two men made no resistance when first taken into custody, but after being led quietly into the baggage room, they suddenly opened fire. Emmett's right arm was disabled by one of the first shots but he clung to his antagonist with his left arm and was dragged out on the station platform, where he was clubbed into insensibility.

Minor, who had a revolver, engaged in a duel at twenty paces with the other suspect, receiving a mortal wound in the throat.

CANADIAN REVENUE SHOWS AN INCREASE

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The revenue for December, 1909, was $8,733,571, as compared with $7,183,355 in December, 1908. The revenue for the nine months ending December 31, was $73,390,060, as against $62,298,583 during the same period in 1908.

The details for December were:

	1908	1909
Customs	$3,828,231	$5,217,402
Excise	1,390,167	1,550,107
Postoffice	614,575	625,000
Public Works (Rys)	661,096	739,791
Miscellaneous	699,225	390,263

The details for the nine month period were

	1908	1909
Customs	$34,822,922	$44,184,349
Excise	11,706,824	11,630,057
Postoffice	5,049,575	5,476,910
Public Works (Rys)	1,213,008	7,676,130
Miscellaneous	3,506,346	4,433,623

The expenditure on capital account during December, 1909, was $13,379,270 as against $4,159,949 in October, 1908. Most of the decrease was in public works, railways and canals, which went from $13,452,060 to $12,421,411. The total expenditure on capital account so far has been $24,026,137 as against $26,316,343 in the same period last year.

The net debt stands at $322,284,079, a drop of $690,653 in the month and an increase from $291,573,767, the figure at which it stood on Dec. 31, 1908.

Natural Gas at Deseronto.

Deseronto, Jan. 8.—While cleaning his well yesterday afternoon Mr. Geddes discovered natural gas. He let a burning match fall near the top of the well and it broke out in flames.

Two Killed in Wreck.

Northeast, Pa., Jan. 8.—Two trainmen were killed and two others injured when a Lake Shore passenger train crashed into a work train.

PRES. TAFT FIRES PINCHOT CHIEF FORESTER OF U.S.

The President Pitches Out the Most Notable of the "Insurgents" Who Are Bothering the Administration and Situation is Much Strained.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Gifford Pinchot was last night removed from his office as chief forester by President Taft.

In doing this the President gave out a copy of a letter he has written to Mr. Pinchot, in which he says, in conclusion: "By your conduct you have destroyed your usefulness as a helpful subordinate of the Government, and it therefore now becomes my duty to direct the secretary of agriculture to remove you from your office."

Secretary Wilson was swift in carrying out the decision of the President. He addressed to Gifford Pinchot, forester; Overton W. Price, associated forester, and Albert C. Shaw, assistant law officer of the forestry bureau, letters substantially identical.

It developed at the Cabinet meeting that Pinchot wrote the famous letter of Thursday to Senator Dolliver, of his own volition and against the direct advice of the Secretary of Agriculture. It also appeared that Pinchot induced Senator Dolliver to have the letter read at the same time the President's message, exonerating Secretary Ballinger through a report of the Attorney-General, should be presented.

Mr. Taft undoubtedly realizes fully what the dismissal of Forester Pinchot means in a political way. He has been convinced for some time that the so-called 'insurgents" and other critics of his administration had enlisted the services of Mr. Pinchot and practically were defying him to separate Pinchot from his office.

The latter's letter of Thursday, few here doubt, as written with the direct purpose of putting it squarely up to the President.

Political observers in Washington declare that the situation created by yesterday's developments is the most tense of many years. What the outcome will be no one is willing to prophesy.

FIVE MEN ARE ARRESTED AT NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 8.—Chief Kimmins and his men, assisted by G.T.R. Detective Wm. Tisdale and M.C.R. Detectives Magnihan, Heenan and Special Agent McHugh, have in the last ten days unearthed a band of five young car robbers operating in the G.T.R. yards here, stealing from the cars clothing, boots and shoes and turkeys.

The quintette, who appeared before Magistrate Fraser yesterday afternoon are: Clarence Steven, 23 years; Ben Warren, 21; B. R. Bentley (married), 29; Harry Cannon, 18, and Wm. Leach, 23. The first four were charged with theft and Leach with receiving stolen goods. They all pleaded guilty.

Harry Cannon, the youngest of the gang, being dismissed on suspended sentence on a bond of $500 for good behavior. The other four are remanded for one week for sentence.

Stevens has had two former convictions and served terms for similar offences. Warren has two charges against him of theft and receiving stolen goods, as has Bentley. Leach has one charge of forgery and seven convictions for theft all in Toronto.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Robert Walker, 65, picked up on the Windsor street four days ago, suffering from exposure, is dead. His relatives are unknown.

The London Pall Mall Gazette says Premier Laurier's speech in Toronto on Wednesday breathes a precious spirit of kinship which stirs the heart.

Corporation Foreman Ungar of Brantford found a man's right hand on the street, which had evidently been severed at the wrist. The hand had only been dismembered a short time.

Roy Davis, the 12-year-old son of I. J. Davis of West Oxford, who was bitten by a tramp dog, has been taken to the Pasteur Institute in New York, as Dr. Amyot, provincial analyst, found that the dog had rabies.

Mrs. Hugh McMahon of Newdale, Man., injured in C.P.R. wreck near Missanabie on Dec. 24, and a patient in Sudbury Hospital since that time, is dead, and the body has been sent to relatives near Toronto, where she was on her way to visit.

FRANK HALL IS NABBED BY SCOTLAND YARD

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Frank Hall, who is under arrest at Scotland Yard on the charge of forgery, larceny and uttering bankers' checks, and awaiting his trial at the April Assizes at Guildford, is wanted by the Toronto police on two charges of forgery.

Hall came to Canada from England in April, 1906, and spent most of his time in Toronto. He returned last September.

While here he worked for one of the newspapers, and had in his possession a letter which he claimed was signed by Queen Alexandra, stating that he was at one time a tutor to her children. The letter was written on paper on which the royal arms were embossed, and he once showed it to W. C. Wilkinson, secretary of the school board, with the statement that he had also been a high school teacher in England.

The charges, for which he is wanted n Toronto are of forging two checks for $80 and $40 respectively. One bore the signature of J. W. L. Foster, 83 Carlton street, while the latter had the signature of Jas. Ivory, 682 Queen street West.

Hall has a long record in England for forgery, and once served seven years.

LEMIEUX IS NOMINATED IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The Liberal convention last night nominated Auguste Lemieux, K.C., a younger brother of the Postmaster-General, to contest the bye-election caused by the retirement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier from the Ottawa seat.

He secured the nomination in spite of the direct opposition of the Premier and the local Liberal organ, which yesterday afternoon came out uncompromisingly against him. Mr. Lemieux cannot therefore expect any support from the Government or the official Liberal organ, yet he is nominated by the local party officially.

The voting was; First ballot—Dr. Forest (Laurier nominee), 138; A. Lemieux, 137; Dr. Chevrier, 64; ex-Mayor Payment, 6. Second ballot—Lemieux, 180; Forest, 163.

TURKISH TOBACCO IN PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Montreal, Jan. 8.—An experiment which, if successful, will revolutionize the tobacco trade of Canada, is being conducted by the American Tobacco Co. at St. Agathe Des Monts. Mortimer Davis has sent up a score of expert tobacco growers, and will make an effort to grow Turkish tobacco there. It is claimed that on account of the high latitude tobacco which in every respect resembles that grown in Turkey can be cultivated.

NEW OFFICERS OF DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Belleville, Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the directors of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association last evening, the officers elected were: President, H. Glendenning of Manila; first vice-president, J. H. Singleton of Smith's Falls; second vice-president, T. A. Thompson of Almonte. Executive committee: J. Whitton, A. Hume, J. H. Singleton, J. A. Sanderson, T. A. Thompson, E. Kidd, M.P., and J. McGregor.

The other directors are: Neil Fraser, W. H. Olmstead, Wm. Montgomery, J. J. Payne, J. B. Wilson, James Melgrath, Charles Anderson, G. A. Gillespie, W. Blakely, G. G. Publow, N. G. Murphy, J. R. Dargavel and Senator Derbyshire.

ARE SUCCESSFUL AS MILLWORKERS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 8.—That experiment of bringing French-Canadians from Quebec as mill workers is a great success, is the declaration yesterday of the manager of the Fraser River Mills, at New Westminster. A few months ago the manager imported 125 workmen from Quebec. This resulted in the displacement of 150 Hindus and 60 Chinese.

One Quebecker does the work of two Hindus, and the company now proposes to import a large number more for their logging camps.

MARION ZUFELT HAS PASSED AWAY

Woodstock, Jan. 8.—The second death as the result of the crashing of a C.P.R. snowplow into a cutter at the Beachville crossing on Tuesday evening occurred at the Woodstock Hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The second victim is Marion Zufelt, aged 20.

A double funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon from Fields' undertaking parlors here.

The mother is dangerously ill from the terrible shock, and it is thought that it would be unsafe to have the bodies taekn home.

The men on the plow didn't know of the accident until they arrived at Woodstock, when parts of the cutter were seen on the front of the plow.

DID HE GET THE FORBIDDING LETTER?

Windsor, Jan. 8.—Two young women employes of the postoffice will be called in the Police Court to-day to settle a case in which Geo. Smith, proprietor of the Walker House is charged with selling liquor to an "Indian lister." The prosecution charges that a letter was sent to Smith forbidding him to sell liquor to William Doyle. Smith denies receiving the letter.

THE FRENCH QUESTION

The Sentinel.

"The Protestants of Canada have lately been aroused to the fact that the French-Canadian, marching under the banner of Holy Church, has invaded the Eastern Townships and is now owner and lord in the Province of Quebec. Mr. Sellar's book, "The Tradegy of Quebec," has made a great impression on thousands of thoughtful readers throughout Canada, but for the great majority of Canadians we fear that Mr. Sellar is but as the voice of one crying in the wilderness. Will Protestants and English-speaking Canadians of Ontario and the West shake off their apathy when the invaders turn their main efforts to this Province?

The hour has now come. French-Canadian papers are full of the importance of the Congress of Education to be held in Ottawa next month when the Ontario Government is to be impressed by an immense convention of delegates representing all French-speaking Roman Catholics of Ontario. For many years there have been skirmishes and attempts to surprise the Protestant enemy, the Racine Bill, for instance. For twenty-five years the French-Canadian has been gradually taking possession of the public schools in the eastern counties of Ontario, and either turning them into Separate schools or making them bi-lingual institutions, where a Roman Catholic (French-speaking teacher could teach them much French and little English. For many years the French have been buying up the farms in Prescott and Russell, in Stormont and Glengarry, and now they control at least two of these counties, will soon be in possession of Glengarry, and have begun to descend upon Dundas. They have become so strong, and doubtless so encouraged by their easy conquest of the Eastern Townships, that they are coming out into the open with a declaration of war against the English school. They are even prophesying the day when the English will be obliged to learn French, and no doubt have it taught in the public schools of western Ontario.

Let there be no misconception of this French-Canadian Educational Congress on the part of the Protestants of Canada. Its avowed aim is the Gallicizing of the public and Separate schools in Eastern Ontario. At present the teaching of the French language at all in these schools is simply a concession given by the over-indulgent, broad-minded Protestant majority of Ontario. But the French-Canadians in Ontario, now numbering over 200,000, demand that this concession be glorified into a legal right. They are not content with grasping the assistance, they want to be the legal owners of the schools in Eastern Ontario, in Essex also, in fact in any part of Ontario which the French-speaking invading army with big church and little school chooses to invade.

And what will be the upshot of this Educational Congress, provided it can persuade the Whitney Government to grant its demands? It will mean that in the not far distant future someone will be writing the "Tragedy of Ontario," how county after county was overrun by French Roman Catholics and Nationalists, how the public school was Gallicized and Catholicized, how Protestants were forced out because of the lack of educational advantages for their children. For Prescott and Russell this tragedy has already been accomplished. English-speaking people there are moving out in large numbers every year because the French have gained control of the public school or have destroyed it by forming separate schools. What has been done in two counties can be done in any other or in all. No words of warning can be too strong to sound throughout Protestant Ontario at this time.

We quote herewith an editorial which appeared in La Patrie on November 25, and has not been translated [illegible] English by any paper in Canada except The Sentinel. Here we have the whole scheme of conquest boldly explained:

"Now that the greater number of French-Canadians of Ontario have learned that there will be held in Ottawa, in the approaching mid-January, a general congress on educational matters, it will perhaps be advisable to lay down the leading lines of policy and give some indication of the end which it is proposed to attain.

"Our compatriots of the sister Province will come together in order to improve the condition of bi-lingual schools. What they desire is the official recognition of these schools by the Government, the confirmation by an act of the Provincial Legislature of the teaching of French in the schools. It is the doing away with this farce which is now called "the bi-lingual school." Everyone knows that French is but little taught in the schools aided by public money, that the French language, the language of our ancestors, is relegated to the third or fourth place, like all other tongues, whereas it ought to be, if not in the first place, at least on a footing of equality with English. It is to remedy this deficiency that the French-Canadians of Ontario are uniting in a Congress, to bring to a finish this detestable state of affairs; it is to recover lost or extorted rights, to make large and beautiful the place which ought to be occupied by French in the schools, not only primary and secondary, but also high and national schools.

"One will agree that English is convenient; but the same may be said of French. Was it not His Excellency, Lord Grey, who said lately that the man who knows both languages is an accomplished gentleman? Is not that a saying worthy to commend and to pass along?

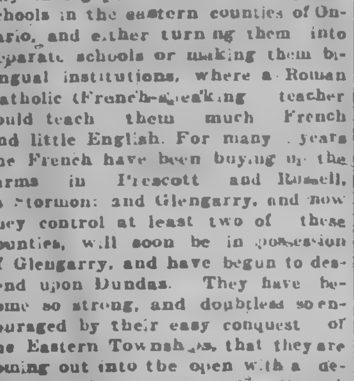
"It is necessary to remember that a language which is not learned at school is fated to perish. To speak a language is one thing, to know it is quite another thing. One is able to speak it in the family circle, at home, in the street or elsewhere, but to know it, one must have studied it, and where shall it be studied if not in the school? And how shall it be learned in school, if it is not taught? Thus it is with French in Ontario. Therefore, it is necessary to work with a will by all proper means to try to give to the children who go to school solid instruction in French, not only that the children may be able to speak it, but more, that they may learn it and know it. It is necessary that French should occupy the same rank as English in the primary and secondary schools because it is there that it is necessary to begin the study of French. Moreover, it should be taught in the High and Normal schools in order to train competent teachers, who will be able in their turn to teach French to their compatriots.

"In order to attain this end, we must organize, we must work heroically.

"Has not the Educational Congress of Ontario undertaken an enterprise truly national when it has taken the initiative in this direction? But the promoters of the Congress are not able to do everything by themselves. They need loyal support of people of energy, in every parish, city or village, French Canadians who have at heart the upbuilding of their race! For, in preserving the French language, and in causing it to be studied in the schools they will keep there the spirit of their race. They will acquire influence, and, it can be foreseen, will some day lead the French themselves to learn French. All must take care of the religious and school question in their respective parishes, in order that, being well-informed, all may be in a position to convince themselves of the utility and advantages of the present Congress, so, that, after having sized up the deplorable conditions which prevail as to the teaching of French, every parish, where there are Canadians, may send to the Congress in Ottawa a number of delegates. This is easy to accomplish in a parish where the priest is a Canadian; but in certain parishes, which do not have this advantage, the work will be difficult: nevertheless, we hope that municipalities will also send devoted laymen to look after their interests."

The above editorial, written in the office of a leading Quebec newspaper of large circulation, endorses every word which has appeared in editorials written by priests over assumed names in Le Moniteur, the official Ontario French-Canadian organ of opinion. Here we have the same impudent false hood repeated that the French language is sidetracked in the bi-lingual schools, both Public and Separate, of the eastern counties of Ontario, whereas, everyone in that district knows that the majority of the Roman Catholic teachers in those schools speak very poor English, and give nearly all the instruction in French. But the French are not satisfied. Their cry is always more. They want the Ontario Department of Education to do away with the teaching of French entirely, and to proclaim French as the official language of the schools of Russell, Prescott, Glengarry and Essex. In the above editorial the race cry is raised in the most strident tones; this Educational Congress will be a great demonstration of nationalism, the greatest that the French have ever dared to attempt. It is a sign of the times, showing their consciousness of increased power in Canadian politics. Notice how the editor of La Patrie, with sublime effrontery, assumes the name "Canadians" for the French alone. Others are English. Down in Prescott and Russell the habitants divide the population into two classes—"Canadians" and "Old Countrymen"—the latter being English-speaking persons.

But let our readers, who wonder at the audacity of this and other plans of Roman Catholics "Canadians," observe the closing paragraph of this flamboyant utterance. There is a drop of bitterness in the bottom of this foaming cup of "Canadian" aspiration. This is the Irish priest, and the Irish [illegible] racial pride and all his works. The editor of La Patrie is aware of the fact that there are parishes where the priests are not "Canadians"; he refers to the Irish fathers, who will make the work difficult." Protestants may take some comfort in the face of this coming Congress that the Irish Catholics of Ottawa and Eastern Ontario will do their level best to nip this pretentious fleur-de-lis in the bud."



DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

WILL BRING IT BEFORE COUNCIL

The Temperance League met last night and, it is understood, decided to bring the question of the reduction of licenses before the City Council at an early date.

The reduction suggestion has met with general approval, especially with that part of the general public which thinks that the reduction of licenses is more than a partial solution of the problem of liquor selling.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

ANGLICANS OF CANADA INDEPENDENT

Allegiance Due the Primate of Canada Only, Says Bishop Farthing in Address at Montreal

Montreal, Jan. 7.—A most outspoken address was that delivered by Bishop Farthing before a representative gathering of churchmen at the first annual dinner of the Federation of Churchmen's Associations, held last night at the Canada Club.

Speaking on behalf of the Anglican Church in Canada, he made a striking declaration of absolute independence from the Mother Church in England. Then he proceeded to castigate the city council of Montreal for its inaction in regard to the outbreak of typhoid, and to call on all churchmen to work for a higher ideal of citizenship.

"We need to remember," said Bishop Farthing, "that we are a national church. There is a tendency across the water to think that we must not legislate or move a step forward unless the Mother Church tells us we may. No one has more respect for the Mother Church than I. No man here owes more to the Mother Church than I. Everything I possess, morally and spiritually I have from her.

"But there we are a daughter setting up housekeeping for ourselves. We are not always to be under the dictation of the mother whose home we have left, and for whom we have the deepest respect, and love, and veneration. We are here as an independent national church. I look to Rupert's Land to-day for the head of the Canadian church and not to Canterbury. I owe allegiance to the Primate of Canada, and not to the Primate of England. That is not to say we have any less respect for the Primate of England, but I do feel that what we churchmen in Canada need first is to realize that we are a national church.

"We owe allegiance to our own Primate, appointed by our own national Synod. We are not tied to the United States, nor to England, though we have communion with them. But just as the Canadian Parliament speaks for the Canadian people, so does the General Synod of Canada speak for the Churchmen of Canada."

He proceeded to claim that the Anglican Church in Canada was the most democratic church in Christendom, pointing out in support of this claim how large a voice the laity had in the government of the church.

THE GREAT BRITISH DICKENS

It is close upon a hundred years since Dickens was born. It is all but forty since he died. The dates involved are 1812 and 1870. This is worth remembering, when it is also remembered how much is left in Dickens of what we loosely, but not inaccurately, call force. He began to move in 1836 (the year of 'Pickwick') and has not once left the track. He started at top speed and the distinguished 'publishing party' whose faithful imprint attaches to his wares has no difficulty in proving to us that he is 'still running.' That aged performer, 'Culture,' who carried for a generation the money of all superior punters, dropped along long since exhausted in the path. The great middle-class champion foots it as game as ever. What a wind!

Mr. Teignmouth Shore submits (or, more precisely, glances at) the question whether Dickens's personality 'would have been worth copying had he not been one of the most influential, as well as famous, of English writers.' Presumably, some doubt is here implied. Our own doubts upon the subject—let us presume to say it—are non-existent. Were such a question raised respecting Sterne, for instance, we might hesitate indeed. Sterne late in life blazed into fame as an author, and was during his few remaining years a personage in society. Were it, however, submitted in debate that the 'man Sterne' apart from the authorship of 'Tristram' and the 'Sentimental Journey,' was a slight and futile and unedifying (if most amusing) creature, how many among us would be quick to lift cudgel in defence of him? The case of Dickens we take to be altogether different.

Dickens (whether in all respects we like him) is quintessentially a man; he is a man of his time; a man of two hemispheres. We may say farther that he was for a very long time not only the best known, but the most popular, man in England and in America. He was our most celebrated character. He was almost the most celebrated character in the United States.

Nor, we are quite certain, was his celebrity due in whole to the fact that he was the most widely-read and most applauded novelist in the English language. Among the devourers of romance—splendid romance, by all means—the elder Dumas, on the flood-tide of his renown, had a prodigious following; but, as a man, what was Dumas's position or authority in comparison with Dickens's? Dickens had the undefined and undefinable equality of personal ascendancy. If he were not always absolutely sure of his place in 'society,' had always the multitude at his back. Had he announced at a public dinner that he had preferred Swift's suggestion for extracting sunbeams out of cucumbers, the 'Times' would have had a leader next morning and the man in the street would have been asking the price of shares. Fortunate indeed, was it for Dickens himself as for his legion of admirers that he had not the craze for speculation that laid poor Balzac low. If no other English writer of fiction has had the homage of so vast a crowd of readers, no other English writer—whether of fiction or anything else—has filled so large a space in the world that is not literary.

Like Napoleon, Dickens wears the rose of youth upon him long after he has blushed at his first fame. Napoleon at twenty-six was teaching new tricks in war to the veterans of Europe. Dickens was twenty-four when he came full-armored with the new humor of 'Pickwick.' It is Youth, in fact (and he really is entitled to the capital Y), that makes the first appeal to us in Dickens. Youth, radiant, irradiating, indomitable, and seemingly eternal. The last word we use not unadvisedly, for the sense of youth dominant and dominating goes with his through the larger half of Dickens's career. We lose it suddenly—and not without a kind of shock. We lost it (towards his late prime), not in his writings, not in his speeches, not in his letters to friends; it vanishes on a sudden from his pictures. The beautiful young face that Maclise has given us, with its bright eloquent eyes, nervous mouth, and locks that the ladies (and Disraeli) called hyacinthine, has all at once taken on a cast of age, sternness, and hardness. The eye is there, as brilliant as of old—the challenging eye that the Kembles and Kean and Irving had in the theatre, and Gladstone in his Parliament—but all the lines of the face have hardened. Its seductiveness has merged in assertiveness but we read in it also something of the pace of life.

One of the most strenuous existences in modern literature is Carlyle's. Carlyle's output is enormous also is the expenditure of vital energy upon it. But Dickens also has his very big shelf of books, and the whole of this work is of the pure creative imagination. Carlyle lives, we may say, within the four walls of his study; is satisfied, between the hours of herculean toil, to peer at the world from the roof of an omnibus. The overflowing novels of Dickens show us only one side of him. After lunch, the door of the workroom is shut and he is ready for anything and everything that comes. He walks like a jockey getting flesh off. He clamors to his friends to meet him at dinner. He rushes into the country, crosses the Atlantic, dances over Europe. He is the man most demanded in England for the chair of a charity dinner; no one to equal him at the loosening the purse-strings. He has readings to prepare, plays to stage-manage and to act in. And wherever he goes, he is the light and centre and controlling power of the life around him. He is like Napoleon again in his unwillingness—nay, his inability—to play second fiddle. Everything flows from him and towards him. At such a pace does he live and move up to the very end.

His friends, his intimates, we note, are drawn almost entirely from his own sex. He had countless admirers among women; but he has not, like Chateaubriand, his bevy of attendant nymphs. Living as he did so incessantly in the public gaze, this would scarcely have been possible. His generation was agreed in the main in esteeming and loving him. Mr. Shore says:—

'Of few men is the opinion of their contemporaries so strongly favorable as it is in the case of Dickens, and the evidence is all the more powerful in that it comes from all sorts and conditions of men and women. Few women of any great strength of character or power of will appear to have been among his intimates.'

To George Eliot he was not distinguished-looking 'in any way'; but an opinion such as this is very rarely met with. G. H. Lewes found him 'a delightful companion,' but adds to this: 'I came away more impressed with the fulness of life and energy than with any sense of distinction.' He lacked atmosphere a little, no doubt; and 'for all his sympathies, and the intense expression of them, we may perceive in him something superficial.' Lewes thought him 'softest outside, hardest at the core'; but it is a verdict we shrink from. It seems to us that he shone with the middle-class virtues at their best. His practical aims were high, and he was very much in earnest about them. A masterful man, domineering even, and not over-fond of those who denied him his way; but—all through life—what he takes in hand to do he tries with his might to do well. Carlyle passed on him as eulogium as unqualified almost as he ever gave to anyone:—

'The good, the gentle, high-gifted, ever-friendly, noble Dickens—every inch of him an Honest Man.'

Mr. Teignmouth Shore's plot is, as he says, 'but loosely jointed,' and his scenario 'most vague'; but the rambling method of his book takes nothing from its human interest.

WAS FORCED TO TAKE A BATH

A Man Who Boasted Was Seized by Health Officer

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 6.—Boasting that he had not taken a bath in fifteen years, nor tasted food in nine weeks, J. P. Peterson, a native of Sweden for three years a lodger in the Big Island House in Spokane, with $1,800 in bank certificates and $80 in gold securely strapped under his left arm, was arrested by order of the city health department and bathed in a tank at the county gaol. The bath required the services of four trusties and occupied two hours. He was afterwards sent to a local hospital, where he will have a daily plunge and scrub during his stay.

Peterson weighs 250 pounds, is well proportioned and as strong as an ox. This is evidenced by the fact that six husky deputies connected with the health department, had their hands full in taking him from the room, which, by contrast, was clean as a Dutch housewife's kitchen. He was overpowered after he became exhausted, knocking the deputies around like a lot of ten pins on a bowling alley. He appeared to enjoy the scrubbing.

A. C. Clausen, deputy prosecutor of Spokane county, and the city officials are in a quandary as to what to do with the man. He was arrested on the charge of vagrancy, but this will not hold, as he has plenty of money. His sanity was questioned, but the officers dismissed that charge, because, they say, he is sane enough to keep his money, also rational in his talk.

Peterson refused to discuss his past, saying only that he came to Spokane from the east four years ago, after touring every state, territory and province on the American continent and had planned not to permit water to touch his skin until the close of 1924, adding he is working out a new theory on health.

THE DOCTOR SAID HE COULD NOT LIVE

An Almost Fatal Illness Following An Attack of LaGrippe

The danger from grip is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the headache and the depression of spirits, pass away. Grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin, watery blood impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence, and for this purpose no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which contain the elements necessary to enrich the blood and restore weakened nerves. Mr. James L. Whitman, Mulgrave, N.S., says,—"Following a severe attack of La Grippe I was completely prostrated. The doctor who attended me said that my whole system had gone wrong." Mr. James L. Whitman, Mulgrave, N. S., says;—"Following a severe attack of La Grippe I was completely prostrated. The doctor who attended me said that my whole system had gone wrong. My heart was affected, my kidneys weakened, digestion impaired, and to make the trouble worse I had a hemorrhage of the bowels, and nearly bled to death. The doctor said I could not live, and told my wife to tell me that I had better settle up my worldly affairs. I did not care to live my sufferings were so intense. I could not sleep, my ankles and feet were swollen, and my complexion very yellow. Friends came to see me for the last time, and one of these, more hopeful then the oters, persuaded me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. While I had but little faith that they would help me I decided to try them. Quite soon they seemed to benefit me for my appetite improved and my heart became stronger. Continuing the use of the Pills it was not long before I was able to be out of bed, and after using fifteen boxes I am in good health for a man of my age. The doctor and those who know of my case look upon me as a living wonder, as none of them expected me to get better."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

At Coldsprings—Annual Report and Election of Officers

On Wednesday evening, January 5th, the Coldsprings Sunday school held their annual meeting. There was a large attendance of the members of the school, about 75 being present. The reports from the different departments of the work were very encouraging.

The secretary-treasurer reported the membership of the school as 106 against 73 of last year, a gain of 33, the average attendance 76 a gain of 20. 40 of the scholars have attended 50 Sundays out of the 52, and are entitled to recognition from the school.

The class collections by envelope amounted to $126.59, an average of $2.43 per Sunday. The receipts from other sources were $142.87, making a total of $269.26, of this amount $147 was paid to the Building Committee, $10 to the Township Association, $8.35 to the Children's Aid Society and after paying all running expenses there is a balance in the treasurer's hands of $21.39. One of the most encouraging features of the year has been the increased attendance in the adult Bible Class, which now numbers 28 members.

The Building Committee reported $110 in the bank besides completing the basement of the hall.

The officers for the ensuing year are;

Superintendent—Miss Laura Bennett.

Assistant Superintendent — Mr. Frank Kitney.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Isaac Pammet.

Home Class Secretary—Miss Emma Welch.

Organist—Miss Alice Stenton.

Assistant Organist—Miss Florence Kitney.

Librarians—Mr. Alex. Long, Miss Mina Waldie.

Hall Committee—Mr. Frank Kitney, Mr. Isaac Pammet.

Auditors—Mr. Everett Kidd, Miss Ruth Waldie.

Mr. Fred Kitney was appointed chairman and Miss Mina Waldie, secretary of the meeting. The enthusiasm of the meeting augurs well for the success of the school for 1910. Refreshments were served at the close and a pleasant social hour spent.

THE DOWNFALL OF CHARLES W. MORSE

Once Worth $22,000,000 Now Occupies Felon's Cell in Atlanta Prison

The Utica Globe says, editorially: Charles W. Morse, once worth $22,000,000, is now in prison in Atlanta with a prospect of passing several years in such a horrible place.

All he did was to take the money of depositors in one of the New York city banks which he controlled to meet a note of $500,000 in a bank of which he was not master. It was a violation of the United States banking law. Morse did this to bridge himself over what he thought was a crisis; instead it pulled him down and precipitated a panic in the country and its baleful effects were felt in every civilized country. The depression which made a big hole in the value of railway and industrial securities in 1907-08 is only too well remembered and the misery caused by resulting idleness impossible to measure.

Morse did not mean to make himself criminally liable when he took the money. He intended to replace it in a few days. His purpose was good; his act was fatal. In ordinary times he would have succeeded and the transaction would never have come to light. But frenzied finance was in the saddle, advancing values to absurd prices, and creating distrust among those not inclined to accept its mandates. It was carried to such an extreme that it needed only the publicity of a performance such as Morse fathered to bring matters to a focus; to disillusionize the mad searchers after wealth; to hasten the financial fabric to its fall. Morse furnished this pretext. The world knows the rest.

As a monopolist of exacted rank, pursuing this ambition to dizzy heights, it led to his undoing, brought on him disgrace, a loss of ill-gotten [illegible] and, finally, a felon's cell.

The college bred man, the associate of financial magnates, may do clerical work in the Georgia prison, but at night he occupies a stone cell four feet wide, seven feet high, and looks through a steel grated door for what little light he can obtain. Who are his companions? Two hundred negroes and about 20 Indians. In this environment the once autocratic monopolist must spend a goodly part of his life. What respectable man enjoying liberty would change places with the man of millions imprisoned at Atlanta!

His punishment goes to show that the rich man is not always above the law. There are occasions when it seemed as if the wealthy law breaker did receive more consideration in the courts than a poor man for a like infraction, but this is largely a supposition. The rich criminal may escape going to a felon's cell but he is a bankrupt in reputation and made miserable in other ways which the fault-finder does not take cognizance of.

Morse will never be the same man when he leaves prison that he was before the law laid hand upon him. He brought on the panic which ruined thousands of innocent people and he has a chance to meditate upon the sufferings he caused others when he is temporarily free from the mental torture which must weigh upon him most of his waking hours. His wealth can make millions for him in the marts of trade while he is doing time, but the loss of freedom and respect is in no wise compensated for by the accumulation of the dollars.

A MASTERLY ADDRESS ON THE FUTURE RESURRECTION

An Address of Absorbing Interest by Gipsy Hawkins' Delivered at Park Street—The Second Coming of Christ Not Fixed by Any Date of Man—No More War, No More Saloons.

The beautiful auditorium of the Park street Baptist church was taxed to its fullest capacity last night with the big crowd who came to hear Gipsy Hawkins's address upon "The Future Resurrection, What it is and when it Takes Place."

After a brief introduction regarding the great doctrine of the resurrection and its fundamental relationship to Christianity, Gipsy Hawkins took for his text, Daniel 12, 2: "And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt." Mr. Hawkins substantiated the word "all" for "many," as a better interpretation, and then preached a Biblical exposition of the resurrection, which was much enjoyed by the large audience.

Gipsy Hawkins has no fads or fancies regarding this great doctrine. He never had a day's schooling in his life, and at 12 years of age he commenced to read the Bible for himself, and therefore the facts and convictions he holds are his own, and he always speaks as if he believed them. The doctrine of the resurrection was as old as Job. Man has always believed in it. After an eloquent eology of the character of Daniel, he substantiated the resurrection upon the fact of Christ's death. Christ's death would mean nothing to us apart from his resurrection. The Bible speaks of a living, a dead, a resurrected, and a coming Christ. Christ's heart was pierced and He must have been dead. The fact of His burial. They would not have buried a living Christ. Pilate was satisfied to let the disciples have Jesus body, because the death sentence had been carried out. The fact of the Pharisees and priests' special precaution. First they place a large stone at the grave's mouth. Second, they set a watch of Roman soldiers to guard a dead man. What were they afraid of? The fact was the resurrection stands out to-day the par-excellent, indisputable, historical fact of the twentieth century. Christ rose to prove two things, His deity and His Saviourship. He was Son of God and became Son of Man to save man. There are two resurrections, the just and the unjust. See Luke 14, 14; Heb. 11, 35; Rev. 20, 5. Gipsy Hawkins believes in the millenial reign of Christ on earth for a thousand years. The first resurrection will be of the just, the second of the unjust. In glowing language he described the state of this earth when Jesus came. No more war, no more saloons, which Gipsy Hawkins declared are the batteries of hell to damn souls.

Time did not permit of further discussion, and Gypsy Hawkins will finish his address next Monday evening with special reference to the future punishment of the wicked. Several decided for Christ last night.

Services on Sunday at 11 a.m., 3 p. m., for men only, when Mr. Hawkins will give "A Manly Talk to Manly Men," also a special evangelistic service at night.

Everybody welcome.

THREE VICTIMS OF FIRE TO OCCUPY UNIDENTIFIED GRAVES

Fort William, Jan. 7.—Because his body is so badly burned that identification is impossible, Ho Fook, the Chinaman, who met death in the fire at F. H. Babcock's boarding house, 603 McKellar street, yesterday morning, must take his last long rest in Canada, a circumstance too horrible for the average Celestial to contemplate. It is only upon the rarest occasions that Chinamen are buried in a foreign land, most of them under all circumstances keeping enough money on hand to have their remains, in case of sudden death, sent home. Where Chinamen have not left sufficient money to pay the cost of transporting their remains, it is customary for fellow countrymen to make up the amount.

But all that is moral of Ho Fook must ever remain here, despite the fact that he has a family in China and that friends here would willingly bear the expense of having the remains sent to the Flowery kingdom. While all four of the corpses of those who lost their lives in the fire have been recovered, all but the girl, Mina Crysolis, will occupy unidentified graves, as the remains of the men are so badly burned as to be unrecognizable. It is probable that all three will be buried at the expense of the city.

The police here have sent a communication to officials at Sault Ste. Marie, from which town the girl came some months ago.

Coroner W. W. Birdsall said to-day that he had not decided whether an inquest would be held.

MONTH OF SPECIAL MEETINGS AT CITY METHODIST CHURCHES

Commencing Monday night a month of special revival meetings will be held in the Methodist churches of the city. For the first two weeks the services will be held in George street and St. James' and for the next two in Charlotte street and Mark street. The meetings will be held each week night of the month except on Saturdays.

The ministers of the Methodist churches in which the meetings are being held will conduct the services and the pastors of the other Methodist churches will be the speakers.

TEMPERANCE AND MORAL REFORM LEAGUE OPTIMISTIC

Thinks That Temperance Movement Will be Carried to Success—License Reduction and Three Fifths Clause Considered—No Recount Probable.

An optimistic assurance that the weight of public opinion would carry the temperance movement to a successful issue and that the Government would modify the three-fifths clause was the dominant note in the special meeting last night of the executive bodies of the City Temperance and Moral Reform League.

The meeting was held in St. Paul's Sunday school and a thorough and serious discussion of the recent local option campaign and of the most effective means of future procedure took place. Rev. J. G. Potter, the president of the league, was in the chair.

The reduction of local licenses was spoken of as a reasonable and proper step in view of the feeling of the Peterborough voters and the league decided it was their duty to actively agitate for the cutting off of a number of the licenses.

The excellent organization will be kept for the next campaign for local option and the opinion of the meeting was that if the by-law was again submitted here it would surely carry.

When the secretary, Mr. A. B. Cunningham, was asked by the Review if there would be a recount in connection with the vote at the local option campaign, he said he did not think this would be probable. There were some irregularities, he said, but probably no greater than is usual at the majority of elections.

WEDDING BELLS

LOWES—IRONS

The home of Mr. James Bolton, 45 Brooklyn Ave., Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, when Miss Emma May Irons, sister of Mrs. Bolton, was united in marriage to Mr. John Christopher Lowes of the township of Emily, Victoria county. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Bushell, rector of St. Clements church, Toronto. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Bolton, and was beautifully attired in a semi-princess dress trimmed with white lace, and wore the customary white veil with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. Miss Ella Porter made a very pretty bridesmaid, dressed in blue silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mr. Herbert Sweetman supported the groom.

A dainty wedding supper was served and amidst a shower of rice and confetti and the best wishes of a host of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lowes left on the C. P. R. for their home in Emily. The bride's travelling suit was of lavender with hat to match.

MABEL BARRISON MEETS CLYDF FITCH

Canadian Comedienne Highly Complimented by the Famous Playwright

When Mabel Barrison last appeared in Canada as co-star with her husband in "The Flower of the Ranch," it was granted to few to see in the dainty little singing comedienne the star in one of the late Clyde Fitch's most notable plays. But it is in that capacity that she comes to the Grand when "The Blue Mouse," with the original New York cast appears in this city on Tuesday next, Jan. 11.

It is said that Mr. Fitch first met Miss Barrison at an auction sale of art objects belonging to Miss Lillian Russell, and at that time the dramatist told the little actress that some day he was going to make her follow in Miss Russell's footsteps and forsake musical comedy for the spoken drama.

Well, Mr. Fitch made good, for when he had completed the adaptation of "The Blue Mouse," from the German, he figured that the title role was just the one to fit Miss Barrison. He had the Messrs. Shubert, who were to produce the play, to send for Miss Barrison and offer her the part, which she accepted. There were many trying scenes at rehearsal, for Miss Barrison needs an audience to play well, but after the first performance in New York there was no question as to her triumph in the role. Since that time Miss Barrison has appeared with the original company during the long hours in New York and Chicago, and it was at her own request that the Shuberts made arrangements for her to make a short tour through her native country, the Dominion.

Mr. Fitch had great faith in the future of the comedienne, and just before he left on the trip, which ended in his death, he wrote a letter, in which he said that Miss Barrison had before her one of the brightest careers of any American actress he knew.

THE BEST REASONS WE'VE EVER OFFERED FOR BUYING FURS IN JANUARY

Here are some facts of an astounding nature that every thoughtful person will appreciate and see that it's to their advantage to make an investment in Furs for present and future use.

To-Day Raw Fur Prices are Higher Than They've Been in the History of This Old World of Ours

The increasing demand for Furs all over the world owing to the general betterment of the financial condition of the people, taken with the ever lessening supply of all kinds of Fur-bearing animals, has advanced the prices this year from 15 to 130 per cent. over last year's prices. Some furs will become almost prohibitive to the great mass of people in a very short time, owing to the great advances. Alaska Sable, Mink, Musk, Muskrat, Seal, Fox, Lynx Oppossum, Coon, Badger, Persian Lamb, and Otter are the skins which have made the most radical advances this year.

Last year we purchased extra quantities of Raw Furs at the lowest prices then prevailing, and we are therefore able to give our customers The Best Furs at prices that any wholesale manufacturer would be willing to give for them to-day.

On all Made-up Furs in Stock we will also give during January a specelal discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. off our regular prices.

The discouut taken with the advance in prices on Raw Furs for this year will mean

A Saving on Some Furs of Over Half of Next Season's Prices.

Now is the time to buy as stock is well assorted and the selections are "A 1."

PERSONAL

Mr. James Charlesworth, of Saskatoon, Sask., is visiting with friends in the city.

The many friends of Mr. Paul Caron, our well known artist, will be interested in the fact that he has joined the Desbarats Advertising Agency, Limited, of Montreal and Toronto, as director of the art department. Mr. Paul Caron's work as staff artist of La Presse, of Montreal, always attracted very favorable attention, and his pictures at the annual spring exhibition of the Royal Canadian Academy have been among the most creditable of the many good pictures shown on these occasions. Mr. Paul Caron has shown special aptitude in his "child studies" and critics claim that in this particular sphere of art he has few equals in Canada.

FORERUNNERS OF GREAT CALAMITIES

Comets Were Regarded as Such in Olden Days—Chancellor MacKay at Normal School

At the Peterborough Normal School last night Chancellor Mackay, of McMaster University, gave the first of the series of lectures instituted by the Ontario Government at the Normal Schools of the province. The subject was Halley's comet, and it was dealt with in a very interesting manner. There was a large attendance, practically all the students being present, as well as a number of citizens. The lecturer was introduced by Principal Walker, and the visit of Chancellor Mackay was officially recognized by the Peterborough Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society. A letter of welcome was sent to Chancellor Mackay and Messrs. H. B. Collier and H. O. Fisk represented the society at the meeting. The lecture was illustrated by a number of excellent slides.

Chancellor Mackay prefaced his lecture with the remark that it was like carrying coals to Newcastle to give an address on astronomy in Peterborough, on account of the good work that the Royal Astronomical Society had done here and the number of expert students of the science that had been developed. Chancellor Mackay gave a general outline of elementary astronomy, and pointed out that in the early days the opinion prevailed that all the stars were "fixed." Then it was discovered that they had a few movements, and it was this discovery that gave birth to the science of astronomy. The opinion had also prevailed that the earth was the central body, and that the other ones revolved around it. It remained for Sir Isaac Newton to make the whole matter plain with his discovery of the law of gravitation with the sun as the central body. Speaking of comets, the lecturer said that in olden times the appearance of a comet was looked upon as the forerunner of a great calamity. The Chinese were among the earliest astronomers. Years before the birth of Christ they had accurate records of the movements of the heavenly bodies. Astronomers had been able to trace the appearance and reappearance of comets back to and before the birth of Christ. The cycle of Halley's comet was established by Sir Edward Halley in 1704. He predicted that it would re-appear about 1835, and his prediction came true, although he had passed away before that date. The cycle of this famous comet is from seventy-four to seventy-six years. The lecturer said that it would be visible to the naked eye in May of this year.

MUCH WOOD BUT VERY LITTLE FOWL

Offered at This Morning's Market—Fresh Laid Eggs at 35c

There were two outstanding features of this morning's market, one being the small offering in the poultry and fowl line and especially so the latter and the other was the large quantity of wood on sale.

Up in the hall, butter sold at from 24 to 26c, eggs 35c and chickens from 60c to $1.00. There was considerable beef on the market square, at 6c to 7c. Potatoes, apples and other produce were stationary.

Practical Religion

The second of the special course of sermons at St. John's church on the general subject "Some Spheres and Services of Practical Religion" will be preached to-morrow evening by Rev. Canon Davidson. The subject will be "The Betterment of the Individual—What it is, and How Obtained."

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Previous Prices Now Deeply Reduced to Clear all Departments of Winter Goods.

WHILE the weather-wise predict that winter will linger in the lap of Spring we plan to positively prevent our Winter Stocks overlapping the arrival of Spring Goods. Their complete clearance is the purpose of the deeply reduced prices now named throughout the store.

Clearance as we plan permits no consideration of costs—Goods get going-out prices that mean splendid economies to all purchasers.

The sale is held in accord with our policy of carrying no goods over what we buy to sell this season. Thus every article of winter merchandise now in this store is marked down to a point where its speedy sale is assured.

Immediate investigation is invited and will be richly rewarded.

This unmatched January Clearance Sale began to-day (Saturday) at 9 a.m.

KEENE DEFEATED ON THEIR OWN ICE BY T.A.S.

Abstainers Showed Improved Combination Work in Their Exhibition Game With Keene City Leaguers — Score Was 5-4.

The T.A.S. hockey team accompanied by a few rooters drove to Keene last night and sprung a big surprise on the City League team of that village by defeating them in a fast, clean game by the score of 5—4. The little rink was well packed with hockey enthusiasts who showed their appreciation of the article served up, especially when their own favorites were having the long end of it. For the locals Giroux in goal was one of the conspicuous figures. He handled numerous shots in the same old way and cleared his goal nicely on all occasions. Frank Heffernan, who played his first game in the "Big League" last night, made a decided hit with the rail-birds by his fast and useful work. The combination work of the Abstainers was noticeably better and this was to a large degree the cause of victory. At the conclusion of the game the T.A.S. boys were entertained to an oyster supper at the expense of the Keene club. The teams were as follows:

T.A.S.		Keene.

Giroux		Bowie

HISTORY OF STANLEY CUP

The Stanley Cup, emblematic of the senior championship of the world, and the prize most sought after in hockey, was donated to the Amateur Hockey Association of Canada in 1893 by the late Lord Stanley, of Preston, then Governor General of Canada, as a challenge trophy to be competed for, and held by champions of recognized senior leagues, at that time one match only being necessary to decide the winners. The first holders of the now historic cup were the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association team, as champions of the A.H.A. of Canada, 1893.

1894—Osgoode Hall Hockey Club (champions O.H.A.) challenged, but match declared off on account of lack of ice.

1895—M.A.A.A. defeat Queen's University (O.H.A.) March, 5—1; one game. Montreal Victorias as champions A.H.A. of Canada take Cup (Manitoba League.)

1896—Winnipeg Victorias (Manitoba League) defeat Montreal Victorias, Feb., 3—2; one game. Montreal Victorias defeat Winnipeg Victorias, Dec., 6—5; one game.

1897—Montreal Victorias defeat Capitals of Ottawa (Central Canada Association). 15—5.

1898—Montreal Victorias hold cup. No challenges.

1899—Decided, with trustees' permission, to play two out of three series instead of sudden death game as heretofore. Montreal Victorias defeat Winnipeg Victorias, first game 2—1, second unfinished, score 3—2 for Montreal Victorias. Winnipeg Victorias leave ice owing to dispute over one of referee's decisions.

1900—Shamrocks of Montreal as champions of A.H.A. take cup. Shamrocks defeat Winnipeg Victorias, Feb. 11—10; two out of three games. Shamrocks defeat Crescents of Halifax, March, 21—22, two out of three games.

1901—Winnipeg Victorias defeat Shamrocks, Feb., 6—4; two out of three games.

1902—Winnipeg Victorias defeat Toronto Wellingtons, O.H.A., Jan., 10—6; two out of three games. Montreal A.A.A. (Little Men of Iron) defeat Winnipeg Victorias, March, 22—3.

1902—Montreal A.A.A. defeat Winnipeg Victorias, January, 11—8; four games.

1903—Ottawa Hockey Club as champions of C.A.H.L. take cup. Ottawa Hockey Club defeat Rat Portage, March, 10—4; two out of three games.

1904—Ottawa Hockey Club defeat Winnipeg Rowing Club, Jan., 13—7, two out of three games. Ottawa Hockey Club defeat Toronto Marlboros, Feb., 17—5; two out of three games. Ottawa Hockey Club join Federal League and take cup with them. Ottawa Hockey Club defeat Brandon, March, 15—6; two out of three games. Ottawa and Wanderers of Montreal play drawn game for championship of Federal League; Wanderers default n play off.

106—Eastern Canada Hockey Association formed with same membership as senior C.A.H.L. Cup series decided by majority of goals in two matches. Ottawa Hockey Club, champions E.C.H.L., defeat Queen's University (Intercol.), Feb., 22—14. Ottawa Hockey Club defeat Smith's Falls (Federal), March, 14—7. Montreal Wanderers, champions E.C.H.A., take cup, March. Montreal Wanderers defeat New Glasgow (Maritime), Dec., 17—5.

FIRST GAME IN JUNIOR O.H.A. SERIES MONDAY NIGHT

For the fans who drop around to the Brock street rink on Monday night has been prepared one of the best bill-of-fares ever offered to the patrons of this rink in the line of an exhibition, in which junior players competed. It is the opening of the junior O.H.A. series of this district, and the opposing teams will be the team representing the Collegiate Institute and the Peterborough Colts, as they will be known throughout the season. Lindsay juniors having dropped out, the above mentioned teams are left to fight it out for the honors. The players of both line-ups are well known by reputation to be the cream of the youngsters in the city, and that Monday night's and the succeeding games will be worth witnessing goes without saying. To attempt to pick the winner would be a bigger proposition than getting aboard Halley's comet. Bill Rose will referee the game, which will start at eight o'clock.

The teams will line-up as follows;—

Colts.		Collegiates.

Halpin		Richardson

RUSEK MAKING A MESS OF THINGS

Bohemian Bull Has Not Had Very Good Week at Star—Will Meet Edmunds

Last night's Toronto Star says:—Joe Rusek, the Bohemian grappler meeting all comers at the burlesque theatre, was warned by the police yesterday that any further rough-house methods in his bouts with local wrestlers would mean a trip to jail, and two officers were present on the stage to see that he cut out the hair-pulling, face-mauling and punching in his effort to win his handicap matches. Rusek took on Young Gleson last night, and a tidy little match ensued. Jack Lougheed, of St. Andrew's had the Swede in grand shape. He was as strong as a bull, and went at Rusek as if he intended to throw him. In fact, he had Rusek in trouble several times, and all but gained a fall. He stayed the limit, and goes on to-morrow afternoon again.

Rusek heard that Art Edmunds was in the house last night, and challenged Edmunds to meet him. Edmunds replied that he had quit the game, but the crowd urged him to go on and get some of the money, and he consented to go on Saturday night. It should be a great struggle, despite the disparity in weights, for Edmunds is training hard for his fight with Billy Ryan in Syracuse, Jan. 17, and his wrestling bout with Sandberg in Winnipeg, on Feb. 8. Edmunds only weighs 126 pounds now, but he is in pink of condition.

WHITCROFT AND DEETON HURT

A despatch from Edmonton says;—The Edmonton hockey team, challengers for the Stanley Cup, will leave for Ottawa to-morrow afternoon over the C.P.R. in a private car. There are fifty people in the party. The team goes east by way of Chicago.

One thousand people watched the practice last night and the enthusiasm among the town's people was terrific. The final practice will be held to-night. Whitcroft was badly injured in last night's strenuous workout, which may prevent him from going east. Deeton also received a badly wrenched leg by being heavily body checked to the boards, and he may also be kept out of the games. Otherwise the team is in grand shape.

All the married members of the team are bringing their wives with them in the party. The team will reach Ottawa next Thursday morning, and a more confident aggregation never went after the Stanley Cup than the Albertans. The team is fully thirty per cent stronger than that of last year.

THE TURF

Some excellent purses are offered for the Lindsay winter race meet, which will be held next week on Thursday and Friday. They are as follows,—

2.35 class—For trotters and pacers, purse $150.

2.22 class—For trotters and pacers, purse of $150.

2.25 class—For trotters, purse of $150.

Free-for-all, purse of $175.

The first two races will take place on Thursday and the second two on Friday. Mr. John Carew is president of the Lindsay association, Mr. Geo. Simpson is secretary-treasurer, and Mr. A. Ashmore is track manager.—Lindsay Warder.

BASEBALL

On Tuesday night an indoor baseball league game will be played at the Armouries between the 24th Battery and one of the companies of the 57th.

HOCKEY

A meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Hockey Club will be held at the Examiner Office to-night at nine o'clock. There is important business to be dealt with.

CURLING

ICE IS GOOD

Caretaker McIntosh has the ice at the curling rink in fine shape and the members of the club are taking full advantage of it. A big bunch of curlers are at work afternoon and evening.

SCHEDULED GAMES

Four schedules games were played at the curling rink last night, the results being as follows:—

W. Turner	R. J. Soden
L. Hall	G. Jobbitt
W. G. Read	B. Lastar
A. Hall,	R. Sturgeon
Skip 7	Skip 12
T. Wilson	D. B. MacRae
J. Moore	W. Richardson
H. Evans	G. J. Bowes
R. Hicks	W. D. Campbell
Skip 12	Skip 7
A. Webb	B. Rickey
J. D. Collins	J. Read
T. L. Stuart	W. T. Hall
C. N. Brown	D. Fraser
Skip 11	[illegible]
S. Rush	R. Harstone
J. Wolstenholm	W. Menzies
E. H. D. Hall	D. B. Denison
J. A. Cameron	J. H. Ferguson
Skip 10	Skip 12

The game between Brown and Fraser was an exciting one. An extra end had to be played to break the tie at the finish of the twelve ends and then the stones were both so close to the button that they had to be measured.

GIROUX WON.

The Tankard skips, G. H. Giroux and J. H. Connel, had a game at the rink last night, Giroux winning 21—5.

TOM JENKINS WAS EASY FOR POLE

Zbyzko Defeated the Former American Champinn in Quick Order

Cleveland, Jan. 7.—Zybsko, the Polish wrestler, who failed to win from Frank Gotch, defeated Tom Jenkins, former American champion, in straight falls here last night, winning the first in 18 minutes, the second in four minutes. A combination inside crotch and elbow hold turned the trick in the first after Jenkins' strength had been exhausted by 15 minutes' battle with the powerful, skilful and fast Pole. The second fall was the result of a crotch and front nelson. Zybsco's use of the inside crotch was the first time the hold had been seen here since the days of Acton, Jimmy Faulkner and Whistler. The Pole put Jenkins' left foot out of commission with a murderous ankle hold just before the first fall.

Jenkins, though he appeared in better condition than in his last appearance here, was lighter and tougher looking, but lacked his old speed. Against a less powerful man than the Pole he might have made a winning struggle. However, Zybsco is powerful, fast, with a grip of steel and an unusual though effective method of wrestling. Every hold counted either as a means of punishment or in turning over his opponent. His inside crotch had Jenkins in danger repeatedly in the first 15 minutes. Then his ankle hold snapped something in Jenkins' foot and the falls were easy.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Cobourg intermediates defeated Oshawa on their own sheet last night by 9—3. Leo Quinn worked for the losers at rover.

Ottawa didn't take the second Stanley Cup game with Galt last night seriously and did not play to their best form, but at that won out by 3—1.

The Peterborough Collegiate Institute has registered the following players with the O.H.A.:—Harold S. Matthews, Wm. F. Gibson, Harold H. Lees, Fred B. Denison, Norman Geale, Hugh Burritt, Angus Richardson, K. H. Crane, Fred Conroy, P. E. Kelly, Frank Halpany, G. E. Minorgan.

Miss Steinhoff's Class

Miss Steinhoff will resume her class at the Y.W.C.A. on Monday evening at ~~7.30~~ 8 o'clock. Solo dances will be taught and demonstrated.

City Council

The first meeting of the new city Council will be held Monday morning at eleven o'clock. Another session will be held in the evening.

New London Agent Appointed.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—N. B. Colcock, acting immigration agent of the Ontario Government in England, who has been in Toronto for some time consulting with the Department on the reorganization of the London offices, has been appointed Government agent in London. He will take charge immediately.

The Government intends to enlarge the premises occupied by their offices there. Special efforts will be made during the coming season to promote the immigration of farm labor and domestic servants.

Turks Clash With French.

Tunis, Jan. 8.—The Turkish authorities in Tripoli have given assurances to the French Government of the pacific intentions of the Turkish troops, operating near Dehiba, on the frontier of Tripoli, and an incident arising from the collision between French and Turkish troops in that district is considered closed.

Village Swept Away by Flood.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Jan. 8.—A report reached here yesterday that the entire Indian village of the Zupais, located in Cataract Canyon, had been destroyed by a wall of water twenty feet high that swept down the canyon Sunday. A number of Indians are missing.

FASHION HINTS

Mourning muffs are made of crepe, the shirrings being held in place by narrow bands of taffeta or nun's veiling.

Most of the girdles of the season are high in front, though they actually encircle the waist line once more.

A band of blue velvet and a huge rhinestone button constitute the sole trimming of a soft blue beaver turban.

White jet plays a leading part in decorating young girls' dance frocks, and it also decorates white and black gowns.

Among the new umbrellas are those with palmetto handles. The handles are handsomely carved and highly polished.

Hatpins were never so extravagant in size and decoration. Some of the latest and richest are adorned with handpainted miniatures.

Peking messaline is the name given to a particularly alluring silk striped chiffon cloth that is quite a favorite for blouses.

Sumptuous wraps for the afternoon, as well as for the evening, are made with wide, loose sleeves, and many have the burnous drapery.

Beads and braid combine to make some of the new and unusual cabochons on hats and gowns. They are to be had in a variety of colors.

Scarfs of white pongee are novel and attractive. They are finished with a buttonholed edge and have more or less elaborate handwork as well.

Pillow covers of canvas, embroidered in conventional designs, are again seen. They are suggestive of the cross-stitch work of a by-gone day.

A HINT TO LADIES WHEN SHOPPING

If you wanted anything badly, and when you got to the store were persuaded to take something else instead, when you came away wouldn't you feel a little disappointed? As if somebody had "got one over you"—and not for your benefit, mind, but for their own profit!

And when you proved that the something which was represented as being "just as good" as what you asked for was not as good—was not to be compared even with the real thing, wouldn't you feel still worse?

This is just the case about Zam-Buk. Like all good things it has many imitations. When buying it just ask for Zam-Buk, and see that you get it. The name is protected by law, and is clearly seen on each packet. Don't have anything else! Then you won't feel that somebody has made a few extra cents out of your lack of firmness.

Full band in attendance at the Auditorium Rink to-night.

Imperial Pacific Cable.

London, Jan. 7.—The Central Board of Imperial Pacific Cable Co. is making satisfactory progress in its work. It is at present engaged in an attempt to carry out proposals for taking an overland telegraphic line across Canada. It is anticipated that the scheme will shortly be approved by all the co-partner Governments, which will be responsible for the cable.

Given Up To Die

No. 100 George St., Sorel, Quebec.

"I suffered from womb disease for seven years, with dreadful pains over the front of the body, over the back and down the legs. I had indigestion and chronic constipation and the constipation was so bad that I went sometimes for ten to fifteen days without any action of the bowels. I was ill in bed for one whole year. At one time I was so low that everyone thought I was going to die, and the last Rites of the Church were administered to me. I was treated by six different doctors without any benefit.

MADAME JOSEPH LIRETTE

Then I got a sample of "Fruit-a-tives," but I had no faith in them at all, and I would not have taken them only my husband begged so hard for me to try them. As soon as I began to take "Fruit-a-tives" I grew better, the bloating was relieved, the sleeplessness was cured, my stomach acted, and the bowels were moved, but above all the fearful womb pains were made easier.

I have taken eighteen boxes in all and I am now perfectly well again."

A REPLY TO "SOBRIETY"

Rev. R. Pogue Advocates Organized Effort to Crush Out the Evil of Strong Drink

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I crave a little of your valuable space in which to reply to an article which appeared in the Examiner of Thursday evening, signed "Sobriety." The purpose of this reply is not controversy, but the imparting of information.

The writer undoubtedly is an advocate of temperance, and is reasonable and charitable enough to admit that the men who have been laboring for local option during the past months, and the large majority of our citizens who cast their vote in favor of the local option by-law on Monday, were all acting honestly and conscientiously. The tone of his letter would certainly not lead any fair-minded critic to infer that he was a "friend of whiskey." He is evidently a friend of temperance and an enemy of the liquor traffic. He sees the evil of intemperance and deplores it, as do we all.

But I do not think he would have spoken as he has on the legislative aspect of temperance reform if he had taken a little more time to meditate, and if he had availed himself of the campaign of education which has been carried on in this city during the last few months. I venture to say that there are scores of men who honestly opposed the local option law two months ago, who could not honestly oppose it now. The reason of this is that a fuller discussion of the subject and a wider outlook on the many methods of attack employed by other temperance workers all over this continent has led them to see that local prohibition is a much more effective way of lessening the evils of intemperance than a license law or a wide open bar. They have come to see that, notwithstanding the "contrariety of the depraved human heart, courts evasion and breach" and the difficulty of enforcing the law, that the law can be enforced, that it has been enforced, and enforced to such an extent that the evils of drinking are reduced to a minimum, as is seen, for example, in such a fact as the falling off in revenue in the U. S. in "dry" territories of $17,998,072 in 1908, and $7,262,238 in the first three months of 1909 as against the corresponding months in 1908. That does not look as though the law could not be enforced or that the quantity of liquor consumed under local prohibition is not very much reduced. We have had reputable business men, editors and educators, from cities and towns all over the province, tell us on the public platform of the success of the local option law, of the possibility of enforcing it as effectively as the present license law. All this has been said over and over again from pulpit, platform and press, so that no one need be ignorant of the success attending the working of the law. The vast majority of temperance workers in the U.S. and Canada are in favor of some form of legislative reform as applied to the liquor traffic, either State-wide prohibition or local prohibition.

But when any one says that this is the only method which such workers employ, or are in favor of employing, to destroy the evils of the liquor traffic, he is very much mistaken. Local option is an "excellent way" of dealing with the drink evil. It is not the only excellent way. The splendid work of the T.A.S. is another of these excellent ways. The campaign of education carried on in this city is still another excellent way. That campaign was not confined to the legislative side of the reform by any means. It aimed at enlightening the moral nature, strengthening the conscience, enlisting the strong in an effort to save and protect their weaker brother; it aimed, too, at reaching men's hearts and changing their dispositions and of effecting a "real temperance reform" by putting men in contact with the dynamics of the religion of Jesus Christ. As for the work that is being done by the Protestant churches of our city, I can speak for the majority of these, at least, when I say, that the very membership of men in full communion in these churches is practically, if not really, a pledge that they will become total abstainers, if they have never been so before. 'Tis true, we have not had as many total abstinence societies as formerly. But this is nothing to our discredit. We have been seeking through the faithful preaching of the gospel and the application of the ethics of Jesus to save men, regenerate them, make them new creatures in Christ Jesus, change them at the very fountains of their being and the very springs of action so that they will have no desire for the wine cup, and, therefore, will not find it necessary to pledge themselves to total abstinence. John in his first epistle says: "Whosoever is born of God does not commit sin; and he cannot sin because he is born of God." The impossibility is a moral one. It is morally impossible for me to enter a bar-room. It would violate every law of my renewed nature. What the grace of God has done for me it can do for others. It is this grace we are preaching in all our pulpits every Sabbath. This is true temperance work. This is the "more excellent way" of keeping men from the drink. There are hundreds of men in all our churches, Catholic as well as Protestant, who, because of the grace of God in their hearts, find it impossible to touch, taste or handle the intoxicating cup, and who, because of the same grace, dare not, would not "put a stumbling block, or occasioning to fall, in another's way" in the form of a licensed bar. It is the grace of God and the love of God that makes men not only abstain themselves, and seek to pledge others to abstain, but to refuse to license a public place of temptation, which will prove an occasion of stumbling to another. The Master taught us to pray "Lead us not into temptation." Paul tells us to avoid the very appearance of evil. It certainly is a strange inconsistency in anyone who submits his life and will to the Lordship of Jesus, and who accepts the binding authority of his word on the conscience, to deliberately vote into existence public places of temptation, and yet continue to pray the prayer "Lead us not into temptation."

Total abstinence societies are good. They are crutches on which weak men may lean. But it is our duty to these men, if we love them as our Lord has commanded us, as we love ourselves, not only to supply them with crutches but make smooth the pathway along which they travel, and remove the pit-falls, lest man, crutches and all, fall into the ditch.

In the church of which I was pastor in Philadelphia, we had over a thousand men enrolled as members of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, a considerable proportion of whom were men who had been redeemed from the power of the drink demon; but we did not find it necessary to compel them to take a pledge. The grace of God in the heart was "abundantly able to save" and keep them from the power of rum. Now, this is the very work which the Protestant churches in our city are doing. I very much dislike emphasizing the special work of these churches, but I am compelled to do so because the tone of the letter would seem to infer that the only form of temperance work in which we are engaged is that along legislative lines. Other writers have made a similar charge during our local option campaign, and the unthinking public, if the false impression be not corrected, will be lead to think that this is true. The work of our Protestant churches aims primarily at the regeneration of the individual. Reformation is sure to follow, but no reformation is abiding that is not the outcome of a renewed heart. In all our total abstinence societies we have to deplore, again and again, the fall of pledged men after a few months' sobriety. The man whose nature is renewed by the grace of God, and who is kept by the power of God, needs no human crutch in the form of a pledge, on which to lean.

I close with an expression of the most cordial feelings towards "Sobriety," and the wish that we may understand one another better as Catholics and Protestants, and stand shoulder to shoulder in our fight for the redemption of the race from the slavery of strong drink.

Yours truly,
ROBERT POGUE.

WORN, WORRIED MOTHERS

Much of the worry which every mother of young children undergoes would be spared if the mother kept Baby's Own Tablets on hand and gave an occasional dose when the child was fretful, cross or feverish. Nearly all the ailments of childhood can be traced to the stomach, bowels or teething. For these troubles no medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets, and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that the Tablets are absolutely safe. Mrs. Ed. Suddard, Haldimand, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets in my home for a long time and always with the best results. I do not know how I could get along without this medicine." Personators In Ottawa Election.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Charles Kirk, one of the scrutineers in the municipal elections on Monday, has given Mayor Hopewell the names of at least three men who were personated in Rideau ward, and the mayor has promised to take action to punish the guilty persons.

The men personated were absent from the city.

Prisoner's Dock to Witness Box.

North Bay, Ont., Jan. 8.—Morin and Corish, charged with the murder of Young Dyson at Redwater last December, came before Magistrate Weegar yesterday. The crown decided to drop the charge against Corish and use him as a crown witness. Morin was committed for trial at the spring assizes.

To Prevent Manipulation.

New York, Jan. 8.—To prevent any attempt at "matching orders or manipulating a market," the governors of the Consolidated Stock Exchange amended the bylaws of the exchange yesterday by adding to a section, the words: "But all bids or offers, in lots exceeding 100 shares, must be filled by accepting any part of such bid or offer in hundred-share lots."

The change is in line with the recommendations made by the Wall street investigating committee appointed by Governor Hughes.

Regulated Rates.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday morning, it was decided to send a freight rate committee to Victoria on Sunday to interview the Government regarding the provincial agreement with the Canadian Northern Railway Co. The delegation will be joined by others from North Vancouver, New Westminster, and Victoria, and will go thoroughly into the question of freight agreements between the Government and the railroad company.

Costly Matches.

Kingston, Jan. 8.—Careless use of matches yesterday caused $300 loss by fire in the home of James Hamilton, and $1,000 loss at the home of James Shane.

Hurricane Wrecks Village.

Cadiz, Spain, Jan. 8.—A hurricane yesterday wrecked the Village of La Lanea near the Gibraltar boundary line in this province. Forty houses fell.

What Caused Fire.

Guelph, Jan. 8.—That the fire in the Norrish block on Dec. 17, which did $20,000 damage, was not the result of spontaneous combustion of the heating or lighting systems, or of any act of the owner or tenants of the premises, was the verdict of the jury at the fire inquest before Coroner Dr. McLean, brought in early yesterday morning. The fire brigade was commended for its work, but the police patrol was criticized, as the evidence showed the fire had been in progress for some hours.

The evidence showed that George Smith, employed in the store of John Davidson, where the greatest loss occurred, had stated to "Daddy" King, of the fire, with whom he was the night, that there was going to be an inquest, and that he had best tell the truth, while to the witness who said he had seen two men running away, he said he had better be careful what he was saying. Smith swore, after some hesitancy, that he had not been in the building after he left at 10 o'clock, and King testified to the same effect.

King's story of how he spent the night conflicted in several points with other testimony. He slept in Hooper's livery stable, but previously had made a written statement to the police that he was at home for the night.

Five Years For Forger.

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—R. E. Acton, a forger, who has been operating successfully in Western Canada, and who was captured in this city in the act of swindling wholesale merchants, was yesterday sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Pleaded Guilty.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 8.—Dobson and Whistler, before Magistrate Fraser, yesterday pleaded guilty to the $14,000 express robbery in November last. They will be sentenced today. Both were on the verge of breakdown.

Police Chief Asks Suspension.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—As the result of the information laid against him on Thursday night, in connection with the Army Service Corps, Chief of Police de la Ronde was suspended from duty yesterday by the police commissioners, at his own request, pending the result of the trial of the information. Deputy Chief Vizard is acting chief.

SUPPLEMENTARY MEETINGS OF FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Able Addresses at Stewart's Hall Otonabee — Messrs. Gardhouse, Duff and Nixon the Speakers — Topics of Moment to Progressive Agriculturists.

The first of the supplementary meetings of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held at Stewart's hall, Otonabee, yesterday afternoon and evening. Both gatherings were largely attended and were characterized by interesting and instructive addresses and plenty of enthusiasm on the part of the farmers. The speakers were Mr. Gardhouse, of Highfield, Ontario, Mr. H. C. Duff, of Norwood and Mr. C. C. Nixon, of the staff of the Farm and Dairy Journal.

The President, Mr. John Garbutt, occupied the chair. He spoke of the two farmers' clubs that had been organized in Smith each with nearly twenty-five members. He thought that Stewart's settlement would be an ideal place for such a club. It was not too late yet to start one and every effort should be put forth to form such an organisation. He introduced Mr. Gardhouse, whose subject, he said, was "Breeding Horses for Profit." Mr Gardhouse has had a wide experience with horses and his remarks were listened to with rapt attention.

In beginning Mr. Gardhouse stated that it was always a pleasure for him to address farmers. Some years ago he came to Canada from the old country with a ship load of horses and cattle and ever since then he had been interested in them. Horse breeding, he said, was decidedly profitable. There was nothing on the farm at the present time that brought such good returns as horses. There was a growing demand for them all over the Dominion. For the average farmer of Ontario the heavy draught horse, he believed, was the best to breed. First, because the heavy mare was more suitable for farm work. It was the same with the heavy colt. The average farmer had not the time or experience to get the best from the light mare. Success could not be obtained in the live stock trade unless one aimed at the best. A farmer, on a one hundred acre farm, should raise three colts in about two years and he should expect to do his farm work with the brood mares. Many farmers would do better if they raised fall colts, although it was difficult to get mares with foal at that season. One of the important things in breeding was to give the mares proper care. A farmer should be careful to see that the animal not only was a good one itself but that it had some breeding behind it.

To decide whether a horse was a good one for breeding it should be judged systematically. It was necessary to secure a sire that was strong where the mare is weak. Then good results would be obtained. By means of a chart, the speaker pointed out the features that should characterise a good horse. It should be one with good broad ears, open nostrils and a clear, intelligent eye. The neck should be well covered with muscle and well blended into the shoulders. The legs should be set well back with broad, flat knees. The manner in which the horse walked was important. It should step heavily with its feet squarely on the ground.

In answer to a question as to what it cost to raise a colt until it was two years and a half old, Mr. Gardhouse estimated the expense at about eighty-five dollars. The colt at the end of that time should be worth from $175 to $300.

In conclusion the speaker was pleased to know that so many were interested in horses.

CROP ROTATION.

The next speaker was Mr. H. C. Duff, of Norwood. Mr. Duff in commencing, drew attention to the free course in stock and seed judging to be held in Peterborough on the 24th, 25th and 26th of January. This would be similar to the two weeks' course given each winter at Guelph. He outlined the programme for the above days, pointing out that the best professors in these lines would be present and deliver addresses and give practical demonstrations. He also referred to the six weeks' course for farmers' sons to be given in the study of agriculture in Norwood High school, beginning in February.

To illustrate the meaning of crop rotation, Mr. Duff referred to a three year rotation, followed by the hay crop. Every farmer didn't carry a crop rotation, but the speaker believed it was necessary and especially here in the county of Peterborough. Lack of rotation, he said, was largely responsible for the great quantity of weeds on the farms. Some thought that crop rotation required more labor and he agreed with them. Crop rotation was impossible in some places where the land was too low. Too much land was a drawback to rotation of crops. There was a good deal of land in Peterborough suitable for growing alfalfa and in giving part of the farm to growing it, rotation could be carried out to advantage.

He hoped, in conclusion, that all present would do their share in advertising free stock and seed judging course. He wanted to see it a success and he was sure that all the farmers would benefit as a result of it.

THE DAIRY COW.

Mr. C. C. Nixon, of the Farm and Dairy editorial staff, was the next speaker. He said that it was up to the farmers of Peterborough County to support Mr. Duff in the short judging course, which he was instrumental in bringing about and which would be held in Peterborough this month. Mr. Nixon chose as his subject "the Dairy Cow." He first referred to the possibilities of the seed growing industry and what some men were accomplishing in this line. Returning to the subject of the dairy cow he said that he knew one man near Peterborough who realized 9,000 pounds of milk per cow from 23 cows in a year. He cited instances where immense profits had been realized yearly from dairy cows. He urged the use of pure bred sires for cattle raising and characterized the cheapest and best feed for the dairy cow as corn and silage and alfalfa. He believed that the country around Peterborough was well suited for the growing of alfalfa. He said that his father had found alfalfa very profitable and realized as much as five tons per acre. It took the place to a great extent of bran. The dairy question he remarked, was dealt with clearly and minutely in the Farm and Dairy weekly paper and he commended to the farmers the use of this journal. This concluded the afternoon session.

THE EVENING SESSION.

A much larger audience, including many ladies, attended the evening meeting when in addition to very interesting addresses delivered by the same gentlemen who spoke in the afternoon, a chorus by a number of boys was given. Mr. Garbutt again occupied the chair in his usual pleasing manner, introducing the speakers and the various numbers with brief but appropriate remarks.

Mr. Garbutt again occupied the chair in his usual pleasing manner, introducing the speakers and the various numbers with brief but appropriate remarks.

MODERN IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. H. C. Duff was the first speaker of the evening, his subject being "Modern Improvements on the Farm." In beginning he said it gave him great pleasure to be present. It was his first visit to Stewart's settlement and he was delighted to find such a beautiful farming district. He again referred to the free stock and seed judging course.

One of the greatest improvements in agriculture was the attitude of the people towards agriculture. The business men were becoming more and more affiliated with the farmers. They depended one upon another, and the sooner that these two classes work together the better the conditions would be.

There were not nearly as many men retiring from the farm as a few years ago. Improvements were evident in all branches of farming, and especially in the county of Peterborough. Wire fences were replacing the old log ones and silos were becoming more numerous throughout the country. The tendency nowadays was to employ the machinery that accomplished the greatest results. The speaker referred to the fact that great stress was laid upon the proper ventilation of the school. The same care should be taken with the stables and the barns. He spoke of the improvements in the house and outlined modern equipment that would lessen the work of the wife in the home. He advocated the formation of a Woman's Institute.

In conclusion he mentioned the farmers' clubs, and he hoped the time was not far distant when one would be formed in every section of the county.

POULTRY BREEDING

Mr. C. C. Nixon's evening address was "The Feeding and Breeding of Poultry." He said that with eggs selling at thirty-five cents, the farmer should see that poultry raising was very profitable. He urged the parents to interest the boys in this line, to allow them to have the sole control of them. A farmer should breed chickens from good stock and the best results would be obtained. The hen that matured the earliest would be a good layer. Mr. Nixon enumerated the features that constituted good breeding birds. The house for them should be well ventilated. Cold houses apparently were as good as the ones in which stoves were kept. Hens should be fed plentifully with meat and grain. He urged that proper attention should be given them.

HOW TO INTEREST YOUNG PEOPLE.

Mr. Gardhouse spoke of "How to Interest the Young People of the Farm." At the outset he spoke of the good to be derived from a farmer's club. One of the first things was to get the young people to look at things in the right way. The young people of the farm should look on the brightest side of their life. Many were apt to look on the dark side. He hoped the parents would see that their children carefully considered what their vocation was to be before reaching a decision. He urged the men to get their boys interested in raising good stock. It too was important to let the boys know the business of the farm. A father should talk matters over with his boys. The young women, he believed, should also interest themselves in the stock. They should know enough about a horse to hitch him up without the assistance of their fathers. He advocated giving the boys one or two animals to look after for the purpose of showing them at the fall fairs. This stimulated interest.

In conclusion he urged making the home bright and attractive that the boys and girls might feel that their home was a pleasant place to be in. He would like every boy setting out to have an ideal before him.

A vote of thanks, moved by Mr. S. Matchett and seconded by Mr. W. B. Stewart, was tendered the delegation, after which the meeting closed with the national anthem.

AMBASSADOR FROM JAPAN TO THE U. S.

BARON UCHIDA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—Baron Yasuya Uchida, the newly appointed Ambassador to the United States, succeeding Baron Takahira, has arrived here and had a conference with Secretary Knox at the State Department, prior to presenting his credentials to President Taft.

The new Ambassador also met Mr. Huntington Wilson, Assistant Secretary of State, whom he had known in Japan.

Baron Uchida is ready and anxious to take up his work here, but sees the horizon entirely clear of any clouds which could in any way threaten the most amicable relations between Japan and the United States.

"I feel very much at home in the United States, as though I am among friends, you know," said the Ambassador in faultless English. "There is no pressing diplomatic question for me to deal with in the United States just now, and I know of nothing of importance that will come up in the immediate future."

OUTLOOK IN THE ORIENT IS REPORTED DISQUIETING

M. Glesmer Declares After an Investigation of Far East Conditions, That Japan is Again Aggressive and Preparing to Transport Troops.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10.—The most influential circles in Russia are again regarding the outlook in the Orient with the gravest concern. They are profoundy disturbed by the long confidential report prepared by M. Glesmer, a member of the industrial delegation in the council of the empire, who made a tour of investigation in Japan and Russia's eastern frontier territories.

M. Glesmer went to the Orient some time before Finance Minister Kakaftseff for the purpose of acquiring independent information in case the Government should launch a policy involving the interests of the Russian business world. A report which he wrote for a small number of friends in the council of the empire and the Douma represented the situation as so dangerous that Premier Stolypin asked him to postpone its circulation until Foreign Minister Isvolsky could issue a reasoned note on the satisfactory state of the Russo-Japanese diplomatic relations, which was launched a fortnight ago.

The report of M. Glesmer, which comes from one of the most eminent and most successful business men of Russia, maintains the view that Japan is again bent on taking the aggressive. He says her economic position is perfectly sound. There will be no Japan loan in the coming year. She is reaping three harvests yearly. She has an annual food supply enough for 80,000,000 population, although she has only 55,000,000.

She is preparing a military transport organization of 200,000 rickshaws and coolies, which will be much more efficient than horse transports. The spirit of the people is still resolute.

M. Glesmer was present at a fire in Japan, where 20,000 houses were razed, yet he found that not one of the sufferers became a beggar or sought public help. He is convinced that the Japanese will use all their strength to drive Russia back from the Korean frontier. The Anglo-Japanese alliance will be of no avail to stop this.

Japanese statesmen are already turning their minds to an alliance with Germany. Their two young navies could co-operate on opposite sides of the world, the German fleet holding the English in European waters. The attitude taken by the United States, writes M. Glesmer will be a decisive factor. He believes that the American Government will adopt a passive role.

Given China's present position and the neutrality of America, an alliance between Japan and Germany would have such significance that it would change not only the political map of the orient, but also of Europe. Russia's position, he maintains, is very unfavorable, even critical. In order to maintain effective connection with her European base she must begin immediately to double track the Trans-Siberian Railroad, which will cost 176,000,000 rubles.

She must build a line through Russian territory to Chabarovsk, Blagovestschensk and Nicolaievsk, which will require an additional 300,000 rubles. Russia, further, must build docks and fortresses on her Pacific coast and maintain there a garrison of 300,000 men. Japan's only present weakness is the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods and Japanese shipping. If the boycott is persisted in, M. Cleamer admits that Japan will be seriously crippled.

All of Japan's new works that have a strategical purpose will be ready in 1911, when several of her international and commercial treaties will lapse. It is urgent that Russia should have China on her side by 1912. M. Cleamer found from intercourse with the Japanese that the results of the last war with Russia were so inadequate that a new war would be very popular. The Japanese see no sense in awaiting further political conjunctures or the regeneration of China.

She is most likely to attack in 1912. It is important and relevant to the contents of M. Clesmer's confidential report that it is in The St. Petersburger Zeitung which has regular relations with the German embassy here, and not in the national Russian newspapers, it is first made public.

WITNESS SAYS CHIEF ROSZEL ASKED HIM TO PLEAD GUILTY

As He Had Witnesses Who Would Testify He Was in the Oriental on a Night the Witness Had Doubts About and Advised Him to Testify Against Accused Hotelkeeper—Mr. O'Connell and P. C. Newhall Have Interesting Exchanges at Appeal in Liquor Case.

The appeal of G. N. Graham, proprietor of the Oriental, against a decisoin of Police Magistrate Dumble, opened this morning before His Honor Judge Huycke at the County Council chambers. The decision was given in the police court on December 13th, and Graham was fined $200.

D. O'Connell and G. N. Gordon were counsel for the appellant; A. P. Poussette for the respondent, Chief Roszel; and County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood for the Crown.

The first witness called was Ernest Lawrence. He did not testify at the police court trial. Mr. Poussette urged that judgment should be given on the strength of the depositions alone. Mr. O'Connell, in objecting to this, said that all of the evidence of the witnesses at the police court could not have been taken down in longhand fully by the magistrate.

Mr. Pousette stated if the character of the Crown witnesses was impeached he was in a position to produce evidence in rebuttal to this and to prove that the characters of the witnesses were good.

Mr. Wood submitted that only additional evidence to what was already submitted was the sole testimony that could be taken.

Mr. O'Connell argued against this and said the court was for the purpose of finding out the whole truth in connection with the matter, before deciding on the appeal. If any additional witnesses were to be produced by the appellant, Mr. Poussette said that he thought he should be entitled to call as many as he thought fit. His Honor acquiesced in this, and said it was proper, with certain limitations.

ACCUSES CHIEF OF POLICE.

Lawrence then went into the box, and his examination was taken up by Mr. Pousette. He asked the witness if he was in the Oriental on Sunday night, November 21st. After Geo. N. Graham was fined Lawrence stated, he was told by the chief that he was guilty of having taken liquor in the Oriental during prohibited hours on Sunday night, November 21st or Monday morning, November 22nd, and told the witness if he didn't want to make a show of himself that he had better plead guilty and give his evidence at the perjury trial against Graham. The chief, the witness stated, said he would take his plea in private, and the fine would be made as light as possible.

"Scandalous, blackmail," said Mr. O'Connell.

COULDN'T PLACE NIGHT.

Mr. Poussette tried to get the witness to refresh his memory as to whether he was in the Oriental on Sunday, November 21st or not.

Mr. O'Connell took objection to Mr. Poussette's methods of examination in trying to find out whether Lawrence was at the Oriental on the 21st, and was sustained by the court.

To His Honor Lawrence said he did not remember whether he was in the Oriental on the 21st or not. He thought it was the 14th he was in when the chief spoke to him about the matter, but the chief insisted that it was the 21st and said he had witnesses to prove it. Lawrence, on the strength of the chief's assertion, pleaded guilty to getting a drink at the Oriental after hours at the time the chief referred to and was fined $2 and costs. He later testified at the perjury trial.

P. C. Meharry said the appelant, G. N. Graham, got a drink for Lawrence out of a bottle in the early morning of November 22nd.

The witness was somewhat uncertain as to what the size of the glasses used by Graham were and Mr. Poussette said, "We'll have to get Mr. O'Connell to give his evidence concerning this."

"I'm not an expert," came the quick reply. "There are others better qualified."

Mr. O'Connell's cross-examination of Meharry was a long one and some new features of minor importance other than were uncovered at the perjury charge trial were brought out.

P. C Newhall corroborated Meharry in his evidence. Mr. O'Connell immediately began a vigorous cross-examination and the replies given by the witness he differed on some points to what he gave at the perjury trial. Mr. O'Connell was very anxious to know why the officers did got go into the hotel and get the names of the travellers. The witness said it suited the method of conducting their case better not to do so. He said two men were keeping watch and a bell boy was vigilantly busy running here and there.

A LIVELY TITL

Mr. O'Connell and the witness had quite a heated controversy regarding the limitations of a witness in answering questions. The constable said Mr. O'Connell had stopped him at the perjury trial when he was attempting to give full explanations and said he was going to tell the whole truth.

"You're not here to give a speech or a certificate of your character," said Mr. O'Connell.

P. C. Newhall said he was not attempting that. Counsel for the appelant stated to the witness that all a witness was required to do was to answer the questions. At this juncture Mr. Pousaette took a hand in the debate that a witness was not confined to the restrictions as outlined by Mr. O'Connell. Newhall said they couldn't stop him when he was giving evidence and intimated Mr. O'Connell hadn't used him fairly at the perjury trial.

"I think you got fair treatment," said His Honor.

"I got fair treatment Your Honor, all right," said the witness, "except that Mr. O'Connell stopped me from fully answering several questions."

"These lawyers are always troublesome," replied the court, and a ripple of laughter ran through the audience. With this remark the impromptu discussion ended.

The court adjourned at 1.30 to 2 4k.

PEERS HAVE CONCLUDED SPEECHMAKING CAMPAIGN

Old Custom is Observed by Members of the Lords—Forecasts of Result Range From a Liberal Majority of 200 to a Unionist One of 90.

London, Jan. 10.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The open nature of current opinion as to the result of the election is indicated by the forecasts in The Sunday Observer. The Unionists forecasts therein range from a majority of 90 for the Unionists to a majority of 16 for the Government. The Liberal forecasts range from a Government majority of 200 to an adverse majority of 8. All the prophesies are anonymous.

The peers concluded their campaign Saturday night, having delivered 250 speeches. The Duke of Norfolk had a lively reception at Brixton, a London district. He enquired if it was tariff reform or a strong navy or the Lords that the meeting objected to, and received the reply "The Lords." He answered that a great improvement might be introduced into the chamber.

The Duke of Devonshire, at Skipton West, Yorkshire, defended the hereditary principle.

Lords Stanhope and Mayo had noisy meetings at Southend and Hammersmith (two London districts) respectively.

The fiery Chancellor of the Exchequer visited Plymouth and claimed to be the greatest taxer of foreigners, who, he declared, paid the rates and taxes of Britain.

"We sold £517,000,000 worth to foreigners, not without making a profit, while, our shipping yielded £100,000,000 yearly, mostly paid by the foreigner. He got his taxes from this profit, so who paid?" Cries of "The foreigner."

Respecting the export of capital, Lloyd-George said: "We get at the foreigner in four ways: First, he pays good commission for its advance; second, it went in obtaining the goods for which it was exchanged; third, we get something for carrying the goods; fourth, we charged interest on things we got for ourselves. Thus we laid the world under tribute. There was no way of taxing the foreigner like free trade."

Austen Chamberlain addressed a great meeting at Birmingham and read a message from his father, who said, "Where Birmingham leads, all England will follow."

Winston Churchill, speaking at Leven, Fifeshire, on behalf of the Premier, made a strong anti-lords speech, maintaining they were played out and obsolete.

Sir Edward Grey, at Northampton, declared for a second chamber, unhereditary, representative and nonpartisan.

The seats polling on Saturday comprise 43 Liberals, 8 Labor, and 17 Unionists.

Colonial interest in the election campaign is shown by the publication by The Morning Post of a cable from over 300 Canadians supporting the candidature of Richard Jebb in East Marylebone.

Mr. Jebb's beliefs made him not acceptable to the Conservative Association, and it decided to refuse to endorse him and put into the field J. Boyton as the official party candidate. Jebb refused to leave the field and a three-cornered fight threatened to give victory to the Liberals.

The Toronto friends of Mr. Jebb cabled as follows:

"Please convey to Mr. Balfour our conviction that Richard Jebb's services to the empire and his invaluable first-hand knowledge make his presence in the Imperial Parliament most desirable."

Hon. G. W. Ross, Col. Denison, Hon. W. J. Hanna and many others signed the document, but it would seem the help has come too late, as the conciliation committee decided Friday night in favor of the claims of Mr. Boyton.

The Canadian Associated Press learns that Balfour feels more than usually hopeful of good results. His increased hopefulness is caused through the enthusiastic receptions he met with during several meetings last week. The Unionists hope to win a number of seats in Scotland, among which are South Aberdeen, Tradeston and Camlachie. In the last two are three-cornered contests.

The Liberals are equally confident and not only look forward to winning seats in Glasgow district, but also in the east of Scotland.

STRIKERS START FIGHT

Pickets Engage in Riot at the Cape Breton Mines.

Sydney, Jan. 10.—There was disorder at Dominion mine No. 6 Saturday morning, the company having decided a few days ago to reopen that colliery.

Men who returned to work have been daily molested and Saturday morning strike pickets, emboldened by the lack of adequate police protection, began to make things lively. The chief of police was on hand with a posse.

During the night electric light wires were cut by the strikers and Saturday morning as the police assembled at the colliery they were attacked by a strong force of pickets. Stones and other missiles were flying pretty freely, but the police met the assault firmly.

Five Englishmen and five Italians were arrested. The men were variously armed. The weapons seized included a shot gun, revolvers, razors, iron-bound clubs, pick handles, etc. One of the Italians carried a handkerchief in which he had tied a heavy stone to be used as a slung-shot. The man who had the gun had six shells in his pocket. Six guns were found among the crowd.

A prominent U. M. W. leader stated Friday night that the strike would likely be officially called off within a month. Advantage will be taken of the change in the presidency of the company to bring the struggle to an end.

THE ERROR OF A BANK PRESIDENT

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 10.—President U. C. Walker of the South Cleveland Banking Co., which made an assignment Thursday, following the appointment of a receiver for the Werner Co. of Akron, admitted yesterday that more than $500,000 was lent by the bank to the Werner Co. after Walker knew that the publishing house was on the verge of failure. Of the bank's total deposits of over $2,000,000, mostly the savings of small tradespeople and workingmen, $1,100,000 has been lent to the Werner Co., of which Walker was a director. About half this amount is secured.

The Werner Publishing Co. has for years been fighting the Typographical Union, by maintaining an open shop.

THE LEGISLATURE OPENS JAN. 25

Toronto, Jan. 10.—It is officially announced that the Legislature of Ontario has been called to meet on Tuesday, January 25. The session will be inaugurated with the customary ceremonial, when his honor the Lieutenant-Governor will formally deliver the speech from the throne amid the annual scene of social brilliance and eclat. Thereafter the Parliamentarians will, figuratively speaking, doff their coats and get down to legislative work.

QUICK CURE OF MORPHINE HABIT

London, Jan. 10.—A London physician vouches for a cure of the morphine habit of ten years' duration by the infusion of dried leaves of a plant named combretum sundacium, which is grown in the Malay Peninsula. He contends that a wineglassful of this taken every half hour daily for four weeks cured his patient.

The powers of this herb were discovered accidentally. Some Chinese coolies who were working in the forests of the Malay Peninsula ran short of tea. In its place they used combretum sundaicum. After two weeks it was discovered that the herb destroyed the taste for opium among certain of the party who were addicted to its use.

'FRISCO IS FOR FUN OF COAST

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—P. H. McCarthy assumed the office of mayor Saturday. In his address he charged the late administration with hypocrisy and graft, and accused mayor, as well as supervisors, of winking at overcharges.

He declared that San Francisco was a pleasure resort for the entire coast and he proposed that visitors should enjoy themselves in any reputable way without hindrance.

He scored the police department and gave the names and addresses of about thirty clubs where gambling was carried on.

He said the Chinese should not be molested in their quarters.

HUGE DAM ON THE MISSISSIPPI

Keokuk, Iowa, Jan. 10.—It was announced yesterday that a syndicate of New York and Boston capitalists have undertaken to finance the erection of the second largest dam in the world to span the Mississippi River at this point. The estimated cost is $15,000,000. It is to be 37 feet high and 5,000 feet long and will be built seven feet deep into the solid rock of the river bottom.

The power plant to be erected on the Iowa side of the river will generate 200,000 horse-power and the dam will create a lake extending for 30 miles up the Mississippi.

AN EARLY MORNING ORANGEVILLE FIRE

Orangeville, Jan. 10.— About three o'clock yesterday morning citizens were awakened by the loud ringing of the fire alarm. The office of the Dufferin Light & Power Co. was in flames. The office was a small frame building, built against the main power plant. The loss is somewhat serious, as the books were all burned, along with all accounts, just ready for distribution. Quite a supply of light fixtures were destroyed. A live wire from the main plant is blamed for the blaze.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN COMMITTEE CHAIRMANSHIPS

Ald. Hicks Succeeds Ald. Phelan as Head of the Board of of Works and Ald Morgan Made Chairman of Fire, Water and Light—Ald. Duncan Gets Property Committie.

The following are the chairmen of the City Council for 1910, the appointments being made this morning;—

Board of Works—Ald. Hicks.
Fire, Water and Light—Ald. Morgan.
Manufacturer—'s—Ald. Gillespie.
Finance—Ald. Bradburn.
Property—Ald. Duncan.
Power (a sub-committee to act jointly with the Manufacturers' Committee)—Ald. Turner.

As will be seen by the above, there has been a considerable shaking-up in the chairmanships of the City Council. The appointments were made made by the committee of the whole council at the inaugural meeting this morning, and, strange to say, no trouble cropped up. It was done by open vote. In regular session Ald. Duncan asked how the chairmen of the committees were to be appointed, and after some discussion, it was moved by Ald. Phelan, and seconded by Ald. Turner, that they be appointed by the committee of the whole council. The council then went into committee of the whole with the Mayor in the chair, and proceeded to elect a chairman for the Board of Works. Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Turner, that Ald. Hicks be chairman. Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Duffus, that Ald. Phelan (last year's chairman) be appointed. Ald. Hicks' name was voted on first, and he secured seven votes and the appointment.

For the Fire Water and Light Committee, Ald. Buller was proposed by Ald. Gillespie and Ald. Phelan, and Ald. Morgan by Ald. Metheral and Ald. Batten. The vote stood six to four in favor of Ald. Morgan.

The Manufacturers' Committee went to Ald. Gillespie without a vote. He was nominated by Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Turner. Ald. Buller was proposed by Ald. Hicks and Ald. Metheral, but he declined to stand.

There was no opposition to Ald. Bradburn's name for the Finance Committee. He was nominated by Ald. Metheral and Ald. Gillespie.

Ald. Duncan got the Property Committee by acclamation. He was nominated by Ald. Morgan and Ald. Graham.

Ald. Turner was nominated for the chairmanship of the Legal and Reception Committee. He withdrew, stating that he thought the honors should be passed around, and nominated Ald. Duffus. This was seconded.

It was decided to leave the Power Committee act jointly with the Manufacturers' Committee, and Ald. Turner was elected chairman. It is understood that the other members of the committee will be Ald. Bradburn, Ald. Gillespie and the Mayor.

The chairmen of the committees met immediately after the council meeting to arrange the committees. The result of the conference will be given out at the meeting of the council tonight.

Ald. Duffus spoke of the necessity of having a committee to advertise the city, and Ald. Turner spoke in reference to the same subject. In view of the fact that a special meeting of the council will be held shortly to receive a deputation from the Board of Trade in reference to the appointment of a commissioner of industries it was decided to take no action on this matter at the present time.

The chairmen last year were as follows;—

Board of Works—Ald. Phelan.
Property—Ald. Bradburn.
Fire, Water and Light—Ald. Buller.
Finance—Ald. Morrow.
Manufacturers—Ald. Gillespie.
Legal and Reception—Ald. Turner.
Power Committee—Ald. McIntyre.

WAS FINED FOR GROWING GRASS

New York, Jan. 10.—For failing to cut the weeds, brush and grass along the company's right of way in Smithtown, L.I., a supreme court jury in Suffolk County Saturday rendered a verdict of $32,200 against the Long Island Railroad.

The suit was the first brought under the forest, fish and game laws of 1900, requiring railroad companies to clear their right of way at least twice a year.

The railroad company will appeal.

HIGHWAYMAN FIRED TWO SHOTS

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 10.—Charles Perry, driver of a laundry wagon, was Saturday night accosted by an armed highwayman on Third avenue Grandview, an east end suburb. Perry was walking toward the wagon when the hold-up man appeared. Disregarding the command to give up his money, Perry leaped into his wagon whipped his horses and escaped. The highwayman fired two shots after him.

Charles Rumming, aged 70, was killed in a runaway at Nanaimo.

MAD DOG SCARE GROWS IN GALT

Galt, Jan. 10.—The dog scare is intensifying. Not a dog is to be seen on or about Main street to-day. Several valuable dogs were destroyed after being bitten by a mad cur.

The new dog-catcher is bringing in stray canines every day, and if it keeps up the dog population of Galt will be decimated.

Friday evening, on C.P.R. hill, a brown collie dog jumped into a sleigh and bit the driver. Constables and the dog-catcher are out on a hunt for the mad animal. The situation is about as serious as the smallpox scare was seven years ago.

KILLED BY SHOCK FROM SON'S DEATH

Brockville, Jan. 10.—It turns out that a fatality in the Winnipeg C.P.R. yards, whereby Charles Cavanagh, a switchman, was killed by a collision of the engines, resulted in a double tragedy. Upon receipt of the news, his aged father, John Cavanagh, dropped dead from heart failure. His mother also is seriously ill. The family are former residents of Brockville, removing from here to Winnipeg a few years ago. Charles Cavanagh was at one time on the Grand Trunk.

Friars Flee From Flames.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Fighting their way through flames and thick smoke, thirty Christian Brothers with singed hair and scorched faces, narrowly escaped being burned to death in their dormitory at 1,151 Rachel street shortly after midnight Saturday morning.

DEATH OF MRS. SARAH NORTON

Troy, N.Y., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Sarah F. Norton, one of the first exponents of women suffrage in America and widely known as one of the brilliant women of the country thirty or forty years ago, is dead.

She lost a small fortune through the panic of 1893 in New York, by the failure of an investment company and she lived on a small pension which came from her husband's services in the Union army.

She was an associate of Susan B. Anthony and a friend of Horace H. Greely and Henry Ward Beecher. Mrs. Norton was widely known as a lecturer. A note which she left pinned to the wall of her room said: "This is the end—friendlessness, dissolution and death. Let no one play the game of philanthropy who could desire peace and a peaceful end."

Mrs. Norton was 70 years of age, and was born in Ithaca, N.Y.

COMPENSATION FOR INJURIES IS ASKED FOR

New York, Jan. 10.—A Workman's Compensation Act, based on the English statute, which guarantees relief for injuries without regard to the question of negligence, is advocated by the joint conference of central labor bodies in a statement presented to the Legislative Commission enquiring into the operation of the Employers' Liability Act.

On account of the higher cost of living in this country, a benefit of 55 per cent. of the wage paid before injury is recommended, instead of 50 per cent., as provided by the English law. No part of the compensation should be subtracted in advance from the wages.

FLETCHER SNEAD IS REPORTED MISSING

St. Catharines, Jan. 10.—Fletcher W. Snead, the husband of Ocey Snead, the Jersey "bathtub" victim, who was discovered in this city some weeks ago, cannot be found.

Snead continued at work at the new Murray Hotel till the usual hour Friday night. Since that time no one has seen him. He did not report for work Saturday. His bedroom gave the appearance of not having been used the night before.

The New Jersey authorities have several times declared they do not want him, and had no intention of taking steps toward extradition.

SUBSCRIBE TO DEFEND WOMAN

London, Jan. 10.—Public interest in the murder trial of Mrs. Wesley Scott is so keen around Thorndale that when a subscription list was circulated among farmers, nearly enough money was volunteered to pay the expenses of the second trial, which starts on Monday before Chief Justice Meredith.

THE MAN AND HIS POLICY

Grace of manner and distinction of presence are two of the characteristics of Sir Wilfrid's personality. In a word, he is one of nature's gentlemen in that as in many other respects. It was said by Mr. McNaught in his address at the unveiling of Sir Wilfrid's portrait that Sir Wilfrid kept his promises. If this refers to his political promises Mr. McNaught should have added "to himself." But that the description fits him personally we are well aware. Sir Wilfrid is too proud, strong and noble a man to descend to or even think of the contemptible artifices of men who literally are not worthy to black his any decent man's boots.

Sir Wilfrid has not made money. His inclination and calling are above that. While money is the basis of material prosperity it has nothing to do with the making of a man in the nobler sense. It is perhaps for this very reason that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is what he is. He is moreover such a man that one would say of him as he entered a witness box; "It is unnecessary to swear this witness." That this fine distinction cannot be said to fit his political policies, the Manitoba school case will always show. In political legerdemain he has no rival in Canadian history. Not even Sir John could match him. He is, however, such a character as we could wish that we could say, "He is British and we are proud to have him one of us."

That Sir Wilfrid would ever prostitute virtue in any form to ignoble uses or personal advantage, we do not believe. That he is a superb orator and a model in many ways, no Conservative will deny. But that is no reason for our neglecting to imitate him in one respect that of saying what many really think. That Sir Wilfrid is not a "candid" man is a failing of his caste of mind and of his origin. It is not a characteristic of either his race or his environment. But by "candid" we mean what that word is understood to mean in Britain where the "candid" type prevails and an arriere—pensee is something quite taboo.

TO LA PATRIE

La Patrie, in a lengthy editorial, in reply to the Review, goes over the same old long list of epithets and compliments heretofore tendered to Quebec's present position as loyal subjects of the King. Of that, heretofore, we have had little to say that was not at least acquiescent. But how can La Patrie or any other journal for one moment expect that we can ignore the language of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the London Defence Conference in 1907, when he said, "Gentlemen, if you persist in this resolution all I can say is I shall have to vote against it." That resolution was simply affirming that we were an empire. Why go further? The moment that declaration of Sir Wilfrid's became known it caused surprise and indignation in British Canada. And we may say further that we are not to be misled by adroit protestations of innocence. Deeds speak louder than words.

Moreover, we had the pleasure of reading "L'aveuir du Canada," so highly and discreetly commended by La Patrie. That brochure is straight treason and nothing else.

Let us say that we have written always to a text quoted from French sources and published with the articles. It is idle for La Patrie to deny that we stick closely to our texts The best thing for La Patrie and its confreres to do is for them to give us better texts and then we shall have a pleasure which is now denied us, of praising them for their loyalty to a united empire. Just one word more. Will La Patrie say that it is in favour of a united British empire and a united defence of that empire? This is a fair test of its sincerity, which, if it complies with it, will give us a pleasure which we shall not hesitate to express.

DID WE REFER TO WEST

In unveiling the portrait of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the National Club banquet, Mr. McNaught, Conservative M.P.P., said:—

"He has been in the limelight of Canadian political life for over a quarter of a century, and yet no breath of scandal has ever been connected with his name. And to have a clean honourable man at the head of the government of this country is surely something that every true Canadian may well be proud of."

On all hands it is being asked (sic) if this is a reference to West Peterborough.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Hypocrisy is the tribute that vice pays to virtue."

On Friday night Sir Wilfrid Laurier was banquetted at the National Club, Toronto, as Prime Minister of Canada, and not as leader of the Liberal party. It was a great reception. It is a pity that it cannot always be made clear that those who would disintegrate Canadian national and Imperial unity by striving to gratify race and religious separatist ideas cannot be allowed to gratify their wish.

If there is no sign of war, what is Laurier's Canadian navy for? It is one horn or the other. Either it is unnecessary or it is a refusal to unite in defence of the Empire. In either event it is absurd and, worst of all, a tremendous waste of money. We prophesy that the Laurier navy will come to an abortive birth at the resumption of the session. It is the most unarguable proposition probably ever attempted in the Ottawa House.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LITTLE

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

DEATH OCCURRED IN MINNESOTA

Word Received Here of Demise of Christopher Crowe, a Native of Peterboro

Mr. Joseph Crowe, of this city, has received the news of the death of his brother, Mr. Christopher Crowe, who passed away at Virginia, Minn., aged forty-four years. Mr. Crowe left Peterborough, where he was born, 23 years ago, and had not been here since. He was a miner and had been in the Klondyke and also at Johannesburg, South Africa. He is survived by five brothers, William, of Fort William; Joseph, of Peterborough; David, of Fredericton, N.B.; John, of Virginia, Minn., and Charles, of Los Angeles, Cal.

The remains will arrive here on the G.T.R. to-morrow at noon and the funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, from the residence of Mr. Joseph Crowe, 493 Cross street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

HALF YEARLY

Sale of Semi-Ready Lonelies

OVERCOATS, SUITS, FURNISHINGS

WHY ARE LONELIES LONELY? Did you ever stop to think why there are odds and ends left after a season's selling? Any business man will tell you that it's almost an impossibility to carry a stock of merchandise without having broken lines left over to dispose of. You will hear in almost every department and in every store: "Sorry there's not enough in that piece of goods" or "Too bad you haven't my size in that suit", and such expressions of disappointment. Why? Because the best lines go first and are the first to leave a remnant end, therefore, LONELY SUITS AND OVERCOATS are always the choice of the stock, your size may not be here in every line, yet your size is here in many and you will get better value than if you selected from whole lines. Think this over and don't fail to visit the Semi-Ready Wardrobe during this Semi-Annual event. Every line here puoted is as represented and you will not be disappointed in any way. There's three months yet for overcoats. The Suits are the all-year-round kind, so if you take advantage of this sale you're the winner. Sale ends February 1st. Shop now while your size is here.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition will be held on Thursday afternoon, January 20th, in the City Council Chamber. The meeting is called for one o'clock, and large attendance is requested. edw

ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL Y.M.C.A.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, to which all the members, subscribers and friends of the association are invited.

The business of the evening will be the receiving of the annual report, the adoption of the amended constitution and the election of directors.

The new constitution, when adopted, provides for a board of twelve directors, instead of eighteen as formerly, so that to-morow night the members will be asked to elect a board of twelve directors.

The amended constitution may be seen at the office of the secretary.

GIVEN SUIT AND SENT TO PETERBOROUGH

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—An army veteran named McNaught had his clothes stolen from his lodging house while a patient in St. Michael's Hospital. St. Vincent de Paul Society furnished him with a new suit and he was sent to Peterborough to-day to his mother, who is a hundred years of age.

SOME PRACTICAL BENEFITS FROM PRACTICAL RELIGION

"The Betterment of the Individual" was the subject of Canon Davidson's second address in his special Sunday evening course at St. John's last night. Like worship, he said, religion was mainly directed towards God. But just as in the Lord's Prayer petitions for God's glory, were followed by those for man's needs, so religion existed necessarily for human betterment. This was strikingly pictured in the attitude of Jesus Christ standing in the world, a Divine centre for the betterment and uplift of mankind, bringing blessings to the bodies and souls of men, and training and developing those who come to Him as disciples. This beneficent mission the Saviour handed on to His Church, through which He continues to work. The Church, then, is the world's greatest Benevolent Society wherein all members are privileged to work for the betterment of mankind with Jesus Christ, and thereby to rise to loftier heights themselves. With many imperfections, very much is actually being done, much being necessarily hidden from observation. All members should unite to bring out more fully, and completely this heritage of helping and elevating mankind, which was theirs. In the Church a glorious mission was offered to aimless lives, and multitudes were finding it a Divine Ladder by which to rise to higher and nobler things. And, unlike the world, in the Church men did not rise at one another's expense, but in cooperation and fellowship.

The subject next Sunday evening will be "Religion in the Home Sphere, The Duties of Married Life."

GAVE ASSUMED NAME IN ORDER TO SECURE LIQUOR

That he, being on the blacklist, did secure intoxicating liquor at the New Oxford hotel, last Wednesday, was the charge preferred against James Kennedy, at the Police Court this morning. The accused pleaded guilty but judgment was reserved till Wednesday, when Kennedy will be arraigned on a charge of being drunk on the Thursday proceeding the day on which he secured the liquor at the hotel.

To get the liquor at the bar, Kennedy gave an assumed name—that of Thompson, and said he resided in Douro.

It was his second offence, but the Magistrate imposed only a $10 fine with costs, amounting in all to $14.15, to be paid forthwith. The defendant did not have the amount, so he was remanded 'till Wednesday, when the case will be further dealt with.

Sweeping Order Issued by Pope Pius — Can Settle Marriage Question

Special to the Review.

Rome, Jan. 10.—The publication was officially announced to-day of a decree, issued by Pope Pius, granting civil and religious powers to all the bishops of the Catholic Church throughout the entire world.

The new decree by His Holiness gives to the bishops the right to settle all questions regarding the marriages of Catholics without reference to the authorities of the Vatican. This is regarded as one of the most sweeping orders issued by the Pope.

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late Bro. W. J. M. Rex took place on Saturday afternoon from the family residence Mark street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

The floral tributes included beautiful wreaths from Court Chemong 530, I.O.F., and from the employees of Robt Tobbs. An impressive funeral service was conducted at the house by the Rev. C. H. Coon and a brief service at the cemetery.

A representation of Court Chemong attended the funeral in cabs, the pallbearers being Brothers W. G. McKee, F. C. Rooke, J. W. Buyers, Alfred Gillespie, W. J. Nelson and O. E. Grose.

took place this afternoon to St. Luke's church where an impressive service was held, after which interment took place at Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt conducted the service at the church. A large number of friends and acquaintances attended the obsequies to pay their last respects to one whom they had held in high esteem.

The pallbearers were Messrs. John Mervin, R. J. Munro, C. R. Nixon, Jas. Tighe, John McDonald and James Stewart.

FROM LE CANADA

An editorial of Le Canada contains the following remark upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech in Toronto:

"At the banquet tendered to Sir Wilfrid by the Ontario Club on Friday evening he made a very important speech * * *. He laid bare once more the naval policy of the government, with clearness and precision. If England were in danger Canada would rise to aid her but in the meanwhile we will not allow ourselves to be stampeded by a political cry. We need a navy and we will construct it according to our means, our needs and our resources. That is how one should interpret his declarations.'

A nice policy that! Gt. Britain asks us if we will join her in preparing to meet the empire's foes and we say that there are no foes, no empire and no need for either but that we will have a navy which we may allow to join in a war when we get good and ready to do it. Is this a loyal declaration to stand shoulder to shoulder with all other parts of the empire in case of attack?

Is this a loyal response to Britain's appeal? It is not. It is a mockery and what is more—a subterfuge. Canadians were fooled once with disingenuous and misleading promises. They will not be fooled again.

FROM LA PRESSE

The navy question and the French language and race questions are so generally and earnestly discussed in French-Canadian journals that it is not too much to say that all French Canada is on tip-toe concerning them. Every issue boasts an article or a quotation. The full weight of French influence is being brought to bear upon the impending session of Parliament. It is necessary for us pro-Britishers to raise our voices also. To be idle and supine at such a juncture is a crime. The following comment of "La Presse" is instructive:—

"We are in favour of a Canadian navy on condition that this country has THE WHOLE BENEFIT (tout le benefice) of it, and that the money expended for it remains at home. Those who wish to expend considerable sums abroad without hope of return, are bad Canadians. To be loyal to Great Britain, but equally loyal to our own country, we must give our children an opportunity to prepare for the noblest careers, more useful for our own business than for defence.

"It is a warning given to us not to neglect OUR FIRST STEPS in order to be ready when the time comes. We must not give a pretext to the authorities to say that they cannot find amongst us qualified men."

Why should we be so eager to prepare for the time that is to come, and yet, when that time is suggested as a war in the defence of the Empire it is denied, derided and condemned? Why this difference, if the object of attack is not the proposed "union in defence" of the Empire? Because that union for defence is the very cause of all the trouble. No French paper can be got to even hint, in spite of challenges galore, that it is in favour of a united empire. It is this recreancy to our hopes and the Mother Country's appeal that rouses both our suspicion and our distrust. The question is not a political one in an ordinary or usual sense. Parties are rent in twain by it. Political allegiance is sacrificed to it. French Conservatives equally with French Liberals have rallied to the French standard. It is those in Canada who are for a united British Empire and those who are against it.

THE T. A. S. CONCERT

The T. A. S. hold their tenth anniversary this evening in the Opera House. It must be a source of satisfaction to them to know that they have the admiration of all those who realise that to strive to be a "MAN" in the plain and yet fullest sense is the highest and noblest effort of humanity. The Scriptures say that he who controls himself is greater than the one who conquers others. The truth of this is manifest. The strength of character involved in self-control in one direction naturally, in the course of time, develops in other directions. Applied Christianity is the only useful form and even those who are not worthy to be called Christians can, nevertheless, feel the simple and legitimate pride, the simple and serious consciousness of having done something to render the world stronger, better and nobler. It is such societies as these that are the bulwark against fear and crookedness, against the most abject form of human meanness, viz.; lying, and against that servility in the face of vice which makes for the ruin and ill-being of the world. Sometimes, too, they form examples even to their teachers who in the realization of their hopes see the reflection of their own shortcomings. It is, then, this spirit of self-controlled and honourable conduct which as Sir Wilfrid Laurier so eloquently says, is the only true badge of greatness in a man. Men learn to overlook trivial faults and favours in the general principle of good and evil conduct which alone can preserve us from pettiness and error.

WHITCROFT'S TEAM HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Two Fast Games and a Performance by Stanley Cup Challengers, for City League Patrons on Wednesday Evening

It is nothing less than the Edmonton Stanley Cup challengers that President Graham has secured as a feature of the City Hockey League games on Wednesday night. There is sure some class to this organisation. Fred Whitcroft's team, traveling in a special coach, and accompanied by a large number of supporters, have begun their long journey from Edmonton to Ottawa, where they will make another attempt to wrest the coveted cup from the Ottawa champions. Word was received this morning that the team would stop over on their arrival here, and arrangements have been made whereby all the players will have a practice at the Brock street rink on Wednesday night. The president and secretary of the City League have the matter in hand, and just at what time the team will work-out will be announced to-morrow. The league games billed for that night are Keene vs. West Ends and T.A.S. vs. Strathconas, and these two games, with the addition of a performance by the fast Edmonton team, may be witnessed for 15 cents.

TAME BANTIES WON FROM AUBURN

Merchantile League Team Handa Large Goose Egg by the Poultry League Champions

There is great excitement in the coops of the Tame Banties, last year's champions of the Poultry League, as a result of winning their second annual game from the Auburns at the Brock street rink Saturday evening. The score was 5—0. To go into the fine points of the exhibition would be acting too cruelly towards the losers, as they did not have a look in, owing to the bird of a game, Wilson in goal, and the other Banties put up. Peck Lillie, between the nets for the shoddy hustlers, was great, but Duggan, the high cockalorum of the feathered team, succeeded in putting five counters passed him. F. Parnell played the birds to a stand still.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Tame Banties		Auburns
Wilson	Goal	Lillie
Duggan	Point	Weatherston
Curtis	Cover	Shaw
McMillan	Rover	Measley
B. Parnell	Centre	Kendrey
F. Parnell	Right wing	Gilgour

SHOTS ON GOAL

Only the following players are asked to turn out to practise this evening, they being selected by the executive on Saturday night:

MAYOR'S ADDRESS WAS FEATURE OF INAUGURAL MEETING OF COUNCIL

His Worship Mayor Morrow Outlines Work of Council—Extension of Street Railway in the City Looked for—More Sewer Accommodation Needed—Are There Enough Polling Booths?—Other Matters Touched on.

The inaugural meeting of the city council for 1910 was held this morning at eleven o'clock. His Worship Mayor Morrow presided and all the aldermen were present as follows; Aldermen Duffus, Hicks, Duncan, Morgan, uller, Bradburn, Gillespie, Turner, Motheral, Graham, Batten and Phelan. City Clerk Armstrong stated that all those elected this year had taken the oath of qualification and office. The minutes of the last meeting were taken and read.

The new men in the council are Ald. Batten, who was elected by acclamation to fill Ald. Morrow's place, and Ald. Graham. Both have been in the council before, though they were not last year.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

His Worship Mayor Morrow made the following inaugural address;—

Gentlemen of the Council:

It affords me a great deal of pleasure to congratulate you on your election and welcome you as members of the City Council.

As you are no doubt aware the by-law providing for the election of aldermen by the ward system will necessitate the election of all the members again next year and the reduction of the number of aldermen to ten. There will still be the two year term and the alderman in each ward who receives the highest number of votes will hold office for two years, and thereafter one alderman will be elected annually from each ward.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

In regard to the by-law, to provide for borrowing $19,000 for the erection and equipment of an Isolation Hospital, although it was defeated by a small majority, the vote I think, indicated that the electors desire a hospital for that purpose, but consider that the amount asked for was larger than should be expended upon it.

It would be well for the Property Committee to give the matter their immediate attention to see if the views of the electors cannot be met and an adequate building erected and equipped for a sum well within the amount the Council is authorized to expend.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

The passing of the by-law granting a thirty year franchise to the Peterborough Light and Power Company will, I am informed, lead to the immediate extensions of the street railway system within the city limits and consequent increased accommodation for the citizens, and also to the extension and improvement of the light and power system, this I am sure will be good news to the citizens generally.

SEWER ACCOMMODATION.

The Board of Works has always a lot of important work on its hands, and I think that they should at once take up the report of Mr. Chipman in reference to providing sewer accommodation for the south-western part of the city. This is one of the most pressing questions to be dealt with. Another important matter for the consideration of the Board of Works is that of permanent roadways in the business sections of the city, where the heavy traffic is concentrated, and at which I am anxious to see a start made this year.

POWER QUESTION.

The question of electric power is an important one for the city, and the completion of the waterworks dam will, on the information that has been furnished me, render available in the neighborhood of one thousand horse-power, after providing for the requirements of the waterworks system. It will be about four years before the expiration of the contract with the Peterborough Light and Power Company for street lighting, and it will be the duty of the Council in consultation with the Water Commissioners to consider how this power can be used to best serve the interests of the citizens. The Council should vigilantly endeavor to acquire additional power.

C. P. R. GRAIN ROUTE.

The request of the Canadian Pacific Railway made to the city some time ago for part of the water front for their freight business and the closing of certain streets for the purpose of an entrance to the city of their new road from Victoria Harbor to Peterborough should be taken up by the Council and discussed at as early a date as possible. The completion of this road will place Peterborough on the shortest and most direct route between Montreal and Winnipeg.

NEW INDUSTRIES.

The continued growth of the city depends to a very large extent on the securing and locating of new manufacturing industries and it will be the duty of the Council to give serious consideration to the best means of making known the city's advantages and of achieving the desired results of securing such new industries. This, I think is one of the most pressing and important duties this Council will have to deal with, and should receive they very earliest consideration.

FINANCIAL POLICY.

Another matter of first importance will be the laying down of a financial policy, which will while providing for an efficient service be economical and safe, and result in improving even the present excellent financial position of the municipality.

MORE POLLING BOTHS.

During the election on Monday last, I had occasion to visit the different polling booths, and heard a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed on the part of the ratepayers with the large number of issues to be voted upon. I think that in the future the Council should endeavor to see that there would not be so many questions before the ratepayers at any one time. I also think that in some of the wards there should be more polling subdivisions.

I feel confident that the members of the Council will work together pleasantly and harmoniously, and I trust that this year will be a record one in the growth and prosperity of the city.

The address of the mayor was received with applause.

After arranging for the appointment of the chairmen Ald. Duffus moved, seconded by Ald. Turner, that the meeting of the council which was to be held to-night be postponed, as the mayor had been invited and wished to attend the T. A. S. entertainment at the Opera House. The suggestion was that the meeting be held next Monday night.

Ald. Duncan said he would not be able to attend next Monday night and Ald. Gillespie made the same statement. On motion fo Ald. atten and Ald. Graham it was decided to adjourn to seven o'clock this evening. Mayor Morrow stated that he was desirous of doing whatever the council desired.

On motion of Ald. Gillespie and Ald. Buller a grant of $75 was made to the Peterborough Poultry Association. Ald. Gillespie spoke in favor of the resolution.

In committee of the whole the usual grant of $500 was made to the mayor for expenses during the year.

HERE'S A CASE OF PRACTICAL POLITICS

New York, Jan. 10.—Wm. R. Clark, who is suing Louis Stuyvesant Chandler for $20,000 alleged to be due him for engineering a boom for Chandler for the Democratic convention for President, testified Saturday that he got interviews praising Chandler from John Austin Fox, a life-long friend of Richard Croker; Big Tim Sullivan, John Wesley Haines, Chas. F. Murphy, and others, which he spread broadcast over the country. In corroboration he showed bills of clipping agencies.

When the Democratic state convention failed to endorse Chandler, Clark testified, he converted the defeat into a political asset by making it appear that Thos. F. Ryan and the Standard Oil interests had opposed Chandler.

DANGERS OF MODERATE DRINKING

While the sermon at St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday night preached by Rev. Father Brady, of the Niagara Falls University, Niagara Falls, N. Y., was a source of great encouragement to the members of St. Peter's T.A.S., it was particularly a warning to the so-called moderate or temperate drinker, and an earnest request to the men of the congregation who are not members to join forces with the society, not only for their own welfare, but also for the edification of non-members, and as a good example to them. Father Brady's sermon was of a special nature, he having come to Peterborough for the occasion of the 10th anniversary of the formation of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society.

Notice of Annual Meeting

Notice is hereby given that the Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company for the reception of Annual Report, Election of Directors and other purposes, will be held at the Company's Office, 26 King Street East, Toronto, on Tuesday, the 11th day of January, 1910, at the hour of 2.30 o'clock

By order of the Board,

Managing Director.

CHARGES OF FRAUD AND CONCEALMENT HAVE FALLEN TO THE GROUND

BENNETT & NOLAN VS. HAVELOCK ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY, LIMITED.

It appears that in March last a number of shareholders of the company, through Thomas Bennett and Richard Nolan, commenced an action in the High Court, for the purpose of cancelling TWO HUNDRED SHARES of the stock of the Company on the plea that it had never been paid for, and was really what is called watered stock, also saying that they had been brought into the Company owing to misrepresentations of the conditions of the Company and its assets, etc. Apparently every means was resorted to for the purpose of making good the statements which the dissatisfied shareholders put forward. The books of the Company and its officers were examined at great length, quite awhile before the trial, and many witnesses for many purposes examined on motions made for the purpose of getting evidence. The claims put forward in the first instance were later added to at length, and apparently thoroughly looked into and considered. At that time the local papers published a reference to the case, setting out that the directors were charged with fraud and misrepresentation, and this was the cause of much discussion amongst the shareholders, and many others interested in the Company's plant and franchise. The trial took place before Mr Justice Britton over a month ago, and the taking of the evidence, and hearing the witnesses took up three days of the High Court Sitting. It will be a matter of interest and a very great satisfaction to many of the shareholders of the Company and all others interested in the welfare and success of this Corporation to know that the judgment of the Court entirely exonerates the Company, its officers and directors from any manner of wrong-doing, such as set up by the plaintiffs; further, that the stock sought to be cancelled is declared by the Court to have been legally paid for, and to be of full force and effect. Doubtless now that this matter has been set at rest, the Directors will be in a position to take up the extension of business and further extension of the plant completed before these legal troubles were brought forward.

Messrs O'Connell & Gordon appeared for the plaintiffs, while the defendants, the Havelock Light & Power Company, Limited, were defended by Mr. S. T. Medd, Messrs. Holdcroft and Rae by Mr. Porter and Mr. Davidson; Mr. Kerr, Cobourg, and Mr. Ruddy, city, for other defendants.

WILL TAKE UP APPOINTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

A special meeting of the city council will be held next Monday night to meet a deputation from the Board of Trade in reference to the appointment of a commissioner of industries for the city of Peterborough. At the present time the council has no authority to appoint a commissioner, but some cities have got around this by appointing an assessment commissioner and making the securing of industries a part of his duties.

The appointment of a commissioner of industries came up at the meeting of the council this morning and brought out considerable discussion. Ald. Turner gave some interesting information about the work industrial commissioners are doing in other cities and was strongly in favor of having one for Peterborough. "They have an industrial commissioner in Toronto," Ald. Phelan said.

"And they have a lot of other things we can't get," said Ald. Bradburn.

In order that the city might be safe it was decided to put a clause in the city's application for legislation asking for permission from the Ontario Legislature to appoint an industrial commissioner. This does not mean that the city has to appoint one if the request is granted.

Ald. Morgan said that if Peterborough could give industries power at a low rate it would take a commissioner to keep factories away.

THREE INSPIRING ADDRESSES BY GIPSY HAWKINS

Three most interesting and profitable meetings were held yesterday in the Park St. Baptist church.

The morning service was a special message to Christians. Gipsy Hawkins gave a most instructive exposition of I. Corinthians, 3rd chapter.

In the afternoon the body of the beautiful church auditorium was very well filled with men, who sat for nearly an hour and listened reverently and, we are certain, with profit, to an eloquent address by Mr. Hawkins, "A Manly Talk to Manly Men." Taking for the foundation of his remarks Joshua 25:15, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Gipsy Hawkins delivered one of the finest addresses given to men in this city.

After a brief introduction, in which he referred to the real imperialistic spirit of the man, which is not gun-fighting or navy building, but character. The one essential need of the empire is straight, honest, clean, manly men. Most any man can go with the crowd, but the real man will stand only for God and right. Man enters this world alone; he must face it alone; he goes out of it alone. The crowd is not present at our advent, is generally missing when a moral issue is to be faced, and are never with us when the cold waves of Jordan's river dash their spray at our feet. We have but one life to live; one death to die, one soul to save; one God to meet.

In glowing terms Gipsy Hawkins described a touching meeting between Sir George Williams, the illustrious founder of the Y.M.C.A., and himself, and, remarked Mr. Hawkins, "the touch of his Christian hand-shake has always stayed with me. He is a firm believer in the Y.M.C.A."

A member decided for Christ. To-night Mr. Hawkins will take for his subject "The Resurrection of the Ungodly; What it is, When it Takes Place." Meetings every night this week. Special lecture on Friday night entitled "From Gipsy Tent to Pulpit." Come to-night and bring a friend.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

All classes are resuming work at the Y.W.C.A., and new classes are being formed. Now is an excellent time to take out a member's ticket and join one or more of the classes, which are free to members.

To-night at 7.30 Miss Steinhoff will meet her class. Salads will be taught and demonstrated. Tuesday evening the senior members' gymnasium class will meet. Most interesting marches, exercises and artistic movements are taught. At the commencement of this new term a number are joining this class. You, also, will be made welcome.

Also, on Wednesday evening we expect a new class formed for those who have never taken up the gymnasium work. All girls, not already members of the association, are invited to come on Wednesday evening, whether they wish to join the class or not.

Thursday, at 7.30 Miss Nichols will meet with all who desire to study the English subjects, and so prepare themselves for good business positions.

New members will also be welcomed to Dr. McCulloch's First Aid and Practical Nursing class, which meets at nine o'clock Thursday evening.

The Bible class will meet as usual Friday at 6.30. After an enjoyable half hour over the tea cups, Miss McCalla will give a talk "Impressions and Echoes from the Great Student Volunteer Convention" held recently in Rochester, N.Y., where over 3,000 students, representing 722 universities and colleges and some 200 missionaries, met together to discuss "The Evangelization of the World in this Generation." All interested in this great movement are invited.

WARNING

Since its introduction into Canada the sales of Parisian Sage have been phenomenal. This success has led to many imitations similar in name. Look out for them; they are not the genuine. See that the girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. You can always get the genuine at Wm. Madill's, the druggist, Peterborough.

Parisian Sage is the quickest acting and most efficient hair tonic in the world.

It is made to conform to Dr. Sangerbond's, of Paris, proven theory that dandruff, falling hair, baldness and scalp itch are caused by germs.

Parisian Sage kills these dandruff germs and removes all trace of dandruff in two weeks, or money back; it stops falling hair and itching scalp and prevents baldness.

And remember that baldness is caused by dandruff germs, those little hard working, persistent devils that day and night do nothing but dig into the roots of the hair and destroy its vitality.

Parisian Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing, not sticky or greasy, and any woman who desires luxuriant and bewitching hair can get it in two weeks by using it. 50 cents a large bottle.

A Wine-Making Trust?

Rochester, N.Y., Jan. 10.—An effort is being made by financiers in New York City, according to reports received from the grape regions of western New York, to consolidate all of the champagne and wine-making establishments in the United States.

J. Pierpont Morgan, it is said, is at the head of the proposed combination.

Hurricane Damage in Canary Islands.

Las Palmas, Canary Island, Jan. 10.—A violent gale Friday devastated the entire island of Grand Canaria, destroying many houses and ruining banana and other crops. The damage is estimated at many million pesetas.

Grand Canaria lies in the centre of the group of the Canary Islands. It has an area of 650 square miles.

Woman Dead From Poisoning.

Fairbury, Neb., Jan. 10.—Mrs. B. F. Kroeger is dead and nine members of the families of B. C. Kroeger and C. G. Drake, farmers near here, are ill from trichinae poisoning. More than a week ago the two families ate a quantity of raw pork sausage.

Shackleton to Go South.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Lieut. Ernest H. Shackleton announces that he has decided upon another Antarctic expedition. Shackleton has succeeded in getting nearer the South Pole than any other explorer.

Michigan Beet Sugar Crop.

Menominee, Mich., Jan. 10.—The year just closed will establish a new record for the beet sugar industry in the United States. It is too early to forecast the exact amount of the year's campaign, but the indications are that it will approximate 500,000 tons. The value of the sugar and the beet crop for feeding purposes is about $47,000,000.

There are 16 factories in operation in Michigan.

J. B. Lennon Defeated.

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 10.—In the referendum vote for general secretary of the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America, John B. Lennon of Bloomington, who has held the position for 23 years, has been defeated by E. J. Brais of Cleveland, who will take charge July 1, 1916. Lennon is also national treasurer of the Federation of Labor.

We want every person who is suffering from any skin injury or disease to personally prove the merits of Zam-Buk.

Read the experience of these three persons—possibly one of them may be well known to you—and then make it a personal matter. If you cut out this advertisement, write across it the name of this paper and mail it to us with a 1c stamp (to pay return postage) we will send you a trial box of Zam-Buk free!

Zam-Buk is a proved cure for eczema, ulcers, abscesses, poisoned sores, chapped hands, cold sores, eruptions, cuts, bruises, burns, scalp sores, babies' chafed or chapped places, and all skin injuries and diseases. It also cures piles. All druggists and stores for 50c, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

What Followed a Scratch.

Mrs. Brown 7 Calumet Ave., Montreal, says:—"While busy in the kitchen one day the oven door fell off, striking my right leg and inflicting a nasty scratch. While this was painful, I never thought it would become a serious wound, but to my surprise it became very much inflamed and very painful. I found that the dye from my stocking had got into it and poisoned it. The pain and inflammation got worse and the wound discharged freely. At this stage someone advised me to try Zam-Buk and I obtained a supply. This balm seemed to draw out the soreness at once, reduced the inflammation and soothed the wound. I naturally persevered with Zam-Buk and within a few weeks the wound was quite healed."

Eczema Banished.

To be covered with sores which sometimes itch and burn and then, when rubbed, cause acute agony—sores which look repulsive as well as cause pain—sores which have defied all remedies that have been applied to them—what could be worse? Yet this is the lot of scores of people to-day who suffer from that terrible disease, Eczema. To all such sufferers we will send trial box of Zam-Buk free! Write us, sending 1c stamp to pay return postage.

Mr. Wm. Dangerfield, 958 Lipton St., Winnipeg, says:—"Last winter I suffered from Eczema. After trying lotions, salves and powders given me by the doctor, which failed to do me any good, I tried Zam-Buk. This proved equal to my case and cured me."

Use as a Household Balm.

Mrs. W. Blair, 91 St. Catharine St., Hamilton, speaks of the value of Zam-Buk as a household balm. She says:—"I one day slipped and fell against a Morris rocker, knocking my knee very badly. The knee turned black and blue and was very painful. I rubbed Zam-Buk well into the injured member and it was indeed surprising how quickly I found relief. The swelling was soon reduced and pain and discoloration banished. By perseverance with Zam-Buk my injured knee was well again in a couple of days.

"I have since proved it to be the handiest and best balm for household purposes. A few applications of Zam-Buk gave me ease from rheumatism also!"

ADDRESSES OF PRACTICAL VALUE SPLENDIDLY GIVEN

At Farmers' Institute Supplementary Meeting at Central Smith—Three Excellent Discourses by Able and Effective Speakers—An Appeal to Interest the Young People in the Farm

"The Market End of Farming," "The Care and Management of the Horse" and "How to Interest Young People in the Farm" and "The Single Tax Question" were the important topics capably presented at the supplementary meeting under the auspices of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute at the Temperance Hall, Central Smith, on Saturday night. The speakers respectively were Messrs. H. C. Duff of Norwood, John Guardhouse of Highfield, and H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough, editor of "Farm and Dairy. Mr. J. H. Garbutt was in the chair. Mr. William Collins acted in his official capacity as secretary of the Institute.

In his address at the opening of the meeting Mr. Garbutt bespoke his approval of the Farmers' Clubs and commended the men of the district for their excellent example in organizing the pioneer association of that kind in the county. He spoke very hopefully of the accomplishment of the good results expected from the various Farmers' Clubs and recommended a large attendance at the address to be given by Professors Day and Zavitz at the Farmers' Club open meeting to farmers and their sons, which would be given at the Temperance Hall on Monday, January 24th. Mr. Garbutt also made reference to the three days' short course in judging to be given in the city of Peterborough.

"THE MARKET END OF FARMING"

Mr. Duff was then called upon to speak on "The Market End of Farming.

He prefaced his address by referring to the inauguration of that very popular and useful organization—"The Farmers Club," which is now growing so rapidly in the country. Mr. Duff dwelt on the the importance and practical value of the short course.

The speaker said "The Market End of Farming involved a wide range of discussion and he could not go into very fully.

The farmers had to cater to the demands of our markets and these demands were for the best. Central Smith was a dairying centre and the people had a large experience in that direction. But the Americans claimed a superiority and there was no doubt that they sent out superior products to the market. It was necessary that the Canadians should improve their products in the dairy department of farming.

Another important thing in farming was the raising of horses, but as Mr. Gardhouse was to speak at some length on that topic, the speaker said he would not enlarge upon that subject. Poultry was another very important matter. Mr. Duff gave some valuable pointers concerning poultry production and of the great value of proper feeding and suggested the most acceptable grains for poultry feeding. In these departments of work in relation to the farm the Farmers Clubs had much to consider. The speaker said that it was essential for the best standards and most desirable results to be obtained that there should be specialization in horses, dairy cows, poultry and other branches. It was much more desirable that this be accomplished than to have indiscriminated types.

Mr. Duff made an earnest plea for a Womans Institute in Central Smith and if one were organized the ladies could lend a very effective co-operation to the men workers.

An amusing and well received reading was given by Miss Gertie Martin

"CARE AND MANAGEMENT OF THE HORSE."

Mr. John Guardhouse, of Highfield, was the next speaker and after making some appropriate introductory remarks spoke on the dual subject of "How to Interest Young People on the Farm and "The Care and Management of the Horse, dealing first with the last named topic.

The speaker referred to the human fondness for the horse and of the general interest taken in the horse not only by the gentlemen but by the ladies as well.

The horse was something that all farmers were interested in. In a very interesting address and in a masterly and expert way Mr. Guardhouse dealt with the subject he was called to speak upon, giving in the essential points the same discourse that he did on Thursday at Stewart's hall, Otonabee, which is referred to in the report of that meeting.

The address was not scheduled for the Smith meeting, but realizing the timeliness of the subject and the general interest in it, Mr. Garbutt suggested that Mr. Guardhouse give it.

"HOW TO INTEREST YOUNG PEOPLE."

In opening his address on "How to Interest the Young People in the Farm," the speaker said if he could get the boys and girls interested in the farm he would be doing something that would be in the interests of the country at large. The city cousins were too often envied because the boys and girls on the farm only saw the bright side of the life in the city and did not look on the cheerful and independent side of their own life as much as they should. We should get our boys and girls interested in seeing things right and sizing up conditions relative to the city and farm from all standpoints.

Mr. Guardhouse lives only a short distance from the city, and drew from actual experience and observation that many young people who left the farm for the city to better their condition had failed in their objects.

It was necessary for the young folks on the farm to have an ideal and try to reach the top rung of the ladder in their future life on the farm. It was a good thing also to get the boys and girls interested in the things on the farm.

Another mistake made was that farmers didn't let their children know of the transactions in connection with the farm. The farmers should let their children know what was going on in the business of the farm, for that was a method of interesting them in farm life. When the farmer passed away or retired the children should be fitted to carry on the business of the farm.

Another thing that should be done was to make the farm more attractive. He would like to see the farm, home, made the most attractive one possible to find, and a place that the boys and girls would rather be than any place else. The home should also be provided with good reading material and music, if possible.

It was of vital importance that these details be attended to, if the young people's interest in the farm was to be retained.

"SINGLE TAX."

Mr. Cowan said he had enjoyed Mr. Guardhouse's address as much, and possibly more, than anybody else in the audience had, and he knew that Mr. Guardhouse practiced what he preached. Mr. Cowan enthusiastically endorsed the practice of sending around speakers to the Farmers' Institute meetings, and commented on the great good accomplished by the able addresses these speakers gave.

The fact that our farmers had not done better in the past was because they had not had enough knowledge along important lines, whereas those in other lines of business had. He said that everything should be done to get the boys interested in the farm.

The speaker, in a comprehensive and lucid address, dealt with the single tax question in as full a manner as the time would permit of. He argued strongly in favor of it, and spoke of its radical principle of taxation on the land only and not on improvements as a principle that was the ideal one from a farmer's standpoint.

All systems of taxation, it was held, were gradually narrowing down to the Henry George single tax. This system was a many sided one, and various countries were just grasping one side of it.

Speaking of the taxation, according to value, of city property, Mr. Cowan said where property was valuable in the city it was a result of the farmers increasing the value of their farms, for a flourishing city without a prosperous farming community surrounding it would be a hard thing to imagine. If the farmers were to stop producing, the city property would immediately depreciate in value.

Economic problems in connection with taxation were then ably dealt with. The big problem the farmer had to solve was to get an intelligent idea of the large principles that effected themselves and others. The immensely rich men had obtained their enormous wealth because they had grasped some of these great principles. The majority of the men of great wealth had obtained their money as the result of monopolies. The elementary principle of monopolies and the way in which they became of increasingly large value were explained by a practical illustration. In the growth of these monopolies the average man was not making any more money, while the few were greatly increasing their wealth.

Single tax affected many vested interests, but it was coming by leaps and bounds.

"We have to cease being led around by the nose by politicians," said the speaker, "and do some thinking for ourselves."

Conditions now were such that the more improvements a man made the greater his tax was, while single tax meant that the land only would be taxed.

The subject presented so many points of discussion that it could be discoursed upon for hours, but if he had only given his hearers light on a small phase of it, the speaker stated, he felt his visit would not be wasted.

STOMACH AGONY

Abolish the Cause, and Misery and Distress of Indigestion Will Vanish

Can indigestion be cured? Hundreds of thousands of people who suffer from belching of gas; biliousness, sour stomach, fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, nervousness and other distressing symptoms, are asking themselves that question daily.

And if these same doubting dyspeptics could only read the thousands of sincere letters from people who once suffered as badly as they do now, but who have been quickly and permanently cured by the use of Mi-o-na, the mighty dyspepsia remedy that cures by removing the cause, they would go to Wm. Madill this very day and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets, and start themselves on the right road to health at once.

The price of Mi-o-na tablets is only 50 cents, and Wm. Madill guarantees them to cure indigestion, or money back.

Thin or lean or scrawny people will find in Mi-o-na a maker of flesh and blood, because it causes the stomach to extract more nutritious matter from the food, which quickly enriches the blood.

ADAM'S SALE A BIG SUCCESS

The effect of a judicious use of printers' ink to advertise was well shown in the great success that attended the special sacrifice sale of T. H. Adams' stock of ladies' clothing, etc., following his extensive advertising in the Review of the week preceding the sale. All last week the store was a busy scene, and the clerks assisted by several additional helpers, were kept going with a rush that proved the genuineness of the bargains that were offered.

"CITIZEN" APPROVED REVIEW'S SUGGESTION

To the Editor of the Review.

Permit me a little space to express my approval of your suggestion to build an ice-palace on Armour's Hill. It appears to me that it is feasible and worthy of consideration. Our winter is long and steady enough to furnish a guarantee; the canal is near by with a plentiful supply of good ice and the hill is an ideal spot for tobogganing, bobbing, skiing and other winter sports. The benefits to be derived from it are many. It will afford additional winter amusement for the town, give employment for the otherwise idle and furnish attractions for the winter tourists. This cannot fail to advertise the city and increase its trade. The scheme is all right—push it along.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AT ANNIVERSARY DAY SERVICES

Two Excellent Sermons at All Saints' Church by Rev. L. E. Skey of St. Anne's Church, Toronto—The Spirit that Should Characterize Christian Giving

The anniversary services at All Saints' church yesterday were attended by large congregations, who listened to two excellnet sermons by the special preacher for the occasion, Rev. L. E. Skey, of St. Anne's Anglican church, Toronto.

Yesterday was the seventh anniversary of All Saints church. The past year has been one of importance to the congregation and rector alike. It was found that the present edifice was inadequate to meet the demands made upon it as a result of the progress made in each department. The corner stone of a large and handsome structure was laid and now the congregation are looking forward to the opening of their new church by which greater work can be done in the future.

In the morning. Rev. Mr. Skey took his text from the eighth verse of the third chapter of Malachi, "Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed Me. But ye say wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. What the church of God really needed to-day, said the speaker, was the blessing of Almighty God. The people to whom Jesus used the words of the text did not give their offerings in the spirit which he desired. There was no expression of love for Him in their givings.

They had worldly ideas, and in making offerings did it for their own glory. The speaker said he believed in tithe giving and thought that every man should give one-tenth of his salary to God. If this was done there would be a big change in the work of the church. There was a great difference between the spirit shown by the rich Pharisee and the widow. The widow gave to show that she loved Jesus, but the Pharisee gave that the others might see him. God notices the spirit in which we give our offerings, to-day just the same as he did then. He knows we are acting dishonestly with Him. We do not give enough. God said to his people, "bring all the tithes into the storehouse. The trouble was they did a few things and left a lot undone and the people of to-day acted in the same manner.

God showed His love of the world by giving what he loved most, His only begotten son, and He now asked our gifts as a proof of the reality of our love for Him. Without love He does not want them. They are not to be expended on himself. He asks for them, but spends them on His children. All the church given to-day comes back to us. He says if we give unselfishly He will open up the windows of heaven and pour down upon us His blessings. It was a good thing to get interested in Foreign Missions. Any church that took up this work would find the home contributions would greatly increase. The opportunity to get God's blessing was open to us all, and it remained for us to receive or refuse it. So many of the people to-day are only giving the crumbs. That is not giving in the true sense of the word. Something that contains a sacrifice is what God wants. To do this we must have the love of God in our hearts. We should ask ourselves the question, "Am I honestly loving God as I should?" The speaker gave an impressive word picture of the great love Abraham showed for God when he was asked to give up his son Isaac as a sacrifice. Abraham demonstrated a self-sacrificing spirit, and offered the best that he had. To be able to show such a spirit, it was necessary that we first give ourselves to Him, and the Rev. Mr. Skey closed with an appeal to all to offer themselves for His service.

EVENING SERVICE

Large numbers were unable to gain an extrance into the church for the evening service. Rev. L. E. Skey preached on the subject of Love, drawing his text from the 4th chapter of the 1st Epistle of St. John.

He spoke of the wonderful love of God in sending His Son—His only begotten Son—into the world to save the world, and how men and women should therefore love God. But our love of God above all things took this form, that a man love his brother. The preacher with wonderful power which came from a life which should itself through his words went at length into all the relationship of life as touched by love. We should show our love by sympathy with those in trouble; when a man's finances are hanging in the balance, then is the time and not later to say a kindly word. Mr. Skey spoke of the duty of husbands not merely to love their wives but to express that love over and over again. Then above all we should love those "who went out of the way. Women should be most Christ-hearted towards their unfortunate sisters, even as Christ's heart was large enough to receive all manner of sinners. Love was one of the fundumental principles of our Christianity. Each congregation would have all its problems solved by love—and Christianity would be welded into one body if each denomination could be heated to the white heat of love and speak more charitably of the other churches.

The anthem by the choir in the morning was "Break forth into joy, the solo parts being taken by Mr. H. Rush. Miss R. Dawson and Mr. Lee sang a duett, "Love Divine, in the evening.

OTTAWA MAYOR HOPES TO REDUCE THE TAX RATE

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—A reduction of the taxation rate, which is now eighteen mills and putting Sparks street wires underground, were advocated by Mayor Hopewell in his inaugural address yesterday morning.

He intimated that the readjustment of the relations between the city and the Government might enable the accomplishment of these two things.

One of the largest deficits on general account the city has ever had is shown in the annual financial statement issued by City Treasurer Ellis. The deficit amounts to $26,835. Total revenue on general account was $482,996, as against an expenditure of $509,831. For 1908 there was a small surplus.

MONTREAL WOMAN LIVED AS A MAN

Montreal, Jan. 11.—When William Dubois was sent down for vagrancy, he gave his age as 66, and unmarried. When he was led toward the bath he exhibited such objections that a second guard had to be called, and then appealed to the guards.

"My name is not William."

"Don't care ——."

"But it is Adeline."

The guards dropped the prisoner's arms and stared. Then they sent for the governor. He came, the matron was called, the prisoner was sent to the female jail. She had been working on a barge at the age of thirty, and found male attire more convenient. She adopted it, and now at the age of sixty-five she still wears it. She has been a street laborer for the past few years.

PHILADELPHIA HEIRESS HAS ELOPED WITH WAITER

Miss Roberta De Janon Who Ran Away on Dec. 20 From Philadelphia With a Married Man of 43, Named Cohen, is Arrested.

Chicago Jan. 11.—Living as father and daughter, Roberta Buist de Janon, a Philadelphia heiress, aged only 16, and Frederick Cohen, a former waiter of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, who eloped Dec. 29 from Philadelphia, were arrested late yesterday.

They were discovered by detectives in a rooming-house at 68 West Superior street, on the north side of the city. When the policemen entered the house Miss De Janon was playing with a pet dog which she took with her when she disappeared with Cohen, who is 43 years old and married. Cohen was reading in an adjoining room.

Cohen at first protested against arrest. He soon admitted his identity, however, and Miss De Janon, sobbing bitterly, pleaded with the police to restore her to her parents.

Cohen revealed to the officers the story of his flight with the girl from Philadelphia, a flight extending thousands of miles.

From Philadelphia they went to New York, then to Montreal and on to St. John, N.B., where they boarded a steamer for England, leaving it at Halifax, and going to Boston and then on to Chicago.

They gave up their trip to England at Halifax, because the boat officers would not permit the presence of Miss De Janon's pet dog on the vessel. At least, that was Cohen's explanation, but the police believe he planned to elude detectives.

Cohen and Miss De Janon reached Chicago on Thursday and rented a room in a boarding-house, introducing the girl as his daughter Alice. He said he was Robert King, a barber from Montreal, in search of work.

The girl, after she had admitted her identity, said that she and Cohen had reached Chicago with only $1.60, and that she gave Cohen a bracelet and a necklace, which he pawned to get money to live on. Their arrest followed a report to the police by the landlady, who had seen pictures of the eloping pair in the newspapers.

Cohen said he would waive extradition. He vehemently denied that any harm had come to Miss De Janon. In Miss De Janon's possession the police found several letters, some addressed to her parents, and one written to her by Cohen, dated Dec. 14. In this the waiter begged the girl to think twice before eloping with him. This letter follows:

"My Dear Roberta: After thinking the matter over thoroughly, I came to the conclusion, that, having nothing but your welfare and future happiness in mind to show you really, the first time since I have known you, how honest my love for you, by advising you not to take the step which you will later regret, and which will disgrace you and make you unhappy in the future.

"You know that I love you as I never loved a woman before—furthermore, you know in your own heart that towards you I am strictly on the level, and I am willing to sacrifice my future happiness only in order to do the right and square thing by you.

"Think matters over and weigh everything conservatively, and you will find that my motives toward you are as pure and honorably as only a man can be towards the girl he really and devotedly loves. To take you away from here just to gratify a whim, regardless of the disastrous consequences to yourself, would show me up only as a coward and not worthy of having the love of such an angel as yourself.

"Think this over. I know you will respect and trust me that much more for what I am sacrificing. By going away now with you—in my position—would ruin your whole future—our future. I would rather die like a dog than harm you, or be the cause of any harm or shadow to fall on you. If you can see my noble motives in the right light you will appreciate me that much more and can only respect me, even if you can never learn to love me. I will talk this matter over fully with you yet, and will try to convince you that the only reason I won't consent to take you away is because I am a man of principle and honor, and because I really love you.

The letter, unsigned, was written on stationery of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, and was mailed to Miss De Janon at her grandfather's in Philadelphia.

KEEP DEFENCE TO FORE IS POLICY OF UNIONISTS

Canadian Newspaperman Protests Against Calling Hamar Greenwood a Foreigner — London Electioneering Grows More Riotous Than Ever.

London, Jan. 11.—The Mail is making a great effort to make the country believe that defence is the dominant issue. This aspect of the political situation has so impressed one person in Richmond that on a high flagstaff he has hoisted a German helmet. Below is a German ensign. Then, decorated with crepe comes the Union Jack. "If this is what you want, vote Liberal," is the inscription. There are many protests at this indignity to the flag.

Stewart Lyon writes the press condemning the cry of "foreigner" used towards Hamar Greenwood in York. Concluding a dignified letter, Mr. Lyon says: 'There are two insults the colonial kinsman will not tolerate; one that their loyalty must be bought; the other that they are foreigners."

Electioneering in London is becoming still more turbulent. The Conservative candidate at Fulham had to watch a number of free fights before he could begin. Similar scenes were witnessed at a big Conservative meeting at St. Pancras division, where the hall was besieged by thousands. Even McNamara, in Camberwell, had a rowdy audience, though his opponents were distinctly in the minority. A suffragette endeavored to address the crowd, but, failing to make herself heard, she resorted to fistic arguments, much to its amusement.

Winston Churchill held a successful meeting at Birmingham, urging the Radicals in Chamberlain's stronghold to strike a blow for political freedom.

The Chancellor, continuing his western tour at Falmouth, said: "By all means treat with the colonies, but why them alone? The tradesman did not put a notice outside his shop, 'I'm going to trade only with relations.' If they began to introduce blood considerations in business, that blood would end in bad blood. If a Canadian wanted to buy goods, he did not say 'let us go to old mother's shop.'" Voice—"Yes, he does."

"No everything Canada could get cheaper from the States, she bought there. She did not pay more because things came from Britain, she would be a fool if she did. (Cheers.)

"Protection was like putting your arm into a cog wheel. Once in, it was drawn further and further. That is why there is distress in Germany."

The resources of the state were to be applied by the Liberals to the lifting of the poor out of the mire, and the needy from the dunghill.

Lloyd-George added that he made a gigantic provision in the budget for naval estimates in 1910.

Nineteen Conservatives are unopposed, including seven university representatives and seven Irish Unionists. Three-cornered fights number 82, the majority caused by the intention of the unofficial labor-socialist candidates.

SEVERAL GIRLS INJURED IN SCHOOL FIRE AT HULL, QUE.

Only Fire Escape in Building is Found to be Choked Up With Ice and Snow and a Score Jump From Upper Windows into Blankets.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—A bad fire broke out at St. Jean Baptiste Academy for girls on the outskirts of Hull yesterday morning. It is a three-storey building and 250 children were in it when the fire broke out at 9.30. All rushed for the doors. The arrival of excited parents and others added to the confusion.

Some children could not get out at the doors and about twenty jumped from the top and second storey windows and were caught in blankets.

Several girls between 12 and 14 years of age were hurt, but it is thought all will recover.

The building, worth $40,000, was practically destroyed by the three-hours' fire.

There was only one fire escape and the children rushed to that. It was found choked with ice and snow and a panic ensued.

Children Injured.

Marie Noel, aged 9, broken wrist and back dislocated; may die.

Miss Thieveierge, wrist probably fractured and injured internally.

Miss Turcotte, face cut by broken glass.

Edna Laurin, aged 11, broken limb.

Jean Ste. Charbonneau, broken wrist.

Alice Hanaux, aged 10, daughter of J. Hanaux, caretaker of school, internal injuries.

Eliza Leblanc, slight injuries.

Miss Lefebvre, slight injuries.

Two firemen hurt.

"At one time there was a pile of a dozen children or more, all unconscious, right under a window," said O. Deschenes, one of the rescuers, in describing the scene.

"It was the hardest sight I ever wit[illegible] children were falling all around. When they fell on their backs, you could hear all the wind knocked out of their little bodies.

"Many of them lay there apparently lifeless. If they were not pulled out of the way other youngsters would jump on their unconscious forms."

Sturgeon Falls Fire Swept.

Sturgeon Falls, Jan. 11.—Fire which broke out in the Windsor Hotel, a four-storey building, Sunday night, did $75,000 damage, with small insurance. The baggage of the guests and part of the furniture and fixtures were saved from the hotel. The fire spread to the Cockburn block, a frame building adjoining, licking up the Cockburn Mercantile Co.'s store, the postoffice, and the town clerk's office, doing serious damage to the building and dry goods' store of H. Lefcovitz, also the Imperial Block across the street and the Kirkup Hotel.

The hotel loss is $25,000, half insured; Cockburn Block, $8,000; insurance half; J. D. Cockburn's store, loss $8,000, insurance $5,000.

There was considerable open looting of salvage.

Fire at Little Current.

Little Current, Jan. 11.—Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock, fire broke out in the Potter Building, occupied by Jos. Ellengton, tailor, and E. Stephenson, jeweler. It quickly spread to the Mansion House, and on the other to B. H. Turner's store, telephone and telegraph office, P. C. Conlin's tailor shop and Kingsboro's hardware store. All are completely wiped out. Loss is over $50,000, mostly covered by insurance.

AID OF CITY IS REFUSED

Montreal, Jan. 11.—The finance committee of the Typhoid Emergency Hospital has refused its share of the city grant of $15,000 towards fighting typhoid. The city decided that it would pay one dollar a day per patient, although even the old-established hospitals find the care of patients run over $2.50 a day.

The committee holds that it was the work of the city in the first place, and they should have paid the whole cost. The funds of the hospital now amount to over $50,000.

YOUNG ROUNDER'S TRAGIC FINISH

New York, Jan. 11.—Nathaniel F. Moore, who died suddenly of heart trouble following dissipation in Chicago Sunday, was one of New York's best known spenders and bon vivants. In the winter of 1907 he gave a $20,000 dinner at Rector's to a select few. Gold and diamond sleeve buttons were given to the guests. At a dinner given on his 21st birthday Moore gave away pearl necklaces.

Moore went west and began to hustle freight at $40 a month for the Rock Island to learn the railroad business.

VERDICT BROUGHT AGAINST BRADLEY

Jury at Bulman Inquest Also Censures Railway Company

St. Catharines, Jan. 11.—The coroner's jury last night returned a verdict that George Bulman met death on New Year's afternoon by being struck and kicked on the head by William Bradley. The jury required 65 minutes to arrive at a verdict.

Two women, Mrs. Betty Jane Ethridge and Mrs. Emma A. Wills, gave important evidence. They had been standing near the corner of Disher and Merritt streets when the trolley, with the two men, stopped opposite lock 9. Both women swore they saw Bulman with outstretched hands, fall from the rear step of the trolley. Bradley then ran around from the rear of the car and kicked the deceased behind the left ear. None of the crowd of men offered any assistance to the injured man.

Mrs. Ethridge swore that when men pulled Bradley away he was very angry and endeavored to release himself, saying: "Let me get back at that —"

Mrs. Sa[illegible] A. Wilson, wife of Reeve Wilson of [illegible]rritton, saw Bradley strike at some one [illegible] he was standing in rear of the tro[illegible]

Mrs. Thomas Hastings, [illegible] Wi[illegible]son, John Dundas, Arthur W. [illegible]tosh, Richard Common also declared they had seen but little of the fracas.

The jury, in their verdict, said they were of the opinion that "had the rules of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Co., as regards disorderly conduct on the part of its passengers, been enforced, this regrettable happening might not have taken place."

Wants to Share Mail Subsidy.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—The White Star Dominion Line advises the Government through a deputation that unless it gets a share of the mail subsidy it will withdraw from the St. Lawrence route the new steamships Laurentic and Magentic. At present the Allan Line has the mail contract, but sublets part of it to the C.P.R. About half a million is paid out annually for the service.

HEROIC CURE FOR CANCER IS DISCOVERED

New York, Jan. 11.—Dr. James Ewing, head pathologist of Cornell Medical College, and president of the American Society for Cancer Research, stated yesterday that experiments upon animals convinced him that science was on the eve of discovering a cure for cancer in the human body.

In speaking of the laboratory study of cancer at the Cornell Medical College, Dr. Ewing said:

"Many tests were made upon dogs, with the result that animals which had been suffering with malignant cancer were positively cured. The method pursued was to bleed a dog afflicted with the disease until it was nearly lifeless, then connect its veins with a healthy animal, and fill them with new blood. Some of the animals treated have been watched for over a year after the operation, but none showed any recrudescence of the disease.

"I see no particular reason why a man suffering from cancer should not be benefitted by the re-establishment of a new blood supply, as is a dog."

ARE IN TROUBLE IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 11.—The detention home ended a sight-seeing trip of two young girls, said to be from Hamilton, Ont., who, during their stay here, were the guests of a man who bought $10,000 worth of "joy rides" and champagne in a month. The girls are Stella and Ruth Smith, aged 17 and 15. They were arrested Sunday night with two men who are now in the city prison, facing statutory charges. The girls told the police they came here under the protection of a friend of their father, and that this friend had inherited a small fortune. The fortune lasted just 30 days. Then the friend disappeared, leaving the girls penniless and at the mercy of the men arrested with them.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Three were killed in a railway collision at Shreveport, La.

The International Bricklayers' and Masons' Union are now in convention at Boston.

Storm warnings are now flashed by wireless to ships on the Atlantic by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

At New York four former employes of the American Sugar Refining Co., convicted of underweighing frauds, were sentenced to one year's imprisonment each.

At Windsor, Joseph Smith was fined $5 and costs for saying "Oh, you kid," to a married woman on the street, who was going home Saturday night, accompanied by her husband.

A straight and slender tail has been discovered behind the nucleus of Halley's comet, according to a despatch from Yerkes Observatory. The tail is about ten miles in length and has an angle of 60 degrees.

The suit of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co. against the American Sugar Refining Co. to recover $30,000,000 damages, has ended by the court ordering a cash payment of $750,000 and the return of a note for $1,250,000.

The little Island of Manhattan, which the Dutch traders took over from the Indians for $25 in beads and trinkets, shows to-day a real estate valuation of $4,439,863,061, according to the tax assessment books.

At Dayton, Ohio, Dominick Allio, prominent among the Italian colony, was shot dead in a quarrel, and Tomaso Villeila, the other participant, stabbed through and through, was found a little while later behind the house.

Chas. Cavanagh, a C. P. R. switchman, was killed in the yards at Winnipeg. [illegible]

GOOD LUMBERING IN THE EAST

Montreal, Jan. 11.—Owing to a lack of good sledding, lumber operations in Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have been seriously retarded in the last six or eight weeks, and had it not been for the snow falls of the last few days, eastern Canada would in all probability have been confronted with a lumber famine next spring. A. H. Campbell, managing director of the Campbell Marine Lumber Co., stated yesterday that such a possible famine was now averted. The lumbering conditions in Quebec are now favorable, he stated.

PREACHERS UNITE IN ATTACK ON STAGE

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 11.—Twelve leading preachers of all denominations on Sunday united in accusing the stage of placing nakedness and nudity as the chief drawing cards, or being the source of all forms of degeneracy.

Rev. H. Lichliter, a Methodist pastor, however, defended the stage as a modern institution, and denounced the "muckrakers, who seek notoriety, the preachers who have united in the wholesale condemnation of everything relating to the stage."

Failed to Convict.

Brockville, Jan. 11.—The crown has failed in its prosecution of John Whitford and Mrs. Rose Male for participation in the series of cottage robberies on the river front. Considerable loot was found in the possession of Whitford and the woman, but they claimed to have found it hidden in the trunk of a hollow tree.

Fire Chief Hall, in his report for 1909, states the fire losses at slightly over $7,000. Chief of Police Burke gives the number of arrests under 400.

TOBOGGAN RIDE PROVED FATAL

Montreal, Jan. 11.—The first tobogganing fatality of the season occurred last evening on the park slide on the mountain, resulting in the death of Mrs A. J. Corner and the serious injury of her daughter, Mrs. George Barrat.

Some boys, ascending the slide, allowed their toboggan to drop back into the slide where is was struck by one descending, on which were the two ladies and the younger woman's husband. The impact threw the descending toboggan from the slide, Mrs. Corner's skull being fractured. Mrs. Barrat was internally injured.

LIFE CONVICT KILLS HIMSELF

Kingston, Jan. 11.—Salem Assaly, aged 30, life convict in Portsmouth penitentiary, committed suicide Sunday night by hanging himself with a piece of twisted blanket to a hook in his cell. Assaly was sentenced at L'Original several months ago for the murder of his brother. He avoided capture for some time and in hiding from the police last winter had both legs so badly frozen as to necessitate amputation.

Happy Guelph.

Guelph, Jan. 11.—At the final meeting of the 1909 council yesterday the city was found to have a surplus of nearly $1,000 on a 14 1-2 mill tax rate, although the city's share of the new winter fair building cost $25,000, or $5,000 above estimate, and that $38,000 was appropriated to practically wiping out of the sinking fund.

The municipal operation of utilities is the clue to it all.

ARRESTED FOR CARLOS' MURDER

Lisbon, via Badajos, Spain, Jan. 11.—Sentries Sunday night fired upon a group of suspected persons who were prowling around the Necessidades Palace. The garrison in the palace was reinforced yesterday.

According to The Imparcial, forty Republicans recently were arrested, some of them suspected of being implicated in the murder of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz in February, 1908. The paper also declares that many other arrests will be made shortly.

LOST LIFE IN BURNING HOME

Utica, N.Y., Jan. 11.—Early yesterday morning the farmhouse of Mrs. Joseph Burnham, in this county, was burned. The family escaped in their night clothes, but Mrs. Burnham's daughter, Eliza, returned to secure some covering for an invalid aunt, and was burned to death. The invalid is not expected to live, and the others are suffering severely from exposure.

MONTREAL PASTOR LEAVES FOR WEST

Montreal, Jan. 11.—Rev. E. D. Reid Sunday evening announced to the Taylor Church that he had accepted the position of superintendent of Presbyterian missions for Alberta and would leave in a month. When he joined the Taylor Church there were 270 members and a deficit. Now there are 1,300 members and no debt, while $23,000 has been spent in improvements on the church.

TUESDAY, JAN. 11, 1910.

A GOOD JOKE

We have been wondering how long it would take the east to find out paying for advertising the west had its disadvantages as well as its advantages. Quebec has been looking into this matter of late, and has come to the conclusion that somebody has been making a fool of himself. The rich province of New Brunswick is at a standstill, while Ontario, years ago lost its then proportion of federal representatives and has never recovered it. It is true that the west is a great country, but can the east afford to sacrifice itself to the west in the way it has been doing!

A TARIFF OBJECT LESSON

Trade Review.

Under the head of "Tariff Reform Object Lesson," the Belfast, Ireland, "News Letter" recently printed an account of the annual meeting in Glasgow of the stockholders of the R. & J. Dick, Limited, rubber boot and belt manufacturers. J. Parker Smith, who presided, stated that special efforts were being made to extend their business in America, and, while they met with success under Canada's preferential Tariff, in the United States the position was different. The field in the latter country was enormous, but the high tariff of 35 per cent. on belts made it impossible for them to do a profitable business there. Hence they had concluded to enter the field in the only way possible by erecting a factory in the United States, for which purpose they had already secured a site in New Jersey. The directorate regretted having to move to New Jersey, and the loss of employment to the Scotchmen was unfortunate, but it could not be helped.

The 35 per cent. represents exactly the difference in wages and standard of living in U.S. and Scotland. There are cases, of course, of extortion in various forms under Protection as under Free Trade with its combines, trusts and mergers, but the real object and benefit of Protection is well exemplified in the above.

BAD BUSINESS

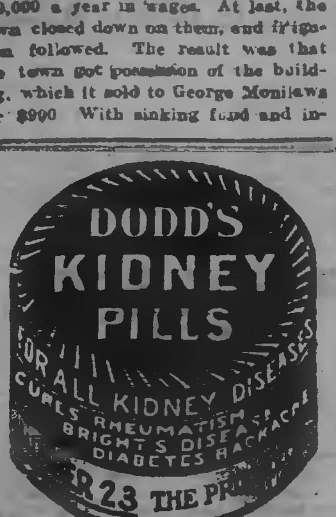
Hamilton Spectator.

The Kincardine Review, in its last issue, tells the story of a bonus given by the town of Kincardine to secure a new industry. The story is so brief, yet so eloquent, that we reproduce it here in full:—

"Last week saw the last debenture paid of the Grundy bonus given by the town of Kincardine to the Grundy Bros. to start a stove foundry here. That by-law was passed in 1889. A brick building was put up at the corner of Queen and Broadway, and for two or three years the company did a fair business. Then it began to give way until at last only a few hands were employed, but lest the business should be closed up entirely the Finance Committee always wrote off the $700 as agreed upon if the company filled its obligations. The bonus was for $10,000; the debentures running for twenty years, and each year's debenture was to be written off provided the company paid out $10,000 a year in wages. At last, the town closed down on them, and litigation followed. The result was that the town got possession of the building, which it sold to George Moniliawa for $900 With sinking fund and interest for twenty years, that bonus cost the town at least $12,000.

Since this bonus was granted, there has been a change in the law which makes it very much more difficult for towns or cities to grant money loans or bonuses to private or other enterprises, with the result that to-day the bonus evil—for evil it is—is by no means so general as it used to be. Nevertheless, there is yet enough of it to make one wish that it might be still further lessened, either by legislation or the common sense of the people.

It may be taken for granted nine times out of every ten, that the industrial concern that goes bonus-hunting is not the sort of a concern really worth having. If a concern looking for a new location is one of the desirable sort, and stands in need of additional capital, there is usually enough private capital lying round loose, waiting for profitable investment, to be had for the asking. And if it is not possible for the company promoter to favorably impress the capitalist and secure his financial support in his enterprise, it may be assumed that the municipality will be making no mistake if it declines any bonus overtures with thanks.



EDITORIAL NOTES

Sir John A. Macdonald's birthday. Hail to the old chief's memory!

If Cook had got away with his lie he would have been entitled to reside in Peterborough.

The impression is gaining ground that the country will not put up with the waste involved in Sir Wilfrid's Canadian navy policy.

If Churchill and Lloyd-George represent high-water mark in British politics the doom of the Old Sod is sealed and even Asquith couldn't save it.

Sir Wilfrid at Toronto.—"Britain has no need of a Canadian fleet. Canada has no need of one. Therefore we go to construct a Canadian fleet." There is much laughter in Montreal over the Prime Minister's "subtlety."

The French-Canadians are a brilliant and lovable people, but they have determined to "plow their own furrow." They will not fuse with us. How then can there be harmony in Canada?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to go to Toronto for another banquet in February. These banquets and pronouncements are in some quarters, considered to indicate an appeal to the country on the navy question.

If there is to be an exceptional rush of Italians to Canada next spring, there should be exceptional arrangements made to inspect them—not because they are Italians, but because a large proportion of the people from Europe are not desirable immigrants. The unfit should relentlessly be deported.—The Globe.

From the Calgary Herald.

"We had a very nice editorial written up for to-day's paper, all about the balmy days we have in Alberta as compared with the storm-ridden East, but we will have to pigeon-hole it for next year."

This is what happened the Examiner when it wrote of Mr. Buchanan's frozen ear.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Firm—United States Markets Steady to Lower.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—London cables quote live cattle higher at 13c to 14c, dressed weight. Liverpool at 13c to 13¾c; refrigerator beef, at 9½c to 9¾c per pound.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 42 carloads, consisting of 889 cattle, 26 hogs, 409 sheep and lambs, with 12 calves.

Butchers.

We did not hear of any picked lots of prime cattle being sold as such, but several buyers stated that they were worth from $5.75 to $6; loads of good sold at $5.50 to $5.75; medium, $5 to $5.25; common, $4.50 to $4.90; cows, $3 to $4.60; canners, $1.50 to $2.

Milkers and Springers.

McDonald & Halligan topped the market for milch cows at $61 each. Prices ranged from $35 to $61 each.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was strong at $3 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Wesley Dunn, who was the heaviest buyer of sheep and lambs, reports the following: Sheep, ewes, $4.50 to $4.80; culls and rams, $3 to $3.50; lambs, $6.50 to $7. But selected lots, it will be seen, sold at higher prices. See sales given below, which shows that trade was good for sheep and lambs, with prices firmer.

Hogs.

Prices for hogs were again quoted higher. One buyer for a leading packing house informed The World that $8.40, f.o.b., cars.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, receipts for last week were 1575 cattle, 1100 sheep and lambs, 2250 hogs and 250 calves. Supply this morning included 1000 cattle, 850 sheep and lambs, 1600 hogs, and 125 calves.

For cattle, prices since last Monday show an advance of ¼c to ½c per lb, attributed to continued small supplies running below actual requirements of local consumption. There were no cattle on the market that could be classed as choice stock, or 6½c per pound would no doubt have been easily realized. There was a good enquiry from Quebec buyers, and they bought all the stock available. A fairly active trade was done with sales of best steers at 6c to 6¼c, and lower grades down to 3½c to 4c. Cattle for packers' purposes held firm at 3½c to 4c, and supplies were none too plentiful.

Another important feature continues to be strong upward tendency for hogs, with a further advance of 35c to 40c per cwt. since this day last week, and every indication of a higher level before long. Prices to-day for selected lots ranged from $9.20 to $9.40 per cwt., weighed off cars, the highest on record, due to scarcity of supplies thruout the country. Demand was good for all offerings, but packers state that the present high prices will no doubt tend to curtail the consumption to some extent. A year ago to-day selected hogs were selling at $7.25 to $7.35.

For sheep and lambs prices were firmly maintained under a good demand and limited supplies. Lambs sold at 6¾c to 7c, and sheep, at 4¼c to 4½c per lb. In calves, with good demand sales were made at 4c to 6c per lb.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 3100 head; active and 15c to 25c higher; prime steers, $6.75 to $7; shipping, $6 to $6.65; butchers, $5 to $6.60; heifers, $4.50 to $5.50; cows, $3 to $5.65; bulls, $3 to $5.75; stockers and feeders, $3.50 to $5.15; stock heifers, $3.50 to $4.25; fresh cows and springers, strong to $2 higher, $25 to $60.

Veals—Receipts, 800 head; active and steady, $6 to $10.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,800 head; active and 10c to 20c lower; heavy and mixed, $9.10 to $9.15; yorkers, $9 to $9.15; pigs, $9 to $9.10; roughs, $8.25 to $8.50; stags, $7 to $7.75; dairies, $9 to $9.10.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 12,800 head; active wethers, 15c higher; lambs, $5.25 to $9.10; yearlings, $7.50 to $8; wethers, $5.25 to $6.40; ewes, $5.25 to $5.75; sheep, mixed, $3 to $5.75; Canada lambs, $8.75 to $8.90.

New York Live Stock.

CHIEF ROSZEL DENIES THE STATEMENT OF E. F. LAWRENCE

That He Was Asked to Plead "Guilty" and Promised a Light Fine—Graham's Appeal Sustained—Closing Chapter of Prosecutions.

His Honor Judge Huycke upheld the appeal entered by Mr. George N. Graham, proprietor of the Oriental, against the decision of Police Magistrate Dumble, the latter imposing a fine of $200 on the appelant on the charge of serving liquor on the night of Sunday, November 21st. In summing up the evidence given at the appeal, His Honor stated he was not satisfied that he could uphold the conviction on the strength of the police evidence. He said he had no antipathy towards policemen and was not prejudiced against accepting their testimony. On the contrary, he had warm sympathy for police officers, and realized that in the faithful discharge of their duties they were a very valuable asset to society. His Honor was at a loss to know, however, why special watch should be kept on the Oriental by the two policemen for five successive nights, when there were eighteen other hotels in the city they paid no attention to, when the license inspector, whose special office it is to see that the license law was kept, was not informed, and when the business section of the city was left without police protection for some time on each of these nights.

The evidence of the police was convincing to a certain extent, but not sufficiently so to satisfy the court that it would be proper to entertain it as strong enough to warrant a confirmation of the police magistrate's decision. The appeal was, therefore, sustained, without costs being granted.

The appeal is the last circumstance in a list of events of legal procedure for illegal selling of liquor and perjury, which have grown out of charges laid as a result of P.C. Newhall's and P.C. Mcbarry's reports concerning their observations in connection with the Oriental. The outcome of yesterday's appeal marks a failure on the part of the prosecution in all the cases.

When the afternoon session of yesterday's sittings was opened, Ernest Lawrence, who testified in the morning, was recalled by Mr. Pousette as a witness for the prosecution.

Lawrence, on being recalled, was again questioned by Mr. Pousette as to whether he was in the Oriental on Sunday, November 21st.

Mr. O'Connell objected to Mr. Pousette's line of examination, but the latter held that Lawrence was a hostile witness. The court could not see that he was, however.

License Inspector Joseph Stewart, the first witness on behalf of the appelant, said he had watched the Oriental in company with P. C. Newhall, and had seen no illegal selling going on.

JABS AND CUONTERS.

Mr. Pousette questioned Mr. Stewart on cross-examination, concerning Mr. Graham's character. "That's no evidence," said Mr. O'Connell.

Mr Graham leaned over to his counsel, Mr. O'Connell, and said (referring to Mr. Pousette) "Ask him about his own character." The remark was audible in a certain portion of the room and caused some laughter.

Mr Pousette, while apparently not catching the exact expression, suspected Mr. Graham had said something concerning him, and, looking across to where he was sitting, said to Mr. Graham: "Be careful, young man, or I'll have you put down below."

OTHER TESTIMONY.

Mr John T. Maunder, a Lindsay hotelman, gave evidence next, his testimony being much the same as at the perjury trial. He got nothing to drink from Mr. Graham on Sunday night, November 21st.

Victor Fowler was in the Oriental on the Sunday night, but got nothing to drink.

Harry Stinson, a bartender at the Oriental, testified concerning the system of the cash registration in the bar. He had a key for one drawer. P. J. Carrol, the other bartender, had a key for the other drawer, and the manager, Chris. G. Graham, had a key that opened the keg. There were no pumps in the bar that he knew of, not even an auxiliary air pressure pump.

C. G. Graham, manager of the Oriental, L. O'Connor and P. J. Carroll testified, and were followed by the appelant, G. N. Graham.

This concluded the appelant's case, and in reply P. C. Adams was called by the prosecution, but the court ruled his evidence irrelevant, and he was dismissed.

COUNCIL'S ARGUMENTS.

Mr. Pousette held that the appeal should be confirmed on the evidence of the police officers, whose credibility had not been questioned at the present proceedings.

Mr. O'Connell said the matter was one of great importance to Mr. Graham, and that the case should be incontrovertably established before a conviction against the defendant should be confirmed. He submitted that the police officers' stories were improbable and that the two policemen had contradicted themselves.

THE CHIEF EXPLAINS.

At the suggestion of Mr. Pousette, Chief Roszel was allowed to take the box and make an explanation concerning the statement Lawrence made at the morning session. The chief said he met Lawrence on the street and gave him a summons on the charge of getting liquor at the Oriental during prohibited hours. The chief said Lawrence admitted getting the drink and stated he wished the whole thing was over. The chief then took Lawrence to Magistrate Dumble's office as means of getting the matter over quietly. He asked that the magistrate impose as light a fine as possible as Lawrence was "a poor man and a fool." The magistrate imposed a nominal fine of two dollars.

APPEAL SUSTAINED.

His Honor said he had come to the conclusion that he would disregard the evidence at both the police court and perjury trials against G. N. Graham. He said it impressed him as peculiar that for five successive nights the police should watch the Oriental, when there were eighteen other hotels not being watched, and when the streets were left unpatrolled. His Honor intimated that from their zeal in so closely watching the Oriental it might look as though they had some ulterior motive for doing so. He stated that the respondent had not proved the case and would, therefore, sustain the appeal and quash the conviction.

RESURRECTION OF THE UNGODLY

A Striking Exposition of Gospel Truths Given by Gipsy Hawkins

A most interesting meeting was held last night in the Park St. Baptist church. Gipsy Hawkins had for his special subject "The Resurrection of the Ungodly." Seldom has an exposition of the scripture truths bearing upon this all important subject been given with such simple clearness as was given last night by Mr. Hawkins, who is to all intents and purposes "a man of one book." Taking his text from Rev. 20: "And I saw the dead, great and small, gathered before the throne, and the books were opened."

Mr. Hawkins called special attention to four things: the throne, the Judge, the judged, the books. There will be a faithful record of each life kept. The saints will not be judged, but will sit upon thrones and assist in the judgment.

Special meeting to-night. A number decided last night for Christ.

On Friday night Gipsy Hawkins will give his celebrated lecture, "From Gipsy Tent to Pulpit."

A special thank offering will be taken. All should come and hear this thrilling story of gipsy life.

KNOX CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE'S GUILD

The election of officers for this year took place last night. Rev. H. J. Keith, B.D., M.A., was in the chair. After the devotional exercises the following were elected:—

Hon. President—Rev. H. J. Keith, B.D., M.A.

President—Mr. J. W. Patten.

Vice-President — (Devotional) Mr. Wm. Lorimer

Vice-President — (Missionary) Miss

Vice-President—(Literary) Mr. Roy Laing.

Vice-President—(Social) Mrs. W. A. Parker.

Vice-President — (Membership) Miss Maud Bartley.

Secretary—Mr. A. C. Davenport.

Treasurer—Miss Harvey.

Organist—Miss Lottie Chiles.

Ass't Organist—Miss E. Williamson.

A pianoforte solo was rendered by Mr. A. G. Graham, also a song by Master F. Montgomery.

Light refreshments were then served. The president, Mr. J. W. Patten, thanked those present for placing him again in a position of trust. He urged the new officers to take up the work enthusiastically, backed by every member. He referred to the past year's good work. Committees were also elected to each department.

The enjoyable evening came to a pleasant close.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Peterboro People

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help."

Booth's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Peterborough cures are the proof.

Mrs. R. Duncan, of 115 McDonnel street, Peterborough, Ont., says:—

"Some thirteen months ago I suffered with a severe attack of La Grippe that had up until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced Bright's disease and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. I was unable to sleep through the night the desire to urinate was so frequent and irregular. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I became so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at Mr. William Madill's Pharmacy, and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used three boxes of Booth's Kidney Pills and have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong, and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

LIKED THE FIGHTING APOSTLE.

Name of St. Peter Appealed to Heart of Soldier.

It is well known that Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, not only enlisted as a common soldier in the ranks of the Seventeenth Connecticut regiment, carried a musket, and did full military duty during the war, but at a certain juncture, when national finances were at a low ebb, he paid soldiers out of his own pocket. Relative to this incident, P. T. Barnum used to tell this story:

"While Mr. Howe was counting out the money referred to, a stranger, who was a clergyman, entered the tent and said he had heard of Mr. Howe's liberality and had called to ask him to contribute toward building a church for his congregation.

"'Church, church,' said Mr. Howe without looking up from his bills he was counting; 'building churches in war times, when so much is needed to save our country! What church is it?'

"'St. Peter's church,' replied the clergyman.

"'Oh, St. Peter's,' said Mr. Howe; 'well, St. Peter was the only fighting apostle—he cut a man's ear off. I'll go $500 on St. Peter, but I am spending most of my money on saltpeter now.'"

A TREE THAT IS WORSHIPED.

Ficus Religiosa Held Sacred by Buddhists and Hindoos.

In most of the countries of southeastern Asia, the Indian Ficus religiosa, the sacred and consecrated fig tree, or peepil tree, is found. It is held pre-eminently sacred by the Buddhists, and is revered also by the Hindoos, the birth of Vishnu having occurred beneath its branches.

It is a handsome tree, growing frequently to a great height. It is an evergreen, which puts forth its flowers in April, and the bark yields freely upon incision an acrid milk containing a considerable proportion of india rubber. The leaves are heart-shaped, long, pointed and vibrate in the air like those of the aspen.

A branch of one of these trees, having a notable history, was sent to a city in the interior of Ceylon, where it was planted, and became known by the name of the bo-tree. For 200 years it received the highest reverence, and is still the chief object of worship to the pilgrims who every year flock to the ruins of the city.

Trim Your Nails.

There is a certain eminent physician who, wiser than the children of light, plods his way along in an unbeaten track and has no peer as a diagnostician. He is always accompanied by an expert manicurist, instead of a white or colored valet. "The human nail, like the human hair," he said to me, "is much affected by physical conditions. Barbers will tell you that in certain seasons the beard, for instance, grows nearly twice as fast as at others. It is so with the nails. At times, according to how we feel, the free edge may be a month in growing; there is some retarding agent. At other times it may grow in a week. Sometimes the nail has transverse furrows, indicating periods of illness. At other times it bears furrows running lengthwise—a sure indication of gout. My manicurist can tell by these indications when your last sickness occurred, and I can tell what the malady was."

She Got the Letter.

The post office official put on his severest manner.

"You say you mailed the letter about half an hour ago at a window in the east corridor?" he asked.

The beautiful woman dabbled a handkerchief at her soulful eyes and at the tip of her classic nose.

"Yes, yes," she said.

"To whom was it addressed?"

She told him.

"And now you want to stop that letter?" he went on, still more sternly. "You want to get it back? "Why?"

"Because," said the woman with unpremeditated frankness. "I am afraid his wife will get it."

"Oh," said the stern official.

She got the letter.

The Psychology of the Badge.

"I've always noticed," spoke up Old Jim, "that us farmers, when we git on a biled shirt and a derby hat, feel about the same as a city feller wearin' a soft shirt and a slouch hat. We sort o' b'lieve that it's our duty to over-in-dulge. In the old days I wuz one o' them kind what couldn't even pin a badge on my coat without a-feelin' that I had a license ter paint the town red."

"Yes," laughed Cal, "there hain't no sadder sight than ter see a perfectly sober man all covered with ribbins and badges."—From "Old Jim Case of South Hollow."

Resentment.

"Does you charge 30 cents foh dat little box o' strawberries?" asked Aunt Hannah, superciliously.

"Yes," answered the grocer.

"An' it 'ud take about a thousan' of dem berries to make one ten-cent watermelon! I doesn't mind de price, but I does hate sech impidence!'—Washington Star.

Dead Dog.

"What's become of your dog? I haven't seen him for a long time."

"You notice what a cold I've got?"

"Yes, but what's that—"

"Well, a lot of people told me things to do for my cold, and I was wise enough to try 'em on him first."

Wm. S. McRoberts, a railway employee, was run over and killed at Windsor, [illegible]

No Sunday Picture Theatres.

London, Jan. 10.—The London county council has decided that cinematograph shows shall not be opened on Sundays or Good Friday. An amendment by Rev. Stewart Headlam that, as the regulation would debar Jews from attending, the shows should be opened on six days of each week, was rejected.

Girl's Snowball Kills Boy.

Newark, N.J., Jan. 10.—John McCann, 10 years old, is dead at his home as the result of a blow from a snowball thrown at him on New Year's Day by a small girl playmate. The lad was struck on the back of the neck and spinal meningitis suddenly set in.

Fewer Idlers.

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 10.—A decrease in idleness among organized wage-earners of the state is reported by the State Labor Department in its quarterly bulletin, made public yesterday, covering the months of July, August and September of 1909.

Fire at Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Ont., Jan. 10.—The Anglo-American Hotel, bowling alley and a house, all belonging to Jeremiah Manloux, were burned to the ground early yesterday morning.

Killed In Runaway Accident.

Kingston, Jan. 10.—Thomas Featherstone, aged 70, Brandon, Man., visiting here, was fatally injured by a horse in a runaway throwing him upon a pavement and crushing in his skull.

Explosion Kills Eight.

Dallas, Ore., Jan. 10. The accidental explosion of dynamite on the line of the Oregon Trunk Railway late Saturday killed eight laborers and injured several others.

Corset Ancient Armor.

A French historian of women's dress states that the corset was worn by the ancient Egyptians. This assertion is borne out by the figures carved on the tombs of women, who are invariably represented as wearing a garment strongly resembling the modern corset. There does not appear to be any representation extant of Cleopatra VI., the beloved of Antony, but in one of the temples there is a figure of her predecessor, Cleopatra II., in which the sculptor has endowed her with a corset cut on the lines of those worn today. Whalebone was probably unknown to the Egyptians, but a nation capable of constructing pyramids without steam cranes would probably find no difficulty in making stays without busks.—London Chronicle.

GRUESOME FIND IN PORT HOPE

Special to the Review.

Port Hope, Ont., Jan. 11.—Mr. Thos. Tucker made a gruesome find this morning when he discovered imbedded in ice and snow underneath the east pier, a left human foot, encased in a rough boot. The foot was badly chawed by rats. Evidence of it having been attached at a recent date to a body was apparent in the condition of the ankle point. An effort to discover further remains will be prosecuted at once.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

The Mayor's message to the Council is a candid and definite utterance concerning the programme for the year. It is noticeable for the absence of say-nothingism and hedging, so characteristic of many "statements." We may look forward to a year of intelligent activity and progressive municipal work. The Mayor's remarks regarding power and economy are worthy of especial notice. But chiefly is the message noticeable for the fact that his Worship does not consider it necessary to refrain from committing himself to a policy. This exhibition of candour and virility will be appreciated.

T.A.S. ANNIVERSARY

The celebration of the T. A. S. last evening in the Opera House was marked by a ringing note of manliness that may do great good in Peterborough.

The testimony of a number of prominent business men to the success of the T.A.S. movement amongst its members set the seal upon the necessity of sobriety as a working virtue. A man who "boozes" is too irregular in his habits for a well-governed and skilfully handled institution. One speaker said that intemperance was the greatest curse of the world today. That is doubtful. There are others still farther-reaching and others still more hideous and deadly. The one, however, is yielding to saving good sense and what they call in Germany "efficiency" and the others will no doubt be made to yield when some small part of their real horror has dawned upon the public mind. Mr. Jos. Begley's earnest and well-delivered remarks upon the need of the "valiant heart within" were a pleasure to listen to. He represented the "members" and did it well.

The mockery of morals and the sham of shameless ill-doing received a coup-de-grace at his hands. His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, was evidently well pleased with the success of the undertaking.

Of the reclaiming one may say with Watson;

"He hath returned to regions whence he came,
Him doth the spirit divine
Of universal loveliness reclaim,
All nature in his shrine,
Seek him henceforward in the wind and sea,
In earth's and air's emotion or repose,
In every star's august serenity,
And in the rapture of the flaming rose,
There seek him if ye would not seek in vain,
There, in the rhythm and music of the Whole:
Yea, and forever in the human soul
Made stronger and more beauteous by his strain."

ANNUAL MEETING OF EXHIBITION

THE RETURN OF AN OLD FAVORITE

The "Royal Chef" on Saturday Night--Catchy Music--Bright Comedy

If one-half the good things said of the "Royal Cheff,' by both critic and playgoer of other cities be true, and the writer has no doubt they are, Peterborough is in for a theatrical treat next Saturday, matinee and night, at "The Grand,' one not only out of the ordinary, but which will doubtless prove a real loss to miss seeing and hearing. The music by Ben Jerome, it is asserted, is particularly charming, while the story and lyrics of Charles S. Taylor and Geo. Stoddard is vivacious and brilliant, overflowing with rich, intelligent humor and hitherto untouched ideas, that it is claimed, never for a single moment verts to monotony, either in color or style. The presenting company is delighted therewith, being composed of fine singers, great dancers and comedians capable of amusing and exhilarating effort. It is claimed that besides the many entertaining features of the "Chef,' its entire tone is elevating, which is much to be desired after the hideous doggerel and imbecility of a lot of so-called musical comedy triumphs, which have gone before. Walter A. Bohme, easily the most interesting of a fine company, will appear in his original character of the "Royal Chef,' his portrayal of "Heinrich Lembauser' being one of the most finished character creations introduced to the stage in many a day. Mr. Bohme is described as an inventive comedian, keen, energetic, and his complete mastery of the rather difficult and laughable mixture of broken English and German dialect is admirable. Almost equally important is the fact that he has a fine singing voice and renders his numbers in a manner exhibiting cultivation. The feminine portion is composed of attractive young singers and dancers, a fact taken advantage of by capable and inventive stage management; to form handsome creatures into bouquets, garlands and tableaux galore. The original Broilers consist of sixteen young girls of exact size and weight, each one a dancing expert, is a component part of the "Chef,' and will make their appearance with fourteen of the original members. Our playgoers who enjoy smart, snappy wit, sweet, vacuous melodies and catchy song hits, must not overlook the forthcoming engagement of the "Royal Chef"

LAUDER TALKS TO THE PREACHERS

And Gives Them His Idea of How to Keep Theatricals Clean

Cincinnati went wild over Harry Lauder. The little Scot packed the Orpheum at every performance, and as far as receipts were concerned the box office of Col. Martin's Walnut Hills house was filled with coin all week. One incident of Lauder's Cincinnati visit was an official welcome by the Caledonia Society at at the Hotel Sinton. Several distinguished clerical gentlemen talked. They praised Lauder for refusing to perform on Sunday. Others took pot-shots at the stage in general. Rev. Dr. Peter Robertson, Rev. Charles Frederic Goss, and Rev. Louis Hoeck were among those who spoke. When it came to responding the little Scot comedian made a splendid talk.

He said to the ministerial critics: "If you want the stage to be good and pure, you should come to the theatre yourselves, you ministers. You will never accomplish what you want or make the stage what you want it to be by preaching from the pulpit without a more intimate acquaintance; you must preach about what you see and not about what you hear. You will never make the theatre pure unless you go. You have got all you can do to make pure people out of those who go to the theatre."

AN IMPORTANT CHAPTER IN T.A.S. HISTORY

Was Written in Ineffaceable Letters at the 10th Anniversary Celebration—Sincere Tributes to the Society and its Late Spiritual Advisor — An Interesting and Highly Successful Occasion.

"Palmam qui meruit ferat"—'the palm who merits it let him bear off,' was the motto painted on a large banner attached to the stage curtain at last night's celebration of the 10th anniversary of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society at the Grand Opera house. When applied to the magnificent achievements of the society in the active sphere of total abstinence with all its attending good the reference seems especially appropriate. For it is generally conceded that the T.A.S. is an organization not only with an object which must receive the commendation of every right thinking man, but its material success is also a striking tribute to Rev. Dr. O'Brien, until very recently its spiritual adviser and to its enthusiastic officers and members as well. The gathering last night was not only a means of celebrating the society's tenth anniversary but a representative assembly of leading Catholics and Protestants to pay their sincere respect to the esteemed doctor and to eloquently commend him for the splendid work he has done and to voice their admiration for the very encouraging support given him in his noble mission.

A noteworthy feature of the evening was the presentation by the members of the T.A.S. to the popular and revered late spiritual adviser of a purse of $200 in gold accompanied by a highly appreciative address which was read by the secretary of the society, Mr. Joseph Maher, the presentation being made by the retiring president, Mr. Joseph Picard.

Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's and the newly appointed spiritual adviser of the T.A.S., was in the chair, and introduced the speakers and the soloists in a particularly happy fashion, his remarks being jovial and entertaining and lending much to the spirit of geniality and good feeling which prevailed throughout the function.

The list of speakers was a long one and when the curtain went up after the prelude of appropriate and well-played selections by the Opera House orchestra, there was seen seated on the stage a large representation of local and outside clergy of the Catholic church and many public-spirited citizens of Peterborough. The musical programme was an excellent one and every one of the contributors was warmly encored. The event in every respect was an outstanding success and the audience of sixteen hundred persons showed the greatest interest and was spontaneous and cordial in its splendid appreciation.

A RECORD TO BE PROUD OF.

The evening's proceedings were formally opened by Rev. Father McColl, who explained the object of the gathering as one to celebrate the tenth anniversary of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Sociaty. It was the largest of any society of men in the city and was larger than many male societies in many cities considerably greater in the matter of population, than Peterborough. Father McColl referred to the remarkable growth of the society till now it had 1,039 members. He spoke of the invitation to the anniversary celebration of such a large number of representative citizens and businessmen who, from their standpoint of citizenship and business achievement, were vitally interested in the temperance question, that had been invited as guests of the evening.

"We know that our members are faithful to their obligations," said Father McColl, "but it is impossible to find a large body of men that would observe any virtue without a single violation."

He believed, however, that the society had less than two per cent violations of the pledge.

REMARKS OF MUCH INTEREST.

Ald. Jos. Duffus welcomed the guests of the evening and the large audience assembled. The new president of the society made a very neat speech brightened with a witty reference to his own office. The speaker was proud to do homage to the society of which he was president. He had never taken a glass of liquor in his life and never would. He also chivalrously spoke of the encouraging assistance given to the T.A.S. by the ladies. In a comprehensive review the speaker gave the history of the origin of the society and traced its gratifying growth from an unpretentious beginning to its present lofty position.

Mr. W. McIlroy sang "Killarney" with fine expression and gave as an encore "Love's Old Sweet Song" in an equally acceptable way. Mr. John Crane acted as accompanist for Mr. McIlroy and for Mr. Walter Davidson also, who later in the evening evoked an infant riot by singing "Sometimes Not Always" and "My Gal Irene." On his third recall he explained that repertoire had been exhausted and made a speech in which he humorously explained his position.

THE PRESENTATION.

Rev. Father McColl then announced the presentation to Rev. Dr. O'Brien. The address which accompanied it was as follows:

Reverend M. J. O'Brien, D.D., pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Peterborough, Ont.;

On this auspicious occasion we desire to give some expression—though in a feeble way perhaps—of our esteem for you and of our recognition of your labours amongst us, since you were raised to the priesthood and particularly since you were appointed chaplain of our society.

Born and bred amongst us, the work you have accomplished and the esteem you have won, forbid us to regard you as an exemplification of the adage that a prophet shall be without honour in his own country; in you the old proverb is happily refuted. As a youth you gave promise of a holy life, and of a future which should be given up to the service of God, and, to the welfare of your fellowman, and although yet young in the priesthood, the expectations of your early admirers have been more than realised, and the promises of your younger years are being abundantly fulfilled. By your ordination you have accepted the responsibility of devoting yourself to the care of those souls whose spiritual welfare you might be charged with from time to time. But you do not confine yourself to the letter of any duty nor to the literal discharge of any obligation. While the things that are spiritual have your first attention and your deepest consideration, you have not been unmindful of our material interests, nor of those things which contribute to our intellectual and social well-being.

Ten years ago this organization was first contemplated by your worthy and zealous predecessor, Rev. Father O'Sullivan. Under his fostering influence and inspiring instruction it soon took shape and grew in earnestness and numbers until he was called to another field of labor. Taking up the duties in connection with the society, which by his removal he was necessarily compelled to relinquish, you have not only worked to increase the membership, but you have left nothing undone to make the society attractive, and to render it socially and intellectually worthy of the great work it is seeking to accomplish. Even in the athletic department, where young men are encouraged to engage in the more vigorous kinds of outdoor amusements, the influence of your presence is felt in the direction of cultivating better and more manly types of character, and destroying the petty jealousies and heart-burnings that are too often the outcome of the rivalries of field games.

But your zeal in our interests and in the cause of the good work to which you have so earnestly devoted yourself, does not end here. In season and out of season you have preached the virtues of temperance; privately you have by exhortation and kindly entreaty secured the ear and the heart of those who were deaf and cold to the instructions from the pulpit; no hour of day or night, no place, no condition of things was considered by you unsuitable or unseasonable for the work you had in hand, and the ten hundred names that have been added to our list of members during the past years give abundant testimony as to how effectively and successfully you have laboured.

We congratulate you most heartily on the success that has crowned your zeal in the cause of Total Abstinence. You have been the instrument in the hands of Providence of increasing the virtue of many lives, the peace of many homes, the happiness of many firesides. You have by your good works promoted that thrift and industry and prosperity which can come only to a sober people.

In proof of our appreciation and gratitude for the great and good work you have done for us, we wish you to accept this slight token of our regard. We further congratulate you upon your promotion to so important a parish as that of the Sacred Heart. We rejoice to know that his Lordship the Bishop has recognized the great good you have done.

We are pleased that though no longer our chaplain you are still a near neighbor, and we are living in anticipation of many a welcome visit from you.

In conclusion we pray that God may spare you for many years to come, and to work in the cause of Total Abstinence, which you have so ably and successfully advocated in the past.

Signed on behalf of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society.

REV. DR. O'BRIEN'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien in making acknowledgment, said he could hardly find expression to give thanks for such a beautiful address and fine gift. The doctor told of his long connection with the T.A.S. and dwelt on its creditable and prosperous career. St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society was not only the largest temperance society in Canada but in America. He complimented the ladies' branch on the good work it was accomplishing and said the ladies could be helpful by praying and talking. (Laughter.) The boys' and girls' branch was also formed later.

The doctor said that it was earnest human motives that had impelled him in his work in the T.A.S. His association with St. Peter's had been a most pleasant one and now with the Sacred Heart T.A.S. the work would be carried on from two centres, and there would be a great future for the temperance cause in Peterborough.

The speaker said he loved the Catholics because he was a Catholic priest and he loved the Protestants because they were his neighbors.

Mr. Dan Holland, a past president, gave an extended report on the history of the society which is in a flourishing condition from every standpoint.

CAPABLE SPEECHES.

Timely and well received speeches were also made by J. R. Stratton, Rev. Father John O'Brien, of North Bay; Mayor Morrow, Judge Huycke, T. F. Matthews, James Kendrey, W. H. Denham, Father McGuire, of Downeyville; J. H. McClellan, Father Meehan, of Belleville; where a healthy young T.A.S., is fast assuming large proportions, and ex-Mayor Rush.

ON BEHALF OF MEMBERS.

Mr. Joseph Begley, at Father McColl's request, responded on behalf of the members of the society. Mr. Begley spoke of the great work of the society, and of its progressive, zealous membership. The speaker, in an excellent address, said that the T.A.S. claimed that their society was the best that any society could be, and gave as the most important reason because the society had for its object the greatest aim of Christianity, the uplifting of mankind. He thanked those in attendance for their presence and gave great praise to the ladies for their valuable assistance.

THE BISHOP'S REMARKS

His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, said that he felt he owed a debt of gratitude to the representative gentlemen who had said so much in praise of the T.A.S. He would admonish the workers in the society to continue in their work, and everyone would be proud to "I am a member of the T.A.S."

"This is the way to show that you respect your society, your city and your religion."

From the list of prominent business men enumerated as speakers, it may be readily seen that their remarks were of weight and interest. Many of them are large employers of men and they were unanimous in saying that the total abstainer was the best workman in his own and their interests, and gave unqualified and hearty commendation of the really splendid work the T.A.S. was doing for the betterment of the lives of its many members. They were better citizens as a result of their abstinence, and could perform their daily duties with more confidence and greater accuracy.

Letters of regret at their unavoidable absence were read from Rev. Father O'Sullivan, of Port Hope, the founder of St. Peter's T.A.S., and of whom many kind and grateful words were said, and Mr. E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Works.

Those who took part in the musical programme, other than mentioned above, were Miss L. Hallihan and Mr. Osborne. The former sang Arditi's entrancing waltz song, "Beauty's Sleep," in a captivating manner, and in sympathetic and beautiful voice, and upon being recalled gave a delightful rendition of that number in which Miss Hallihan is always heard to such great advantage, "Killarney." Mr. Osborne's violin solos "For All Eternity" and "The Palms" were played with graceful expression and effective technique and musicianly skill were displayed by the soloist.

OPENING O. H. A. FIXTURE WON BY THE COLLEGIATES

Who Were Superior to the Peterboro' Colts in Team Work —Winners Led at Half Time by 2-0, But the Scoring Was Even in the Second Half—Full Time Score 5-3.

Team work on the part of the Collegiates beat the Peterborough Colts in the opening game of the junior O.H.A. series, at the Brock street rink, last night.

The score of 5—3 just about indicates the play, but the win does not mean that the winners have the championship already packed away and labelled Peterborough Collegiates. The Colts are a team that with another week's practice together will show great improvement in the department of the game which is necessary—that of combination work. They have players who are fast skaters, and good stick handlers, and there may be a different story to tell in the next game.

The contest last night tickled each and every one of the fair sized crowd on hand. It was great hockey. The dope given out for the past week or so was not far astray, when it was said the exhibition would be a hummer. Combination plays, which were pretty to watch, were numerous, and there was enough individual work to please the most exacting. The play, especially in the first half, was not of the pink tea variety. It was a case of 'Oh, you kid, I'll get you yet.' Referee Rose had a good eye for infractions of the rules, however, and dealt out a liberal quantity of penalties.

The Collegiates are a well balanced team. The working together of Crane and Burritt was effective, and neither let up all through the game. Conroy and Matthews showed themselves to be hard checkers and good shots.

The defence was steady. Dennison and Geale broke up many assaults on their goal, and the rushing of the latter helped a lot. Lees took care of a number of hard shots in a clever manner.

The Colts, for the greater part of the game, played individually. Frequently players would get within striking distance of the Collegiate goal and would then lose the puck. There would be no one to take the pass. It was not the fault of any particular player that the game was lost. Each did his best, but the style of play was not effective against that of the winners.

The defence, composed of Halpin, Munro and Heffernan, is a strong one. Halpin gave a nice exhibition of goal tending, and Munro and Heffernan showed up well at point and cover respectively. They are both good at relieving and rushing, but are a little inclined to roam.

The forward line with Pratt and Shortt on the wings, and Hall and Giroux in centre ice, is a good one, and when the players get working together, look out for scores.

A large delegation of supporters from the Collegiate Institute made a noise like an organized rooters' club, when their favorites scored. Besides the school yell they were heard to advantage in a parody on Yip—I—Addy—I—Ay.

THE PLAY.

The Collegiates led off with a hot pace, but the Colts were good stickers. Pratt was chased for improper use of his stick. The forward line of the students was working nicely, and in three minutes Burritt received a pass from Crane and beat Halpin, amidst a mighty upheaval on the part of the rooters' club. Collegiates 1, Colts 0.

Conroy went for a trip shortly after the face-off, and Giroux was called back on an off-side. Crane and Burritt combined, but the shot went wild. The puck travelled down the ice. Lees by skating out and connecting with a pass saved a score. The play reverted to the Collegiates' territory. Hall passed wide, and the garnet and grey line got away together, but were called back at centre ice. Giroux watched the game from the fence for two minutes, and Conroy was chased for a second time, one minute later. Halpin blocked a hot shot from Crane. Munro joined the timekeepers for slashing. The Collegiates were having the better of the play at this stage, and their opponents' defence were working overtime. Giroux was jarred and time was called. The last pace was beginning to show on both teams. Hall and Dennison took a two minute breathing spell, and Heffernan was asked to join them a few seconds later. Both teams tried hard to score, but fast work on the part of the goal tenders prevented what looked like sure counters. Crane went in the direction indicated by the referee. Matthews, who was playing a hard game, shot dead on the nets, but Connie had both eyes open. Pratt got away nicely, but there was no one to help him. Burritt's shot went wild and when Hall took a lonely, he had the whole team to contend with. Finally, to relieve the high pressure Burritt connected with the nets again in 15 minutes.

Collegiates 2, Colts 0

Lees got in front of Giroux's shot after the face off, and Halpin performed in a similar manner on a long lift. Both goal tenders had a busy time for the remainder of the first half. Giroux was ordered to the penalty box for bodying Geale as the bell rang for the resting period. Geale collided with the door leading to the penalty box, which opened, and had to be carried to the dressing room.

SECOND HALF.

The Colts went at it strong after the rest, and Captain Shortt boosted the stock of his team when he scored after seven minutes of fast play.

Collegiates 2, Colts 1.

Art. Hall took a lone rush, but was stopped by Burritt, who was presented with a two minute rest. Munro took a lone jaunt down the boards, but there was nothing doing. Matthews beat Halpin for the next score, in four minutes.

Collegiates 3, Colts 1.

Collegiates were playing a great combination game, but could not break down the defence of the Colts. Pratt got away, but was dumped by Crane. The Colts' second score came as a result of a combination play by Hall and Shortt, the latter counting.

Collegiates 3, Colts 2.

Munro stopped Matthews on his lone rush and time was called, when Burritt and Rose collided. A brief rest followed, and on play being resumed the teams performed with honors even.

Giroux shot wild. The next score came in seven minutes, when Burritt took the puck from Giroux, who had emerged from a mix-up.

Collegiates 4, Colts 2.

Crane and Burritt combined, but a miss of the pass near the goal on the part of the former spoiled a nice chance. Halpin took care of Conroy's shot, and after four minutes play Pratt counted for his team on a nice shot from the side.

Collegiates 4, Colts 3.

Shortt was prevented from tieing the score by a great stop by Lees. Munro took a minute, and from a mix-up Burritt secured the last tally of the game in two minutes.

Collegiates 5, Colts 3

Time was called with Munro leading for the Collegiate goal.

The teams were:—

COLTS
Halpin
Munro
Heffernan
C Giroux
Shortt Hall Pratt
Matthews Burritt Conroy
Crane
Dennison
Geale
Lees

Just prior to leaving Edmonton, a pretty wedding took place, when Miss Edna Studebacker and Jack Winchester were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Winchester left with the Stanley Cup hockey team, of which the groom is goalkeeper, en route to Ottawa.

Oshawa Intermediates were walloped in Whitby last night by 13—0.

Keep the date in mind. To-morrow night, two fast City League games and a workout by the Edmonton Stanley Cup team. All for 15 cents.

Hugh Burritt has scored ten goals in two games. He secured six in the Strathcona-Keene game and four last night.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove iron rust, wet the spots with salt and lemon juice, hold the material over the steam of a tea-kettle, and then put out in the sun.

Individual tarts are much served nowadays with fruit or pumpkin filling and with ice cream or whipped cream on top; with them serve coffee.

Never boil a silk handkerchief, or rub soap on it. Wash in suds made of fine white soap, squeeze out, half dry in the sun and iron while damp.

When frying anything in deep fat have the flour sifter full of flour handy. If the fat catches fire, sprinkle thickly with flour and save disaster.

For lemon cake filling, beat one egg, and a cupful of sugar and the juice and rind of one lemon. Cook in an enamelled pan until rather thick. When cool, spread.

Marble washstands that have become discolored may be scoured first with wet salt, and if this does not remove the stains then with salt and lemon juice.

The nicest duster for dusting out a house is a duck or goose wing, which on account of its feathery softness, will not scratch the furniture as some dusters do.

For fried squash, take the small green and yellow variety, peel and cut into half-inch slices. Dip in eggs and flour or crumbs and fry in plenty of fat until brown.

A paste of olive oil and salt smeared on spots on furniture and allowed to remain a few minutes and then rubbed off with a soft cloth will often remove the spots.

FASHION HINTS

Mourning muffs are made of crepe, the shirrings being held in place by narrow bands of taffeta or nun's veiling.

Most of the girdles of the season are high in front, though they actually encircle the waist line once more.

A band of blue velvet and a huge rhinestone button constitute the sole trimming of a soft blue beaver turban.

White jet plays a leading part in decorating young girls' dance frocks, and it also decorates white and black gowns.

Among the new umbrellas are those with palmetto handles. The handles are handsomely carved and highly polished.

Hatpins were never so extravagant in size and decoration. Some of the latest and richest are adorned with handpainted miniatures.

Peking messaline is the name given to a particularly alluring silk striped chiffon cloth that is quite a favorite for blouses.

Sumptuous wraps for the afternoon, as well as for the evening, are made with wide, loose sleeves, and many have the burnous drapery.

Beads and braid combine to make some of the new and unusual cabochons on hats and gowns. They are to be had in a variety of colors.

Scarfs of white pongee are novel and attractive. They are finished with a buttonholed edge and have more or less elaborate handwork as well.

Pillow covers of canvas, embroidered in conventional designs, are again seen. They are suggestive of the cross-stitch work of a by-gone day.

County Council Meeting

The County Council will meet on Tuesday, January 25th.

A NIGHT WITH A NIGHTMARE.

May Be Warning to Those Who Seek Escape from Tortures of Insomnia.

Recently a friend who had heard that I sometimes suffer from insomnia told me of a sure cure. "Eat a pint of peanuts and drink two or three glasses of milk before going to bed," said he, "and I'll warrant you'll be asleep within half an hour." I did as he suggested, and now for the benefit of others who may be afflicted with insomnia I feel it my duty to report what happened, so far as I am able to recall the details.

First let me say my friend was right. I did go to sleep very soon after my retirement. Then a friend with his head under his arm came along and asked me if I wanted to buy his feet. I was negotiating with him when the dragon on which I was riding slipped out of his skin and left me floating in midair. While I was considering how I should get down, a bull with two heads peered over the edge of the wall and said he would haul me up if I would first climb up and rig a windlass for him. So as I was sliding down the mountainside the brakeman came in, and I asked him when the train would reach my station.

"We are passed your station 400 years ago," he said, calmly, folding the train up and slipping it into his vest pocket.

At this juncture the clown bounded into the ring and pulled the centerpole out of the ground, lifting the tent and all the people in it up, up, while I stood on the earth below watching myself go out of sight among the clouds above. Then I awoke, and found I had been asleep almost ten minutes. —Good Health Clinic.

VALUE IN WELL-TRAINED MIND

Has Effect Too Frequently Unappreciated in Social and Domestic Relations.

Men often realize that a well-trained mind is a great asset in business; yet seldom do we see comment upon the fact that it is also invaluable in social and domestic relations. The mind, after a certain stage is passed, works automatically in kindness as in calculation.

This is noticeable in the study of pronounced characters. Men are enabled to act quickly in emergency only by intuition; and it follows that when a man is habitually kind, or merciful, or considerate, or all three, he will be so in the crisis of his life.

Character is a matter of slow formation. In a pronounced form it is rare. The average is a mixture of many lines of training; hence, vacillation. The more pronounced, the more forceful for certain effects.

It is in babyhood that the formation begins, and in the earlier years are laid bases which after effort may never be able to remove. Environment, of course, is one factor. The child brought up in an atmosphere of kindness, courtesy, mercy, generosity, etc., is likely, although not certain, to remain so.

In any event, the main thought is that we too frequently forget that trained minds have possibilities beyond money-making. The mind is ever a tyrant. The money-grubber cannot reform after a certain period; and he who has reached 40 generous will find difficulty in becoming a miser, even if so minded, when past that period.

Rigid Rules for Childhood.

Childhood must have been a dreary time when Lady Burton was a little girl. "The only times we were allowed down stairs," she says in her reminiscences, "were at two o'clock luncheon (our dinner), and to dessert for about a quarter of an hour if our parents were dining alone or had very intimate friends. On these occasions I was dressed in white muslin and blue ribbons, and Theodore, my stepbrother, in green velvet, with turnover lace collar, after the fashion of that time. We were not allowed to speak unless spoken to; we were not allowed to ask for anything unless it was given to us. We kissed our father's and mother's hands and asked their blessing before going upstairs, and we stood upright by the side of them all the time we were in the room. In those days there was no lolling about, no Tommy-keep-your-fingers-out-of-the-jam, no Dick-crawling-under-the-table-pinching-people's legs, as nowadays."

Needed to Begin at Home.

Two young women were scheduled to read papers on the rearing of children in connection with a mothers' meeting, their husbands being left at home to put the two children to bed. They lived in adjoining apartments.

The young women attended the meeting, read the papers and after the discussion on the care of infants adjourned to the home of a friend for refreshments. When they reached home at 11:30 the two husbands had joined forces and were frantically pacing the floor, each carrying a shrieking baby.

Stevenson Bad Speller.

One of the most polished and painstaking of English authors regarded correct spelling as a totally unnecessary accomplishment. In his introduction to R. L. Stevenson's letters, Sidney Colvin writes; "I have not held myself bound to reproduce all the author's minor eccentricities of spelling and the like. As all his friends are aware, to spell in a quite accurate and grown-up manner was a thing which this master of English letters was never able to learn."

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

We also represent first-class Fire, Accident, Guarantee, Plate Glass and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

Sales Doubling Every Six Months

Wonderful Demand for a Wonderful Remedy.

During the past few years, the sales of "Fruit-a-tives" have doubled every six months. For the six months from January to July of this year, the sales of this popular medicine were more than twice greater than for any similar period since "Fruit-a-tives" was introduced to the public.

The National Drug & Chemical Company of Canada Limited, the largest wholesale drug house in the world—Lymans Limited of Montreal—and Lymans Brothers of Toronto—are buying "Fruit-a-tives" in 100 gross lots. 100 gross mean 14,400 boxes, which retail for $7,200.00. This gives some idea of the steady demand for these wonderful fruit liver tablets.

It is safe to say that "Fruit-a-tives" is on sale in every drug store and in departmental stores and general stores carrying medicines throughout the Dominion. Nor is the sale of "Fruit-a-tives" confined to Canada. In many parts of the United States, "Fruit-a-tives" is the standard family medicine and hardly a day passes that the Fruit-a-tives Company does not receive prepaid orders from our neighbors over the line.

The many testimonials, which have been published in the leading papers, are the most convincing evidence of the great value of "Fruit-a-tives".

50c a box—6 for $2.50—or trial box, 25c. If your dealer does not handle them, any quantity will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

U. S. Inter-Commerce Court.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 11.—President Taft's proposed bill for an interstate commerce court was made public yesterday.

This court is to be composed of five circuit judges, who shall serve by assignment of the chief justice for a term of five years, but no two judges' terms will expire at the same time, and thus under all circumstances four of the judges will have had several years' experience with these technical questions.

Bad Business Methods.

London, Jan. 11.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—F. C. T. O'Hara of Ottawa writes The Times, giving an instance of a British electrical firm who refused to supply a Canadian firm enjoying a high reputation, with samples to the value of 28 shillings, until the money was sent, as it was contrary to their usual practice. This, says Mr. O'Hara, is the most glaring and stupid of many cases of utter indifference of British exporters to Canada ever brought to his notice.

For a Chamber of Commerce.

Kingston, Jan. 11.—At the inaugural meeting of the City Council, Ald. Craig gave notice of motion that at the next meeting he would move to have tavern licenses reduced from 28 to 25. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability and advantages of organising a chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Margaret Jones, widow of John Jones, is dead, aged 95. She was a resident here all her life.

Dearer Coal at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Jan. 11.—Coal dealers announce the probability of a shortage in the local supply during the winter, and have raised the price seventy cents per ton. Unexpected demand from the west has caused the shortage, though local consumption is much less than usual owing to the mild winter.

Explosion Kills Three.

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 11.—An explosion wrecked the water and gas plant of the Union Gas & Electric Co., killing three men and seriously injuring four others. The building caught fire. Loss $50,000.

Indian Surrenders.

Cornwall, Jan. 11.—Alex. Thompson, an Indian, who on Dec. 27 stabbed his two brothers-in-law, Peter and Solomon Square, and who has been in hiding about Hogansburg, N.Y., has surrendered.

Liverpool Docks for C.N.R.

London, Jan. 11.—A Liverpool wire says negotiations have been opened for the adoption of Liverpool as a port for the Canadian Northern's new Atlantic service.

Round-Up of 16 Counterfeiters.

New York, Jan. 11.—A gang of 16 alleged counterfeiters were placed under arrest yesterday by secret service officers.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur Ill.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—It is doubtful if the naval bill will be brought down on Wednesday, as Hon. Mr. Brodeur is confined to his bed. He had been ill last week, but ventured out on Saturday to meet a deputation. On Sunday the Minister had a slight hemorrhage and fainted twice, and is now in a weakened condition.

Traction Co. Rights Over Galt Streets.

Galt, Jan. 11.—Mayor McLellan yesterday said the G. P. and H. Railway street franchise, expiring Feb. 1, 1911, would be dealt with by this year's council, and the Grand Valley Railway will make a proposition for street rights and the new Hamilton and Guelph road will want entry.

Old Westerner Dead.

Winnipeg, Jan. 11.—Henry Hickson, aged 64, Hudson Bay manager at Battleford, Sask., and one of the best known of western old timers, is dead. He was formerly colonisation agent for the old Manitoba and Northwesterly Railway.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. S. R. Armstrong and Mr. Hartley for the kind services rendered by them to the Sunday schools during the year. Mr. Hartley responded to a call for a speech.

The meeting was brought to a close with the benediction pronounced by the pastor.

PAST YEAR WAS QUIET ONE IN CONNECTION WITH LIBRARY

Annual Meeting Held—Anticipated Change to Free Library Results in Slight Falling off in Membership.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Public Library was held last night with a good attendance of the directors. Dr. Burnham presided.

The feature of the meeting was the reading of the forty-first annual report, which was read by Dr. Burnham, and was as follows:—

Your Board of Management, according to the by-law to that effect, beg to report the proceedings of the public library for the year 1909. The year was a remarkably quiet one, as far as the library is concerned, as the anticipated change to a free library had the effect of causing many of the old members to drop their subscriptions for the time being, while not enough new ones joined to make up for the loss. Your Board, however, have spared no pains to cater to the literary tastes of the members, and have kept the reading rooms well supplied with the most interesting periodicals of the day.

During the year 1909 there were 207 volumes of the latest and most popular books in all departments of literature, placed on the shelves. They were classified as follows: History, 18 vols.; biography, 11; voyages and travels, 7; science and art, 3; general literature, 55; poetry and drama, 3; religious works, 5; fiction, 91; miscellaneous, 18; works of reference, 16.

The following list contains the names of some of the new books:

Conquest of the Great North-West, by Laut.

Science and Immortality, by Lodge.

George Canning and His Friends, by Bagot.

The Russo-Jap War, by British Officers.

Catholic Encyclopaedia, vols 5 and 6.

Canadian Types of the Old Regime, by Colby.

England and the English, by Price Collier.

Ballads of a Cheechako, by Service.

Romantic Settlement of Lord Selkirk's Colonists, by Dr. G. Brice.

Action and Re-action, by Kipling.

Canada, the Empire of the North, by Laut.

My Recollections, by the Countess of Cardigan, and others, too numerous to mention.

Ten volumes valued at $19.65 were presented to the library.

Number of daily newspapers in reading rooms, 7.

Number of weekly newspapers in reading rooms, 10.

Number of magazines and periodicals, 13.

The following list gives the number of volumes issued during the year:

History	901
Biography	187
Voyages and Travels	326
Science and Art	131
General Literature	4896
Poetry and Drama	101
Religious Works	114
Fiction	7396

FROM AWAY OUT ON THE PRAIRIES

Comes Proof of Another Wonderful Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mark Southern Tells How They Raised Him From a Bed of Sickness, Cured His Kidney Disease and Made Him a Well Man

Skipton, Duck Lake, Sask., Jan. 10.—(Special)—After thirteen years suffering from Kidney Disease brought on by an accident, Mark Southern, of Healaker Farm, near here, is a well man, and he is not slow to state that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"It began with pains in my back," Mr. Southern says, "and across my loins, and of late years I became very weak and for days I had to keep to my bed. I had all kinds of advice and tried a great many medicines, but all to no purpose.

"Reading an advertisement induced me to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial, and I wrote for six boxes. After taking the first box I began to feel relief, and after using five boxes I felt quite well again. I am now able to get about my work and feel no ill effects whatever from the old complaint."

Dodd's Kidney Pills clean all Kidney Diseases and all diseases resulting from disordered Kidneys right out of the system. That's how they cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism and Backache. They do it by putting the Kidneys in good working order, and they always do it.

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late George Long took place Monday afternoon to St. Luke's church where an impressive service was held, after which interment took place at Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt conducted the service at the church. A large number of friends and acquaintances attended the obsequies to pay their last respects to one whom they had held in high esteem.

The pallbearers were Messrs. John Mervin, R. J. Munro, C. R. Nixon, Jas. Tighe, John McDonald and James Stewart.

CAN ALDERMEN ELECTED ON JANUARY 3rd HOLD OFFICE FOR TWO YEAR TERM?

A point was raised by Ald. Turner at the meeting of the City Council last night as to whether the aldermen elected this year should not hold office for two years. He pointed out that the return to the ward system did not make the two year term inoperative, as the alderman in each ward getting the highest vote would hold office for two years. He thought it would be satisfactory to have the six aldermen elected this year hold office for two years. Next year one alderman could be elected in each of the five wards. This would make eleven members in the council of 1911. In 1912 two aldermen would be elected for each ward or ten for the whole city.

The Mayor and city clerk did not think that, according to the special Act the aldermen elected this year could hold office for two years.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie, that a written opinion be secured from the city solicitor on this point. The motion carried.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY ITALIAN ASSESSED $6.40

For misbehaving at the Queen's Hotel last night, Nicholas Marcochie, an Italian, was arrested and fined $2.00 and costs, amounting in all to $6.40, at the police court this morning. An appeal to a number of his pals in the court room brought to light one five dollar bill, but the remainder was not forthcoming, and Marcochie was led down to a cell, there to await until the fine was paid.

The Italian was in the hotel drinking last night, and when closing time arrived he refused to leave, at the request of the proprietor. He became abusive, and began to play indoor baseball with the cuspidors. He had made one wild pitch and was in the act of repeating the performance when he was overpowered. Shortly afterwards he ran out to the street, but was captured by P.C. Newball, who, with P.C. Adams, had been called.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Dr. Malcolm McCulloch will meet with his class at the Y.W.C.A. Thursday evening at nine o'clock. These First Aid and Home Nursing lectures or talks are most interesting, and instructive, and we cordially invite any who have not yet attended the class to come in on Thursday evening. Now is a good time to enter the classes. Miss Nicholls' class will meet at 7.30 Thursday.

To-night and to-morrow night the senior girls' gymnasium classes will meet. A new class is being formed. All girls interested will be welcomed.

An Elopement From Cornwall.

Cornwall, Jan. 11.—Camillio Granette, an Italian, and a woman named Tyo decamped on Sunday, the woman leaving her husband and her Italian lover his wife and four young children. The woman drew $140 from the postoffice savings bank. It is understood they went to Toronto.

THE COMPOSITION OF THE COMMITTEES FOR THE YEAR

One More Member on Fire, Water and Light Committee Than in 1909 — Drs. Burnham and McNulty Reappointed to Board of Health—To Sell Old Hall Building.

The following are the committees of the City Council for 1910, as confirmed by the Council last night;

Board of Works—Ald. Hicks, chairman; Ald. Phelan, Metheral, Graham, Gillespie, Duffus and Duncan.

Fire, Water and Light—Ald. Morgan, chairman; Ald. Buller, Metheral, Batten and Graham.

Manufacturers, Railways and Franchises—Ald. Gillespie, chairman; Ald. Turner, Bradburn, Hicks and Duffus.

Finance, Printing and Licenses—Ald. Bradburn, chairman; Ald. Phelan, Hicks and Turner.

Property, Market, Building and Health—Ald. Duncan, chairman; Ald. Graham, Bradburn, Morgan and Batten.

Legal, Reception, Legislation and Joint with County—Ald. Duffus, chairman; Ald. Turner, Gillespie, Phelan and Buller.

The composition of the committees as above with the exception of Ald. Graham on the Fire, Water and Light Committee, was recommended in the report of the whole Council which was presented by Ald. Hicks.

It was moved and seconded that the report be adopted. All the aldermen were present except Ald. Morgan, when the Council convened. He came in later. Before he arrived Ald. Duncan moved that Ald. Graham be added to the Fire, Water and Light Committee. There was no seconder and the report was adopted. When Ald. Morgan came in he asked if Ald. Graham had been added to the Fire, Water and Light Committee. He was answered in the negative. He moved, secondedd by Ald. Duncan, that Ald. Graham's name be added by the Fire, Water and Light Committee. Ald Morgan said that Ald. Graham wished to be on the committee.

Ald. Bradburn suggested that Ald. Hicks be also added but the latter said he was on enough committees already.

The motion putting Ald. Graham on the committee carried.

Ald. Duffus moved that Ald. Hicks be also put on the committee. but it was decidedd not to add any more. Ald. Buller offered to resign, but this was not agreed to.

There is one more on the Fire, Water and Light Committee than last year.

The report of the whole Council also contained the following;

That a special Power Committee be appointed composed of Ald. Turner, chairman; Ald. Gillespie and Bradburn.

That a grant of $500 be made to the Mayor to be paid quarterly at the beginning of each quarter.

That a grant of $75 be made to the Peterborough Poultry Association towards the expenses of their exhibition.

That the City Solicitor be instructed to give notice of an application for legislation to give the city authority to appoint and pay a Commissioner of Industries.

The Light and Power Company by-law was given its third reading and passed and also the by-law to return to the ward system of electing aldermen.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Drs. Burnham and McNulty were reappointed members of the Board of Health. The by-law to appoint two members was introduced by Ald. Duncan. Drs. Burnham and McNulty were the two retiring members. Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Gillespie proposed Dr. Burnham and Ald. Buller. and Ald. Turner nominated Dr. McNulty. Dr. Burnham was first appointed and then Mr. Fred Bartlett was nominated by Ald. Graham and Ald. Metheral. A vote was taken and Dr. McNulty had the majority.

TO SELL BUILDING.

Ald. Duncan asked if there were any instructions for the Property Committee in regard to the old Hall building on Simcoe street, which belongs to the city. He thought it should be sold as it was bringing no revenue to the city as it is.

Ald. Bradburn said the committee had been authorized by the Council to sell the building for $12,000, but this much money had not been offered for it, although some negotiations had taken place.

On motion of Ald. Buller and Ald. Phelan the Property Committee was instructed to endeavor to dispose of the building, but to report back to the Council before carrying through any deal.

PRESENTED WITH MORRIS CHAIR

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Campbell Remembered by Staff of C. P. R.

The staff of the C.P.R. at Peterborough last night presented Mr. W. S. Campbell with a handsome Morris chair, and Mrs. Campbell with a lady's companion. Mr. Campbell has severed his connection with the C.P.R. to accept a position with the Canadian General Electric Company here, and his departure has caused much regret among the employees. He has been with the C.P.R. since October 10th, 1898, with the exception of one year he spent at Hamilton, where he was contracting freight agent at the C.P.R. station there. He has held an important position at the freight offices in Peterborough, and was popular among the employees and with the public with whom he came in contact in business. The presentations were made by Mr. W. S. Dodd and Mr. W. R. Douglas read the following address;—

Mr. William Stanley Campbell;

We, the undersigned staff of the C.P.R. at Peterborough, cannot allow you to take your departure from our midst without expressing to you our appreciation of the uniform courtesy and kindness we have always experienced at your hands.

In you the C.P.R. loses a most painstaking and efficient servant, and we a most considerate and kind-hearted co-worker.

In offering to you the accompanying small tokens of our esteem, we beg you to accept them as a slight memento only of our pleasant association in the C.P.R. Company's service at Peterborough for the past twelve years.

We also tender you and Mrs. Campbell our hearty good wishes for a happy, bright and prosperous future.

Your sincere friends,

W. S. Dodd, I. E. Ivy, J. McDonald, W. R. Douglas, L. Fitzgerald, J. H. Carey, E. C. Howard, W. Flowers, J. W. Buyers, E. A. Thomas, E. L. Bowes, J. Milne, B. Scott, A. P. Jamieson, A. J. Edwards, N. Ning, A. Barbeau, George Spicer, A. Butcher, W. Henry, W. Buller, D. J. McDonald and T. Brown.

CONSECRATION WAS THE SUBJECT

At the First Meeting of Evangelistic Campaign in St. James's Church

The opening services of the evangelistic campaign in St. James' church was held last evening. Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Charlotte street church, who is the preacher for the week, gave an impressive discourse on Consecration, entire and voluntary as enjoyed in the Old and New Testament Scriptures. In connection with these services, afternoon cottage prayer-meetings will be held at three o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. R. Kidd, Lock street, and on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McGee, 530 Parnell street.

WILL WAIT ON COUNCIL

Deputation Will Ask for Reduction in Number of Liquor Licenses in City.

A deputation from the Temperance and Moral Reform League will wait on the City Council next Monday night and it is understood that a reduction in the number of hotel licenses in the city will be asked for. It is felt by the league that the majority in favor of local option was large enough to show that the public sentiment was favorable to a reduction in the number of places where liquor is sold.

A deputation from the Agricultural Society will also wait upon the Council the same night.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF MUSICIANS

Local Union Holds Annual Meeting—Officers Elected

The annual meeting of Peterborough Local. No. 191, American Federation of Musicians, was held last evening in their Murray St. Hall, when the following officers were elected:

Hon President—Prof. Gordon.
President—Mr. W. Hughes.
Vice-President—Mr. F. Huppie.
Secretary—Mr. J. A. Harper.
Financial Sec.—Mr. C. Westbrook.
Treasurer—Mr. G. Chambers.
Executive Committee—Messrs. Devey (chairman), Mein, Brooes, Wesley Howarth and McBain.

This union is in a flourishing condition, both financially and numerically, and during the present year it is expected that all local musicians of note, not now members, will avail themselves of the invitation herewith extended to join this band.

All skates reduced. Banks Skate Store.

WILL INCREASE THE EQUIPMENT

Chimes and Tympanies to be Added to 57th Band—Annual Meeting Held

The annual meeting of the 57th Regimental Band was held last night in the band hall at the new armouries when the officers for the ensuing year were elected. The reports of the various officers showed conclusively that the year just closed was one of the most successful in the band's history. Four paid soloists are now in the employ of the band and it is the intentoin of the management to add a set of chimes and tympanies to an equipment which is already pronounced by competent judges to be equal if not superior to that of the leading city bands of the Dominion. The band's splendid new quarters at the armouries will also prove an incentive to increased effort towards efficiency on the part of the members. The new hall is said to be the finest in Canada and is being fitted up as a social club room. A billiard table, several games, and the latest magazines and periodicals are being provided for the members.

The following officers were lected;
President—Mr. E. Cronk.
Vice-President—Mr. F. C. Miller.
Secretary—Mr. J. A. Harper.
Treasuer—Mr. R. Shelton.
Executive Committee — Messrs. Hughes, chairman; Huppie, Wesley, Halpany, Mein, Westbrooke, Barnes and McBain.
Librarian—Mr. E. Cronk.
Asst.-Librarians—Messrs. W. Gowie and H. Miles.

CROWS DESTROY CORN AND FARMERS GET AFTER CROWS

Special to Review.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—The Ontario Department of Agriculture has dispatched an officer to the assistance of Kent County farmers, whose corn is being destroyed by hundreds of thousands of crows. He is organising the farmers to start in with wholesale poising of the birds by strychnine. Nearly all the seed corn for next spring has already been destroyed. The farmers left corn out in shooks while attending to beet sugar crops during the last few years and crows collected from all over the province.

WE THANK YOU

No matter what the price, we should feel unrepaid if our patrons were not fully satisfied. We therefore ask that if you are pleased tell your friends, if not tell us. We appreciate very fully the business of 1909, and the many who have come to us upon the recommendation of friends, as well as the kind words of satisfaction, which we have had by letter, and word of mouth. We assure our friends that during 1910 we shall seek to further merit their confidence. Wishing you all a prosperous New Year.

TARIFF WAR IS IN SIGHT BETWEEN GERMANY AND U.S.

Unless Secretary Knox Can Reach an Understanding With the Fatherland, the Doors of Both Countries Will Close Next Month.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Nearly half a billion dollars' worth of trade is the stake in the game of diplomacy now in progress between the United States and Germany, and the issue will be known within a month.

On Feb. 7 the reciprocity arrangement made under the terms of the Dingley Act with Germany will expire, and simultaneously the general tariff rates of that country will apply to all imports from America, unless in the interim Secretary of State Knox and the German ambassador shall be able to reach an understanding.

At this moment the indications are that this understanding is beyond attainment and that it will be only under the stress of a bitter and costly struggle that the two nations can compose their differences and restore their trade to normal conditions.

America will not be the only sufferer from this rupture, for on April 7 next the maximum tariff rates carried by the Payne-Aldrich Act will be automatically applied to the vast German import trade, which in 1908 aggregated more than one hundred and sixty million dollars, and every article of German production coming to the United States must pay 25 per cent. increased duty.

Negotiations have been in progress for months to avoid this issue, but an obstacle has been reached in the demand of the State Department for relaxation of the German prohibition against American cattle. The German Government takes the position that these restrictions, founded on veterinary and sanitary reasons, embodied in laws of general application, cannot be regarded as discriminatory against the United States, and that it would be as reasonable to expect America to repeal the pure food laws as to require Germany to disregard the provisions of the Animal Importation Act.

America shipped to Germany in 1908, $300,000,000 worth of products. Many of these will have to pay increased rates after February. In 1908, $29,000,000 of American wheat entered Germany, and this must pay a penalty of two marks for each hundred kilograms this year, which would probably result in the transfer of all this trade to Canada, Agentunia and Russia.

Corn was shipped to Germany to the value of $5,000,000 in 1908, and the increased duty that will be exacted on this staple will be three marks per 100 kilograms, practically a prohibitive rate. Ninety million dollars' worth of cotton formed part of the exports to Germany in the same year, and while this is now on the German free list, it might still be subjected to a heavy duty if the Germany Government should have recourse to its "fighting tariff."

Half a million dollars' worth of American apples and four times that amount of dried fruits will have to pay an excess of between four and ten marks duty, failing an amicable arrangement between the two Governments, and $6,000,000 worth of sawed lumber will pay double duty.

CATTLE THIEF SHOT TO DEATH

Moose Jaw, Jan. 12.—"Dutch," the most notorious outlaw and cattle-thief of the west, who has been wanted by the authorities on both sides of the boundary for the past eight years, was shot and killed by a mounted policeman at Muddy River, 60 miles south of here. "Dutch" killed the mounted policeman's horse, but was shot in turn. He was a daring cattle-rustler of later days, and, by operating back and forth across the line, managed to escape arrest.

BYE-ELECTION IN OTTAWA JAN. 29

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The writ for the bye-elections in Ottawa was issued last evening. Nominations will take place on Jan. 22, and the election on the 29th.

There was some talk of the Governmental section of the Liberal party bringing out a candidate, but it is deemed impossible. August Lemieux meanwhile states that he is in the field to stay. Dr. Chabot, Conservative, says the same, and so does ex-Mayor J. A. Ellis, the independent Conservative candidate.

"PRINZ FRIEDRICH WILHELM" CRIPPLED

New York, Jan. 12.—A wireless despatch was received here yesterday stating that the Prins Friedrich Wilhelm of the North German Lloyd Line, bound here from Bremen, broke her steering gear Sunday morning. She has 1,350 passengers and will likely arrive Monday next.

The Princess Irene of the same line, bound for Bremen, reported while passing The Lizard last Sunday, that she had smashed her rudder, and was steered by her propellers.

ELOPED WITH A 16-YEAR-OLD BOY

London, Jan. 12.—Antonio Pascuzzi, a 16-year-old boy, who eloped with Mrs. Mary Winding, was brought back to his home here Monday night from Saginaw, Mich., by his father.

Mrs. Winding is at Strathroy with her parents. She left her husband with five small children to look after.

It is said she has written her husband, asking to be taken back, but Windling declined.

LLOYD-GEORGE TO VISIT AMERICA

London, Jan. 12.—Chancellor Lloyd-George may visit America next summer as the guest of the Welsh Society, whose invitation, it is understood, he has accepted.

He w[illegible] be accompanied by Sir Samuel Tho[illegible] Evans, the Solicitor-General, and William Abram and William Jones, members of Parliament from Glamorganshire and Carnarvonshire, respectively.

The Nicaraguan Situation.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Jan. 12.—Eighteen volunteers, composed of doctors, artillerymen and engineers, have reached here from Guatamela. They brought besides their own equipment, $50,000 to aid the cause of the Provincial Government.

Reports from the interior state that hundreds of citizens of the department of Chentoles are flocking to Estrada's army.

TO SUBMIT CASE TO COURT-MARTIAL

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The case against Major de la Ronde, chief of police of Ottawa, charged with falsifying pay sheets of No. 5 Company, Army Service Corps, at the Quebec Tercentenary, was before the police magistrate yesterday morning and was postponed to allow of a stated case being submitted to the Court of Appeal on the question of jurisdiction. It was argued that, under the Militia Act, prosecution of militia officers must be initiated by the officer commanding the district, and also that the charges are required to be laid within six months. It was further contended that the alleged offence, having been committed in Quebec, the local court has no jurisdiction. The case will be adjourned from time to time pending the answer of the Court of Appeal to the questions to be submitted in the stated case.

STRIKE BREAKERS ARE SMUGGLED IN

Springhill, N.S., Jan. 12.—Not even a cry of "scab" greeted the second carload of men from Montreal upon their arrival in Springhill yesterday. With such secrecy had the company made their arrangements, that before the people in town were aware of the fact, another consignment of strike-breakers were housed on the company's property, behind a rapidly growing fence which will soon encircle the property.

These men will go underground today and get the mine ready for the further parties of coal cutters, which the company assert will soon arrive.

THE GIRL TAKES ALL THE BLAME

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Roberta De Jonan, the Philadelphia heiress, who was arrested here Monday with Fred Cohen, a hotel waiter, with whom she eloped on Dec. 29, said yesterday that if court proceedings were begun against Cohen, that she would be his chief defender. She was emphatic in her declarations that the elopement was all her fault and that Cohen was in no way to blame.

"I will promise never to have anything more to do with Mr. Cohen," said Miss De Janon. "I will try to give him some money if my grandfather will allow it. Mr. Cohen told me that he had given his wife $200 before we started on our trip. I would like to see his family well provided for.

"This is not the first time I have run away from home. When I was 12 years old and living with my mother at Clayton, N.Y., I ran away to go to my father, who was in New York City. I only reached Utica when I was caught and sent back home."

THREE MEN BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION

Forest, Ont., Jan. 12.—By an explosion of gas in the small pump-house on the G.T.R. property, two London [illegible] N. Hogan and W. Smith, and men, [illegible] of Forest, were burned Samuel B[illegible] and hands. The men about the face [illegible] the steam pump were working at [illegible] from a deep which supplies water [illegible] well for the locomotive supply. This pump is located in a pit about 20 feet below the surface, over which a small building is erected. Smith lit a match and there was a terrific explosion.

MR. BRODEUR IS VERY ILL

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Forced to Introduce Naval Measure—Debate Will be Allowed on Reading

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The sudden illness of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine, who is in a serious condition in his home on Daly avenue, has changed the plans concerning the introduction of the naval bill, over which there is great interest.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will now introduce the bill when Parliament reassembles this afternoon, in the place of Mr. Brodeur, and there is every possibility of an extended debate on the first reading.

There is nothing in the rules of the House to prevent debate on the first reading of a Government bill, and it has been allowed, in extraordinary cases like the autonomy bill of 1905, when Liberal supporters, Hugh Guthrie, for instance, voiced their feelings.

HON L. P. BRODEUR.
Who Is Very Ill.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the introduction of the naval bill is awaited with keen interest here. The corridors of the House to-day are thronged with members, and the Premier will, in all probability, have a full audience when he rises to introduce the legislation.

There is one thing sure, and that is if the Prime Minister does not content himself with a mere explanation of the measure, but indulges in a flag-waving episode, there will be trouble from the Opposition side, and any attempt to stay the debate is liable, in the present strained tension of party feeling, to result in unusual scenes.

A late enquiry at the residence of Hon. L. P. Brodeur last night elicited the information that he is suffering from hemorrhage of the bowels. He was, however, resting easily. A specialist has been summoned from Montreal.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Rats were found nibbling at a human foot, found frozen in the Bay at Port Hope.

The Marquis de Villalobar, Spanish Minister to Washington, has been transferred to Lisbon.

Fire which broke out at 8.30 yesterday morning did $15,000 damage to the building and contents of the McDonald & Co. mattress factory of Winnipeg.

Conservative members of Parliament in Ottawa yesterday placed a wreath on the monument of Sir John A. Macdonald, it being the ninth anniversary of his death.

At London, Lorne Collier, a young man who just got out of jail for abusing horses, is now held for turning his aged adopted mother out of the house into the freezing cold early yesterday morning, when he went home drunk.

Dr. Fred A. Cook, erstwhile Arctic explorer, went away without paying his stenographer, according to Miss Rose Webber, who obtained an attachment yesterday against any available funds the doctor left behind. Miss Webber made affidavits that Dr. Cook owes her $80, and interest.

AGAIN IT IS LEVFL CROSSING

Simcoe, Jan. 12.—A farm laborer by name of Sydney Jackman, was struck and instantly killed by a G.T.R. passenger train near here yesterday at noon. Jackman was driving a team attached to a sleigh belonging to his employer, Fred Doan. The sleigh was badly smashed, but the horses escaped. Jackman was hurled against a post. This crossing is not a particularly difficult one to cross.

Prussia's Deficit.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—Emperor William opened the Prussian Diet yesterday. Proposed legislation includes a bill for the reform of the election law and a measure to counteract the tendency of the laboring classes to desert the farming districts.

There is a deficit of $25,000,000, due chiefly to an increase of $50,000,000 in the salaries of Government employes.

PROGRAMME OF FRANCE

School Question, Budget and Pensions are on the List—General Elections in May

Paris, Jan. 12.—Parliament reconvened yesterday for the final session preceding the general elections in May. Besides the completion of the budget and the school question, the principal work of the Chamber will be the perfecting of the finance law and the workmen's pension bill. The tariff bill is still in the Senate and its final passage before adjournment is doubtful.

The Government has decided upon measures to meet the war proclaimed by the episcopate against the public schools and Minister of Education Doumergue will announce the following decision:

First a modification of the bill recently introduced to enable the Government to clothe the public authorities with full power to meet the situation at every point.

Second, the submission of a bill introducing a state control in Catholic or so-called private schools.

Third, the substitution of the state as the defendant for teachers in suits brought against them by Catholic parents' associations.

ENGINEER TOOK CHANCE

Erie, Pa., Jan. 12.—J. C. Butler, engineer of number 23, a fast westbound Lake Shore Railroad passenger train, was yesterday held responsible for the wreck at North East Pennsylvania, last Friday, when two men were killed.

Butler, who is 63 years of age, and has been in the employment of the railroad for over forty years, told before the coroner's jury on the witness stand, with tears streaming down his cheek, that be "took a chance, ran past his signals knowing they were out of order owing to the blizzard, thinking the track ahead was clear."

So affected by the old man's statement was the jury that Foreman Cushman refused to sign the verdict.

FALLEN TREE KILLS TWO

Picton, Jan. 12.—An accident is reported from Port Milford, a settlement in the southern part of this county, where George Wattam and Charles Dainard, both aged about fifty, were engaged felling trees in the woods. Not returning last night for their supper their friends set out to look for them.

Both men were found under a fallen tree lifeless, a tree having fallen on them unexpectedly.

FREE SPEECH FOR ANARCHISTS

New York, Jan. 12.—The authorities will likely adopt the London plan in regard to granting "freedom of speech" in the parks to anarchists, suffragettes and any others with a grievance against Government and society.

It is claimed that the lack of police interference does no harm to the community and lessens the effectiveness of the arguments of the disconnected. London, dispite the fact that it harbors thousands of firebrand tendencies, is never the scene of the outrages which occur in cities where repression is the rule.

NORTH WELLINGTON LIBERALS MEETING

Arthur, Jan. 12.—North Wellington Liberals yesterday elected these officers: President, Thomas Dryden of Arthur; first vice-president, R. H. Hazelwood, Clifford; second vice-president, Robert McArthur, Maryboro; secretary, A. G. Campbell, Morriston; assistant secretary, J. M. Roach, Arthur; treasurer, William L. Dean, West Garafraxa. Presentations were made to Secretaries Campbell and Roach.

HEIRESS ELOPES WITH CHAUFFEUR

New York, Jan. 12.—The family of G. Rowland Leavitt, banker and railroad financier, confirms the announcement that his daughter, Margaret Howland Leavitt, 25 years old, and heiress to a million dollars, was married without the knowledge of her parents to Joseph F. Smollen, her chauffeur.

Sidewalk Caved In.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—One laborer was killed and six persons injured, four seriously, at noon yesterday, when a section of a sidewalk in the busiest part of State street fell in, precipitating more than a dozen persons into the sub-basement, where repairs were being made.

The R. church at St. Catharines parish, Port Neuf, Que., was destroyed by fire.

THE UNIONISTS TOOK POOR OPPORTUNITY FOR-ELECTIONS

Prospects Now Favor the Liberals With Probably a Reduced Majority—Chamberlain's Letters Have Not Had the Desired Effect.

London, Jan. 12.—Polling in the general election contests will begin next Saturday, and Parliament reassembles on Feb. 15. The Unionist prospects have slightly improved, owing to the rally against home rule. Tariff reformer is opposed by determined interrupters everywhere in the towns, and the avowed intention of many of its supporters to impose graduated duties on colonial produce is disliked as tending to create colonial embarrassments. The anti-German scaremongers are making little impression. While Sir Edward Grey remains at the Foreign Office the country is not alarmed at the anticipation of international complications.

The budget and the land taxes are popular with the masses in all parts, and the constitutional improprieties committed by the peers in interfering with finance is strongly emphasized again as the polling days approach.

Close observation in the constituencies throughout the country shows the time and occasion of the contest to have been badly chosen by the Unionists, whose cause has suffered from its identification with aristocratic superfluity of wealth, landlordism and indifference to popular requirements.

Joseph Chamberlain's extraordinarily numerous letters fall flat, and the Liberal preponderance of debating power, assisted by tears of dear food, is scoring heavily, despite several significant secessions from the members of Liberalism.

The probability is unchanged of an adequate, if reduced, majority, for the Liberals.

This present national stock-taking is arousing attention in the direction of colonial openings—and in so far as foreign naval preparations involve heavier burdens they are producing what may prove to be dangerous resentment against the nations charged with the object of challenging Britain's maritime predominance. The Unionist party leaders have worked this very hard during the last few days, but the condemnation of the more sober elements on their own side has nullified its efficacy as a party weapon.

A. J. Balfour, addressing a crowded meeting at Glasgow, remarked upon the omissions in Premier Asquith's election address. He complained that the Premier had dealt chiefly with the demerits of the second chamber. Regarding most of those, all were desirous of seeing the House of Lords rendered more effective as a second chamber, but no one desired to see the constitution without a second chamber.

To say that the second chamber was not to have the right of veto against the will of the people, but a veto against the House of Commons was their whole purpose. He asked the electors to help the Unionist party to resist what was little better than revolution.

Arguing against an entirely elected second chamber, Balfour said there was no reason for not making the best use of the hereditary principle we could, and he emphasized the value of the principle in the case of the sovereign, pointing out that the only bond which unites the democracies of empire is the King, elevated above party, who belonged not to Britain more than to Canada or Australia or South Africa.

What, he asked, did Canada, Australia or the great Indian Empire care for Asquith or Balfour? The idea that either could be the centre whereto the Empire looks was ludicrous. He urged them, therefore, not to underride hereditary principle, so long as it could be turned to some public and imperial account. Did they think the Lords would have been performing their duty as the second chamber if they had let go the opportunity of giving the people a chance of rejecting such novel budget proposals, and at the same time prevented them having what Asquith had regarded as a last chance of adopting tariff reform?

The increasing confidence at Unionist headquarters and the enthusiasm throughout the country betoken a tremendous vote at the coming elections.

While the struggle is maintained with undiminished vigor, it becomes increasingly difficult to find anything striking or novel in the speeches.

Premier Asquith at Ipswich addressed a large gathering last night.

Mr. Asquith dealt with tariff reform. He asserted that the advance of Germany and the United States was attributable to other causes than tariffs, that the United States had an internal free trade and Germany had become a formidable rival by reason of her education and organization.

Among the minor incidents of the campaign, David Lloyd-George, Chancelor of the Exchequer, has drawn a handsome apology from Lord Rothschild for wrongfully attributing to the Chancellor the declaration that there was likelihood of Great Britain having to expatriate the Jews.

Young Brakeman Lost Leg.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—Robt. Hornidge of Ottawa, aged 21, started duty as a brakeman on Saturday on the C.N.R. At Shawinigan Falls Monday night he fell between two cars and had a leg cut off near the thigh.

Another Paris Strike.

Paris, Jan. 12—Another electricians' strike is threatened, owing to the dismissal of "King" Pataud, secretary of the Electricians' Union.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Shoots Himself at Busy City Corner.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—Jesse M. Tourville, who recently wrote to the common council of London, regarding a method to dispel the fogs by physhic waves, shot himself yesterday at the busiest corner in St. Louis. He probably will die.

Ready to Fight.

Galt, Jan. 12.—Local optionists say they will fight the appeal against the recent vote to the limit, and engage the ablest counsel available. Their recent campaign cost $800.

New Turkish Cabinet.

Constantinople, Jan. 12.—The new Cabinet, of which Hakka Bey is grand visier, has been completed with the exception of the Ministers of Public Instruction and pious foundations. Changes have been made only in the Ministries of War, Marine and Mines and Forests.

Steamer Helpless In Atlantic.

Sydney, N.S., Jan. 12.—The Black Diamond steamer Cacouna has sailed in search of the French liner Hirando, which is disabled 20 miles off Louisburg, according to news received by wireless. Nothing has been heard of either steamer up to a late hour last night.

A storm Monday night and yesterday morning was felt most severely along the Cape Breton coast.

Anglican Changes.

Kingston, Jan. 12.—Rev. J. Hilliard Smith, Sharbot Lake Mission, is appointed to Leeds, vacant through removal to Wingham of Rev. E. H. Croly. Rev. T. Feaston is appointed to Wellington Mission, vice Rev. C. R. De Pencier, removed to Oshawa.

Canada at Vienna Show.

London, Jan. 12.—Canada is to be represented at the International Hunting Exhibition at Vienna. Specimens of all the animals hunted in Canada and a complete collection of weapons used in the chase are to be on view.

Pension for Police Hero's Widow.

New York, Jan. 12.—The board of aldermen have voted a pension of $2,000 a year, additional to $1,000 from the police pension fund, to the widow of Lieut. Petrosina, slain while in pursuit of the black hand.

A Manslaughter Charge.

Winnipeg, Jan. 12.—John C. Corrlino will be tried for manslaughter, due to the death of Andrew Coleman, one of a party of men Corrlino was taking to a lumber camp. Several of the gang were intoxicated and Coleman, who strayed from the party, perished from exposure. A coroner's jury held that Corrlino should have searched for him.

Montreal Physician Hurt.

New York, Jan. 12.—Dr. Andrew Ward, a physician of Montreal, was painfully injured in an accident on upper Broadway yesterday. The physician slipped while passing a building under construction and fell into an open area way. He broke an arm.

Big Prizes for Aeronauts.

Paris, Jan. 12.—The International Aeronautical Association, announcing that the prizes for the carnivals of 1910, will range from $40,000 to $120,000 at the European contest, while $200,000 will be offered for the American events.

Oil Doesn't Replace Coal.

New York, Jan. 12.—Oil-burning locomotives are more or less of a failure, especially in cold weather, according to the New York Central which, after a season's trial, has elected in favor of coal as the most economical fuel.

Port Arthur's Latest Project.

Port Arthur, Jan. 12.—The city will apply to the Legislature for a charter to construct a transfer railway from the south to the north border of the city, to connect all warehouses and manufacturies with the existing trunk lines.

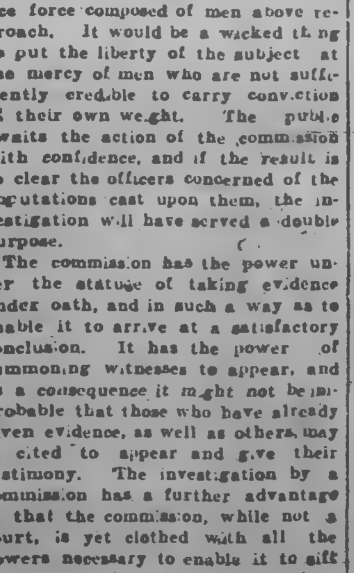
BOY SCOUTS

The boy-scout movement is making great headway in Montreal. The Witness has an illustration of lads in uniform and on snowshoes ready to proceed on their path of duty. We need this boy-scout movement. It is a pity that we are not more alive to the good of it in our city. We have not the same spirit of enterprise that we used to have or a boy-scout movement would have developed here ere this. What is the Y.M.C.A. doing about it?

THE COMING INVESTIGATION

Recent trials before His Honour Judge Huycke turned largely upon the credibility of the police officers giving evidence. The judge gave his decision against the testimony of the police in each of the cases referred to. As a consequence the citizens at large are asking if it is not urgently necessary that a careful inquiry be held, with a view of finding out how this state of affairs has come about. The matter is too serious to ignore. The police occupy such a position of responsibility and trust in relation to the community that when the citizens grow distrustful a careful investigation is the only thing possible to restore public confidence. In the trials referred to the testimony of the police did not carry sufficient weight to convict, and yet it was most elaborate and carefully detailed. The Chief cannot be very well blamed for this state of affairs, since while he is chargeable with the due and proper management and administration of the force, he cannot be expected to guarantee the credibility of its members. The police commission, which consists of the County Judge (chairman), the Mayor and the Police Magistrate, will have the duty in hand and may be trusted to find out how it is that the police officers concerned have not been able to convince the court that what they said was true. The security of the citizens requires above all other considerations, a police force composed of men above reproach. It would be a wicked thing to put the liberty of the subject at the mercy of men who are not sufficiently credible to carry conviction of their own weight. The public awaits the action of the commission with confidence, and if the result is to clear the officers concerned of the imputations cast upon them, the investigation will have served a double purpose.

The commission has the power under the statute of taking evidence under oath, and in such a way as to enable it to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. It has the power of summoning witnesses to appear, and as a consequence it might not be improbable that those who have already given evidence, as well as others, may be cited to appear and give their testimony. The investigation by a commission has a further advantage in that the commission, while not a court, is yet clothed with all the powers necessary to enable it to sift the matters brought before it thoroughly and impartially and free from the technicalities and restraints incidental to a suit at law.



EDITORIAL NOTES

Laurier's proposed Canadian naval scheme is a sheer and deliberate waste of money.

The foreign element, not only in B. C., but elsewhere in Canada, is becoming a positive danger. But then it makes the national debt "per head" so much the less.

It is said that the U.S. farmers having secured western Canadian land bargains, are re-emigrating to the U.S. in large numbers. It is hard to be up to the shrewd Yankee.

The Government census statistics give Quebec's population as nearly the same as Ontario's. Another railway to the west would probably show the east was going by leaps and bounds—somewhere else.

It is very funny, and even sad, also, to note the manner in which some of the Old Country journals are trying to pretend that they think Sir Wilfrid is for a united British empire. It is on the principle, possibly, that overt suspicion is the father of crime.

When Mr. O'Connell pointed to the fact, at the Opera House, that the opportunity had lain there but untouched until the man required arrived and took it up, he touched upon the perennial need of mankind—the man. It is always "the man," and when the man appears each little world rejoices and—when he turns traitor to it, it grieves.

If the peers could peer into the future they might find it peerless. It's what the people want that goes nowadays, except when the money-lords and the real lords "get their hands on" the people. It is doubtful if any land suffers more than Canada from the unprincipled greed of some of its harpies. We have no stones to throw in Canada at anybody else in that respect.

Paris, Jan. 7.—Edmond Thery, the French economist, figures that the wealth of France increased during 1909 by $1,200,000,000. French foreign investment at the end of the year totalled $7,000,000,000.—Toronto Star.

If the reader read and believed in the Globe editorials on Protection he could only conclude that the French are a nation of impoverished know-nothings. How is this business, anyhow? What's the matter with the Globe?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Bishop Deplores Costly Hats.

Kingston, Jan. 12.—Bishop Farthing of Montreal, in a missionary address here, suggested to increase givings; some men might do with one cigar less per day, while ladies might reduce the price of their hats. He had heard of women paying as high as $250 for a hat. This was wicked, no matter whether the person is rich or not.

Roast For Guelph Police.

Guelph, Jan. 12.—Coroner McLean, reporting to the council the result of the inquiry into the Norrish block fire, censures Chief of Police Randall for not having promptly investigated the story that two men had been seen hurrying from the place, and says "any up-to-date police force" could easily solve the mystery.

ASKING FOR RURAL FREE MAIL DELIVERY

Correspondent of the Review.

There will be considerable improvement made in the farm buildings in this district during the coming spring. Mr. J. J. Lintic has made contracts to erect four barns, for John Irwin, Thos. Tindal and two others.

Mr. Geo. Boate is going to build a new brick house.

The farmers in this section are working for a rural mail delivery along the 4th line of Smith. Application has been made to Ottawa, and there are good prospects that the route will be put under contract.

The annual business meeting of the Lakevale Presbyterian church at Fowler's Corners was held on Thursday, January 6th. Rev. Mr. Curry presided. Mr. John Dailing, secretary, read the report. He reported finances in a good condition and that the church was prosperous. Refreshments were served by the ladies in the church, and a short programme was given.

On January 10th Messrs. McManus and Conway, threshers, were at work on the farm of Mr. Jos. Hunter, 4th line, (Moncrief farm) and threshed out 28 bushels of red clover seed in eight hours. This is both good work and a good crop. As a matter of fact it took only about three days to harvest the crops and one day to thresh it and the product is worth over $300. The seed is worth a little over $8 a bushel. It will likely be sold to local men in the city, who are exporters of clover seed

PAINTED STRIKING PICTURE OF CHRIST'S CRUCIFIXION

Another inspiring address was delivered at the Park street Baptist church by Gipsy Hawkins. A large crowd gathered and the meeting was one of the best of the mission yet held. Taking his text from Matthew 2-1, he took up the several events leading up to the crucifixion of Christ and in graphic language brought the scenes before his audience.

The howling mob, the mock trial by the soldiers, the march through the city streets, the false swearing of perjurers, and the final release of Barabbas brought tears to many eyes, and repentance to hearts, as was seen in the after meeting when Gipsy Hawkins made his tender appeal to those present to choose between Barabas or Christ.

Every man and woman must some day answer Pilate's question. "What will I do with Jesus?"

It is a personal question. I must do something with Him.

But a more personal question is, "What will Jesus do with me?"

But the crowd touched Pilate in his weak spot and he yielded.

A jelly-fish judge without backbone or principle.

The meeting will be held to-night at eight o'clock. Mr. Hawkins will take for his subject "Why Christ could not save Himself."

On Friday night he will tell his thrilling life story. Everybody welcome.

BUDGET OF INTERESTING NEWS FROM HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 11.—The first meeting of the village council for 1910 will be held in the council chamber on Monday next at 7.30 p.m. The Belmont council will meet at 11 a.m. on the same day.

A meeting of the Farmers' Institute for East Peterborough will be held in the town hall on Jan. 11. There will be two sessions, the one in the afternoon starting at 1.30 and the evening meeting at 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Jos. Knox, of town, will be chairman, and the following programme will be rendered:—

AFTERNOON.

H. C. Duff—Address on "Eradication of Weeds."

C. A. Brethren—Address on "How I Built My Silo."

J. Gardhouse—Address on "Raising Feed for Livestock."

EVENING.

J. Gardhouse—Address on "How to Improve Farm Conditions."

H. C. Duff—Address on "Agricultural Education."

There will also be a musical programme at the evening session.

Swift & Co. will commence storing ice at the local icing station on Wednesday next. The ice is being shipped from Norwood this year, as usual.

Miss Stella Armstrong was successful in winning the handsome $18.00 toilet set, given by Mr. A. Ormiston, the enterprising proprietor of the Red Cross drug store, for obtaining the most coupons given for cash payments during the month of December. Miss Armstrong had a total of 763 votes, each one representing a cash purchase of ten cents.

Miss Bessie Rose entertained a number of her friends on Friday evening last, when a delightful evening was spent at progressive euchre and dancing.

A hay ride and oyster supper will be given by the Amity Club on Wednesday evening, January 12. Vehicles will leave the club house on Union street at 7.30 o'clock, and after an hour's drive an oyster supper will be served at the club house, and the remainder of the evening spent at euchre and dancing.

School opened on Tuesday last with a good attendance. Mr. McIntosh is principal of the Continuation school, with Miss Donna Cook as assistant. There is a staff of six teachers in the Public school. Principal Nelson and Misses Driscoll, Black, Francey, Day and Todd.

A long-needed want has at last been fulfilled by the establishment of a division court at Havelock. For many years the village of Havelock and township of Belmont have seen that a division court should be established here, and by a new division of the county Havelock and the townships of Belmont and Methune have been set aside as a separate division, known as No. 5, the court to be held in the town hall at Havelock. At the meeting to fix the boundaries at Peterborough on Thursday last, Reeve Knox and C. A. Gheint, of town, were present and presented arguments in favor of granting of a court to this section. No clerk has as yet been appointed for this division, but it is expected that the first court will be held here in March.

A fire which might have been a very disastrous one, broke out at the residence of Mr. H. Falkner on Monday evening last by clothes coming in contact with the stove. Fortunately it was discovered before it gained much headway, and its limits were confined to the room in which it broke out.

Mr. Jas. Seeney, of town, employed with the C.P.R. telegraph gang, now operating in the village, received a gash in the head on Monday morning which required several stitches to close it up. He was holding a bolt which another employee was driving with a heavy sledge hammer, when the hammer, in its descent, glanced off the bolt, striking Mr. Seeney forcibly on the top of the head, inflicting a severe cut.

The C.P.R. will shortly open a lunch counter at the station here, whereby providing better accommodation for the travelling public. Several of these lunch counters have been established along their line, and besides being profitable to the company, they are greatly appreciated by the employees of the railway and the travelling public. The one to be opened here will be placed in the passenger waiting room, and will be kept open both night and day.

Miss T. Adams was in Campbellford on Sunday.

Miss M. McWilliams and Mrs. Clark have returned from visiting at their home in Marmora.

Miss Lottie Chiles, of Peterborough, was in town on Saturday.

After an illness of two weeks from congestion of the lungs, Mrs. Simon Sexsmith passed out of this life on January 1st, at the age of 78 years. The deceased has resided in Belmont for 57 years. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and a family of five, namely, Mrs. Henry Seabrooks, of Belmont; Mr. Alex. Sexsmith, of town, and Richard, Tobias and Simon, of Belmont. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon to the Maple Grove cemetery, Rev. C. W. Holdsworth conducting the services.

Mr. George Scott, of town, purchased Mr. A. Hoult's farm, near Trent Bridge, and will take possession in the spring.

The Round Lake cheese factory will hold their annual meeting in the school house on January 15th.

Miss M. Brand, of Port Hope, a former teacher in the Public school here, was married to Mr. Walter Roebuck, of Peterborough, on December 27th.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Ellis to Mr. Henry Riley, both of Belmont, took place at the Methodist parsonage, Marmora, on December 29th, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. E. Moore.

THE LIFE OF A "STANE"

The life of a curling stone is as varied and uncertain as the life of a human being. Of the 100 pairs of new stones brought into Toronto this winter, some will last their owners a lifetime and some will do for their present proprietors for little more than a season. The expert curler figures that you must have perfect stones to play on perfect ice, and he gets the perfect stones—that is, stones that are not worn in the least. But the other fellows plays a stone for years and, if it goes bad, blames the skips, "borrow," or the bad sweeping.

What becomes of the old stones of the expert? Oh, they're passed along. Rural clubs like Richmond Hill and Thornhill and other clubs on the concessions are even now curling with stones that have won big gold cups for the Rennies or chased after rich prizes at Winnipeg. The last resort of any curling stone is outside ice—anything from a brick to a block of wood will do for outside ice.

Funny thing about curling stones is that all attempts to put a new ring on the bottom of an old stone have proved a failure. Of course you can put the new ring there, but the result is never satisfactory. When a stone is done for it is done—and that's all there is to it. Good deal like a man in that respect, isnt it?

TAKES A TRIP TO THE COAST

On the advice of his physician, Mr. W. Bunton, the local agent at the uptown G.T.R. ticket office, left this morning on a trip for his health to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Bunton will visit San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and other points and will be gone about a month and a half.

LIFE WELL WORTH LIVING.

Massachusetts Man Who Has Extracted Much of the Honey of Existence.

There is a man in Massachusetts by the name of Henry J. Turner who has had, we suspect, more solid enjoyment in his long life than any man in the world. This is, of course, a very strong statement, but when we remark that in the last 40 years Mr. Turner has, with a hook and line, caught 11 miles of fish, the gentle reader will surely agree to the assertion.

By 11 miles we mean that when these fish, nearly all pickerel and the largest not weighing over five pounds and the average weight not reaching a pound, are laid down, head to tail, the line would extend 11 miles away. He averaged four fish a day for 40 years, counting in sick days, winter days, storm days, Sundays—in fact, for every day in 40 years he caught four fish.

While it is easy to calculate the pounds, distance, number and all the statistics of this 40 years' fishing, it is impossible to estimate the joy that has come into this man's life. Why, he has had more real, downright, upright fun than all the presidents, cabinet officers, congressmen, millionaires, euchre players, automobilists vaudeville goers all put together. Just think of those meditations and exhilarations attending upon the 175,000 bites he had and the 55,000 fish he drew out of the water. That man's joy has been greater than the man's who found a bonanza, built a palace to live in and drinks champagne instead of water.—Ohio State Journal.

AS TOLD BY INDIGENT ALBERT

Really Remarkable Tale of Woe That Should Satisfy the Most Incredulous.

"My unfortnit condition I traces direct to the vanity of wimmin," said Indigent Albert, accounting for his financial lack of stature to the pedestrian of benevolent aspect.

"How is that?"

"Well, sir, you see I was seckind mate aboard of a three-masted schooner what traded between here and South Amurrika. She was the daisiest (parding my tears) little craft that ever sailed the oshun blue. She was built all through of the finest curly maple, wich every seaman knows is the best wood for ships what is."

"That's news to me."

"Yes, sir, p'raps. But as I was sayin', we took on board one trip a cargo of them irons what wimmin uses for to mar-sell their hair. They was for wimmin in Brazil. We was doin' fine and dandy until we struck the tropics. Then them irons got het up and the whole ship went to pieces. Oh, but it was rotten hard luck, it was."

"But I don't understand."

"No, sir, p'raps not. But as I was sayin', w'en them irons got het up every curly maple plank in the ship jest nacherally curled up in a mar-sell wave, and we pore marineers had to swim to shore, miles and miles away— Thank you kindly, sir. You has a heart of di'monds. This will give me a place to lay my poor, unfortnit head."—Freeman Tilden in Puck.

An Unpopular Official.

There is one public official that goes begging in many small suburban towns. Nobody wants the position of dog catcher.

"It isn't that we're afraid to handle the beasts," said one man who had declined the honor. "It is the fact that the business of running in dogs gets everybody down on us. I know a man —a first-rate fellow he is too—who was made dog catcher in a Staten Island village. He had enjoyed the best kind of reputation up to the time he took that position, but before he had held the job three months, hardly a person in the town would speak to him. In the opinion of the general public, to scoop up poor, little, defenseless doggies and cart them away to the pound is the furthest cry of human ignominy. The man who will do such a thing sinks below the level of the official hangman and no longer holds a place in the esteem of his neighbors."

Silent Clubs.

Some eccentric persons in the French capital, we learn from a Paris contemporary, have formed a club the principal rule of which is that all the members when at the institution shall preserve an absolute silence. Our contemporary prophesies a short life for the club in a country noted for its loquacity. Moreover, the idea is by no means new, for we read toward the end of the seventeenth century of a similar assembly in London. Many such clubs are said to exist to-day in China. The silent members of the Spectator club gave us unaided Sir Roger de Coverley, so what measureless possibilities are before this new club of silent members!

Advertising That Counted.

An Oklahoma boy put up what he considered a good joke on his mother by advertising in her name for a husband. He is now being walloped by a good, stout stepfather, the surprised but not at all frustrated mother having annexed the first man that came along, and doing well at that, as the neighbors all allowed. You can do anything in this world that is doable by proper advertising. Let our Mr. —— talk with you about it.—Minneapolis Journal.

STOCK GLEANINGS.

Some Suggestions of Value For the Stock Breeder.

There seem to be much stewing and fretting among many farmers about covering cement floors where the cows lie. It has been proved in many instances that the ordinary cement floor, even with all the straw bedding they can provide, is injurious to cows in various ways. The cold cement floor, and it is always cold to the hand, is very productive in causing udder troubles—like garget—and rheumatism in the body of the cow. Now, it is a simple thing to cover the cement with inch boards. Do this and all will be well. Why not do it?

The hog is a well regulated machine for the transformation of food into crude material for the packing house. The hog which can assimilate the most during a given period is the most profitable to the growers. Therein lies the difference between the purpose bred animal and the razorback, as shown in recent experiments.

From many quarters of the southwest and from practically all parts of the main hog breeding states come reports of a shortage in brood sows. High prices of feed and the extra good prices offered by the packers for all kinds of swine have combined to send the hogs from the farming districts to the packing houses.

Put a small quantity of copperas in the drinking troughs and tanks for stock. It purifies the water and rids it of the green scum known as alga.

Musty or moldy hay is harmful as a feed, and the one who feeds such to his stock will be rewarded by cases of sickness, paralysis and sometimes death.

Ohio has appropriated $25,000 to assist in fighting epidemics of hog cholera in that state. Large appropriations made by other states consist of $15,000 for Iowa and $10,000 for Missouri. Texas has appropriated $1,000 to aid in the work, and other states have given considerable amounts.

MR. SALLS WITH MUTUAL LIFE

Has Accepted the General Agency for Central Ontario

The genial and well-known Midland District Manager of the Canada Life Assurance Co., Mr. S. E. Salls, has accepted the general agency for Central Ontario for the Mutual Life of Canada. Mr. Salls, who has been with the Canada Life for 19 years, has been coming to Oshawa ever since 1892, and has distinguished himself in his chosen profession by writing much insurance there for the larger amounts, some of them for $25,000, and his character as a fairdealing man has been thoroughly established in this town and neighborhood. His many friends here will congratulate him upon such a well-deserved advancement.—Ottawa Vindicator.

Mr. Salls' office in Peterborough is on Water street.

ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY HELD ITS ANNUAL MEETING

At the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society last evening in the Collegiate the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Dr. Marsh, who has been the efficient president of the society since its inception, requested that he be allowed to retire in favor of the Vice-President, Mr. H. B. Collier. In accordance with this request Mr. Collier was thereupon elected to office of president with the following officers to form the Council or governing body; Vice-President, Mr. H. O. Fisk; Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. Marsh, and Councillors T. A. S. Hay and D. E. Easson.

The reports of the various officials covering the work of the society during the past year gave evidence of a very satisfactory state of affairs. The lecture department showed that Peterborough has been favored with the presence of a number of very prominent astronomers and that the result of their lectures has been most gratifying. While the attendance has been very fair indeed, some improvement can undoubtedly be made in this feature. Considering the literary importance of this city and the eminence of the lectures that are being brought to the city by the society, the meetings should be crowded instead of just "fairly large attendance."

The lecture delivered last evening by Dr. Marsh on the subject of Stellar Evolution, proved a most interesting one.

It was illustrated throughout with lantern views and thereby proved very entertaining as well as instructive.

MEETING OF THE SHAREHOLDERS

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Cordage Co. was held this afternoon, The usual reports were presented and the election of officers took place.

A full report of the meeting will be published in to-morrow's Review.

"THE ROYAL CHEF" ON SATURDAY

Peer of Musical Comedies Will be Presented by Excellent Cast

Local theatre-goers are much interested in the appearance here on Saturday, at the Grand Opera House, of the peer of musical comedies, "The Royal Chef." No other show on the road, or in the big cities for that matter, has such a number of jingling musical numbers as "The Royal Chef." There are nearly a score of them, and every one is of the kind that makes the audience demand repeated encores. "The Royal Chef," however, does not depend alone on its song hits, as there is an abundance of comedy of a superior type.

"The Royal Chef" appeared here in 1907 and was pronounced by a large audience the best musical comedy that ever appeared in this city. It is announced on authority that the company which will appear here on Saturday, is one of unusual excellence. Every role is delineated by an actor or actress specially engaged on account of his or her fitness to play the part. The show is elaborately costumed, all the costumes and scenery being new. Everything is on a lavish scale throughout.

"The Royal Chef" will be presented matinee and night.

OBITUARY

MRS. BENJ. COONEY.

In the death of Mrs. Benj. Cooney, which occurred yesterday morning about four o'clock, this city loses an old resident, and the community one for whom they had the greatest respect and esteem. The late Mrs. Cooney had been in delicate health for a number of years, but had only been confined to her room for the past two weeks. She had been afflicted with heart trouble and complications set in, with fatal results. She was born in Wales, England, 70 years ago, and when quite young, left her native land and settled in Watertown, N.Y. Following her marriage to her husband, she came to this place, where she has resided for the past forty years. Her husband alone survives.

The deceased had been pasionately fond of flowers, and took a deep interest in the cultivation of them. Many homes and sick rooms were made brighter through the kindly spirit which marked her life.

To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock a private service will be held at the house, and at 2.30 the remains will be taken to All Saints' church where a public service will take place. Interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

THE BEST REASONS WE'VE EVER OFFERED FOR BUYING FURS IN JANUARY

Here are some facts of an astounding nature that every thoughtful person will appreciate and see that it's to their advantage to make an investment in Furs for present and future use.

To-Day Raw Fur Prices are Higher Than They've Been in the History of This Old World of Ours

The increasing demand for Furs all over the world owing to the general betterment of the financial condition of the people, taken with the ever lessening supply of all kinds of Fur-bearing animals, has advanced the prices this year from 15 to 130 per cent. over last year's prices. Some furs will become almost prohibitive to the great mass of people in a very short time, owing to the great advances. Alaska Sable, Mink, Musk, Muskrat, Seal, Fox, Lynx Oppossum, Coon, Badger, Persian Lamb, and Otter are the skins which have made the most radical advances this year.

Last year we purchased extra quantities of Raw Furs at the lowest prices then prevailing, and we are therefore able to give our customers The Best Furs at prices that any wholesale manufacturer would be willing to give for them to-day.

On all Made-up Furs in Stock we will also give during January a specical discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. off our regular prices.

The discouut taken with the advance in prices on Raw Furs for this year will mean

A Saving on Some Furs of Over Half of Next Season's Prices.

Now is the time to buy as stock is well assorted and the selections are "A 1."

C. Morgan, M.A., of Toronto, who is a talented elocutionist and singer. A banquet will be held during the evening to which the members and their wives are invited.

HON. MR. HANNA IS QUITE RIGHT

The following item appears in today's Mail and Empire:

"Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, yesterday drew attention to a news item in the Peterborough Review, in which a member of the Whitney Government was reported as saying that where a local option vote had been as large as in Peterborough and Brantford, it would be necessary for the authorities to cut the number of licences in half. "This statement is entirely without foundation," said Mr. Hanna. "Under the Act neither the Government nor the department have any power to enforce their views under such circumstances, if views they had, and what is more, the Government has carefully abstained from dictating to local authorities under such circumstances as here. If these local municipalities wish a reduction of licenses, the electors may give effect to this through their Municipal Council."

The explanation of the despatch referred to in the Review is that the "authorities" referred to were the local authorities, and not the departmental authorities at Toronto. There was no intention on the Review's part to ascribe in the despatch a desire on the part of a minister or an administration to interfere unnecessarily in local affairs. The right to reduce, as the Review has repeatedly pointed out, rests with the City Council in the first instance, and next Monday night, no doubt, the Council will deal with the League's request in that respect. The minister concerned did not, of course, deny that where public sentiment showed itself pronouncedly it would be necessary to pay respect to it. That principle exists whether Ministers of the Crown give expression to it or not.

THEATRICAL

The Blue Mouse

Patrons of the Grand Opera House were afforded a rare treat last night in the presentation of "The Blue Mouse," with Mabel Barrison, the clever Toronto girl, in the leading role. "The Blue Mouse" is regarded as the greatest farce comedy written by the late Clyde Fitch, and there is everything to justify this opinion. It is hilariously funny from beginning to end, and the enjoyment of the audience last night knew no bounds. It was the largest house of the season, and probably the best satisfied. The story of the comedy hinges on the engagement of "The Blue Mouse," a Salome dancer, by the secretary, to the president of the Inter-State Railway Company to impersonate his wife. pseudo wife is to secure a desired promotion for the secretary by carrying on a flirtation with the president, who is susceptible to the charms of a pretty woman to a marked degree. The complications that follow provide comedy in abundance. Mabel Barrison, as "The Blue Mouse," and Harry Conor in the role of the railway president, showed that they were possessed of great ability. The supporting company was excellent, every character being portrayed in a wonderfully clever manner.

FINE ICE AT AUDITORIUM

The Auditorium Rink has lately been flooded, and there is now a fine sheet of ice at the service of the skating public. New waiting rooms have been erected that are roomy and comfortable, and this rink promises to be a popular place this season.

Halley's Comet

The following information has been supplied by Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville;—

Harvard College Observatory, Cambridge, Mass.

A letter has been received from Prof. E. P. Frost, director of Yerkes Observatory, stating that on his photo of Halley's comet, taken with the Bruce telescope on December 29, he finds a very faint tail in position angle 69, with a length of about ten minutes. The tail was very slender and straight.

GANS PICKS JOHNSON AND TELLS HIS REASONS WHY

Is Not Color Blind or Partizan Either, He Says, in Making Selection—Thinks Johnston Too Clever for Jeff to Do Anything With.

Joe Gans, the former lightweight, thinks that Johnson will defeat Jeffries when they meet July 4th. Gans was one of the best boxers in the country up to a couple of years ago, and few men of the fistic ring know more of the fistic game than he. The Baltimore negro is to assist Johnson in his training for the bout, and that he will be of great assistance to the champion is conceded on every side. Speaking of the big battle Gans says;—

"Jeffries will be beaten by Johnson for the championship of the world and the epitaph will be;—'He could not come back.' No matter how highly they sound the praises of Jeff now, when he clashes with Johnson he will meet his conqueror. It will be a case of science against brute strength, and in this affair the science of Johnson will come out on top. I am not favoring Johnson because we are of the same color. If I thought that Jef fcould whip Johnson, I would be one of the first to express my convictions. I have been in the game too long to allow sentiment to cut any figure. It's simply a case of which man I consider the superior, and my choice is Johnson. Again, with me there is no such thing as the color line. There is no doubt that all fair-minded men will agree with me that a fighter is a fighter, pure and simple, no matter whether he is white or black; so, therefore, no one must think that I am prejudiced.

"When Johnson returned, after beating Burns, everyone got excited and shouted, 'Jeff will have to lick Johnson and bring back the title to the white race.' There was a day when he might have done so, but now it is entirely different. In his prime Jeff was a bunch of muscle and bones that no man could hurt. He has had years of rest, and at present the retired champion is simply a mass of soft flesh that is in such a condition that it will be impossible for him to get back to the old days. Jeff will train hard, but nature has had such an easy time that it will not respond sufficiently to the treatment, and when he faces Johnson he will be far from the Jeffries of old. Jeff may manage to get rid of a lot of overweight and may appear as fine as a fiddle when he sits in his corner. But take it from me, that old vitality, which is absolutely necessary for any kind of a battle, will be missing, and then what can you expect?

"It is almost a positive fact that all the folks who refuse to give Johnson a chance with Jeff simply figure through prejudice against the colored fighter. He can't hit, he always backs up, he hasn't got the punch, and he is always stalling, are a few things that they charge to Johnson. Now, in my estimation, and you know that I have seem them all, I think that Johnson is one of the greatest fighters of the past twenty years. Jim Corbett is admitted to have been a marvellous boxer. As good as Jim was, I claim that Johnson is just a little tbetter than Jim at his best. Many will disagree with this statement, but I know a lot of inside dope regarding Johnson.

"Johnson will enter the ring with no fear o flocing to Jeff. That, you must admit, is a great asset in a championship battle. In fact, he figures that this fight will be the easiest of his career. This may not please Jeff's admirers, but it is the plain truth. When they start you can go broke that Jack will use all his cleverness to prevent Jeff landing in the early rounds his terrible right that has wrecked so many good men. That means that Johnson will keep on the defensive until he thinks Jeff has lost a lot of his strength and is having trouble with his wind. When Jack is satisfied that he holds the upper hand then he will change his tactics and try to beat Jeff down with those uppercuts and sting jabs that will take cuts and stinging jabs that will take leave him a mark for his colored rival.'"

FIRST CITY LEAGUE GAME STARTS TO-NIGHT AT 7.30

Fans with weak nerves are advised to take a little tonic along with them to the City League games to-night at Brock street rink. While the contests last Wednesday were well played and interesting, the first one was won in the first half and the second by a garrison finish on the part of the West Ends in the second half. Such will not be the case to-night if the opinions of the players carry any weight. The puck chasers of each team naturally look for a win.

FIRST CITY LEAGUE GAME.

The first game starts at 7.30 sharp between Keene and West Ends. It was agreed by all who watched the work of the Keene team in their first game, that they played at a disadvantage on account of the large ice, but at that, outscored their opponents in the second period. The players will be more at home to-night and it is logical to dope out a win for them. Manager Oldham's West Enders, however, can't see it that way, so somebody is going to be disappointed.

In the second game T.A.S. meet the Strathconas. The abstainers look good for a win. Heffernan, who performed so creditably for the Peterborough Colts on Monday night will be on the lineup. The team has been practicing faithfully for the past week, and the players claim to have worked up a style of play that will beat the High Commissioners to a standstill.

The two games and the fact that the Edmonton Stanley Cup challengers will hold a workout at the rink should bring one of the largest crowds that ever attended Brock street rink.

SHOTS ON GOAL

There is nothing definite to announce in the way of a schedule for this district of the Intermediate O. H. A. series. Secretary Glover of the local club, was in communication with Lindsay yesterday over the long distance. Manager Stoddard suggests that the first game be played in Lindsay on Friday, January 21st, with the first home game here on the following Tuesday night.

HORSES FOR HEAVY LOADS

It is a real pleasure to have a team that can be relied upon to pull whenever wanted to do so. Any team if not of a too highly nervous temperament may be trained to perfect reliability. We need first of all to recognize that the horse has a mind and at least the mental qualities of memory and affection. The consideration of paramount importance is to develop the team's confidence in themselves and in their driver. It is just as true of a horse as of man that he will not exert himself greatly over what he has no hope of accomplishing.

But, different from man, the horse thinks of previous loads instead of the one to which he is attached. This is the reason a balky horse is apt to refuse to pull a very light load. He has no way of estimating his load but by pulling upon it. Hitch a horse to a very heavy load, let him pull upon it, then transfer him to any empty wagon and start him. You will see him gather himself for a heavy pull. He has in mind the heavy load.

Had the horse been stalled with a heavy load and whipped until driver and horse were both certain he could not pull it you would have a horse thoroughly broken not to pull. One writer says: "I have seen men who had horses given to pulling upon the halter put one on the puller they were confident the horse could not break and then whip him over the head in order to make him pull.

"Nearly always when a horse finds he cannot pull loose he will walk up to the hitching post. I have heard men argue that a horse could be so thoroughly broken in this way that a tow string would hold him." There is some truth in it, though not all horses are to be managed in the same way. A horse of nervous temperament should never be excited. He will always do his best in a perfectly calm state of mind. The drivers of fast trotters have taught us this

A GOOD TEAM FOR PULLING.

They have also learned that to keep the horse calm all men in attendance must remain so. No passionate, profane man ever developed great speed in a horse nor trained a powerful pulling team. With these general principles in view any team may be trained so that it will be a delight to work them. Have a definite and small vocabulary to use with your team and always use the same word for one purpose.

Keep the same two horses working together and always on the same side. Use open bridles, so that the team can see what is going on around them. Keep all attachments strong, that your team will not be in fear of straining themselves through something breaking. Use close fitting collars and harness and never allow a horse to become sore from any part of the harness. Teach your team to start together. Keep them strong and in good spirits by good and regular feeding and good care in every particular.

PULPIT SERMONS ON WOMEN.

Few Things Said by Ancient and Modern Divines on Momentous Subject.

Why Eve was made from the rib of Adam has been explained by a witty sage of old. If she had been created from his mouth, she would have talked too much; if from his feet, she would have gone about too much; if from his ears, she would have listened too readily; but she was made from a rib, which is near the heart, to show that she must always be dear to man.

An English preacher in the seventeenth century spoke in similar fashion when he said, with the text, "To be or not to be," that woman should be like and unlike three things. She should be like a snail, always keep within her own house; but not like a snail, to carry all she had on her back. She should be like an echo, to speak when she was spoken to; but not, like an echo, always to have the last word. She should be like a town clock, always keep time and regularity; but not, like a town clock, to speak so loud that all the town might hear her.

A preacher in the reign of Charles II. was to receive £10 if in his sermon at the funeral of Madam Creswell he said nothing but well of her. She was rather a bad character and herself had dictated the clause in her will. So, after a general address on mortality, he thus concluded: "By the will of a deceased sister it is expected that I should mention her and say nothing but well of her; therefore is this: She was born well, she lived well and she died well; for she was born with the name Creswell, she lived in Clerkenwell and she died in Bridewell."—The Sunday Magazine.

LIGHT ON MEDICAL QUESTION

Scientific Analysis of the Ability of Individuals to Weep "Tears of Blood."

The belief that certain individuals are able to weep tears of blood is of such antiquity that the German equivalent for "bitter tears" is "blutige thranan," "bloody tears." There seems, however, no authentic instance of blood being actually secreted by the lachrymal gland.

Micas has published a very interesting article on real and false tears of blood. It is a clinical study on conjunctival hemorrhage. Some years ago the author was consulted about a boy aged 12 years who, from the slightest cause, such as laughing, or sometimes apparently for no cause whatever, wept tears of blood—an occurrence often repeated several times a day. The lad was pale and enervated from constant hemorrhage.

The source of the bleeding was the tarsal conjunctiva, which was covered with fine papillae, and light cauterization with the galvano-cautery resulted in a cure.

This case led the author to study the literature of the subject. He found that in none of the cases cited is it certain that the blood did not come from the conjunctiva or from the lachrymal passages. He feels that it is unwise to deny the possibility of sanguineous secretion from the gland, but that examples in which other sources cannot be shown to be present must be exceedingly rare.

Borneo Inviting to Naturalists.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo. Here are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift Collocalia Nidifica. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese, and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their glands; no sticks or any other foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. The value of those exported from British North Borneo in 1907 was $35,924. They are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

Asthma Plant of Queensland.

The euphorbias are very numerous in the colony of Queensland, and among them is the euphorbia pilulifera, the "Queensland asthma plant," which has a remarkable reputation for curing this troublesome complaint. Several pharmaceutical preparations of the plant are extensively sold in Australia. Analysis shows that a green plant contained 79 per cent. by weight of water and three per cent. of ash, leaving 18 per cent. of vegetable matter. A dried plant contained an alkaloidal substance equal to about 1 part in 1,000. It contained also a glucosidal substance to the amount of not more than 4 parts in 1,000. Possibly one or both of these was the active principle of the plant.

Schisms That Seem Small.

Two religious sects who hated one another bitterly were found by Sven Hedin in Tibet. Searching for the cause of this aversion he found that one of the sects believed that the prayer wheel should turn to the right, while the other was convinced that the wheel should turn to the left. In the region of the Bramaputra he found a mountain which is so sacred that whoever walks around it 13 times has all his sins forgiven. The result of this belief is that criminals from far and near infest this region. When Sven Hedin started to ride around this mountain on his horse the pilgrims informed him that that would do him no good.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

REPORTS PRESENTED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF THE Y. M. C. A.

sions. Total attendance 139.

Three men's meetings were held, with a total attendance of 1,300. As a result of these meetings 65 men took a definite stand for the Christian life, and many others manifested an interest in Christian service and Bible study. Out of these 65 who entered the Christian life, a number are known to have united with some church.

The outstanding feature of the religious work of the Association was the visit of Mr. C. R. Drum, in the month of April, when he spent a week in conferences and men's meetings, including an Opera House meeting. At that time meetings were conducted at noon in four of the factories of the city, and as an outcome of those meetings there was begun in the fall a series of noonday meetings one day a week in two of the shops.

Under the direction of the Religious Work Department, a special committee has cared for the raising of funds to assist in the support of Mr. Farquhar, of Calcutta, India, who represents the North American Association there in his work amongst the students. The following statement shows the amount raised and expended on the continent, and indicates an increase of $50 in the contribution over that of the preceding year.

Mention must be made in this annual report of the International and Provincial Committees, from which this Association has received assistance and visited the Association in the interests of the various departments of work. Mr. Colton, of the Foreign Work Department, along with Mr. Hibbard, of Japan, spent a couple of days in the interest of that department of work.

Mr. Drum spent a week at one time, and a Sunday at another, in connection with this Association's work, and Mr. Copeland and Mr. Hawkins, of the Provincial Committee, have been in at times to confer and offer suggestions and advice in regard to various matters.

This Association co-operated with the Provincial Committee in the work at the militia camps by having at Kingston, during two weeks in June, the the General Secretary and two members of the Association.

The Association was represented by the General Secretary at the annual convention, held in November, at Ottawa.

STAFF.

The work of the Association has been somewhat handicapped during the year by changes in the staff of employed officers. The Boys' secretary, Mr. George T. Evans, who did much to improve the conditions in, and the organization of the Boys' Department, left in July to return to school and better equip himself for Association work, and in September, Mr A. Collings, the Physical Director, left to attend the Springfield Training School, there taking a special course to better fit himself for the work of the Physical Directorship.

It was early in October before the Association was able to secure the services of another Physical Director, Mr. H. A. McLaughlin, and not until near the end of the year that another man was found to especially relate himself to the work of the Boys' Department, in the person of Mr John M. Lang.

BODY COVERED WITH ECZEMA

Yet Zam-Buk Cured Him

Mr. A. M. Brooks, of Wellington St., Stoulton, says;

"Ten months ago I contracted eczema, which at first appeared on my neck, later spreading to my chest and body. The doctor thought this was caused by the irritation of my shirt collar and the poison and steam from the pulp, as I was then employed at the pulp mill. I began doctoring, but instead of the disease being checked it showed signs of becoming worse: and my neck, chest, and my whole body was soon in a frightful condition. The skin actually peeled off, leaving the flesh raw.

"I suffered cruelly from the terrible itching and soreness, and was completely confined to the house. Not seeing or feeling any improvement, I next resorted to the ordinary salves and ointments recommended for skin diseases, but although I gave each preparation a fair trial, none seemed powerful enough to bring about a cure until I began using Zam-Buk.

"From the first application of Zam-Buk I had some relief, and as I preserevered with its use daily the soreness was by disease drawn out and the intense itching and aching completely vanished. Scabs or scales formed over the raw flesh, but Zam-Buk soon cleared away all these, and although the cure was naturally gradual, it was complete."

If you suffer from any skin disease don't make the above mistake, and try all sorts of things before Zam-Buk. Get Zam-Buk first! Eczema, ulcers, abscesses, poisoned wounds, cuts, cold sores, scalp sores, face eruptions, chaps, red, rough patches—all are healed and cured by Zam-Buk. Best balm for babies' rashes. All druggists and stores at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Band to-night at Street Railway Rink.

THERE IS NOTHING DOING IN EAST PETERBOROUGH

Constable Cochrane on the Complete Success of Local Option—The C.A.S. Can Tell of Conditions There Also.

Constable Cochrane says that since local option, or its equivalent, has been introduced into East Peterborough, including, of course, Norwood, Havelock, Lakefield, Warsaw, Westwood, McCracken's, etc., the business doing at the court of County Magistrate Edmison, K.C., is practically nil. Previous to this, however, his diary shows a large number of infractions of the criminal and quasi-criminal law, most of which could be and were traceable directly to the effects of "the cratur." The transformation under the new conditions, he says, is wonderful, notwithstanding some cynical comments to the contrary. Facts speak louder than fault-finding and East Peterborough, speaking generally, is a vastly improved riding. The Children's Aid Society is the first one to know of improved conditions or the reverse and in this connection it bears grateful testimony to these improved conditions. Mr. Cochrane says that the Liquor Act is well enforced in East Peterborough and that those in authority are doing their best.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY AWAITS THE FARMERS OF PETERBOROUGH COUNTY

A golden opportunity awaits the farmers of Peterborough county in the three day short course in stock and seed judging, to be held in the city of Peterborough, January 24, 25 and 26, when they will be afforded the privilege of becoming better informed on what constitutes good grain and high-class live stock. This short course is being arranged for by the Farmers' Institutes Department at Toronto under the auspices of the Norwood representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, local Institute officers, and local stockmen.

SEED.

The seed work and instruction in grains and weeds will be given in the Market Hall. This department will be under the direction of Professor C. A. Zavitz, Ontario Agricultural College, and Mr. T. G. Raynor, of the Seed Branch, Ottawa These two men are acknowledged to be the best authorities in Canada on matters pertaining to seeds.

The Market Hall will be fitted with tables and seats. Each one in attendance will have placed before him samples of grain which he will be allowed to judge as if placing them at a fair. The various points of judging will then be discussed, and thus most helpful information will be imparted in a most practical manner. Some time will be devoted to a study of weeds and weed seeds.

LIVE STOCK.

Eminent men have also been secured for the work of stock judging. This department will be featured in Fitzgerald's carriage shop, corner of Brock and Water streets. The shop will be fitted with tiers of seats so arranged that a crowd of 400 or 500 farmers will be able to get a close view of the animals in the judging ring. The stock to be judged will include light and heavy horses, dairy and beef cattle and swine. This department is sure to be most popular, it having been impossible at other places where these stock judging classes have been held to accommodate all those who would attend.

EVENING MEETING.

Nor is this all. An evening meeting has been arranged for Tuesday, January 25th, which will be addressed by President Creelman, of the O.A.C., and other prominent agriculturalists. A musical programme will be provided, and a feature of the evening will be the presentation of cups won by Peterborough county farmers in the local Good Farms Competition All are invited to attend this meeting, which will be held in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute. Ladies are especially invited.

Farmers and others interested in the agriculture of Peterborough county should not fail to give this event their most hearty support On the success of the short course depends much of the benefits that will be derived by farmers and others from the Branch Department and its representative for Peterborough county in the years to come. All who attend are assured of a great treat and a rare privilege in securing helpful instruction which has a cash value, and which is given absolutely free.

THREE STAGE STRUCK GIRLS DETAINED IN BUFFALO

Special to the Review.

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 12.—The three runaway girls from Lindsay, Helen Baldwin, aged thirteen, and Marion Workman and Wilhelmina Clendennan aged fifteen, have been taken into custody and are awaiting their parents at the Juvenile Detention Home here. They were stage-struck, and left home Monday night. They were penniless when caught, and how they reached Buffalo is a mystery.

OFFICERS OF COURT STANLEY A. O. F. WERE INSTALLED

Last night the above court was honored by a visit from the District Chief Ranger, Bro. N. E. Milne, of Trenton, the occasion being the installation of officers. The court has a strong balance of some $1,400 now to its credit, and a membership of 178, in good standing on the books, and five honorary members. The occasion was marked by an air of prosperity, which was referred to by the members present. After the officers were installed the District Chief called on Past Chief Ranger Bro. Thomas Hendry, and presented him with a P.C.R. jewel, to which he feelingly replied in a neat speech. After the business of the evening was concluded all repaired to Coleman Bros.' restaurant, where an excellent repast was partaken of. The District Chief Ranger was the guest of the court; Bro. Hendry presided, and the toast was drunk to the new C. R., Bro. Brotherson.

Various other members contributed songs and music, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

The new officers:—

THIRTY DAYS AT HARD LABOR AND A FINE OF $20

The way of the blacklist man is a hard one. James Kennedy will have to spend the next thirty days in gaol at hard labor, and Ben. Yelland is a loser to the extent of $20.60.

The former appeared in court on Monday and pleaded not guilty to securing liquor in the New Oxford Hotel on Wednesday, January 5th. He was remanded till this morning and after pleading guilty to being drunk and disorderly on the following Thursday, was sent to gaol for fifteen days on each charge.

His memory was rather misty when it came to telling where he obtained the liquor out of which to get drunk on Thursday. All he could say was that he found a quart bottle in his pocket on rising in the morning. How it got there he could not say. He also received a drink in the hotel yard.

Asked by Mr. W. H. Moore, as to where he got his liquor, Yelland said he obtained five or six bottles from Toronto, through a traveller named Callaher. Another quantity of six bottles was purchased by himself at a wholesale liquor store in Lindsay, on Kent street, and one bottle was given him on the street in this city by Frank Montgomery, of the Cavanagh House.

TURKISH DAY OF REJOICING.

Hospitable Welcome Accorded to All During the Month of Ramazan.

Every year in Turkey, in the month of Ramazan, as they term it—which is the month when the Koran was revealed, in 26 parts, to Mohammed—it was for years a general custom in Turkey for the Turks to open their houses at 12 o'clock, the Turkish sunset time, to strangers and anyone was permitted to enter and take supper, a meal the Turks call oviftar, during Ramazan.

No matter how poor or how rich the persons, and whether a complete stranger or near friend, they come just before the sunset hour, and all are seated at the truly hospitable table before 12 o'clock. Immediately after the roar of the cannons announces sunset the Turks eat either an olive or a date, it being the legend that the holy prophet did this, and those who smoke may begin as soon as the date or olive, supposed to be the fruits of paradise, disappears. Then come jellies, as it is a belief in Turkey that sweets "collect the senses," whatever that may mean. Oddly enough, soups follow the sweets, and then after that eggs cooked in butter are served, followed in turn by mutton chops or roasted meat; these are succeeded by vegetables, and the vegetables by a sort of sugarless pudding, called beurek, and after this the famous baclava or kadaif.

After all this more meat courses, fish, and vegetables are served, and such sweets as rice milk (gullaj sudlaj), native blanc mange (mahallebi), pilaf with hishad or junket (yaourt) and coffee.

RECALLS FAMOUS GOLF MATCH

Projected Game Brings Back Contest in Which Royalty Was Involved.

The projected golf match between two well known amateurs and a leading member of the London stock exchange for a stake of $2,500 recalls to the Westminster Gazette the famous foursome in which the duke of York, afterward James II., took a prominent part on the Leith links in the year 1682. It was really an international contest, in which the duke, with John Patersone, a golfing shoemaker of great repute, championed Scotland against two noblemen of England, a heavy wager depending on the issue. The duke and the cobbler had an easy victory, thanks largely to the man of the last, and John Patersone's share of the stakes was so substantial that he was able to build a goodly house in the Canongate, in a wall of which the duke caused a stone to be placed bearing the Patersone arms with the motto, "Far and sure," a tribute to the cobbler's driving powers. Patersone's house survives to-day.

Poetry and Patriotism.

Zakris Topelius, "the most popular poet Finland has ever known," was a lover of his native land above all else. Once, says Paul Walneman in "A Summer Tour in Finland," he wrote as follows to a little Finnish boy who was at the time residing in England for his schooling:

"You are in a great and rich country, but never forget that you are only an exile.

"If Queen Victoria herself should write and offer you a post in her kingdom, remember that you must answer, 'I cannot, because I have a cottage waiting for me when I am grown up. It has a roof higher than the loftiest hall in Windsor Castle. That roof is the blue sky of my own land.'"
—Youth's Companion.

Holland's Famous Bird.

The stork is treated with great and singular respect in the Netherlands. These strange birds may be seen here and there, almost everywhere in the south, but I do not remember seeing any in the north. The house selected by the stork for a nesting place is considered fortunate, and very special facilities are provided by the householders to enable it to build a nest comfortably At The Hague many of these birds are maintained at public expense. The first that I saw was from a window of the railway train as we were crossing the "Hollandsdiep," when a chimney-top came into view on which were two of the long-legged creatures, preening themselves, their nest, an unsightly bundle of sticks and straws, littering the housetop.—The Chautauquan.

The Man to Be Watched.

Always suspect a man who affects great softness of manner, an unruffled evenness of temper, and an enunciation studied, slow and deliberate These things are all unnatural, and bespeak a degree of mental discipline into which he that has no purpose of craft or design to answer, cannot submit to drill himself. The most successful knaves are usually of this description, as smooth as razors dipped in oil, and as sharp. They affect the innocence of the dove, which they have not, in order to hide the cunning of the serpent, which they have.—Colton.

Then She Got Fired.

"Who's the pretty girl?"

"She's the baby's new nurse."

"I suppose she understands her business?"

"Yes, she's a graduate, and she'll take good care of baby; she says no one shall kiss the baby while she's around."

"I guess she's right; I wouldn't want to kiss the baby while she was around."

CATARRH CURED

No Cure, No Pay, is a Most Generous Offer

To get an antiseptic strong enough to kill catarrh germs and not destroy the tissues of the membrane at the same time, has been a problem which was never solved until the discovery of Hyomei (High-o-me).

Hyomei is prepared from eucalyptus, the most powerful yet healing antiseptic known. Breathe it through the inhaler over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane four or five times a day, and in a few days the germs will disappear.

The inflamed condition will go, too, and the snuffing hawking and offensive breath and the discharge of mucous and crusts in the nose will cease.

Then why should any catarrh sufferer hesitate, when Wm. Madill has such faith in Hyomei that he offers to return your money if after a fair trial Hyomei does not cure catarrh.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including the inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents. Hyomei also cures asthma, croup, sore throat, coughs, colds or grip.

REPORTS PRESENTED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF Y.M.C.A.

What the Various Committees Have Been Doing During the Year—Progress Fairly Satisfactory—Directors Are Elected.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association was held last night and was well attended. The president, Mr. J. C. Shook, presided, and much interest was taken in the proceedings.

The report of the Ladies' Auxiliary was read by the general secretary, it being the report of their annual meeting, which was given in the press in October.

The constitution, as recommended by the Board of Directors, was adopted with Section 3 of Article 3 struck out, which provided that not more than one-third of the directors should be members of the same religious denomination, and that in the event of the election resulting in the choice of a greater number, the Board should decide who should remain.

The election of directors resulted in the following being appointed by the membership, out of a nomination of twenty-four: J. J. Howden, J. H. Connal, J. E. Middleton, C. E. Bisson, J. C. Shook, V. Eastwood, P. A. Kerr, A. Macfarlane, J. J. Turner, T. F. Matthews, Judge Huycke, E. L. Goodwill.

Resolutions of thanks were tendered to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their efficient and hearty co-operation; to the Leaders' Corps, for their faithful services; to the Provincial and International Committees for services rendered through their secretaries at various times during the year, and to the press, for their good offices in making public items of interest concerning the work during the year.

It was also decided, on motion, to print the annual report for distribution amongst the subscribers and members.

The directors will meet on Friday evening for the purpose of election of officers and appointment of committees.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The annual report of the president was as follows:—

We close the year 1909 with mingled feelings of satisfaction and disappointment.

Relying on the assurances we had in pledges from our citizens, we endeavored to equip the association with a competent staff of executive officers, which increased our salary account over $200, and added some new gymnasium equipment at a cost of $200.

We also paid the balance on the bowling alleys, $304.89, and $120 on account of new steel lockers, making a total of over $800 paid out of current revenue over that of the preceding year.

We are deeply grateful to our many friends for their hearty and liberal responses as subscribers, although we are obliged to close the year with about $400 unpaid pledges, and, therefore, find that instead of having a surplus, our liability to the bank has increased $325, which is a matter of regret.

We are also disappointed that the membership has not increased as we had hoped. This is partly accounted for by the fact that, owing to disappointment in making arrangements for our executive staff till late in the fall season, the plans for our work were delayed, and the new officers had not time to get acquainted with the members and the boys and young men outside of the membership, before the class work commenced.

Our physical director and boys' secretary, both having resigned early last fall, the campaign for membership was again handicapped in the same way.

But now that our terms of engagement will commence in the spring, instead of the fall, we trust that under the direction of these executive officers we will prosecute a vigorous and continuous membership campaign and a substantial increase in members will result.

We wish, also, to call your attention to the great necessity for repairs to the building, which needs painting during the coming season, and we trust the members and friends will provide means that the building may be kept in a good state of repair and made attractive.

We feel that much greater benefit would result if our young men and boys would take more interest in the educational classes, which were arranged for, but could not be organized for lack of sufficient patronage.

It is gratifying to note increased interest in Bible study, and especially in foreign mission work, as is indicated in the increased contributions, and we greatly desire to see our religious work a strong feature in our association.

Personally, I wish to thank the board for their sympathetic and hearty support, and also the citizens for the kindly consideration we have always received.

The press of our city have given valuable assistance in publishing all matters which would likely promote the best interests of the association.

We look forward with faith in the present year's work, believing, as we do, that we will have the blessing and guidance of an all-wise Providence in our efforts on behalf of our young men and boys.

Peterborough, Jan. 10th, 1910.

Reports were presented from the different committees as follows:—

MEMBERSHIP.

Membership Committee reports at the end of the year the following:—

Full privilege members	109
Limited privilege members	93
Boy members	134
Total	336

Which is a net increase of 8 during the year.

In addition to these, 36 boys and 115 men, who have used the privileges during the year have either removed or allowed their membership in the Association to lapse, and 9 of our members have transferred their membership elsewhere. Thus, 376 different men and boys, total 546, have used the privileges during the year, and come in direct contact with the Association.

REPORT OF THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

The Property Committee have charge of the care of the buildings and the purchasing of supplies and permanent equipment during the year.

In the spring it was decided to instal new gymnasium equipment to the value of $200, and in the fall an opportunity was presented of securing, at a very advantageous figure, 100 steel lockers which were placed in position in the dressing rooms.

The usual repairs were attended to as required, and an effort was made to keep the building and equipment in first-class condition.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has assisted this committee in the purchasing of dormitory supplies and in providing decoration for the windows.

SOCIAL WORK.

The spirit of sociability has permeated all the departments of the Association, and an endeavor has been made to make every member feel that he has a personal responsibility in making the Association a real home for young men who are away from home, and a place of social intercourse for all members.

Special features have been introduced during the year, including the usual New Year's Day reception, in which the Ladies' Auxiliary were "At Home" to members, subscribers and friends of the Association.

The ladies have also arranged for Strangers' Teas, which the societies in the various churches have taken their turn in providing. Three of these have been held, with a total attendance of 50. 22 strangers' tickets have been given, and two of those to whom these tickets were given have since become members of the Association.

The Social Committee, besides caring for the social events, have also been responsible for the decoration of the building at Christmas and New Year's time.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

In the early part of the year the Matriculation class, conducted by the Association, was continued, and out of six different men enrolled, five continued through to the end of the term, and two of these wrote on the examination in July. While neither was successful in the examination, both who wrote got enough of their work off to enable them to go forward and complete it later. One of these is now in a mission field in the east. In the fall this Matriculation class was continued, and twelve different men enrolled at the beginning of the season. It seems, at the end of the year, that nine of them will continue the work up to examination time.

Other classes were arranged for, but owing to an insufficient number enrolling, it was not practicable to conduct them.

PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Physical Department shows the following classes conducted during the year;

Senior men, 62 sessions, total attendance 710 aver. 11.

Business men, 29 sessions, total attendance 199 aver. 7.

Employed boys, 40 sessions, total attendance 645, aver. 14.

Collegiate boys, 45 sessions, total attendance 468, aver. 10.

Junior school boys, 45 sessions, Total attendance 925, aver. 20.

Senior Leaders, 25 sessions, total attendance 210, aver. 4.

Business College students 17 sessions, total attendance 170, average 10.

Total sessions 269, Total attendance 3 325. Average 12.

In January the boys put on an exhibition. It attracted a good audience, and the proceeds were used to assist in paying for the additional magazines provided for the boys' reading room.

In February two basketball schedules were played off, a bowling tournament was conducted, and a life-saving class carried on. Boxing classes were also held in the spring. In the early summer a football club, a baseball club, and a tennis club were organized. The baseball club played three games, when the league in which it was entered was disorganized. The football club played in the Midland League series, and the tennis club held a tournament amongst its 25 members, and also won the City Club tournament. On the 24th of May a five-mile handicap was conducted by the association, in which several of the association members were entered.

In September the association conducted the meet at which the Howden and Eastwood trophies were competed for. The committee in charge of this meet also provided prizes for the several events.

In October and November nine sessions of a swimming-class were held with a total attendance of 38, and eight sessions of a boxing class, with a total attendance of 38. A bowling tournament was conducted during November, in which 11 teams of 3 men each competed, and which occupied five evenings a week for the entire month. From October 1st to December 31st, the total number in individual work in the physical department was 312.

During the summer the members of the association did most of their outdoor work on the Nicholl's oval. During the latter part of the fall and early winter, a large number of those using the gymnasium spent their time in preparation for the gymnasium exhibition, which was put on in the form of a circus on the last of the year. The total number taking part was 42.

The Leaders' corps rendered service during the time the association was without a physical director and during the physical director's inability to take charge of the classes, and have faithful in attendance and service at other times.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT.

Under the direction of Mr. George T. Evans in the early months of the year, the work of the Boys' Department was effective, but during the latter part of the year became somewhat handicapped, owing to the fact that from the middle of July until after the middle of December the association was without a member of its staff to give special attention to this department. However, several older boys had received enough training to take a great deal of responsibility, and in the fall a boys' cabinet was elected by the boys themselves, to be responsible for the work work of the department. Under the supervision of Mr. Laing, the Boys' Department is being put into good working order.

The report of the boys' gymnasium classes is shown in that of the physical department, but the following special features may be noted here. During the month of May, several outings were held which took the members out of doors, under the supervision of the officers of the association. These outings included a relay race by ten of the boys, from Lakefield to Peterborough, no boy running a greater distance than one mile.

The boys have had their own educational clubs and conducted their own social events. In addition to the Members' Banquet in the spring, with an attendance of 105, there were held three other special social events, with a total attendance of 75.

During the year, 78 different boys were enrolled in Bible study. There were 43 different Bible class sessions with a total attendance of 270, which does not include five sessions of a training class, with a total attendance of 22, in which some of the other boys are taking up a study of "How to Teach," so that they may be better fitted for the teaching of Bible classes. 8 boys' meetings have been held with a total attendance of 164, which were the means of bringing many boys to a point of decision whereby they entered the Christian life, or took a forward step.

RELIGIOUS WORK.

Four different Bible classes, conducted for men, have held 27 ses-

PREMIER EXPLAINS BILL FOR CREATION OF CANADA'S NAVY

Long-Expected Measure is Introduced in Commons—In the Main the Provisions Follow the Militia Act, But Without Compulsory Service in War Time—Total Cost $11,000,000.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—Canada will not have a fleet unit, but she will have a larger fleet than was expected. This was the effect of the naval bill introduced in the Commons yesterday.

The Canadian fleet will muster eleven ships instead of seven, and the Canadian navy may, in an emergency, be placed at the disposal of the British Admiralty, but if this occurs during recess, Parliament must be summoned to give authority.

The Premier said that Canada would be involved in any war in which the British Empire might be engaged.

R. L. Borden declared for a fleet unit at once, or at least a Dreadnought, but he thought the better course would be to place the equivalent in cash at the disposal of the Admiralty, to be used for naval defence under prescribed conditions.

F. D. Monk opposed any naval proposal. He resented Mr. Borden's snub over the Lachine speech and thought he should have been consulted regarding the party policy.

Sir Wilfrid regretted Mr. Brodeur's absence through illness, but said he would introduce the bill himself, "with a view of not disappointing the House and expediting its business," the marine Minister hoping to be able to move the second reading next week, and then to go into the whole details of policy and administration.

"My object," said the Premier, "is simply to give the House the salient features, reserving for the second reading the more general discussion. The bill provides for the creation of a naval force, to consist of a permanent corps, of a reserve force and of volunteers, following the same pattern absolutely as the present organisation of the militia forces.

"The bill, I may say, follows the Militia Act in many respects, and does not materially depart from it, except in one feature, which I shall show presently. Under the Militia Act it is provided that the whole male population of Canada, from above 18 to the age of 60, is liable to military service. Should an emergency arise, the whole male population within these ages may be called upon for service. The first-class is composed of men from 18 to 30, the second-class from 30 to 45, and the last class from 45 to 60, and should the volunteer force in its different classes be not sufficient, there may be an enrollment or balloting under law.

"Nothing of that kind is to take place under the present bill. No man in this country, under Naval Service Act or any other, will be liable to military service on the sea. Every man enrolled for naval service in Canada will be enrolled only by voluntary engagement.

"These being the leading features of the bill, I come now to the question of what armament it is contemplated to have at this juncture. Representatives of the Canadian Government at the London conference took the ground that it would not be advisable for Canada to have all her fleet on the Pacific Ocean. Evidently the British Government was anxious to have a strong force on the Pacific. There are considerations, discussion of which I may reserve for a future occasion. At present, I am only outlining our policy. I think that everybody will agree that it would be very inadvisable that the whole of our force should be located on the Pacific.

"The question arose as to what should be the extent and character of the fleet to be created in the beginning. Two plans were proposed and discussed, one involving the expenditure of $2,000,000 a year, and the other $3,000,000. The first one would have consisted of seven ships; the second one of 11 ships, namely, four Bristol cruisers, one Boadicea cruiser and six torpedo destroyers. We have determined to accept the second proposition, that is to say, the larger one of 11 ships. This is the force which we intend to create and to start with.

"The number of guns is not yet determined upon, but the largest Indomitable carried eight guns. A Boadicea carries six guns. It is probable that the number of guns will be made eight. It has a crew of 391 men, of which 20 are officers."

"There is also an important provision, to which I at once call the attention of the House, that while the naval force is to be under the control of the Canadian Government, and more directly under the control of and administration of the Department of Marine, yet in the case of emergency, the governor-in-council may place at the disposal of His Majesty for general service in the royal navy, the navy service, or any part thereof, and any ships or vessels of the naval service and any officers or men serving on these vessels.

"These, Mr. Speaker, are the leading features of the bill. Of course, the matter can be very largely elaborated but I do not think that any elaboration would make it more intelligible than what I have now stated.

"The total cost of these 11 ships will be, according to British figures, a little more than $11,000,000. According to Canadian prices, supposing the ships were to be built in Canada, we would have to add at least 55 per cent. to the cost just given.

"I may say that it is our intention to start at the earliest possible moment with the construction of this fleet, and, if possible, to have the construction done in Canada.

"I now beg to move the first reading."

R. L. Borden began by a reference to the control of the Canadian navy. The Premier had stated, "if we do have a navy, it will go to no war unless the Parliament of Canada chooses to send it there."

"What does that declaration mean?" asked the Opposition leader. "Has Canada ceased to be a part of the British Empire? Can the rest of the Empire be at war with some great naval power and Canada at peace? If a foreign warship attacked and sunk one of our cruisers, the whole power of the British navy would be at our command."

Turning to the Commons' resolution of last March, he was glad to see that criticisms were not along party lines. He advocated the establishment of a defence committee, representative of empire. This would give the dominions a necessary voice in the control of war.

It had been urged that the creation of a Canadian naval force would be attended with corruption and extravagance. The remedy was with the people themselves, and he believed that the creation of a navy would arouse public conscience in this regard.

He noted that the Admiralty experts had recommended the establishment of a fleet unit by such of the dominions as could undertake it.

"The proposals of the Government," said Mr. Borden, "are too much for carrying on experiments in the organization of a Canadian naval service, and they are too little for immediate and effective aid. It seems to me they will be attended with a very good waste of money with no immediate effective result."

"We have," he said in concluding, "the resources and, I trust, the patriotism, to provide a fleet unit, or, at lease, a Dreadnought, without one moment's unnecessary delay. Or, in my opinion, this would be the better course—we can place the equivalent in cash at the disposal of the Admiralty, to be used for naval defence, under such conditions as we may prescribe."

Clarence Jameson of Digby advocated a reference of the whole question to the people. He suggested a plebiscite.

WHO IS THIS KIND GENTLEMAN?

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—"When one of the highest officials in Canada, living at Ottawa, openly gives all the liquor one can drink, what can be expected of our young men?"

This was one of the questions asked of John Roberts, the English temperance lecturer, who is here for ten days, and who Tuesday night addressed a crowded meeting. His reply was:

"I do not know to whom this refers, but I think if any man in high position encourages drinking it is bound to have a demoralizing effect on young manhood."

Mr. Roberts said he had found that 90 per cent. of Canadian women abstain from intoxicating liquor, but that in England, while the men were getting better in this respect, the women were getting worse.

MEAT PRICES HIGH; MANY KNOW IT TOO

Denver, Col., Jan. 13.—Harold Swift of Swift & Co., in discussing the cost of living, said:

"Prices of meat are very high now, but there is every indication that they will be still higher. This is attributable to the high price of corn and the consequent scarcity of live stock.

"As long as the scarcity continues it is well to educate people to use the cheaper cuts of meat. Those cheaper cuts are just as good, and more wholesome if properly cooked."

Mr. Swift admitted that the retail dealer is making a large gross profit on meat.

NEWFOUNDLAND HAS A SURPLUS

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 13.—With revised figures, showing the colonial revenue for the half year ending December 31, to have increased $150,000 over the same period last year, it is officially estimated that the close of the fiscal year, June 30, will show a surplus of $250,000. The close of the colony's accounts last June showed a deficit of $150,000 for the year. The great increase in revenue is due chiefly to the exploitation of the interior lands and the extensive pulp manufacturing recently begun.

SUIT INVOLVES IMMENSE SUM

Frederickton, N.B., Jan. 13.—The Royal Trust Co., a subsidiary company of the Bank of Montreal, has launched action against the Alexander Gibson Railway and Manufacturing Co., of Marysville, for the foreclosure of a mortgage for $440,000, with interest for ten years at 6 per cent. The total claim is nearly $1,000,000.

Bank Manager Resigns.

Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—Cameron Bartlett, manager of the Winnipeg branch of the Bank of Hamilton, has resigned. His successor has not been named by the head office.

Bartlett has been connected with the Bank of Hamilton for 37 years. It is understood he will remove to British Columbia.

MRS. SCOTT IS ON TRIAL

Is Charged With Shooting Her Father-in-Law—Nothing New in the Evidence.

London, Ont., Jan. 13.—For the second time Mrs. Martha Scott yesterday afternoon faced a jury, charged with the murder of her father-in-law, Harvey Scott, at Thorndale, on Sept. 13th last. The evidence for the crown was all presented before Chief Justice Meredith yesterday afternoon, and the defence called two or three witnesses. Mrs. Scott will take the stand in her own behalf to-day.

Twenty-seven rejections marked the choosing of the jury, which was finally constituted as follows: Cyrus F. Smith, Mosa; Jonathan Knapton, London Township; Adam Romilly, Ekfrid; Frank Anderson, Westminster; Jos. Grant, Biddulph; David Beattie, North Dorchester; Isaac Homiker, Lobo; T. H. Andrew, Biddulph; Jos. G. Knapton, Parkhill; R. H. Collins, Lucan; Charles H. Ferguson, Lobo; Arch. Brownlee, North Dorchester.

No new evidence was presented by the crown. Joseph Vining, Mrs. Harvey Scott and others told of the tragedy, and of Mrs. Wesley Scott's remarks after the crime.

New evidence was added, however, by the defence. John Taylor and John McFarlane of Thorndale, who were on the coroner's jury which viewed the remains of Wesley Scott at the house, both testified that they saw bloodstains on the doorstep. It is expected that the defence will make use of this, arguing that old Harvey Scott was trying to force his way into Mrs. Wesley Scott's house when she shot him.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The big six-storey factory of the Munro Steel & Wire Works, Winnipeg, was badly gutted by fire yesterday; loss $60,000.

Brantford police commissioners have decided that members of the force must take regular gymnastic exercise at the local Y. M. C. A.

President Taft yesterday afternoon decided to appoint Henry S. Graves, head of the Yale School of Forestry, as chief of the forestry bureau, to succeed Gifford Pinchot.

J. A. Nicolle, druggist, 65 years of age, was drowned in his bath yesterday at Montreal. He was preparing for a bath, and took a fit and fell in head first and was drowned.

Vancouver will apply to the Legislature for an amendment to the city charter making it impossible for license commissioners to do business with hotels or other licensees.

From the effects of scalds received in an accident yesterday afternoon at the Ontario Power Co.'s works, at Niagara, George Armstrong, aged 55, a carpenter, died at the general hospital at 4 o'clock, and Paul Summerfield is badly injured, but will recover.

TO FIGHT FOR FREEDOM OF HER HUSBAND

New York, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Charles Morse, opened an office in the financial district yesterday whence she will conduct a double campaign, first to procure the pardon of her husband, serving a fifteen-year sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta; second, to rebuild as far as possible the shattered fortune. The office is a modest, two-roomed affair, furnished with articles from the Morse home.

Mrs. Morse began yesterday putting in circulation blank petitions asking President Taft for Morse's pardon.

ANOTHER FIGHT ON RADIAL CAR

St. Catharines, Jan. 13.—Richard Hudson of Welland, who got into a fight on a radial car with some hockey players returning from the city, was sent to jail for three months without the option of a fine by Magistrate Burger of Welland. The radial company laid the charge and the magistrate said to Hudson: "I think I should make it six months. This might have been another Bradley case. You were drunk, as you admit, and didn't know what you were doing."

SHAKE-UP IN THE QUEBEC CABINET

Montreal, Jan. 13.—At a Cabinet meeting here yesterday, Lt.-Col. F. W. Hibbard, Crown Prosecutor, was decided on as the new Provincial Treasurer, to replace Hon. W. A. Weir, moved to the bench. J. J. B. Gosselin, member for Missisquoi, will vacate his seat for the new Minister, and will be made a Legislature councillor to succeed his late brother.

There is trouble over the appointment of Charles Archer to the bench to succeed Judge Curran. Archer is a Frenchman, and the English-speaking people feel that it is another recognized English post gone forever to a French-speaking man.

DR. HANNAY HAS PASSED AWAY

Well-Known Historian is Found Dead in Bed.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 13.—Dr. James Hannay was found dead in bed here yesterday morning.

James Hannay, D.C.L., F.R.S.C., was a well-known Canadian historian and journalist. He was born at Richibucto, N.B., on April 22, 1842, and was the eldest son of Rev. James Hannay, Church of Scotland minister at Richibucto. He was called to the bar of New Brunswick in 1866; was reporter of the Supreme Court, 1867-1873; assistant editor of The St. John Daily Telegraph 1872-1883, assistant editor of Montreal Herald 1883-1884; chief editorial writer on Brooklyn Eagle, 1885-87; editor of St. John, N.B., Daily Gazette, 1888-1892, editor of St. John Daily Telegraph, 1892-1900; official reporter of New Brunswick Legislature, 1901-8, and connected with the Canadian Archives Department since 1905. His works include: "Nine Years a Captive," 1875; "History of Acadia," 1879; "Story of the Queen's Rangers in the American Revolution," 1883; "History of the Loyalists," 1893; "History of the War of 1812," 1902; "History of New Brunswick," 1906; "New Brunswick Year Book," 1907; "Ballads of Acadia," 1909; also various histories of regiments, biographies of two New Brunswick governors, etc. Mr. Hannay's works are noted for painstaking research in new fields, and he was considered the highest authority on the history of Acadia.

A son, A. B. Hannay, journalist, at Ottawa, survives.

TO BE RECOUNT AT ORANGEVILLE

Orangeville, Jan. 13.—There is to be a recount of the ballots cast in the local option contest, which carried by four votes.

Archie Greer, reeve of Amaranth for six consecutive years, and a prospective warden of Dufferin County, went down to defeat by one vote on the 3rd inst. He will have a recount here to-morrow.

ANALYST FOUND NO TRACES OF POISON

Port Hope, Jan. 13.—Prof. Ellis of Toronto, yesterday telegraphed Coroner McKinley to the effect that no poison was to be found in the Paden infant's stomach. This was not accepted as evidence by Crown Attorney Kerr, and the inquest was adjourned until Jan. 21.

This is the case in which the few days' old child died suddenly from alleged convulsions, and was buried in a soap box in a backyard.

BAPTISTS HAVE MISSION DEFICIT

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Rev. Dr. Brown secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board, yesterday announced that a cut of $3,000 had been found necessary in the estimates for India. This was owing to a deficit in the fund of $6,885. There was a slight falling off in the total receipts owing to the legacies being but $1,500 compared with $6,500 in 1908. The contributions from the churches on Sunday schools had increased by $4,600. The total receipts were about $90,000.

SUFFERED TO SAVE CRIPPLED FRIEND

London, Ont., Jan. 13.—Wm. Hogan, the G.T.R. fitter injured at Forest, when natural gas in a well in which he was working exploded, is in a very critical condition. Hogan's clothes were in a blaze, but in order that he might save Sam Brush, a one-armed man, who was unable to remove his burning garments, he let them burn until the crippled man was safe. Frost got into Hogan's terrible burns.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEE COMMITTED SUICIDE

New Liskeard, Jan. 13.—Harvey Dawson, employed by the Transcontinental Railroad, as an engineer, committed suicide Tuesday night at Camp 13, Popular Rapids, by poison.

His chum, Webster McCurdy, is in jail at this place charged with passing forged checks.

Dawson had just recovered from a spree.

Fined Chauffeur One Cent.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Judge K. M. Landis, who fined the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana more than $29,000,000, let Rupert Jenkins, a chauffeur off with a fine of one cent yesterday. Jeffkins pleaded guilty to sending an improper letter through the mail to a young woman who had jilted him.

Train Wreck, Many Hurt.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 13.—A passenger train on the Vandalia Railroad, southbound, was wrecked three miles north of here. Many persons were hurt, none fatally. A truck under the tender of the locomotive broke and the coaches rolled down an embankment.

4,000 Fishermen Will Strike.

St. Malo, France, Jan. 13.—Four thousand members of the crews of 140 schooners, which fish annually on the Newfoundland banks, are at loggerheads with the masters and yesterday were preparing to strike. The situation is an ugly one.

PREMIER ASQUITH SAYS THAT FREE TRADE MADE BRITAIN

The Present System Was the Thing That Did Everything for the Empire—There Are Now Fewer Unemployed Than Recently.

London, Jan. 13.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—At Ipswich, Premier Asquith replied to Mr Balfour's Aberdeen speech. He said the Liberals were not flying against the example of other nations, but taking a warning by their sad experiences. Taxes once imposed would continuously rise. The moment they consented to a "scientific tariff" they would introduce a demoralizing influence on the localities and the industries. With respect to socialism let them look to Germany. Where would they find socialism to the fullest sense so firmly entrenched and so well equipped? He deliberately gave the opinion that unemployment was more rife in protected countries than in our own here. There was a highly gratifying decrease of unemployment and in London there had been a decrease of 8,000 a year. He accepted Mr. Balfour's challenge, and argued that free trade had increased our productive capacity beyond all record. He pointed to the vastly larger amount available for investment, and said it was was foolish to suppose that capital sent abroad was diverted from industry at home. There was a vastly larger amount of capital in the country than last year.

Bonar Law, at Dulwich, expounded the preference, and declared that bread would never be greatly increased in price through tariff reform, because political power was in the hands of townsmen, not agriculturists, who would not consent to high duties. Mr. Law says one great hope of increased expansion in British exports is within the Empire. Canada was going to do an immense trade in manufactured goods with somebody. It rested with the electors whether she would do it with Britain or competitors.

Mr. Lyttleton, at Wolverhampton, also maintained the duties on foreign wheat would be insufficient to raise the price of bread long.

Mr. Stockport said if the Unionists returned and found the navy deficient, they would take the country into their confidence, and if necessary to make sacrifices in order to secure the country's safety they would not hesitate to ask the country to make them.

A big scheme of unemployment insurance will be the work of the new Liberal Government, if returned to power. Winston Churchill outlined the scheme in a speech at Glasgow last night, where he addressed two huge meetings.

Mr. Churchill announced that the details of the scheme had already been worked out by the Board of Trade, and said that if the people granted the money, the House of Commons would pass a compulsory unemployment insurance bill, which would deal with the affairs of upwards of 2,250,000 adult workers, skilled and unskilled alike.

If the result of the polling made it necessary, said Mrs. Pankhurst, Nottingham women would continue to fight. It was very likely some would be called upon to die for the cause, either in prison or before they got there.

Australians, through Mr. R. B. Wise, sometimes acting Premier of New South Wales, sent Mr. Balfour a similar cable to that from Toronto respecting Mr. Jebbs' candidature. Mr. Balfour has formally acknowledged the Toronto message.

TO CURB THE AWFUL TRAFFIC

Washington, Jan. 13.—By a viva voce vote the House yesterday passed the Bennet-Sabath "White Slave Bill." The measure makes it a crime, punishable by a fine of not more than $500, and imprisonment for not more than ten years, for any person to procure a ticket for any person to go from one state to another to engage in prostitution.

A. F. WICKSON NEW PRESIDENT

Toronto, Jan. 13.—At the convention of the Ontario Association of Architects, the following gentlemen were elected members for the council of 1910-1911 and 1912: A. F. Nicholson St. Catharines; Prof. C. A. C. Wright Toronto, and Jules F. Wigman, Toronto. Following this election the new council appointed their new executive as follows: President, A. Frank Wickson; first vice-president, Prof. C. H. C Wright; second vice-president, Henry Sproatt, and treasurer, G. Helliwell.

MARINE ENGINEER ENDED HIS LIFE

Port Colborne, Jan. 13.—O. H. Phillips, 40 years of age, and chief engineer of the steamer Strathcona, shot himself in the temple yesterday.

Phillips had been at work on the engine of the steamer ever since the early part of December, and for the past week had been drinking heavily.

He seems to have no friends, was unmarried, and a Welshman by birth, having been only two years in this country. For 12 years he sailed on ocean steamships.

WORLD'S BIGGEST CONVENTION HELD

New York, Jan. 13.—A great convention hall, planned to be the largest of its kind in the world, will be a feature of the immense pier, extending 1,500 feet over beach and ocean, at Long Beach, Long Island, contracts for the construction of which were signed yesterday. More than half the structure will be devoted to the convention hall and amusement pavilion.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Farmer Found Dead.

HE CAME DOWN A PEG

The Opposition leader interpreted the Premier's speech as a recession from his former attitude that the Canadian navy should not aid Great Britain in a war unless we approved. Now he said that if the Empire was at war, Canada was at war. Any other attitude was, Mr. Borden said, a wild dream.

He recognized that in time of peace the Canadian Parliament must keep the constitutional control. But in time of war the Canadian navy must be at the command of the British authorities, and no other course was possible.

Mr. Borden declared for the provision of Dreadnoughts and fleet unit by the purchase at once, or by sending the equivalent in cash to be used under certain conditions as the Admiralty may determine.—Montreal Star.

A MINISTER'S WARNING

(The Witness.)

Ontario has a fine service in its Department of Mines. People have for some weeks been going crazy over the supposed presence of gold in a district north of Cobalt. Desperate victims of gold hunger are thronging through Arctic snows to see, after painful trudging, nothing but a wild waste of snow, and are, in their fondness, staking out claims in the same. A similar craze is taking hold of the greedy people in cities, who are to be offered shares in such staked claims, and are likely to buy them in the hope of growing rich. Mr. Cochrane, the Minister of Mines, earnestly deprecates all this folly and speaks with genuine pity of its doomed victims. Let them wait, he says, till the snow is off the ground, when the department will have it thoroughly surveyed and see if the so-called "indications" really exist at all.

EDITORIAL NOTES

La Patrie congratulates "the prohibitionists of Ontario" on "their great victory." Outside of the cities it says Quebec is doing likewise.

The press of old France agrees with the people of Britain, that Germany is preparing for immediate war upon the sea. Laurier alone knows better. It better suits his purpose.

At Toronto Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke of Canada being under the suzerainty of the King of England. This is a new description. What is the relation between a suzerain and a people?—Montreal Gazette.

The Journal editorially quotes Mr. Gladstone as saying recently: "I should view with the utmost satisfaction a more thorough and substantial union of the different countries and peoples paying allegiance to Her Majesty."—Ottawa Journal 30 years ago. This is quite different from Sir Wilfrid's idea.

A college professor, who was always ready for a joke, was asked by a student one day if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor. "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, "you crouch down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turnip."

"That may be," said the professor, with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be for you to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage heads and look natural."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The "attachment" of the French journals to the British empire reminds one of the famous inquiry;—"It is all very well to dissemble your love, but why did you kick me down stairs?" Sir Wilfrid Laurier declined to vote for the bare principle of imperial federation. We can understand in view of this why the present condition of things is acceptable. It gives time for the Franco-mania to mature. The present crisis has "unfortunately exposed the hypocrisy of these pretensions."

"In New York city, the charges of a white slave traffic made and vigorously denied during the recent municipal campaign are being substantiated. Last week a probation officer Joseph C. Gravour, in the Court of Special Sessions, declared on the witness stand that an investigation he had made showed that a centralized group of men had taken possession of 200 flats, between the middle of the city, and Harlem, for immoral purposes."—World Wide.

This is what is meant by the cry that the churches are not reaching the masses.

Although little is said by them on that point, it is quite generally understood that the Peers are not addressing dozens of meetings nightly all over the Kingdom merely in defence of a constitutional right to force a dissolution on an objectionable finance bill. The Peers are fighting not for a point of order, but for their broad acres. They know that the new land taxes on unearned increment and undeveloped land and the mineral royalty tax are but the entering of a wedge, that, when driven home, will split the great landed estates of the aristocracy into fragments, and make the holding of private pleasure parks, deer forests and game preserves so unprofitable that the land will be restored to tillage or sold on reasonable terms to those desirous of building.

It is in the cities and growing towns that the unearned increment taxation is most popular, for it is there that the people see the value accruing daily from the growth of the community, only to be swept at intervals into the pockets of the ground landlord. In Toronto on King street and Yonge streets we have an example of what ground rent means in the operations of the Cawthra and Baldwin estates. If all the land in the city were held by half a dozen such estates, and builders could get leases of the land only for periods ranging from 42 to 99 years, with the absolute right of re-entry at the end of the leasehold period reserved by the ground landlord, we should have a condition approximating to that obtaining in the great urban communities of England.

The parallel is not complete, however. Had anyone held a large area of land out of use in Rosedale, for example, until the city had grown around and beyond his property, he would have had to pay taxes on his vacant land at the same rate per foot as the neighbor who had used his land for building purposes.—The Globe.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the offerings of live stock this morning amounted to 600 cattle, 450 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 75 calves. There was no further change in the conditions of the market for cattle since Monday, prices being maintained at the recent advance. Supplies were small, for which the demand was good for local consumption, and a brisk trade was done. There were really no choice stock on the market and the top price realized for the best steers was 6c; fairly good stock sold at 5¼c to 5¾c, and medium, at 4½c to 5¼c, while cows brought from 3c to 4c and bulls 3c to 4½c per lb. A feature of the trade was the continued undertone to the market for hogs and prices scored a further advance of 10c to 15c per cwt., making a new high record. The demand was good and sales of selected lots were made at $9.40 to $9.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars. Supplies of sheep and lambs were small, for which the demand was good and prices firmly maintained, with sales of lambs at 6½c and sheep at 4½c per lb. The trade in calves was quiet at prices ranging from $3 to $12 each, as to size and quality.

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL HELD INAUGURAL MEETING

Reeve Howden Reviews Some of the Matters to be Considered This Year—Petition to Return to the Ward System Has Been Presented—Improvement of Roads.

Special to the Review.

The inaugural meeting of the Township Council was held on Monday, January 10th, in the town hall, at 2 p.m. There were present the following members;—Messrs. Howden, Forster, May, Morrow and Robson.

After each had made and subscribed to the statutory declaration of qualification and of office, the Reeve, Mr. W. G. Howden, in a few well-chosen introductory remarks, organized the Council and allotted each a chair at the municipal board for the coming year. Mr. Howden referred to the many matters of importance that may come before the council during the year. The question of the system of road improvements and the matter of introducing the ward system of election had both been presented before the council by Peterborough. The matter of the construction of an outfall sewer by the city of Peterborough to pass through the township into the Otonabee river might also come up, and the question of the re-constructing of several old bridges might require some attention. Mr. Howden was also pleased to inform the Council that from the financial statement as presented to-day by the Township Treasurer, it appeared that the new Council would be able to begin the year with a substantial balance to their credit in the bank.

The Reeve then asked of each member a careful and thoughtful consideration for these matters as well as for any others that may from time to time be brought forward, then called upon the clerk to read the minutes.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were read from the following;—

J. Ross Robertson, asking a grant to the Hospital for Sick Children.

The Ontario Municipal Association, asking the Council to join.

The National Sanitarium, asking for a donation.

The Municipal World, asking for a renewal of subscription.

A petition was presented from Robert Thompson and 15 others, asking to have their road work performed upon the seventh and eighth concession in place of as at present.

Accounts were handed in and read from the following;—Robert Fowler, 1 cord hardwood, $5.50; G. H. May, rent S.H. No. 2, $4.00; J. J. Bennett, D.R.O. and poll clerk, $4.00; B. Sanderson, D.R.O. and poll clerk, $4.00.

It was moved by Messrs. Forster and Robson, that the accounts as read be passed and paid.

This was carried.

It was moved by Messrs. Forster and Robson, that a grant of the sum of $5.00 be given to the Sick Children's Hospital, in Toronto

This was carried.

It was moved by Messrs. May and Forster, that a committee of the whole council, as appointed by the council of 1909 be re-appointed to investigate the matter of making such alterations as seem to be desired by the petitions presented relative to the system of road work in the township, this committee to report to this council on or before the regular meeting on the 12th day of February next

This was carried.

The Township Treasurer presented a statement of returns from the collector for 1909 as follows;—

Amount on roll......	$7,111.30
Amount collected......	6,906.67
Amount to collect...	$204.63

The collector was instructed to proceed and take such action as may be necessary to have the balance paid in forthwith.

It was moved by Messrs. Forster and May, that T. M. Hunter and Bert Sanderson be re-appointed auditors for the accounts of 1909 at the same salary as that paid last year.

This was carried.

It was moved by Messrs. Morrow and Dobson, that Mr. J. Harper be re-appointed a member of the local Board of Health for a term of three years.

This was carried.

It was moved by Messrs. May and Robson, that Mr. B. Johnston be re-appointed assessor of the township at the same salary as paid last year.

This was carried.

By-laws No. 620, to appoint auditors; No. 621, to appoint a member of L.B. of H.; No. 622, to appoint an assessor, and No. 623, to appoint pound keepers and fence viewers were then introduced, regularly read, passed and signed and sealed.

Council then adjourned, to meet in the county committee rooms in Peterborough, on the 12th day of February next, at 2 o'clock p.m

BELMONT COUNCIL

Havelock, Jan. 11.—The first meeting of the Belmont Council was held in the Havelock town hall on Monday morning at 11.30 o'clock. Reeve Russel and Councillors Griffith, McConnal, Wilde, and Kitchen were present and took their seats.

The following municipal officers were elected for 1910—

Clerk—Wm. H. Johnson.

Treasurer—Jas. Wilde.

Medical Health Officer—Dr. Kindred

Assessor—Jas. Freeman.

Member Board of Health—K. Burr-

The next meeting will be held on Saturday, January 29th, in the Havelock town hall.

Ben Weese, salary truant officer, $5.

Ira Cumming, repairs to heating apparatus in Public schools $24.49.

J. E. Roxburgh, coal for High school $37.50. Board adjourned.

Mr. Isaac Puffer started a gang of men on Monday morning this week to cut ice in the mill pond to fill the large ice house in Havelock. The contract will occupy about two weeks to complete and will require a large number of train loads of ice. The ice harvest is quite a boon to Norwood as it distributes a considerable amount of money among the laboring men of the village at a time of the year when work is rather scarce.

A grand carnical will be held on the rink here on Friday evening, Jan. 14. Prizes will be awarded to best lady in fancy costume, best lady in comic costume, best girl in fancy costume, best girl in comic costume, best gent in fancy costume, best gent, in comic costume, best boy in fancy costume, best boy in comic costume and best dressed clown. Prizes will also be awarded for the fastest skaters on the ice. The Norwood band will be in attendance and the ice will be reserved for those in costume until nine o'clock. As this is the first carnical of the season Manager Fleming is sparing no efforts in making it a decided success.

Mr. A. Primaton, of Havelock, visited Norwood on Monday.

Mrs. T. Lonergon, who has been visiting friends here, left on Sunday for her home in Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. C. J. Searight is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Searight, at Wellman's Corners.

Mr. A. Anderson and B. Prest, of Hastings, were in town on Sunday.

Rev. W. E. Tucker is visiting friends in Belleville.

Mr. A. Duffield has returned after visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss J. Young, who has been visiting her parents here, has returned to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Greenbank and children visited at the home of Mr. L. Webster, in Dummer on Sunday.

Mrs. Morrison of Havelock, is visiting Mrs. A. Davidson here.

Mr. T. Devitt, of Sault Ste. Marie, called on Norwood friends last week.

BUDGET OF INTERESTING NEWS FROM HAVELOCK

Havelock, Jan. 11.—The inaugural meeting of the Havelock Council for 1910 was held in the Council chamber on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Reeve Knox and Councillors Philips, Toman, Weese and Young were present and took their declaration of office. The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved. The vote on the Cement Walks and Drainage By-law was received, showing them defeated by 87 to 25 votes respectively.

On motion of Philips and Weese the following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

H. B. Morrison, supplies, $9.12; D. Vansickle, snowplowing, $8; Wm. Davidson, one day's work, $1.50; Wm. Seabrooks, work on ditch, $5; H. T. Anderson, D.R.O., $4; R. Philips, D.R.O., $4; J. W. Bryans, R.O, $4; Wm. Bryans, Poll Clerk, $2; Thos. Hubble, Poll Clerk, $2; R. J. Graham, scrutineer, by-law, $2; Jas. Kitchen, scrutineer, by-law, $2; Arthur Mathison, scrutineer, by-law, $2; John Feeney, scrutineer, by-law, $2; Wm. McKay, constable, $2; electric lights, December, $63.33; T. P. Lancaster, printing by-law, $94.50; T. P. Lancaster, extra printing, $5.20; School Board, $500; Jos. Knox, work re Division Court, $5.

The following municipal officers were appointed for 1910:

J. W. Bryans, clerk and treasurer salary	$125 00
R. J. Graham, assessor	50 00
Dr Holdcroft, Medical Health Officer	5 00
C. A. Ghent, village solicitor ...	10 00
H. T. Andrews and H. B. Morrison, auditors

W. Mathison, reappointed to Board of Health.

By-law No. 245, to borrow money for current expenses, was passed.

T. P. Lancaster was given the contract for regular municipal printing at $50 for year.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for snowplowing.

Councillors Philips and Weese were appointed a committee to inspect the tenders after January 17th, and to award contract.

Councillors Young and Toman brought in a motion to annul all former town hall rates, and the following new schedule was arranged: For balls and "At Homes" per night, $6; outside concerts, first night, $6; second night, $5; each succeeding night $4; churches and societies, first night, $5; second night, $4; political meetings, $10. Any gathering, where dancing is carried on to be charged as "At Home" and piano be included in rent of hall.

Mr. C. H. Brewster made application for the council chamber for use of School Board for their meetings.

On motion the Board was allowed to meet there free of charge.

The collector's time was extended until February 7th.

IMPORTANT ADDRESSES AT CONCLUDING MEETING

Final Session in Connection With This Year's Supplementary Series—Held in the North Monaghan Town Hall—Report of the Meeting.

The concluding meeting of the supplementary Farmers' Institutes for West Peterborough, was held Monday evening in the North Monaghan town hall. The reputation of delegates was unique, in that it was composed of three graduates of the Ontario Agricultural College. These speakers were Mr. H. C. Duff, B.S.A., of the Norwood branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture; Mr. Chas. C. Nixon, B.S.A., editor of Farm and Dairy; and Mr. C. F. Bailey, B.S.A., assistant superintendent of Farmers' Institutes for the province. The meeting was well attended.

The president of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, Mr. J. H. Garbutt, occupied the chair. After the regular speakers of the evening had addressed the meeting, a number of local men were called upon, these including Mr. Brown, ex-reeve of North Monaghan; Mr. Hunter, a prominent dairyman of the township, and Mr. Young, vice-president of the Institute. These latter emphasized the sterling qualities of Mr. Garbutt, and his eminent fitness for the position of president, he being a practical farmer, and one of the best farmers of Peterborough County. They congratulated him upon his high standing in the "good farm" competition, conducted this past year by "Farm and Dairy" especially for Peterborough County. Mr. Garbutt, in replying, told of the great benefits derived from such a competition, and pointed out how that one could not enter a farm and win on short notice; that preparation should be begun a considerable time before. He congratulated the Farm and Dairy journal, which is published in this city, upon their enterprise in having inaugurated such a competition.

Mr. H. C. Duff, the first speaker of the evening, outlined, in detail, the workings and benefits of the three-day free short course to be held in Peterborough, January 24, 25 and 26. He also brought before the meeting the matter of a free six weeks course for farmers' sons, to be held in Norwood, beginning February 1st. The question of farm improvements was then dealt with at some length. The speaker referred to the modern ways of doing things in the out-door farm practice, such as by means of labor-saving machinery, fast-working and riding plows. "But while these improvements have been made on the out-door work," said Mr. Duff, "what of the indoor?" In too many cases the obsolete methods and means of working that were in vogue many years ago, are still evident, and for the most part the women folks are largely themselves to blame. The women should uphold their rights and see to it that the old washing-board is replaced by the modern washing machine, and that the conveniences, many of which cost so little, and yet mean so much, which are for the most part lacking in farm houses, should be installed.

Mr. F. C. Bailey, the next speaker, who came down from Toronto to fill in a gap caused by the unavoidable absence of Mr. Gardhouse, handled the subject of "Agricultural Education." In his pleasing way he outlined the value of the science, as applied to farm practice. He showed the utility of a knowledge of biology, of chemistry and bacteriology, of soil physics, and of other branches of science, as applied to practical farming. A knowledge of these, he contended, had a dollar and cents value to any farmer. He urged all farmers of Peterborough County, who had sons, to send them to Norwood to take advantage of the six weeks' course, being given there this winter. Mr. Bailey also outlined the benefits of the short course to be held in Peterborough, and promised everyone present a most enjoyable and profitable three days of instruction at this short course.

The possibilities and the opportunities before the Peterborough County farmer was the key-note of the address given by Mr. C. C. Nixon. He outlined what some individual men were doing in the matter of seed grain as a speciality, and showed that there was a great opening for farmers in this district who would produce seed grain. Coming to the dairy, mention was made of Mr. J. K. Moore's herd of 23 cows, which last year averaged 9,000 pounds of milk each. Some outstanding records made by pure-bred cattle were given. Two of these cows each produce over 21,000 pounds of milk in a year, and while it cost from $89 to $90 a year to feed these cows, they left a profit, over and above the cost, of from $190 to $200. These he compared with the average gross returns from the cows supplying creameries in Eastern Ontario, which Mr. G. G. Publow, chief dairy inspector, has estimated to be $17.50. Mr. Nixon also mentioned a case of a Woodstock man, Mr. A. J. Davis, who, in five years' time, through the use of a pure-bred sire, had more than doubled the production of his herd, bringing them up from 4,500 pounds to 9,144 pounds each per year. A scheme was suggested, whereby farmers could co-operate in purchasing pure-bred sires. This scheme was for fifteen or twenty men to club together, under a six-year agreement, and purchase three good bulls, the herds being divided into three groups, each group having one bull for three years. Thus by making a redistribution, at the end of each three-year term, each member of the group would have had the use of three good sires for three years each, at a far lower cost than if each bought separately.

The addresses, as reported in the foregoing, were interspersed with suitable musical selections by local talent.

HARRY ADAMS

THE Y. M. C. A.

The annual report of the Y.M.C. Associations contained in Vol. xxxv. No. 4, is at hand. The work done during the year has been, as usual of great and enduring character. It is doubtful if any other body of laymen can compare with Y.M.C.A. in the practical good done by them. Nowadays phases of human activity are specialized and developed. The laymen's missionary movement is a case in point. The Y.M.C.A. is another. It cannot be foretold the day or the hour when some other as yet undeveloped energy will turn into its channel and proceed on its way rejoicing. At one time it was feared that the Y.M.C.A. was providing too much for the young. That they were being overfed and coddled, that they were being reduced to childhood instead of being raised to the status of manhood. This fear, however, is not justified and in one department alone, the railway department, the Y.M.C.A has justified its whole its whole existence. It is likewise the freemasonry of Christians. Wherever one goes he meets in it and through it, a friend. The growth of our cities has derived enormous benefit from this fact.

The Y.W.C.A. does a corresponding and even more necessary work. It deals with the weaker or more defenceless sex and by so much the more is needed and useful.

DR. MacDONALD COMING

The Canadian Club has been exceedingly fortunate in securing Dr. Macdonald, the editor-in-chief of "that great journal, the Toronto Globe," as the British weekly names it, to give an address before the club's members and the public generally at an early date. The subject, it is understood, is to be "Some lessons to be learned by Canada from Britain," and will embody much of what Dr. Macdonald saw and learned when as a delegate he attended the great international Press Conference in London, Eng., last year. Practically no part of this particular lecture has yet appeared in print, and the audience will be assured of much new skilful and splendid manner by, perhaps, the most heart-searching and stirring orator of the day in Canada. No Canadian is more in demand by great gatherings everywhere. This month Dr. Macdonald speaks before 20,000 people in the New York Hippodrome. Last year his appearance before the Scotsmen of Chicago literally "shook the whole city." His praises have been sung there ever since. In England he is regarded as one of the most masterful and eloquent of Canadians. In view of the hundreds of requests for him to give addresses his kindness in coming to Peterborough will be thoroughly appreciated. The date will probably be Jan. 29th, on his return from Washington, D.C.

TYPHOID IN MONTREAL

It's a strange thing to make a race question out of a fever, but that is what is happening in Montreal. The "English" journals are trying to rouse the people to a sense of the danger they are in and to a realisation of the conduct of their rulers. But French journals reply as if it were all a scare, got up by the Star, etc., to annoy them. Everybody who is not crazy knows the appalling condition of things in Montreal and it looks as if now that they added race supremacy to the trouble, there will be more of it and of another kind. The following from the Witness will be of interest.

"The standard of revolt has been raised against the Citizens' Association slate. Among the names that have been selected are two of the worst in the present council. Mayor Payette, whatever may have been his personal opinions of right and wrong, has shown himself to be helpless in the hands of the condemned element. He has proved himself utterly unreliable. By the vote of the so-called "delegates' at the Monument National —by whom delegated is not said—he has been chosen as candidate for Mayor. Alderman Mercier has been about the saddest lapse in the council. He entered public life apparently well-meaning. He was commended to us by sponsors who could not but know him well. He had a brilliant career of public service and success open to him in youth. But he cast in his lot with evildoers and has continuously, for a good while suppported the wrong side on almost every occasion. Alderman Lariviere is eminently in the same crowd. What led such an assembly to choose Mr. Langlois we do not know. We have his assurance that he will on no account accept such a nomination; a very wise decision, as by taking sides in that group he would simply be lost to the service of his country. The hope of an opposition to the citizens' ticket lies in those interests which are at issue with the public good, including, as their best reliance at election time, the tavern support. Indeed, the liquor interest is known to be very much up in arms against the Carter by-law for the early closing of the bars. If that by-law should pass, the liquor men will support aldermen on the one ground of securing its repeal. If it does not pass, then the Carter by-law will be the principal issue in the coming election. The Citizens' Committee had therefore better take warning lest any of its candidates come under this condemnation."

And this one from the Montreal Star:

"The argument for the grafters and idlers of the City Hall betrays a cynical contempt for the intelligence of those who are the chief sufferers by aldermanic graft and neglect, but whose votes are relied upon, nevertheless, to keep the grafters and idlers in power and in control of the civic treasury. A gang of infernal scoundrels are taking the meanest advantage of the poverty of the poor."

And yet these men hold their positions by appeals to race prejudice!

ANNUAL FAIR MEETING JAN. 22

Will be Held in City Council Chamber--Election of Officers

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition will be held in the City Council chamber on Saturday, January 22nd, at one o'clock. The meeting was first called for Thursday, January 20th, but on account of the Peterborough ice races coming on that date it has been decided to have the annual meeting of the Fair on Saturday, January 22.

SURVEYING ON SCUGOG RIVER

Finding the Area of Basin of Scugog River and Lake

Lindsay: The Trent Valley survey party started the work of finding the area of the basin of the Scugog River and Sturgeon Lake yesterday on the ice. They expect to do as much of the work as they can where it is not expedient or impossible to take a boat or make measurements in the summer. Soundings will be taken through the ice.

After working a time from the Lindsay end the party will make Bobcaygeon their headquarters in order to be near the work at the east end of Sturgeon Lake.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

R. R. to Apsley

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The Peterborough Distributing Agency send semi-monthly circulars, advertising city merchants and prices seem to compare favorably with T. Eatons and R. Simpson, of Toronto, but the difficulty lies in getting to your city a ride on wheels or sleighs of 30, 40 or sometimes 50 miles unless in very favorable weather, is rather a serious consideration when it may take from 3 to 5 days to make the trip, besides the expense, whereas it only requires a postal note and stamp to send money to Toronto and between $10,000 and $12,000 goes to that city annually from the back country of East Peterborough. The three townships of Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos and that is within the mark. Now, the greater part, if not all that amount, would be left in Peterborough if we had railway communication and more than that, the four or five stores here each deals in flour and feed which is all brought from Lakefield, Lindsay, Warsaw and Deseronto. None from your city. With the power that can be developed at Burleigh Falls an electric road could be run from your city to Apsley and am sure you would be benefited and is there not enterprise and push enough among your citizens to form a company and build one.

Both governments would, I am sure, give a subsidy. There is plenty of good land available here yet and no better place for raising cattle; water and pasture abundant in summer and seldom a scarcity of winter feed, no blizzard or distructive storms, fuel in plenty and millions of feet of good hardwood lumber that, if there were a railroad here could be shipped out as portable steam saw mills would get busy

There are also numberless lakes, most of them contain fish, bass and salmon. There is no doubt that if a road was once in operation there would be traffic enough to make it a paying investment. Or are we to wait until the last pine, hemlock, cedar and other floatable timber is taken out and the hardwood left to be wiped out by forest fires. Hoping that in the near future we may hear the bell of the electric car or whistle of the steam car. I might say that prospectors are making some good finds in the northern part of Anstruther and there is a prospect of a short line from Tory Hill into that section.

Yours, etc.,
APSLEY.

THE COMING OF "THE ROYAL CHEF"

All signs point to unusual interest in the forthcoming engagement of "The Royal Chef," which occurs at the Grand Opera House next Saturday, January 15th, matinee and evening, and unless present indications fail there is sure to be a crowded house.

In "The Royal Chef" will be found one of the most delightful musical comedies ever presented here, and its last visit to Canada, three years ago, still lingers as a pleasant memory. Its comedy is of that vibrating, unctious and richly original sort, and its little romance is neat and interesting. In it there is more actual wit, more innocence, mischief, more admirable acting and good singing than in ten of the so-called comic operas of the present day.

This season it is supplied with a new equipment of elegant scenery and costumes, while the cast is composed entirely of stage notables, supported by the same whirl-wind chorus of clever singers and dancers who are never idle during the entire action of the play. The seats are now on sale.

MR. KELSO HAS PROSPERED IN ROCHESTER

Former Peterborough Man is President of Leading Laundry Firm—Employees Held Banquet.

The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle of Jan. 4th contains the following item of local interest, Mr. James Kelso being a former resident of this city;

About 150 of the employees and friends of the Kelso Laundry Company joined in the anniversary celebration at the Duffy-McInnerney dining hall last night in honor of President James Kelso, who yesterday observed the thirtieth anniversary of his association with the company which bears his name.

There was an orchestra in attendance and one of the musical features of the evening was the singing of songs in which the president's name did duty as the basis of the sentiment. At the close of the dinner Jas. Shevlin was introduced as toastmaster and D. M. Cooper, and James E. Kelso responded to informal toasts, Arthur D. Kelso gave a recitation and Myrtie FitzGibbon recited an original poem. The programme was followed by dancing.

On January 3rd, 1880, Mr. Kelso associated himself with the business then known as F. K. Adams Laundry Company, located on Mumford street. It was the day of small things, and instead of the fourteen waggons which are now required to deliver goods, one hand cart was adequate to the needs, while a pay roll which bore precisely six names was the progenitor of the present roll, which includes the names of 115 employees. Five buildings are now included in the commodious plant, and no pains has been spared to make it sanitary. The big white building is finished in white enamel, both walls and ceiling.

That the public may have opportunity to inspect the system employed and the Kelso way of doing things, each Wednesday from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon is set apart as reception day, at which time the general public is invited to inspect the plant.

The Review has arranged with the officials of Queen's University, Kingston, for a weekly letter from that institution. It will appear in the Review every Saturday, and should prove interesting to Queen's graduates and the public generally. Topics of live interest at the University will be touched upon in a manner that will prove attractive to those interested in higher education. The first of the series of letters will appear on Saturday of this week.

WILL RESIDE IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kent Leaving Zion, Otonabee—Honored by Neighbors

On Monday night, January 10, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kent, of Zion, Otonabee, were presented with a handsome writing cabinet and secretary by the congregation of Zion Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Kent are leaving that locality and will reside in Peterborough, and their departure is much regretted by their neighbors. A large number gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kent, and a pleasant, social evening was spent. The presentation was made by Mr. John Lancashire and Mr. Joseph Manly, and the following address was read by Rev. William Johnston, of Keene:—

To Mr. and Mrs. A. Kent, Otonabee:

Dear Friends,—We, your neighbors and friends of the Zion Methodist congregation, having learned with regret that you are about to depart from amongst us, feel that we cannot allow you to do so without expressing our feeling of high appreciation of the character you have maintained, and the influence you have exerted in this neighborhood during your many years of residence here.

You will be both missed in the church, the services of which you have loved and loyally supported, and where Brother Kent has for so long faithfully discharged the duties of steward and treasurer of the Trustee Board, and where his self-sacrificing devotion and zeal have been so cheerfully given to the work of the Sunday school in the position of superintendent, which he has for so many years efficiently filled, to the great advantage of the school. You will be missed in the neighborhood, where a helping hand and an encouraging word were always ready and freely given to those in need, and where, by your many acts of kindness and friendship, you have won the respect and esteem of the entire community.

And now allow us to present to you this cabinet and writing desk, as a remembrance of your many friends here, and your sojourn amongst us; and with it we express to you the wish and prayer that your future days may be many and cloudless, and that we may all meet again in happy reunion in the Better Land, where partings never come.

Signed on behalf of Zion congregation, Otonabee:

Wm. Johnston, Pastor,
J. Lancashire.
Joseph Manly.
Walter Dickson.

Speeches, expressing regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Kent, were made by several of those present. Mr. Kent made a neat reply to the address and the many kind things said about himself and Mrs. Kent. Refreshments were served during the evening.

KINGSTON CITY COUNCIL TO REDUCE LICENSES

The City Council of Kingston will reduce the number of liquor licenses in that city. Ald. Craig will bring the matter up. There is some dispute as to the number of which licenses are to be reduced but there is general approval of the step to be taken.

BRANTFORD WILL REDUCE LICENCES

The Citizens' League of Brantford have demanded a very large percentage of reductions of licenses in that city. The council, whose duty it is, will cut off perhaps fifty per cent.

IN BETWEEN LOVE AND BEAUTY

Viola Allen, who is at the present time touring Canada, presenting the greatest play of her distinguished career, will appear at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, January 20, in F. Marion Crawford's last play "The White Sister." Since the beginning of the present theatrical season, Miss Allen and her all-star cast of players have presented this drama most successfully in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston and New York. In fact, they came directly from New York city a week since, to open the Canadian tour in Montreal. This play is founded upon incidents in Crawford's book of the same name. In as much as the preparation of this stage version of his story was the last work entered upon by the lamented author, the play has a writer of international repute. A large cast has been engaged by Messrs. Liebler & Company to support Miss Allen. The part of Monsignore Saracinesca is in the hands of James O'Neill, of "Monte Cristo" fame; that of Captain Severi in those of William Farnum, while Minna Gale, the one-time leading lady of Booth and Barrett, who returns to the stage after a retirement of a decade and a half, will be seen as the Countesse Chiaramonte. The other important roles have been assigned to Fanny Addison Pitt, Richie Ling, Joseph Whiting, Dwight Dana and Bele Chippendale Warner.

"The White Sister" as a play differs from the book of the same title in many respects. The central theme, however, is very much the same, presenting a dramatic conflict between love and duty in the case of a young girl, who turns to the church for comfort upon receiving false reports of her soldier lover during an ill-fated African expedition, only to meet him in the flesh after having taken religious vows. The setting of the first two acts on the convent grounds, especially that of the second act, which shows the cloister gardens, has given the management ample opportunities for elaborate stage effects. William Furst, the well known composer, wrote the musical score for "The White Sister." A female chorus and several musicians are part of the company, and are interpreters of the music of the convent chapel scene. Music runs through the entire performance, and has been made to fit the sentiments of each scene.

HEAR THE SONGS YOU KNOW BEST

Some of Them Are Sung in "The Royal Chef," Which Comes to the Grand Saturday, Matinee and Night.

If you did not hear the Royal Chef on its last visit to this city, or even if you did, you will not want to miss hearing it on Saturday evening, for the music is so pretty and catchy and the dialogue is so deliciously funny that you will have a thoroughly enjoyable evening if you go.

There are many favorites in the score of the Royal Chef, some that you hear whistled on the street, some that the orchestra play at the opera, or at the dances, all of them equally pretty. Here are some of them that you will recognize: 'The Tale of the Tailless Frog,' 'It's a Way They Have in Chicago,' 'Let me go Back,' 'What Color Eyes do You Like Best?' 'O'Reilly,' 'In the Morning,' 'What's the matter with My Man in the Moon,' 'Kippanoe.'

There is already a large advance seat sale, though there are a few good ones left. If you want to spend a pleasant hour and hear some good music, see the Royal Chef on Saturday night. There will also be a matinee in the afternoon.

THE LATE JOHNSON ELLIS, OF LINDSAY

Was One of the Most Highly Respected Citizens of Victoria County.

Lindsay, Jan. 10.—In the death of Mr. Johnson Ellis this morning, the town of Lindsay and Victoria county lost one of its most highly respected and best known citizens—a gentleman who gave the best that was in him for the advancement of the best interests of the community, and who was universally admired and esteemed for his many noble qualities of heart and hand.

The deceased gentleman had been in poor health for some time, in fact last fall he had a premonition that life's labors would soon cease, as he remarked to several citizens during the recent fall fair, that he would not live to see another. A few weeks ago he contracted a cold from which he never recovered, and at 8.30 o'clock this morning he crossed the great divide at his residence, corner William and Glenelg streets.

The late Mr. Ellis was born in Hope township, Durham county, sixty-three years ago. At an early age he moved to the township of Ops, about six miles from Lindsay. He proved a most successful agriculturalist, and was very active in promoting the best interests of the township. He was reeve for twelve years, and was also a member of the County Council for the same period.

A few years ago he gave up farming and moved to Lindsay. He still manifested a deep interest, however, in the farming industry, and was one of the most valued officials of the Lindsay Fair directorate. He was at one time superintendent of the Fair, and for a great many years and up to the time of his death held the office of president, and was recognized as a zealous capable and enthusiastic officer. He was, besides president of the Winter Fair Association, ex-president of the Poultry Association, and agent for the Farmers' Union Insurance Co.

In religion Mr. Ellis was a consistent Methodist and was also a member of the Masonic and Orange Orders. In politics he was a Liberal-Conservative.

The deceased leaves to mourn his death a sorrowing wife and four children. Mrs. Frank Taylor, Toronto; Miss Stella, Brockville; Etta and Flora, at home. He is survived, besides, by two sisters, Mrs. William Coad, Lorneville; and Mrs. Thomas Sadler, Lindsay, and a brother, Wm., of Verulam.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Riverside cemetery.

Universal regret is expressed on the death of Mr. Ellis. He was one of the town's best citizens, and was a whole-souled, generous-hearted and upright Christian gentleman, ever ready to lend a helping hand to the poor and needy and ever active in promoting the best interests of the community.

Another carload of strike-breakers was smuggled into the Springhill mines.

OBITUARY

ADAM HAMILTON.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, of Adam Hamilton at his late residence, Harvey street. The deceased, who was 60 years of age, had been ailing for some time and was well known throughout the city. Surviving him are five sons, four daughters and his widow.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of his brother, Mr. J. C. Hamilton, 412 Murray street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Service will be held at two o'clock.

Hon. W. A. Weir is now County judge of Pontiac, and Judge Champagne has been transferred to Hull.

THE REASON EDMONTON DIDN'T MAKE PETERBORO'

Edmonton didn't appear here last night, and for the very good reason that they couldn't make train connections. The reason of their unavoidable absence was explained this morning by Fred. Whitcroft in a conversation with Mr. Chris. Graham over the long distance telephone.

"Whitty," in speaking from Toronto, said the train was delayed at St. Paul and Chicago, and the team could not make Peterborough on the C.P.R. local last evening, as they expected. Under ordinary conditions they would have reached here, and will make every effort to be in Peterborough this evening, Whitty stated.

At 3.30 Mr. Graham received a telegram from Whitcroft stating that the Edmonton team will be unable to be here to-night.

WEST ENDS 10 KEENE 3 STRATHCONAS 11 T.A.S. 3

Big Crowd Witnessed One Sided City League Games—Keene Brought up Weak Team — Burritt Scored Seven of the Straths. Goals.

Had "Mag" Whitcroft, "Jiddy" Miller and other players of the Edmonton hockey team dropped around to the Brock street rink last night, as it was expected they would, it is rather doubtful just what their answer would be, were they asked for an opinion regarding the class of the city league teams. There was a Jonah in the rink somewhere. Neither game came up to expectations and a large number of the one thousand or more fans present must have been just a little disappointed. Perhaps it was the fault of the players themselves. It looked like it at times. They bunched up in centre ice and in the corners. Several almost went to sleep and the play at many periods became almost monotonous. It the first game there was evidences of deliberate rough work, and the big crowd didn't like it for a minute and if the guilty parties are of the idea that they can get away with any more of it, they are in wrong. There is nothing smart about such performances and the sooner the players forget it so much the better for the city league. The score at the finish of the first exhibition stood, West Ends 10, Keene 3, and for the second the figures were Strathconas 11, T. A. S. 3.

FIRST GAME

Keene did not have a strong lineup. Smith, McIntyre and McCarthy were missing. The wings were weak and Weir and McDougall, who performed at centre and rover respectively, in the first half, had to work overtime. The defence was not effective in this period, but in the second half a change for the better was made by McDougall and Dickson exchanging positions. The former and Lewis at cover worked well together and pulled off some very good combinations plays, but inability to shoot accurately lost possible scores.

Giroux played a hand game for the West Ends. Crane's work was always noticeable. The forward line worked well at times and more counters should have come their way. The class of hockey the Keene team was playing no doubt hindered the West Enders. It appeared extremely hard for them to get playing together but at that there were many cases where the pass was missed or the puck overskated.

THE SCORING

The first score did not come until after ten minutes of play. Crane pulled the string on a pass from Dobson in front of Dinsdale. West Ends 1, Keene 0.

Giroux missed the nets by a close margin, and the puck travelled down again. McDougall rushed, Giroux contributed another wild shot. Shortt took the rubber up the boards and beat Dinsdale, who came out to meet him. West Ends 2, Keene 0.

Crane went off for two minutes. Halpin blocked a dangerous looking shot. Munro and Giroux combined but lost the puck. Shortt secured the next counter in nine minutes. West Ends 3, Keene 0.

McDougall adorned the fence for two minutes for getting Crane. Lewis broke his skate and left the ice with Dobson. Giroux's lone jaunt looked good but the shot hit the goal-post. Dobson and Lewis returned on the ice and the former and Crane pulled off a nice combination play, but Dobson made a mess of the last pass. After eight minutes Crane found the nets. Score, West Ends 4, Keene 0.

From a passout from the corner, Weir beat Halpin for the first time. West Ends 4, Keene 1.

McDougall tripped Seymour and joined the timekeepers for two minutes. Dobson was given the same dose. Giroux's shot was wide. Crane scored but the bell saved this counter against Keene.

SECOND HALF

The Keene line-up was changed and the team was working better. In two minutes, Crane made the score West Ends 5, Keene 1, and in half a minute Seymour connected for another one. West Ends 6, Keene 1.

The West End line was showing up to better advantage. Seymour received a two-minute rest. Giroux shot wide and Halpin took care of McDougall's. The play was exciting in this period. Dinsdale made a great block, and Giroux journeyed to the box for two minutes. Dobson lost his head and it cost him two minutes. Weir slashed and was chased. After nine minutes of end to end playing Dobson scored. West Ends 7, Keene 1.

One minute was sufficient for Crane to put the next one in the nets. West Ends 8, Keene 1.

Dobson and Crane combined but the latter missed the last pass. Lewis was showing up well and the crowd was with him. In five minutes Crane scored his fifth goal on a pass from Dobson. West Ends 9, Keene 1.

Weir took a hand in the scoring and rang the bell in five minutes. West Ends 9, Keene 2.

Lewis and Weir were giving the West End line a busy time and by combining, passed the defence and Lewis pulled the string. West Ends 9, Keene 3.

Dinsdale got on front of Giroux's shot. Dickson was hurt and play was stopped. On resuming Lewis and McDougall got away together but a wide pass spoiled a fine chance. McDougall rushed and Seymour connected with his shins. A minute later he got his hands. The referee became wise and when Seymour scored on McDougall again he was sent to the fence. Crane got the last goal of the game on a pass from Dobson, who had brought the rubber down alone. West Ends 10, Keene 3.

Second Half—West Ends, Seymour, Giroux, Dobson; Keene, Weir.

Timekeepers, Cahill, T.A.S., Dr. McWilliams, Keene.

SECOND GAME

The T. A. S.-Strathcona game furnished some well played hockey at times. The first half was interesting and exciting, but in the second period the Straths were too much for the Abstainers and the scoring was one-sided, with the red and white team on the big side. Burritt's work at centre for the winners was brilliant. He scored seven of the eleven goals secured against the T. A. S. By being always in his position he took advantage of most of the passes from the wings and shot in the majjority of cases dead on the nets. Dusty gave a good account of himself at cover. The pace told on Weatherston and McMillan and they were not just up to the mark.

The T. A. S. forward line, while they started off well, were up against it as the game progressed. They were not as well conditioned as their opponents, and were not quick enough in checking back. The defence, especially in the second half could not stop the onslaughts of the enemy. Heffernan rushed well but was blocked before he could get a line on Derocher in goal.

THE SCORING

For the first few minutes the players bunched. Burritt missed several chances. Morin got away alone but was prevented from shooting. The Straths line was called back on an offside. In ten minutes T. Sabitino found the nets for the first score. T. A. S. 1, Strathconas 0.

Burritt evened up on a pass from the side in five minutes. T. A. S. 1, Strathconas 1.

In half a minute Burritt beat Giroux again. T. A. S. 1, Strathconas 2.

Giroux lost his feet, when Burritt shot on a pass from Weatherston and the play went in to the corner. Weatherston made it three for his team in two minutes. T. A. S. 1, Strathconas 3.

Derocher was asleep when Quigley lifted but the puck missed the nets. Dusty and Burritt got away together, the latter counting from a pass. T. A. S. 1, Strathconas 4.

Derocher took care of Quigley's roller. Dusty was sent to the box. Giroux blocked a stop from McMillan. Dusty was ordered back to the fence for another period of two minutes, for connecting with Heffernan's fingers. In eight and a half minutes with the play at the Strathconas nets, McNicholl worked the rubber in from around the corner. T. A. S. 2, Strathconas 4.

Ray, McMillan and Burritt combined but there was nothing doing. The first half ended without further scoring.

SECOND HALF

The second half started off with an assault on the T. A. S. goal, and Burritt's shot passed Giroux after two minutes. T. A. S. 2, Strathconas 5.

In one minute Morin raised the spirits of the T. A. S. rooters by beating Derocher. T. A. S. 3, Strathconas 5.

Giroux stopped Weatherston's shot. McNicholl went off for tripping McMillan.

Dusty rushed but was dropped by Quigley. In nine minutes Ray connected for the sixth goal. T. A. S. 3, Strathconas 6.

The play was mostly in T. A. S. territory and in four minutes Burritt scored, Weatherston came next with another in one minute, and Dusty after a lone rush made the figures stand T. A. S. 3, Strathconas 9.

Burritt secured the next two in two and eight minutes. T. A. S. 3, Strathconas 11.

Heffernan was given two minutes for tripping Dusty. McMillan and Dusty combined but the former's shot went to the bad. The game came to a finish with the puck in play near the T. A. S. nets.

P.C.I. ROOTERS WERE PROMINENT

Below will be found the list of parodies and yells composed by the students of the Collegiate Institute, to be used by the rooters' club. The supporters of the garnet and grey tackled several of them at the Collegiate-Colts game on Monday night and with a little more practice they should make good:—

Yip ay addy I'ay lay,
Yip ay addy I'ay lay,
Hurrah for the garnet and gray.
We are yelling for the P.C.I.,
Beat Collegiate beneath the sky,
Yip ay addy I ay, I ay.
Peterborough Collegiate Hurrah!
The Peterboro's aren't it
No, not for a minute
Yip I addy lay.

Rip 'em up, tear 'em up.
Eat 'em up whole—
P.C.I., P.C.I. want another goal.

Hobble Gobble, Razzle-dazzle
Zis Boom Bah
P.C.I., P.C.I., Rah-Rah-Rah.

Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah,

Tune—Why don't you try
Do you think that you can trim us,
Sure we think we can beat you
Do you think that you would mind
If we got a goal or two, three, four;
Do you think that you can beat us
Sure we know we can beat you,
If you want a real good trimming
Just say you do, just say you do.

Tune—John Doe.
Ken Crane, Ken Crane,
They all went after you in vain
You are wanted by the rest,
You are wanted by us
And you are playing with the team,
That is the best
Ken Crane, Ken Crane,
You bet we have you all the same and the garnet and gray will live for aye
With the original Ken Crane.

Friday, January 28—
Lindsay at Peterborough.
Monday, January 31—
Peterborough at Lindsay.
Friday, February 4—
Lindsay at Peterborough.

CURLING

LINDSAY AHEAD.

Lindsay, Jan. 12.—The first games for the Shepherd-Needler Cup were played yesterday afternoon between the Orillia and Lindsay curling clubs, and as a result the Lindsay club started the season well, being 51 shots to the good. Every Lindsay rink, with the exception of Tom Gage's rink, won from their opponents by a number of shots. Gage had a strong rink, but he bumped into Tankard Skip Stewart and lost by four shots. At one stage of the game Gage was down eleven shots, but gradually pulled up and, on the last end, with his last rock, almost had a seven end. He got the shot he played for, and had he moved the stone half an inch farther he would have counted seven and won his game.

IN ORILLIA.

In Orillia the Lindsay rinks were skipped by J. D. Flavelle, J. M. Knowlson, T. Gage and R. Butler. They won by 15 shots, Knowlson being 9 up, Flavelle 4, and Butler 6 up. The ice was in good condition, but a little "crooked."

IN LINDSAY.

In Lindsay Skips T. Burke, Dr. Sutton, F. Knowlson and Larry O'Connor simply smothered their opponents and won by 36 shots, which is almost a record for four rinks. It is stated that Tim Burke thought he was playing the finals in the Tankard rink and trimmed his man 23—8. Dr. Sutton was also 11 shots to the good; Fred Knowlson six up, and Larry O'Connor trimmed the famous Frankie Toogood by four shots, scoring a five-end in the early part of the game. The second round for the trophy will be played later in the season, but from here it looks all Lindsay with 36 shots to the good.

HOCKEY

Auburns and Canoe Builders are scheduled to play a Mercantile League game to-night at Brock street rink.

Seventeen goals in three games is what Hugh Burritt has contributed.

SPORTING NOTES

Owing to the fact that some of the opinions of experts on the big fight published in the Review, have favored Johnson, Jeffries has cancelled his subscription to the Review.

Some people were sore beyond redemption because the Edmonton hockey team didn't appear, but some people would be sore if a show was not put on if the company was killed in a railroad wreck.

The general opinion of the fans was that Whitcroft didn't "show up" very well last night.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

We also represent first-class Fire, Accident, Guarantee, Plate Glass and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

LATEST NEWS FROM APSLEY

Special to the Review.

Apsley, Jan. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. John Snelgrove, of Manitoba, are visiting relatives in and around our village.

The annual Church of England tea meeting, Christmas tree and entertainment was held in the parish room on December 30, and was carried out successfully. The Christmas tree presented a very beautiful appearance, and was laden with presents, chiefly for the children of the Sunday school. A very good programme was rendered, consisting of instrumental music, readings, songs, drills, recitations and dialogues. Rev. C. Lord, pastor of the church, occupied the chair. At the close of the programme he announced that this would be his last Christmas among the people of Apsley, as he expected to be sent to some other mission in the spring. We are sorry to lose the above gentleman, as he has always proved to be a kind and sympathetic friend and faithful worker of the Lord during the years he has spent among us.

The following were guests here during the holidays:—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McIlmoyle, of Selwyn; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Staples, Ella and Mary, of North Monaghan; Mr. Percy Coones, of Sudbury; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wool and Marguerite, of Toronto; the Misses Hendley, of Toronto; Miss Annie McIlvena, of Peterborough; Miss Maggie Lean, of Mt. Julian.

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Apsley cheese factory was held in the town hall on Saturday last, and considering the money that has to be laid out for the drawing of the milk, the amount paid for freight and other expenses, owing to the inconvenience of the factory in the north country, it has, indeed, made an exceedingly good showing. The following is a statement of the factory for the season of 1909:—

Total weight of milk, 643,235 lbs.

Standards, 214, 1235 lbs.

Total pounds of cheese 60,141.

Average pounds of milk per lbs. cheese, 10.69.

Average per standard to patrons, 25.80.

Total receipts for season:—

Jas. Leggat & Co.	$6605 72
Premium	75 26
Interest	28 89
To patrons	64 11
Local sales	193 21
	$6967 24

Total expenditure for season—

A. W. Pattison, manufactur'g	$1262 96
Salaries, freights, and expen.	172 55
To Patrons	5531 73
	$6967 24

MEANING OF "HE SAVED OTHERS"

Outlined by Gipsy Hawkins at Park St. Church — Reluctant Confession From His Enemies.

The meeting at the Park street Baptist church last night was a memorable one. The evangelist took for his text the words, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save."

This was a confession reluctantly forced from the hearts of the enemies of Christ.

They could not deny the fact that Christ had and could save others. They would have done so if they could, but the circumstances were against them, hence their confession that "He saved others," had a fuller meaning than it would have had, had it been spoken by the friends of Jesus. Christ saved men physically, but thank God His saving power was not confined to man's body, but He can also save the soul. Several illustrations taken from Gipsy Hawkins' many missions proved to the large audience that the statement was true, "He saved others," and He is saving them to-day. Christ is still able to save to the uttermost all who will come unto Him by faith. Gipsy Hawkins also stated that the Scotsman's religion was far ahead of the Canadian's, so far as real soul-saving was concerned. Of course, that is a debatable question. We Canadians are not so bad." Souls have been saved every night by the mission, and to-night is the last of the gospel services. Gipsy Hawkins will continue his talk upon the text, "He saved others, Himself he cannot save." There should be a larger crowd than ever to hear the closing gospel address of this eminent gospel evangelist.

All are sorry that Gipsy Hawkins finds it impossible to stay longer. He will get a royal welcome back to our city should he ever be able to return.

On Friday night Mr. Hawkins will give his life story, which eminent divines both in England and Scotland, have declared is second to none to his brother gipsy—Gipsy Smith.

All will be made welcome. None should miss this address. Please do not forget your thank-offering Friday evening.

Meeting to-night at eight o'clock.

ASK WM. MADILL

Parisian Sage, the Hair Grower, is Now Sold in Canada on Money Back Plan

It's a mighty good thing for the women of Canada that Parisian Sage can now be obtained in every town of consequence.

No preparation for the hair has done so much to stop falling hair and eradicate dandruff and make women's hair beautiful as Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe which is the cause of 97 per cent. of hair troubles.

These pernicious, persistent and destructive little devils thrive on the ordinary hair tonics.

Parisian Sage is such an extraordinary and quick acting rejuvenator that Wm. Madill, who is the agent in Peterborough, guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It is a magnificent dressing for women who desire luxuriant, lustrous hair that compels admiration.

And a large bottle of Parisian Sage costs only 50 cents at Wm. Madill's and all over Canada.

FUNERAL OF LATE JOHNSTON ELLIS

Lindsay, Jan. 12.—One of the largest funerals ever held in Lindsay took place this afternoon, when the body of Mr. John Ellis was interred in Riverside Cemetery. The funeral was in charge of the Masons, and many representatives of the County Conservative Association, the South Victoria Agricultural Society and the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company of which bodies he had been president, as well as other public bodies, were in the procession. Telegrams were received from all over the Dominion. The pallbearers were Col. Sam Hughes, M.P., Mayor Begg, Reeve Geo. A. Jordan, Dr. A. E. Vrooman; Dr. Wood, Lindsay; W. C. Switzer, Peterborough; John Brandon, and Dr. Mason, Fenelon Falls.

LIKED THE FIGHTING APOSTLE.

Name of St. Peter Appealed to Heart of Soldier.

It is well known that Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, not only enlisted as a common soldier in the ranks of the Seventeenth Connecticut regiment, carried a musket, and did full military duty during the war, but at a certain juncture, when national finances were at a low ebb, he paid soldiers out of his own pocket. Relative to this incident, P. T. Barnum used to tell this story:

"While Mr. Howe was counting out the money referred to, a stranger, who was a clergyman, entered the tent and said he had heard of Mr. Howe's liberality and had called to ask him to contribute toward building a church for his congregation.

"'Church, church,' said Mr. Howe without looking up from his bills he was counting; 'building churches in war times, when so much is needed to save our country! What church is it?'

"'St. Peter's church,' replied the clergyman.

"'Oh, St. Peter's,' said Mr. Howe; 'well, St. Peter was the only fighting apostle—he cut a man's ear off. I'll go $500 on St. Peter, but I am spending most of my money on saltpeter now.'"

A TREE THAT IS WORSHIPED.

Ficus Religiosa Held Sacred by Buddhists and Hindoos.

In most of the countries of southeastern Asia, the Indian Ficus religiosa, the sacred and consecrated fig tree, or peepil tree, is found. It is held pre-eminently sacred by the Buddhists, and is revered also by the Hindoos, the birth of Vishnu having occurred beneath its branches.

It is a handsome tree, growing frequently to a great height. It is an evergreen, which puts forth its flowers in April, and the bark yields freely upon incision an acrid milk containing a considerable proportion of india rubber. The leaves are heart-shaped, long, pointed and vibrate in the air like those of the aspen.

A branch of one of these trees, having a notable history, was sent to a city in the interior of Ceylon, where it was planted, and became known by the name of the bo-tree. For 200 years it received the highest reverence, and is still the chief object of worship to the pilgrims who every year flock to the ruins of the city.

Trim Your Nails.

There is a certain eminent physician who, wiser than the children of light, plods his way along in an unbeaten track and has no peer as a diagnostician. He is always accompanied by an expert manicurist, instead of a white or colored valet. "The human nail, like the human hair," he said to me, "is much affected by physical conditions. Barbers will tell you that in certain seasons the beard, for instance, grows nearly twice as fast as at others. It is so with the nails. At times, according to how we feel, the free edge may be a month in growing; there is some retarding agent. At other times it may grow in a week. Sometimes the nail has transverse furrows, indicating periods of illness. At other times it bears furrows running lengthwise—a sure indication of gout. My manicurist can tell by these indications when your last sickness occurred, and I can tell what the malady was."

She Got the Letter.

The post office official put on his severest manner.

"You say you mailed the letter about half an hour ago at a window in the east corridor?" he asked.

The beautiful woman dabbled a handkerchief at her soulful eyes and at the tip of her classic nose.

"Yes, yes," she said.

"To whom was it addressed?"

She told him.

"And now you want to stop that letter?" he went on, still more sternly. "You want to get it back? Why?"

"Because," said the woman with unpremeditated frankness. "I am afraid his wife will get it."

"Oh," said the stern official

She got the letter.

The Psychology of the Badge.

"I've always noticed," spoke up Old Jim, "that us farmers, when we git on a biled shirt and a derby hat, feel about the same as a city feller wearin' a soft shirt and a slouch hat. We sort o' b'lieve that it's our duty to over-indulge. In the old days I wus one o' them kind what couldn't even pin a badge on my coat without a-feelin' that I had a license ter paint the town red."

"Yes," laughed Cal, "there hain't no sadder sight than ter see a perfectly sober man all covered with ribbins and badges."—From "Old Jim Case of South Hollow."

Resentment.

"Does you charge 30 cents foh dat little box o' strawberries?" asked Aunt Hannah, superciliously.

"Yes," answered the grocer.

"An' it 'ud take about a thousan' of dem berries to make one ten-cent watermelon! I doesn't mind de price, but I does hate sech impidence!"—Washington Star.

Dead Dog.

"What's become of your dog? I haven't seen him for a long time."

"You notice what a cold I've got?"

"Yes, but what's that—"

"Well, a lot of people told me things to do for my cold, and I was wise enough to try 'em on him first."

The steamer Turret Bell has been libelled by Levis merchants, who furnished the craft with supplies.

It is not the quantity but the goodness of food that counts

When buying the things for dinner, remember this fact—select only food that you know is good, that is both wholesome and appetizing. In this respect you find a perfect cheese and a perfect food, equally as good for children as for adults. Made by experts with scrupulous care and cleanliness from the finest, purest cream, and fully ripened, which means predigested—Imperial Cheese has three times the food value of any other cheese. Satisfy yourself—try a jar. 10c, 15c, 25c and 50c. Sold only in sealed opal porcelain jars. Kept by your grocer.

Imperial Peanut Butter

Just as superior a food as MacLaren's Imperial Cheese. All the concentrated goodness of the best selected Spanish Peanuts with a flavor peculiarly appetizing—a pure, nutritious food that should be on your table at every meal. 10c, 20c and 30c the bottle. Your dealer has it.

A Pure Food Dessert

Imperial Dessert Jelly is different from the ordinary jellies—it is rich in food qualities, wholesome and nourishing, easy to make and can be had in any flavor. Best for invalids and children because of its absolute purity. One taste will convince. Try a package—at your grocers.

CANADA CREAM CHEESE teases the appetite mild, rich and creamy. Your grocer has it, in packages, three sizes, 10c up.

LL WIND THAT BLOWS NO GOOD

It may have been the best thing in the world for the city League players taking part in the games last night that Edmonton didn't appear on the local ice. As admission was charged, it is probable that the City League puck-chasers could have been all professionalized taking part in a fixture in which professionals played.

RENFREW STARS BEATEN AT HOME

Renfrew, Ont., Jan. 12.—The biggest surprise of the hockey season was sprung here this evening, when Renfrew's fourteen-karat-dyed-in-radium team went down to a defeat at the hands of the Cobalt septette, the final score being 11 to 9 in favor of Herb Clarke and his brilliant puck-chasers from the Silver City.

Renfrew led by a score of 5 to 4 at half time, but Cobalt had had the better of the play in the first half, and with the commencement of the second it was evident that the visiting team was put to win. They tied the score, and after Renfrew had held for a minute a lead of 6 to 5, Cobalt ran in five goals in quick succession, making it 10 to 6. Ten minutes remained to play, and Renfrew, by a gallant finali, managed to score three in a row, making it 10 to 9.

With two minutes to play Lester Patrick threw away a beautiful chance to tie the score, shooting wide on the open net after he had gone through the entire Cobalt team. Steve Vair went down the ice immediately, and by scoring on an open net sealed the fate of the Renfrew team, the bell ringing one minute later. It was a beautiful exhibition of hockey, played on soft ice. The ice seemed to affect such fast men as Lester Patrick, Taylor and Frank Patrick, but Cobalt seemed right at home on it. The small rink also spoiled much of the effectiveness of Taylor, Patrick and others, while their penalty list of 16 minutes, as against 3 for Cobalt, was another strong factor in the downfall of the millionaires.

ASKING FOR RURAL FREE MAIL DELIVERY

Correspondent of the Review.

There will be considerable improvement made in the farm buildings in this district during the coming spring. Mr. J. J. Lantic has made contracts to erect four barns, for John Irwin, Thos. Tindal and two others.

Mr. Geo. Boate is going to build a new brick house.

The farmers in this section are working for a rural mail delivery along the 4th line of Smith. Application has been made to Ottawa, and there are good prospects that the route will be put under contract.

The annual business meeting of the Lakevale Presbyterian church at Fowler's Corners was held on Thursday, January 6th. Rev. Mr. Curry presided. Mr. John Dailing, secretary, read the report. He reported finances in a good condition and that the church was prosperous. Refreshments were served by the ladies in the church, and a short programme was given.

On January 10th Messrs. McManus and Conway, threshers, were at work on the farm of Mr. Jos. Hunter, 4th line, (Moncrief farm) and threshed out 28 bushels of red clover seed in eight hours. This is both good work and a good crop. As a matter of fact it took only about three days to harvest the crops and one day to thresh it and the product is worth over $300. The seed is worth a little over $8 a bushel. It will likely be sold to local men in the city, who are exporters of clover seed.

The Hospital for Sick Children

COLLEGE ST., TORONTO.

THIS APPEAL IS TO YOU!

REMEMBER That Every Sick Child in Ontario Whose Parents Cannot Afford to Pay for Treatment is Treated Free.

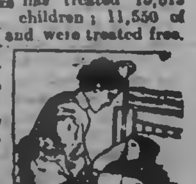
The Hospital for Sick Children had last year in its cots and beds 1,155 patients—383 of these were from 267 places in the Province. Sixty-five per cent. were children of poor people who could not afford to pay.

TWO CLUB FOOT CASES IN PLASTER.

Since its organization the Institution has treated 15,613 children; 11,550 of these unable to pay and were treated free.

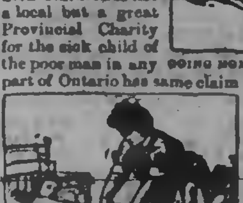
If you know of any child in your neighborhood who is sick or has any deformity send the name of the parent to the Secretary.

The Hospital for Sick Children is not a local but a great Provincial Charity for the sick child of the poor man in any part of Ontario has same claim upon its help as the child who lives within the shadow of its walls in Toronto.

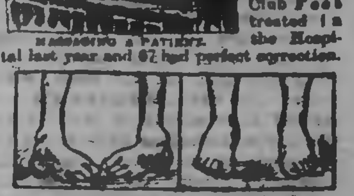


GOING HOME IN A WEEK

There were 69 cases of Club Feet treated in the Hospital last year and 67 had perfect correction.



MASSAGING A PATIENT.



BEFORE AFTER

Just think of it—Your money can help the Hospital to do the good work of straightening the crooked limbs and club feet of little children. Please help us.

MURRAY STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL IS FLOURISHING

The annual meeting of the teachers and officers of the Murray street Baptist Sunday school was held Monday night in the lecture room of the church. Mr. W. J. Dunlop occupied the chair. Mr. Elcome led in a most suitable prayer of thankfulness for the past year and guidance for the work upon which we are entering. The reports of the past year were read and adopted. These showed the school to be in a most flourishing condition. The splendid contributions of this school to missions is always a matter of satisfaction to all connected with the work and the year 1909 proved to be no exception. In addition to other contributions, the school voted at the meeting $20 to the Children's Aid Society and a generous amount to be expended in prizes for about twenty-five of the scholars who were most faithful in their attendance and work. The officers for the new year were elected and are as follows:—

Superintendent—W. J. Dunlop.
Asst. Superintendent—Dr. Browett.
Asst. Superintendent—J. P. Cunningham.
Asst. Superintendent.—C. B. Routley.
Secretary—Miss Mae Garbutt.
Asst. Sec.—Miss Barnard.
Cor. Secy.—Mr. Oscar Matchett.
Treasurer—Mr. S. Cottingham.
Librarians—Mr. H. Webber and Mr. W. Cochrane.
Supt of Cradle Roll—Mrs. O. Matchett.

The Bible Class is taught by Mr. E. Elcome and the Young Men's Class by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb. The primary work is in good condition being in charge of Miss Rose, Miss Hardill and Miss Emily Walker.

The meeting closed with prayer by the pastor seeking great blessing upon the officers and teachers just appointed and especially upon those who enter their offices for the first time in connection with our Bible school.

TRYING TO FIGURE OUT WHAT ALDERMEN WILL DO

This has been a quiet week in municipal circles. No meetings of committees have yet been called, and "nothing doing" is the watchword all along the line. It has been suggested that the aldermen are reserving their energy to deal with the license reduction question, which will come up on Monday night. A deputation from the Temperance and Moral Reform League will wait upon the Council and ask for a reduction in the number of liquor licenses in the city. Just now a large part of the population is trying to dope out the stand the various aldermen will take on the question. It will be one of the most important matters before a Peterborough council in years, and the progress of the fight will be watched with interest. The reduction people believe they will be supported in their application by a majority of the aldermen. The attitude of two or three of the civic solons on the question is unknown, but after Monday night the public will be able to get a line on the situation.

PERSONAL

The engagement is announced of Mr. John Edward Patte, of Brantford, to Miss Ella Philligate Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ray, 599 Water street.

The unidentified bodies of two young men are in the morgue at Elk Lake.

Y.M.C.A. BUILDING DESTROYED; JANITOR BURNED TO DEATH

Special to Review

Boston, Mass, Jan. 13.—Fire caused the death of one man, injured several others and gutted the five story building of the Boston Y. M. C. A., Nos. 462-466 Boyleston street, early this morning and threatened the destruction of the Notre Dame Academy on Province street. In the Academy fifty-seven sisters bravely awaited the order of the firemen while the flames raged close by. The loss is estimated at $200,000. Leonard Park, colored, one of the janitors of the building, is missing and is believed to have been burned to death.

THE INFLUENCE OF CASTE IS SERIOUS OBSTACLE

A very able and interesting address was given at Knox church last night by Miss Herdman, returned missionary from India, where she has been a worker for years, and her address was of great practical value and very timely.

She explained the nature of her work and its difficulties and encouragements, giving many vivid illustrations.

Miss Herdman stated it was a difficult matter to get the people of India to become profession Christians, not because they had not personal desires to do so, but on account of the influence of caste friends and relatives who resorted to every means to prevent the open avowal of Christianity. The same applied to educational matters and Miss Herdman showed how careful the missionaries had to be in recognizing the demands of caste.

The speaker wore native costume and had several Indian curios with her which were examined with interest at the close of the meeting.

A WRIT ISSUED

To Set Aside Will—Peterboro Lady Concerned in Legal Proceeding

Special to the Review

Toronto, Jan. 13.—A writ has been issued against James Scott, of Waterloo, at the instance of Matilda Neil, of Peterborough; Alice Ward, of Brampton; Lillie and John Scott, of Chicago, on behalf of themselves and all other heirs and next of kin of John Scott, of Galt, cattle dealer, who died July 4, 1908, claiming to set aside as fraudulent and void an alleged will dated March 7, 1903, declared by defendant to be the last will and testament of his father, the deceased. The plaintiffs also claim a declaration that the alleged will is not in reality deceased's last will, and was procured through the alleged fraud or undue influence of defendant.

31 LIVES WERE LOST

S. "Czarina" Went Aground Coos Bay Bar, Oregon—Men Took to the Rigging.

Special to Review

Marshfield, Ore., Jan. 13.—Thirty-one lives were lost when the Southern Pacific Steamship Czarina leaving Coos Bay for San Francisco, went aground on the north spit of the Coos Bay bar. There is apparently no chance of saving the vessel. The crew took to the rigging and attempts of the life-saving crew to rescue them have failed. Capt. J. Dugan and one of his men swam ashore. The ship is broadside in the breakers and too far out to be reached by shooting a line which was repeatedly tried. Of the men aboard, believed to have been 33, only one was clinging to the rigging when darkness fell last night.

St. Peter's Ladies' Literary

At the meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society in St. Peter's T.A.S. rooms on Friday evening, Jan. 14th, Miss Eva Tangney will read a paper entitled "Opportunity." A musical programme will also add to the enjoyment of the evening.

All the members of the committee are specially requested to attend the meeting, which will take place after the reading.

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge, No. 135, A. O. U. W., held on Tuesday evening, January 11, in Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

M.W.—James Mulholland.
Foreman—W. M. Wotton.
Overseer—James Collinson
Financier—F. J. Jamieson.
Treasurer—Wm. C. Barrie.
Guide—R. J. Chowen.
I.W.—Wm. Bell.
O.W.—John Spence.
Physicians—Drs. Eastwood and Neal

Had a Dance

A number of Peterborough people drove to Lakefield last night and had an enjoyable dance in the town hall.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

TRUST DEALS IN WHITE SLAVES

New York, Jan. 12.—In the grand jury room to-day District-Attorney Whitman asked the investigators of the 'white slave' traffic to find indictments against certain individuals who, he is satisfied, are leaders in the business.

It is believed that the searching investigations undertaken by John D. Rockefeller, jr., as foreman of the special jury, has already proceeded far enough as to show not only that a white slave traffic exists here, but that there are close relations between traffickers in women in the principal cities of the country. Ownership of many illicit resorts in this city is being traced through incorporated companies, and it is reported that one man or syndicate has been found to own several such places here.

Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks, of Cornell University, and other men, who have investigated phases of the traffic, were summoned by Mr. Rockefeller and his associates to give their testimony to-day.

WILL ADDRESS CANADIAN CLUB

Rev. Dr. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, will speak here at a meeting of the Canadian Club. His topic will be "Some Lessons to be Learned by Canada from Britain."

REV. DR. MACDONALD.

The date has not yet been fixed but will probably be January 29th. It will be announced by the end of the week, however.

BELONGS TO THE "NEVER LEARNS"

Woman Who Has Spent Sixteen Years in Kingston Penitentiary is Sentenced Once More.

Special to Review

Toronto, Jan. 13.—With a record of sixteen years spent in Kingston penitentiary for various thefts, Mrs. Jessie Thompson, forty-five years old, was sentenced to Central prison for three months by Magistrate Denison this morning. She was caught picking pockets in a department store.

OBITUARY

JANE McCAUL.

Last evening at six o'clock the death occurred of Jane McCaul, in her eighty-first year. The late Miss McCaul had been an invalid for a number of years. Before coming to this city she resided in Montreal.

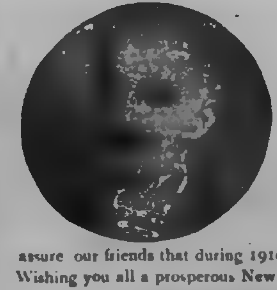
The funeral took place from her late residence, 270 Reid street, this afternoon to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. H. J. Keith conducted the service.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

WE THANK YOU



No matter what the price, we should feel unrepaid if our patrons were not fully satisfied. We therefore ask that if you are pleased tell your friends, if not tell us. We appreciate very fully the business of 1909, and the many who have come to us upon the recommendation of friends, as well as the kind words of satisfaction, which we have had by letter, and word-of-mouth. We assure our friends that during 1910 we shall seek to further merit their confidence. Wishing you all a prosperous New Year.

BRIDGENORTH MAN HAS BEST HERD

J. Gordon Mann Was Successful in Dairy Competition

The awards in the herd competitions conducted by the Dairymen's Association were made in Belleville session. The highest average production of milk per cow was made by John Duffett, of Adolphustown, whose herd made the high average of 6,168 lbs. of milk in the six months of the test.

For the purpose of the contest, the eastern counties were divided into five groups and the winners of each are as follows;

For Peterborough, Ontario, Durham, Haliburton, Northumberland and Hastings, they were;

1 J. Gordon Mann, Bridgenorth, with a yield of 5,191 lbs. per cow.

2 Wm. Whitten, Menie, with 5,140 lbs.

3 Thos. McCoy, Cooper, with 5,030 lbs.

4 Wm. Smith, Lakeport, with 4,495 lbs.

In Prince Edward, Frontenac, Lennox and Addington they were;

1 J. W. Duffett, Adolphustown, with 6,168 lbs.

In Leeds, Lanark and Renfrew, first place went to Andrew Henderson, and second to A. M. Ferguson.

In Carleton, Grenville, and Dundas, Henry Davidson, Prescott, was first with a yield of 4,074 lbs. per cow.

In Glengarry, Russell, Stormont and Prescott, D. H. McDermid, Avonmore, was first with 4,800 lbs.

FINE CONCERT BY BRAHMS TRIO

Toronto, Jan. 13.—The second of a series of chamber concerts was given at the Conservatory Music Hall by the Brahms Trio last evening and the excellent programme was greatly enjoyed by those who heard the selection. The Brahms Trio consists of Miss Lina Drechsler Adamson, violin; Mr. George Bruce, violoncello, and Mr. Richard Tattersall, piano. Each of these is a thorough artist, capable of interpreting the most exacting compositions in an admirable manner, and with the three instruments blended the ensemble was delightful. The programme consisted of three compositions, Mozart's Trio in G, Brahms' Sonata in A, op. 100 (for piano and violin), and Arensky's Trio in a Minor, op. 32. The last seemed to be the most popular number and in the final movement the trio surpassed expectations in the interpretation. The Brahms selection for piano and violin is a noble work and each movement was played with such ease and grace that the audience was most enthusiastic. The trio is gaining in popularity at each concert. The third concert will be given on Tuesday, Feb. 8th, when the programme will consist of Trio by Haydn, Trio in F, opus 1, Herman Goetz (first time in Canada), and Sonata in A for piano and violoncello, Beethoven.

POPULAR LECTURE AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's church will hold an open meeting Friday evening, to which all members of the congregation and friends are heartily invited. The feature of the evening will be a lecture by Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, on "A Night in the Skies." It will be illustrated by limelight views. Refreshments will be served at the close of the lecture. It is expected there will be a large attendance.

SPECIAL SERVICES

The special services at the George street Methodist church are being largely attended and proving of great interest. Rev. Mr. Coon is the speaker for this week and the devotional part of the services are being conducted by Rev. E. A. Pearson, the pastor.

Next week Rev. W. G. Henderson, pastor of Charlotte street, will be the pastor.
